VOL. XV

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

We had decided not to write a column today, but we got a long-distance call from R. N. Cluck of Cisco, and we promised we would try to clear up one angle of a long-sidled affair.

Cluck quoted another paper as stating that he was going to talk to Mr. Cluck as to whether he would talk to Mr. Cluck by telephone and Mr. Cluck stated that he was "not going to say anything."

Cluck denies talking to Mr. Cluck, and asked us, in fairness, to the Ranger superintendent, to make this point clear. According to Mr. Cluck he did not talk to Mr. Cluck at all, but we had informed the Cisco News that Mr. Cluck had stated that morning that he was not going to forfeit his games at that time. The Cisco News told Mr. Cluck. Mr. Cluck told Mr. Dudley at Abilene and Mr. Dudley at Abilene and Mr. Dudley at Abilene. Mr. Dudley talked to one of the Abilene reporters and the reporter, getting information through a chain of intermediaries, published the story. As we intimated yesterday, someone must have been misquoted somewhere, sometime.

Mr. Cluck admitted that the whole thing was such a muddle that he didn't know very much about it and that he wanted to get his part in it cleared up, if possible. Now if we could just get our side cleared up as easily, things might not look so queer.

However, in all justice to all concerned, everyone seems to be just as much in doubt about the whole thing as we are. That is why we are adopting a policy, if it could be called that, of not trying to get anyone's version of how things really are.

And, too, we listened to an interesting, and to us intelligent, discourse on how the thing should be run next year. Without quoting any names and without giving the full details it amounts to about this:

Each school should appoint a capable business man who is a football fan to represent the school and the town at all meetings. This man would have the responsibility of checking up on the eligibility of every player in his home town. Then the committee would meet and they would go over all names, get them straightened out and let their findings be final. That does not sound so very much like an adequate description of the method, but it probably will serve as well as any. We do not know that anything like 99 per cent of the fans hereabouts are in favor of having the whole thing settled before the season starts and some rigid and ironclad procedure outlined and followed so that this sort of thing cannot occur again.

As was pointed out, the boys on the teams are the ones to suffer for the results of mistakes made by others and from circumstances over which they have no control.

As we see it the main trouble would be to find someone who would be willing to take all that responsibility. We know we wouldn't want it and can think of no one who would.

Tomorrow afternoon is the day for the conference game between Ranger Junior College and the John Tarleton Plowboys, which should be played and won or lost on the football field.

As far as we know when a Junior college team wins, the game stands as played, so everyone who attends the game tomorrow should know before nightfall which team has won, if any.

Ranger Girls Play Thurber Tonight

The Ranger High school girls' basketball team will play the Thurber High team at the high school gym here tonight at 7:15.

The Ranger team has recently elected a captain for the team, after playing one game this season. Candidates were Allie Ball and Louise Arnett. When the first vote was taken it was found to be a tie vote and on the second ballot Louise Arnett was elected as captain.

The lineup for Ranger for the game tonight will be "Blue" Arnett, forward; "Toots" Riley, forward; Allie Ball, jump center; Corinne Benson, run center; Dorothy Dodd, guard and Ruby Jarvis, guard.

Tale of John D. 'Reward' Denied

When William S. Fitzpatrick, above, received $300,000 profit from a Sinclair oil stock pool in 1929, he believed it a "reward" for long service to the Rockefeller family, he told the Senate banking committee. But this was denied by a Rockefeller spokesman who said no such "arrangement" had been made for the Sinclair aide, former head of Prairie Oil and Gas.

THE OPERATING ROOM MURDER STILL MYSTERY

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Chicago's operating room murder mystery reached that stage today which, in detective novels, calls for a meeting of the principal characters in the death-stricken household and a recapitulation of all evidence to determine whether any clues have been missed in the first, wild search.

The gloomy fog that has hung over the city since the death of Rheta Winekoop first was discovered, deepened today as detectives prowled in dusty corners for evidence to substantiate their theories.

Members of the family, many of them doctors to whom death comes without emotion in the daily routine of their duties, awaited with suspense the arrival of Earle Winekoop, the slain woman's husband, who has been ordered arrested.

Young Winekoop, a photographer, left Chicago about the time his wife was believed to have been chloroformed, disrobed and shot in the basement laboratory of his mother, Dr. Alice Winekoop. He was reported in Kansas City, but police there could not find him.

New theories sprouted every hour in the imagination of detectives.

Those of the Winekoop family, who returned to the house after hours of questioning, were virtual prisoners within the shadowed walls.

Captain John Stege, veteran murder investigator, clung to his theory that "someone in that house knows who killed Rheta Winekoop."

"The girl was killed by someone in whom she had confidence. She was dressed as if for a medical examination. I believe she was chloroformed, then shot."

Morgenthau To Visit Roosevelt

800 MEN NOW ON ROLLS FOR C. W. A. WORK

E. A. Ringold, in charge of relief work in Ranger and in charge of the work of employing men out of jobs, under the C. W. A., announced today that 800 men were now on the payrolls in Ranger and the registration list had reached 800, with more men being added as fast as they could be registered.

City officials and relief work administrators have recently returned from Austin, where they got information on the C. W. A. projects and are getting all the provisions of the employment plan under operation as quickly as possible.

The orders from the Texas relief and rehabilitation commission are to place all unemployed men to work as soon as possible and to provide as many projects as might be needed to take care of all men on the rolls. New projects are now being worked out for approval at Austin in order to keep these men at work.

It was stressed at the meeting at Austin that every man employed should give services for value received and if any man refused to work or loafed on the job he was to be removed from the rolls and his chances to obtain more work forfeited.

Aliens can be given direct relief, but cannot be given work, Mr. Ringold stated and anyone who spends the money received from the C. W. A. work and spends it on whiskey or who squanders the money without buying necessities should also forfeit the right to remain on the rolls.

One question that has arisen in Ranger has been explained. Some were undecided as to whether more than one man in a family could receive work. It was stated that more than one could receive work as long as enough work projects were approved to furnish employment.

No work for organizations, churches or other groups that do not represent a community-wide interest cannot be approved. However, it was agreed that where the property owner would co-operate in buying part of the materials, sidewalks could be built with labor furnished by the C. W. A.

Several projects have been worked out for approval and men are expected to receive work on these within a short time. Among those to be started next will be chatting of Elundell from Young street to the Strawn road and chatting of several of the streets that intersect Young. Announcement of other approved projects are expected to be made within a short time.

GOVERNMENT BUYING BONDS ON THE MARKET

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Government money was being thrown into the bond market today to halt a decline of government issues.

Meanwhile the country's best known economists and monetary experts lined up for and against the president's gold buying plan to raise commodity prices. Inflation was the bone of contention.

Acting Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau announced large sums were available to support government issues in the bond market. He said government repurchase of its own bonds had already started through the federal reserve bank of New York. He did not reveal the extent of these purchases.

PLOWBOYS TO BRING BIG TEAM TO PLAY RANGERS AT LILLARD FIELD ON FRIDAY

The John Tarleton Plowboys from Stephenville will invade Ranger Friday afternoon with a team of husky football players who have proved that they can play a good brand of football when they are in the mood to play. If they are playing tomorrow as they have played in some of their recent games it will take all the defensive strength of the Rangers line to stop them.

The starting line runs from 167 pounds at one end to 190 pounds at one of the guards, with most of the linemen weighing around 180 pounds.

In the backfield the weights run from 165 pounds to 185 pounds, with plenty of speed and power represented in that department.

Since losing several early season games the Plowboys have changed up their lineup some and the recent changes have added power on the offense and on the defense, so that it now is rated as one of the strongest teams in the conference.

Similar changes have been made in the Rangers lineup, which has provided some strength where it was needed without taking anything from the defensive strength of the team.

Friday afternoon at Lillard field, when the two teams clash at 3 o'clock, the fans should see one of the hardest fought battles in the conference as both teams are rated as among the best.

Tarleton has lost one game to Decatur by a 6 to 0 score, while the Rangers scored a lone field goal against the same team to win.

Tarleton's starting lineup is as follows:

Name	Pos.	Wt.	No.
Hoover	RE	167	9
Smiley	RT	180	10
Taylor	RG	170	14
Gunter	C	179	7
Crook	LG	195	3
Hunt	LT	180	6

Howard	Q	180	11
Kinnard	F	165	22
Stapp	RH	170	13
Hibson	LH	185	12

Christmas Mail Should Be Sent Early This Year

The people of Ranger have been urged by Postmaster J. E. Maroney, to do their Christmas mailing early this year in order to assure prompt and early delivery of packages.

In notices sent out by the post-office department, and which have been received here, the people are cautioned to wrap packages carefully, seeing that all fragile articles and all perishable matter is distinctly marked so that it can be handled properly by postal employees.

All packages should be adequately addressed in order to assure safe delivery and the postage must be fully prepaid. No parcel may be more than 100 inches in length and girth combined nor exceed 70 pounds in weight. Matter in the nature of personal correspondence cannot be enclosed in packages. All valuable packages should be insured or registered.

Those who have packages for foreign countries should be sure that they are mailed during November and because the long sea journey involves as a rule and customs inspections abroad packages for foreign countries should be carefully wrapped.

Sales In Retail Stores Show An Increase Over 1932

AUSTIN.—Dollar sales in 91 Texas retail stores during October were 25 per cent above those of September and 5 per cent above those of October, 1932, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. In the five preceding years the average increase of October over September was only 13.5 per cent. Moreover, this is the first year since 1928 that sales in October exceeded those in the preceding October. Sales in October, 1932, were 17 per cent less than in 1931; those of October, 1931 were 22 per cent less than in 1930; and those of October, 1930, were 8 per cent less than in 1929.

Men's clothing stores with a gain of 10.8 per cent made the best showing over October, 1932, followed in order by the large department stores, smaller department stores and women's specialty shops. Sales in dry goods and apparel stores declined 17 per cent from October last year. Seven cities showed gains in sales of 17 per cent or more over October, 1932—Abilene, Corsicana, Houston, Port Arthur, San Angelo, Waco and Wichita Falls. Declines of 15 per cent or less were shown in San Antonio, Austin, Galveston and El Paso. Sales for the year to date were 4.6 per cent below those of the corresponding period in 1932. Only five cities—Abilene, Houston, Port Arthur, San Angelo, and Wichita Falls—showed gains above the first 10 months of last year. The ratio of collections to outstanding was 33 per cent compared with 30 per cent last year.

Her 'Secret Sorrow' Is Revealed

Hollywood, seeing Sylvia Sidney in delectful poses such as this, often attributed to her a secret sorrow. The reality of this sorrow was revealed the other day when the demure screen star, who always had been known as the daughter of a New York dentist, filed papers in New York Supreme Court against her real father, Victor Kosow. She charged Kosow with attempting to extort $18,000 from her under threat of having her adoption by Sigmund Sidney annulled.

S. P. EMPLOYEES TO WALK OUT ON SATURDAY

HOUSTON, Nov. 23.—Plans for a walkout Saturday noon of 3,000 employees of the Southern Pacific lines in Texas and Louisiana went forward today as protests against conditions which brotherhood officials termed "intolerable."

Spokesmen for the laborers today officially announced the zero hour for the strike as noon Saturday.

Their action was taken after 97 1/2 per cent of the employees casting ballots on 104 enumerated grievances, supported the four associated brotherhoods, which called for a vote for their members.

General Manager L. B. McDonald of the Southern Pacific lines, meanwhile showed no indication of willingness to take further steps in arbitration. He announced "several hundred applications have been received from experienced men prepared to work under strike conditions if and when the present employes walk from their jobs."

Oil In Storage To Be Limited

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—In an effort to control gasoline production, Oil Administrator Ickes today set the maximum amount of the fuel to be held in storage on Dec. 31 at 51,000,000 barrels.

In an order to refiners Ickes divided the United States into refinery districts and announced the maximum amount of gasoline to be held in storage in each of the districts at the end of the year.

Texas was district No. 5. It was divided into two sub-districts, inland Texas with 9,750,000 and the gulf coast with 4,940,000 barrels.

EMPLOYEE TELLS OF A GIFT TO GEO. SHEPPARD

Says Comptroller Was Reluctant to Accept Christmas Gift of $700.

AUSTIN, Nov. 23.—A wide range of investigation was scheduled by the house inquiry committee today with witnesses summoned who have been mentioned in connection with highway job promises, sanitary commission matters and activities of state referees.

Testifying before the committee yesterday R. S. Calvert, statistician in the office of State Comptroller George Sheppard, of Sweetwater, said that a campaign fund was made up by office employees and sent to Fort Worth with the understanding it would be used to keep a Dallas man of similar name from running against Sheppard.

Calvert estimated that about $1,300 was sent to agents of the department in North Texas for that purpose. He said it was his understanding the man wanted a refund of his expenses and submitted an itemized account of them.

Calvert said the man had been put out as a candidate by a Fort Worth oil man whose name he did not know. The entry, Calvert said, was in spite because of Sheppard's activity in forcing tax payments.

"I do not think we did anything wrong in getting that man out of the race," Calvert said, but he also added they kept the action from Comptroller Sheppard's knowledge. Calvert said he also received funds which office employees contributed for Christmas presents to the comptroller. Last Christmas it was $700 in cash. The year before it was "a couple hundred."

Sheppard accepted the $700 reluctantly, Calvert said, and only when assured that the gift was voluntarily.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

REAL PEACE: Wisdom's ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace.—Proverbs 3: 17.

'THE HAPPY WARRIOR' AND THE NEW DEAL PRESIDENT

Franklin D. Roosevelt, the President and Alfred E. Smith, who failed to be elected president, under the sheltering roof of the White House slaked their respective thirsts with tea, exchanged the compliments of the season, and discussed their grandchildren. They have been pals for, lo, these many years. They did not discuss politics. They did not discuss old or new deal programs. They had a very jolly hour together. The right hand man of Postmaster General James A. Farley conveyed "The Happy Warrior" from the railroad station to the White House. President Roosevelt mad James A. Hoey collector of internal revenue for the very mportant district of New York. It is one of the richest plums at the disposal of the President. "The Happy Warrior" refused to cooperate with the Curry Tammany Tiger in the recent election. James J. Hoey refused to follow the flag of the Tiger. He was a candidate on a McKee ticket for the office of city comptroller. He lost.

Now the McKee democrats have ben given due recognition by the President. Alfred E. Tichenor is the publisher of The Outlook magazine. "The Happy Warrior" is the editor of the magazine. Hoey was the Smith campaign manager in 1928. "The Happy Warrior" cast his ballot for Hoey for comptroller. Publisher Tichenor had charge of the publicity campaign for Mayor-elect LaGuardia. Now the publisher and Mrs. Tichenor are the guests of the mayor-elect down on the isle of Bermuda.

There is to be a reorganization of the New York democracy. Tiger Trainer Curry is on the way out. As a Tiger manager he was a failure. He opposed the nomination of Roosevelt at Chicago. He lost. He opposed the nomnation of Herbert H. Lehmann for governor. Roosevelt and Smith jammed Lehmann down the throat of the Tiger. There is to be a new democratic party in the Empire state of the East. Now the O'Connor brothers of Albany are in the Roosevelt camp. Their choice has been named as collector of internal revenue for the Albany district. Farley is said to have extended the olive branch to the victorious brothers. Now they are on the Roosevelt band-wagon.

Many of the important cities upstate, including Buffalo and Rochester, were captured by the democrats on Nov. 7. In other words, there is a new deal on in the democratic wigwam in New York state and the Tger appears to be in the tall timber blinded in both eyes, teeth broken and elaws removed with the doors of a museum-zoo attached ready for the reception of the crippled beast.

A city is usually judged by its appearance. A whole lot of citizens get the idea that responsibility for the appearance of the city rests upon city officials. The fact of the matter is, personal responsibility for the appearance of the city rests upon the shoulders of every citizen. Cooperation is absolutely necessary for the beautification of any city.

In some cities reckless automobile and truck drivers endanger the lives of other drivers, as well as the innocent pedestrian for whom this class of drivers has no respect. Some of them seem to treat traffic regulations as a joke. Speed demons, corner cutters and all kinds of reckless drivers should become good citizens, obey the law or go to jail where they belong.

Merchants who stock up with the merchandise that people want and then let them know about it through newspaper advertising are the ones who get somewhere.

Some cities seem like cities of neglected possibilities, while others seem like cities of opportunity, yet they often fail to seize the opportunities that present themselves.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

THAT when you buy all you buy in the city in which you live, you benefit and so does the home city. Therefore, it is easy to see that onl foolish people spend their money away from home.

Some people never seriously attempt to learn anything about the business concerns of their home city and permit themselves to go along with a mistaken idea that their city acy progress without business. It can't be done, and the sooner they realize this fact the sooner their city will grow to be a better place in which to live and make a living.

A dam of education should be erected to stop the flow of money that is made in a city and allowed to flow to other cities, building up other cities at the expense of the home city.

Every effort should be made to divert this money back into the right channel so it will be spent at home where it will do constructive work and benefit all.

T&P Reduces Fares For Thanksgiving

DALLAS, Nov. 23.—Texans can do their Thanksgiving traveling this year at bargain prices. According to Frank Jensen, general passenger agent of the Texas & Pacific railway, fares to all points on that line in Texas and Louisiana will be 60 per cent of the one-way fare for a round trip for Thanksgiving travelers.

"Such low fares," Mr. Jensen said, "are almost unheard of, especially during recent years. More than that, travel is made safe, comfortable and fast by the most modern of trains and conveniences."

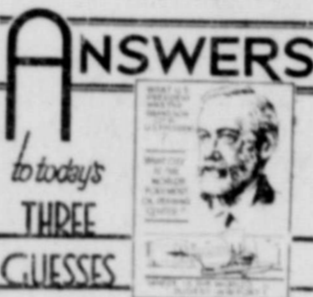

These special low fare tickets, Mr. Jensen explained, will be on sale at all Texas & Pacific ticket offices Nov. 28, 29 and 30 with a return limit of Dec. 5.

"A fare of two cents a mile for distance traveled," the general passenger agent explained, "will also be on sale Nov. 28, 29 and 30 to Little Rock, St. Louis, Chicago, Minneapolis and St. Paul, with a return limit of 10 days."

Pullman fares will also be reduced for these Thanksgiving fares.

Ancient Silver Vessels Found in Sweden

KALMAR, Sweden.—Ancient sacred vessels have been discovered in a well at Kalmar castle. The oldest, a silver wafer box, is stamped with the year 1646, while a gilded goblet was manufactured in 1736. It is believed that these vessels are part of a loot stolen from the castle, and forgotten by the thief. The castle was used as a prison up to 1852, and it is possible that some inmate, who knew his way about, picked up the vessels from the castle's collection of silver, and hid them in the well.

Women Will Try To Elect Officers Of Teachers Assn.

AUSTIN, Tex.—Women school teachers of Texas, a little weary perhaps of masculine rule of the Texas State Teachers Association, will seek to elect Mrs. Roy C. Owens, Tylor, as president when they convene here Thanksgiving Day.

Mrs. Owens is a graduate of the East Texas State Teachers College and is working on her Master of Arts degree at Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn. In Tylor she has been a grade teacher, high school teacher, vice-principal of the high school, and director of instruction in the public schools.

Endorsers of J. O. Loftin, who has taught in Corpus Christi, San Antonio and San Marcos, have placed an NRA plank in his platform for the association's presidency.

The NRA should be asked to work out a code for teachers, many of whom receive salaries less than the minimum wage guaranteed for non-skilled labor, Loftin declares.

His other proposed policies include: preparation for a "legislative year" by acquainting Texas teachers with educational goals; extensive publicity to the cause of public schools; local and sectional organization of teachers; closer cooperation between the state board of education, the state department, and the state teachers association.

A program that includes 42 sectional meetings, varying in subjects from penmanship to science, has been planned for the convention.

A host of noted educators also have been invited to address the convention. Among these are:

Herbert B. Bruner, professor of education in charge of the curriculum laboratory, Teachers College, Columbia University. He was once a football coach at McMillan high school, Mexico, Mo., later became an author, among whose works is one entitled "Children's Poetry Interests." He has served at various times as curriculum consultant at Houston, Port Arthur, Beaumont, and Fort Worth.

Dr. Ben D. Wood, a University of Texas graduate, now director of the bureau of Collegiate Educational Research in Columbia College, New York City. The Newfangles (Mom 'n Pop)

By Cowen

The UNKNOWN BLOND By Laura Lou BROOKMAN

DRUGAN looked a look of bewilderment in his eyes. Then he understood. "Five dollars an hour—sixty-five cents," he announced. "Five dollars an hour—sixty-five cents!"

Bannister had pulled a wallet from his pocket, was counting up the change. "Here you are," he said, smiling, and handing over the amount. "Five dollars and sixty-five cents. Now if I can have the check—"

"Why certainly! Certainly!" The sight of the money seemed to dissolve all of Drugan's troubles. He stepped forward, put his hand in Bannister's and grasped it firmly. "Pat!" he exclaimed. "You're my pal!"

Bannister returned the handshake. "O.K., Drugan," he said. "I'm your pal, too. Drugan, let's be on our way."

Before the befuddled Drugan thoroughly understood the situation all three of them were outside.

It was a side street, not brightly lighted, and a cold wind had come up. As the sharp air smote his cheek and blew open his topcoat Drugan drew back, protesting.

Gainey said easily, "Come on, Drugan! Where you bound for? We'll see that you get there."

The musician straightened. "Listen," he said, "you think I'm drunk, don'tcha? Well, I'm not. Just had a drink or two. Just a couple little ones. If a fellow who's been through all I've been through in the last day and night isn't entitled to a couple little drinks—"

"Why, what have you been through?" Gainey asked innocently.

"Don'tcha know!" Amusement made the words more an exclamation than a question. "Don'tcha know what happened last night? I thought everybody knew. Don'tcha know about Tracy King? Found 'm dead—the best pal a fellow ever had. Dead like a dog, that's how I found 'm. Shot down. Tracy King was the sneer friend I ever had. There'd never be another one—not like 'Tracy!'"

FOR a minute the other two thought Drugan was going to burst into tears. Then they understood it was the cold wind and not over-wrought emotions that had brought the moisture to his eyes.

Neither Bannister nor Gainey wore topcoats. Bannister, stamping to warm his feet, said, "Let's get going! Can't we get a cab around here somewhere?"

Gainey said, "Suppose we walk along with Drugan. I'd like to hear more about his friend." He turned, addressing Drugan. "Why, that's terrible!" he said. "You mean Tracy King, the orchestra leader who was killed last night, was a friend of yours?"

"Best friend I'll ever have," Drugan said mournfully. "Shot down like a dog."

"And you say you found him—the body I mean?" Gainey persisted.

Drugan hadn't said precisely that but he agreed, nodding. "Terrible thing!" he exclaimed, closing his eyes as if in pain, then opening them instantly. "Never forget it as long as I live! Terrible!"

"Night Flight" Is A Thrilling Drama of Element Struggles

There is a thrill, a verve, an authenticity to "Night Flight" which opened last night at the Arcadia Theatre for a run of two days, which makes it a definite forward achievement in the realm of aviation pictures.

The tale concerns John Barrymore, an air mail company manager, whose creed is that the mail must go through; Robert Montgomery, the pilot on the trans-Andean run; Clark Gable, shooting northwards through a terrific storm from Patagonia, and Helen Hayes, Gable's worry-distracted wife. Subordinate plots bring out excellent work from Myrna Loy, William Gargan, C. Henry Gordon, Leslie Fenton and others. Lionel Barrymore, as the shiftless, easy-going inspector of planes, is a perfect comedy foil to his stern brother.

Tremendous thrill value is inherent in the manner in which Brown cuts back and forth from Gable in his storm-battling plane; to Barrymore, tense in his office; to Helen Hayes, frantic over unfavorable wireless reports. There is great suspense to scenes showing the gasoline gauge of Gable's plane dropping lower and lower, until finally it registers "empty"—with no ground in sight through thick storm clouds. "Night Flight" closes its run at the Arcadia today.
