FERGUSON URGES END OF "REIGN OF TERROR"

KEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

The Southern Ice and Utilities company boosted the price of ice Ranger Friday, the increase being 25 per cent higher than the previous price.

The people of Ranger, or at least as many of them as could be contacted by The Times, were of opinion that with other prices recently reduced, salaries lowered and other business much lower it was a few years ago, this time for any utility company to enforce higher prices for their commodity or service.

The prices of ice were much lower in surrounding cities and was lower in Ranger until the company secured the output of factories in this section, it was worked by many, and as soon as the company got a monopoly on the business of this section it began to jump prices. Similar prices were made last year, but so many people in Ranger began getting ice from Eastland and so many complaints were received that the former price was restored.

Many were talking today of leaving Ranger and going to Eastland for ice for an entire neighborhood and more than one person said that he had been planning to get an electric refrigerator for his home, but that the increase in price of ice had definitely retarded his hesitancy.

Each of the drug stores in Ranger was visited and in each instance a trade of protest was being made at the mention of the price of ice, most of them saying that they thought the raise inflicted on the people by the utility company that cared nothing for the conditions or the welfare of the people to pay.

One man pointed out that ice, refrigeration of some kind, was necessary in this warm climate and that many poor people who could not obtain, would be made to suffer more than anyone else, because the price would be almost prohibitive and would take more from their meager incomes than they so badly needed to purchase necessities of company did not feel, personally, that this is the time for the ice company to raise the price of ice 25 per cent, and feel reasonably sure that practically everyone else has the same attitude.

Not only has the price been raised but the platform did not afternoon, have any scales at all, and the platform with which to weigh the ice. The customers just to take the guess of the attendant as to whether or not he was getting full measure. As a result, to see if the company had any measure was being given, a boy to the station with a scale to buy 25 pounds of ice and to have it weighed. He came back a few minutes later without any ice, saying that the attendant at the station did not have scales with which to weigh ice.

The people are entitled to fair measures, regardless of what they are buying. Whenever you buy anything, it is weighed, cloth is measured before your eyes, gas, electricity and water are gauged by meters, but when you buy ice you are given a chunk that is supposed to weigh so much and the many cannot even weigh it to see if they are getting full measure.

Sales may have been rushed to the station since 1:30 this afternoon, when the test was made, but so that time none were available with which to let the customer see whether or not he was getting full measure.

It is scored in blocks of 25 pounds each—at the time of scoring when you go to the platform for your ice one of these 25-pound chunks is chipped off and weighed to you. Any melting or change on that particular piece of ice is charged up to the customer or at least he pays the tariff. The Southern Ice and Utilities company is going to hike the price of ice 25 per cent it should at least have scales on hand with which the ice can be measured.

GOOD SCORES ARE MADE AT RANGER SHOOT

A large crowd of shooters from Dallas, Fort Worth, Abilene, Sweetwater, Breckenridge, Eastland and Ranger attended the opening shoot of the American Legion Rifle club of Ranger Sunday.

He also won first place in the 25-yard 38-caliber or larger match and tied for first place in the 22-caliber division, losing to W. J. Peters of Eastland in the shoot-off for first place. Peters also won first place in the 25-yard any caliber match with Hughes taking second place.

Oil Supervisor To Be In Midst of Commission Fight

Special Correspondent.

AUSTIN, April 3.—R. D. Parker is not in politics, but his official position at Austin puts him

In the picture as the legislature resumes its fight to divest the railroad commission of its oil and gas supervision, in favor of some new commission, Mr. Parker is chief oil and gas supervisor of the railroad commission. He is perhaps more intimately familiar with the statewide oil production setup than any other man, since records of every well drilled in the state pass through his hands.

In this post he has been in charge, under direction of the commission of the state's entire program of oil and gas conservation. He is perhaps more intimately familiar with the statewide oil production setup than any other man, since records of every well drilled in the state pass through his hands.

While political battles have raged over oil, and political campaigns have been fought over the railroad commission's control of petroleum conservation, Mr. Parker has held to his administrative duties and kept clear of all political alignments or factions.

MORTGAGE LAW IS REQUESTED BY ROOSEVELT

By United Press

WASHINGTON, April 3.—President Roosevelt, in a special message to congress, today appealed for legislation which would ease the mortgage burden of the American farmer.

Mr. Roosevelt said that legislation relating to farm mortgages should be "an integral of the broad plan to end the forced liquidation of property, to increase purchasing power and to broaden the credit structure for the benefit of both the producing and consuming elements in our population."

Mr. Roosevelt said refinancing of mortgage and other farm indebtedness including a reduction of interest rates would not impose a "heavy burden on the national treasury."

New Phoenicia Rising In East

By United Press

HAIFA, Palestine, April 3.—A new Phoenicia is rising in the Near East.

Jerusalem, Jaffa with Tel Aviv, and Haifa, all have shown recent increases in population, and the boundaries of the cities are pushing out further and further.

The new harbor is nearly complete, while the pipe-line that is to run from the great Mosul oil field, across the Syrian desert, Transjordan, and the Plain of Esdraelon, is nearing the port.

Some 200 British and American officers of the Iraq Petroleum Company now are established here. From them are dotted along the line, which at present is being laid westward and eastward from Mafrak. The vast enterprise already has given great stimulus to industry; and it promises a future for industrial Palestine which is making land values soar.

By United Press

AUSTIN, April 3.—Advocates of a 3.2 per cent beer were happy today over what they consider a virtual endorsement of their bill in former Governor James E. Ferguson's statement that Mrs. Ferguson will not veto a beer bill.

The former governor expressed belief that the outcome is doubtful. He would not commit himself further than to predict that the vote in the house will be "close."

Vatican City Takes on Dress of 20th Century

By United Press

VATICAN CITY, April 3.—A new 20th Century Vatican recently has grown up around the Renaissance and Baroque architecture of the Old Vatican. Brought into existence four years ago by the Lateran Treaty of 1929, the Pontifical state of Vatican City has made rapid progress.

Behind the church of St. Peter's, modern reinforced concrete buildings, presenting the hard practical lines of modern architecture, now stand.

The old dreamy Vatican is gone. In its place are towering radio masts, the most modern and best equipped short wave radio station in Europe, the most ornate railroad station in the world, huge modern buildings, a new art gallery, an automatic telephone system, and a daily newspaper.

The remarkable aspect of Vatican City as it is today is undeniably that many of the services of a modern city have had to be crowded into a tiny space. The Vatican gardens preserve their quiet. It is here that the Pope makes his daily excursion, generally in one of his automobiles.

Of the 520 citizens of Vatican City, all have regular work, or are pensioners. The inhabitants are made up of the cardinals of the curia resident in Rome, the prelates, priests and laymen attached to various offices. There are even some "foreigners" living here, such as the black students of the Ethiopian College.

Vatican City finances are in a satisfactory state, and one or two profitable investments have been made of part of the indemnity fund of 750 million lire paid by Italy on the signing of the Lateran Treaty. Some of these investments are in Italian electric light and power corporations.

RANGER M. E. CHURCH OPENS BIG REVIVAL

By United Press

The revival meeting that started at the Methodist church in Ranger Sunday was well attended at both services. The preaching is being done by Dr. C. D. Smith, presiding elder of the Cisco district.

Dr. Smith stressed very forcefully at the morning services the importance of the building of a foundation of any task. That is to be undertaken. He urged that the people attend at least three services, and then after that they will be free to judge for themselves as to whether they want to come to the remainder of the services. Judging from the beginning it is very evident that the attendance will grow from time to time.

At the night services, the subject was "What Think You of Christ?"

There is to be a question box at each entrance to the auditorium and Dr. Smith urges that every one who has a question religious or otherwise to place it in the box.

Eastland County Received Road Aid From State Fund

By United Press

AUSTIN, April 3.—During the past two years a total of $38,000 has been spent on Eastland county's state highways, of which the county supplied but $3,000, with state and federal funds making up the balance of $35,000.

This the Texas Good Roads association reported today from an analysis of the biennial report of the state highway department, at the same time warning motorists that only about one-third of the mileage in new roads will be built this year that was built in 1932.

Eastland county, the analysis continued, received $106,000 in highway maintenance from the state during 1931, and $79,000 in 1932.

In addition, the county received the bulk of its auto registration fees for local purposes, only $46,000 going to the state during the two years, while more than $143,000 remained in the county treasury.

"The Texas highway system today is a job half-finished," the association's warning said. "Yet its sinews—the money paid by motorists in gasoline tax—are being steadily weakened. Only two cents of the tax goes to road work this year where three cents went in 1932. There are 200,000 less motor cars on the highways than there were two years ago, and the gas tax revenues fell off $1,800,000 last year. It will fall more."

"Even if present funds are not disturbed, road construction in Texas this year will be only one-third of that last year. Yet there are two bills now before the legislature, one of which proposes to cut the small remaining mileage in half, and the other to stop all new road building. If motorists will join in concerted action to advise legislators of their will, a catastrophe to Texas can be averted."

Dallas Company Robbed By Trio of Bandits Today

By United Press

DALLAS, April 3.—Three bandits who robbed the Adkins Packing company here today of $1,500 in cash and currency, waved their victims a kiss as they clambered into the automobile of Henry Beck, manager of the company, and sped away to be swallowed up in early morning traffic.

The robbers surprised Beck and three other persons in the office. The holdup required about five minutes and about one person a minute entered the office during the robbery. Each was made to face the office wall.

As the bandits emerged from the office and leaped into Beck's automobile, the holdup victims ran to a window to see what direction the thieves took in driving from the plant. One of the trio waved a kiss to the group.

SAYS PEOPLE ARE ARMING IN OIL FIELD

By United Press

AUSTIN, April 3.—Three concurrent efforts to end what Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson called a "reign of terror" in the East Texas oil field, was underway here today.

The governor sent a message to the legislature calling for a graduated tax on oil production and severe penalties for violation of production orders.

The legislature discussed passage of a bill creating a new appellate oil and gas commission.

The railroad commission, now in charge of oil and gas supervision, began a hearing on all fields preparatory to issuing new production orders.

In urging action upon the legislature the governor said she was informed that conditions have reached a stage where heretofore law-abiding citizens are arming themselves and threaten to take the law into their own hands.

"Failure to control the oil situation," the message said, "has now reached the point that the national government is threatening to take the matter in hand and invade the constitutional rights of our state to control its own affairs."

It is imperative to enact such legislation as will protect the confidence of others as to our intention and determination to control the oil situation in Texas.

"If these additional laws are passed," she said, "I am ready to use all the powers in my command to see that they are enforced and I have full confidence that I can produce results."

It was understood that T. H. McGregor of Austin, close political associate of the Fergusons, would offer the governor's program formally to the house this afternoon. It cannot be acted upon until sponsored by a member.

Chief means of curbing oil over-production in the governor's plan, is a graduated production tax. It begins with a levy of two cents a barrel on the first 150 barrels a day from a well. The tax advances to five cents a barrel on the next 100 barrels and in excess of that it leaps to 25 cents a barrel.

Publishing Secret Documents Made a Criminal Offense

By United Press

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Acting swiftly and without warning, the house today passed a bill providing criminal penalties for publication of any secret government documents deemed prejudicial to the safety or interest of the United States.

Some members said they had been informed that the measure was pushed because there was reason to believe that an authorization of certain official secret documents was imminent and that if published these documents might seriously jeopardize the friendly relations of the United States.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

GIVE GOD THE BEST: Honour the Lord with thy substance, and with the first fruits of all thine increase.—Proverbs 3: 9.

ROOSEVELT'S SEVENTH MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

In his seventh message to congress President Roosevelt submitted a program for the control of new issues of stocks and bonds as a safeguard for the investing public. In his message he recommended federal supervision of interstate traffic in securities. He admitted the present program is but one step in the broad purpose of protecting investors and depositors. He did not use honeyed words. He hit the nail on the head when he said:

"In spite of many state statutes the public in the past has sustained severe losses through practices neither ethical nor honest on the part of many persons and corporations selling securities. What we seek is a return to a clearer understanding of the ancient truth that those who manage banks, corporations, and other agencies handling or using other people's money ARE TRUSTEES ACTING FOR OTHERS."

Why shouldn't the goats be separated from the sheep? Why shouldn't investors be protected? Why shouldn't depositors be safeguarded? Why shouldn't the government supervise foreign securities and make the necessary regulations for loans proposed by those who are in the foreign lending business? There are millions of broken investors in the American world. They toiled and they saved and all they have to show for it are scraps of paper. Why not give a thrifty man a chance?

FIRST LADY OF LAND POINTS WAY

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt long before her husband was called to the office of governor and then to the presidency was one of the outstanding leaders in the activities of the professional and working women of New York. Now after a conference with the wives of cabinet members she has announced her purpose "to make the White House social program as simple as possible."
Yes, she has cut to the bone, so to speak. She has ruled that no formal at home days would be observed before fall and no formal garden parties would be held. Why money-waste or social flummery in the face of a nationwide program for the reconstruction or rehabilitation of the American world and all its people? The first lady of the land, Mrs. Roosevelt, knew the road to take, and she traveled all the way.

BILLIONS OF NEW CURRENCY PRINTED

Americans are reminded that the bureau of engraving and printing is working day and night in Washington. All the presses are running. The order calls for notes with an approximate face value of two billion dollars. All carry the brand of the Federal Reserve bank. Last November quick action was demanded. Well, quick action men are in the saddle. They are brave men; they are honest men, and they place their country first. Regardless of past party affiliation, the vast majority of the senators and representatives are facing "the issues," and it is hoped that there will be no change of heart and that they will go all the road.

MOVIE WORKERS AND THEIR SALARIES

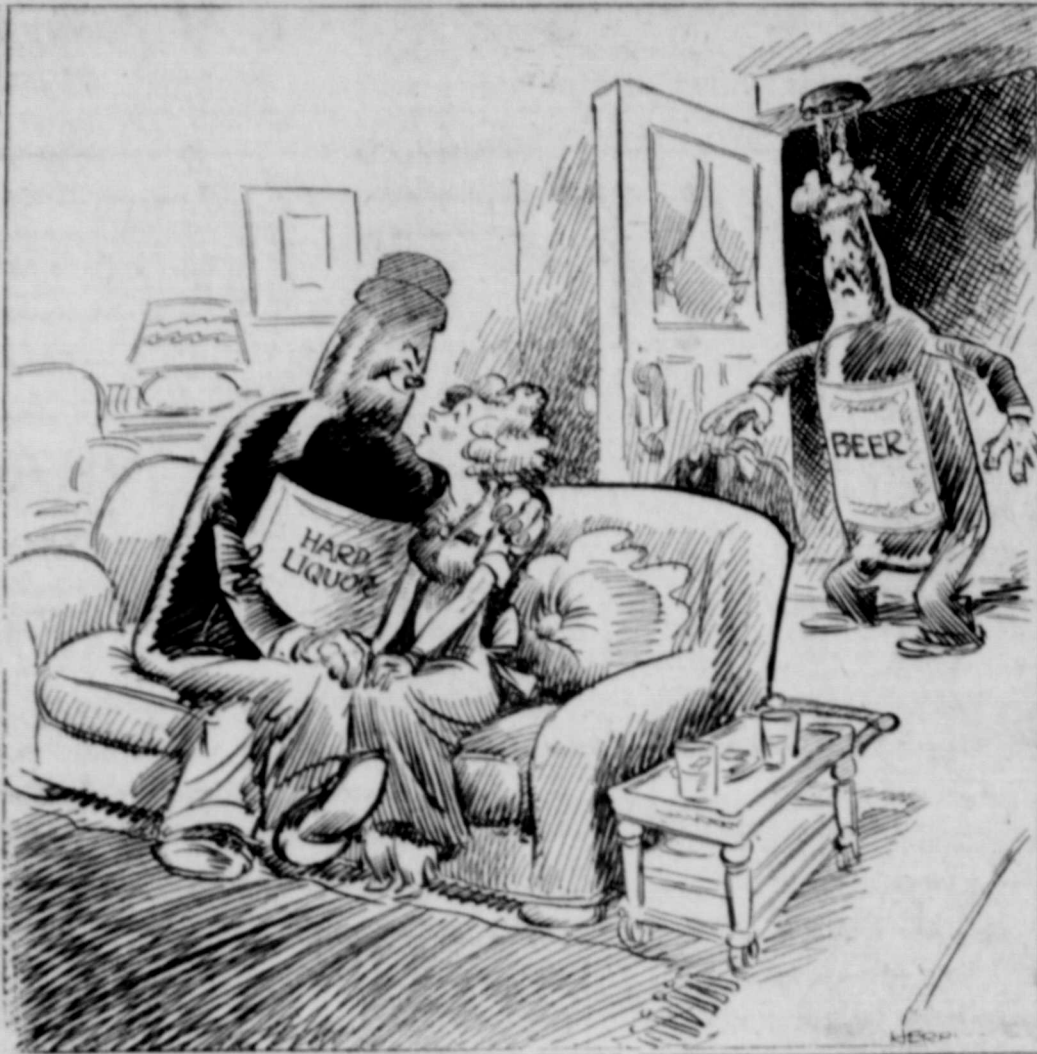

Hollywood is very disturbed. Hollywood has 15,000 unionized motion picture studio workers. Producers have expressed hope that pay cuts would permit the studios to remain in operation. For the stars or big shots a reduction of 50 per cent is the ultimatum. Many have accepted in good will the salary cut. Now the little fellows must take their medicine. Indeed, the proposal of the producers to reduce pay of all members of the movie colony except the extras is admittedly "a means of weathering the current financial storm."

Well, the movie kings are on the rack. They are facing disaster unless there is a drastic reduction in overhead. They are going to cut to the bone.

Good Mat Bill On Ranger Elks Card for Tonight

The last main event pits Eg Moore against Tiger Billy McEun. McEun has a slight weight advantage over Moore of four pounds. This may not make any difference as Moore is exceptionally strong and knows many effective holds of grappling. McEun will have a different type of man to handle than he has ever met before. Moore does not resort to any roughing and this may surprise the Tiger. Moore believes he can beat a man quicker with well applied holds rather than roughing. McEun apparently prefers roughing to anything else. This match will be a best two out of three falls or two-hour limit.
The Junior middleweight championship belt that is the property of Bennie Bartay is on display at the Paramount drug store. Bennie Bartay meets Benny Wilson in a championship match in the Elks arena in Ranger Monday, April 19. The belt on display will be at stake.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

THE POISON OF THE Gila Monster comes from lip-glands, which open near the bases of the teeth of the lower jaw. The tail of this desert creature serves the same purpose for its owner that the hump does for a camel, being a storehouse for reserve food fats. Japan buys American "tin" cans by the shipload. Cheap labor makes it possible for Japanese factories to convert the cans into steel products.

Prospector Found Old Spanish Mine

SYLVARENA, Miss.—An old mine, passed up for years by state geologists as a wolf pit, has been discovered three miles from here by M. P. Finnegan, prospector. He believes Spaniards conducted mining operations here, before they were driven out by the French. The tunnel was found after digging through 20 feet of mixed dirt, which showed it had been thrown there by early miners. The tunnel is six feet deep, but its width and length have not yet been determined. Finnegan is working to determine how far into the hills it extends.

DERRICK SHADOWS

It's nice to know celebrities. I picked up a magazine the other day to admire the cover sketch. In the right hand lower corner in typical straggling lines was traced the name of a college friend.
Of course we were mere acquaintances, but I felt a thrill of pride at his success. We had a class together... a true-to-form required-course. Looking back over the book I used, I see where he did his practice work. Somehow I feel very responsible for that magazine cover.

Glumps-glumps: men play golf for the game alone, as their sports clothes prove. Horseback riding is extremely popular, but most girls are most entrancing behind unbreakable windshields. Ranger's pride in her picturesque country club is justified... plus boots on the hillside. Sunday found an organ boy on every lady's new dress; and dressed-up front yards, too, thanks to the man-of-the-house. Resort to the lawn mower is another outdoor incentive... a sore of Maud Muller complex.

You can always tell when the home-town boy has failed to make good. He wears a self-glorified headline, enumerates lengthy tales of accomplishments and quotes endless lists of unheard-of big shots, and continues to stand on the street corner with the other boys who have made good.

The boy is 4 years old. His pup has seen 14 days. That is, he has boasted puppyhood 14 days. He has only seen one of them.

When Sonny discovered his dog was blind he immediately took his problem to a Higher Power through clasped hands and closed eyes. Yesterday the pooch saw daylight. Sonny firmly believes his prayers were answered.

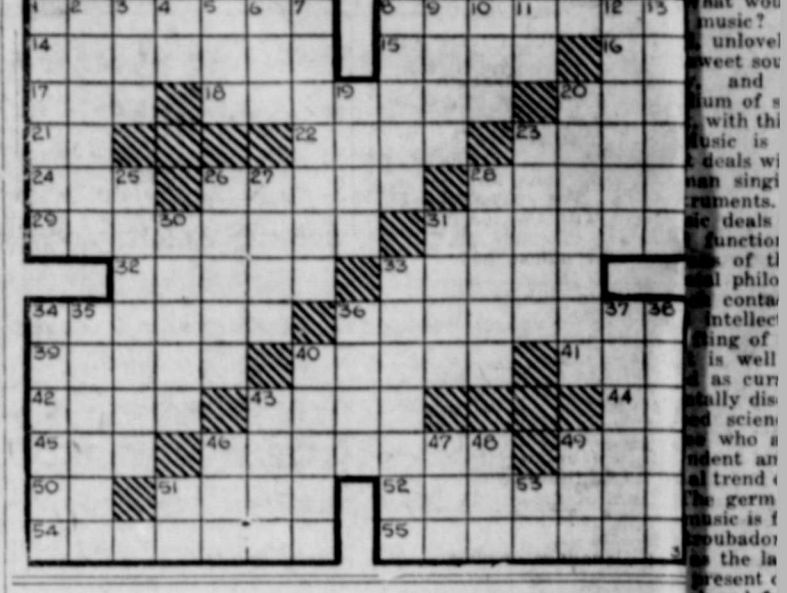

The Crawford-Fairbanks break-up seems to be spreading a divorce mania throughout Hollywood and New York. It begins to look like none of our calluloid idols are going to be content to remain just plain Mr. and Mrs. It isn't fashionable.

But leave it to the chorus girls to get the big weekly incomes from ex-hubby. A stage girl seems to be always safe for print and gossip. Anything you might think up to broadcast could fit in the picture.

HERE AND THERE

By ELVIE H. JACKSON

Music is God-given. One cannot be heaven without thinking of the magnificent, glorious tones of angels, for the Bible tells us of the heavenly strains that surround the throne of the Lord and Our Savior, Jesus Christ.

From the earliest beginning of the world, God created music, in the whispering of the trees, in the fall, in the call of the bird, in the sweep of the wind over the mountains. Yes, even in the deep tones of the wild animal in the jungle as it voices its cry for its mate.

We are born into this world to hear the music of the unseen choir, the music that is invisible, and we are rocked to sleep to the caressing sounds of the mother's lullaby.

Music peals forth in the wedding bells, and the last rites as we are away in the mother earth are the setting of hymns of familiar strains.

What would the world do without music? It would be indeed an unlovely place if there were no sweet sounds, to help us on the way and bring through the mists of things spiritual and holy.

Music is that science and art which deals with sound, produced by vibrating bodies and musical instruments. The physiology of music deals with the construction of the human body, the function of sound producing organs, the philosophy of music, the contacts with the emotions, intellect and strives for the bettering of mankind.

It is well known that music is a curative power for the mentally diseased, and is an established science used in relief for those who are inclined to be depressed and uninterested in the trend of life's work.

The germ of the romantic style of music is found in the love songs of troubadours. And the use of music in the language of emotion, in the present day, has been gradually slipping from this source.

Music is the highest form of unaccompanied vocal masses. Those who have heard the famous Russian choir realize the beauty of this style of singing.

While Texas is making giant strides in the culture of the musical arts, in the work of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs is established musical units, forums, and societies, that are of outstanding merit. Such Texas composers as Fox and Fox, who bespeak widely opposed schools of music, have put Texas on the musical power's map, in addition to a number of Texas composers who have brought music to our state.

Music is the universal language, as we are told, and that is true. For it reaches the heart and comes over the radio, from New York, or some point in Europe, is understood by the hearer far away town no matter in what words of what nations, the body is given.

As we live by music, and when we enter a realm of music, we enter a realm of music.

One I Love

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

JANET stopped him. "That's the house!" she said. "Ban- nister put on the brakes so quickly that they groaned. "Don't you think you could change your mind about tonight?" Janet smiled. "I'm sorry," she smiled, "but I couldn't possibly."

There was no one in sight as Janet entered the house. She glanced into the living room and the library and then wandered out to the lawn at the rear. Mrs. Curtis was there, half-reclining in one of the deck chairs with the big umbrella tilted so that she was completely in the shade.

"The sun is hot," Janet said, "but it's comfortable out here." It was an attractive scene. A slight breeze rustled the leaves overhead and the branches cast a pattern of light and shadow on the grass. The sky was intensely blue with here and there a lazy cloud that seemed motionless.

MRS. CURTIS sighed. "We complain about the heat," she said, "but when I think of the hundreds and hundreds who have to endure it without the comforts we have I feel ashamed." "Yes," Janet agreed. "That's true. Here in Lancaster there's a lot of suffering."

Junior Class Party

Big Success
The high school gymnasium echoed with fun and laughter Friday night, when 175 people, high school students and parents were entertained by the junior class in the annual affair by which the juniors raise their funds to defray the junior-senior banquet expenses.

The program for the evening, planned and chaired by the officers of the junior class, Miss Beattie Marlow, president; Randolph Bailey, vice president; H. L. Perkins, Jr., secretary; and Miss Belle Wilson of the high school faculty, presented a series of amusements that opened with ensemble singing of school songs.

Newspaper Reporter Becomes Star

Miss Lillian Bond, leading woman in "No More Children" which comes to the Lyric Theatre, Eastland, Wednesday, is a former newspaper reporter, having been a member of the editorial staff of the Vancouver Sun, at Vancouver, B. C., where she put across many a good scene.

Deciding to try her hand in the "movies," she applied her newspaper training in getting access to studios when she found it was almost impossible to break through in the usual routine.

Posing as a reporter, and actually writing up stories about film studios, which were afterwards published, she secured access to cinema circles which paved the way for engagements in the motion picture field, where her success has been instantaneous.

pinno and Frances Durham of Comanche in piano solo.

A violin solo by Julia Ann Connelley of Ranger was accompanied by Miss Gillian Buchanan.

A charming note was the duet by two wee girls of Eastland, Johnnie Lou and Emalee Hart, who played beautifully.

The flower song was charmingly rendered by Veda Belle Tomlinson of Chico, with accompaniment by Mrs. Hunter of Chico.

A fine number piano was given by Lela Christine Weatherly of Goldthwaite.

Witch's dance was brilliantly interpreted by Frances Jackson of San Angelo.

Margaret Joe Pope, a tiny child of 3, amazed the audience by her playing of Spaulding's "Souvenir." Ellen Ayres Elmer of Gordon gave a magnificent violin number "Ghost Dance" with piano accompaniment by Wilda Drago of Eastland.

Lura Mayo Frost in two piano solos represented Abilene.

An outstanding number, piano, was given by Margaret Ford of Sweetwater.

Josephine Grisham of Abilene was wonderful in violin solo with piano accompaniment by Hjalmer Bergh of Simmons University.

Jeanne Johnston, Eastland, appeared in piano solo, Chopin's Chopin's waltz, D flat.

Ruth Meek of Eastland gave a magnificent interpretation of Rachmaninoff's prelude C Sharp Minor, piano.

Marguerite Barier, Chico, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Randolph Clark, was charming in a delicate voice number, "Springtime."

Piano solo was finely played by Nannie Catherine Newnam of Ranger, who was accompanied by Mrs. M. H. Newnam to concert.

A pleasing address on the work and meaning of junior federated clubs was presented by Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, Eastland.

Program closed with a novel and brilliant xylophone number by Julia Elmer of Chico.

The wide spread interest taken in this program, which lacked only two numbers of being given in the planned entirety, evidenced the success of the assembled representation of junior talent of the sixth district present at the musical picnic of the Eastland Music club.

The church was beautifully decorated with Geopora and ferns. Those on program were received in the church parlors, by the assisting committee, Olive Killoch, Jeanne Johnston, Mary Frances Hunter, Clara June Kimbrough, and delicious punch by Mrs. D. E. Kinnard and Mrs. W. W. Phillips.

At the church entrance, Mrs. Taylor received assisted by Mrs. E. C. Satterwhite, president of the Music club of Eastland, Mrs. P. O. Hunter, Mrs. Art H. Johnson and guests registered by Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, and Mrs. W. K. Jackson.

The program opened with the entire audience singing the junior club with Loraine Taylor as accompanist, and Margaret Hart, violinist.

In vocation was offered by Ralph Mahon Jr. and the preface to the program and announcement of coming Music club events in local and federation circles made by the presiding chairman, Mrs. Taylor.

Mrs. Satterwhite presented a clever welcome to guests and home people.

The program opened with a brilliant piano number by Alice Beathley of Abilene and Mary Ellen Trent of Goldthwaite in piano. Richard Paul Blacett, Sweetwater, violin solo, accompanied by Miss Catherine Carter of Eastland.

Joe Lou Barnett, San Angelo.

Food Classes Study Nutrition and Diet

The third year foods class are spending much time on that all important subject, diet. They have just completed the study of entertainment and ways to provide for entertainments.

I happen to know of two girls who had a very enjoyable afternoon Sunday eating ice cream and chocolate cake.

What high school boy is mad at his high school girl?

Where is Lipstick Lou's lipstick? We hear it is on a well-mannered young man's shoulder.

Why does Jim Blair sing in the hall?

What! Has our promising young football player quit school?

I heard a young man say the other day (when he passed by a bold kitty, "Ugh, ugh! B. O.")

Someone should give Tom B. a medal for being able to practice his music while miles away from home.

Why do those boys hit girls when they say: "M-m-m! Jimmy!"

Since Tom and Donald have their new limazine they sure travel lots. They are trying to become tr. salesmen, so I hear.

Barbara Ann and Connor seem to be the ideal couple. They get along, believe it or not.

By United Press
WEBSTER, Mass.—Once each year the Webster Times, local daily newspaper, prints the following:

"Born: In Webster, March 10, a daughter to Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Knight."

This was the only birth announcement which appeared in the first issue of the Times March 17, 1859. The child in question, now Mrs. Elmer Bates, came to be known as "The Times Baby," and the annual publication of her birth announcement became a tradition. Recently Mrs. Bates observed her 74th birthday anniversary.
