PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

N. S. Holland, superintendent of the Breckenridge public schools, is making a determined effort to have the eight-semester rule rescinded, or at least he is making an effort to have the schools of the state vote on the question in the hope that the rule might be rescinded. And well he may. Reports from the Dynamo City indicate that if the eight-semester rule is retained the Truckeros will have but one member of the 1932 traveling squad (whatever that means) back for service next year. Holland has sent out questionnaires to 88 class A schools and 321 class B schools. Seventy-four class A schools answered the questionnaire, 47 being in favor of retaining the eight-semester rule and 27 being in favor of letting the boys play if they have been in school as long as 10 semesters. The class B schools have voted 129 to 36 in favor of the longer term of football eligibility and Prof. Holland is trying to get an expression from all the schools in the state. The total is 147 for repeal and 143 against.

The interscholastic league officials had declined to bring the question to a vote at the various schools and Prof. Holland called an election all his own. The results may not be all he hoped or expected them to be, but he has juggled the figures or something to show that more of the smaller class A schools favor 10 semesters or something and may claim the decision on a technicality—like Frank L. Denison.

Incidentally, though it has nothing to do with football, we doubt if we could ever be a politician. If we were appointed by the governor, were voted down by the senate, were reappointed and again not confirmed by the senate, we would never have the nerve to take the oath of office and demand the job, and if we did we could never go to court about it and lose and then file an appeal. But maybe that is what it takes to make a successful politician. At any rate no one can say that Denison gave up the job as chairman of the highway commission without a struggle.

The Broadway of America motorcade, en route to the annual convention of the association, which is to be held in El Paso this year, will pass through Ranger on Saturday. Last year the motorcade stopped in Ranger for lunch and this year will eat the noon meal at Eastland. The trippers leave Fort Worth at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, arrive at Strawn at 10:30, where they spend 15 minutes, arrive in Ranger at 11 for a 15-minute stop and then go on to Eastland, where they are due to arrive at 11:45 for a stop of one hour and 15 minutes and lunch.

We haven't heard, as yet, whether the motorcade will be followed in either Ranger or Eastland by any delegates or representatives of the two towns. Last year two cars from Ranger made the trip to San Diego with the motorcade.

There is a saying that the third time is a charm, or something of the kind, and tonight the third attempt to hold a program at Merriman is to be made. The merchants should all be on hand for the meeting, which is being planned for their special benefit and to try to create more business for them from over the trade territory of Ranger. Unless they attend there is no way of knowing whether they want more of these programs or not and no way for the people of these rural communities knowing whether their trade is appreciated or not.

The American Legion Tickville band, which has proved so popular that it is demanded at practically all of these programs, will be on hand and will give their efforts toward creating a better feeling between the town and the rural communities. If these men are willing to go to as much work as they do for the benefit of the merchants, the merchants should at least take enough interest to attend the program. There is no charge and it will take but a little time to drive to Merriman, meet the people there and let's all go to Merriman tonight.

H. C. "Andy" Anderson says the three outstanding contributions of the late and unrepented republican administration were the 30-30, the saw puzzle, and the jigsaw puzzle. And someone added miniature golf to the list.

DALLAS, April 26.—Magnolia Petroleum company announced here today it would pay 25 cents a barrel, or a 50 per cent cut, from its previous price for East Texas crude oil.

POSSE SEEKING ATTACKER OF WHITE WOMAN

MARLIN, Texas, April 26.—An aroused citizenry joined with officers in search for an unidentified negro who today attacked Mrs. Wesley Crites, 36, and attempted to gouge out her eyes with a pair of scissors.
Mrs. Crites is the wife of a Marlin barber. The negro entered her home under the pretense of wanting to buy a shirt.
He attempted to criminally assault Mrs. Crites, but according to a physician who attended the woman, was frustrated by her frantic struggles during half an hour's encounter.
Officers said the negro used an ice pick in addition to the scissors in his attack. Mrs. Crites suffered severe cuts and bruises and nervous prostration.

Rotarians Hear Rev. Bryan In a Good Talk Today

Walter Harwell, who with E. L. Fontain, was program chairman at the regular meeting of the Rotary club today, introduced Rev. Gid J. Bryan, who gave an interesting talk.
Prior to Rev. Bryan's address, Misses Wilma Beard and Jean Williams, students of Ranger Junior College, were introduced. They gave several vocal selections which were enjoyed by the members.
Following the musical selections Miss Sammie Ruth Matthews gave two readings, which were also well received.
Rev. Bryan said that he had given much thought to his talk, trying to select a subject that would be of interest to all present. He said that all business men were interested in their business and in making it profitable and predicted that after the depression is over there will be towns that will show a growth and towns that have been made better because of the depression. The same is true of business, he said, and some business men will be left in better circumstances as a result of the lessons they have learned in the past few years.
He said that it would be in keeping with his work as a minister to tell the members that he believed every business in town should be profitable and the same was true of all the professions in which men are interested. The best advice on this, he said, was contained in the club motto, "He profits most who serves the best."
He said that he did not believe that communism makes each man's wealth equal because the communism of wealth was based on the communism of service.
He predicted that in time Texas would have a population of 50,000,000 people and that they would be living in the towns that had vision and urged the Rotarians to help make Ranger one of those towns with vision, and it would be ahead when times became normal.

H. C. "Andy" Anderson gave a brief outline of the district convention to be held in San Angelo on Monday and Tuesday, May 1 and 2, giving the highlights on the principal speakers. He announced that the registration fee would be only $1 and that all meals would be 50 cents.
Dr. Kuykendall announced that the Rotary Club of Wichita Falls was having their annual meeting tomorrow night, at which the American Legion Tickville band would appear and asked as many Rotarians as could attend.
John Hassen made an announcement concerning the program to be sponsored at Merriman tonight by the merchants of the city and urged all to attend.
E. L. Fontain was elected as a delegate to attend the San Angelo convention with Dr. P. M. Kuykendall as alternate.
A skit by the Rotators meeting was held at the close of the session.
The program next week will be under the direction of C. E. May.

Soldier Bonus Is Again Looming As Issue in Congress

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The soldier bonus issue was revived today in the house to confront the Roosevelt administration when leaders of the veterans' bloc began circulating a petition for a democratic caucus Monday night to force a showdown.
The aim of the bonus bloc, headed by Representative Patman of Texas, is to link the bonus to the administration bill as a means of distributing the new currency, provided in that measure upon which a vote is expected late today in the senate.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Trial of Tom Mooney on an old murder indictment today was ordered continued until May 22 because of a demonstration staged by 500 Mooney supporters.

SCHOOL TEACHERS RIOT

CHICAGO, April 26.—A crowd of police used night sticks to evict a searing mob of 1,000 unruly Chicago school teachers who tried to force their way into the First National Bank today.

They Can Still Smile at World Troubles

Smiling broadly after their early conferences on the world's troubles, Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain and President Roosevelt waved to crowds that greeted them on their appearance in Washington streets. Here is the party as it left the White House. Mrs. Roosevelt sits between the president and the prime minister. James Roosevelt and Isabel MacDonald are in the center seats.

MACDONALD PLEASSED OVER CONVERSATION

WASHINGTON, April 26.—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald have agreed an international monetary standard must be re-established as soon as circumstances permit.
This was made known in a joint statement issued at the end of their conversations today.
Both emphasized that definite agreement must be reached in the world economic conference in June.

President Roosevelt is continuing his conversations with former Premier Herriot of France. Disarmament and money problems are the chief subjects under examination.
Mr. MacDonald, just before leaving Washington today said in conversations with President Roosevelt had been fruitful to an extent he had hardly imagined would be possible.
"I go away convinced of the fact that we not only hope to come to an agreement, but that we are coming to an agreement."
"This agreement does not mean that the United States will become entangled in the maelstrom of Europe. It does mean that we have extended to each other a helping hand."

Ask Delay On Poll Tax Payments

PALESTINE, Texas, April 26.—Introduction in the Texas legislature of a bill authorizing Texans to pay their poll taxes as late as July 1, was being urged today by a group of Palestine citizens.
Under present law the final date for payment was Feb. 1.
Advocates pointed out that if the extension were provided nearly 200,000 persons desiring to vote on the question of legalizing beer and repeal of the eighteenth amendment would pay poll taxes now at the rate of $1.75 each. The poll taxes would add $375,000 to school revenues.

Beer Bills Ready For Senate Vote

AUSTIN, April 26.—The path was cleared at noon adjournment of the Texas senate today for consideration of two house beer measures before it.
By adjourning the senate technically went on the house calendar and will be in a position to consider the measures this afternoon.
Senator W. K. Hopkins of Gonzales, anti-prohibition leader, said the senate probably would consider first the resolution calling for an election Aug. 26 on the question of legalizing 3.2 beer.

Cash Prizes Are Offered In Jig Saw Contest In Times

The Ranger Times, in cooperation with many of the merchants of Ranger, is sponsoring a contest in which two cash prizes and one prize of tickets to the Aradia Theatre are offered.
On another page of this issue will be found a jig-saw puzzle to be cut out and assembled. When this is done write an article of not more than 150 words on the subject, "How can Ranger be made the best town in West Texas?" Mail the solution to the puzzle and the article you write to the "Jig-Saw Contest Editor, Ranger Times, before Monday, May 1 in order that you can compete for the prizes. Winners will be announced in the Times as soon as the judges can go over the answers received.
The awards will be judged on the following points: correctness of solution of the jig-saw puzzle, 50 points; neatness, attractiveness and originality of presentation 35 points and cleverness, interest or common sense wording of the article, 15 points.
Cut out the puzzle now and get busy. You may be the winner of one of the cash prizes or the theatre tickets.
The shirt and tie cut appearing in one of the advertisements has no connection with the jig-saw puzzle, though the two other cuts in the advertisement should be used. This is explained to prevent any confusion.

NEW AND OLD COMMISSIONERS MEET TUESDAY

The old and new city commissioners met in joint session Tuesday night, the commissioners-elect and the mayor-elect sitting in on the regular semi-monthly meeting of the outgoing commission.
Complete co-operation between the outgoing and incoming bodies was noticed at the meeting and arrangements were made to turn over the reins of the city government. The new commissioners will take their oaths of office on Monday afternoon, May 1, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when the old commission will relinquish their duties.
The outgoing commission, composed of L. R. Pearson, J. C. Smith, Dr. Harry A. Logsdon and Edwin George Jr., have made an enviable record while in office the past two years and it is expected that the new body, composed of Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, mayor, and Commissioners E. H. Mills, Walter Harwell, W. S. Adamson and Col. Brasher will carry on the work in an equally satisfactory manner when they take office next Monday.

Parrish Testifies In Fight Probe

AUSTIN, April 26.—Apologies to Rep. Gordon Burns and to the House of the Texas Legislature were sent to the capitol this afternoon by C. F. Rosser, Fort Worth oil man who engaged in a fight with Rep. Burns in an Austin Hotel Monday night.
AUSTIN, April 26.—Pink L. Parrish, former state senator from Lubbock, testified before an investigating committee today that the attack on Representative Gordon Burns of Huntville was linked with his speech on the floor of the legislature.
Burns was attacked in a hotel lobby by Charles Rosser of Fort Worth. He was taken to a hospital early yesterday suffering from minor injuries.
"We'll teach him a lesson how to talk about us on the floor of the house," was the remark heard by Parrish as a group of men crowded around Burns in the hotel lobby.
The hearing recessed until late this afternoon to receive the testimony of Dr. Howard Granberry on Burns' injuries.

MERCHANTS TO GIVE PROGRAM AT MERRIMAN

The merchants of Ranger, accompanied by many of the citizens of the town, are expected to go to Merriman tonight for the third of the trade expansion programs, which feature entertainments at the rural communities.
The feature on the program tonight is the American Legion Tickville band, under the direction of Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, which was especially requested by the residents of Merriman and the officials of the Merriman Parent-Teachers association.
Twice before the program was postponed, but it is hoped tonight that a large crowd, both from Merriman and from Ranger will be on hand to take part in the gathering.
John Hassen, who claims to have a real feeling for the rural residents, will make a short talk on behalf of the merchants of Ranger and will open the program.
The Tickville band will give one of its inimitable programs, which has been urged by the people of the Merriman section, though the band has made two previous appearances at the Merriman school.
Last Wednesday a threatening storm prevented many from attending the program and it was postponed until tonight, when it is hoped that a large crowd will be on hand for the occasion.

Legislature May Recess Instead of Adjourning in May

AUSTIN, April 26.—Possibility that the Texas legislature may recess instead of adjourning is being whispered about the state capitol.
While lacking definite statement or backing, the report is so frequent that many believe the senate might indicate some fire.
Such a course would leave the legislature free to reassemble regardless of a call from the governor.
With national policies being rapidly changed, there is much doubt as to what conditions will be within a short time after the present session of the state legislature finishes its work. Certain of its emergency measures have already become obsolete.
Some members point out that inflation may raise commodity prices to such an extent that state budgets will have to be revised.
If prices go up 25 per cent, the situation will be difficult for the state employees, who are being cut 25 per cent or more in the appropriation bills already worked out. The net result would be a 50 per cent cut in ability to purchase.
Another effect of the legislature recessing instead of adjourning would be to retain the senate's control over appointments made by the governor.
When the session adjourns the governor may name appointees who serve without confirmation until the legislature is again in session.
In view of the conflicts between the governor and the senate over appointments, this may play a material part in the decision.
It would not affect the status of the appointment of Frank Denison of Temple, to the chairmanship of the state highway commission.
If the supreme court decides he was not legally confirmed when he received a majority senate vote, his claim to the place would end. The governor cannot name a rejected appointee after the legislature adjourns. She can name any other person.
C. W. Howeth, Beaumont, and former County Commissioner Massey of Harris county, are being mentioned as possible choices if Denison is not permitted to hold the place.

THREE BODIES ARE RECOVERED IN FLOODWATER

DALLAS, April 26.—With bodies of three women already recovered, police, firemen and volunteer workers today were searching for additional dead while at least 1,000 persons were temporarily homeless as the result of one of the worst floods in Dallas' history.
Preliminary estimates placed property damage at $1,000,000 from hail and torrential rain which struck at dusk yesterday.
The known dead were Mrs. Clara Cambridge, 20; Miss Sibyl Compton, 30, and Alice Berry, 40, a negro.
Accompanied by a 50-mile wind and large hail stones, the torrential rain continued unabated for several hours.
Greatest property damage resulted in the downtown district, where hundreds of windows were smashed, automobile tops pelted and electric signs damaged. The fruit crop was heavily damaged by hail.
Police received many reports of missing persons, particularly among inhabitants of river lowlands. It was feared the death toll would mount to at least half a dozen.
The first body to be recovered was that of the negro woman, lodged between the pilings of a board fence.
Soon afterward flood waters gave up the bodies of Mrs. Cambridge and Miss Compton, who drowned when swept from their automobile on a bridge in south Dallas.
Miss Irma Hicks, 29, in the same car, was rescued by police as she clung to floating debris, screaming for help.

Tickville Band to Play at Wichita Falls Rotary Meet

The American Legion Tickville band, under the direction of Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, will go to Wichita Falls Thursday night to have a prominent part on the annual banquet program of the Wichita Falls Rotary club.
The band has been in demand this year more than ever before and many requests for their appearance in West Texas cities have been received by Dr. Logsdon.
Dr. P. M. Kuykendall, president of the Ranger Rotary club has urged as many of the members of the Ranger club as can do so to attend the banquet at Wichita Falls.

Two Sisters In a Contest for Child

Two sisters contested for the custody of a 5-year-old boy, Ronald Ireland Wallace, in a habeas corpus hearing before Judge B. W. Patterson of the 88th district court Monday.
Lola Sunrow, said to have adopted the boy, had charge of him for some months. His natural mother, Gerie Hartfield, a sister to Lola, obtained the child and refused to allow Lola to have him. Judge Patterson, after hearing the testimony, held that the attempted adoption of the child by Lola had not been completed and awarded the custody of the child to its mother.
All parties in the case reside at Ranger.

GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE—SAY "YES" Forty years ago the opponents of the fee system began their campaign in Texas. Now the Texas house of representatives voted to submit a constitutional amendment proposing abolition of the fee system or compensating public officials in counties having a population in excess of 20,000.

During the warm season one likes to stop at a hotel that has installed a good cooling system so one can eat and sleep in comfort. It is warm outside as I write this, but delightfully cool and comfortable all over the hotel at Oklahoma City, where I am stopping for the day.

Our present position is far from hopeless. The fact that the whole world is worried and working to find a way out is laden with hope. If only a sincere effort is made to build up and not tear down, a wave will be started which will traverse the whole country and sweep away the fear that has been caused by the present economy wave and once again money will circulate so people can work.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Staff Writer WASHINGTON—The Roosevelt honeymoon may be expected to sail on its own sweet way for months to come. It isn't threatened by the current manifestations of resentment and restlessness in Congress. The president is still the smartest politician in Washington, and by all odds the most popular man in the country. Those are prime assets in any struggle with Congress, and thus far Roosevelt hasn't even had to call them into play.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

White Sox Boast Star Relief Pitching Trio Whatever happens to the regulars of the White Sox, who have rekindled the dying embers of enthusiasm on Chicago's South Side, the club's roster shows the names of three pitchers who compose about as good a relief stab corps as any club in the American League. The trio is made up of Chad Kimsey, big right-hander, obtained from the Browns late last year; Urban "Red" Faber, ancient and ruddy-faced spit ball flinger; and Joe Heving, who was drafted from the Indianapolis club of the American association. Manager Fonseca of the White Sox probably would like to have a fair-to-middling southpaw in his relief group, but reports from the Pacific coast training grounds of the Hoos indicate that the Sox boss isn't shedding any tears about the situation. Last year the White Sox not only had plenty of grief with their relief group, but Fonseca didn't have anybody to rush to the rescue when the enemy was breaking loose with flurries of disability base hits. Kimsey was a high class relief man in 1931 but didn't see much service last year. In the closing days of the 1932 season, Kimsey showed good re-

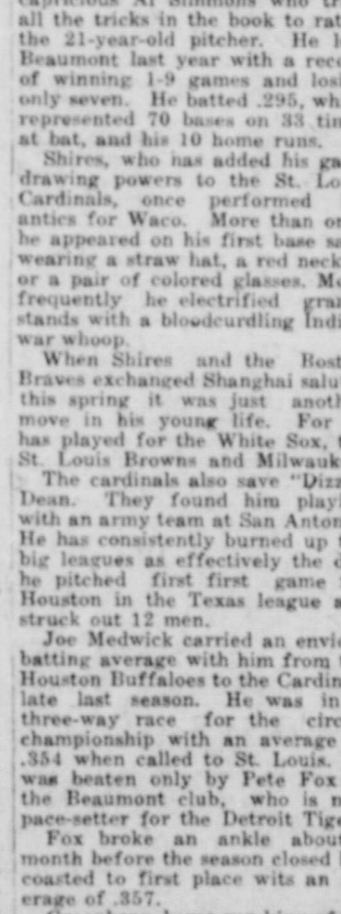

THREE GUESSES

Ex-Texas League Players Successful In Major Circuits

By TED MALOY United Press Staff Correspondent DALLAS.—Take the former Texas League players from the majors, build them into one team and you would have a club that would go places in any man's circuit. It would be a colorful aggregation. Youngsters mostly, with wallop enough to give the best of the clubs a race for their money. It would be a hand-picked with Art (Whitman) Shires, Jerome (Dizzy) Dean, Ervin (Pete) Fox, Joseph M. Medwick, Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe, and a score of others to select from. With them gone, the big league would be shorn of much of the new life that promises to sustain sportsmanship and increase gate receipts.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

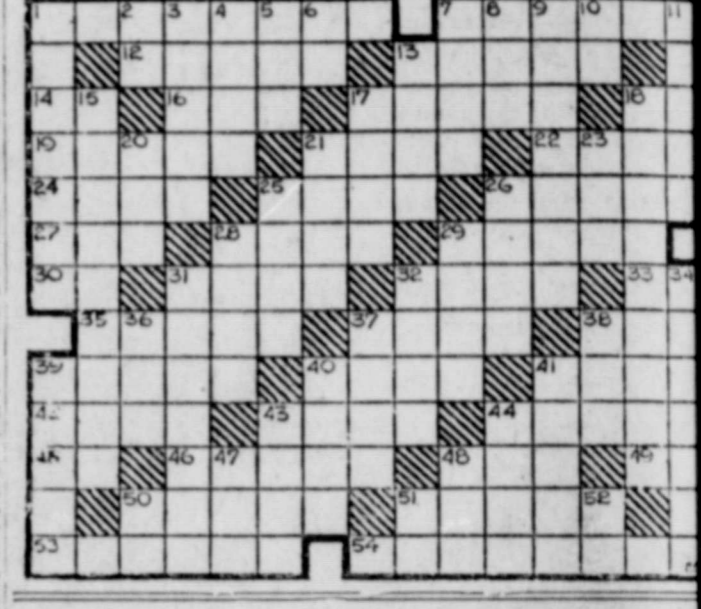

State Employees Uncomfortable as Solons Are Active

AUSTIN.—State employees have been having a most uncomfortable time while the Texas legislature has been at work on the appropriation bills. If he had such a small salary that the standard 25 per cent cut was small in the money, some would compare it with the dollars cut from others. If he was getting a "big" salary, and got a correspondingly big cut, some one would demand that he be cut still more. Here is a typical instance: The salary of President H. Benedict of the University of Texas has been $10,000 a year. The house appropriations committee placed it at $7,200. A first amendment cut it to $6,000. Arguing that $7,200 was already a reduction from $10,000, the appropriations committee was met with the retort: ATHLETE IS GIANT LAWRENCE, Mass.—Carl Roberts, basketball player, is seven feet six inches tall and wears an 18 shoe.

AUSTIN.—State employees have been having a most uncomfortable time while the Texas legislature has been at work on the appropriation bills. If he had such a small salary that the standard 25 per cent cut was small in the money, some would compare it with the dollars cut from others. If he was getting a "big" salary, and got a correspondingly big cut, some one would demand that he be cut still more. Here is a typical instance: The salary of President H. Benedict of the University of Texas has been $10,000 a year. The house appropriations committee placed it at $7,200. A first amendment cut it to $6,000. Arguing that $7,200 was already a reduction from $10,000, the appropriations committee was met with the retort: ATHLETE IS GIANT LAWRENCE, Mass.—Carl Roberts, basketball player, is seven feet six inches tall and wears an 18 shoe.

CHEESE LED 1932 "DAIRY PARADE"

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—Cheese, exclusive of cottage cheese, led the "dairy parade" in California during the year 1932, a report of the dairy service, state department of agriculture, revealed. Close behind came ice, milk and evaporated milk. These three dairy products were the only ones in the dairy family showing production increase in 1932.

Shanghai Sets Swift Pace For Nocturnal Life

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
SHANGHAI. For unrestrained gaiety, riotous living and nocturnal revelry, Shanghai sets a pace as swift as any of the world's playgrounds.

The night life of Paris, London, Berlin, or New York is no more wild than that of Shanghai, the gayest city of the Far East.

From darkness to dawn one is never at a loss for a place to dine, dance and frolic. Shanghai abounds in night clubs and cabarets. Called the "Paris of the Orient," Shanghai gives a free rein to all indulgences.

New York night life in its 1928 and 1929 zenith never reached the tempo of Shanghai's frenzied frolic. New York hot spots would have to step up their tempo to compete against Shanghai's nightly retreats.

Shanghai's abundant night clubs make for keen competition. Off the Rue du Consulat, in the French Concession, there is a short street called Rue Chu-Pao-San with more cabarets per square foot than any other spot in the world. Incense-burners twinkle above every doorway.

There's a club to fit practically every purse. For $5 (gold), or about $25 (Mex.), you can stay up all night, dance with beautiful women, buy enough highballs to keep from getting sleepy, and have a rattling good time, if night life is your fancy.

Other places you must dig a bit deeper, but you have the finest food, wines and entertainment in the house for your money. But if you know the inside you can cabaret in Shanghai a month on $100 American money.

The prettiest girls in Shanghai are Russians, who migrated after the revolution. They are employed as hostesses, and are vaguely similar to the taxi dance hall girl in the U. S. They are, however, more beautiful, better educated and better company than the hostesses in the best American night clubs. Some of them are descendants of Russian royalists. Most of the other girls are French, Chinese, Eurasians and Italians.

But most of the hostesses are Chinese girls, and about 75 per cent of the trade is supplied by the better class of Chinese men, who are passionately fond of dancing the American dance steps.

It is surprising to find how well the Chinese girl has learned the latest American dance steps. It is unusual to find a bad dancer among the Chinese girls. Most of them dress in semi-European style, retaining the high collar and split skirts. They all wear silk stockings, and the slit in their dress reveals their legs to well

Dyes May Aid In Treatment of Cancer Cases

By United Press
BERKELEY, Calif.—The same dyes which provide bright colors for lady's new spring dress may aid cancer treatment.

Dr. Matilda M. Brooks, research associate in biology at the University of California, has revealed that she is experimenting with experiments with dyes which recently produced antidotes for two deadly poisons—in the hope of aiding cancer treatment.

To cancer sufferers, Dr. Brooks makes no claims or predictions.

"My cancer research experiments still are in the embryonic stages," she said.

Dr. Brooks' successful experiments with dyes have brought her support in the new experiments from the National Academy of Science, the National Research Council, the University of California Medical school, and other interested organizations.

The use of dyes in combating mankind's ills came into prominence recently when Dr. Brooks successfully demonstrated the use of methylene blue as an antidote for carbon monoxide poisoning. It

About Fighters

ONE of the interesting entertainments of the current season was watching Gorilla Jones trying to miss Ben Juby in their no-contest at Cleveland. . . . Try as he would, the Gorilla only managed to miss Mister Juby's boot nose about half of the time. . . . the authorities finally had them pitched out of the ring on their respective ears.

Max Baer will be easy for Max Schmeling subscribers should not be misled by Schmeling's showing against Sharkey. . . . In that fight Mister Schmeling was trying to keep Sharkey from doing anything to him. . . . Max Baer will be fan-free, with no title defense to fret him. . . . he will find Baer the kind of willing fellow he can fight best. . . . Baer being strictly a fighter. . . . Schmeling will make mince meat of the gent.

Outsmarts Himself

SCHMELING'S serious mistake in his meeting with Sharkey was his own idea that Sharkey had to beat him to win the title. . . . by that I mean Max figured that he could ride along without too much effort, allowing the Boston sailor to make the play. . . . and Max thought that if he held his opponent about even, he would retain the title. . . . he was badly crossed up.

Schmeling is a better fighter than many imagine him to be. . . . his only fault is caution. . . . he is as durable as an iron hat. . . . and as quick as lightning. . . . one of the best counter-punchers I ever saw. . . . and a hard hitter.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

If you have five friends (surely you have) and wish to go with them to see the Kentucky Derby from an individual box in the clubhouse, set aside $93. . . . The mezzanine is cheaper. . . . They "recommend" perches on the mezzanine tier of the clubhouse (boxes of course) at a sawbuck per person. . . . Seats in a box at the clubhouse downstairs retail at $15.50 per copy. . . . but wait! . . . Why not let your friends sit upstairs in a clubhouse box. . . . It will cost only $60 for the party. . . . The general admission price for a common grandstand seat is $4.50. . . . and six times that is $27.00.

Too Much Respect

HE did not fight Sharkey as he should have because he was respectful of the job's boxing ability. . . . he knew that Sharkey had beaten Dempsey up to the round where Sharkey lost his aplomb long enough to turn his head toward the referee to complain. . . . so Max actually outsmarted himself. . . . by visualizing Sharkey doing the same thing to him that Sharkey did to Dempsey.

Max is a clever boy. . . . and he knows that he will have to fight Baer because Baer demands that kind of competition. . . . I think Schmeling is stronger than Baer and that he will win for that reason.

Chicago Fair New World Movement

By HARRISON SALISBURY
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, April 22.—A Century of Progress Exposition in its modernistic temples on Chicago's lake front presents a new world in movement.

Departing sharply from the concept of former World's Fairs, the exposition, which formally opens June 1, has been described as an "encyclopedia come to life."

Dating from the time of the famous Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia in 1776, the great fairs in America have been static displays.

There have been row upon row of manufacturers' products. Each nation and each exhibitor set up a show window in which the best pair of shoes, the finest china, or the newest bit of mechanical equipment, was displayed. There were competitions and medals for outstanding products.

A Century of Progress Exposition. There are no competitions and no duplications. And from architecture to the smallest concession the keynote is movement.

Instead of displays of the latest motor cars, two model factories have been erected. Here thousands of visitors can watch every process in the assembly of an automobile.

A miniature oil well and refinery will be operated. The manufacture of rubber from tree to pneumatic tire will be demonstrated.

Even in the fields of physics,

WHAT IS A G. P. A. TO DO?

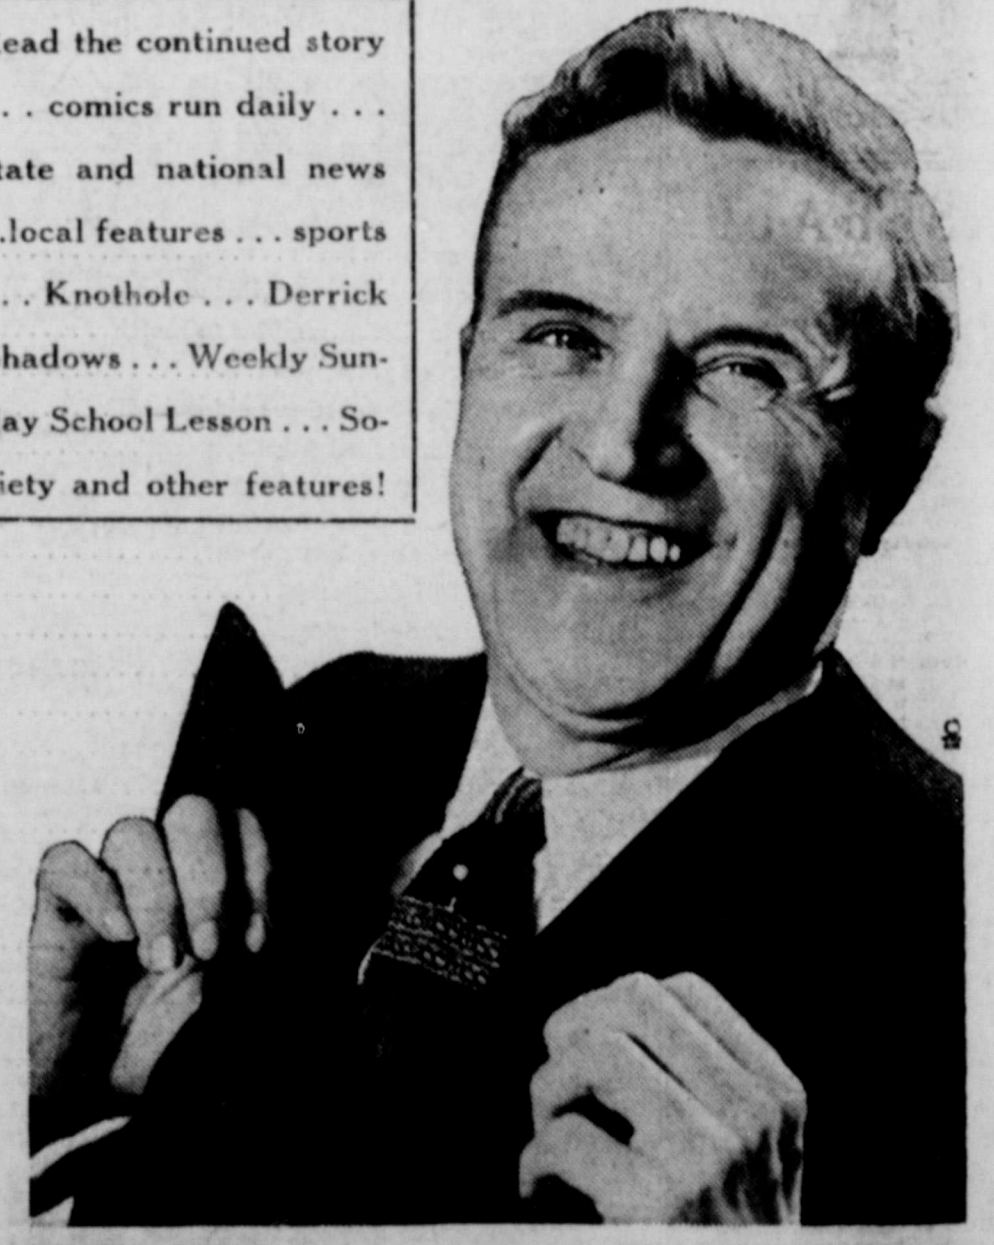

BIG BUSINESS has its laboratories and its bureaus of standards where products submitted to General Purchasing Agents may be tested searchingly. But Big Business has not all the intelligent G. P. A.'s, nor has it any monopoly on big purchases.

The women of this country make eighty-five per cent of all retail purchases—and they influence the rest. They are G. P. A.'s for 25 million independent businesses, the households of America. Without charts, graphs, or laboratories, how are they to buy efficiently? How are they to be sure of securing honest, wholesome products for use by their families?

Their guide is advertising in the daily paper. They realize, sensibly enough, that the merchants of their own talk to them truthfully in advertisements. They watch these pages for news of advantageous purchases. They welcome the new or better product when informed of its through advertising.

The merchants and manufacturers who use this newspaper realize that your patronage, not only this year but next, is the life of their business. They test and criticize and study merchandise more rigorously than you ever could. You may read their advertisements with confidence. Guided by them, you may buy efficiently! FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS—By Blosser

by MABEL McELLIOTT

MONNIE O'HARE who works in the office of the RANGER TIMES... NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VIII MONNIE made herself proud and cool, answering him 'Yes,' she said. Dan's voice over the wire sounded hurried, vaguely embarrassed. 'Monnie, listen, I was in such a rush today, I wanted to talk to you but you know how Mother is. She won't wait—'

Sandra said importantly, 'My dear, we talked about you!'

Let me show you what you? Key would say rather solemnly was frightened. 'You never want me to have any fun. Might as well be buried alive—'

'Did you, indeed?' Monnie could not keep the sarcastic note from her voice.

Every pulse in the girl's airm... 'What did he want?' Mrs. O'Hare asked nervously. Her policy in all her children's affairs was one of 'hands off' whenever possible. But she could not help noticing the change that had come over Monnie since Dan Cardigan's return. With resentment and anger foreign to her quiet nature she now regarded the Cardigans. Wasn't Monnie, who was lovely and gracious enough to catch the attention of a prince, gone good enough for young Dan Cardigan? 'Just asking me to drive out with him tonight for a picnic supper,' Monnie returned in an indignant tone. 'I told him I was busy.'

didn't mind letting the whole world know he was friendly with the O'Hares, even if they were poor and lived in a shabby little house on the wrong side of town! 'He's nice,' Mrs. O'Hare said. 'Key will be wild with joy when I tell her. Poor child, she hasn't had much fun lately! And I keep worrying lest she get so bored with dullness that she'll join that wild crowd in town. Mrs. Merriam was telling me they plan to give the Young People's Society down at the Fourth street church a good talking to. Some of the boys brought liquor to the last meeting. The janitor found the bottles next morning when he was sweeping up.'

Monnie pushed back the damp bronze ringlets clustering around her forehead and tried to smile. It was a sorry attempt. She felt out of sorts, shrew, suspicious. 'Have you? Isn't it a frightful day? I'm perishing—'

'MONNIE, I forgot to tell you,' her mother cried with animation. 'Mr. Eustace stopped in this morning to ask if you and Kay would have dinner with him tomorrow night, but I told him I'd rather not come. You young people can have a better time by yourselves. He said he was asking some others. I don't know who—'

'That was foolish of you. He asked you because he wanted you,' Monnie told her. Somehow this message took the sting out of Dan's left-handed invitation. Charles Eustace, who was well-to-do and rich and handsome.

'Oh, now, don't misunderstand me,' Sandra drawled. 'Dan's a bit of a charmer. We both know that. I honestly feel, Monnie, that with another side glance at Miss Cary who was near-sighted but far from deaf! That Dan will never tie himself to one woman. He's the—The flirtatious type—'

French Amazed At Celebration Over Legal Beer

PARIS—Frenchmen reading reports of the great consumption of beer in the United States since April 7, are at a loss to understand how anyone can achieve gaiety over the lowly brew of the hop. 'If Americans were drinking even light wines,' one editor observed, 'we could understand their frenzy. But it is possible even Americans can become deliciously happy over beer!'

Roosevelt Welcomes MacDonalds to White House

Boxing Bill Is Still Being Urged

AUSTIN.—Representatives George Butler, Bryan, and William Clayton, El Paso, are continuing their fight for a state boxing and wrestling commission. Each time they get a test vote by seeking to advance it on the calendar, they show gain. It is now reported if definite assurance is given that there will be no attempt to amend the bill to include a racing commission, that the measure stands a chance.

ANSWERS to today's THREE GUESSES. THE portrait is of HANS WAGNER, famous Philadelphian shortstop. The song was written by ARTHUR PENN. The weapon shown is a TANTALUM.

SCOUT NEWS BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA. Cisco Scouts Hold Kite Tournay. Troop 4 of Cisco Boy Scouts won the annual kite flying contest held at the grammar school football field last Friday afternoon. Troop 4 took first place with 25 points and troop 1 took second with 20 points. This is the third consecutive year that the contests have been won by troop 4.

Ranger Scouts Build Cabin. Scoutmaster B. S. Lemma of troop 10 and his scouts started the construction of the cabin near the Willows swimming pool last week. The building was purchased from the telephone company and was torn down by the scouts. The building when completed will be 18x26, and will feature a lawn and flower beds in front and a large play ground at the rear. Troop 10 reports receiving the following new equipment: three sets fire by friction, one telegraph signaling machine, two sets fire by flint and steel and a pair of tracking irons. Scouts of troops 3 and 10 were given pins for attending church.

Scout Cabin. Scouts of Breckenridge district will be presented with a scout cabin located on the Furr ranch about one and one-half miles from Breckenridge next Saturday night. The dedication address will be delivered by Mrs. H. B. Furr, chairman of the Scout Mother's auxiliary, which is responsible for the giving of the cabin. The acceptance will be made by Scout Commissioner Russell H. Jones. Mrs. E. R. E. Lidge and Mrs. C. H. Brown are also on the program.

San Saba Scouters Meet Outdoors. An outdoor cooking session was held by the San Saba training school last week with good attendance. The scouters were paired off by buddies, each two being required to build their own fire and cook bacon, eggs, steak and potatoes without the aid of any sort of cooking utensils. All went well until the hot rock on which Mr. Bacon was cooking gave away on one side, and he had a third time turning up the egg. Outside of this one mishap, bacon and egg sandwiches were turned out in great style.

Summer Camp. Most every day the scout office is receiving inquiries regarding plans for the summer camp. May we say that great plans are being made and from all accounts, the attendance at this summer camp will be a record breaker for camps in Texas. The camp staff is being made up of men of high character and efficiency in the particular phase of camp program. No parent can afford to have their son miss this coming camp, which may mean a great deal to him physically, mentally and morally. Commercial camp with similar privileges and accommodations would cost $10 to the hundred dollars because a staff composed of the class of men as Camp Billy Gibbons will have, the cost would be prohibitive. These men go and give of their time gratis, because of their love of boys and the great out-of-door.
