KEEPING THROUGH THE KNOTHOLE

By BILL MAYES

How often a newspaper editor is "on the spot," either for something he does or for something he does not do. If a certain piece of news is published some day, it should not have been published. Then, when a story is published, it is thought that it is good, but it is not. It is someone who was innocent, connected with the case might be injured, others complain because all the details are not run.

Recently we received an anonymous letter concerning the city commission. Anonymous letters usually find their way into an editor's waste-basket quicker than a postmaster can be reprimanded by a postmaster.

The letter in question contained a question that might have been asked in the minds of others. We decided to answer it as best we could. We were afraid that if we might offend someone, we might come in for more or less criticism if we did what we thought the city commissioners should approve.

Both Jameson and I complimented us on the saying that it "hit the nail head" and that it answered the question that had been asked. We were surprised, because we were sure that it was not.

We are still open to criticism from someone, but we do not feel that it can be. We are still open to criticism from someone, but we do not feel that it can be.

in the meantime everyone stated over the "million-dollar" editor of the Carbon Mesquite which came like a call of enthusiasm over the news that they had read now. And the rain seems to be pretty general over this part of the state.

These qualifying rounds have been held for some time now. The course should be well shaped by this afternoon for all we know. Connected with the club, or at least all we know, is that the annual invitation tournament is still on the cards. The $250 worth of prizes, which were announced by A. G. probably is covered by the club. It is not yet decided whether or not the prize money will be well as the effort of winning.

Lions Inspect Power Plant At Olden Lake Today

Members of the Ranger Lions club journeyed to the Leon Power plant today, where they enjoyed a joint meeting of the Ranger and Eastland clubs, sponsored by the power company.

The Lions left early, meeting at the plant at 12:15, where dinner was served. Following the meal, which was enjoyed by everyone present, an inspection tour of the plant was featured on the program.

This inspection tour proved both interesting and educational to the Lions from the two clubs, many of whom had only a vague idea as to how electricity was produced and transported to the home of the consumer, or to the motors of the industries using the service.

The explanation of the workings of a large power plant were explained in terms that could be understood by the layman and the whole trip proved to be interesting to all.

Tomorrow the Ranger Rotarians will be entertained with a similar trip of inspection through the plant. The Rotarians are to meet at the office of the chamber of commerce at 11:45 and will make the trip to the Olden Lake and the Leon Power plant in a group.

The Flatwoods meeting will be held at the church and will begin at 10:30 a. m. It will be the last meeting of this season, the next meeting being in September. Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland is president of the organization.

J. P. MORGAN INCOME TAX BEING PROBED

(Copyright 1933 by United Press)

WASHINGTON, May 16.—J. P. Morgan's income tax returns, the United Press learned today, are being studied by a senate banking committee investigator.

Returns of his partners in the great international banking firm also are being examined. It is believed likely the information obtained will be introduced early in the committee's investigation of the bank's operations, scheduled to begin next week.

One of the purposes of the committee's general inquiry into banking and stock market practices is to turn the spotlight on loopholes in the income tax law and to devise legislation to plug them up.

Charges Andrew Mellon also avoided heavy taxes by selling stocks at a loss and later buying them back through a corporation controlled by his family, are being studied by the justice department. Returns of other wealthy persons also are being investigated.

AUSTIN, May 16.—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today signed the congressional redistricting bill, fixing the 21 congressional districts in Texas. Failure to redistrict resulted in the election of three congressmen-at-large at the last election.

Complications have resulted from the governor's signature of the bill. Late yesterday the state senate passed a substitute redistricting bill, changing three East Texas counties. It is awaiting house action.

Free Trip To Chicago Fair Being Offered

By United Press

WASHINGTON, May 16.—President Roosevelt struck two smashing blows for peace today. In a call that range around the world he addressed an open message directly to the heads of 54 governments, including Soviet Russia. He called upon them to pledge themselves not to move any armed forces across their frontiers. He urged immediate reduction of offensive armaments. He warned that any nation refusing to cooperate would have to assume responsibility for such obstruction before the civilized world.

He followed this appeal with a message to congress cast in sharp, terse words. He transmitted the text of his world appeal to congress for its information and added: "The way to disarm is to disarm. The way to prevent invasion is to make it impossible."

Thus in two history-making utterances, one to the world and one to the American Congress, Mr. Roosevelt seized the leadership in a war threatening crisis. His action was intended to mobilize world opinion against those who, for selfish ends, would plunge everyone over another precipice.

Significantly he struck his mighty blows, not the eve of the speech which Chancellor Hitler is to make tomorrow to Germany. "I was impelled to this action," Mr. Roosevelt told congress, "because it has become increasingly evident that the assurance of the world's political and economic peace and stability is threatened by selfish and short sighted policies, action and threats of action."

President Roosevelt believed the menace of war can be removed if fear of attack is removed. He broke a precedent in including in his message a threat of action among the sovereigns to whom his message went.

Aside from the vital questions at stake, this feature of the message attracted more comment than any other, for many saw in it the beginning of a resumption of relations with Russia, after more than a decade of official aloofness.

HEAVY PENALTIES FOR 'HOT OIL' RUNNERS

Lawmakers should be credited, or rather praised, when they enact good bills, and they should be doubly praised when they slaughter bad bills that work harm to the people and to economic interests of the people.

The American world at large has heard or read a lot about "hot oil" runners and gasoline tax evaders. The Texas senate enacted the house bill to strengthen the enforcement of oil proration by subjecting persistent violators to prison sentences. Place it in the record that the vote was overwhelming. Then the bill was sent back to the house for concurrence in minor senate amendments.

There is a double row of shark teeth in the statute. It would make the violation of proration a misdemeanor, punishable by heavy fine or jail sentence. Subsequent offenses on the part of the same individual or individuals would be felony, punishable by prison sentence from two to four years. There has been a strenuous demand for the enactment of the statute. It has been boldly charged by personages who should know that "hot oil" runners and evaders of the gasoline tax are taking from the state treasury $4,000,000 a year.

Well, the schools need the money. Highway construction needs the money. Idle labor needs jobs. And the people who pay the taxes are entitled to some relief.

SALES TAX KNOCKED OUT BY ILLINOIS COURT

Henry Horner is the democratic governor of Illinois. There is a democratic legislature. A 3 per cent sales tax law was enacted by the legislature and signed by the governor. It has been rejected as unconstitutional by the supreme court of the commonwealth.

It creates a very awkward situation for the democratic administration, as the ruling prevents the Horner government from going ahead with its program of raising an estimated $60,000,000 a year for unemployment relief and school funds by taxes on retail sales.

Anton J. Cermak, the victim of an assassin's bullet while mayor of the city of Chicago, backed the sales tax proposal to the limit. There are thousands of school teachers in the city of Chicago, and the county of Cook and taxpayers owes these teachers millions of dollars.

Now an appeal will be taken to the supreme court of the United States and that court will say the last word as to sales taxes on retail sales.

JOHN TOBIN'S SOUL GOES MARCHING ALONG

Mayor John Tobin of San Antonio died. C. M. Chambers became his successor. Chambers ruled for years and then death called him. C. K. Quin was elected acting mayor. Quin was nominated for re-election. Arthur B. Burnett was the Citizens league candidate. Joseph Burkett was the tax reduction candidate.

Well, Quin, the successor of Chambers, who was the successor of John Tobin, not only won by a tremendous majority, but he carried all four of the commissioners now in office to victory in a landslide.

There you are.

THERE IS MONEY IN THE BIG MITT

Los Angeles capitalists have promised $250,000 plus a per centage to the winner to Prof. Jack Sharkey of Boston to defend his world heavyweight title against the winner of the Baer-Schmeling bout in New York. The educational show is to be pulled off Labor day. Money appears to be easy in the Golden East country on the fringe of the Pacific ocean.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

A definite change is coming over public thinking on the related subjects of trade and unemployment. There is a tendency to emphasize the importance of the purchasing power of the public as a means of stimulating trade and creating more employment.

Connected with this is an uneasy feeling that the economies effected in government—national, state and city—have caused additional contractions in business and more slump in buying power. However, congress, in its wisdom, is working out and talking over additional schemes to solve the many problems with which the farmer and city man are oppressed.

The main problem is how can the farmer and industrialist shake off their debts by disposing of their products, labor and skill at a price big enough to give them a decent living as well as a little profit to spend?

Until that is done we cannot definitely and surely head out of the depression. Hot air gets us nowhere; extreme economy gets us nowhere, but increased buying power will get us somewhere.

Texan Seeks Aid In Building State Highway Program

HOUSTON.—In the interest of securing allotments of federal funds for Texas highway construction as part of this state's portion of the president's public works program, Col. Ike Ashburn, executive manager of the Texas Good Roads association, left Texas for Washington Friday.

The road executive took with him a summary of the appeals from many Texas organizations to national officials, pointing out the fact that Texas, having no large federal public lands, can derive only scattering benefits from the general unemployment program unless highways, her greatest and most urgent need, are included among the improvements.

"We are not objecting to reforestation, flood control and soil erosion work," Colonel Ashburn said. "We merely argue that in the interest of justice this money should be distributed as evenly as possible among the states, in the way that will help the most people and have the greatest reconstructive effect."

"Living in Texas, we are more acutely aware of the magnitude of her road building task. Texas has the largest highway system in America, yet three-fourths of the states are ahead of her in proportionate highway development."

"At the same time, road-building employs more people than any other public activity of the same scope. Road work can begin immediately, any place. The machinery to set it under way is ready and waiting. There is no waste of time or money. Road work puts the laborer to work, at a wage sufficient to sustain his family, right where he is. The job seeks the man, rather than the man traveling to the job. Men go to work on the highway, in the quarry, in the bugging factory, in the sand and gravel pits, in the cement plant, in the steel mill, in the saw-mill, on the railroads.

"As soon as the road is finished, it stands as a valuable asset, helping all business immediately. And the miracle of it is that it is self-liquidating in principle, earning revenue at once through the gas tax."

Doctors Declares 3.2 Beer Better Than Cup Coffee

By United Press
 FORT WORTH.—Beer of the 3.2 variety is a better beverage any day than coffee in the opinion of at least two physicians who attended the state medical convention here.

Coffee-drinking and over-eating will do more harm to this nation than drinking 3.2 beer, even to excess, declared Dr. W. D. Russ, a strict "tee-totaler," San Antonio surgeon and former president of the state medical association.

Dr. C. C. Cody of Houston, gives a bottle of 3.2 beer the tonic properties of a dose of bitters. Dr. Russ believes it may become "depression's tonic."

"If 3.2 beer can do anything to make people adopt a more cheerful and happy attitude, and give them some freedom from the domination of fanatics—who believe that the world is merely a place in which to suffer and be sad in preparation for the next—it will have accomplished wonders," he said.

"It will take many years to overcome the damage wrought by the 18th amendment and for the people to regain their self-respect after having been submitted to the domination of men and women who can think of no better means for making people good than by use of force," Dr. Russ declared.

Many physicians here informally said the new brew possesses certain food values. Few, if any, believed 3.2 beer ever will cause husbands to come home drunk and beat up their wives.

Who Wants a Vacation Trip?

Well, who doesn't want one? Who wouldn't enjoy a week's vacation trip, riding the Greyhound busses, stopping at the best hotels, seeing the side trips, visiting the finest theatres?

And this with ALL EXPENSES PAID!

Many women haven't been able to save money to take a trip this year. Many would like to go but don't feel able to spend the money. Consider this seriously and see how easily and with what little effort you can take a vacation this year without cost to you.

What Do You Have To Do?

All you have to do in this campaign is go out among your friends and ask them to save their votes for you. The merchants who are giving the trip will give votes with every cash purchase and on every payment received on account.

These votes will be given to the person making the purchase or the payment. All you have to do is to collect the votes from among your friends who trade with these merchants, sign your name to the votes and put them in the ballot box.

TWO FREE TRIPS!

Two free trips will be awarded. The woman receiving the highest number of votes in the campaign will be awarded a trip and she will have the privilege of selecting her own companion to accompany her on the trip.

Read the rules! Register as an entrant. Get busy! Get out among your friends and tell them to save their votes for you. You'll be surprised how quickly they'll respond and how much interest everyone will take in the campaign.

Where You Will Go?

A complete schedule will be published just as soon as arrangements can be closed. The Times, with the co-operation of the firms listed below are arranging either for a short stop over in Kansas City or St. Louis, and the entire program will be given just as soon as definite arrangements can be made.

Who Can Go?

You can go! You furnish the time, we furnish everything else! You select your own companion so the trip will not be lonesome, yet it will be congenial.

The dates of the trip will be announced later, for if possible a date will be selected when there'll be something extra going on in some of the places you'll visit, in addition to the fair.

Register Now!

Merchants will start giving votes one week from today. The contest officially opens Tuesday, May 23. Register now at The Times office and be ready to start off with the starting date.

You will be given 5000 votes free to start you off the minute you register as a contestant.

The contest runs until 6 p. m., Tuesday, August 22, at which time the ballot box will be opened, the votes counted and the winner announced.

WASHINGTON—Radio has had another bad day in court, with a jury of American publishers returning a verdict against the practice of giving Associated Press dispatches to broadcasters hours before the news could be set up and printed by member newspapers.

A nation-wide movement protesting against radio programs of a vulgar and sensational character has been started by the Iowa Congress of Parents and Teachers.

This action has given new impetus to P.-T. A. disapproval of certain kinds of programs bordering on the salacious. Parents and teachers are determined to have bawdy jokes and suggestive songs banned from the air by the federal radio commission.

The Halsey Stuart & Co. "Old Counsellor" radio advertising of securities which was assertedly suggested by that bright boy of utilities and broadcasting, Merlin H. Aylesworth, has drawn the fire of Senator Norris.

It is hinted here that the veteran Nebraska solon's voice will be heard against radio advertising when the present congress gets around to taking up that problem.

Subtle attempts by certain American radio interests allied with Europeans to introduce the so-called "American plan" of broadcasting in Great Britain were knocked galley-west the other day when the house of commons, after a three-hour debate, voted overwhelmingly not to allow advertising in British radio programs.

The house registered its belief that the state-owned, non-commercial system of the British Broadcasting corporation is functioning well and should not be tampered with in any way.

"I was not only weak and run-down, but I was nervous," writes Mrs. Ira Prince, of North Little Rock, Ark. "I suffered from pain in my back and sides. I did not rest well at night and would get up in the morning feeling miserable. My mother had taken Cardul with good results and advised me to try it. The first bottle helped me, so I continued taking it until I had taken four bottles. It certainly helped me. My back and sides quit hurting and I rested so much better."

BARGAIN DIZZY

Buying is bewildering these days.

The windows and shelves of many stores are filled with unfamiliar packages bearing "bargain prices" that are temptingly low. Clerks frequently urge you to try something "just as good" as the dependable brands you know and ask for.

But it takes more than a low price to make a bargain! More than a clerk's promise to give you quality!

The safe bargains to buy now are the products made by manufacturers who have reputations to uphold. Brands which you know—either through your own experience or by their advertising.

Remember this whenever you shop:

"Just-as-good" brands must usually be made cheaper to sell for such a cheap price. All too frequently, the only reason they are urged upon you is because they pay maker and dealer more profit than other products which are better known and of better quality.

And don't forget this: Many of the familiar, reliable brands now cost less than they have in years. But only the price is lower. Quality is still high.

Think of these things, and look at the name as well as the price when you buy. Ask for what you want. And insist on getting what you ask for. Then you will always be sure of full value for every penny you spend.

LOVABLE ENIGMAS

THESE puzzles we have married! How disturbingly efficient they are. Patiently they sit across the dinner table from us and listen to our evening complaints—short-handed at the office, chief cranky, customer spoiled golf date, stenographer late, letters misfiled—women have all the best of it! Then they smile riddles.

If you could see the little woman in the morning after you leave for the office! Children to bundle off to school, meals to plan, marketing to do, laundry to send, buttons to put on, tears to mend, dozens of trips to the front and back doors, lunch, squabbles to settle, a cut finger to bandage.

At night, she meets you in a chic little gown you never saw before. Junior struts new shoes. There are towels in the bathroom. There is an unfamiliar and delicious dish to tempt your appetite.

Where does she find time to be company purchasing agent, vice president in charge of cooking, general manager of sewing, teaching and all the rest?

The advertising columns in this paper are her greatest ally. Here is news of new ways, better ways, better things—and at savings she gloats about, but seldom mentions.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY
N.E.A. Service Writer

THE custom of selling fruits and vegetables by the pound is becoming nation-wide. For some time the western states have found this method of marketing to be most practical.

The weight of many fruits and vegetables is an aid in determining the quality of the commodity. Small heads of lettuce or cabbage are heavy if solid and firm through the center. Heavy oranges and grapefruit are sure to be juicy. Fresh products are heavier than wilted ones. Also fewer large apples or potatoes fit into a measure than small ones, often making a half bushel of potatoes weigh less than its prescribed number of pounds. This means a distinct saving in buying by weight.

Bunches Too Variable
"Bunches" and "baskets" are as variable as the "cupful" and the "five-wats-worth" of the past and it is only when a common unit of measurement is applied to fruits and vegetables that price and quality are easily comparable.

The following list will help the housewife in calculating the amounts needed when purchasing by the pound.

DERRICK SHADOWS

There's a lot of talk about using Texas products and spending Texas money if you live within the Lone Star State.

Work the home forces and use the result, urge big men who want to see prosperity emerge and do something other than merely remain evasive.

And don't be wise and evade while the other fellow's doing what you're advocating.

We've already done too much saving, with a result none too kind to even the best of our bank accounts. If there is any bank to have an account.

This isn't 1928 when we inserted proud thumbs beneath glaring suspenders and murmured something about being set for life with property and cash and bonds and other silly, meaningless possessions.

If you have determination and hope and optimism, you own the most important objects of the season. and they tell us the north and east are turning back to happy days, so maybe we'll be next: with something more than a vague newspaper report of prosperity.
