WILL GET PLANE REPAIRED AT KRASNOYARSK

Report He Was Downed Did Not Get Out Until This Morning.

BIELOVO, Siberia, June 8.—James J. Mattern's departure from this out-of-the-way and uncharted stop on his solo flight around the world, was delayed tonight by a heavy storm.

Although he planned to depart early tonight, the weather forced him to delay his take-off until at least 1 a. m. Moscow time (6 p. m. EDT.)

Mattern said he was feeling fit, despite the effect of gas fumes which he inhaled when his motor went wrong enroute here from Omsk.

Mattern's flight was halted temporarily by a mishap which forced him off his course and down at this mining town.

Mattern fixed up his plane temporarily and had planned to take off at 8 p. m. Moscow time (1 p. m. EDT) probably for Krasnoyarsk, on the trans-Siberian railway, 325 miles east of here.

17 PER CENT RISE IN FARMER'S PRICES

Statisticians of the federal bureau of agricultural economics in their latest bulletin point to a 17 per cent rise in farm prices for the period April 15 to May 15. This information is added for the edification or information of all concerned: "This the most sensational spiral since the post-war boom days of April 10." Furthermore, the very gratifying information is given by the bureau that the upward swing has continued since that date. Statisticians of the bureau, who computed the increase on the basis of prices paid farmers at their local markets declare that during the 30 day period the prices paid by farmers for goods have remained unchanged at the pre-war level.

According to figures gathered by Raymond Brooks, of this paper's Austin Bureau, the increase in Texas commodity wealth approximated $110,000,000, and this represented a gain in excess of $100 per family for the entire state. More important than all, according to the Brooks contribution to "cheerful large earfuls" the gains "amount to nearly one-fourth the total value of the same quantity of products in 1932." All this new wealth is represented by crops, livestock, wool and mohair. According to the monthly business review of the federal reserve bank at Dallas the April sales of department stores in leading cities reflects a further gain of 21 per cent and were only 2 per cent less than in the same month last year. The review states that increased activity of business and industry and the further strengthening of confidence were outstanding developments in the federal reserve district during the past 30 days.

A factor of considerable importance has been the re-appearance of substantial forward buying in some lines and collections reflected a substantial improvement. Watch the ticker. It tells the stories of flurries and flops—or rather the tale of high lows and low highs as ancient Time goes racing along.

WORLD WHEAT RESTRICTION PLAN

President Roosevelt and his advisers hope that an agreement can be reached in the city of London for the control of world wheat production by the time the world economic conference gets under way June 15. Well, there is a fly in the ointment. Stanley M. Bruce, the Australian high commissioner, announced at the first formal session of the four power wheat conference in London that his government could not participate in a proposed international scheme for limiting production of the cereal. Of course, it is expected that the United States and Canada will agree to a most drastic cut in wheat acreage. Argentina is another important wheat producing nation and the Argentine spokesman, expressed his willingness to cooperate to the fullest extent with the great wheat producing countries for solving the question of world grain surplus. There are 38 wheat producing countries. But the United States, Canada, Argentina, Soviet Russia, and Australia lead all the rest in acreage and productivity. "It is a long road to Tipperary."

STEEL PRODUCTION ON THE HIKE

Steel ingot production has continued its rise to 41 per cent capacity compared to 36 per cent capacity in the previous week. Figures were taken from The Iron Age magazine of May 31. Since the third week in March production schedules have shown an uninterrupted advance. Remarkable upswings in tin plate demand has brought the output of the product up to 90 per cent of capacity with full operations likely to be obtained within a week. Continued expansion of specifications indicated sustained production for at least two months. Watch the ticker. It tells the story.

Real effort is essential to success.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

THAT it pays to be courteous.
 The rights of others should be respected.
 You should not criticize your neighbors too much until you are sure you are right—you might be wrong.
 You should not dig up troubles; they come fast enough anyway.
 You should not impose upon others if you don't want them to impose upon you.
 You shouldn't boast—you might not always make good.
 A whole lot of people in every city are asleep and need some prodding.
 Some cities should bear in mind that visitors to their city come to spend money—not to have it taken away from them.
 In some cities the principal thing handed a visitor is a cold shoulder.
 When visitors are treated rough they usually go away knockers.
 Most cities have an over supply of knockers at home. No use making a lot of out-of-town ones.

HEIGH HO-IT'S A GREAT LIFE!

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—A new kind of lobbyist—no one thought there was any such thing—has appeared in Washington.

Soon there may be 47 others here with assignments corresponding to that of Frederic P. Lee who has been appointed by Governor Albert C. Ritchie to see to it that Maryland gets at least her share of the billions of dollars which the federal government is going to distribute among the states.

Lee is a lawyer who knows how to deal with government agencies and legislative bodies. Ritchie long a staunch advocate of states' rights and local responsibility took the attitude that if relief and other money were to be handed out from Washington his state should let no grass grow under her feet while moving toward the treasury.

GOV. RITCHIE explained: "The federal relief program is on so vast a scale and involves so many different pieces of legislation which require departmental construction that it seems to me Maryland is fully justified in employing a competent representative in Washington to keep in constant touch with the entire relief program and with the departments which will be charged with carrying it out and allotting the federal funds."

When this was a smaller job it was left to state senators and representatives and occasional visiting delegations. Now it's fairly certain that Maryland's course will inspire or compel other states to appoint their own lobbyists.

The chief immediate interests of official state lobbyists will be the $500,000,000 available for unemployment relief grants, the $3,300,000,000 in the public works program, R. F. C. loans to states and cities and loans under the farm relief and home mortgage acts.

THE first application laid before Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins under the $500,000,000 federal relief appropriation was that of Colorado. Senator Edward P. Costigan of Colorado was in communication with Hopkins before the latter reached his desk, insisting that his state was in an especially critical position because the old R. F. C. relief loan funds had run out at about the same time as Colorado's.

It seemed fair enough that Costigan should get there first, since he was the senator who long ago had demanded the out-right relief grants which President Hoover had opposed so bitterly. The present relief grant bill came to be known as the Wagner bill before it was passed, despite the fact that Senator Bob Wagner of New York had vigorously opposed grants in the previous Congress and the further fact that the new act is approximately the old Costigan-LaFollette plan.

Men aren't the only ones who know Luckies are better

We women know that there's always a good reason for everything. And when a cigarette is so unusually mild, so pure and fine-tasting as Luckies are—what other reason but "Toasting" could there be? No man has to tell me that fine tobaccos play an important part—but Luckies please me completely in still another way. My cigarette is still a personal thing—when I place it between my lips I want to be sure not to offend my sense of feminine daintiness. You men have your reasons for saying "Luckies Please!"—but with me it's the welcome purity as well as the flavor and mildness that "Toasting" imparts.

Ford V-8 Establishes Good Record On An Economy Test Run

In an economy test run, held recently at Bartlesville, Okla., a new Ford V-8 tudor sedan set up the remarkable record of an average of 18.8 miles per gallon of fuel for 10,954.3 miles, according to Florida Leveille of the Leveille-Maher Motor company. The run was sponsored by the Bartlesville Daily Enterprise.
Packed into the run were more miles than the average driver covers in a year's time. The run was made under all kinds of weather conditions including heavy rain and winds. Temperatures reached as high as 94 degrees.
Operating at a speed of 50 miles or more per hour over good and bad roads, up and down hills, through rain, fog and mud, it averaged 13.7 miles per gallon, using Phillips 66 oil and gasoline for the entire trip. No oil was added between 1,000-mile changes and not one cent expended for repairs.
In view of the hot weather and grueling pace set, a remarkable feature was that no water was added to the radiator during the entire trip. All points on the itinerary were reached on scheduled time.
The Ford V-8 proved unusual economy of operation and ability to withstand the most grueling abuse. Drivers were high in their praises of the comfort, handling ease and performance of the car.
For 10 days and nights the car was on the road. The route included the cities of Tulsa, Guthrie, Oklahoma City, El Reno, Enid, Ponca City and other points, and was so arranged that the car was kept on the road 23 hours out of every 24, coming into Bartlesville at the end of each thousand miles, for lubrication and oil change.

By V. MARIE STEPHENS

Inter-Eastland-Ranger:
Two girls, overall clad and grinning, thumbing it Abileneward. Papa and mama stalked some 60 yards behind... practicing the same art of travel.
Just one big, happy happy family bumping through life. The Lord helps those who have enough self-interest to help themselves. Maybe they caught that ride. I don't know. They hadn't 15 minutes later.

The tourist season is upon us. One car boasted three rolls of something or other on the back, a baby carriage hanging perilously from a dangling rope, three bags, and a car trunk.
We'll say they were Chicago-bound. It sounds so festive. Much more so than Fort Worth. Even the most drab of us wander into the cow town now and then. The man at the wheel wears colored glasses and a slightly frayed cap, noticeable even across the highway. He looked very much like a depression-hit owl. Travel brings out the best in the best of us... makes us see ourselves as our best friends judge.

Among those globe-trotters who infest the Bankhead highway, trudged a little man with a doctor's kit dangling from an apparently lifeless hand.
The medical profession is leveling down on a plane with lawyers and undertakers and would-be-carpenters.
A freight train chugging by, laden with the cargo of life. Sixty-nine boys and men adorned the rough boxes. The things reeked with inactivity.
A cat crouched by a barbed-wire fence, watching with big, disturbed eyes. The feline instinct was probably temporarily paralyzed. Not a mew in furry observation.
A highway home and housewife being word-mauled by a pestle-lugging peddler. All sympathy to the little woman. He came our way, too.
Some of these fellows have to be shut up, some of them shut out. Happy is he who peddles unwanted goods who sees disinterested and meets it like a man.
A traveling salesman with car trouble, impatiently awaiting assistance. The sun went behind a cloud for a minute. Horrified, no doubt. The air seemed rather thick around the car.
Heavy trucks thundering past. Bringing back the rumble of the oil days... and iron graveyards adorn the fields. They sell it, use it, let it lie.
College boys going home. Bags plastered with bright stickers, their hats sitting on tousoed heads. "So this," their attitude grumbles, "is the wages of education."

GOD'S GOODNESS
God knew that we must sorrow,
So He sent the lovely flowers;
As a promise of tomorrow,
After weary, earthly hours.
God knew we'd have temptations,
So He sent the warming sun,
As a silent meditation,
As reward of bottles won.
God knew we must have happiness,
So He sent a little child,
A pledge of His true tenderness,
So pure and undefiled.
Our God above is very good,
He does so much for us,
How safe we'd be if we would,
In Him forever trust.
—MRS. MARY LEE GALLEY.
