KEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

With the steady rain falling this morning it looks as though Ranger have its first wet football game in nearly two years and the Rangers have ever had.

As we remember it the last time Bulldogs played on a wet field was in a slow rain was Thanksgiving Day, 1931, when the Bulldogs defeated the Bulldogs at Ackerly by a score of 25 to 10.

A more or less wet field was encountered at Amarillo the early part of last year, we believe, but the weather had cleared before the game.

It is possible, of course, that the weather may clear before game tomorrow, when the Ranger college Rangers meet the Simons University freshmen, and the game may be even faster if the rain had not fallen.

SLAYING OF THREE BEING INVESTIGATED

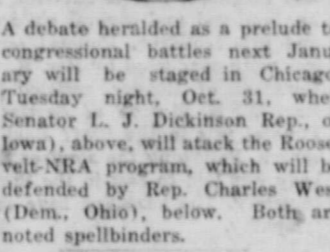

By United Press

LAWTON, Okla., Nov. 2.—A triple slaying in which a mother and son were shot and a daughter clubbed to death was investigated here today.

Strange circumstances surrounded the deaths of Mrs. Robert Hayer, 50; her son, Sidney, 17, and daughter, Nell, 14. The bodies were found in their home last night by police who broke in when neighbors became alarmed. No members of the family had been seen since last Friday.

Close to the hand of the youth was a pistol, but officers could not say if the boy had killed his mother and sister and himself or whether all were killed by another person.

Orators Will Duel Over NRA

A debate heralded as a prelude to congressional battles next January will be staged in Chicago, Tuesday night, Oct. 31, when Senator L. J. Dickinson Rep. (Iowa), above, will attack the Roosevelt-NRA program, which will be defended by Rep. Charles West (Dem., Ohio), below. Both are noted speakers.

RANGERS TO PLAY SIMMONS FRESHMEN HERE ON FRIDAY IN ONLY GAME OF WEEK-END

The Texas Rangers of the Ranger Junior college will play the fast Freshman team of Simmons University tomorrow afternoon at Lillard field.

The two teams should prove to be evenly matched, as both are made up of high school players from this section of the country who starred on the gridiron in the past two years.

Some changes are expected in the Ranger lineup as Weaver, who has been playing regularly, has a broken collar bone that will keep him out for some time and Coach Tricky Ward is reported to be starting Delmer Brown in place of Daniels, who has been playing at fullback and doing the punting for the Rangers.

With D. Brown in the backfield the punting will be taken care of by Landers, who plays at end and who was one of the leading punters of the Oil Belt two years ago, rating second only to Roy Stevens and often outpunting Stevens.

Charlie Black, whose field goal against Decatur accounted for the only score made by the Ranger in four starts, is expected to see much service at end, especially if the game is close, as he may be called on to boot the ball between the goal posts for a score, or a point after touchdown.

The defensive work of the Rangers, which has allowed no team to cross their goal line, may be needed in the Simmons game, because the freshmen will have a fast-running, hard hitting backfield that may try the Ranger line from beginning to the end of the game.

With the other Brown in the backfield to aid Roy Brown, quarterback, in the ball carrying, more punch may be seen in the Ranger offense, as both are fast and get off quickly on all plays, though they are not as heavy as Daniel.

As near as can be determined before game time the two teams are about as evenly matched as in the previous games played by the Rangers, which have resulted in only three points being scored in four games, which should make a closely contested game in prospect for the fans.

As the Bulldogs will be idle this week-end, the Ranger-Simmons game is the only contest to be played in this section, though the Mavericks and Lobos will be playing this week at Cisco.

L. V. Andrus, freshman coach of the Simmons University, says that he will be without the services of three of his backs, because

First death victim in the national farm strike was Gunnar Felland, Burke, Wis., above, slain near Madison, Wis., when he, with 30 other pickets, attempted to halt a milk truck. Felland was unarmed. Three brothers, Frank, Jack and Harvey McCorsion, were arrested in connection with the shooting.

Japanese Are Moving Troops From Chinese Area

PEIPING, China, Nov. 2.—The Japanese army of occupation today began a sweeping movement of evacuation from all its positions inside the Great Wall of China, and withdrew from 141 passes through the ancient barricade.

The movement was accomplished, it was believed, after a "new understanding" had been reached between the Japanese and Chinese.

It released at least one division of troops, now available for operations in the north, where the Japanese-Soviet quarrel over the Chinese-Eastern railway is critical. In many circles today's action was regarded as indicating an agreement between Japan and China, permitting a strengthening of Japanese troops in the north.

SAYS INITIALS OF FERGUSON WERE NEEDED

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 2.—Initials of J. E. Ferguson were necessary on a state boxing permit, Leon Wilson told a legislative committee here today, saying that statement was made to him by Eugene T. Smith, while Wilson was seeking a permit.

Wilson's testimony and J. J. Brown's denial of testimony at a previous session that he had paid Ben Richards to retain his place in the state department of education, were the high points of today's session of the committee.

Wilson said that after seeking a permit for Houston or Austin he went to Smith, close friend of the Ferguson and a former state highway commission chairman. Wilson quoted Smith as saying it was costing promoters $500 for a license. The maximum fee is $100, he said.

He said Smith pointed out his close association with the Ferguson and finally said he could get Wilson an Austin permit for $200, plus the license fee and percentage of the gross gate receipts.

"I asked him how long it would take to get it," said Wilson, and he replied "How long will it take to get the cash." He also quoted Smith as saying he would meet the governor, talk to "Governor Jim" and meet Wilson again.

Wilson said he had gone to Smith after talking with Art Mondt. Mondt sought a Beaumont permit. According to the testimony, Mondt was sent to James E. Ferguson and told he would have to get the approval of C. W. Howth, Ferguson's campaign manager in Beaumont.

According to Wilson Mondt was told "to go make your peace with Howth." He said he did not know if this was in the presence of Mrs. Ferguson. Wilson testified Mondt got a permit and told him he "made peace with Howth, paid off and paid the tariff."

Health Officer Warns of Scarlet Fever Increase

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 2.—The State Department of Health has just issued a warning in regard to scarlet fever, as the number of cases usually increases during the fall months. Last year over twenty-six hundred cases were reported in Texas. The majority of deaths occur from October through February.

Scarlet fever is a very contagious and serious disease. Grown people may catch scarlet fever, but children under 15 years are most likely to have it, if exposed. It is especially dangerous for children under 5 years, and for babies. Do not let your child take any chances with scarlet fever. Call the doctor as soon as the symptoms appear.

If your child is going to have scarlet fever, the first signs you may notice are that he seems tired, restless and out of sorts. Usually, there is a sore throat, chill, vomiting, or convulsion. The child has fever. His skin is dry and hot. His tongue is furred, and under this white covering, it is red and swollen. In ordinary cases, these early signs are followed in a day or two by a rash. Little flat red spots, close together, appear first on the neck and chest. Soon the rash is over most of the body and brilliant in color.

The doctor is required by law to report the case to the local health officer. Do your part by following carefully the quarantine instructions which the health officer will give you. Children who have had scarlet fever, or who have been exposed, must not return to school until permission is given by the health officer and physician. A severe or fatal case of scarlet fever may develop from contact with some one who has only a light attack.

TROUBLE IS FORSEEN OVER NAZI DEMANDS

SAARBRUCKEN, Nov. 2.—Nazi activities threatening trouble between France and Germany, brought a series of stern decrees today from the League of Nations commission governing this territory.

Germany demands for immediate return of the territory to the German flag have so inflamed the population that French authorities feared an outbreak, and the rest of Europe feared that if there were an outbreak France would send troops to the territory. The decrees were aimed toward curbing Nazi activities. Nazi speakers exhorted the population to revolt and even children give the Nazi salute.

FEDERAL MEN CLOSED IN ON VERNE MILLER

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Federal officers who broke up the Bailey-Kelly gang of kidnapers closed in on Verne Miller, last of the band that terrorized the Mid-West with its daring.

The former South Dakota sheriff shot his way out of an elaborate trap set last night by federal agents. His automobile, blood-stained, was found later. His wife was arrested in a hotel apartment they had occupied.

Miller was described by federal officers as the most desperate gun man outside of prison. He is credited with handling the machine gun in the Union Station killing in which five men were killed last June 17.

Seven agents were stationed about a north side hotel after it was learned Miller was hiding there. An informer, who knew Miller, was stationed in the lobby by federal men. Machine guns in the hands of federal agents guarded all exits to the hotel.

Miller walked into the lobby. The informer dropped a bunch of keys as he had been instructed. Instantly the alert gunman pulled a revolver and fired twice at the informer. He missed. He dashed for a doorway, firing at federal agents as he ran.

Miller sprinted to a coupe, which was waiting outside. A woman was at the wheel when the car sped away.

Club Returns Money Received From the County

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 2.—There's a first time for everything, as John L. Crosthwait, Dallas county auditor, can testify.

"It's the first time I ever knew of anybody's rushing down to pay the county something," commented Crosthwait when Mrs. Jean Weil Burchfield of the Good Sinners' Club returned $206.43 in cash which the Commissioners' Court had advanced to provide fuel for cultivating a charity crop of cotton.

Some months ago Mrs. Burchfield appealed to the court for money with which to buy fuel for farm machinery on the large Industrial Properties Corporation tract with which she sought to provide jobs for the idle and make money for the destitute.

Her crop harvested, the first thing Mrs. Burchfield did was to repay her debt to the county. The remainder of the proceeds from the crop will be devoted to the Good Sinners' club's various charitable activities.

Legionnaires Will Complete Plans on Nov. 11 Celebration

The services of every member of the post will be needed to carry out the plans, it was announced, and the members of the post are urged to be present so they can aid in the demonstration.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Secretary of the Interior Ickes, acting as administrator of the oil code, today requested information from the industry concerning the cost of producing, refining and marketing oil and oil products.

Ickes said the request for more data was to give the board a fair picture of the cost situation in all branches of the industry.

In the meantime the Eastland Mavericks are getting all primed for the battle of the century as they are concerned. In other words they are planning on giving a works to the Cisco Lobos, a team they have never defeated.

However, the rejuvenated Lobos, going into the Maverick game with a lot of confidence and determination, may prove a much stronger opponent than the Mavericks expect. In fact they still look like possible contenders for the Oil Belt championship, having lost only one game and having developed a team spirit that will be hard for any team in the district to overcome.

Tonight we should be able to sit in to a duck dinner—if some brings the ducks.

Yesterday morning Johnny Boyd and Walter Harwell each promised to bring us at least one duck when they returned from their hunting on the first day of the season. Boyd promised to put their names in the paper if they did, so we are done our part and it is up to you to produce.

Last year we planned to go duck hunting half a dozen times, but never did get to go. We were also promised at least a dozen ducks, one of which were ever delivered. Very time someone would tell us they were going hunting they would promise us a duck, then come back and tell us how many (Continued on page 4)

Rotarians And Lions Hear Talk By CIA President

The Rotary and Lions clubs of Ranger met in joint session today to hear a talk by Dr. Judd, president of the College of Industrial Arts, who spoke on the subject of inflation.

J. E. Meroney, president of the Lions club, presided at the meeting and introduced Walter Harwell, president of the Rotary club, who introduced the guests, including Mrs. C. E. May, M. H. Hagaman and Walter Harwell, and Mr. D. Joseph.

President Meroney then called on M. H. Hagaman as one of the oldest citizens of the town and one of the oldest Rotarians, who introduced Dr. Judd, who was a teacher in the Ranger schools before the boom days.

The speaker gave a brief history of money and a more detailed description of the monetary system of the United States, pointing out the different species of money and their relation to the monetary system.

He explained some of the results of inflation in the United States and in Europe and explained the different kinds of inflation being urged in the United States at present. He said that he believed the method now being followed by President Roosevelt to be the best of all types of inflation.

Mrs. Hagaman announced that Dr. Judd would speak before the New Era club this afternoon at 2:30 at the Gholson hotel.

Compliance Board Completes Duties

D. L. Jameson, chairman of the compliance board, announced today that the last regular meeting of the board had been held Wednesday afternoon, due to the fact that practically all merchants in the city were now operating under permanent codes or under the master retail code recently signed by the president.

Gen. Hugh Johnson, relief administrator, has appointed Ernest L. Tutt of the department of commerce at Houston as administrator for Texas and anyone wishing to turn in a complaint against any merchant who may be failing to live up to the terms of the code under which he is working should write out and sign the complaint and send it to Mr. Tutt at Houston.

The local compliance board will continue to function on any complaints received against those operating under the president's agreement, Mr. Jameson said, even though the board did not meet regularly. Upon receipt of complaints on which the board should take a called meeting will be announced and the board will again take up cases brought before it.

Committee Will Announce Election Results Tonight

The committee composed of J. C. Smith, Rev. D. W. Nichol and R. V. Galloway, appointed by Dr. P. M. Kuykendall, president of the chamber of commerce to canvass the results of the vote on the site for a post office building, are making a check of the votes today and stated that they would have a report to make at the meeting of the directors of the chamber of commerce tonight.

A large number of votes were received, some mailed in from those who had poll taxes and about half of the votes being cast by those who had either stopped at the chamber of commerce to receive a ballot or who had secured one from some other source. All the ballots, whether they had been secured through the mail or were turned in direct to the chamber of commerce were tabulated by the committee.

It was expected by some that the two or three projects receiving the most votes would be considered by an inspector, who might be sent out by the post office department to make the location later.

Defense Scores In Disbarment Case

FORT WORTH, Nov. 2.—The defense scored heavily today in defending Julien Hyer, prominent Fort Worth attorney and former state senator, in a disbarment suit filed by the Fort Worth Bar association.

Hyer is charged with soliciting two damage cases and misappropriation of $755 in county funds.

John A. Vincent, a grocer, testified he had requested Hyer to call on Harry Obeidin, chief witness for the bar association, in connection with the filing of a personal injury suit.

Obeidin had suffered a broken leg.

Hyer's contention that he did not solicit the cases was strengthened by testimony of Leslie Spoons, Fort Worth attorney. Spoons testified he had asked Hyer to call on a negro woman whose husband was killed on a grade crossing on the Dallas-Fort Worth interurban.

Johnson Asked To Head Parade

FORT WORTH, Nov. 2.—An invitation was sent Hugh S. Johnson today inviting him to lead an Armistice Day parade here, after it was learned he would be here the night of Nov. 11.

Johnson's address will be before the convention of the Tenth District Advertising federation, which will close its session here that day.

The invitation was sent by W. P. McLean Jr., parade chairman, who plans one of the largest demonstrations in this city's history. Racing officials at Arlington Downs have designated Nov. 11 as Veterans' Day and sent invitations to 482 American Legion posts in Texas.

PETROLEUM AND ITS FUTURE
 All concede that the petroleum industry is one of the most gigantic in its wide world ramifications known to the present age. Axtell J. Byles is president of the American Petroleum Institute. Chicago is the setting of the 14th annual meeting of the organization. Byles is widely known in the petroleum world. His annual address is said to have covered all the ground. He declared the most fundamental thing in economic life is supply. Furthermore, that the fundamental thing cannot and will not be ignored; that if there is too little to meet consumer demand, price will advance; if there is too much price will recede. He said it with emphasis that no agreement or artifice or policy of government could ignore that fact or escape its consequences. "We should not have to be reminded that the law of supply and demand is inexorable and unchangeable," said the big voice of the A. P. I. "The state may, within limit, control supply and thus affect prices, but price control per se will not for long affect and will never control the law of supply and demand."

Speaking of the institute and its objectives, he reminded the public that it is the national organization for the industry, a common meeting place for all interests and shades of opinion, representative of approximately 65 per cent of the country's crude oil production; 90 per cent of daily refining and cracking capacity and the production of 95 per cent of all the gas consumed in the United States. Speaking of government control, President Byles said in his address: "I would hazard the opinion that in this industry federal regulation of crude oil production may be necessary for some time to come. However, such a policy need not and should not involve governmental control beyond that point or governmental operation of the industry." He declared proration sound in theory, and under conditions, essential in practice. Furthermore, that the test of this control is at hand. Upon its outcome depends the fate of one of the nation's largest industries for a considerable time to come. His words:

"In this issue is involved not only the prosperity of the industry and its ability to contribute to the prosperity of the country but sound conservation as well."

Speaking of the future as well as of government control this veteran oil man said: "The vast majority in number and investment in the oil business believe in and are heartily supporting the recovery administration and realize the permanent good that may be derived from certain features of the code. This majority views other features of the code and the procedure thereunder as justified only as emergency measures, which should pass with the termination of the emergency." He predicted that whatever the outcome the petroleum business will go on "long after we have left the scene of action and if time proves the error of the way a new one will be found."

A reminder that some 1500 men of the oil world are serving voluntarily on the A. P. I. committee, which covers practically all the activities of the business from the drilling of a well to the service station. Figures are interesting. Byles submitted figures. The oil industry in the past 10 years has paid a tax bill aggregating $3,500,000,000, which he declared exceeds the amount of its profits by one billion dollars. Since January, 1929, direct taxes on motor fuels have more than doubled. National, state and direct taxes have added an average cost of about 4 cents per gallon, "yet during that period motorists have actually paid less for gasoline than in previous years and these taxes have been absorbed by the industry and the public has, therefore, been apathetic toward them." In conclusion, President Byles predicted a sound quota system will prevent price abuse and enlightened self interest in a mass production industry, and will prove a deterrent to prices which would control consumption.

Texas is one of the leading commonwealths in the production of petroleum and natural gas. Texans in and out of the industry are vitally interested in the future of the black gold which is taken from the bowels of the earth.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

EDWARD J. MEEMAN, editor of the Memphis (Tenn.) Press-Scimitar, says:
 "Individuals and organizations who have cases to set before the public, ideas to advance, causes to promote, or in any way desire to obtain the public's understanding of something should use the advertising columns of the newspapers."
 "When they spend their money in newspaper advertising to carry their message to the public, doing it openly, frankly, and in language and style of their own choosing, it is always very effective."

WAY DOWN EAST

Jorgotten Sweetheart by MARY RAYMOND

BEGIN HERE, TODAY
 JOAN WARING, pretty Memphis girl, and BOB WESTON, son of a millionaire, meet in Memphis and fall in love. They become engaged through the scheming of BARBARA COURTNEY, who is trying to win Bob for herself. Joan goes to New York to search for Pat, her sister, who has run away after an unhappy love affair. Joan is hired as a masked singer at a night club. Believing Bob is lost to her, Joan becomes engaged to BARNEY BLAKE, owner of the night club. Pat reappears and becomes Barney's secretary. It is not long before Joan realizes she loves Pat instead of Joan. Joan sings at a private fashionable entertainment and discovers she is in Bob's home. Bob recognizes her voice. Because of her agitation, Joan leaves before her final encore. Bob follows in his car. He goes to the night club and asks Barney for Joan's address. Barney refuses to give it to him. Joan returns to find his cause again and learns Barney has gone home. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXI
 BOB opened the telephone directory and ran his eye through the list of Blakes. There it was—"Barney H. Blake." No, it was "Mrs. Barney H. Blake." Queen! From what Barbara had said he had supposed Blake was a bachelor. Well, it was no matter. The address must be right because it was the only "Barney Blake" in the directory.
 It was a rather grim-looking young man who piloted the gray roadster through traffic to the Park Avenue address. Bob was driving as rapidly as possible, at the same time remembering that untimely arguments with traffic officers would only retard his progress.
 He was elated, almost gay when he halted before the apartment building. A few moments more and he would be on his way to Joan! A few moments more—!
 In the lobby a sleepy clerk gave him the number. Bob decided he would not risk ringing and perhaps hearing a polite refusal. He caught the elevator to the fifth floor.
 Joan heard the knock on the door. She had changed to a simple short-sleeved house frock. The costume she had worn on the stage—and during that hasty drive home—lay where she had dropped it on the bed. Her slippers were on the floor where she had kicked them. A forlorn Cinderella had returned from the ball.
 Realizing sleep was impossible, Joan had decided to unpack a miscellaneous assortment of boxes that cluttered the room. After a while she gave up the task, letting her thoughts drift as they would. She sat at the window and looked out. She had been in Bob's home, a beautiful home mellowed by years, over which the gracious presence of his ancestors seemed to brood.
 Wrapped in her thoughts, Joan scarcely heeded the knocking at the living room door until it became insistent. It was Barney probably. He had been worried by her nervousness, disturbed because she could give no explanation of her strange manner.
 Joan rose and opened the door. For a moment there was silence. Joan saw a light leap into Bob's eyes and then die suddenly. He stared blankly at her.
 "Come in, Bob." Such a trite way to greet him when there was such rapture in her heart.
 HE came into the room, shutting the door behind him.
 "You found me," said Joan unsteadily.

 "Yes," said Bob. His voice was hoarse. "I wish to God I hadn't!" He was still standing, staring at her with dark concentration. Joan thought he looked drunk. Yet she was sure he had not been drinking. He looked ill. Something was certainly wrong.
 "What's the matter, Bob?" she asked gently.
 He did not answer. He caught her by the wrists, held her away from him while he studied her face. Suddenly he laughed and pulled her into his arms.
 Between fierce kisses on her lips Joan was whispering, "It's been so long. I couldn't bear it. Bob! Do you really love me?"
 Without answering he flung her from him violently. "Now go back to him!" he said hoarsely.
 He was gone then, running down the stairs. Joan stood where he had left her, amazed, bewildered.
 What had Bob meant? He had discovered that she was the masked singer. Perhaps he had heard that Barney was in love with her. Maybe their marriage plans had leaked out.
 Their marriage plans! Still shaken by the memory of Bob's kisses only one thought remained clear to her. She could not marry Barney now that she knew Bob loved her. Bob had been swept by some terrible emotion. Jealousy or rage. Nevertheless he loved her.
 That thought was singing through her agitation, a winged shaft of light through the dark unhappiness that had enveloped her for so long. She must tell Barney in the morning. No, she must tell him tonight. She had been planning to cheat Barney and herself. Now, whatever came—even if she never saw Bob again—she could not marry Barney.
 She called the number and after a long moment heard his voice: "Yes, Joan, what is it? Are you ill?"
 "Barney, something's happened. Can you come?"
 She heard the click of the telephone which meant she knew that Barney would be on his way. Dear, dependable Barney! He was like the rock of Gibraltar, a bulwark of strength. Like a hand always waiting to help her.
 IN the mirror above the console table she saw a shapely creature. A flame had leaped up in her heart, transforming the passive sober-eyed girl of an hour before into a creature of glowing radiance.
 Barney was at the door then. It seemed such a short time since her call that he must have dropped out of the sky. Barney, disheveled and bare-headed. "My God, Joan, what is it? Has anything happened to Pat?"
 "Pat," Joan repeated, weakly. "Why no, Barney—"
 And then, as Barney sank weakly in a chair, his face with his hands, light flooded Joan's mind. "Oh, Barney, dear! Why didn't you tell me?"
 He looked up, smiling a little in embarrassment. There was relief in his eyes. "Lord, but you gave me a turn! I thought that Pat—" "You and Pat in love—and not telling me!" Joan murmured. She sat down beside him. "Oh, Barney, what you must have been through! And Pat too!" Her words were

Curtain Falls

Death parted the most famous Romeo and Juliet of the American stage when E. H. Sothern, considered the foremost Shakespearean actor in the country, succumbed in New York to pneumonia at the age of 73. With him when he died was his wife, Julia Marlowe, whose name has been coupled with his in the nation's stage history. This picture of Sothern was taken 24 days before his death.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service Staff Correspondent
 WASHINGTON—Like a worried prospective papa outside a maternity ward, the administration was watching for the latest figures on employment.
 It feared a drop for the first time in six months. The usual seasonal rise will might have been discounted by earlier gains. A decline would have been cited widely as indicating a sag in the recovery drive.
 So Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins grinned joyously when she was able to tell President Roosevelt that her statisticians had found some 620,000 persons re-employed between the middle of August and the middle of September.
 Six months of steady gain after years of constantly mounting unemployment is something to brag about. But what will October's figures show?
 Production has been declining and other business barometers showed less than ordinary seasonal advances in September.
 Well, the administration is worrying again, but it's more hopeful of a continued good showing. Tens of thousands of workers were employed in the latter part of September who don't show in the official figures yet.
 And a considerable amount of public works employment is anticipated. Agricultural employment usually increases in early fall.
 MEGGIE, the handsome black scottie which goes everywhere with Mrs. Roosevelt, attends presidential press conferences and doesn't mind being blown a kiss to by a newspaperman at a conference the other day.

 The First Lady's entrance with Meggie are informal. She blows a kiss to a newspaperman at a conference the other day.
 THE State Department's advice against the Sweden-so-Japanese flare-up over the new Eastern railroad are there won't be any war with Siberian-Manchurian border fore spring, if then.
 It's too cold in that region is advised. Rivers freeze through to their bottoms, one wants to wage war in weather.
 ROOSEVELT has strong opinions about brain speculation from legitimate hedging. But if some of his agricultural experts are correct, their best guess as to the price of wheat's recent drop, explanation rests as near the House as the Chicago pit.
 Part of the previous price was based on expectations of inflation. It lately has made clear that the president no plan now calling for any inflation of currency.
 These facts may not give an answer, but the wheat farmer says no other good reason is plain.
 They hope for a real price after planting reports in December.

Almost Instant Relief From Neuralgia

1. I'll have to get a taxi and go home. I've developed a terrible attack of neuralgia.

2. 20 minutes later. It's wonderful how quickly my neuralgia went. That Bayer Aspirin certainly works.

MARY, WHY DON'T YOU TRY 2 BAYER ASPIRIN TABLETS. THEY'LL GET RID OF YOUR NEURALGIA IN A FEW MINUTES.

YES, ISN'T IT WONDERFUL!

For Quick Relief Say BAYER Aspirin When You

Here is quicker relief from pain—the fastest safe relief—it is said, ever known. This is due to a scientific discovery by which BAYER Aspirin starts "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.
 The illustration of the glass here tells the story. A Bayer tablet starts to disintegrate or dissolve—go to work—almost instantly. This means quick relief from pain—fewer lost hours from headache, neuritis, rheumatism. And safe relief. For genuine Bayer Aspirin does not harm the heart.
 When you buy, see that you get the genuine Bayer Aspirin. The best way is never to ask for aspirin by the name "aspirin" alone. But if you want Bayer Aspirin's quick relief always to say "BAYER Aspirin."

Merchants Must Select Group By Monday, Nov. 6

The code of fair competition for the retail trade was signed by President Roosevelt on Oct. 21 and became the law-merchant of retail trade on Oct. 30. It affects hundreds of thousands of business establishments and millions of employees. It regulates all retail establishments except those that have already had codes approved and those that will have separate codes approved in the future.

Every retailer should immediately obtain, or should consult, a copy of the code, because it provides that: "On or within one week after the effective date of this code" (that is, by not later than Monday, Nov. 6) "every retail establishment shall designate under which of the groups set forth" (which of the schedules of store-hours and employe working hours) "it elects to operate, and shall post and maintain in a conspicuous place in the establishment a copy of such election showing its store hours and employe working hours."

The three groups of hours from which each establishment may choose are as follows: "Group A—Any establishment may elect to remain open for business less than fifty-six (56) hours but not less than fifty-two (52) hours per week, unless its store hours were less than fifty-two (52) hours prior to June 1, 1933, in which case such establishment shall not reduce its store hours; no employe of these establishments shall work more than forty (40) hours per week, nor more than eight (8) hours per day, nor more than six (6) days per week.

"Group B—Any establishment may elect to remain open for business fifty-six (56) hours or more per week but less than sixty-three (63) hours per week; no employe of such establishment shall work more than forty-four (44) hours per week, nor more than nine (9) hours per day, nor more than six (6) days per week.

"Group C—Any establishment may elect to remain open for business sixty-three (63) hours or more per week; no employe of such establishment shall work more than forty-eight (48) hours per week, nor more than ten (10) hours per day, nor more than six (6) days per week.

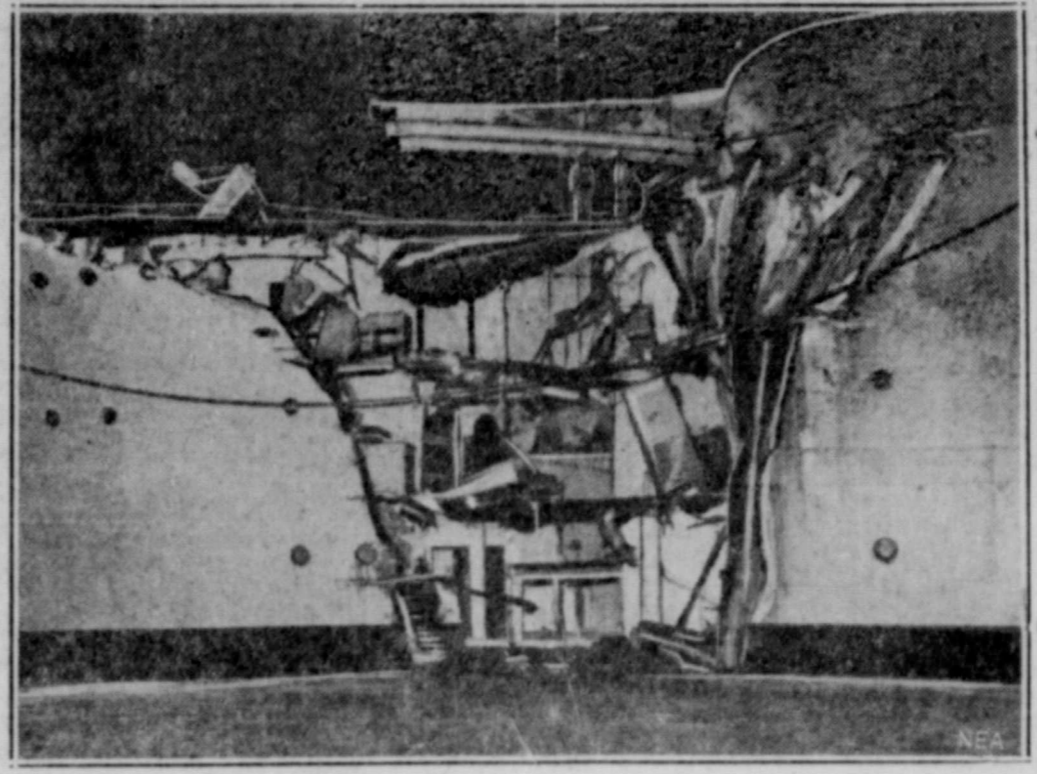

All establishments covered by this code must elect their store hour and employe working hour schedules from Groups A, B, or C, except drug stores, which may elect either of them or they may choose Group D.

"Group D—In place of any of the schedules of store hours and hours of labor set forth in" (Groups A, B, and C) "retail drug establishments may elect to remain open for business seven (7) days a week for a total of eighty-four (84) hours or more per week, but on no day for less than eight (8) hours; no employe of such establishment, except as provided in Article V, Sections 4 and 5, shall work more than fifty-six (56) hours per week, nor more than ten (10) hours per day, nor more than thirteen (13) days in any two consecutive weeks."

Retailers should immediately make their elections of schedules, drug stores choosing either Group A, B, C, or D, and all others choosing only either A, B, or C, because if they do not have their schedule posted by Nov. 6 they will be violating the code.

It took two hours for Mrs. Roosevelt to get into Philadelphia the other day. There's a fort the republicans still refuse to give up without a struggle.

Gaping Hole Torn in U. S. Cruiser by Collision

With three officers dead and a gaping hole, 40 feet wide, torn in her prow, the U. S. cruiser Chicago limped into Mare Island navy yard in San Francisco Bay after a collision with a British freighter. Damage is shown above, where the prow of the freighter plowed through armor plate to almost amidships and scraped one of the guns, pictured near top. A "ghost ship" is sought, officers declaring that it loomed out of thick fog to throw the cruiser off her course, into the collision.

Charlevoix Killed Old Man Slump

By United Press CHARLEVOIX, Mich. — "Old Man Depression" suffered a "painful" execution in CHARLEVOIX recently. At an NRA celebration an effigy depicting gloom and hard times, was hanged; the body riddled by bullets of a firing squad; and then the "corpse" dumped into a nearby lake from an airplane.

A mechanical heart has been demonstrated in Boston. Just the thing for our stenographer, who's lost her own.

Bottle Drifted From Liner to Norway

By United Press NEW HAVEN, Conn. — A bottle in which Charles G. Schmidt, of West Haven, put his name and address, and then threw overboard from an ocean liner June 14, has been picked up in Norway. When Schmidt was 1,560 miles out from Oslo, he said, he tossed the sealed bottle into the ocean. Recently he received a letter from Severin Melgard, of Haugesund, Norway, who found the bottle, he wrote, Aug. 8.

TO MOTHERS whose children won't EAT

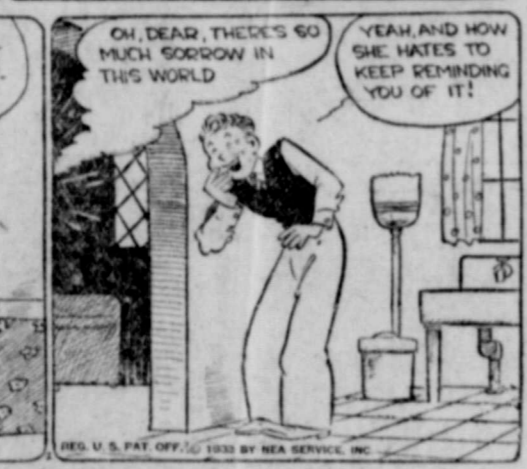

Nature knows best. Never coax a child to eat! Remove the cause of a youngster's poor appetite. When appetite fails, tongue is coated white, eyes are a bilious yellow, don't give small children a constipating cathartic that drains the system. California syrup of figs is all the "medicine" they require.

Specialists will tell you that a sluggish appetite almost always means the child has a sluggish colon. Correct this condition called stasis, and see how quickly a listless, drooping boy or girl begins to eat—and gain! The only "medicine" such children seem to need is pure, unadulterated fig syrup. Children who get syrup of figs, now and then, soon have the appetite and energy of young animals! They keep well and avoid colds and sluggish spells.

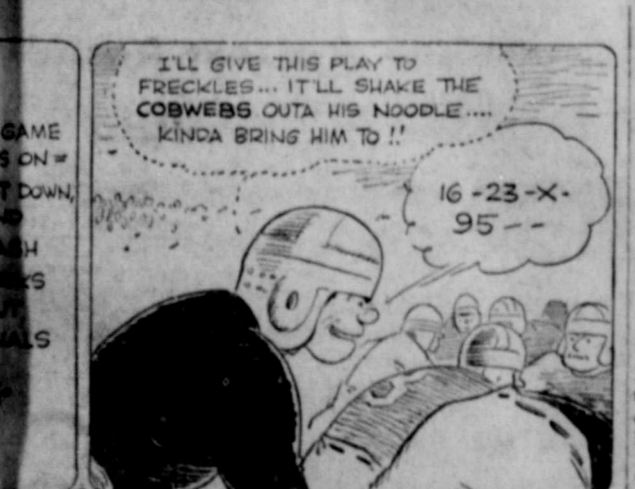

Nature never made a finer laxative for children; and they all love the wholesome, fruit flavor of the real California syrup of figs. It's purely vegetable, but every druggist has it all bottled, with directions. Begin with it at once. The very next day, your child will be eating better and feeling better. Keep on with the syrup of figs a few days and see amazing improvement in appetite, color, weight, and spirits.

The promises made by the bottlers of California Syrup of Figs are true, and it will do the same for you. IF it's genuine CALIFORNIA. Don't accept substitutes. Member N. R. A.

Prickly Pear Liquid Used For Dandruff

By United Press NORMAN, Okla. — If you've got dandruff, start growing prickly pears.

A delegate to a botanical meeting here recently told the university botanical staff of a remedy concocted by an old Mexican woman in Texas, made by soaking the peeled cactus leaves in water. The result is a thick, white fluid which is death to dandruff. Botny professors are skeptical.

Review of Week Throws Ghosts in Limelight. Looking back over a week of gaieties, we throw open dusty files for a glimpse of spooks and witches.

In an initial Halloween affair Monday evening, Miss Mary Overland was hostess to the Young People's and Young Married People's classes of the Church of Christ.

And on the same evening Mrs. James Casby entertained the young women of the First Baptist church, plus their dates, with a colorful party at her home, thrilling from the opening chamber of horrors to clever refreshments.

Complimenting the Doodle Bug club, Oct. 30, named Miss Inez Hazrell hostess amid an array of witches and cats. Refreshments were served to 13 guests.

Twice on the same eve that the Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian church gathered at the call of ghosts to be guests of J. A. Rapp. Orange and black set the color scheme for the affair.

And so, shifting to the fateful night of the 31st, we find Miss Louise Moore and Ray Lee Adams carrying off honors for prize-winning costumes at the Central Baptist young people's frolic.

With roses and yellow cosmos worked into a scheme of goblins and jack-o-lanterns, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin George Jr. threw open their home to the Church of Christ, the only party of its kind reported to us.

To the current season, members of the Child Study Club No. 2 honored their husband at an evening of bridge and "42", with Mrs. George Rhodes, hostess. Nine husbands were honor guests at the affair.

Candy pulling furnished the diversion for All Witches' Eve when Miss Betty Jean McMillen played hostess to a group of Ranger's youngest socialists. The party featured Halloween decorations.

Led through a ghost tunnel, guests of Miss Dixie Neal observed the eve of wicked creatures at the First Baptist church. The party

Rangers-Simmons Frosh to Meet on Ranger Field Friday. This week has found the Texas Rangers football squad facing probably the hardest week of practice they have gone through with in the 1933 conference flag races.

Coach Ward wants to have his team in prime condition for the Simmons game, even though Weaver and Brown, both valuable Rangers, will be on the bench from injuries.

In the Weatherford game Charley Black was outstanding and Delmer Brown proved himself quite capable of holding down the position held almost exclusively, up until this time by Daniels. Brown is much lighter than Daniels, but is one of the fastest men on the squad.

"Mae West" Mabry, a big tackle from Hillsboro, was easily one of the best men on the squad, with Taylor and Vaughn of equal rank in their positions.

The Simmons freshmen are one of the best freshman teams in this section, and the game Friday will not lack thrills and excitement equal to a conference game.

College Students Join in Celebration of All Witches' Eve. "All Witches' Eve," by the calendar, the last day of autumn, was brought to a festive close Tuesday evening when members of the freshman class of Ranger Junior College were guests of the sophomores at a Halloween party in the clubroom.

Charms and symbols of luck were presented guests, and the evening was devoted to bridge, dancing, games and stunts. Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Hal Hunter, sophomore class sponsor, Mary Lou Hamrick, Deiva Shirley, Verna Castleberry, refreshments; Mary Jane Dreinhofer, Virginia Acree and Price Crawley, program.
