Religious Play To Be Presented At High School

The Life Service Volunteers of Weatherford college will present a religious play, "Ba Thane," for the Methodist church Sunday night at the high school auditorium. This will be the regular evening church service of the Methodist church and everybody is invited to attend. There will be no charge for admission. This play is described by a pastor who has seen it as a gripping, thrilling, religious play. It was presented at the student volunteer movement convention at Buffalo, N. Y., and had to be repeated several days to meet the demand. A student who has seen this religious play says of it, "Our cast and production has been highly praised. I think it is the greatest amateur cast that I have ever known. It has a spirit that lifts up all who see it." You are cordially invited to attend this religious service of the church at the high school Sunday night.

Angry Peddler Jerks Bell From Wall

By United Press
FORT WORTH.—When Mrs. Leroy Stanley refused to answer her doorbell a peddler at the door became so exasperated he jerked the bell from the wall and flung it in the yard. Mrs. Stanley called the police, who arrested the offender. He was released after several hours when the housewife declined to prosecute.

SHE ATE ALL-BRAN TWELVE YEARS WITH FINE RESULTS

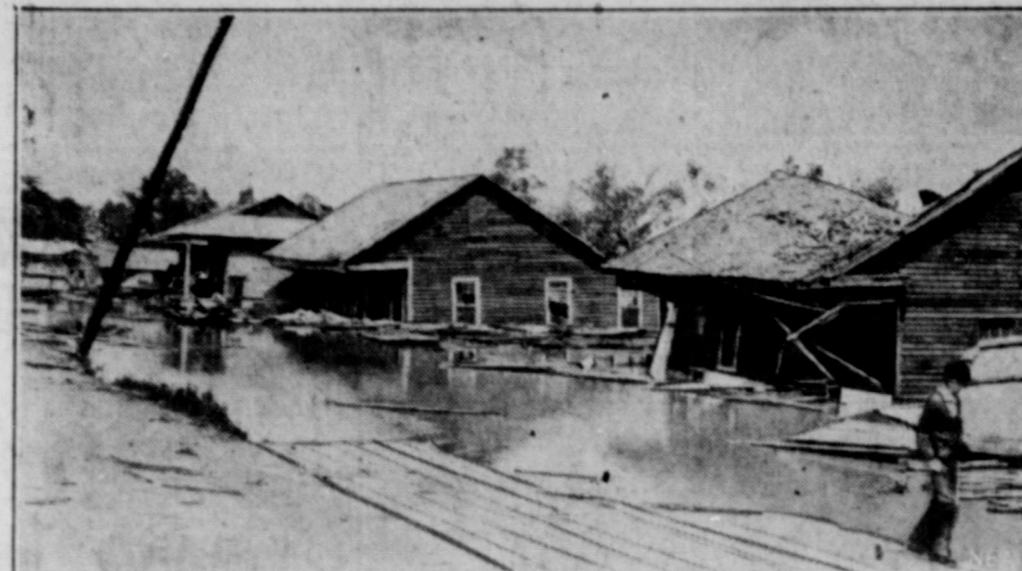

Delicious Cereal Relieves Constipation

Read this very enthusiastic letter: "Something like eleven or twelve years ago, I began eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. When I started, it was called simply Kellogg's Bran, and I believe it was one of the first products of the kind on the market. "My friends often laugh at my fondness for ALL-BRAN. It gives such a clean taste in the mouth, and I do not feel satisfied until I have had my ALL-BRAN. "If the Kellogg Company should ever stop manufacturing ALL-BRAN, here is one who would be greatly disappointed."—Miss Amy Person, University Park, Iowa.

Science says that ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regularity. Also iron for the blood. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. How much safer than taking patent medicines—often harmful. Just eat two tablespoons daily for most types of constipation. For serious cases, try it three times daily. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Sold in the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Eastland County Boys Apply For Government Work

Luther Reed of Eastland left Thursday morning for Fort Worth where he expects to enter the reforestation service. Five boys left last week, three from Cisco and one each from Carbon and Romney. Thirty-three young men have already filed their applications for these places. They are Woodrow Harbin, Robert Clark, Marvin Green, Harold Pentecost, D. C. Cooper, Lewis Barseley, Leonard Buckbee, Carl LeClaire, J. W. Hinnard, Charles Sylvester, Carroll Allison, Ray Morris, Lee Grubb, Katroy Harkrider, Charley Braggs, Jack Wallace, Delbert Myers, R. S. Science Plans Convention At Salt Lake City

By IRVIN L. DAVIES
United Press Staff Correspondent
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—Several hundred nationally renowned scientific men will gather here, June 13, 14 and 15, for the annual convention of the Pacific division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Dr. William Frederick Durand, professor of mechanical engineering, emeritus, of Stanford university, California, and president of the Pacific coast division of the association, will head the group. One feature of the convention will be an extended study of Great Salt Lake, famed "dead sea" of America, located 20 miles west of here. Papers and speeches will be made to the group on this subject, including Dr. J. Fred Pack's "Ancestry of Great Salt Lake," and "Climatological and Hydrological Problems," by Dr. T. B. Adams, professor of metallurgy. Both texts are recognized as authoritative.

The convention also will touch on evolution. This phase may come under the programmed list of "Animal Life and Relations," a report of Dr. W. P. Cottam, professor of botany. Others will include the observation of artemia and chemical deposits and problems, all of which will, indirectly at least, be based on the study of the lake. It was expected the convention would attract thousands of scientifically interested people of the world.

Hotel Museum Has An Odd Collection

By United Press
SAGINAW, Mich.—John P. Schuch is more interested in his historical museum of 50,000 articles than he is in his hotel. He has turned over the main dining room of the Hotel Schuch here to a permanent display room for his efforts. None of the curios is for sale, but the public can browse around his collection of old Bibles, theatrical programs, furniture and the hundreds of other objects without charge.

Ten years as an advance agent for theatrical troupes brought Schuch his collection of more than 10,000 theatre programs, many commemorating historical "first nights." Seven thousand books he has picked up during his travels include 500 first editions. He has 3,000 photographs, many of them of stage celebrities.

War service enhanced Schuch's interest in weapons. His collection includes spears from Africa and the South Seas, European and Asiatic swords, guns and revolvers of all kinds and size.

The connoisseur of fine glassware will find much to interest him. There is much to interest the antique furniture collector. The collection of old Bibles is headed by a Latin Bible printed in 1556, and said to be the second oldest Bible in the United States. "Ye Old Museum" is recognized by the Library of Congress and has been visited by people from all over the country.

MUSIC WEEK PLANS
The plans for annual Music week, Eastland observance, and list of programmed events arranged by Mrs. Turner M. Collier will be announced in Sunday's Eastland Telegram.

Soviet Schools Get Uniforms

By United Press
MOSCOW.—All school children in the soviet union will be put into uniforms next September, according to the commissariat of education. The decision merely revives a system traditionally in vogue in Russia until the revolution. The distinctive school outfit at that time set the wearer apart from the mass of children who had no schooling. In abolishing uniforms the soviet regime at that time in fact sought to obliterate class distinctions. Now that elementary education almost is universal here, it is felt that the uniforms can be re-introduced.

Until the revolution, Russia was perhaps the world's most thoroughly uniformed country. Practically every trade and social station had its distinctive clothes, usually obligatory. A man's costume was an accurate indication of his calling and his social station.

THIS SECTION SUITABLE FOR STRAWBERRIES

That this immediate section is especially adapted to the production of strawberries in commercial quantities, is the opinion of J. F. Jimmie Rosborough, horticulturist, connected with the agricultural extension service of the A. & M. College, who was in Eastland today looking into the matter. "Strawberry production and markets go up and down throughout the country and at this time other sections are down and it appears to me that this is a splendid time for this section to get into the game of strawberry production on a commercial scale," Mr. Rosborough said.

Proper soil for the production of strawberries for commercial purposes is very scarce, according to Mr. Rosborough, but there are many places in this immediate section suitable for the purpose and it is with the view of encouraging owners of such land to engage in the industry, which is highly profitable when properly carried on, that Mr. Rosborough is spending some time out here.

Ranger Furniture Exchange Gets New Shelvadors

The Ranger Furniture Exchange this week received a truckload of the new Crosley Shelvador electric refrigerators. The Shelvador marks the greatest development in electric refrigeration since the invention of this great home necessity. Open the door of a Crosley electric refrigerator and everything is before you. Your eggs are in a neat row at the top of the Shelvador. Oranges, lemons, butter, cheese, jelly and other small articles are instantly accessible without shifting any of the contents of the refrigerator. The shelf space in the refrigerator is reserved for larger articles. This practically doubles the food space of the refrigerator.

An orange, for example, occupies as much shelf space in a refrigerator as a bottle of milk. In the Shelvador the orange occupies only as much space as an orange should. Other features included in the Crosley Shelvadors are self-contained, removable unit, temperature control, ample supply of ice cubes, porcelain interior, illuminated interior, flat-bar shelves, and many other modern features that make this popular electric refrigerator the delight of many housewives.

The Ranger and Eastland Furniture Exchanges have the distributors of these refrigerators in Ranger and Eastland, and since receiving them this week, many have already been sold.

Those going from Eastland are: Mary Frances Hunter and Doris Fields, girl debaters, and Desmond Daniels, Truitt Fulcher, John Garrison, Jake Layton, Windell Siebert, Estes Burgamy, Delmer and Elmer Brown, track and field team. The representatives were accompanied by Coach Joe A. Gibson, Principal W. P. Walm, George T. Taylor and Mrs. F. O. Hunter.

HOUSE BURNS IN EASTLAND
Fire broke out in a vacant house belonging to the States Oil corporation Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock. The alarm was turned in immediately and the fire department, with quick work, extinguished the blaze before the building was destroyed, though considerably damaged. The fire originated in the back of the building but the cause is not known. The insurance carried will probably cover the damage.

No Body Odor to Mar Their Happiness

No M.S. Either
(MEDICINE SELLER)

New discovery ends body odor at its source, by removing stale perspiration curds. Leaves no betraying after-smell.

THE WAR against body odor has at length been won! Not by masking it with a telltale medicine smell but by reaching deep into the pores and removing the cause!

Recent experiments by research chemists have proved that objectionable body odor does not come from fresh perspiration but from stale perspiration deep in the pores. Stale perspiration contains calcium, salt and particles of fat. The thick and sticky lather of most ordinary toilet soaps is unsuited chemically to mix with this waste material and disperse it. Instead, it hardens into clogging curds!

That's why deep-pore cleansing is needed to remove the objectionable curds—and it is a scientific fact that there is only one way to accomplish this. Kirk's Coco Castile—being a 100% pure vegetable oil soap—mixes with the particles of perspiration curds, loosens them, then rinses out completely. Thus it ends the cause of body odor instantly. Ordinary toilet soaps—even those laden with offensive M.S. (rancid cine smell)—can merely hide body odor; they cannot end it.

Try Kirk's Coco Castile today. Feel the invigorating effect of deep-pore cleansing. Experience the thrill of a clean, odorless body. The cake is half again larger than average toilet soaps—an exceptional bargain. It is made by the largest soap makers in America. Be sure to ask for Kirk's by name.

Raymond Milford has returned

ing Erloy Miller.

Mrs. Homer Blackwell and Mrs.
Cleora Harris were Ranger visitors Tuesday.

Mrs. Freda is visiting in Dallas.
Mr. and Mrs. Jim Southern are visiting in Mexico.

Miss Oma Mitchell of Mingo was a Ranger visitor Friday.

R. C. Stidham was a visitor in

Miss Pearson Is Crowned as Queen
Of Eastland High

This week has been a busy one for the Eastland High School, which staged a successful benefit variety stunt program by eastland organizations Monday night, followed by a brilliant entertainment in the High School gym—a genuine midway paizance with concessions, to entertain the visitors, of a doll rack, fortune telling, the Olympic Revue, Hollywood Parade and novel refreshments.

Not the least of the funny features was the ducking stool, when Joe A. Gibson's mettle was tested and who was finally ducked after twenty minutes resistance.

W. P. Palm was more successful for there wasn't anyone able to "duck him."

A number of souvenirs donated by the merchants were given away during the course of the evening, by J. O. Brothers of the faculty.

Campbell's band played several selections throughout the evening, and also opened the carnival with a peppy ballyhoo, outside the building.

The real feature of the evening was the announcement of the winner in the race for Queen of Eastland, and the payment of the crowning of queen.

At eleven o'clock, voting closed, with the freshman candidate stacking 586 votes; the sophomore 152 votes, the junior 596 votes, and the senior 260 votes. Miss Ellen Pearson was announced as being the choice for Queen of the Eastland High School.

The crowning ceremony professional was led by Clyde Chaney as bugler, with Estes Burgamy as herald.

The attendants were Princess Verma Ray, of the House of Knight; Princess Faye of the House of Tucker; Princess Nelle of the House of Yeager and Princess Barbara Ann of the House of Arnold.

Little Mary Joe of the House of Collie, the wee crown bearer, took her place at the foot of the throne, a handsome dais in white and royal purple with three wide white steps leading to the floor.

The Queen, Ellen of the House of Pearson, appeared wearing a beautiful white gown of silk sleeve, with white caparison and overrobe of white lace, and was accompanying by her jester, clever Lucy Mae Cottingham, in quaint costume.

Cardinal Palm, in an impressive scene crowned Ellen of the House of Pearson, the Queen of the Eastland High school.

The big crowd that filled the gymnasium enjoyed this well arranged and entertaining ceremony of which all details were supervised by Miss Belle Wilson of the high school faculty.

HUNTING A FOUR MILLION DOLLAR FUGITIVE

"We now come to the home stretch of the legislative session," writes W. O. Huggins, president of the Texas Goods Roads association. "It is the most important period of all because during the short time which remains the financial juggling will be done. The books must balance. Our fear is that the legislature will hit further into gas tax revenues, not because its members believe such a course to be right or fair but because they will have become weary of dickering over revenues. We believe our case is sound. Jobs are the basic need. The job value of road work is irrefutable. It has this value right now, as the state will learn through human misery if its highway program is curtailed."

According to a bulletin issued by the Texas Good Roads association Comptroller Sheppard is elated over the new legislation against gasoline tax thieves, making the offense a felony, requiring the keeping of complete records and providing for a corps of enforcers. It is the viewpoint of the association that the comptroller's aim is the recovery of more than four million dollars a year in stolen gas taxes and information is given that already a group of Sheppard auditors and investigators are at work in East Texas and several major cities. It is hinted that the filing of numerous charges may be expected soon. Moreover the comptroller, in frequent statements, is pleading for the full support of public opinion.

That the people may fully appreciate the state's annual loss to gasoline bootleggers, the editor of the highway bulletin points out what this four million dollars distributed as the law provides would do. First, one million dollars, or one-fourth, to schools, would pay 1300 teachers for a year, or would pay the entire per capita for nearly 60,000 children or would pay the free textbook allotments for 700,000 children. Second, one million dollars, or one-fourth, to bond refunding would be a major boost to the now insufficient fund with which the state is striving to relieve counties of outstanding bonds issued to build state highways. Third, two million dollars, or one-half, to state highways, if spent in building new roads, would be doubled through federal aid and thus could employ 4000 men for a year or nearly 50,000 for a month, at salaries sufficient to support their families, after which the state would have the self-liquidating assets (through the gas tax) in the form of several hundred miles of modern roadways.

This is the new slogan of the Texas Good Roads association: "Help Find This Money." Well, why not?

BUSINESS ACTIVITIES IN TEXAS

An A. P. dispatch from Dallas carries a cheerful little earful:

"Evidence of a better feeling through the trade is reported in the monthly business review of the federal reserve bank of Dallas as well as some improvement in consumer buying. Reports indicate that business in both wholesale and retail channels held up well, in the first half of April and in some instances closely approximated the volume of the same period last year."

This is more than a cheerful little earful: "Commercial insolvency in this district for March was greatly reduced in number and the amount of liabilities involved and the amount of liabilities involved as compared with previous month and the corresponding month last year. In fact, it is necessary to go back to October, 1930, to find lower figures. This is merely an extension of the favorable trend which began with respect to insolvencies last fall. Banking operations gradually resumed more normal proportions during the past month."

Watch the ticker as to cotton. It is the new money crop of Texas and all the cotton belt states. It tells the story of commodity price levels.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

THAT one of the greatest joys of living is doing for others.

To give pleasure to people brings happiness to the giver.

A selfish person never can attain that degree of happiness which comes to those who think of and do for others.

A selfish person never can attain that degree of happiness which comes to those who think of and do for others.

Absence of appreciation of recipients should not prevent continuance of good deeds.

That selfishness which centers all of one's interest in one's self is sinful and its reward is unpleasant but just.

Old Texas Flag of Much Interest
 By United Press

AUSTIN.—Next to the document declaring Texas' independence, which rests in a glass encased niche in the corridor of the state capitol, Austin visitors show keenest interest in the battle flag of San Jacinto, capitol attendants say.

The flag is exhibited in a frame behind a protective glass. It is not the Lone Star flag which later became the emblem of the Republic of Texas. It is a picture flag.

Upon it is the likeness of a woman with a Greek profile and flowing Grecian garments that reveal much of the torso. In her outstretched left hand is a sword.
 Fastened to its hilt is a ribbon upon which appears the legend "Liberty or Death," which with "Remember the Alamo" was one of the battle shouts of the Texans.

Exhibition of the flag itself sets at rest much controversy over the "Texas" flag at San Jacinto. H.
 A. McArdie, painter of the battle of San Jacinto hung in the state senate, reproduced the flag in that painting rather than accurately from descriptions. Before executing the battle picture he carried out extensive correspondence, examined photographs of participants and data as to uniforms, arms and other equipment so the picture is marvelously accurate in detail.

His painting of the flag, however shows the figure almost in full face, while on the flag itself it is in profile. McArdie also has the "Liberty or Death" appearing on the background of the flag instead of upon a ribbon attached to the sword.

Another capitol painting, depicting the appearance of General Santa Anna, Mexican leader, before Gen. Sam Houston after the battle, displays a white flag with a blue star in the center. That flag was in the battle is disputed.

The flag now on display came from Kentucky. It was the banner of the Newport Rifles brought to Texas by Capt. Sidney Sherman, who was later promoted to general, when he espoused the cause of the Texans in their fight with Mexico. After the war it was returned to the Sherman family, and has since been presented to the state.

Ducks Built Their Nests In Tree
 By United Press

TULARE, Calif. — And now, tree-nesting ducks!

Two mallard hens recently built nests and laid eggs high above the ground in Mooney park, near here.

How the baby ducks will get down after they are hatched was a problem which bothered many local residents, but apparently was of no concern to the mothers.

The ducks' pensive residences

TODAY'S MAGIC

"It's Fun To Be Fooled...
 It's More Fun To Know!"

HERE'S a neat little magic trick that you can do without skill or previous experience. It fools them every time!

You will notice that at one side of a pack of Camels the words "Choice Quality" appear. Hold a small mirror against the pack so that the reflection of the word "Quality" may be seen by your audience, covering up the word
 "Choice" as shown in the drawing below.

Ask some member of the audience to describe the appearance of the word "Quality." You will naturally be told that the word appears upside down in the mirror.
 Then show the word "Choice" and ask your companions to describe the appearance of that word. To their great surprise this word is not upside down! The mirror is held the same and the pack is held the same, yet one word inverts itself while the other does not!

Explanation: "Choice" is one of the few words in the language wherein all the letters are symmetrical in their up and down relation.
 The word "Choice," though it actually is reversed, does not appear to be.

State May Give Vets a Bonus

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Pennsylvania voters may approve a bonus for veterans of all wars, but there is little chance of its being paid within the next biennium.

The issue will be taken to the polls this November, 12 years after it was first considered by the general assembly. Authorization of a debt of $50,000,000 is sought to create the bonus fund. Veterans enlisting in Pennsylvania for service in the Spanish war, Chinese Boxer campaign, the World war and service in the Philippines and Guam would be eligible at the rate of $10 for each month's ser-

Attorney General William A.

 be impossible until the general assembly sets up a schedule and makes provision for payment to the veterans, and authorizes an issue of bonds in accordance with the terms of an amendment made in 1923.

Century of Progress' Largest Cafe—Pabst Blue Ribbon Casino

The above Pabst Blue Ribbon Casino is now being erected at the south end of Northern Island at the Chicago Century of Progress 1933 World's Fair. The building is being sponsored by the makers of Blue Ribbon Malt, well known to America as the leading brand.
Entertainment will be supplied by Ben Bernie, the Old Maestro and all the lads and two other nationally known bands. There will be continuous dancing from noon until closing. In addition to the 700 seat Casino and dance floor, there will be a summer garden and a unique lunch bar modeled after the Brown Derby in Hollywood. Prices will be moderate, and the total seating capacity will be 3500, which will make it the largest and most elaborate cafe at the Century of Progress.
A revolving band stand will be placed between the Casino and the outdoor garden so that the diners will have the opportunity to enjoy the music and dance out of doors as well as in. Boat docks are placed along the lagoon side so that it will be possible to reach the Casino by means of boat as well as by road. Direct entrance to the Casino is just off the 23rd Street bridge.
The lighting and color scheme is designed by Holabird and Root, famed Chicago architects, and promises to set a new style in cafe and cabaret architectural history. The operation of the Casino will be under the direction of the well-known College Inn of the Hotel Sherman management. Everything in the Casino will symbolize the high quality of the product of the sponsors, Pabst-malt, a cheese product, and all Pabst Beverages will be featured on the menu.
As shown in the illustration, there will be many sun shaded tables and shade trees throughout the grounds and everyone who visits the Century of Progress is invited to share the music and entertainment facilities at the Pabst Blue Ribbon Casino.

Memphis Wins Back One Title

By United Press
MEMPHIS, Tenn.—Memphis "came back shooting" in 1932 to regain the title of "murder capital of the world."
Dr. Frederick Hoffman, statistician for an insurance publication, credits Memphis with 145 homicides during 1932, thus giving a homicide rate of 54.2 per 100,000 population, or a higher rate than any other city.
Simultaneously with Dr. Hoffman's report came a loud protest from the Memphis police department. Memphis police records show only 105 homicides during 1932.
"One thing Dr. Hoffman did do this time, and that was to recognize Memphis as the hospital center of the mid-south," declared Police Commissioner Cliff Davis. "He refuses, on the other hand, to recognize that many of the murders he credits Memphis with, happen in sections of Tennessee, Mississippi or Arkansas. They are brought to our hospitals and die here, and Dr. Hoffman says they were murdered in Memphis."
Memphis has been credited with being the murder capital for years. Back in 1931, Dr. Hoffman gave the city a rate of 74.9 per 100,000 population. In 1922 he reported 67.4 per 100,000.

Normandy Plans 1000th Birthday

By United Press
PARIS.—Scandinavians, descendants of the original Norsemen; Britishers, whose forebears fought at Hastings, and Frenchmen will join hands, June 2 to 9, to celebrate the 1,000th anniversary of the establishment of Normandy as a geographic, governmental and ethnic entity.
President Lebrun will be present. On his arrival in the picturesque Normandy town of Coutances, he will be greeted by "William the Conqueror," and his knights.
The Coutances fetes begin on June 3 with a "reconstitution" of the now extinct Normandy parliament, and a tableau representing the ancient trades and crafts.
The following day will see famous Norman dukes swaggering down the streets, accompanied by their bodyguards. Among the more celebrated characters depicted will be Duke William Long Sword.

King St. Louis, King Francis I, Admiral Tourville.
A mock Norman wedding, as played a thousand years ago, will be performed in the town square, with costumes historically correct.

CONSTIPATION MADE MAN FEEL SICK

"My work is inside work and at times I get constipated," writes Mr. E. H. Webb, of Waco, Texas. "This causes me to have headache and a terrible worn-out feeling. I will not feel sick and dizzy. When I get up in the morning, I feel all tired out. I heard about Black-Draught being good for this trouble and decided to try it. I found it was as recommended. Now when my head begins to feel heavy, I take a few doses of Black-Draught and get relief."

DARLING FOOL

... by MABEL McELLIOTT

REGIN HERE TODAY

MONNIE O'DARE, 20 and beautiful, is unhappy because DAN CARDIGAN who professes to be in love with her is influenced by his snobbish family. CHARLES EUSTACE, handsome newcomer to Hatedere, pays Monnie marked attention. He helps her with family difficulties and when KAY, her younger sister, tries to run off with a traveling salesman he and Monnie bring her back without scandal.

SANDRA LAWRENCE, one-time friend of Monnie's, tries to win Dan away from her. Sandra's maid, BETTY, thinks Sandra is trying to vamp JAMES the chauffeur, and is jealous.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVI

MONNIE heard Kay's voice and looked up. It was Sunday morning—11 o'clock, to be exact—and Monnie was enjoying the sweet freedom of her "day off," celebrating it by the weekly washing of her burnished bronze hair. Sitting out under the apple tree in a shabby old basket chair, looking extraordinarily childish in the white smock she wore, she answered her younger sister.

"Yes? What is it?"

A new Kay, since the adventure. A curiously silent, obedient, almost pathetically anxious-to-please Kay. Monnie reflected. It had been lucky—it had been really miraculous—that no one else had learned of Kay's brief flight with Chester Bigelow, from which Charles Eustace and Monnie had providentially rescued her.

"Monnie, I want to do something!" Kay's voice, her expression were tragic. Her sea blue eyes, long lashed, shadowed faintly with mauve, stared straight ahead. "I've got to find something. I—I'll go crazy if I don't."

Monnie said mildly, "But there aren't any jobs for you in Hatedere—"

"I know," Kay interrupted. "That's exactly what I mean. If I could get away—to Chicago. Or New York—"

Her voice fell on the name. The magic name of The City. Kay, starting through apprehensions at the sky, was seeing, instead, the high minarets and towers publicized by the picture postcards—the famous "skyline." She was seeing the Empire State building and the Chrysler tower, the winking lights of Times Square.

"There'd be a chance for me there," Kay stated eagerly. "I could make something of myself—be somebody. Get some place."

Monnie sighed. They had gone over this ground before. She sympathized, wholly and utterly, but what could she do about it? "You're too young to be on your own," she said with gentleness. "Even if we had the money to stake you for a while—which we haven't—you're far too young to go off that way by yourself. Mother would never hear of it."

"Girls not one bit older than I am," said Kay with fervor.

"are earning well, as money in the movies."

"Oh, the movies, of course," said Monnie, dismissing the idea.

"Well," Kay seemed to think she had made a case.

"Yes, but for the half dozen who are successful, argued the older sister, barely there hundreds who starve." Turn on the gas—all kinds of things. You read about it every day."

"I," said Kay magnificently, "would be successful."

MONNIE gave her a speculative look. "You might," she said slowly. "And then again you might not. It's not being pretty and talented alone that puts you over. I read just the other day that a good camera man could make an actress and an unfriendly one ruin her chances. There are tricks—why, some of the most successful ones are not a bit pretty if you meet them face to face! Don't you remember Lillian Martingale, the girl I told you I met at Sandra's last winter? She was plain, really. Angular—and her skin was awful. Yet Sandra said she got a screen test that was wonderful. And she's getting along very well. I saw her picture outside the Cameo the other day when I came home."

"I forgot you'd met her," said Kay interested. "Was she really ugly?"

"Not ugly—but, well, plain in a distinguished kind of way. She," remembered Monnie, "was the girl Sandra met in Florence. From an old Boston family, I think."

Kay frowned. "Sandra, by the way, is throwing a big party tomorrow night. Having people from the city and the usual zoooty crowd here. Wonder she wouldn't invite you? You used to be awfully clubby."

Monnie threw the bright veil of hair over her eyes. "Don't be silly," she said with affected lightness. "You wouldn't expect me to be asked to every party Sandra gave."

"She might have done it this time anyway," Kay went on, stubbornly loyal. "I know her. What she wants is to get Dan Cardigan all to herself. She worked hard on that job. She deserves him. All I hope is," prattled Kay, turning the knife in her listener's heart with blissful unconsciousness. "Is that she gets Mamma Cardigan with him? They'd be a fine pair. Both bosses. Neither one will give an inch."

"What makes you think," asked Monnie in a muffled voice, "that she's going to get Dan, as you so elegantly put it?"

"Well, I'll tell you," began Kay confidentially. "Mind you, Monnie, I wouldn't be talking this way if I weren't certain you'd got over Dan—and a mighty good thing that is, too," she interpolated. "Ever since that night you turned him down when he asked for a date I've been awfully glad. I was afraid," said Kay with aliter candor, "you might be turning out to be the sort of dumb bunny who cries with joy when a boy shows her any attention. And that with your looks, would be dumb!"

"Thanks," Monnie was brushing her hair now. It did not matter if her face had crimsoned.

"What I say," cried Kay warningly to her sister, "is, let Sandra

Sunday School Lesson, May 7

Pictures of Silver

Mark 10:32-45

FIGURES OF SILVER

"And they were in the way going up to Jerusalem."

Jesus was walking ahead while the disciples, frightened and amazed by the stately, determined tread of Jesus and a great solemnity which seemed to envelop him, were lagging behind in the road.

How sublime was the courage which radiated from his person as he turned his steps toward Jerusalem, resolutely looking steadfastly, not a dark shadow of the cross but a reality from which he knew there was no escape.

His eyes did not behold the road his feet were traveling; they did not see the shallow woody through which a swift stream rushed, or the high mountains on whose sides clung great monasteries. His eyes were focused dignifiedly upon the cross at Jerusalem; that "Old Rugged Cross" esteemed and loved wherever the name of Christ is known. While perhaps His heart ached for understanding and for his disciples who seemed to understand so little that he was, "the Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world."

Jesus called them up beside him and in conversation began for the fourth time to impress upon them the understanding of His death and resurrection.

He told them of the agony which He would endure and of the triumph of the third day when He should rise again. How His heart must have ached for them when they failed to grasp the great picture which he was portraying, but asked of him a very selfish request.

How gently He rebuked them! What ye ask.

How wonderful the lesson He taught in such a few words. In the Roman Kingdom the first or first-born man must be served first of all but in Christ's Kingdom the highest in true greatness was servant of all.

In Matthew we find the story of Salome, the mother of James and John, who was one of the devout followers of Christ but ambitious for her sons and the spokesman for them.

Christ does not condemn her for her ambition but shows her that the road to true greatness is through service for others.

Pray that your child may be rich and enjoy a life of ease, but that early in life it may find the Master and adjust its soul to the wonderful harmony of the true Kingdom wherein lies strength, wisdom and peace that passeth all understanding. That this Christ who lived so beautifully in this world may ever be their guide and friend in the paths of service wherein lies true greatness.

For even the Son of Man came not to be ministered unto but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many."

America Must Play Way Out of The Depression

FORT WORTH.—America must play as it never has before. The nation's recovery from the depression and its adjustment to a changing economic order will take place on the playground as much as in steel mills, factories, or the offices of big business. That is the opinion of three experts in social trends who have prescribed recreation as a mental tonic to allay feverish worry over the rent, insurance premiums, and mortgage payments. Mrs. Mary K. Brown, field representative of the National Association of Community Chests, Washington, believes that most of the suffering nowadays is mental. Her district covers the Southwest. Posters picturing a ragged urchin who looks hungrily into a baker's window may be the impetus for public contributions to chest funds. But only 20 per cent of such funds are expended for food to relieve the hungry, Mrs. Brown estimates. Most of the remainder is spent to relieve a more acute need—mental distress. "Good recreation is one of the greatest needs in the world today," declares Mrs. Florence Moore, Cleburne, for two years the only woman member on the state prison board. "We should have community centers such as we had during the World War, for after all proper recreation is as important in peace as in war." Mrs. Moore does not view recreation as a crime preventive, "but it would help lessen crime," she declares. "If ever there was a time when people needed to play, it is now," believes R. D. Evans, superintendent of the recreation department here. Despite reduced budgets, he had mapped out a play program for Fort Worth typical of those planned throughout Texas as a substitute for the headaches produced by the temporary chaos in a changing business order. Last season 1,648,428 persons, more than 10 times the population of Fort Worth, swarmed to the city's golf courses, play grounds, parks and swimming pools. Evans anticipates a new record this season. The increase he attributes entirely to adults who seek relief from business or household worries. This season's program will offer recreation on 16 playgrounds, 23 baseball diamonds, 36 tennis courts, eight lighted croquet courts, one archery range, one motorcycle speedway track, 10 volleyball courts, 20 horseshoe ranges, four swimming pools, two 18-hole golf courses in addition to boxing, wrestling, tap-dancing and dramatics sponsored in the Recreation Hall. That amount of equipment is necessary to keep a city the size of Fort Worth happy during current conditions, Evans believes.

WASHINGTON.—Granting of a permanent injunction by Federal Judge James D. Elliott in Sioux Falls, S. D., to the Associated Press against the unauthorized broadcasting of its news dispatches by Station KSOO has thrown the National Association of Broadcasters into a panic. Why N A B should have expected any other decision, it is difficult to understand, Judge Elliott's course was guided by precedents clearly establishing the right of a news association to the exclusive use for 24 hours of news which it has gathered at great cooperative expense from all parts of the world. "Broadcasting," said trade paper whose editor, Martin Codel, is the chief journalistic spokesman for the radio industry, thinks that organization by the radio stations is in the offing. "If radio enters seriously into the newsgathering field," he says, "its transmission speed of 186,090 miles per second—the speed of light—could not possibly be equalled by any wire service. In other words radio would bring news from the microphone to the listeners' ears far faster than any press service could carry it from the printing press to the readers' eyes."

Mr. Codel seems to forget that radio licenses are issued by the government to the owners of broadcasting stations; that these licenses have no vested rights in such licenses, and that the "keen competition" which the radio is expected to give the legitimate newsgathering service will not be aided by the government at the expense of newspaper publishers. The public, moreover, will have something to say; for if radio news broadcasting in future is no more accurate than it was at the time of the recent earthquake in California, when the broadcasters ran amuck and gave voice to the wildest rumors, the dependability of its reports will always be questioned.

Religious Play To Be Presented At High School

The Life Service Volunteers of Weatherford college will present a religious play, "Ba Thane," for the Methodist church Sunday night at the high school auditorium. This will be the regular evening church service of the Methodist church and everybody is invited to attend. There will be no charge for admission. This play is described by a pastor who has seen it as a gripping, thrilling, religious play. It was presented at the student volunteer movement convention at Buffalo, N. Y., and had to be repeated several days to meet the demand. A student who has seen this religious play says of it, "Our cast and production has been highly praised. I think it is the greatest amateur cast that I have ever known. It has a spirit that lifts up all who see it." You are cordially invited to attend this religious service of the church at the high school Sunday night.

Read this very enthusiastic letter: "Something like eleven or twelve years ago, I began eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. When I started, it was called simply Kellogg's Bran, and I believe it was one of the first products of the kind on the market.

"My friends often laugh at my fondness for ALL-BRAN. It gives such a clear taste in the mouth, and I do not feel satisfied until I have had my ALL-BRAN.

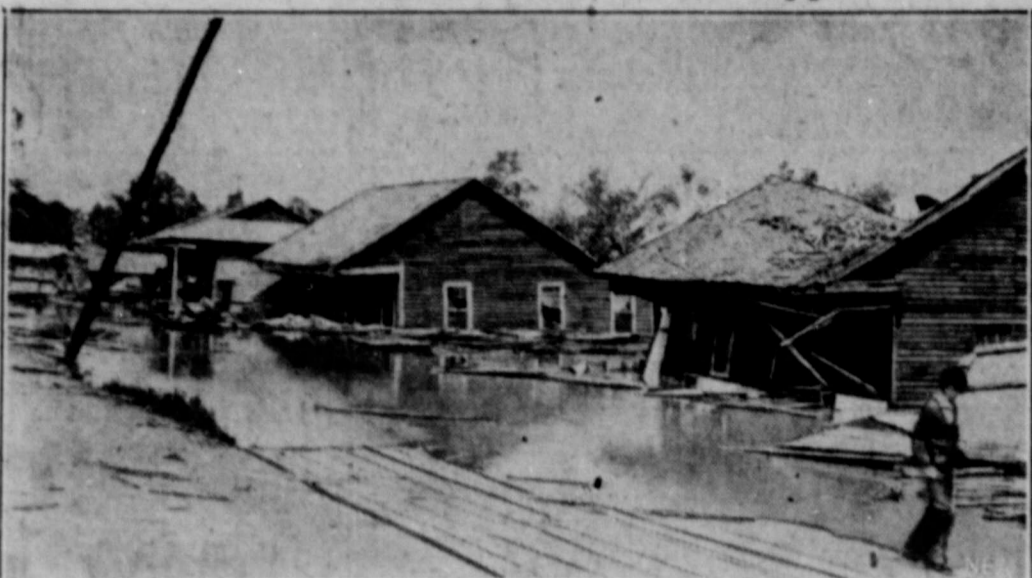

"If the Kellogg Company should ever stop manufacturing ALL-BRAN, here is one who would be greatly disappointed."—Miss Amy Person, University Park, Iowa.

"Science says that ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regularity. Also iron for the blood.

"The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. How much safer than taking patent medicines—often harmful. Just eat two tablespoons daily for most types of constipation. For serious cases, try it three times daily. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Sold in the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Eastland County Boys Apply For Government Work

Luther Reed of Eastland left Thursday morning for Fort Worth where he expects to enter the reforestation service. Five boys left last week, three from Cisco and one each from Carbon and Romney. The one from Carbon failed to pass the physical test and Reed went to take his place in the first quota. It is reported that the other four boys are now located at Fort Sill, Okla.

Eastland's quota in this service is estimated at 15, so there will be 14 more young men to select as the calls come between now and May 15. Thirty-three young men have already filed their applications for these places. They are Woodrow Harbin, Robert Clark, Marvin Green, Harold Pentecost, D. C. Cooper, Lewis Hargrave, Leonard Buckbee, Carl McClair, J. W. Hinson, Charles Sylvester, Carroll Allison, Ray Morris, Lee Grubb, Katroy Hartridge, Charley Bragg, Jack Wallace, Delbert Myers, R. S. Harris, Joe Jones, Edward Small, Earl Beggs, Dittmar Long, M. C. Walker, L. C. East (c), William Taylor (c), and Willie Green (c), from Eastland, and Tom Colburn, N. P. Slay, O. B. Gullett, Roy D. King, Floyd Kirby and Archer Slay from Olden.

Eastland People Visit County Farm

A group of Eastland people paid a very much appreciated visit to the County Farm Tuesday. The group was composed of members of Circle No. 3 of the Eastland Baptist church. They served fruit, candy and cake to the inmates of the County Home. Following were those in the group: Mesdames C. G. Uffelman, Joe Neal, J. B. Overton, Hannah Lindsey, V. E. Vezelle, J. A. Crouch, I. S. Russell, W. D. R. Owen.

Supt. Pafford of the County Home expresses his appreciation and that of the inmates of the home for the kindness shown by the women of Baptist Circle No. 3.

Soviet Schools Get Uniforms

MOSCOW.—All school children in the soviet union will be put into uniforms next September, according to the commissariat of education. The decision merely revives a system traditionally in vogue in Russia until the revolution. The distinctive school outfit at that time set the wearer apart from the mass of children who had no schooling. In abolishing uniforms the soviet regime at that time in fact sought to obliterate class distinctions. Now that elementary education almost is universal here, it is felt that the uniforms can be re-introduced.

Until the revolution, Russia was perhaps the world's most thoroughly uniformed country. Practically every trade and social station had its distinctive clothes, usually obligatory. A man's costume was an accurate indication of his calling and his social station.

Science Plans Convention At Salt Lake City

By IRVIN L. DAVIES United Press Staff Correspondent SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—Several hundred nationally renowned scientific men will gather here, June 13, 14 and 15, for the annual convention of the Pacific division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Dr. William Frederick Durand, professor of mechanical engineering, emeritus, of Stanford university, California, and president of the Pacific coast division of the association, will head the group. One feature of the convention will be an extended study of Great Salt Lake, famed "dead sea" of America, located 20 miles west of here. Papers and speeches will be made to the group on this subject, including Dr. J. Fred Pack's "Ancestry of Great Salt Lake," and "Climatological and Hydrological Problems," by Dr. T. B. Adams, professor of botany. Others will include the observation of artimia and chemical deposits and problems, all of which will, indirectly at least, be based on the study of the lake.

The convention also will touch on evolution. This phase may come under the programmed list of "Animal Life and Relations," a report of Dr. W. P. Cottam, professor of botany. Others will include the observation of artimia and chemical deposits and problems, all of which will, indirectly at least, be based on the study of the lake.

It was expected the convention would attract thousands of scientifically interested people of the world. Couple of New York bandits stole two coffins from an undertaker's shop. Racket business must be pretty dead these days.

Hotel Museum Has An Odd Collection

By United Press SAGINAW, Mich.—John P. Schuch is more interested in his historical museum of 50,000 articles than he is in his hotel.

He has turned over the main dining room of the Hotel Schuch here to a permanent display room for his efforts. None of the curios is for sale, but the public can browse around his collection of old Bibles, theatrical programs, furniture and the hundreds of other objects without charge. Ten years as an advance agent for theatrical troupes brought Schuch his collection of more than 10,000 theatre programs, many commemorating historical "firsts" nights. Seven thousand books he has picked up during his travels include 500 first editions. He has 3,000 photographs, many of them of stage celebrities.

War service enhanced Schuch's interest in weapons. His collection includes spears from Africa and the South Seas, European and Asiatic swords, guns and revolvers of all kinds and size. The connoisseur of fine glassware will find much to interest him. There is much to interest the antique furniture collector. The collection of old Bibles is headed by a Latin Bible printed in 1556, and said to be the second oldest Bible in the United States. "Ye Old Musee" is recognized by the Library of Congress and has been visited by people from all over the country.

MUSIC WEEK PLANS The plans for annual Music week, Eastland observance, and list of programmed events arranged by Mrs. Turner M. Collier, will be announced in Sunday's Eastland Telegram.

THIS SECTION SUITABLE FOR STRAWBERRIES

That this immediate section is especially adapted to the production of strawberries in commercial quantities, is the opinion of J. F. (Jimmie) Rosborough, horticulturist, connected with the agricultural extension service of the A. & M. College, who was in Eastland today looking into the matter. "Strawberry production and markets go up and down throughout the country and at this time other sections are down and it appears to me that this is a splendid time for this section to get into the game of strawberry production on a commercial scale," Mr. Rosborough said.

Proper soil for the production of strawberries for commercial purposes is very scarce, according to Mr. Rosborough, but there are many places in this immediate section suitable for the purpose and it is with the view of encouraging owners of such land to engage in the industry, which is highly profitable when properly carried on, that Mr. Rosborough is spending some time out here.

Ranger Furniture Exchange Gets New Shelvadors

The Ranger Furniture Exchange this week received a truckload of the new Crosley Shelvador electric refrigerators. The Shelvador marks the greatest development in electric refrigeration since the invention of this great home necessity. Open the door of a Crosley electric refrigerator and everything is before you. Your eggs are in a neat row at the top of the Shelvador. Oranges, lemons, butter, cheese, jelly and other small articles are instantly accessible without shifting any of the contents of the refrigerator. The shelf space in the refrigerator is reserved for larger articles. This practically doubles the food space of the refrigerator.

An orange, for example, occupies as much shelf space in a refrigerator as a bottle of milk. In the Shelvador the orange occupies only as much space as an orange should. Other features included in the Crosley Shelvadors are self-contained, removable unit, temperature control, ample supply of ice cubes, porcelain interior, illuminator interior, flat-bar shelves, and many other modern features that make this popular electric refrigerator the delight of many housewives. The Ranger and Eastland Furniture Exchanges have the distribution of these refrigerators in Ranger and Eastland, and since receiving them this week, many have already been sold.

HOUSE BURNS IN EASTLAND Fire broke out in a vacant house belonging to the States Oil corporation Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock. The alarm was turned in immediately and the fire department, with quick work, extinguished the blaze before the building was destroyed, though considerably damaged. The fire originated in the back of the building but the cause is not known. The insurance carried will probably cover the damage.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

GOD BE MAGNIFIED: Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee; and let such as love thy salvation say continually, Let God be magnified.—Psalm 70: 4.

HUNTING A FOUR MILLION DOLLAR FUGITIVE

"We now come to the home stretch of the legislative session," writes W. O. Huggins, president of the Texas Good Roads association. "It is the most important period of all because during the short time which remains the financial juggling will be done. The books must balance. Our fear is that the legislature will hit further into gas tax revenues, not because its members believe such a course to be right or fair but because they will have become weary of dickering over revenues. We believe our case is sound. Jobs are the basic need. The job value of road work is irrefutable. It has this value right now, as the state will learn through human misery if its highway program is curtailed."

According to a bulletin issued by the Texas Good Roads association Comptroller Sheppard is elated over the new legislation against gasoline tax thieves, making the offense a felony, requiring the keeping of complete records and providing for a corps of enforcers. It is the viewpoint of the association that the comptroller's aim is the recovery of more than four million dollars a year in stolen gas taxes and information is given that already a group of Sheppard auditors and investigators are at work in Eastexas and several major cities. It is hinted that the filing of numerous charges may be expected soon. Moreover the comptroller, in frequent statements, is pleading for the full support of public opinion.

That the people may fully appreciate the state's annual loss to gasoline bootleggers, the editor of the highway bulletin points out what this four million dollars distributed as the law provides would do. First, one million dollars, or one-fourth, to schools, would pay 1000 teachers for a year, or would pay the entire per capita for nearly 60,000 children or would pay the free textbook allotments for 700,000 children. Second, one million dollars, or one-fourth, to bond refunding would be a major boost to the now insufficient fund with which the state is striving to relieve counties of outstanding bonds issued to build state highways. Third, two million dollars, or one-half, to state highways, if spent in building new roads, would be doubled through federal aid and thus could employ 4000 men for a year or nearly 50,000 for a month, at salaries sufficient to support their families, after which the state would have the self-liquidating assets (through the gas tax) in the form of several hundred miles of modern roadways.

This is the new slogan of the Texas Good Roads association: "Help Find This Money." Well, why not?

BUSINESS ACTIVITIES IN TEXAS

An A. P. dispatch from Dallas carries a cheerful little earful:

"Evidence of a better feeling through the trade is reported in the monthly business review of the federal reserve bank of Dallas as well as some improvement in consumer buying. Reports indicate that business in both wholesale and retail channels held up well, in the first half of April and in some instances closely approximated the volume of the same period last year."

This is more than a cheerful little earful: "Commercial insolvency in this district for March was greatly reduced in number and the amount of liabilities involved and the amount of liabilities involved as compared with previous month and the corresponding month last year. In fact, it is necessary to go back to October, 1930, to find lower figures. This is merely an extension of the favorable trend which began with respect to insolvencies last fall. Banking operations gradually resumed more normal proportions during the past month."

Watch the ticker as to cotton. It is the new money crop of Texas and all the cotton belt states. It tells the story of commodity price levels.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

THAT one of the greatest joys of living is doing for others.

To give pleasure to people brings happiness to the giver.

A selfish person never can attain that degree of happiness which comes to those who think of and do for others.

A selfish person never can attain that degree of happiness which comes to those who think of and do for others.

Absence of appreciation of recipients should not prevent continuance of good deeds.

That selfishness which centers all of one's interest in one's self is sinful and its reward is unpleasant but just.

Recipe for Getting Fish Bait Published

NEW BEDFORD, Mass.—The fishing season is here but what about the bait? The following recipe of an Orleans resident for getting worms without digging is passed on to posterity by Don Traylor, writing in the New Bedford Standard Times: "Drive a stick of wood an inch in diameter into the ground, leaving one end exposed. "Cut notches in another stick and rub it along that in the ground. "Vibration disturbs and annoys the worms and they wriggle to the surface to find what the earthquake is about."

Automobile Sales in Dallas Grow

DALLAS.—New automobiles sold and registered in Dallas during April outstripped the total for the same month in 1932 by more than 25 per cent, according to Dr. J. H. Connell, executive secretary of the Dallas Automotive Trades association. April retail sales in 1933 were 572 new cars, registered against 464 for April 1932, records in the county tax collector's office and in the association's files show. Retail sales for the first four months of 1933 included 1,801 new cars, while the same period in 1932 saw sales of only 1,557 new cars.

Minnows Improve Health Conditions Physician Declares

HOUSTON.—Give a greedy little minnow a great big hand, for his appetite means much to Texas. Dr. C. P. Coogle, field director of malaria control work in southeast Texas, gives lots of credit to the little fish. He says they do more to control malaria than any other agency. Gambiausia Affinis, as these special minnows are known, are gluttons, never so happy as when they are gulping mosquito larvae. Boy Scouts are carrying them around by the bucketful in East Texas towns and the Lower Rio Grande valley, presenting them to housewives who plop them into rain barrels and other places. In that way, says Dr. Coogle, the mosquitoes haven't half a chance. They must breed in water and if the gambusia gets there first he finishes off the younger generation with great ease. The gambusia is very prolific, according to Dr. Coogle. It and the whale are the only known mammals among fish. Putting the gambusia to work is only one phase of the anti-malarial campaign being waged in Texas. It was inaugurated in 1931 when the legislature appropriated $50,000 for the work with the stipulation that the federal government would send a man to take charge. The U. S. Public health department sent Dr. Coogle. He makes his headquarters at Longview, covering 72 counties. Recently he has been quartering here to direct South Texas work. Dr. Coogle discusses the anopheles (malaria bearing) mosquito as familiarly as other persons discuss their neighbors. He has been fighting the pests for 17 years and they have no secrets from him. "The female of the anopheles is deadlier than the male," he said. "The female bites. The male does not. His is a vegetable diet. The female has to have a meal of blood in order to fertilize her eggs. Sometimes she will bite a snake, but only when a juicy human being is not available."

"It's Fun To Be Fooled... It's More Fun To Know!"

HERE'S a neat little magic trick that you can do without skill or previous experience. It fools them every time!

You will notice that at one side of a pack of Camels the words "Choice Quality" appear. Hold a small mirror against the pack so that the reflection of the word "Quality" may be seen by your audience, covering up the word "Choice" as shown in the drawing below.

Ask some member of the audience to describe the appearance of the word "Quality." You will naturally be told that the word appears upside down in the mirror. Then show the word "Choice" and ask your companions to describe the appearance of that word. To their great surprise this word is not upside down! The mirror is held the same and the pack is held the same, yet one word inverts itself while the other does not!

Explanation: "Choice" is one of the few words in the language wherein all the letters are symmetrical in their up and down relation. The word "Choice," though it actually is reversed, does not appear to be.

Ducks Built Their Nests In Tree

TULARE, Calif. — And now, tree-nesting ducks!

Two mallard hens recently built nests and laid eggs high above the ground in Mooney park, near here.

How the baby ducks will get down after they are hatched was a problem which bothered many local residents, but apparently was of no concern to the mothers. The ducks' penthouse residences were the first ever reported here.

State May Give Vets a Bonus

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Pennsylvania voters may approve a bonus for veterans of all wars, but there is little chance of its being paid within the next biennium.

The issue will be taken to the polls this November, 12 years after it was first considered by the general assembly. Authorization of a debt of $50,000,000 is sought to create the bonus fund. Veterans enlisting in Pennsylvania for service in the Spanish war, Chinese Boxer campaign, the World war and service in the Philippines and Guam would be eligible at the rate of $10 for each month's service.

Attorney General William A. Schnader holds the bonus would be impossible until the general assembly sets up a schedule and makes provision for payment to the veterans, and authorizes an issue of bonds in accordance with the terms of an amendment made in 1923.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

GOD BE MAGNIFIED: Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee; and let such as love thy salvation say continually, Let God be magnified.—Psalm 70: 4.

HUNTING A FOUR MILLION DOLLAR FUGITIVE

"We now come to the home stretch of the legislative session," writes W. O. Huggins, president of the Texas Good Roads association. "It is the most important period of all because during the short time which remains the financial juggling will be done. The books must balance. Our fear is that the legislature will hit further into gas tax revenues, not because its members believe such a course to be right or fair but because they will have become weary of dickering over revenues. We believe our case is sound. Jobs are the basic need. The job value of road work is irrefutable. It has this value right now, as the state will learn through human misery if its highway program is curtailed."

According to a bulletin issued by the Texas Good Roads association Comptroller Sheppard is elated over the new legislation against gasoline tax thieves, making the offense a felony, requiring the keeping of complete records and providing for a corps of enforcers. It is the viewpoint of the association that the comptroller's aim is the recovery of more than four million dollars a year in stolen gas taxes and information is given that already a group of Sheppard auditors and investigators are at work in Eastexas and several major cities. It is hinted that the filing of numerous charges may be expected soon. Moreover the comptroller, in frequent statements, is pleading for the full support of public opinion.

That the people may fully appreciate the state's annual loss to gasoline bootleggers, the editor of the highway bulletin points out what this four million dollars distributed as the law provides would do. First, one million dollars, or one-fourth, to schools, would pay 1000 teachers for a year, or would pay the entire per capita for nearly 60,000 children or would pay the free textbook allotments for 700,000 children. Second, one million dollars, or one-fourth, to bond refunding would be a major boost to the now insufficient fund with which the state is striving to relieve counties of outstanding bonds issued to build state highways. Third, two million dollars, or one-half, to state highways, if spent in building new roads, would be doubled through federal aid and thus could employ 4000 men for a year or nearly 50,000 for a month, at salaries sufficient to support their families, after which the state would have the self-liquidating assets (through the gas tax) in the form of several hundred miles of modern roadways.

This is the new slogan of the Texas Good Roads association: "Help Find This Money." Well, why not?

BUSINESS ACTIVITIES IN TEXAS

An A. P. dispatch from Dallas carries a cheerful little earful: "Evidence of a better feeling through the trade is reported in the monthly business review of the federal reserve bank of Dallas as well as some improvement in consumer buying. Reports indicate that business in both wholesale and retail channels held up well, in the first half of April and in some instances closely approximated the volume of the same period last year."

This is more than a cheerful little earful: "Commercial insolvency in this district for March was greatly reduced in number and the amount of liabilities involved and the amount of liabilities involved as compared with previous month and the corresponding month last year. In fact, it is necessary to go back to October, 1930, to find lower figures. This is merely an extension of the favorable trend which began with respect to insolvencies last fall. Banking operations gradually resumed more normal proportions during the past month."

Watch the ticker as to cotton. It is the new money crop of Texas and all the cotton belt states. It tells the story of commodity price levels.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma
THAT one of the greatest joys of living is doing for others. To give pleasure to people brings happiness to the giver. A selfish person never can attain that degree of happiness which comes to those who think of and do for others. A selfish person never can attain that degree of happiness which comes to those who think of and do for others. Absence of appreciation of recipients should not prevent continuance of good deeds. That selfishness which centers all of one's interest in one's self is sinful and its reward is unpleasant but just.

Minnows Improve Health Conditions Physician Declares

HOUSTON.—Give a greedy little minnow a great big hand, for his appetite means much to Texas. Dr. C. P. Coogler, field director of malaria control work in southeast Texas, gives lots of credit to these little fish. He says they do more to control malaria than any other agency. Gambusia affinis, as these special minnows are known, are gluttons, never so happy as when they are gulping mosquito larvae. Boy Scouts are carrying them around by the bucketful in East Texas towns and the Lower Rio Grande valley, presenting them to housewives who pop them into rain barrels and other places. In that way, says Dr. Coogler, the mosquitoes haven't half a chance. They must breed in water and if the gambusia gets there first he finishes off the younger generation with great ease. The gambusia is very prolific, according to Dr. Coogler. It and the whale are the only known mammals among fish. Putting the gambusia in work is only one phase of the anti-malar campaign being waged in Texas. It was inaugurated in 1931 when the legislature appropriated $50,000 for the work with the stipulation that the federal government would send a man to take charge. The U. S. Public Health department sent Dr. Coogler. He makes his headquarters at Longview, covering 72 counties. Recently he has been quartering here to direct South Texas work. Dr. Coogler discusses the anopheles (malaria-bearing) mosquito as familiarly as other persons discuss their neighbors. He has been fighting the pests for 17 years and they have no secrets from him. "The female of the anopheles is deadlier than the male," he said. "The female bites. The male does not. His is a vegetable diet. The female has to have a meal of blood in order to fertilize her eggs, sometimes she will bite a snake, but only when a juicy human being is not available."

Recipe for Getting Fish Bait Published

NEW BEDFORD, Mass.—The fishing season is here but what about the bait? The following recipe of an Orleans resident for getting worms without digging is passed on to posterity by Don Trayer, writing in the New Bedford Standard Times: "Drive a stick of wood an inch in diameter into the ground, leaving one end exposed. "Cut notches in another stick and rub it along that in the ground. "Vibration disturbs and annoys the worms and they wriggle to the surface to find what the earthquake is about."

Automobile Sales in Dallas Grow

DALLAS.—New automobiles sold and registered in Dallas during April outstripped the total for the same month in 1932 by more than 25 per cent, according to Dr. J. H. Connell, executive secretary of the Dallas Automotive Trades association. April retail sales in 1933 were 572 new cars registered against 464 for April 1932, records in the county tax collector's office and in the association's files show. Retail sales for the first four months of 1933 included 1,801 new cars, while the same period in 1932 saw sales of only 1,557 new cars.

RECORD SWORDFISH

NEWPORT BEACH, Cal.—A world record marlin was caught here by Alfonso H. Hershman, Balboa druggist, in August. It will be placed on exhibition at Century of Progress Exposition, Chicago, June 1 to Nov. 1. The giant fish weighed 692 pounds over 200 pounds more than other marlin ever caught in the United States waters, when caught.

Large advertisement for Chesterfield cigarettes. Text: 'A flavor that neither possesses alone. Turkish tobacco is to Cigarettes what Seasoning is to Food. Early in the 17th century, tobacco seed from America was taken to Turkey. Different soil, different climate, different temperatures night and day, and different farming methods produced an entirely new tobacco—small in size, but very rich and aromatic. This tobacco is known generally as Turkish tobacco; but there are as many varieties of Turkish as there are kinds of apples. Four certain spots are famous for the quality of their Turkish tobacco—Xanthi and Cavalla in Greece; Samsoun and Smyrna in Turkey. And it is principally from these places that our buyers get the Turkish for Chesterfield. These Turkish tobaccos are blended, in just the right amount, with Domestic tobaccos. It is this blending and cross-blending of just the right amount of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos which gives Chesterfield a flavor that neither possesses alone. Chesterfield—the cigarette that's Milder—the cigarette that Tastes Better.'
