SENATE APPROVES BEER ELECTION AUGUST

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

Last night the members of the American Legion Tackville band were more or less nervous when they went on the stage at Merriman because Rupert Murphy was in the role formerly played by Craig and he had been through a few rehearsals, if any. However, of the important parts on the band program there was plenty chance for him to slip up. When the first number in which he was featured was pulled off it was probably by a slip of the tongue which did not surprise anyone. He did practically everything in the audience. He was good in his part, in fact we predict that he will have a little more practice he will have Dr. Craig.

Not only did he carry out the duty parts well, but he has a real string of notes that adds to the program in the dusts of Barry Henry.

In fact the Merriman program was a success from every standpoint. After two fruitless attempts to have a program it finally materialized, which was more of an access in itself. Then the audience comfortably filled the auditorium, every available seat being taken and a good part of the evening room.

When the program opened a raffle auction was held where everyone put up in cash the difference in his bid and Roy Gilbreath bid. In other words if the price was 50 cents and someone bid it to 60 cents he would put the 10 cents. Then on the next bid if the price was raised to 75 cents the bidder put in his 15 cents. In this way the one cake was finally sold to Roy Gilbreath amounting to a total of $12.10.

Incidentally Edwin George, Jr., produced a new number, which had over big with the crowd. In it, with the exception of the happy-Henry number and Dr. Johnson's mandolin number it ranked the most applause of any number.

Everyone out Country Club was looking forward to May 19, 20 and 21, when the annual tournament of the club will be held. If we are not mistaken it will be the third annual tournament of the club, both the years being decided, successful. It is not known just who will win, but the prediction we make is that anyone who defeats Samie Phillips will be winner of the first flight. He played an excellent brand of golf, so we have a bid at Mineral Wells, only to be before a barrage of birdies and pars. He didn't do so bad, scoring around six under par a good part of the time, but went up to the youth who shot the three in nine under par, which is probably a course record, though it is not sure.

Any way, the plans call for one of those B and B tournaments—no know, bigger and better. In it will probably be one excuse or use adjectives, for which we have a prejudice, even though we have to use them in our work, any.

In the meantime many of the players will be able to get some practice for the tournament, with a match scheduled to play in Ranger next Sunday and Breckenridge scheduled to go to Mineral Wells, while Thurber will be idle, unless they play practice rounds on their own golf yard, or something.

The case was called for trial in the 91st district court on Tuesday afternoon of last week, was argued by the attorneys on Tuesday of this week and was given to the jury for consideration at 4:30 that afternoon.

This case grew out of an automobile accident which is said to have happened at the intersection of Sue and Main streets in Ranger last September, when a car, driven by the daughter of Morris Bendix, crashed into a truck in which Mr. Thurman was riding. RESOLUTION IS UNANIMOUSLY VOTED TODAY

By United Press
AUSTIN, April 27.—The Texas senate today adopted the house resolution calling for an election Aug. 25 on the question of legalizing 3.2 beer in this state. The vote was 30 to 0, with one member absent.

The resolution now goes back to the house for concurrence in minor amendments.

No discussion of the resolution was made. It was read and immediately adopted without a dissenting vote.

The resolution provides for a constitutional amendment to be voted on in popular election to legalize beer and wines of 3.2 per cent alcoholic content by weight.

Counties and towns, which were wet at the time of state-wide prohibition will become wet if the amendment is adopted. Dry counties and towns will remain dry. Either may change by popular vote.

The senate next began consideration of the house beer bill, which regulates sale and manufacture and imposes a tax on the beverages.

A vote on the regulatory bill was delayed as the senate considered the measure section by section.

It allows the sale of beer in kegs, barrels, bottles and other containers. A tax of $1.50 per 31 gallons, whether in a barrel or otherwise, is provided.

The license for dealers is $500 for a manufacturer, $200 for a general distributor, $50 for a local distributor, $100 for a retailer allowing consumption at the sale, and $50 for a retailer not permitting such consumption.

Sale to persons under 18 years and use of the word "saloon" in signs are prohibited. Sale of beer on primary or general election days between 7 a. m. and 8 p. m. is prohibited.

Rev. M. H. Roach is the present very efficient pastor. This occasion promises to be one of great joy and spiritual fellowship, as an attempt is being made to secure the attendance of all former members now living.

Dr. Gray and his wife will also visit their daughter in Dallas and will probably return home on Monday or Tuesday.

In the minister's absence H. D. Smith of the Sinclair company will give a lay sermon in the First Presbyterian church at Strawen Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

COME ALL THE WORLD: Come, and hear, all ye that fear God, And I will declare what he hath for my soul.—Psalm 66: 16.

HALLS OF LEGISLATION INVADED BY REAL BUILDERS

Texas lawmakers were given an astonishing demonstration of the activities of the home demonstration movement under the skies of Texas. More than 2000 club women and boy and girl club members and farm club members introduced themselves to those who make the laws as well as vote the appropriations under the big dome. They had a purpose, or rather a program. They came from 95 Texas counties to ask the lawmakers individually and collectively that the county and home demonstration service be reduced no more than the 25 per cent fixed in the bill enacted by the senate. They invoked the constitutional right of petition. They backed it up by the legitimate demand of taxpayers to protest the 41 per cent cut proposed in the house.

There are lobbies and there are lobbyists. This army of 2000 demonstration workers of Texas were on a legitimate mission and they delivered a legitimate message to the makers of laws who are likewise the makers of appropriations for activities in rural life best for all the people—the producers or growers of things as well as the consumers or buyers of things. Hundreds of women came from the Texas Panhandle section and many others from counties in the northeast corner of the commonwealth. There were hundreds of cars in this caravan which marched upon the capital.

According to the press correspondents under the big dome, "it was the biggest and most thoroughly successful lobby in Texas history." There were many prize winners among the girls and boys, or rather members of the girls' and boys' clubs. There were many directors or active workers favorably and widely known in the demonstration field. It is said that this army of 2000 represented 500,000, speaking of the families of club members in 171 counties, as well as the families of 155,000 others who are cooperating.

Senator Margie Neal and Rep. Sarah T. Hughes held prominent places in the remarkable picture. While the lieutenant governor and the speaker of the house extended their congratulations and best wishes to these representatives of rural life and farm activities, Rep. Temple Harris McGregor of Travis county was on the firing line. He bluntly declared that "the demonstration work fund should not be cut at all by the lawmakers." Indeed, he offered a resolution to that effect. It was not adopted but the invaders from the wealth producing life of the rural districts were given assurance that the 25 per cent cut in appropriations made by the senate would prevail and not the 41 per cent carried in the house appropriation bill.

"There is life in the old land yet." If civilization begins and ends with the plow, as the old Alcalde often said and as ancient lawgivers and philosophers said thousands of years before the coming of the old Alcalde, then the onward march of civilization should not be interrupted by clipping a few pennies or a few dollars from the legislative appropriation in this or any other year to come in the future.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

C. M. YOUNG, Publisher of the Helena (Ark.) World, says:

"Newspaper advertising is the only medium of merchandising that offers a complete check of results obtained and is the most consistent form of advertising available.

"The greatest trouble with the average merchant using newspaper advertising is inconsistency or hit and miss advertising. While results are produced through this practice, a definite program will prove more beneficial. Constant use is necessary to reap profits.

"Not one single merchant would seat one meal a week and expect this to last him for seven days. So it is with newspaper advertising. Once the fires are kindled they must be kept burning.

"Newspaper advertising affords a merchandising medium which costs per sale are far below any other methods. Every user of newspaper space however, should set aside a proportionate amount of operating budget for this use—use it in its entirety—not exceed it, and increase it with the amount of increase in volume that is sure to come."

You should never forget the importance of the various industries that make your city possible and never lose an opportunity to encourage and assist them in their growth, for therein rests the success of your community and the welfare of all who live and work there.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—The Democratic inflation program has brought forth a reminder that we still have a two-party system.

You may remember that the chief Republican contention used to be that the Democrats destroyed prosperity and were disastrous in a crisis, while the Democrats countered with the argument that the Republicans were the ones who would run us into the mud. That still seems to be it.

Unless Republican leaders are proved correct in their charge that the administration inflation policy will cause more misery than was experienced under President Hoover, or unless the general Roosevelt program fails to check the depression, the once powerful G. O. P. will be at a disadvantage in the 1934 and 1935 elections.

The familiarity between the Republican party and the owners of great wealth is demonstrated again as that famous trio of ultra-conservative millionaire politicians—former Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, former Secretary of the Treasury Elmer Thomas and Senator David A. Reed of Pennsylvania—assume leadership of the anti-inflation fight.

The line-up reminds you of the great Bryan silver fight of 1896, when Mark Hanna raised millions to defeat the inflation heresy. In those days the G. O. P. politicians sold the workmen of the east on "the fall dinner pail." Today, with a similar solicitude, they tearfully plead the cause of the masses and Dave Reed warns that the chief sufferers will be the working people and those of moderate means, whose wages and the value of whose savings will be reduced.

THE momentous press conference at which President Roosevelt announced the formal retirement of America from the gold standard began with some good-natured presidential wisecracking with a correspondent in the front row about the cold which confined the executive to his study in the White House proper.

It ended as the correspondent shouted back: "Well, take good care of yourself!"

ELMER THOMAS of Oklahoma, the tall, white-haired, best-dressed senator, has come into his own as brilliantly as anyone in this administration. Summoned to the White House, he was consulted by the president and given the privilege of helping frame and introducing the presidential inflation program. . . . Just a few months ago it was the fashion here to be very tired of Senator Thomas, who was always making long, serious and fervent speeches for inflation. He was Senator Huey Long's co-worker in the spectacular filibuster of last January and his battle cry was "Reflation—or revolution!"

So he was very widely regarded as a demagogue unworthy of considerable attention. . . . The ironic factor in his present position is that the administration program contains provisions which go far beyond anything Thomas ever proposed.

Bright Woman Lost 20 Pounds

Feels Much Better

June 25th, 1932, I started taking Kruschen Salts. Have lost 25 pounds from June 25th to Jan. 18. Feel better than have felt for four years. Was under doctors care for several months. He said I had gall stones and should have operation. Kruschen did all and more than I expected. Mrs. Late Bright, Walter, Miami (Jan. 18, 1933).

To lose fat and at the same time gain in physical attractiveness and feel spirited and youthful take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning.

A jar that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle at any drugstore in the world but be sure and get Kruschen Salts the SAFE way to reduce hips, prominent front and double chin and again feel the joy of living—money back if dissatisfied after the first jar.

Another minute. Then Sandra said suddenly, confidentially, "Remember what we talked about yesterday, Dan?" A slow red burn under the man's deep tan and his voice sounded embarrassed. "Guess I said too much. Didn't mean to rave on so hot. Mother burned me up at lunch. I had to talk to someone."

Fine Exhibit At Young School Friday Honoring Parents
Young school is planning to have one of the largest exhibits of school work ever to have been displayed in the school. All exhibit work will be judged and the ribbons will be awarded in the proper classes at 10:30 Friday morning. The school will be opened from 10:30 until 3 o'clock in the afternoon for the visitation of parents, and friends. Again at

DERRICK SHADOWS

By V. MARIE STEPHENS

There were four of them, all boys between the ages of 5 and 9. The goat had a wicked gleam in his steady eye. The cart was the answer to any boy's prayers.

All your sales talks and free wheeling and floating this and that meant not a straw to those lads. They'd rather have that goat and cart than Pharaoh's stone carriage.

Three new cars in their 1933 splendor rolled past during one of the boy's stubborn moments. Not a boy raised an eyebrow... except at the mutinous steed attached to the little wagon. This does the work of advancing mankind full into oblivion... surprised by a dirty boat.

The tomb is one of the most beautiful of its kind, with a towering dome, broad steps and lofty pillars. It stands on Riverside Drive, New York city, overlooking the Hudson river. Within its stone walls lie the bodies of President General Ulysses Simpson Grant and his wife, Julia Dent Grant.

I think I shall never forget the hushed silence of the tomb. With the noise of the metropolis shut out, visitors come and go... admiring the beauty of the place, commenting only outside its walls. I mention it all merely because today is his birth anniversary.

The more I read about our famous East Texas religious cult, the fewer traces of civilization I find. Maybe they are an insane group of people. And maybe they really do feel that they are "called to the ministry of God."

The faith is not the problem. Under its influence, a murder has been committed. The question is, how does Texas deal with her killers... religious, insane and otherwise? The trial is scheduled for next week.

to a close, the pleasing hostess served at the smartly appointed tables a course of shell and eel, coffee to party members, Messrs. and Mrs. George Murphy, Wade Swift, Hoyt Agnew, Mickey Sloan, Al Throver, Charles Littlejohn, Bob Allen, E. E. Crow, Bob Westbrook, and Mrs. Velma Hayden of Cisco.

Glimpse-glances: It is hard to judge whether these war pictures we are eternally seeing on the screen are mere memories of horror or effective means to keep the war fires burning. From the padded-shoulder appearance there's no doubt about it. Women intend to go on showing authority. Those who hoped for a sweet weakening with additional 1930 styles are giving up the hopeless struggle.

Going home again, Prime Minister MacDonald and daughter bid farewell to America... among the mighty Morgans and Mellons and Laments of the States.

From all reports, it seems that England and our own nation are in accord. Just what and where the accord is, no one seems to question. We are in accord, and that's all we ask... taking the representative's word for it. We hope it means something.

White Sister Has Much Fine Acting

A new pair of screen lovers, Helen Hayes and Clark Gable, made their appearance last night at the Arcadia theatre in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's much discussed talking picture version of the undying F. Marion Crawford romance, "The White Sister." The combination is a particularly strong one. Under the careful direction of Victor Fleming they do a beautiful job of one of the most stirring love stories in literary history.

The story of the aristocratic Italian girl who falls in love with a soldier on the eve of her marriage to a man of her father's choice gives both Miss Hayes and Gable every opportunity for romantic portrayals of the first order. Whether it be in the lighter scenes of the carnival at the start of the picture or at the dramatic moment when the soldier whom the heroine believed to be dead returns very much alive, the work of the two stars is at all times touching and effective.

One always expects good acting from Lewis Stone and these expectations are well fulfilled in his role as the father who forbids his daughter's romance. It is to be regretted that his appearance in the picture is so short. Louise Clouser Hale as the family servant offers another of her flawless character portrayals flecked with humor. Splendid supporting work is done by May Robson, Edward Arnold and Alan Edwards. "The White
