Kidnaper Hunt Spurred by Reward

Business men of St. Paul, Minn., have offered rewards of $30,000 for apprehension of the kidnapers of William Hamm, Jr., wealthy brewer, shown here, right, as he returned after payment of ransom. He is shaking hands with W. W. Dunn, brewery business manager, who negotiated with the kidnapers.

NATIONS NOT TO DISPUTE MONEY VALUE

LONDON, June 23.—The big nations are not going to engage in a currency struggle, despite the refusal of the United States to consider immediate stabilization, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, president of the world economic conference, announced today.

He made an important statement to the international press not long after an informal conference with Secretary of State Hull at which the foundation for Anglo-American cooperation were believed to have been laid.

MacDonald declared with the greatest emphasis that the conference would not adjourn and that work would proceed at full speed. He indicated his belief that the final success of the conference depends on eventual stabilization.

Takes Helm of U. S. Land Bank

Sheriff Jack Killingsworth, above, of Bolivar, Mo., was kidnaped by "Pretty Boy" Floyd, famous southern bandit, and carried 500 miles through Missouri as a hostage before being released. This picture was taken when Killingsworth returned to his home.

FOUR ESCAPED BOYS BACK AT GATESVILLE

GATESVILLE, Texas, June 23.—Four badly frightened and un-nerved boys were held in county jail here today, within shouting distance of the big state reformatory from which they fled Wednesday after one of their number had slain the blacksmith foreman to get keys to his automobile.

The boys, two of whom are reported to be 16 years old and therefore immune from prosecution in Texas on murder charges, were brought here today from Meridian after they had been caught.

District Attorney Cornell Robinson filed murder charges against the quartet—Grady Applegate of Wood county, Willard Scott of Oklahoma City, James Anderson of Fort Worth, and Clarence Raines of Centerville—yesterday before they had been captured.

Robertson said he was not certain if he would demand the charges and would determine action after interviewing the boys.

Scott, according to Robinson, has allegedly confessed to wielding the ax with which Will Leonard, 48, blacksmith foreman, was slain. The youth, according to reformatory records, is 17 years old and has a reputation of being in-trouble.

Applegate is also 17 years old and the other two boys 16, the records disclosed.

The district attorney said feeling against the boys had lessened and no violence was feared. He said the case would be given the grand jury, which convenes the second week in July.

Sheriff Seized By "Pretty Boy"

Albert S. Goss, above, is the new commissioner of the Federal Land Bank, appointed by President Roosevelt to succeed Paul Bostor, resigned. Mr. Goss is an authority on farm financing and co-operative marketing. His home is in Seattle.

ONE FOURTH OF CROPS WILL BE DESTROYED

Estimated Amount To Be Paid To Farmers Is $4,000,000 To $5,000,000.

FT. WORTH, June 23.—County agents from eight surrounding counties at a meeting today heard a outline of the program for putting the federal cotton acreage reduction measure in effect in this state.

The plan was explained by district agricultural agent G. W. Orms, who conferred yesterday with federal administrator C. A. Cobb, of Dallas.

At least one-fourth of the present cotton acreage of Texas is to be plowed up or covered by the option plan, Orms said. The present acreage has been estimated at around 15,000,000 acres.

The cotton must be inspected by a county committee before and after it is plowed up Orms said. Estimates on the production of the acreage, on the basis of the price to be paid, is to be based on the average of the last four or five years, he said. In event of dispute over production, the county committee will refer the matter to federal inspectors. The federal plan, he said, will bring between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 to Texas, the first of which will start circulating next month.

Counties represented at the meeting were Wise, Montague, Parker, Hood, Palo Pinto, Somervell, Johnson and Tarrant.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 23.—Secretary of Agriculture Wallace today warned farmers they must restrict production or the government attempt to lift the price structure of agriculture commodities "will have been built on sand."

Discussing the farm relief act, he said it was a framework and would not endure unless the farmers wished it to, through cooperation.

Pressure Cooking School to Be Held At Ward's Next Week

Housewives of Ranger and this vicinity will have an opportunity to attend a free pressure cooking school to be sponsored next week by Montgomery Ward's Ranger store at which all the latest and most modern methods will be demonstrated.

Mr. Elmore, who has had much experience in this modern method of cooking, will hold classes beginning Monday afternoon at 3:30. Classes will also be conducted each afternoon at the same hour. Ladies from over the entire section of the country are invited to attend and learn these new ideas in cooking.

Windsor pressure cookers, which are sold only at Ward stores, will be used throughout the demonstration. These cookers are approved by the Good Housekeeping Institute, by the department of agriculture, and by the National Cancer Association.

Housewives and students in cooking school classes are particularly invited to see the demonstration of cooking, when complete meals will be prepared in 10 minutes and the taste of food improved with all juices, vitamins and mineral salts retained.

The bridge tourney will be at 2:00 p. m., at Cisco Country Club, followed by a dance at 9:00 o'clock that night.

Socialists and Communists Hide Out in Germany

BERLIN, June 23.—Socialists joined Communists in hiding throughout Germany today as Nazi storm troopers and local authorities began rigid enforcement of the cabinet decree outlawing the socialist party, second largest in Germany.

While the United States will not withdraw from the economic conference, the administration feels its chief hope is that other nations can be induced to concentrate in a similar way upon their internal recovery.

The Roosevelt administration is determined nothing shall hinder its drive at home. If the London conference can agree on any measures that will facilitate that program, so much the better.

Employment Is On the Increase

WASHINGTON, June 23.—More than 495,000 persons returned to work in May and "there is reason to believe that foundations for an upturn may be forming," the American Federation of Labor said today. The federation estimated that unemployment had declined by 1,200,000 since March 1.

Eastland Dries Hold Meeting

A big committee meeting was held in the Eastland Baptist church Thursday night, called by Dr. Atticus Webb for the purpose of forming a permanent organization for Eastland that will go into the fight against the repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Rev. O. E. Darby, pastor of the Baptist church, served as temporary chairman.

Committees present represented the Baptist, Methodist, Christian, Nazarene, Presbyterian, and Church of God.

About 20 were present. The chair appointed as nominating committee who will recommend officers for a permanent organization, F. V. Williams, chairman; Earl Bender, J. C. Allison, Bert McGillemey, and W. B. E. Owen.

This committee will call a meeting when a report is ready to be made.

Special Trains to Haul Veterans

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Special trains will bring hundreds of Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States to the 1933 national encampment here, Aug. 27 to Sept. 1.

Reports from national headquarters at Kansas City, Mo., indicate a record attendance. There will be members of the V. F. W. Auxiliary and the Military Order of the Coote—fun degree of the organization.

Scout Troop Goes On Fishing Trip

Scoutmaster B. S. Lemma, Assistant Scoutmaster Raymond Steele and 26 scouts of Troop 10 went on their annual fishing trip Thursday night, returning to Ranger Friday morning.

The group went to Miller's lake, where swimming, fishing, boating and frog catching was enjoyed by the boys and their leaders. Some of the boys spent most of the night fishing, while some caught bullfrogs and had frog legs for breakfast this morning. Several nice fish were caught by the scouts and those who did not make a catch had a good time.

The troop today expressed its thanks to Fire Chief G. A. Murphy for helping out with the transportation problem by hauling the boys and their equipment to the lake.

Tonight all the boys of Troop 10 are urged to meet at the troop cabin on the street for a meeting at which a surprise is promised. After the meeting those present are to go swimming.

Thirty Injuries In Indiana Explosion

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 23.—Thirty six persons were rushed to hospitals here today after a terrific warehouse explosion which released clouds of chlorine gas.

Nones of those taken to the hospital were believed seriously injured. Several were children, and troops from Fort Harrison equipped with gas masks, threw a cord on about an area of several blocks and worked feverishly to move residents.

Science Scraps Branding Iron

FORT WORTH.—Science is rapidly replacing the hot branding iron of the old west.

A few years more and there will be no plaintive bawling as a sizzling, red-hot iron is pressed against a young steer's flank.

Instead, there will be a cold iron, dipped into a chemical and applied to the yearling. A few days after this application, the chemical, without pain to the animal, will have eaten away the hair, turned the red skin to white and produced permanently the owner's mark.

This new method, introduced by Dr. O. M. Franklin, of Amarillo, Texas, has been tried successfully. The round-up and branding of cattle has been one of the pursuits of the ranch around which much of the lore of the West has radiated.

Branding came into existence in the earliest days of cattle ranching in the West. Ranchers created it to offset the work of "rustlers." The brand served as an identification mark. The rancher could walk into the rustler's camp, if he dared, and identify his stock.

Governors Office Is Crowded Daily

AUSTIN.—Not since the early days of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson's administration has her office been so crowded as in the recent two weeks.

The outer office daily presents a scene almost like those so common in January until former Governor Jim Ferguson told the crowds there were no jobs to be had.

Now there is again some prospect of employment being at the governor's disposal. Wholesale changes in the highway department personnel are not unlikely. The Texas rehabilitation and relief commission is an expanding organization. Its work is calling for increased forces.

The governor's announced policy of leniency toward convicts with good records, particularly liquor law offenders, bring a horde of clemency seekers to the office.

Many members of the legislature are also among the governor's visitors. They are here for follow-up work on bills they put through the legislature. They come to urge the governor to approve them. Some are summoned to answer objections made to their bills.

Hunt for Slayers of Co-ed Continues

BRYAN, Tex., June 23.—The hunt for the slayers of Ledelle Hammond, Baylor University student and for the attacker of her escort and fiancée, Ervin Conway, continued today clothed in secrecy.

Ranger Captain E. H. Hammond, a near relative of the girl, brought two suspects of the slaying here from Dallas last night and after they had been viewed by Conway, left for an unannounced destination.

Local officers who had turned the shooting case over to the veteran Ranger, said Capt. Hammond indicated he would take the pair to Houston.

Bicycle Ride Leads To Damage Suit

FORT WORTH.—A bicycle ride has led to a $960 damage suit in court here. E. J. McCann alleged his son James Clark, 17, was injured when he was thrown from his bicycle. The accident was blamed on a bicycle company for faulty repair of the wheel.

Canada Plans Labor Session

MONTREAL.—An effort to rally all Canadian provinces in a huge inter-provincial conference at Ottawa to study the enactment of uniform legislation limiting the hours of labor in trade and industry, is to be made by the Quebec Government.

The conference, which is hoped, will take place in September or October, will have as a basis for its deliberations, Quebec's Limitation of Hours and Labor Act, adopted during the last session of the Provincial Legislature.

The Quebec Government already has undertaken the enforcement of this act. After a conference between Department of Labor officials and employers and employees recently, it decreed that the act will first be extended to the building trades in the District of Montreal. The decree limits the number of hours of employment in that industry at 40 a week.

Eventually, it is hoped to extend the law to trade and industry at large, thus assuring a larger number of workers employed.

Man Confessed After 33 Years

MEMPHIS.—Thirty three years Dixie Butler carried with him the secret of an unsolved murder in Sardin, Miss., then he went to the police here and revealed it.

Butler, who lived under an assumed name of Frank Cooley, voluntarily told officers of a crap game in Sardin 33 years ago. Jim Gillespie, a white man, and, according to the negro, Gillespie grabbed a quarter that belonged to Butler. A gun battle followed and Butler said he killed Gillespie and then fled.

The murder never was solved, until the confession of Butler, now 68 years old.

Saddle, Harness Is Stolen From Baker at Carbon

Walter Baker, who lives east of Carbon was in Eastland Thursday to report to the sheriff's department the theft of a saddle and some harness which were taken from his barn sometime during Wednesday night. The saddle, which was valued at about $75 when new had on it the manufacturer's brand as well as some identifying marks made by Mr. Baker. The harness was almost new, because Mr. Baker had recently lost his harness by theft and had bought more. He had reported the theft to officers at Gorman and at Eastland giving them a description of the missing articles.

Hope For Safety of Mattern Held

SEATTLE, Wash., June 23.—Hope for the safety of Jimmy Mattern, round-the-world flyer missing in the Arctic, was revived today with the report of Edward Stevens, amateur wireless operator here, that he picked up a message from the radio operator of a Russian vessel in which the word "airplane" was used.

Stevens said the message was in Russian and was unintelligible except for the word airplane and the code signal for "I have traffic for you." It was established the message came from the northern tip of Siberia.

Mattern's flight would have taken him near the vicinity where the radio flash was sent.

Eastland Post Office Building To Be Considered

A letter from Dr. H. B. Tanner, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, to Silliman Evans, Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, in regard to the post office building for Eastland brought the information that all data concerning this building had been filed with the Inter Departmental Building Committee and that he personally would take the matter up with L. W. Roberts Jr., of the committee at the next meeting.

One of Oldest Legal Directories Found By Texan

DALLAS.—One of the oldest legal directories in Texas has been found by Berry B. Cobb, Dallas archivist, among the papers of his father, Joseph L. Cobb, a Sherman attorney from 1880-1913.

The aged, 188-page document is entitled L. H. Plank's "Texas Legal Directory," published in 1882. It contains three advertisements.

One for Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, a volume containing 118,000 words. The dictionary now contains over 400,000. Another revealed the subscription rate for the New York Weekly World, an eight-page newspaper, was $1 a year.

The Houston Daily and Weekly Post advertised a year's subscription for $10.

MUG PUFFBALL FOUND

EUGENE, Ore.—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wallace found a puffball which weighed seven pounds, was 36 inches in circumference and 12 inches across. Convolutions gave the ball the look of a giant's brain. Frank Sipe, assistant professor of botany at the University of Oregon, said the ball was edible and that a good many steaks could be smothered, but no one had the terminology to cook and eat it.

Rep. Blanton 'Survives 65th Attack' Given Tribute by House Colleagues

Congressman Thos. L. Blanton of Abilene, expected home in the next few days from the historic session of congress, "survived the sixty-fifth consecutive attack" made on him by the Washington Daily Herald, according to one of his closing speeches as it appears in the Congressional Record, copies of which have been received here.

The Herald for months has been lambasting the Abilene congressman because he opposed certain appropriations and prerogatives which the Herald thought the capital city ought to have. For years a member of the district committee of the house, which rules the District of Columbia, Blanton was called "the mayor of Washington." Now, as a member of the all-powerful appropriations committee, his influence in the district is stronger than ever.

Tributes

In the midst of a speech reviewing the work of the appropriations committee, Blanton was interrupted by Rep. Byrns of Tennessee, democratic majority leader of the house, who paid this tribute to the Texan.

MR. BYRNS. The gentleman has paid a very high compliment to the several members of the Appropriations Committee, all of which every Member of the House knows is deserved. Of course, the gentleman is too modest to speak of his own efforts upon that committee, but I want to say that I served with the gentleman for two years upon that committee, and there is no more vigilant member of the committee in the interest of saving money for them than the gentleman from Texas (Mr. Blanton). We all know that the gentleman, in the course of his service, has saved multiplied millions for the people and that he gives close and valuable attention to this legislation. (Applause.)

Resuming his speech, Judge Blanton was presently interrupted by Rep. Boylan of New York, with whom he has had several "run-ins" over prohibition and other issues. Rep. Boylan said:

MR. BOYLAN. I would like to say that the people of his district are fortunate in having so able a Representative as you, sir, and I trust that they will keep sending you here for years. (Applause.)

From Cannon

The tributes to the Texan were topped off by a speech from Rep. Cannon of Illinois, who said:

Mr. Speaker, there is one of the many virtues of the gentleman from Texas which I think should be particularly emphasized at this time. That is his absolute fairness. The local press may have taken occasion from time to time to criticize him for advocating reductions in appropriations for the benefit of the District which he considered excessive or extravagant. I hope it will not overlook the fact that he has been just as ready to oppose reductions in appropriations which he considered unjustified. His fairness in this respect and his friendship for the District are shown by an item in this report. When the bill came back from the Senate it carried an amendment reducing the appropriation for the traffic department from $45,000 to $10,000. It was an unreasonable cut, but we were in a position where it would have been accepted but for the staunch objection of the gentleman from Texas, who insisted that in justice to the city of Washington the service could not be adequately maintained if the amendment was agreed to, and on his insistence the original appropriation was restored. The city of Washington and the taxpayers of Washington have no better friend than the gentleman from Texas (Mr. Blanton). He insists on rigid economy in all Government expenditures, but he is just as insistent on adequate provision for all legitimate functions of government.

Let me repeat what I have said many times before both publicly and privately: The gentleman from Texas is, in my opinion, one of the most valuable men who ever sat in the American Congress, and the country as a whole owes a debt of gratitude to his constituents who year after year send him back defending the public interest. (Applause.)

Kelvinator Price Will Go Up On Wednesday, June 28

DETROIT, June 23.—Having been in effect 90 days instead of the 40-day period at first announced, Kelvinator corporation's low price schedule will go up on June 28, it was announced today by George W. Mason, chairman of the board and president of the company.

Pointing out that Kelvinator had reduced prices to the lowest level in the company's 19 years of existence last March, Mr. Mason explained that the reduction was made possible by the possession of raw materials purchased at unusually low prices and was guaranteed only for so long as material costs were down.

"The price of raw materials has gone up," Mr. Mason said, "and our prices must go up also because it is against the policy of this company to cheapen its product and sacrifice quality to meet a low price."

While this price increase is effective immediately, Mr. Mason stated that his company will not object to any dealer selling models now on hand at the old prices, passing on to his customers the benefits gained by having purchased before the increase.

"We are not sorry that conditions have led us to this price raise," Mr. Mason said. "The fact that a remarkable increase in public buying this spring has caused prices generally to react upward is an excellent indication of rapid improvement in business conditions. Higher prices mean better times for everyone, and we are glad that the day of price buying is coming to a close. It is the best indication that the United States is getting back on its feet economically."

PARIS STYLES

By Mary Knight
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS.—The fashionable audience attending the first Paris concert given by Lily Pons, vest-pocket prima donna of the New York Metropolitan and the Teatro Colon of Buenos Aires, was as much of a sartorial success as the diminutive diva herself. In the intermission the foyer of the Salle Pleyel was a glittering sea of diamonds, furs and brilliant fabrics fashioned into the smartest creations.

One costume which attracted so much attention that its wearer was forced to don her cloak and return to her seat, was of black silk velvet, held together back and front by a single strip of material. In front two triangles of velvet were cut from the bodice, leaving nothing more than a small brassiere attached to a lower triangle, the point of which met the center of the brassiere and the other two points continued around to the back where they tied in a knot. The entire dorsal surface was exposed save for the strip across the shoulder blades which fastened the brassiere.

Words to Decorate Library Ceiling

AUSTIN—Words, not just paint and varnish, will decorate the long ceiling beams of the east reading room of the University of Texas new library building, if the building committee's proposal is adopted.

Notable passages from the world's best literature will be inscribed on the beams under the tentative plan. The proposed quotations will vary in subject from books to God, in source from the Bible to Texas' own Mirabeau B. Lamar.

Dr. W. J. Battie, committee chairman, explained the inscriptions would carry out the educational scheme of the building. Typical quotations follow: "For a jolly good book whereon to look, is better to me than gold."—John Wilson.

"Wisdom is the principal thing."—Prov. 4:7.

"Meditate upon the words which I have spoken unto thee, that thou mayest prosper, and increase, and be successful in all thy ways."—Deut. 2:10.

"They shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning-hooks; nation shall not lift sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."—Isaiah 2:4.

SNAKE ADOPTED AS PET

MONROE, La.—Proving that there's no accounting for tastes, George R. Valley has acquired another pet. Of course it's a snake—this time a ground rattler, about a month old. Valley is hoping it will soon grow into a mature snakehead. In the past he has kept and fondled scorpions, copperheads, cottonmouths, blue runners, land moccasins, garter and green snakes.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

SAFE STEPS: The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord: and he delighteth in his way.

WINE PROPOSAL UP IN THE AIR

California grape growers and the wine makers, speaking through Rep. Lea, introduced a bill to legalize the manufacture and sale of 11 to 12 per cent wine. It is said that the measure had the backing of William Gibbs McAdoo. Well, the house ways and means committee voted 11 to 9 to postpone consideration of the Lea bill until the January regular session. This measure had powerful pro backing.

Major A. V. Dalrymple gave a very flattering endorsement to the proposal. He is a lifelong pro; he is an anti-repeal; he is the federal prohibition administrator. He recommended the enactment of the measure as something "that would increase respect for the 18th amendment," that it would have permitted public sale of naturally fermented wines which now may be manufactured in homes and the government would have taxed the new measure 20 cents a gallon. As drafted the Lea bill would have forbidden the addition of sugar to increase the alcoholic content.

Texasans are reminded that there will be a tremendous vote cast in August on the repeal measure as well as the measure to legalize 3.2 beer. Veteran political prognosticators are forecasting a total ranging all the way from 800,000 to a million.

And the final showdown will take place in the closing month of dog day time. It is a free-for-all campaign and election. It is a non-partisan issue. It is a contest that will smash party lines, so to speak. It will divide families and communities. It concerns the final finish of "the noble experiment."

BANKER SISSON AS AN ADVISER

Francis H. Sisson of New York is the president of the American Bankers association. Members of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce in annual convention in the metropolis of America were told by President Sisson that "industry has received a green light and can be expected to make steady progress if not interfered with by traffic officers. Buying power of the country has been increased by 14 billion dollars as the result of activity in the security market in the last few months."

Well, on March 4 the traffic officers commanded by Herbert Hoover marched out and a new brigade commanded by Franklin D. Roosevelt marched in. Red light signals have been cast aside and green light signals by night and rainbow signs by day are "the cheerful little earfuls" that are speeding the passing show marchers on their way.

Banker Sisson should join the ranks of the passing show and do his share of the hiking toward the top of Prosperity Hill.

LONDON CONFERENCE OF WHEAT GROWERS

A conference of delegates from the wheat growing countries of the world is in session in the city of London "in an attempt to reconcile their views of what should be done to raise prices."

This republic sent delegates. Australia and Argentina sent delegates. Canada sent delegates.

London dispatches indicate the United States delegates favor limited production and Prime Minister Bennett of Canada has taken kindly to the United States viewpoint. Australian delegates are opposed to restriction of acreage. Delegates representing Argentina are as silent as dumb oysters. There are 38 wheat growing countries. Our own country produces a large surplus of wheat and the Canadian yield is five times greater than the home consumption demand. Now just how will it be possible to control the world acreage of the golden grain which furnishes bread, "the staff of life?"

AWFUL MENACE OF BIRTH CONTROL

Place the face of Dr. Barton C. Hirst of Philadelphia in the national picture. Addressing the American Medical association in session in Milwaukee, the Philadelphia wise man discussed the practice of birth control. He declared that the practice by the "better elements of the nation" may have something to do with "the impotency of congress and bad government in cities and states." Publicity is the thing. It may be a violation of ethics, but the Dr. Hirsts of the world dearly love it. They not only love it, but they get it. In justice to the Quaker state scientists his conclusion should be placed in the record: "If a breeder of livestock defied the laws of eugenics as we do he would be ruined." That man has a mean disposition.

If "pigs is pigs," then "men are men."

There is nothing more detrimental to society than the tolerance of lawlessness (where there is not actually a misplaced tolerance) on the part of a state to uphold the laws. From this point of view petty breaches are as important as big ones, and may be even more so if their continual repetition brings authority into general contempt.

Tire Manufacture, Singing Color Fountain Draw Crowds at 'A Century of Progress'

Harvey S. Firestone and son Russell take the first tire from the mold at "A Century of Progress."

The Firestone Singing Color Fountain, one of the greatest marvels of the World's Fair.

During the early weeks of "A Century of Progress" the spectacular Firestone factory and exhibition building with its Singing Color Fountain, has been a magnetic drawing power. Always noted for his advanced factory engineering, Harvey S. Firestone is the only manufacturer with an exhibition of tire making at the fair, making it possible for millions of visitors to see the patented process and world's most efficient tire machinery.

Male Locust Is Only Musical One

By United Press
MACON, Mo.—The musical member of the locust family is the male, and contrary to popular belief, he plays an accordion instead of singing.

Gomer Hughes, who has been studying the locusts, said the females do not carry the musical instruments, which are carried under the male locusts' wings and closely resemble a telescope.

In the distance, the noise that comes from the accordions sounds like the word "Pharaoh," as if coming from an invading concert troupe, according to Hughes.

"But whatever it says," he added, "the chickens take to it with eagerness."

In fact, the locusts are good poultry feed, his studies have convinced him. Aside from that, they serve other useful purposes.

For instance, the birds that attacked the cherries finally abandoned them for locusts, and the chances are that the cherry crop will be larger than usual on that account.

"SUIT CLUBS" FLOURISH

By United Press
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—"Suit clubs" are flourishing again here following a ruling by Attorney General Joseph Chee that a city ordinance forbidding them is unconstitutional, but the operators are not free of hazard yet because Chee also held that the suit club plan, whereby one man wins a suit of clothes, but many make small payments, came under the state's anti-lottery laws.

Dr. E. A. Hooplan of Harvard announces plans for a survey to determine if American people are growing taller. Seems like now is hardly a fair time to make the test, since most Americans have been pretty short for the past three years.

Developments, batteries, spark plugs, brake lining, and other products manufactured by the company. There are displays of cotton and rubber in all their stages.

Health is half of success

Few men achieve their goal without vitality and drive. And so many are held back from their best by a common ailment: constipation. It dulls energy, often causes headaches, sleeplessness. It takes the vim out of your day's work.

Correct constipation by eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that of lettuce. Within the body, it becomes a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes. How much better than using pills and drugs—so often harmful.

Two tablespoons daily will correct most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN also has iron for the blood. At all grocers. In the red and green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Review from Mark 7, Through Chapter 16
By BEULAH K. HICKS

Far back in the days of prophecy, Isaiah visioned Jesus and said his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, the Mighty God, Everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace.

Following the life of Jesus with us through these few chapters we find him all that those wonderful names express and one even more comforting today—friend.

"Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you," are the words of Jesus of whom the apostle sang, "He shall have dominion also from sea to sea, and from the river unto the ends of the earth."

"Blessed be the Lord God, the God of Israel, who only doeth wondrous things."

In this series of lessons Mark explains his theme, "Judah is a lion," and he depicts the four ages of Satan with a brevity that is force to all the characters strayed. He adds beauty not only to his theme but to the office of Christ which is visioned by Isaiah as

To comfort all that mourn: to give unto them beauty for ashes; the oil of joy for mourning; the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; and to proclaim liberty to the captives.

Yet one so great, this Prince of Peace, walked here in human form and humility and taught us that truths, as he healed the sick, that we might be his friends.

The old law such as "Eye for eye" was discarded and such simple truths as "Love one another," "Love thy neighbor as thyself," were placed in its stead as this great teacher of truth, as he healed the sick, that we might be his friends.

So then after the Lord had ascended into heaven, he was received into glory, and sat on the right hand of God.

BARGAIN BRIDIE

by KATHARINE HAVILAND-TAYLOR

BEGIN HERE TODAY
BARRETT COLVIN, back in New York after four years, meets 20-year-old ELINOR STAFFORD and falls in love with her. Barrett is 35, wealthy and has made a name for himself as an archeologist.

would be with her in the house! What a magnet she would be! He saw himself slipping from his coat, hurrying into the drawing room, stooping to take her in his arms. Was it fair to her to dream this way, not knowing how she felt? He must hold himself in a bit. But he had never wanted anything very much without getting it, he reassured himself. He knew he had force, and if he thought he could make her as happy as she should be he would use that force. Then— together for the rest of their lives! His lean cheeks warmed, thinking thus.

ELINOR rose quickly and left the room. She returned, flushed and smiling, from the telephone conversation with Barrett Colvin. "He wanted," she said, "to know if I didn't think it would be better to take our drive tomorrow since the weather forecast is clear. We were going to go Tuesday."

Lida heard voices—Elinor's and some man's. She stopped to listen frankly. He thought, "Lida will be out of the way for a while!" If only they could have everything settled before Lida's return—assuming, of course, that Colvin really cared for Elinor as she seemed to care for him. Then it would be all right. If the affair were still in the air when Lida returned she could—and would—smash it if she wished. Stafford knew her—her strength, her lack of principle which made her the most formidable of foes, her willingness to stoop to and use any weapon.

LIDA, in a way, had enjoyed Miami. Vance Carter had been there, as devoted as usual, and she had been amused. True, his infatuation had a few times made him difficult for even her to handle. She had had to make promises she had never intended to give. These bothered her a trifle, although Lida had found, often untangled the webs that followed the first deceit. Still she did wish Carter hadn't made her say she would divorce Bentwell to marry him as soon as Miss Ella died.

They moved to the room Lida called the library, arm in arm. Stafford's heart was crackling to small, sharp silvers that cut at each beat. He didn't want his little girl to grow up, to fall in love and leave him. But, on the other hand, he did want her settled and away from her mother's bold lies and frail deceptions, from his drinking himself to forgetfulness.

MARCIA had telephoned. Barrett learned when he arrived home. He called her for the second time that day—a day that had been stretched to unnatural length by worry and ecstasy. That the unpleasant interview with Dexter had occurred only that morning he could hardly believe.

And later, over the telephone, she had said she had enjoyed the afternoon. Her voice had been not quite steady and he had wanted to say, "You darling! You darling!" Instead he had only said, "Be sure to dress warmly enough tomorrow."

Special to World's Fair Will Leave Sunday, July 2

ABILENE, Texas, June 23.—West Texans who were unable to take advantage of the low excursion rate to Chicago on the special train section sponsored June 11 by G. B. Sandefer, manager of the Simmons university cowboy band, will have another opportunity to visit the Century of Progress exposition economically. Another West Texas train section will be sponsored by Sandefer.

The section will leave West Texas Sunday morning, July 2, as part of the Sunshine special, crack passenger train of the T. & P. railway. Four days and nights will be spent in Chicago. The top fare will be $36.50 from Abilene, which includes railway fare and lower Pullman berth to and from Chicago and the four nights there.

Decision to sponsor the section was reached by Sandefer as a result of requests received from persons throughout West Texas that he do so to enable them to obtain the low railway fares obtainable only by large parties and the success which attended the June excursion from West Texas to the World's fair.

The first excursion party consisted of 117 West Texans, comprising one section of a special train which carried 478 Texans to the exposition. The facilities and accommodations provided, which consisted of standard Pullman coaches from Fort Worth to Chicago and while there received high praise from all members of the party. Hot shower baths were available on the train. Meals were reasonable in cost and numerous members of the party made the entire trip at a cost of less than $60.

Proportionately low rates will be available at all points along the T. & P. Reservations can not be made through ticket agents, however; all of them should be directed to Howard Barrett, publicity director of the Cowboy band, Abilene, and should be made several days prior to train departure in order that accommodations may be guaranteed.

Penny Sales Show Largest Increase In Three Years

Gross sales of the J. C. Penney company for May 1933 were $14,432,845.34 as against May 1932 sales of $12,646,448.81. This is an increase for the month of $1,787,401.51 or 14.13 per cent—the largest percentage of increase shown by this company since April 1930.

Cumulative gross sales from Jan. 1 to May 31, 1933, inclusive, were $56,402,697.47 against $57,255,271.30 for the same period in 1932, a difference of $852,573.83 or 1.49 per cent.

Commenting on this striking increase in May sales, E. C. Sams, president of the J. C. Penney company, said:

"It is gratifying to note that this increased volume has been shown by stores in all sections of the country. Since retail prices had not yet been advanced by our company during May, but were actually lower on the whole than those existing a year ago, the increased sales reflect a definite and marked increase in customer buying. Reports from our stores indicate that people are actually feeling better and during May were replenishing, in part, depleted wardrobes."
