UNITED PRESS SERVICE BRINGS LATE NEWS OF THE WORLD TO TIMES READERS

RANGER, TEXAS, FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 28, 1933

PRICE FIVE CENTS

No. 283

THE WEATHER
West Texas—Partly cloudy.
Probably showers in south portion tonight and Saturday.

Two-thirds of the human body is water, says a medical report. Some smart fellow will probably have it incorporated any day now, and sell stock.

Early Local Option Added to Beer Measure

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE with BILL MAYES

Probably it is a travesty on the low price of oil, or it may be a real outlet for East Texas crude. Anyway, a Shreveport pharmacy has offered to trade two bottles of perfectly legal 3.2 beer for three barrels of East Texas oil.

The posted price on the three barrels of oil, which would contain something like 150 gallons and the price of the two pints of beer are exactly the same, with oil selling for 10 cents a barrel and beer for 15 cents a bottle.

A new sign will greet the Broadway of America motorcade when it arrives in Ranger tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

The sign on the terrack at the foot of Main street has been repainted and now reads: Welcome to Ranger. On the Broadway of America.

The motorcade is due to arrive at 11 o'clock and will remain for 15 minutes, going from here to Eastland, where the trippers are to stop for over an hour, and have lunch.

When Big Fellows Get Together

FIGHT LOOMS IN SENATE ON CASH BONUS

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The senate today voted down the veterans bonus rebellion by refusing to accept an amendment to the currency inflation bill for cash payment of more than $2,000,000 to former soldiers.

The vote was 60 to 28. Senators Tom Connally and Morris Sheppard of Texas voted against the amendment.

Senators sponsoring immediate cash payment of veterans' compensation claimed this afternoon to have 42 votes pledged to attach their rider as an amendment to the administration currency inflation bill.

That number is only six votes short of an actual majority of the senate.

The administration was in a fix fight today to protect the inflation bill against the senate rider.

Anti-bonus senators contended immediate payment would defeat the whole purpose of the inflation program.

"It would absorb almost all of the $3,000,000,000 of treasury notes with which it was intended to manipulate the bond market," Senator Connally, democrat, Texas, told the United Press.

Attend Epworth League Meet At Ranger Thursday

The Methodist Epworth league was represented at Ranger Council meeting Thursday evening, by following officers and representatives: Joyce Newman, Lahoma Turner, Amy Ruth Hale, Francis Harzill, Milton Newman, Mrs. Cecil Webb and daughter, Eleanor.

Plans were made for district social to be sponsored by the Eastland Epworth League. A minimum of 100 young people are expected to attend. This entertainment will be held at the Methodist Church on Friday evening, May 5, at 7:30 p. m.

200 ATTEND BANQUET FOR BISHOP HAY

Bishop Sam R. Hay of Fort Worth was the principal speaker at the banquet, held at the Eastland Methodist church Thursday night. About 200 pastors and laymen, representing every church in the Cisco district except two, were present and enjoyed the splendid feast served by the ladies of the local church.

Bishop Hay's address was a strong plea for the support of the program of the church. In developing this plea the bishop said all men were divided into three groups as follows: First, men who are just living, who have no special purpose for the future and who have no desire to do anything in this class he placed more than 50 per cent of the population; second, men who have a definite purpose but an entirely selfish one, who are always seeking to acquire but for self only; third, men whose purpose is altruistic or brotherly, men who are continual-ly asking what they can render unto the Lord for all that he has done for them. Going further he said that the biggest business man is the man who uses business to advance the kingdom of God.

Beginning the program of the evening Presiding Elder Felder, of the Weatherford district, expressed thanks as the throng of men stood at their places at the table.

Following the banquet two songs, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" and "Where He Leads Me I Will Follow" were sung and then the Rev. Kenneth Pope, pastor at Breckenridge was called upon to lead in prayer.

At this point Rev. C. Q. Smith, presiding elder for the Cisco district, took charge of the meeting. He called the roll of the churches and had the representatives to stand as the church name was called. Going through the roll a second time he had the pastors of the respective churches to make a brief report on conference collections and kingdom extension work.

Free Calf and Goat Roping to Be Held Sunday

A free goat roping and calf roping exhibition will be held at the rodeo grounds Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock, it was announced today by Sig Faircloth, who is in charge of the exhibition.

No admission fee is to be charged and there will be a number of out of town ropers present to take part in the performance and good roping is promised. The public is cordially invited to attend this exhibition.

Tickville Band Played at Wichita Falls On Thursday

The American Legion Tickville band was back in Ranger today after one of the most appreciated appearances it has ever made, which was before the pathfinders at the annual banquet of the Wichita Falls Rotary club.

The crowd of 300 guests of the club were very responsive and applauded each number presented by the band.

The banquet was held in the Woman's Forum auditorium and the band, under the direction of Dr. Logsdon, was the feature on the entertainment program.

Rev. W. E. Hawkins To Preach Sunday At M. E. Church

Rev. W. E. Hawkins Jr., of Dallas, will fill the pulpit at the First Methodist Church at the evening hour, Sunday, April 30.

Dr. Hawkins is a forceful speaker and will have a good, evangelistic message for the members of the congregation.

MINISTER IS ALSO A MINER

WILBUR, Wash.—With contributions what they are, the Rev. A. R. M. Kettner, pastor of Lutheran churches at Wilbur and Reardan, is now operating a placer mining camp on the Columbia river. His "mining" company consists of many Reardan youths, who have pitched tents along the river, and are said to be making fair wages from their labors.

FREE STOLEN CAR

The Chevrolet sedan belonging to George Parrack, was stolen at Cisco Thursday night. Mr. Parrack, who is an employe at the court-house, had driven to Cisco and left his car parked on the streets. When he returned he saw some one driving the car away but could do nothing to prevent it.

GIRL WINS MARBLE TOURNAMENT

MOSCOW, Idaho.—Little boys of Moscow are wondering if this "new deal" their daddies talk so much about means that the fair sex is to take over honors at that age-old prerogative of young boys—marbles. Their wonder was crystallized here recently when Marie Weigand, a grade school girl, put her boy friends to shame by winning the school marble tournament from Jack Kimberling. The margin was narrow, but—it was a margin.

BEE STUNG INSPECTOR

CORNING, Calif.—H. M. Krebs, state supervisor of apiary inspection, worked all day on 116 colonies of bees without a single sting. On his way home a lone bee flew into his car and stung him.

CHECK, LOST A YEAR, IS RECOVERED

MOSCOW, Idaho.—Last Jan. 20 it was snowing here. And there was plenty of snow on the ground too. A check for $109.70, inadvertently blew out the window of the Moscow Commission company. The check, in an envelope and with the address still visible, was recovered here this spring by street cleaners.

THREE GUESSES

FIND STOLEN CAR
The automobile of W. C. Tickner, which was stolen at Cisco Wednesday night, was located on Thursday at Plainview and two men are being held there awaiting the arrival of Eastland officers. Deputy Sheriff Steele Hill left Thursday evening for Plainview to return the two men to Eastland. A saddle and some other property is reported to have been found in the car but the officers have not had sufficient time to determine its ownership.

OCTOGENARIAN HEADS BANK
WHITE CITY, Kan.—E. C. Jenkins, 88, is serving his 44th consecutive year as president of the First National bank at White City, and is still actively engaged in a mercantile business which he established here in 1884. He is a veteran of the Civil war.

Red Cross Head Opens Convention

By United Press
AUSTIN, April 28.—Charles F. Roeser, Fort Worth; Bryan Payne, Tyler, and W. C. Strobel, Corsicana, today were charged with acting together in assaulting Representative Gordon Burns of Huntsville.

Recommendation was made that they be cited before the house to show why they should not be held in contempt.

The charge and recommendations were made by a legislative committee, which investigated an affray at an Austin hotel last Monday night in which Burns was injured. Contempt of the house is punishable by 48 hours in jail.

The house had not determined what action it would take at noon recess today.

White-haired Representative J. L. Goodman, oldest house member and chairman of the investigating committee, urged adoption of the report. He said "the most formidable, most desperate lobby that ever gathered, has been here this session, determined, by any means on earth, to carry their way. Whatever a member may say here, he is entitled to go his way without being attacked by a thug."

By June 1, the American Red Cross will have completed distribution of 83,000,000 bushels of wheat donated by Congress to the needy. John Barton Payne, national chairman of the organization, reported at its general session in Washington, D. C. Payne is shown as he opened the convention.

TRIO CHARGED IN ATTACK ON GORDON BURNS

By United Press
AUSTIN, April 28.—The Texas Senate today reconsidered the vote by which it passed the house beer bill and amended the measure to allow local option elections before August 26 on the consent of county commissioners courts.

Under provisions of the proposed constitutional amendment to legalize 3.2 beverages, cities and counties would revert to their wet-or-dry status at the time of statewide prohibition.

A revision offered by Sen. Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth provides local elections may be held prior to August 26. Date of the proposed vote on the amendment, if consent of the county commissioners court is given, was adopted by a 21 to 6 vote.

No election can be held prior to July 1 and the result of any election prior to August 26 shall not be effective until results on the constitutional amendment are determined.

While the election is to be at the discretion of the commission-ers court up to August 26 and after that date the required number of qualified voters can force an election.

The beer referendum bill was then finally passed again by a 28 to 2 vote, and is now ready for house concurrence. The senate rewrote the house beer regulatory bill before passing it late yesterday by a 27 to 0 vote.

ELECTION MAY BE HELD AS EARLY AS JULY

Amendment Added After Senate Reconsidered Earlier Vote.

By United Press
AUSTIN, April 28.—The Texas Senate today reconsidered the vote by which it passed the house beer bill and amended the measure to allow local option elections before August 26 on the consent of county commissioners courts.

IOWA FARMING AREA UNDER MARTIAL LAW

By United Press
LE MAIR, Iowa, April 28.—Three hundred national guardsmen, including a machine gun unit brought martial law to this danger spot of farm unrest today after a judge narrowly escaped lynching by an angry mob.

Governor Clyde L. Herring acted swiftly to quell disorder, which broke out as leaders of the national farmers holiday association prepared to meet at Des Moines Wednesday to consider a national farm strike.

Martial law was ordered after 150 men dragged Judge C. C. Bradley, 60, from his courtroom and forced him to kneel in a dusty road with a rope about his neck and pray for "the deliverance of farmers from injustice." Twice the jurist, splattered with mud and grease, was jerked from his feet in an effort to force him to halt mortgages foreclosures.

Canada Slump Pioneers Happy

By United Press
ST. CATHARINES, Ont.—Canada's "depression pioneers"—those families who look advantage of the government's back-to-the-land movement—are living happily in northern Ontario.

Although some have exceeded their government appropriation, they are receiving direct relief to the extent of $10 per month. In September more government funds will be available for them. The government is arranging to supply seed free and also have land ploughed without cost.

The families of St. Catharines were among those who migrated to northern Ontario. The land is reported capable of producing fruits, grains and vegetables.

There has been some dissension. A few families exceeded the intended appropriation in building their homes, spending as much as $258, instead of the agreed $74. W. Magignodery, relief land settlement secretary, said this was due to the lack of co-operation among the settlers.

A few families left their homesteads because they claimed they could not live on $10 monthly, but city welfare authorities said those who returned were not eligible for relief.

County Teachers Attend Meeting Of Legislature

Seven citizens from Eastland County attended the joint session of the House of Representatives and Senate at Austin Wednesday for the purpose of discussing the public school situation in Texas.

They were B. E. McGlamery, County Superintendent, E. M. Howard of Rising Star, member of the County Board of Trustees, and the following trustees of public schools: D. H. Harbin, Flatwoods; J. T. McCleskey, Sandy, Tobe Morton, Morton Valley; G. W. Moore, Colony; Tom Butler Jr. of Rising Star. Mr. McGlamery stated that others from the county might have been there but he did not see them.

According to Mr. McGlamery there were about 1000 people from the various sections of the state, most of them public school trustees and others interested in the schools. He reports the following program carried out at the meeting: Needs of Public Schools, Dr. Ray K. Dingley, Houston; Failure of Present Tax Sources, Hon. C. F. Gougeon, president school board, Allen; Admissibility of Sales Tax in this Emergency, Judge O. M. Pithugh, San Antonio; Representative Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas addressed the assembly on her income tax bill as did Rep. Kayton on his sales tax bill, which proved of much interest to the visitors, said Mr. McGlamery.

Mr. McGlamery is of the opinion that the Legislature was impressed by the meeting and that all that is possible will be done in the interest of the public schools.

Von Roeder Is Elected By Jr. College Ass'n.

By United Press
DALLAS, April 28.—H. S. Von Roeder of River Junior College was elected vice president of the Texas Association of Junior Colleges in convention here today.

OIL FACTIONS FACE PROBLEM OF PRORATION

Factions in the oil business worked today toward solution of problems made acute by dime a barrel oil. Developments in the past 18 hours were:

Kilgore—Homer Pierson, agent of the Texas railroad commission, said that nearly 100 operators had advised his office they had shut down production.

Captain E. N. Stanley, chief agent in the East Texas field, said production for the past several days had fallen off to less than 200,000 barrels.

Dallas—Spokesmen of a group of 50 independent operators were en route to Longview, where a mass meeting will be held tonight. They will explain their plan to enact voluntary proration to 40 barrels per well per day. If enacted the plan would be effective from May 1 to Dec. 1.

Austin—Sheriffs from East Texas counties were summoned here for a conference by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson.

District Judge Charles Wheeler refused to grant a temporary injunction to restrain the commission from enforcing its proration order.

Senate committee action on the house bill to set a new oil commission was yet for 4 p. m. today.

PORTLAND, Ore.—Unlike the man who locked the barn after the horse was stolen, Joe Jorg won't be able to lock his chicken coop. The thieves took the coop along with the chickens.

Youths Lead U. S. In Arrests Made

By United Press
WASHINGTON.—One out of every five persons arrested in the United States during the first three months of 1933 was under 21, according to fingerprint identification cards received by the United States bureau of investigation.

The bureau received fingerprint cards of 80,785 persons arrested during the period. Nearly one-third were booked on charges of disorderly conduct, drunkenness or vagrancy. Approximately another third of the arrests were for larceny—steal, burglary, robbery and assault offenses.

The statistics showed that 48.8 per cent of the arrests made for auto theft during the first quarter of 1933 were youths under 21, while 38.8 per cent of the arrests for burglary were in the same class.

Of the total cases, only 5,221, or 6.5 per cent, were women. Approximately 35 per cent of the total had previous records with the bureau.

House Approves Relief Bodies

By United Press
AUSTIN, April 28.—A bill setting up a rehabilitation and relief commission of seven persons to handle the federal aid allotted to Texas was passed by the Texas house of representatives today.

This commission is to be named by the governor, lieutenant governor and speaker of the house. It will designate county committees, to be approved by county commissioners courts.

Harold Kayton, author of the bill, declared that one of the purposes of establishing the commission is to prevent the necessity of a $20,000,000 state relief bond issue.

State Police Captain Was Own Jailer

By United Press
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Matt Leach, captain of the state police, locked himself in his own office and had to call the superintendent of buildings and grounds to let him out.

"First I called Gov. Paul V. McNutt on the phone and told him my plight," Leach confessed. "He only chuckled and hung up on me."

Cow Was Retired After 17 Years

By United Press
HANFORD, Calif.—A cow which faithfully produced milk for 17 years was retired today for green pastures on the Postcard ranch near here.

The cow, her owners said, was born in March, 1912; began producing milk in March, 1915, and continued to yield among the best producers on the ranch until she was pensioned.

Magazine Covers Now Make Puzzles

By United Press
MICHIGAN CITY, Ind.—Magazine covers are being used for jigsaw puzzles by inmates of the Indiana hospital for the criminal insane at the state prison here.

"They cut them up and then put them together for their own amusement," according to Warden Walter H. Daly. "It took me two hours to work on one of them."

California State Beer Tax Fixed

By United Press
SACRAMENTO, Cal.—The state tax on beer in California has been fixed at 2 cents a gallon.

The legislature, after battling for weeks over proposals ranging from one cent to six cents a gallon, passed the measure providing for the two cent tax.

Regulatory measures, including the first of local option and taxation upon cities and counties, has not been agreed upon.

War Debt Parley Made Progress

By United Press
WASHINGTON, April 28.—Progress on war debt negotiations was reported today by President Roosevelt and former Premier Herriot of France in a joint statement issued at the white house.

This announcement was coupled with the disclosure that a resolution opening the way for tariff adjustments is ready for presentation in the senate.

SALARY BASIS FIXED

By United Press
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—Mere service is no longer the only rule used in giving teachers' salaries here. The board of education has decided that two other factors—training and experience, shall also be taken into consideration.

Duelists' Grave Not Neglected

By United Press
 BATON ROUGE, La.—A crumbling little tombstone in the old Highland cemetery here stands, after more than a century, a monument to the gallantry that was Dixie.

Buried there is Philogene, favorite son of Pierre Joseph de Favrot, a prominent figure in Revolutionary history. Philogene, commissioned as major in the army by President James Madison, was a famed duelist. He died by agreement, according to the custom of the day, because one of his challengers was a married man, and honor demanded that the married man be spared. His grave lies to the right of that of his father, the great Pierre. It was Pierre who was given the command of the forts captured from the British during the struggle with England.

Son of a lieutenant in the French army, Pierre, like all sons of officers, was born with a commission as cadet in the army of France. He was named commander of the troops at Baton Rouge, where the Grenadiers were located, and in 1795 he was named lieutenant-colonel.

The de Favrot burial plot is cared for regularly by a great-grandson, J. St. Clair Favrot. For the many years when the Highland cemetery was abandoned to a veritable wilderness of cane and underbrush, the surviving Favrot made regular trips to the place and kept his ancestors' graves cleared off. Recent the city renovated the whole cemetery, which was deeded in 1819, and straightened the crumbling tombs.

EL PASO.—Jim Sutton, El Paso prospector, returned here from Mt. Franklin, nearby, with samples from what he says are large deposits of cinnabar, the ore from which mercury is obtained. Sutton believes the deposits are worth a fortune.

A firm of El Paso realtors, owners of the land upon which the prospector said he made his strike, will assay the ore and develop the property if inspection warrants.

FRANCE

Edouard Herriot, former premier of France, in America for economic conferences with President Roosevelt, is shown here as he visited Washington's tomb.

Things You Ought To Know About the Picture 'Cavalcade'

That Noel Crawford, author of the Fox film "Cavalcade," is but 32 years of age.

That there are 150 speaking parts in the Fox Film production of "Cavalcade."

That 200 highly specialized technical experts formed Director Frank Lloyd's production staff in "Cavalcade" for Fox Films.

That 25,000 modern costumes were worn by principals and the thousands of extras in "Cavalcade" as produced by Fox Films.

That two ocean liners were but a pair of items on the list of thousands of properties assembled by Fox Films for the production of "Cavalcade."

That more than 2,500 actors and actresses appear in a single scene of Fox Films production of "Cavalcade."

That Frank Lloyd, director of Fox Film's super-production of "Cavalcade" is twice winner of the Academy Award for the best motion picture of the year.

That there are 40 principal players, 150 speaking parts and more than 15,000 minor characters in Fox Films production of "Cavalcade."

That a railway station and trains including engines, were built and assembled at Movietone City for an important sequence in Fox Film's production of "Cavalcade."

That song numbers and instrumental music in the film vary from modern jazz to old ragtime; from church hymns to funeral dirges and from national anthems to old world ballads.

That no fewer than 50 distinct musical numbers form the background of "Cavalcade."

"Cavalcade" will be road showed at the Arcadia theatre Monday and Tuesday of next week. Only two performances will be given daily, at 2:30 and 8:30 p. m. There will be no advance in admission, according to information given out today by B. E. Garner, Paschal-Texas theatre manager here.

Eastland Takes 15 Memberships In West Texas CC

At a called meeting of the City Commission, held at the city hall, Thursday afternoon, by unanimous consent of the members present, funds were provided to take 15 memberships in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Memberships are $10 each and this action on the part of the commission made certain Eastland's retaining its place in the West Texas Chamber. The action, also, was deemed advisable because of the assistance the West Texas Chamber would be in securing relief funds. The proposition was presented to the commission by Milburn McCarty, J. E. Lewis, C. H. Rhodes, Hamilton McRae and G. M. Harper from the local chamber, with Mr. McCarty as main spokesman.

Other matters considered at the meeting and passed upon were the appointment of W. L. Mead as night policeman to replace Jno. D. Seale, the city paying half of the salary and the business men the other half; the selection of C. H. Yeager as fireman in place of Neal Day, who did not accept the position and the appointment of M. E. Lawrence as city attorney.

Commissioners present were chairman Donald L. Kinnaird, Frank Castleberry, J. M. Sherrill and T. M. Johnson.

French Skies to Be Photographed

PARIS.—A monster photograph measuring in dimension the length and breadth of France will be "snapped" on July 12 and 13.

The subject of this huge film will be the cloud formations over the 212,659 square miles representing the republic. The project has been launched by the French meteorological office, and the cooperation of amateur photographers in every hamlet and city is asked.

Just as the ministry of interior gathers vital statistics relating to population, births, marriages and deaths, the meteorological bureau wants a "statistical photograph" of the sky.

Everyone participating in the unique project has a chance to win a prize of 2,000, 1,000 or 500 francs, in addition to medals and honorary diplomas. Eventually the negatives will be gathered in one continuous strip, and printed and wound on a gigantic cylinder. The result will mirror the cloud-effects throughout France on one day.

TOOK PILLS FOR 30 YEARS, THEN CEREAL BROUGHT RELIEF

Mr. Forsythe Endorses ALL-BRAN for Constipation

If you suffer from headaches, loss of appetite and energy or any other of the frequent effects of constipation, read this voluntary letter:

"After taking pills and tablets for about thirty years for constipation, I started to take your ALL-BRAN three times a day according to directions. Today I can eat cheese, and that is binding, and certainly feel fine."—Mr. Ed. Forsythe, Box 219, Youngstown, N. Y.

Science says ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regular habits. In addition, ALL-BRAN is rich in blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Isn't this pleasant "cereal way" far more healthful than using patent medicines—so often habit-forming?

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. In serious cases use with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Woman Injured In Unusual Accident

By United Press
 INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—An unusual accident occurred here when Mrs. George S. Kinney, Greenfield, hurried from a safety zone behind an automobile, to discover that it was towing another car.

She suffered a fractured hip when she tripped on the tow-bar connecting the two vehicles and fell beneath the wheels of the rear machine. Another woman with her managed to jump over the tow-bar and escaped.

Eastland Church To Give Pageant

Instead of the usual service of the Methodist church at 11:00 a. m. Sunday, a Pageant will be presented, "The Great Commission," as an observance of Christian Education Day, an annual affair of the church.

All departments of the Sunday School will be represented in the pageant.

Three hymns by the choir, will illustrate certain phases of the production, which will be accompanied throughout with musical undertone with Mrs. Joe A. Gibson at the piano.

Rehearsals have been going on the past two or three days, under direction of the committee, assisting the general chairman, Bert McGlamery, superintendent of Sunday school; Mmes. E. C. Satterwhite, Bert McGlamery, W. F. Davenport, Fred L. Drago and Miss Loraine Taylor.

Rev. Sam G. Thompson will assist in various ways.

The choir will be directed by Wilda Drago. The primary children will have a part in the pageant under direction of Mrs. Fred L. Drago.

The characters represent:
 The Church: Mrs. H. O. Satterwhite.
 The Adult: F. J. Nicholson.
 The Youth: Ralph Mahon Jr.
 The Child: Wendell Hunter.
 Missions: Ella Mae Taylor.
 Service: Hazel Harrell.
 Worship: Faye Tucker.
 Leadership: Florence Perkins.

The motif of the pageant is the carrying out of the great commission, educational work, of the church, training members for Christian service.

Hens Proved To Be "Easter Conscious"

BINGHAMTON, N. Y.—Hens became "Easter conscious," according to E. L. Palmer, who quoted figures to prove it. Sixty-four hens Palmer supervises for a disabled war veteran, laid 1,515 eggs in the last month, for an average of 23 eggs a month for each hen.

The largest egg weighed over three and one-half ounces and the smallest, less than a half ounce.

GORMAN

GORMAN, Texas, April 28.—Miss Zona Belle Hinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Hinson of Mineral Wells, and Mr. Aubrey H. Pritchard, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pritchard of Gorman, were united in the bonds of matrimony Saturday evening, April 16, at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. John W. Henderson of Duster read the ring ceremony. The bride was lovely in a dress of blue crepe with gray accessories and her traveling suit was also of blue with matching accessories. The groom is well known here having attended the local schools and Simmons university. The bride has also attended Simmons. After a short wedding trip to Fort Worth the happy young couple returned to Gorman where they will make their home. Only relatives and a few friends were present at the wedding.

British and American Experts in Washington

World history was in the making when this picture of the Roosevelt-MacDonald conference was taken in the Oval Room of the White House. Seated, left to right, are Secretary of State Cordell Hull, British Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay, Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald and President Roosevelt. Standing are advisors to the British premier and the president. At the extreme right are Raymond Moley, assistant secretary of state, and Senator Key Pittman.

To Meet in Olden
The Women's Missionary of the First Christian church announces that the society will meet on Monday afternoon, 3 o'clock, May 1, at the home of Mrs. Hyatt in Olden, and requests a full attendance of members.

Kill Kare Kard Klub
Mrs. D. S. Eubanks entertained with a pink and green color motif in roses and ferns, in decorations of her charming home Thursday afternoon, when the Kill Kare Kard Klub occupied two tables, appointed in green score books and playing cards, and rose color cuttings, that opened into tallies.

At the tea hour the tables were laid in madeira, with crystal baskets, rose filled, centering, and refreshments were served of strawberry ice cream, rose iced cake, and fruit punch.

High score favor in game, a pottery table lamp with parchment shade, went to Mrs. Morgan Myers, and second high, a rose boudoir pillow, to Mrs. W. E. Brasher.

Club members present were Misses Valsen Jones, C. F. Lucas, Claud Maynard, J. D. Blankenship, Morgan Myers. Guests were Misses Brasher and K. L. Perkins.

Three Classes Enjoy Picnic
The Among, J. O. V., and Young Bachelors class of the Baptist church enjoyed a picnic outing Thursday evening, finding a bluebonnet field on the Boran road, as place for their delicious supper, the picnic being brought by the girls supplying the sandwiches and cakes, and the boys bringing the fruit and liquid refreshments.

Stories were told and songs sung about the big camp fire and marshmallows roasted by the happy crowd, Misses Ethel Wood, Pearl Layton, Dorothy Day, Ellen Pearson, Florence Perkins, Irene Williams, Edith Fields, Roscoe Beanson, Della Webb, Ruby Mae Harbin, Alene Williams, Maxine Tackett, Mary Sterling, Pauline Randolph, Shirley Ferrell, Lorene McCoy, Carl Garrett, Delmer Brown, Elmer Brown, S. T. Arthur, Ernest Fulcher, Joe Simmons, Robert Barrington, Ben Davenport, Robert Pentecost, Estes Burwary, Raymond Lovett, Jim Tindall, Roy Brown, L. J. Lambert Jr., Raymond McCord and John Frank Williams.

Chaperones were Miss Swenson, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde L. Gaysett, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Harrington, and Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Lambert.

Christian Science Monitor Workers
A group of members of Christian Science Monitor workers held their usual Thursday afternoon session, in their church, and worked on a new scrap-book being compiled to be presented the Chamber of Commerce.

Several of these handsome books have already been given by the Monitor workers to the clubs and schools.

Thursday Afternoon Club Receives Prize
Program on Homes

The Thursday Afternoon club of Eastland dispensed with the first half of their outlined program, substituting a complete and interesting review of the sixth district convention in Midland, and work submitted by the delegate, Mrs. B. M. Collins, president of the club. This report has the honor of having received the prize of the district for the best club report presented. This is a great honor for Eastland, as reports were submitted from 41 counties with their many towns and clubs.

The Thursday club voted to invest the prize money in some permanent furnishing for the club-room.

An informal ovation was given Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, the recently elected president of the sixth district T. F. W. C., who was also the recipient of a gracious message and with the compliments and congratulations of Mrs. Joseph M. Weaver.

The members of the Eastland party, that attended convention added their bit in amplifying the delegate's report, in interesting recitals of the happenings.

The club voted to put on a stunt for the high school Hodge Podge vaudeville Monday night, and chair appointed committee to arrange same. Misses Hubert Jones, H. O. Satterwhite, and Ira L. Hanna.

Other routine business was transacted.

The clubroom was handsomely decorated with bowls of narcissi and baskets of red roses, by the hostess and leader for afternoon, Mrs. W. E. Leslie, who introduced the second half of program, in a facile and appreciative talk of the work of Eastland Better Homes committee, and their Better Homes Week observance, and presented Mrs. W. K. Jackson, the leader for the round-table discussion in a complimentary fashion.

The subject, "The Modern Home is more conducive to family happiness than was the pioneer home," was prefaced by leader with a colorful background glimpsing through the years and calling upon different members for contributions in subjects, opening with "Life in Early Colonial Homes," Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins. In the Southern Homes, Mrs. W. D. Ed

Owen; "Early Life and Inventions of Middle States," Mrs. Carl Springer; "Law Observance, Curfew, and Conditions That Effect Homes of Past and Today," Mrs. J. E. Hickman; "Music of Early Home Life and Today," Mrs. James Horton; "National Peace of Yesterday and Today and Its Effect on Homes," Mrs. W. F. Leslie; "Barnstorming, Tableaux, Early Drama and Motion Pictures," Mrs. D. L. Childress; "Did Beautification of Premises Help Early Homes?" Mrs. E. Roy Townsend; "Did Women Conduct Civic Work for Poor in Former Years?" Mrs. W. A. Martin; "Magazines and Home Decoration, Yesterday and Today," Mrs. W. B. Pickens; "Juvenile Literature of 1750 and 1933," Mrs. Ray Larner; "Modern Drama, and the Old Theatre," Mrs. M. C. Hayes; "Opportunities for Cheap Education in Early Years as Compared with Today," Mrs. Leslie Gray. The discussion closed with the Better Homes movement of today and the Bible as the basis of the better home, by Mrs. W. K. Jackson.

Voice solo, "Hills of Homes," and a beautiful snows were given by Mrs. Grady Pipkin, with Mrs. Perkins as pianist.

Others present were Misses Horace Conley, Art H. Johnson, Julius E. Krause, W. H. Mullings, W. A. Whitley, Ben E. Hammer, H. O. Satterwhite, Ira L. Hanna, and Mrs. Ted Warner, a guest.

Adjourned to May 11.

PARIS STYLES

By MARY KNIGHT
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS—A new design for looking lovely is that offered by Mainbocher in an afternoon-ensemble of black crepe printed in an all-over pattern of tiny field flowers. The main colors are red, blue, brown, beige, yellow, white and green, and Talbot offers a hat made of the same material to accompany the dress. The only trimming on the hat is a perky little red bow of ribbon with a cluster of the cut-out flowers from the crepe. The front décolletage of the dress is also trimmed with a large cluster of the same flowers cut from the print and pieced around the edges.

Then there's Lanvin offering her Lovely Design for Living informally but smartly in the evening. It consists of a skirt of bright black satin and a wrap-around blouse of shell-pink satin. The blouse has half-cape sleeves and the front draping crosses, goes to the back, crosses again and comes frontwards, tying in a soft bow at the rigid side.

Molyneux offers in a whiff of Spanish in his number 110, made of dear old dotted Swiss, sleek to the knees with three tiers of ruffles dipping downward in the back. The typical Molyneux neckline with very narrow shoulder straps combines gracefully with this evening gown, and see places a clip of brilliants at the left side of the front décolletage.

Augustabernard's white satin, boxy, three-quarter evening coat fairly crackles with smartness—it is the kind of stiff satin that does crackle. It has demure little sailor cuffs at the wrists—that's all.

Books on religion also are in greater demand than usual.

Man Took $6 a Day From Telephones

By United Press
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—A scheme by which Paul Cox made $6 daily at the expense of pay phone customers was revealed in municipal court here.

According to the testimony, Cox used a wadded paper napkin, to which he attached a piece of wire. This he crammed up into the slot which returns the customer's nickel when the line is busy. He would return later, remove the napkin, and collect the nickels that had accumulated.

This practice continued in several public buildings until Cox was arrested on a vagrancy charge.

The judge discharged him, however, because it was impossible to discover whose nickels had been taken. They didn't belong to the telephone company because the call had not been completed.

Dispatch from Germany says an editor who cartoonized Hitler unfavorably has been taken into "protective custody" by the Nazis. Who, we presume, will then give him a benevolent beating.

"They talk a lot," he told me between mouthfuls of noisy mouthfuls. "They all get acquainted between towns past, present, and future, if any (gulp)..."

"Most of 'em were railroad men, highway workers, big corporation employes (stern) . . . and lots of 'em used to work in offices, before things got so hard the bosses had to close down (gulp and shrug)..."

"Most of 'em made big money . . . and spent it. Their salaries'd look like a government mint now. Of course, you can always find these among 'em (gulp) who never did work..."

"Well, lady, sure do thank you. I was about to believe I wasn't gonna eat today . . . Quick boxer history through a screen door . . . between indistinct mouthfuls by one of the famous bum brigade."

"If she's Barclay's selection, that ought to be enough for any skeptical observer. But somehow 'Americana 1933' doesn't quite measure up to the typical States girl . . . all a matter of personal opinion."

"First, her eyes are too beautiful and expressive, a combination seldom found in the normal woman. Her mouth is somewhat wide and too perfectly formed. What is this, anyhow . . . Miss Perfection, Hollywood beauty or the typical American girl?"

"The typical American girl is not perfect, nor is she beautiful. She is attractive and charming and appealing. And besides, there is no typical one, for America is made up of sports, dignified, beautiful, lovely, cute, and sexless other types of women. For heaven's sake, don't make them typical. It degrades."

Dizzy, Faint Feeling

HELIOS ATTACKS
"I would get bilious, have a bad taste in my mouth, and my head would ache and feel dull, and I would get dizzy and faint," writes Mr. Claude G. Taylor of River, S. C. "My mother thought she thought she came from biliousness. She gave me Black-Drainage and it relieved me as nothing else had. I have quit having the bilious feeling, for if I feel that I am getting bilious I take Black-Drainage to cure."

stubborn lot. Their adopted "no pay, no eat . . . with bankers" attitude is almost admirable. Of course it can go too far. We all like to eat, sometime even with people we do not care a great deal for. We don't have to eat them, which is one way to become an optimist.

Glimpse-Glances: Texas, as always, is being different. It's going to be a sort of checkerboard proposition when some of us get beer and some of us have to drive over the new county line for it. Whether the news that China has re-taken some of her own towns is good news or not, we do not know. But it is encouraging to read that they save something more material than determination. Even London is optimistic over the MacDonal-Roosevelt accord. And now that everybody's happy, we'd like some prosperity, too . . . and more jobs . . . and higher pay . . . and less town-loafers.

Someone has broken into print by traveling 94,344 miles via bicycle. In so doing, he has regained his health (following injury received in the World war), seen America, acquired publicity . . . and has hopes for more and better things, namely, Japan.

We doubt the wisdom of his choice of Japan. Even a bicycle rider might find it hard to get along with that bunch . . . unless they are too enervated with the suppression of China. The man, besides mechanical interests, must have nerve.

Clarke and Robert Armstrong. The dancing class of Mary Belding Cooper Downtain will also appear on the stage tonight at 9 o'clock. This program moves out after tonight to make room tomorrow for William Boyd in "Lucky Devils." This is a picture behind the scenes in Hollywood of the stunt men in the movies.

At 11:15 p. m. Saturday the Arcadia will have the first showing in Texas of Joe E. Brown's newest comedy. It is a baseball story and is called "Elmer the Great." Brown is a great favorite in Ranger and the management is expecting a large crowd at the preview. The film also runs Sunday. On Monday and Tuesday the Arcadia has secured the famous Noel Coward masterpiece, "Cavalcade." Due to the length of the picture and the fact that it must be seen from the first to be appreciated, only two shows will be given each day, one at 2:30 and at 8:30. After the feature picture has started on each show the box office will be closed and admittance discontinued.

Following the showing of "Cavalcade" the new Ronald Colman-Kay Francis film, "Cynara," will be seen at the local playhouse. It runs Wednesday and Thursday. Eddie Cantor will be seen in "The Kid from Spain," May 8 and 9, and will be followed by Al Jolson in "Hallelujah I'm a Bum."

Mrs. Cohn Purchases New Stock of Hats And Spring Dresses

Mrs. S. Cohn of the Cohn shop, left today for Dallas, where she is to purchase a new stock of the latest spring dresses and hats for her trade.

These are to be the latest creations in street, afternoon and evening frocks and the very newest in late hats. The entire new stock is to be offered to the ladies of Ranger and this vicinity at prices that Mrs. Cohn is sure will be very attractive.

Mrs. Cohn invites the public to visit her shop and inspect this new assortment of dresses and hats and she is sure that they will suit even the most discriminating purchaser.

Killingsworth, Cox Offers Prize For The Largest Fish

Killingsworth, Cox & Co. today announced that they would offer a suitable prize for the largest bass caught in this section of the country on Monday, May 1, the first day on which the fishing season will be open.

No announcement as to what the prize will be was made, but members of the firm said that it would be a good prize to win. The only rule in the fishing contest is that the fish must be brought by the store so it may be seen.

The company has a neat fishing window showing many of the new lures carried in stock, presented in a neat and attractive way. Inside they have a complete line of fishing equipment for the angler.

Bankers, you might suppose, prefer their beer on draught, while lawyers prefer to get theirs by the case.

Air Stations Get New 'Radio Beacons'

BUTTE, Mont.—Installation of "radio beacon" equipment has been started at the Butte radio station of the U. S. department of commerce, which furnished flying information to pilots of the National Parks Airways line. Similar equipment is being installed at the Idaho Falls, Idaho, station of the department.

Pilots, with the aid of the device, will be able to determine by radio whether they are on their course. The radio beacon consists of a field of hats and dashes: one series is directed along a straight course, another is directed to the left of this course, and a third to the right. The pilot can readily determine his position by merely listening to the signals.

Don't know how Premier MacDonald and President Roosevelt will get along, but as for Herriot, we presume he can be depended upon to be quite franc.

Indians Return To Their Past Customs

POWHATAN, Kan.—The Kickapoo Indians, faced with their own farm problems on their reservation here, are turning to their knowledge of former years in an effort to keep happy.

They have revived the use of milkweed as a table dish. They say that if the tops are cut from the milkweed just before the blooms appear, they can be boiled, or fried in lard, and make a satisfactory food. The milkweed tips also can be dried and saved for after-season use, according to the Kickapoos.

Board Member For Every Two Teachers

WASHINGTON.—For every two school teachers in the United States, there is a school board member, according to the federal education office.

It estimated a total of 127,000 school districts, 424,000 school board members, and 839,879 public school teachers. In Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Texas and Wisconsin, school board members number in each instance 20,000.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y.—A skeleton, apparently that of a young Indian maiden, was uncovered by highway workmen near here recently. The skeleton was found buried under four feet of ground.

Tell-Tale Soaps Shout Body Odor!

New Way Ends it by Removing Cause

Scientific tests have made clear at last why body odor—after one bathes with ordinary soaps—soon bids to again. Their sticky, sluggish lathers cannot work into the pores, and so cannot remove the embedded stale perspiration. Instead they clog the pores with curds.

The new and positive way to beat body odor is deep-pore cleansing. One soap will do that, Kirk's Coco Castile, made by America's largest soap makers. Even in hard water, it breaks instantly into a searching lather. It cleans deep into the pores, actually removes the embedded perspiration—then rinses out completely and in a flash. Thus it ends body odor at its source—the only effective way. This 100% pure vegetable oil soap is colorless—leaves no offensive M. S. (medicinal smell)—is stimulating to the skin. Available everywhere in a big generous cake, half again larger than the average toilet soap, it is now selling at the lowest price in history. Be sure to ask for Kirk's Coco by name—at your grocer's.

This is the GOLDEN AGE

OUR time is the greatest the world has ever seen. We have more to be happy with. We have better things, greater variety, keener comforts for our choosing, more conveniences to help us in our work, more things that elevate and entertain.

This is the day of better homes, better clothing, better babies, better health, better everything. Compare any phase of our life with that of years ago and you will find that it is better.

And what is the instrument that has made, and is making these better things possible? Advertising!

Advertising is the news of all the looms, all the furnaces, all the laboratories, all the shops, all the stores that are working, planning and building for you.

Because of advertising, luxuries and necessities that once would have been worth a king's ransom, are your at little cost. Advertising pits merchants against merchant, artisan against artisan, manufacturer against manufacturer, for your benefit. This competition brings out the best there is in everything for your personal benefit.

You wouldn't know about many booms of modern life except through advertising. That is why you are not taking full advantage of the better things today if you consistently overlook the advertisements. Read the Times each day and keep posted, not only on the advertisements, but the local and national news.

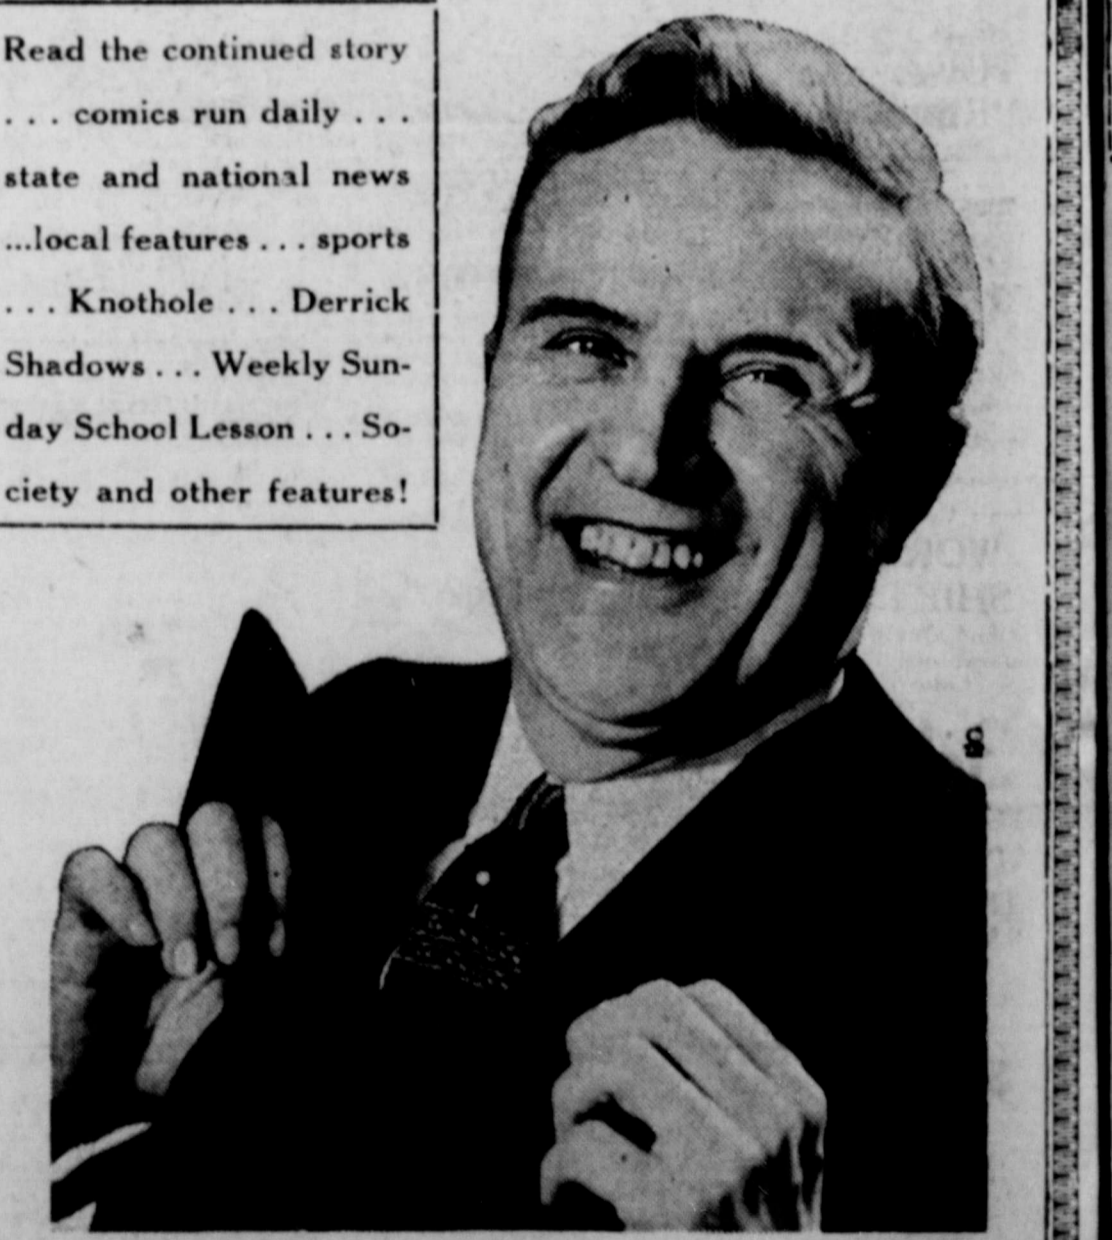

To Our Rural Subscribers:
As has been our policy for two years, we are continuing another year to exchange The Times for chickens, eggs, produce, and canned vegetables!

Slaking Congressional Thirsts Under Capitol Dome

"Prost!" "Skool!" and "Here's how!" echoed once more in the House restaurant on the first floor of the nation's capitol when beer flowed there again after 30 years' exile. First to be served the legal brew were, left to right; Representatives John J. Boylan of New York, William M. Berlin of Pennsylvania, John J. Delaney of New York and Joachim O. Fernandez of Louisiana.

Bridge Guests Favored With Pretty Party at Elks Club
Opening the attractive Elks club-rooms, Main street, Thursday, Mrs. Esker Curtis and associate hostess, Mrs. Morris Bendix, delightfully entertained a large number of guests with bridge during the mid-afternoon hours. Table appointments and the dainty refreshment course of ices and cake suggested a bright springtime color motif, presenting a pleasing appearance for the function, one of the most enjoyable of the month.
High score prize went to Mrs. Nath Pirkle; second high, Mrs. H. J. Larson, and low to Mrs. Herman Kelly.
Places were marked at the quartet tables for honorary guests: Mrs. H. J. Barham, E. E. Crow, Ralph Arnold, J. E. Fletcher, J. B. Houghton, Herman Kelly, George Murphy, Rupert Murphy, Walter Murray, Jimmie Nottingham, L. R. Pearson, Mickey Sloan, Herbert Stafford, Wade Swift, Bob Westbrook, Harry A. Logsdon, Saule Perlstein, Hoyt Agnew, Bob Allen, Walter Harwell, Frank Ford, Nath Pirkle, Charles Littlejohn, E. E. Crawford, J. M. Balston, E. M. Glazner, D. H. Davenport, William H. Mayes Jr., E. C. Byars, W. C. Palmer, Arthur Murrell, Roy Jamison, A. J. Thawson, George Rogers, H. C. Anderson, O. E. Samms, Ben Whitehouse, J. F. Champion, Ralph Herring, Van Lone, J. D. McClister, C. S. Clark, and Misses Marguerite Navokovich, and Mrs. Julius Krause of Eastland and Mrs. Dillard Marshall of Fort Worth.

Mrs. H. J. Barham and Mrs. J. B. Houghton will entertain the club on the next party day listed for May 31.
Club Members Late for Bridge to Draw Penalty
According to members composing the entertainment committee of the Elks bridge club, those arriving late at future parties are to draw a penalty.
Members and honorary guests mark the named party hour on your calendar and note for May 31, at which time another summer bridge affair will be given for your pleasure.

Calendar Filled With Evening Happenings
As Ranger folk glance over the calendar for the evening they find dates reserved for the early evening hours, pointing to a variety of social happenings. Of outstanding interest this evening opening at 7 o'clock will be that of an exhibit to be held at Young school auditorium, designated as "parents' night." A specially arranged program will be presented in the main auditorium, at 7:30 in compliment to the visit of the parents, who are earnestly urged to attend this exhibit and view from a carefully and attractively arranged manner the accomplishments of your child.
At 7:30 the Mother Singers will be busy in rehearsal of songs to be sung at the evening service Sunday, First Christian church, where the practice is to be held. Co-directors of this group of singers name Mrs. C. E. May and Mrs. O. B. Denny, with Mrs. George Armstrong, pianist, Mrs. Felton Brashear, assistant.
Let every member of this club be present at the 7:30 o'clock hour. With spring in the air the outdoor beckons in an enticing fashion, so members of the Baptist Adult union of the First Baptist church will assemble at the church at 7 o'clock, from where they will motor to some carefully selected spot to enjoy a weiner roast and lively games. Amuse sponsors in charge of this entertainment names Mrs. Curry, superintendent of the group.
As the clock points to 9, the dancing class of Mary Belle Cooper Downtown will present a clever act of entertainment at the Arcadia theatre. The talented class personnel composed of pupils from Strawn and Thurber will give a colorful hint of the latest costumes and late dance numbers. This comes as an extra attraction along with the feature picture, John Gilbert in "Fast Workers," given sufficient support by Robert Armstrong and Mae Clark.
Co-Hostesses Compliment Mrs. Snyder With Miscellaneous
Co-hostesses Mrs. R. E. Johnson, Mrs. A. L. Stiles and Mrs. E. F. Penn, entertained with a prettily appointed miscellaneous shower at the home of the former hostess, recently in compliment of Mrs. George Dwyer, whose home was destroyed by fire last week.
A profusion of roses arranged in colorful clusters about the rooms were the outstanding floral decorations, affording a delightful atmosphere where games and a social offered pleasant diversion.
Packages presented the honoree were reflected in balls of whiteness tied with vari-colored ribbons, in keeping with the color note featured.
Joint hostesses passed a delicious refreshment plate to the guest of honor and party members: Meses. Annie M. Sharp, R. A. Disney, R. C. Cravy, W. E. Roberts, G. F. Craig, J. A. Wilson, R. H. Hansford, B. C. Townsend, Addie Adkins, C. Arnett, J. C. Gordon, Emma Etiles, Flora Arnett, J. W. Tibble, and A. P. Wood.

Valuable Information Obtained At School of Instruction
Eighteen members of the Ivy Leaf study club, assembled at the Masonic hall study room Thursday afternoon and enjoyed to the fullest degree a splendid summary of the information obtained at the school of instruction held in Fort Worth, at the First Methodist church, the first part of the week. This program feature was well carried out under the direction of Mrs. A. J. Baum. The latter part of the period was devoted to the giving of "Secret Work," by Mrs. A. J. Hartwig.
The hour was complimented with the visit of Mrs. Henry, of Sweetwater, who is the house guest of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Carrie E. Henry, Strawn Highway.

Rev. Johnson to Deliver Address at Cheaney This Evening
The Rev. H. B. Johnson has been extended an invitation to deliver the high school graduation address at Cheaney this evening. Rev. Johnson will be present for the occasion which is announced for 8 o'clock this evening.

Crash Recalls First Ship's Fate

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—While the search continues along the coast for the portions of the naval airship Akron which crashed off Barnegat Lightship, residents here recall the disaster of the first dirigible Akron.
It was more than 21 years ago when Melvin Vaniman and five members of his crew lost their lives in a trial trip, which was to have been the preliminary to the first attempted crossing of the Atlantic by a dirigible.
Compared with the lost naval air cruiser, the first Akron was a mere toy ship. She was 258 feet long, with a diameter of 45 feet, while the second Akron was 785 feet long and had a diameter of 132 feet. Powered with four motors, the 1912 model weighed 14,000 pounds and carried 8,000 pounds of gasoline.

Just before Vaniman took off he declared that his ship was one that "could not fall."
Asked what would happen if the dirigible struck a storm, he replied it would "fly as fast as the wind carried it."
He never had a chance to prove his theory, because the ship exploded a few minutes after it left the ground, in full view of thousands who had gathered to watch the start of the first trial flight.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

WARNING TO MEDDLERS: He that passeth by, and meddleth with strife belonging not to him, is like one that taketh a dog by the ears.—Proverbs 26: 17.

HIGH SPOTS IN TEXAS

Under the big dome the house passed finally a bill to oust the Texas railroad-commission as the oil and gas conservation agency in the commonwealth. The vote was 71 to 65. The bill establishes a natural resource commission to take over administration of the oil and gas conservation and proration statutes. It was one of the hectic battles of the session and the bill had the backing of the administration. Now it goes to the senate.

Earlier the big voice of the Texas company announced a sweeping reduction in the price of crude. Now the price posted is 10 cents a barrel. Ross Sterling as governor made his vigorous fight for conservation and with his soldiers and rangers sent the price of crude from 10 cents to 90 cents per barrel. All the Texas world knows what happened to Sterling. In the oil producing counties of East Texas they knifed him to political death.

All the cigaret tax money goes to the support of the schools by order of the house. This, of course, with the approval of the senate. Congratulations to the senate. The body voted 21 to 2 to submit a proposed constitutional amendment to permit counties of more than 60,000 population to adopt home rule charters. Senator Frank Rawlings of Tarrant county sponsored the resolution. Flowers for the living, meaning the 21.

A similar resolution was engrossed by the house but the vote favorable to engrossment was considerably short of the 100 necessary for submission. Now the Rawlings resolution permits home rule counties to consolidate county and city governments, abolish or consolidate county offices and effect other economies. A majority of both the rural and urban citizenship of a county would be necessary for the adoption of a home rule charter.

Overpowering facts and figures show just what is wrong with local government in Texas. There are 150 members of the house. They are all democrats. Why not give the people of Texas an opportunity to cut to the bone in the cost of government by consolidation wherever a majority of the urban and rural voters favor it?

A JOB FOR COL. JED ADAMS

Col. Jed Adams is democratic national committeeman of and for Texas. Bascom N. Timmons, noted Washington correspondent, tells it to the readers of his newspapers that Col. Jed has been picked by Vice President John Nance Garner to fill the vacancy on the United States board of tax appeals created by the recent death of William B. Love of Uvalde.

Col. Jed was summoned to appear before the powers that be in the city of Washington. This job pays an annual salary of $10,000 less 15 per cent. Terms are for a period of seven years. Six years to the term held by Judge Love still remain. Adams will resign as national committeeman if the plum falls in his lap. Maury Hughes of Dallas is the state chairman of the democratic committee. It is a betting proposition, should Adams receive the federal post, Hughes will be elected by the state committee to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Adams. It appears that cherries are ripening, the plums are beginning to fall.

A CHEERFUL LITTLE EARFUL FROM DETROIT

Now Detroit banks which were closed months ago have reopened their doors. These banks had 800,000 depositors. They have been reorganized by the conservators. They established a pay day. Indeed, they are paying approximately $131,000,000 return into circulation before the job is finished. The amount represents 30 per cent of the accounts of the First National of Detroit and the Guardian National Bank of Commerce.

There is life in the old land yet. Plenty of courage, too. It all happened as a result of the third revolution on the part of the American electorate who demanded a new deal in a new civilization. Rome was not built in a day. This republic was not founded in a day. It is going to take a long time to clear away all the wreckage and to thaw out the frozen assets in the banks and trusts companies as well as the investment companies of the American world.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

Newspaper advertising increases business because it tells the public what you have to sell and shows the advantages of having your goods or service.

It seems that one of the most difficult problems of finance is that of foreign exchange. This is particularly so when a currency has parted from its metallic parity.

Roosevelt Already Done More Than His Predecessors

By FREDERICK A. STORM
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 (Copyright 1933 by United Press)

WASHINGTON.—Franklin D. Roosevelt already has initiated more policies during his first seven weeks in office than the average president has in a four-year term.

However part of them still are in an undigested stage, either awaiting congressional action or in the first phases of administrative application.

Abandonment of the gold standard, beginning of the international economic conversations, multiple efforts to ease the depression and action to bring real economy into the government have made for the president in less than two months a reputation for doing things almost unequalled in the annals of American history.

The following major measures still are awaiting final action by congress:

Farm relief.
 Credit expansion.
 Securities control.
 Relief for small home owners.
 Tennessee Valley-Muscle Shoals development.
 Half billion dollar direct unemployment relief bill.
 Industrial control program.
 A log of major official acts by the president and their subsequent

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
 Staff Writer

WASHINGTON—Special ambassadors coming to Washington, and those already here, will participate in the world's greatest scramble when they engage in tariff talks.

The ambassadors are, of course, Sir Dingley back in the "Dingley" will make them "So did Mr. Smoot not so long ago. Bigger and better tariffs for America have been the motto for many years. The result is majestic. From the embassies of the Ottawa Agreement, and Britain's wholesale tariff bill of last year, to the explosion of retractable bedspreads from Barystava, the world has gone American—tariff American.

Now in less than six weeks, all that is changing. Cordell Hull, not so long ago the forlorn leader of a before-low-tariff lost cause, is secretary of state. A few Tennessee senators in his deep sleep eyes he is talking reciprocity. The result is a series of reciprocal agreements with foreign countries for the removal lowering of tariffs and the general stimulation of world trade.

The idea of reciprocity is no new one. The United States and Canada had a reciprocity treaty in 1854. It lasted 11 years, when the United States announced it, principally because of resentment of Canada's attitude toward the Civil War. Several times since then the thought of United States-Canadian reciprocity—a free trade basis—has flickered. The last time was in 1911, when the Taft administration, ac-history, omitting some for brevity, follows:

 March 6—Closed all banks; 4,000 still closed; declared embargo on gold.
 March 9—Sent emergency banking legislation to congress; approved same day.
 March 10—Sent to congress a message asking authority to print $100,000,000 from veterans and $100,000,000 from federal payrolls; both put into effect.
 March 12—Allowed banks to begin reopening on the stagger plan; partially in effect. Sent a 72-word message to congress asking legislation of beer, now in effect.
 March 16—Sent farm relief message to congress; still pending.
 March 21—Sent unemployment relief message to congress. Announced plans for army of 250,000 amateur foresters; about 5,000 now in camp.
 March 27—Abolished the federal farm board and created unified farm credit administration.
 March 29—Sent to congress a blue sky law message in which he said the seller of bonds must sell them honestly; pending in committee.
 April 5—Sent to congress the farm mortgage relief bill message; still pending.
 April 10—Sent Muscle Shoals bill message to congress; still pending.
 April 19—Took United States off the gold standard.
 April 20—Agreed to credit and currency expansion bill; pending.
 April 21—Began international conversations with Ramsay MacDonald of England.

ODD BEER RULING
 IS SUGGESTED

CLARKSON, Wash.—The council was holding a hearing, when, etc., to sell beer was recommended that beer be limited within 300 feet of a school. The solemnity of occasion was shattered when one offered an amendment permitting churches and schools moving within 300 feet of parlors.

Conductor Stokowski has sent a concert by an inviolable chestnut. All right for music, but how about its fellows who keep awake at concerts by keeping their eye glued on the kettle-drummer?

Dainty Garments stay young when washed with WHITE KING

THE one best way to preserve the delicate dainty "newness" of things you cherish is to cleanse them in lukewarm White King Granulated suds.

Most soaps rob fabrics of their life and charm—they require hot water to produce suds and hot water fades colors—breaks down silken fabrics.

White King Granulated contains only pure vegetable oils that dissolve out the soil in lukewarm water, completely renewing the original beauty of soft, filmy materials. White King rinses out completely leaving no soapy residue.

You will be pleased with the added wearing qualities of dainty things washed the easy, economical White King Way.

WHITE KING SOAP

For soap economy, for soap satisfaction, for soap efficiency there is no substitute for White King Granulated.

DESDEMONA

DESDEMONA, April 27—The girls met at the home of Hazel Rouse, for a social on April 18. A program was given, some games played and then they were served with cream and cake. Those present were: Joyce Brazell, Nadine Johnson, Georgia Wimberly, Mary Griffin, Maxine Gallagher, Mary McGuire, Nettie Daniels, Marie Fowler, Rhubalee Krapf, Marie Henry, Bonnie Wayne Daniels, Hazel Rouse, Adell Malby, Ruth Abel and Mrs. Z. C. Chambers.

On Tuesday night of last week, the Desdemona Eastern Star chapter was given the official report and inspection by the Deputy Grand Matron, Mrs. Fieney of Eastland. Mrs. Joiner of De Le... who is an assistant Deputy Grand Matron, was also present, and was her husband and several other members of the chapter. The work of the chapter was given in a very creditable manner by the worthy matron, Mrs. Pearl Maltby. Other officers of the chapter, at the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed and the refreshments served pie with ice cream and coffee.

On Saturday evening, April 22, the Junior class of Desdemona high school honored the Senior class with a banquet. The table was very beautifully decorated with stary dragons, sweet peas, and roses. These with green and white formed the color scheme which was pink and green. Everyone enjoyed the program, which ran as follows: Song Happy Days Are Here Again group-master, Edward Elliott. The Life of Faye Anderson. The Future, Faye Anderson. Piano Solo, Raymond Park. Farewell to Juniors and Seniors, Mr. Weldon. Rushing, by Senior Class. Song, Here's a Long Long Trail. # DARLING FOOL

by MABEL McELLIOTT
AIRA 1933 NEA SERVICE, INC.

MONNIE O'DARE, beautiful girl and 20, is in love with DAN CARLIGAN, the local fortune teller. She professes to love him but is often neglectful. CHARLES EUSTACE comes to her. Monnie believes SANDRA LAWRENCE, the local fortune teller, is trying to win him from her. Monnie's older brother, plans to marry ANNE GILLEN, who works in a candy store, as soon as Anne gets a divorce. KAY O'DARE, 16, and still in high school, is disappointed with her school. She is a dance party at Charles' house. Monnie is heart-broken when she accidentally sees Dan kiss Sandra. HETTY, a housemaid at the Lawrence, dislikes Sandra.

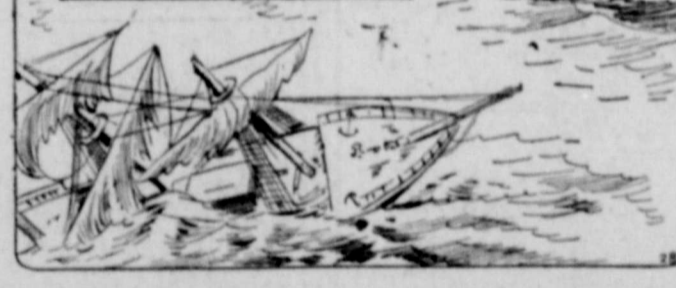

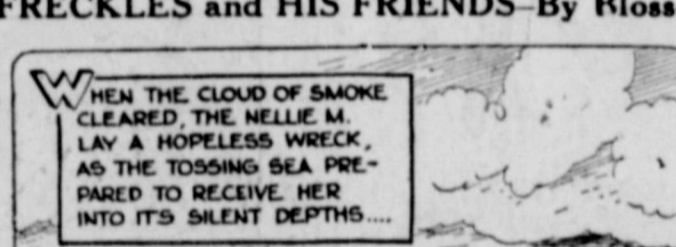

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER X
THERE was the music, restless, throbbing a tenor, wailing into a microphone.
"Anything you say, anything you do, Da-da, da-da-da."
Monnie, dancing with Charles, lifted her head proudly, smiling. If her heart ached no one should know it. Charles asked, "Tired?" and she answered him gayly. Her tone couldn't have been entirely convincing, because he went over and shut off the radio.
Sandra pouted. "I like that! Just when I was teaching Danny a new step."
Charles seemed not to hear. He clapped his hands and the Chinese boy, Kong, he had brought with him to Belvedere, appeared in the doorway, smiling faintly.
"How about some food, Kong?" Sandra protested. "Charles Eustace, it's a plot to fatten me up! I've only just forgotten that heavenly dinner."
Dan glanced at his watch. "It's 12, Sandra."
She raised her brows. "Scandalous! I'll miss my beauty sleep."
In a low tone, Monnie told Charles she really must go. He put a warm hand on hers for an instant.
"Do you mean that?" She did. So the houseboy was dismissed for the night, and presently Monnie found herself crowded in with Charles in the front seat of his car, Kay beside them.
Kay said, prettily, schoolgirl fashion, that she had had a beautiful time. She had "loved every minute of it." At the door, Charles detained Monnie for a moment.
"And you?"
"It was fun," Monnie told him. She thought Charles hesitated for a split second. Then he told her slowly, "We must do it again some time. I like that small sister of yours. She's charming."
"Everyone likes Kay." So that was the way of it. Monnie thought. Charles Eustace and Kay. Well, that was all right, too. Kay would be 17, soon. Kay was beautiful, too beautiful for her own good in this narrow-minded small town. It would be marvelous to see Kay have her chance.

"I'll probably get what I want," Kay said. "I'm—what if you call it?—ruthless."
"I always told you she was," Monnie shrugged. "Does it matter?"
"Not in the least," Kay told her loftily. "She's been racketing around the world for years now and hasn't even snatched herself a husband. I think she's getting scared and so has decided to work on something simple like Dan Cardigan."
"Do you think Dan's to be had—just for the snatching?" Monnie asked quietly. There was a slow, dull pain in her breast.
"Any of 'em are," chattered Kay, smearing cold cream into her exquisite skin and staring at herself in the mirror. "You just have to know the rules of the game."
"You mean I don't?"
Kay gave her sister an appraising glance. "I guess you know 'em all right but the trouble is you let your feelings get involved. That's bad."
Monnie couldn't help smiling. Where did Kay get all this wisdom?
"Laugh at me if you like," Kay advised squably. "But I know my stuff. I'll probably get what I want. I'm—what if you call it?—ruthless. You're too worried about the other fellow's feelings. It doesn't pay."
"Do you mind if I turn out the light, Kay?" Monnie asked her abruptly. If she heard much more of this, the tears that had been threatening her all evening would be sure to overtake her.
Kay was asleep in three minutes. Monnie could hear her soft breathing.
She lay awake as the moon climbed high into the summer heavens. Sandra and Dan, Sandra and Dan, Sandra and Dan—she kept seeing them together.

in a drawer. She dusted her sallow cheeks and nose with delicately scented powder and sprayed a mist of flower fragrance against her shoulder as she had seen motion picture actresses do.
She minced over to the clothes closet where on padded hangers and crystal shelves were disposed the impediments of Sandra's elegance. A cloudy blue chiffon frock she snatched from its transparent protector, holding it against her lean young girl's shape to see how it became her.

A sound came from downstairs—something that sounded like the bellow of an infuriated bull. Startled, the maid tied on the now crumpled apron, crammed the blue frock hastily back into its place, made a wild sweep at her rather bizarre countenance with a duster she snatched from nowhere at all, and flew out on the landing.
The cook, Mrs. Peterman, was shouting for her.
"Hetty! Hetty! Where are you?"
All out of breath, she arrived on the first floor. Mrs. Peterman, huge in her blue-striped dress, with wisps of graying hair depending from the dusting cap she habitually wore, frowned at her and sniffed.
"You've been at it again. I knew it! Mark my words, you'll get the gate with your noseuse."
Hetty said sullenly, "Don't know what you're talking about."
"Don't you, eh? Snooping around the young madam's room and tryin' on her things! Can't I smell her perfume? And your face! Go wash it in the pantry this minute. The master just phoned he's bringing some men to dinner. Fine business if you turn up looking like a foolie."
Hetty showed herself at the kitchen door a few moments later, clean and chastened. But Mrs. Peterman was still grumbling.
"You'll find yourself out of a job one of these days and no two ways about it. With things here what they are I can't understand what's got into you. You won't get another place like this—not in a good while!"
"I hate this place," Hetty spat out.
"Oh, you do, miss? Well, isn't that just too bad? I know what's eating you. I do. Just because James is polite to the young lady and she to him you're jealous as a wild cat. I never heard such nonsense. Suppose you think you can tell your betters how to behave themselves!"
"She'd better watch herself, that's all I say," muttered Hetty, spearing balls of butter viciously from their bath of ice water and disposing them on the small crystal plates.
"Girls nowadays are out of their minds, that's all," Mrs. Peterman pursued, flinging open the oven door to peer in at the sizzling roast. "Don't know when they're well off. What do you want to bother with James for, anyhow? He looks nice all dressed up in his driver's uniform but what gets you, I don't know."
"Thanks for the ad!" A tall youth, rakishly attired in a smart chauffeur's outfit in huster's green, grinned at the two women from the doorway. "When do we start?"
Instantly Hetty was transformed. A smile curved her thin lips and she undulated toward the newcomer in a way suggesting a film star.
"Hello, Jimmy," she cooed. "When did you get back?"

Smelt Run and Sea Gulls Ceased

KELSO, Wash.—The smelt run ceased here recently, and Kelonians announced the large flocks of sea gulls, following the tiny fish up the Columbia river, also are disappearing.
When the smelt first started to run, the gulls wheeled and dived above the schools of fish, frequently diving down and ascending with a struggling smelt in their beaks.
Almost as many smelts were destroyed by the birds as were caught by fishermen.

Pictures of Silver
Mark 10:13-27—April 30
By BEULAH K. HICKS

Apparently Jesus was still in the house talking and teaching when the little children were brought to him by their parents. The disciples, anxious for Jesus, rebuked the parents for disturbing him with children. Jesus, with that infinite understanding, saw it all, the anxious parents, children and disciples and "was much displeased" with the disciples.
Taking the children in his arms, he "put his hands upon them and blessed them."
How tender and beautiful the picture here; the loving Saviour, the happy children; parents rejoicing; and the disciples amazed.
With the trusting child in his arms he taught the beautiful lesson.
"Verily I say unto you who so ever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein."
Not with the innocence or the mind of a child but with that capacity for trustfulness: being teachable and growing in knowledge of the higher way is the requirement that Jesus teaches here.
It brings a lesson that should touch the heart of every parent. What a difference in children who have been brought to know this, Jesus and those who know nothing of him! In the usual revealing moments of life that child stands out while others sink into the sands of selfishness and even dishonesty. Spurgeon tells us that "Any who shall say, 'Do not teach your children; they will be converted in God's own time, if it be his purpose; therefore leave them to run wild in the streets, will certainly both 'in against the child' and the Lord Jesus. We might as well say 'if that piece of ground is to grow a harvest, it will do so if it be God's good pleasure; therefore leave it, and let the weeds spring up and cover it; do not endeavor for a moment to kill the weeds or sow the good seed.'"
Jesus left the house to rejoin the caravan on the way to Jerusalem perhaps with a heavy heart; with his teaching ministry nearly over; and the shadows of the cross darkening to a deeper purple in his heart.
Suddenly into this picture rushes a young man, a model young man who has kept the law from his childhood. He very earnestly addresses Jesus as "good teacher" and asks the question, "What shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?"
How compassionate this Jesus as he listens to this young person, who in his earnestness tells him of his perfect life, "and Jesus looking upon him loved him."
He saw the great possibilities in the young man and saw the wealth that would hold him back from making a complete surrender of his life to follow this "Good Teacher. Jesus does not condemn wealth but points out how prone the people of this world are to trust in riches rather than in spiritual power. He said to them, "Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God!"
He shows clearly that the choice of the roads of life is left to the individual but explains that all power is vested in God and with him is all power and beauty of life when a life and all that it has is consecrated to God.
Search the Scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life; and they are they which testify of me.—John 5:39.

Lonesome Wives

HOUSTON.—Two wives who refused to be left behind are Mrs. Leroy Johnson and Mrs. Alfred Myrick Jr.
They stood loneliness for awhile after their husbands left for Iraq to help build a pipe line from Kirkuk to the Mediterranean.
Then they boarded a bus for New York, whence they sailed for Haifa, Palestine, where they will live and be near their husbands.

Ranger Personals

Lee Newton of Wichita Falls, was a business visitor in Ranger yesterday. John Usery and C. E. Bell, have returned from Corsicana, where they transacted business for the local I. O. O. F. Lodge. Enroute to Corsicana, Messrs Usery and Bell visited in Fort Worth and Ennis.

Hayden Johnson, representative with Swift and Company, left this afternoon for Fort Worth, after 10 days business visit here, working in the absence of E. L. Nelson, local representative who with his family has returned from an early spring vacation. Mrs. Mamye Watts, employe of the United Dry Goods company, was called to Abilene Thursday, as the result of the serious illness of her son, a young attorney of that place.

Mrs. J. C. Arent has returned to Ranger, following an absence of two months during which time she visited in Brownwood, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas. Lonnie Fiewellen Jr., is added to the list of children at home with measles. Mrs. C. E. Maddocks, returned home this afternoon from a visit to Amarillo, where she attended the Eighth District meeting of the Texas Congress of Parent-Teachers. Mrs. Maddocks was principle speaker in charge of the session.

F. E. Stoval and Paul Coffin, Lone Star officials of Dallas, are business visitors here this week. Numbered among Ranger guests who attended the Elk club dance given at Eastland last evening featuring the Baker Blue Boys, from the Baker Hotel at Mineral Wells, were Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Sloan, accompanied by Miss Ruby Carville and Herbert Suits. Earl Holt, D. S. Handley of Abilene and Mr. Rhoades of Dallas, were business callers at the C. E. Maddocks office yesterday. Members of the Ranger High school senior class enjoyed an outing at Bass lake today, planned by sponsors, Mrs. A. Neill and Mrs. Robert Maddox. Those attending the banquet and service honoring Bishop Hay at Eastland last evening with the program given at the Methodist church: A. J. Ratliff, Judge L. H. Fiewellen, Walter Harwell, Judge W. S. Adamson, Bill Paschall, C. D. Woods, John Hamilton, A. N. Larson, P. O. Hatley, A. W. Turner, D. C. McRae and son, S. P. Boon, Ray Campbell, H. H. Durham, Stanley McAnelly, Rev. Gid J. Bryan Rev. Taylor, C. E. May.

Construction costs would be paid by a $18,000,000 bond issue, principal and interest of which would be paid from operation revenue. Rates would be at a maximum, not to exceed the present schedule of charges set by the state public utilities commission. If sufficient signatures are obtained, the petition will be put to a public vote at the next municipal election. The district is now served by the Utah Power and Light company.
