PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

In addition to reports of several millions of dollars that have been added to the funds of the national treasury, states that have reported are reporting additional millions in revenues, either to the states or to the cities.

Now come scattered reports as follows:

York Ice Machine corporation gives orders for $100,000 worth of refrigeration equipment. Amheuser-Busch orders 400,000 and 57,000,000 bottles.

Local has given employment 10,000 more men with an additional payroll of $250,000 weekly.

$2,000,000 in orders for bottling machinery received by a Milwaukee concern.

In Chicago $10,000,000 is being spent on brewery equipment and buildings.

And in Texas a survey has been made which brought out the estimated needs in Texas when and if beer is legalized. Towns with the factories are due to come in some new business.

There will be an immediate demand, the survey shows, for 720,000 bottles, according to statistics gathered by Vance Mues, managing director of the Texas Association of Anti-Prohibitionists. Maybe Atticus Webb could furnish contradicting figures. That seems to be the system in the beer question—one side made a statement that umpteen million bottles are needed, giving employment to 100,000 men, and the other side says there will be absolutely no need for bottles and all the bottle-making will go broke.

However, the survey shows, also, that in addition there will be needed 715,000,000 corrugated cans; 84,000,000 crown caps; 1,000,000 lithographed labels; 2,000,000 slack barrels.

We don't know whether those figures are right or not, because we wouldn't know a slack barrel if we saw one. In fact we didn't see read Mr. Mues's figures.

Regardless of the number of bottles needed or the number of men who will be thrown out of work, there will be four children from Ranger, ages ranging from 3 to 9 years, who will be sent to the orphanage at Greenville, S. C.

All the children are boys and the ages are 3, 5, 7 and 9 years.

The church is to send the boys home, but they are in need of clothing.

It was hoped by the members of the congregation that there might be some families in Ranger who had clothing for boys of these ages and which their own children had outgrown that could be contributed to the cause. The children are supposed to be sent to the orphanage with enough clothing to last them for six months.

Any donations of clothing that can be made will be received thankfully and gratefully by D. S. Nichol, pastor of the church, Mrs. G. E. Robinson.

Unless our records are somewhat faulty, and they may be, there are no families in Ranger who have established at the track meet Saturday. At least they were better records than have been made since 1925.

Daniel of Eastland stepped off his high hurdles in 15.4 seconds, which bettered his previous record of 15.8.

D. Brown, also of Eastland, made the 100 in 9.9 seconds, as compared with a record of 10.2, held jointly by several.

Some of the other records made Saturday were close to the eight-year records, but did not quite break them. The high wind, which was something of a handicap, might have slowed the time in the events or might have cut down distances or heights.

STATE RELIEF BOND ISSUE INTRODUCED

AUSTIN, April 17.—A joint resolution, calling for a $20,000,000 state bond issue for relief was introduced in the Texas Senate today.

It provides for an election on July 15th this year for an amendment to the constitution, authorizing issuance of the bonds to bear interest at not more than 4-1/2 per cent per year.

The resolution was introduced by Senator Walter Woodul of Houston, who recently was sent to Washington to confer with R. F. C. authorities on relief funds for Texas.

"Thorough investigation indicates absolute necessity for providing funds for sustenance of families rendered destitute by the depression pending revival of business," reads a statement signed by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and members of a legislative committee on unemployment relief.

Federal relief under the bill passed by the senate, provides that federal funds can only be used with the addition of local and state funds, the statement continued.

"The resources of the counties and cities and from private contributions are inadequate to meet the situation."

Dr. Judd Writes of Wife's Condition

DALHART, Tex., April 17.—Dr. W. C. Judd, husband of Winnie Ruth Judd, under sentence of death for murder in Arizona, has written friends and former associates here, describing his wife's mental condition as an absolute lack of judgment and nearly anesthetic emotional state.

Dr. Judd was connected with the Trans-Canadian Clinic here for two years, beginning in 1914.

"Ruth's a very unusual case," he wrote to Dr. G. W. Dawson, physician at the clinic. "She is firmly convinced she has a baby somewhere, which I have hidden from her. She begs pathetically for it sometimes. As a matter of fact she has never had a baby."

Mrs. Judd was convicted of murdering one of two nurses whose bodies were found in a trunk in a Los Angeles baggage station.

FLORENCE, Ariz., April 17.—Winnie Ruth Judd, who is under sentence to hang Friday, smiled and clapped her hands today as attorneys resumed the sanity hearing which may save her from the gallows.

Romance Off; Friend Blamed

RICH GIRL AND POOR GIRL ARE RIVAL IN NEW SERIAL

It was because of Sandra Lawrence, who pretended to be her friend, that Monica O'Dare's engagement to Dan Cardigan went on the rocks.

The shattered romance occurs in the new serial, "DARLING FOOL." When Monica found out the other girl was deliberately trying to win Dan away from her she undertook to fight back. It wasn't an even fight, but she won.

Sandra had money, beautiful clothes and sophistication while Monica earned $15 a week and had to turn part of it over at home. Moreover Dan's snobbish mother wanted him to marry a rich girl.

"DARLING FOOL" is the story of Monica's fight for love. Mabel Elliott, who wrote the popular serials, "The Man Hunters" and "Heart of Liane," is the author. About Monica, D. S. Nichol and the other characters have woven an absorbing romance filled with unexpected twists of plot. All of the characters are richly human, interesting for their failings as well as their better qualities. "DARLING FOOL" begins in this paper tomorrow.

Four Boys to Go To Orphan Home

Announcement has been made in the church that four boys, ages 3, 5, 7 and 9 years, will be sent to the orphanage at Greenville, S. C., within the next few days.

The members of the congregation of the church are trying to find the four boys with enough clothing to last them six months before they are sent to the orphanage.

Any family in Ranger, whether member of the church or not, who is willing to give clothing to the boys, should bring it to Rev. D. S. Nichol or to Mrs. G. E. Robinson, so that the boys may be outfitted before leaving for the orphanage.

Supreme Court to Hear Cisco Bond Case Evidence

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The supreme court today decided to review the fifth circuit court of appeals ruling which held that assignees of holders of Cisco, Texas bonds, could not sue for collection.

The assignees, Charles P. Bullard, John R. Brandon, Henry E. Poor and Robert D. White brought suit in federal court, after being assigned bonds of $2,000,000. The city of Cisco had issued about $4,000,000 worth of bonds and was in default on them.

The circuit court held there could be no suit on those bonds for which proof of transfer had been introduced in court.

Arrangements have been made by the rural entertainment committee of Ranger to put on another program on the series of neighborhood entertainments. The next program will be held on Wednesday night at the Merriman school, beginning at 7:45.

At the request of the residents of Merriman, including the members of the Merriman Parent-Teacher association and the patrons of the school, a program by the American Legion Tickleby band will be presented. This will be the third appearance of the band at Merriman, but it has proven so popular with the residents of that section that it is by popular demand that the committee again asked them to furnish the program.

All the merchants of Ranger were urged to set aside Wednesday night for the program at Merriman and to attend in a body. At the Morton Valley program, which was the first on the series, a large turnout from Ranger attended and the people of Morton Valley were much impressed. Another such turnout at Merriman on Wednesday night will do more to promote good feeling between the people of that section and the city of Ranger than anything else that could be done in the nature of promoting fellowship.

TWO BARROWS THOUGHT HELD IN HOSPITAL

AURORA, Mo., April 17.—Joplin officers today failed to identify two men held under guard in a hospital here, suffering from injuries received in an automobile accident as Buck and Clyde Barrow, Texas desperadoes.

Hospital attaches reported the men were brought to the hospital by a third man, who then mysteriously disappeared without giving his name.

Tentative identification was made from pictures of the hunted men. A guard was placed over them at the hospital, although both were reported unconscious and apparently dangerously injured.

The man who brought them here told hospital attendants he had seen their car crash over a culvert near Bonham, Mo., near the Arkansas line.

Hospital attaches said no identification was found in the clothing of either of the injured men, except an express money order made out for Bob Walton of Teague, Texas.

The man, whom authorities believed was Buck Barrow, had suffered severe head injuries and was very weak from loss of blood from a severed artery. His condition was regarded as critical.

The man identified as Clyde Barrow suffered severe cuts and bruises and had apparent internal injuries.

Relief Meeting Is Held at Cisco

Representatives from Cisco, Eastland, Ranger, Rising Star, Gorman, Carbon and Desdemona met at Cisco yesterday afternoon to discuss relief work for the county. Under the plans of handling the work out of Austin it is necessary for the county to have an organization through which all reports from the various towns and communities are consolidated.

In effecting this organization J. E. Spencer of Cisco was elected chairman, Will Tyler of Rising Star was made treasurer and Frank E. Harrell of Cisco given the position of paymaster. It is thought that the county organization is now in readiness to carry on the relief work with little, if any, interruption.

Reports were made that nothing was done to change the way of handling local relief in the various towns. The local organizations will continue to function just as they have been therefor.

Speaker Predicts Inflation Soon

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Speaker of the House Rainey today advocated passage of silver currency inflation legislation which would reach, eventually, the "historic 16 to 1 Bryan ratio."

The movement for some type of currency expansion is "rapidly crystallizing" in the house, Rainey said, adding that he believed national support was also growing rapidly.

Two Are Killed In Crossing Crash

HOUSTON, April 17.—Two men from Taylor, Texas, were killed and a third injured today when a speeding Katy passenger train smashed their coupe at a suburban grade crossing.

Logan Spiegle, 30, and D. E. Goldstein, about 60, were killed outright. The injured man was R. E. Coleman, 35. He suffered severe head injuries but was expected to recover.

RANGER MERCHANTS TO PUT ON PROGRAM AT MERRIMAN AT 7:45 WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The Merriman school has a good auditorium, one of the best in this part of the county, and there will be seating space for a large number of people.

Plans have been made by the Parent-Teacher association of the Merriman school to have a large attendance from over that section of the country and it is expected that another large crowd will be on hand to hear the Tickleby band, when Dr. Harry A. Logsdon and his musicians appear for their performance.

A date was set for the Merriman program some time ago, but it was seen best to postpone the meeting until later and another date was set.

Announcements concerning the program at Merriman have been made early in order that every merchant will be able to make plans to attend and to aid in creating a more neighborly feeling between the residents of that community and the business men of the city.

These programs are put on for the sole purpose of co-operating with the merchants in an effort to promote a spirit of neighborliness and thereby aid in a campaign of business expansion, and it is an obligation on the part of every merchant to attend.

CEMETERY IS ENLARGED BY R.F.C. CREWS

Relief work, supervised by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation committee, was underway again today, with a large number of men at work.

The chief project this week is the improvement and enlargement of the cemetery.

The city has a house-moving crew at work moving the caretakers house away from the cemetery proper and the ground on which it has stood will be utilized as cemetery lots.

Another section of the cemetery, allotted to negroes, is to be added so that there will be ample room for the needs of the city in burying her dead for some time.

The cemetery has recently been drained and drainage tile installed so that the water will be carried away from the graves and the place made much drier. With the removal of the caretakers house and the enlargement of the three sections, the cemetery will be in much better condition and the appearance greatly improved.

Chattered streets are being cut through the new sections and the old streets are being graded and chattered so that the cemetery lots will be much more accessible.

There are 74 men at work on the cemetery project today and a crew of this size is expected to be maintained there until the work is completed.

Beer Measure Is Sent to Senate

AUSTIN, April 17.—The house resolution calling for submission of the legalization of beer to popular vote on August 26 reached the senate today.

It was referred to the committee on constitutional amendments.

Sunday Banner Day at Central Baptist Church of Ranger

Sunday was a banner day for the Central Baptist church, with the young people in charge of the musical program at the 11 o'clock hour. The choir was composed of members of the young people's department and at the Sunday school hour every department observed Easter with a well arranged program.

The young people's department has Mrs. Stephens as superintendent and Mrs. Frank Hicklin and Mrs. Alice D. True as teachers. This department went over its quota in attendance and a most spiritual program was rendered at the opening exercises.

The pastor spoke at the 11 o'clock hour on the "Power of the Resurrection of Christ" to a well filled auditorium.

3 CRIMINAL CASES IN 88TH COURT TODAY

Criminal cases scheduled for trial today in the 81st district court include: State vs. Brady Davis, charged with forgery and passing of a forged instrument; Mrs. Brady Davis, charged with forgery and passing a forged instrument; Walter Reynolds, charged with possession of a still.

Criminal District Attorney Grady Owen said the state would be ready for trial on these cases. Judge Davenport of the 91st court, however, is in the trial of a civil case and it is not known whether it would be completed in time to take up the criminal schedule.

Ranger High Grounds Improved

A large crew of workmen, under the supervision of P. J. Coughlin, have completed the work of leveling off the Ranger high school grounds and putting in grass seed on the bare spots. This is part of the high school beautification plans that were started some time ago with the building of the rock wall around the grounds.

Another crew of three men has been placed at work today putting on the finishing touches on the wall, which is expected to be completed within three days.

The work on the high school grounds and the building of the wall of native stone, has done more to improve the appearance of the high school grounds than any other work that could have been done at an even larger cost and the officials of the school are well pleased with the improvement that has been made in the grounds.

It is expected that before the summer months start the grass that has been planted out will have taken root and spread so that it will be one of the nicest looking lawns in the town before many months.

Broadway America Meeting Is Called

W. D. Conway, vice president of the Broadway of America association, has called a meeting of hotel men, tourist camp operators, wholesale and retail gasoline dealers and all citizens interested in promoting the Broadway of America, to be held in the office of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce tonight at 7:30.

Plans for the motorcycle to the annual convention of the association which will be held in El Paso this year will be discussed and the number who can attend will be determined in order that those in charge of the motorcycle may be notified.

The motorcycle is scheduled to arrive in Ranger Friday morning, April 28, at 11:45, and will probably remain over the noon hour, taking lunch in the city.

Word has been received by the association that large delegations have been announced from Tennessee, Arkansas and other states in the southwest, as well as from Midland, Sweetwater, Big Spring, Abilene, Colorado and other West Texas cities along the route of the highway.

All who are interested are invited to attend the meeting at the Chamber of Commerce tonight and to learn more about the projected motorcycle to El Paso, starting at noon on Friday, April 28.

Justice Peace Court Filings

Five cases where charges of a criminal nature were made have been filed in Justice of the Peace Milton Newman's court on Eastland. Those include two charges of vagrancy, two for misdemeanor and one for using fictitious license on a car.

Pastor Missing With Co-ed, 20

A love triangle, in which a pastor's wife and the "other woman" shared his passage, has been climaxed by the disappearance of the Rev. Sharon Inman, 35, and Miss Etie Holdridge, 20, college student at Springfield, Mo. Mrs. Inman, shown above with her husband, said she asked Miss Holdridge to share her home "so she might see Sharon with his two children."

DELEGATION FROM COUNTY GO TO AUSTIN

A delegation of Eastland county citizens will leave early Tuesday for Austin where they will appear before the House committee on appropriations to protest against proposed reductions in the appropriations for the Agricultural Extension service of the A. & M. college, if such reductions are such as will hinder and cripple the service. Among those who will make the trip are Rufus Cox, James McCracken, Ramsey, Mrs. James McCracken, Romney, Mrs. Ed. Hill, Eastland; Mrs. Fred Driehofner, Ranger.

The Eastland county group will be met at Austin by similar groups from other Texas counties and the combined delegations will go before the appropriations committee.

The House appropriation committee is favoring a reduction of 41 per cent for the state agricultural extension work. Those opposing such drastic cut have agreed to a 25 per cent reduction, which they maintain is as high as it can be to maintain the efficient service of the extension work.

Another argument being offered against the 41 per cent cut is that, since the federal government matches the appropriation with dollar for dollar if the state appropriation is kept up to a certain point, the federal money will be lost to the state if the cut is more than 25 per cent.

Senator W. R. Collie of Eastland, in a letter to Mrs. Louis Pittcock of Ranger, stated that he was opposed to reducing the appropriations for the agricultural extension work to the degree that the service would be crippled or hindered.

Rep. O. F. Chastain of Eastland, who is a member of the House appropriation committee, is in favor of the 41 per cent reduction.

Gene Squires Murder Case Up Thursday

The case of the State of Texas vs. Gene Squires, charged with murder in the connection with the death of Joe Pugh at Ranger on May 5, last, is scheduled for Thursday of this week. The case has been set two or three times but has never been tried.

BOTH BODIES ARE MANGLED IN CRACK-UP

Pair From Cisco Were Stung Over Eastland Field When Plane Fell.

Bill Hussey of Eastland and J. W. Penn of Cisco were instantly killed when the airplane in which they were flying nose-dived and crashed near the Eastland airport Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Both bodies were badly mangled, that of Penn, who was piloting the plane, almost beyond recognition. The plane was crushed and twisted into a large ball of scrap iron and kindling wood.

The ship fell from an altitude of only two or three hundred feet into the yard of Evans Brunett, caretaker of the Eastland airport, missing Brunett's house about 75 feet. Brunett, his wife and four children ran out of the building, thinking the falling plane was going to strike it. They had been watching Penn and Hussey doing stunts over the town for some time before the fatal crash and were looking at the plane when it started falling.

Hussey, 21, has been flying for about a year. Penn, about 30, has also been flying for about a year. The plane in which they crashed belonged to Penn. Penn is married, but has no children. He is the son of Jesse Penn of Cisco. Mrs. Penn is the daughter of Ben Parker of Cisco and is a niece of Mrs. John Bishop of Eastland and a first cousin of Mrs. H. E. Lawrence, also of Eastland.

Hussey's father is dead, but his grandfather, William Stroupe, resides in Cisco.

According to Evon Brunett, Hussey and Penn were stunt flying over the city at a very low altitude, they flew over his house at such a low altitude that he and his family left the house, fearing that the plane was going to hit it. As the plane neared the building, however, the pilot suddenly shot it upward and it cleared the Brunett house, made a short circle and headed again for the airport. As the ship neared the Brunett house, the pilot repeated the stunt he had done before and turned the nose of the plane sharply upward. At this instant, Brunett said, the motor appeared to stall and stopped running. Instantly the plane went into a nose dive, striking the ground and crumpling into a heap. Brunett as of the opinion that the fact that the motor was dead was the only thing that kept the wreckage from bursting into flames.

Brunett and others living nearby removed Penn's body from the wreckage. Hussey's body was a few feet from the wrecked motor. It was not known whether he had jumped from the plane or was thrown from it. Both ankles were broken and almost every bone in his legs were broken. Penn's head was crushed into a pulp, a cylinder from the engine having been driven into his body and broken in numerous pieces.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed at noon today for either Hussey or Penn. Penn's body was removed to Cisco Sunday afternoon late and funeral services are to be held there sometime this afternoon.

Wednesday to Be Clean-up Day In City of Ranger

The 1920 club, through Mrs. Ross Hodges, has announced Wednesday, April 19, as clean-up week in Ranger, when trucks will make the rounds of the city hauling off any trash that has been accumulated by the residents and placed in bags or boxes so that it can be handled.

The people of the city have been urged to clean up their back yards and place all cans, trash or other rubbish in sacks, boxes or baskets so that the trucks can begin the work on Wednesday. Several trucks will be working Tuesday carting off the refuse collected on many of the vacant lots and will be through with this task and ready to haul all trash from the houses by Wednesday.

The work will be continued on Thursday, if it is found necessary, and the trucks and workmen will continue hauling trash until the entire city has been covered. R. F. C. labor will be used in loading and unloading the trucks and the city of Ranger will furnish the trucks.

WINNING AN ENEMY: If thine enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat; and if he be thirsty, give him water to drink.—Proverbs 25: 21.

Nine prime ministers of the principal nations of Europe have been invited by President Roosevelt to join him at the White House "in conversations" seeking contribution each nation can make "betting world conditions." Many of the prime ministers will be unable to attend in person but it is expected they will ask congress to enact legislation giving him broad authority to "reduce the tariffs in return for trade concessions in other lands." Also, that "the position of the United States as the greatest of all creditor nations to which 15 countries owe a total of nearly $12,000,000,000 makes it eminently qualified for the United States to take the leadership in a movement which may influence the economic future of the world." Debt cancellation propaganda has many Americans of wealth directing its cause. Many leading periodicals, including Collier's Weekly, are giving most adroit publicity to the cancellation plan. There are champions of cancellation away down here in Texas. Now, the editor of Colliers refers to the war loans as "economic loans." Cancellation of the debts will not affect the pockets of the American taxpayers. There is $12,000,000,000 due the government. If the war loans are cancelled the liberty bonds will not be repudiated by the American government, and American taxpayers will be compelled to pay the freight. Just what constitutes an "economic loan"? Colliers' very able and subtle editor should advance a definition.

REP. BAILEY TRUE TO HIS IDEALS

Rep. Joseph W. Bailey clings to his idols as well as to the fundamentals. He was the one Texas representative to record his vote against the enactment of the farm relief bill. He praised the administration of President Roosevelt but he predicts that there will be a break in the harmony, lines later along in the session and that if legislative programs enacted for the relief of the American people, in many fields of endeavor, fail in their purpose the president will be wise and patriotic enough to abandon the failures and take the lead in another field of experimentation. Thus far the congressional leaders, as well as their followers, have adopted the recommendations of the chief magistrate and crystallized the same into law. As a Texas farmer remarked the other day, "It is all right; we have crawled out of the old rut and we are going somewhere."

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

H. F. PULLEN, publisher of the Prince Rupert (B. C.) Daily News, says:

THAT Canada is the closest neighbor of the United States and the people of the two countries are so similar that it would be difficult for a visitor to either country to be sure on which side of the boundary he was if he were not told.

We are Canadians and the people of the United States call themselves Americans, but all come from the same original stock. In each country there is a predominance of people of British origin with British ideals and a British outlook. There is also a large admixture of other European peoples, all being gradually welded into a new nation, one to the south and the other to the north of an arbitrary dividing line.

The southern climate of the United States is more attractive to the ordinary visitor who wishes relaxation but the climate of Canada is the more bracing and tends to make a hardier and more virile people.

Between the two peoples there is a tariff and immigration wall that separates them much more completely than does the Atlantic ocean cut each off from Europe. Canadians cannot buy in the United States because the import duty is high and people south of the line cannot buy in Canada for a similar reason. People in one country cannot migrate to the other except under the strictest supervision. However, they do pay brief visits across the line and this interchange of visits is on the increase.

Today leading citizens on either side of the line are beginning to see the advantage of closer relations with their neighbors. Canada has a large market for many United States products and the United States could with advantage use Canadian paper, pulp, lumber and fish. We are developing business with countries thousands of miles away and neglecting to trade over the fence with our next door neighbors because they have refused to trade with us.

The logical move is for statesmen from Canada and United States to sit around a table and discuss these matters as friends and neighbors and make permanent arrangements for buying and selling and for coming and going back and forth across the unfenced line.

BEGIN HERE TODAY JANET HILL breaks her engagement to BOB CARLYLE when she learns he has been paying attention to BETTY KENDALL, wealthy society girl. Janet leaves her secretary job but due to her employer's recommendation, is hired as social secretary by the wealthy Mrs. CURTIS.

HE left with instructions that Mrs. CURTIS was to spend the rest of the week in bed. Janet came back from seeing him to the door and sank into a chair at the bedside.

She refused to accept invitations and much of the time kept to her room. Janet found her three one afternoon sitting before a chest of drawers. The lower drawer had been pulled-out, revealing stacks of old photographs, a pile of garments.

Waiting on Mrs. CURTIS, reading to her, seeing that she took her medicine and that the affairs of the household ran smoothly kept Janet from thinking too much about herself during the days that followed.

PARIS STYLES

By MARY KNIGHT United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS.—The water rat family may not be very aristocratic in its native haunts, but a smart Parisian shoemaker has elevated it to the first rank by tanning it and making it up into boots that are so light and flexible they are a delight to the most sensitive foot.

This particular branch of the water rat family is called "Pecary." It is sometimes confused with piekin, but actually is entirely different. The appearance is, however, somewhat similar. Appearance means nothing, or next to nothing anyway, for people have any idea that if the skin of a human being were tanned it would look so much like piekin that you could scarcely tell the difference.

House Passes 'Sour Gas' Bill

AUSTIN, April 17.—The house Thursday passed finally Sen. Clint C. Small's "sour gas" bill, to permit operators in the Texas Panhandle gas field to process gas for casinghead gasoline and carbon black until such time as the pipeline operators from the field begin buying gas for use for light and fuel.

Independent gas operators scored in a long fight to get a market, during which they have contended five major pipe line gas exporters were draining their property, while the law forbade any uses to which they could turn their gas except through the pipe lines.

The bill mustered 88 votes to 26 on passage.

An amendment by Rep. Bob Long, Wichita Falls, to limit the bill's provision for 25 per cent of open flow production to an amount not exceeding that of the nearest well producing for fuel, was tabled, 83 to 30. Rep. O. F. Chastain, Eastland county, made a vigorous fight in behalf of the bill.

Rep. Long and Rep. Joe Great-house, Fort Worth, attacked the bill. Mr. Great-house contending that it would destroy in a short time the immense natural gas deposits from which five pipe line companies have built lines to Chicago and the east.

The bill is a companion one to the Lotief bill, approved by committee, levying a one-cent per thousand tax on natural gas exempting the first 400 million cubic feet of each producer per quarter. The present tax is 2 per cent, and sales prices range from two to six cents at the wells.

The processing bill would be limited to the Panhandle field by the provision that it shall apply to fields of 300,000 acres or more of proven territory. It applies to both "sweet" gas and to that with sulphur content. The railroad commission, under a ruling of Attorney General James V. Alfred that it conforms to the public welfare section of the conservation law, already has been granting permits as authorized by this bill.

DERRICK SHADOWS

By V. MARIE STEPHENS

There were 32 men balanced on the perilous tops to a string of box cars yesterday. Laughing, careless, grim, gaunt men shifting up the railroad line . . . from nothing to nothing.

I wondered if they were bound for some wetter state in hope of work, going home after futile attempts at the job-lending profession or just seeing the world until the president might think of some other way to end the depression and put hopeless men to work again.

Five years ago we all ate and threw nickels to the children and branded the unemployed "shiftless bums." Five years ago we upheld our 18th amendment and patronized our bootlegger and paid $18.50 for our shoes. And five years ago we set our fireworks toward the sky and confidentially whispered to our neighbor that we were "set for the future."

And after all the tirade is over and we've exhausted our supply of wise words on the subject, we are reminded that there were 27 new cars on Main Street Saturday evening at 8:17. We were talking about a depression. We apologize.

So Sunday, April 30, is to be President's Day . . . so the newspapers tell us, and who should be more authentic? We not only second the motion, but think it's a very good idea besides. There was a time when the office was considered desirable and distinctive. Roosevelt not only took his life in his hands on inaugural day, but took on the responsibility of a seething nation as well.

Certainly if anyone needs a red rose worn for his sake, it is the host in the White House. To become the target for insanity's bullets and the public's criticism is bad, but to drag a helpless nation out of a financial catastrophe is worse. He deserves a day.

In the State of New York, 2-year-old Helen Vasco awaits a life or death sentence at the hands of a court. If the child's mother can be forced to submit her to an operation to remove a malignant tumor from her eye she will live, otherwise her eye is fatal.

Mother Vasco insists young Helen should be left to the mercies of God, a sort of His Will Be Done attitude. Papa wishy-washes around between mama and the court. Such were the facts in the case until yesterday. Today there just aren't any facts except blankness . . . for the Vasco's have gone. Where, no one knows. Another type of the fighting, vanishing American.

Glimpse-glances: The Chinese are still struggling to defend themselves, while America attempts valiantly to overlook national infamy. Japan must not realize the foe she's trying to make—New York has a hotel fatal to law-breakers. The operator for a liquor syndicate in S. C. fell to his death while attempting to escape by window, from officers who stood at the door, this morning. It is the same hotel where "Legs" Diamond was critically shot by gunmen in 1930.

McEun Posts $25 Forfeit For Bout With 'Ug' Moore

Billy McEun of Pasadena, Cal., has posted his forfeit with the Elks club as requested by them to guarantee that he will not violate the rules of the American Wrestling association. In the event that McEun does not carry out his agreement the club will use his forfeit for charity purposes. McEun and Moore met here two weeks ago and after each had won a fall McEun was disqualified by the referee for his foul ring conduct. Moore and McEun will be equally matched as Moore is known for his sportsmanship in the ring and McEun will likely be thinking about his forfeit and get along without his usual dirty tricks.

In the other main event Pat Swanson tangles with Jack O'Brien, Swanson has wrestled here before and is popular with the fans. Pat weighs 178 pounds and lives in Fort Worth. Jack O'Brien, the Milwaukee brewer is a very fast matman even though he weighs 182 pounds. O'Brien has lost only three matches since coming to the Lone Star State.

The six round boxing brings Salty Salters, Ranger, toe to toe with Woody Windham, Anson ring boy. Salters weighs 135 pounds and Windham, 131 pounds.

Benny Wilson, matchmaker for the Elks won the Junior walter-weight championship of the world here last Monday but lost. Bartay the dethroned king slammed Wilson from two airplane spins and each time Wilson hit the mat his right elbow was twisted under the weight of his body causing a growth of flesh in the joint of the elbow known as rub-board. Last Thursday a doctor pinned Wilson's shoulders on the operating table and cut into the elbow to remove the growth from the exposed nerve.

Wilson is not bothered by infection it is likely that he will be able to go back on the mat within three weeks. From his account of the operation it seems that he won a match from Bartay only to lose his next encounter with his doctor. Wilson grinned and said the doctor did not win his bet as the doctor was overweight and that made it a non-title event.

Almost Unknown Pilots Are Heroes In the Far North

Their government training advantageous in the north country blizzards, heavy rainstorms, and night flying are part of their lives. Blind flying, one of the hardest accomplishments, is a necessary in Alaska, especially in snowstorms last for days.

Revenue of fliers and the companies that employ them are derived from flying passengers "states" boats over beautifully capped peaks, ferrying mining equipment from towns to claims and transporting food into the hills.

Where it would take a day more than two weeks by dog sled to get into town for supplies, plane makes the trip in a few hours, with none of the risk of mushing over ice floes or ice lakes.

Miners pay well for their transportation. Around Ketchikan, they pay from $3 to $4 an hour. The farther north, the more money they pay. Around Nome and Point Barrow miners pay $100 an hour.

Open cockpit planes have replaced almost exclusively cabin jobs. The ships are against crash, fire and other accidents, and each passenger usually insured.

Speaking of deflation, it is to bring the inflated bonds back to normalcy.
