RANGERS PROBING HUGE THEFT RING

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

Today, in one article, we finish the lettermen of the Ranger bulldog team of 1933, having completed a series of 11 stories about the regular starters. Today we pick up Jesse White, Bill Payton and Jimmie Westbrook.

Jesse White
This is White's last season to play and had the team had more than like White this season the team would have been much stronger. Weighing 150 pounds, White was a reserve letterman last year who made the grade this year as a full-fledged letterman.

At the beginning of the season White was used at end, later being moved to both end and tackle. He took Jacoby's place in the Cisco game when Jacoby was injured and was removed from the game. White turned in a good game.

When Hill was found ineligible White was switched to tackle and fill that position. He improved in the game and with one more reason he would be one of the best on the team, but the eight-shop rule knocks him out of the game. Perhaps his most spectacular play of the year was at Lubbock when, running full tilt he jumped over Anderson's pass, juggled the ball for a few steps, finally got it and fell across the goal attempting to put the Bulldogs ahead by a score of 21 to 7.

At tackle he stood out well and could always be relied on to carry out his assignment, whether playing end or tackle.

Bill Payton
This is the first season for Bill Payton, who weighs around 165 and who will likely be a regular this year.

He played nearly every position the line at one time or another, starting out at center, later playing tackle and then end, a position which he called upon to fill at season. Lack of experience is the only thing that kept Payton out of the regular lineup all season, but next year he is expected to be used regularly, as he could be a wonderful player by all accounts.

Weekly Times to Reach Its Readers the Week Published

The first issue of the Weekly Times was in the mails early this morning, in time to reach a vast majority of the shoppers on the rural route deliveries and early enough to reach every subscriber in the trade territory.

Reaching the subscribers Friday is a great advantage to the advertisers, because it is the first time a weekly has been published that will reach the readers with the Saturday special advertisements by the merchants in time for some of the readers to take advantage of these specials.

Papers put in the mails late in the day on Friday, as has been the practice of other weeklies, reach readers on the Ranger rural routes on Saturday but those living on rural routes out of Carbon, Gorman, Desdemona, Lingville, Strawn, Thurber, Eastland or any of the other towns listed on the mailing list of the Weekly Times could not get their papers before Monday if the papers were not in the post office early Friday morning.

The Weekly Times, therefore, is reaching all readers soon enough for them to take advantage of the Saturday specials of the Ranger merchants, a service that has not been possible in the case of other weeklies which are mailed later in the day on Friday.

The merchants will, no doubt, appreciate this added service and will soon see the advantage of advertising in the Weekly Times, where their advertising will reach all the readers, not just part of them, before their advertising has become out of date.

There is no substitute for paid circulation.

MAN IS HELD IN SLAYING OF POLICE CHIEF

By United Press

AMARILLO, Texas, Jan. 5.—Frank Crutchfield, of White Deer, Texas, was arrested charged with murder in the slaying of Police Captain Burnham here today.

Burnham was shot four times and instantly killed after he had chased a gunman who he interrupted while the latter was pointing a pistol at George Robertson, Panhandle, Texas. Robertson was obtained as a witness.

He told police he and Crutchfield met at a hotel where they were found. The two had quarreled.

A negro porter who said he was "marched all over the hotel" at the point of a pistol, summoned police.

In 1925 Crutchfield was charged with robbery of a bank at White Deer. The case was transferred to Amarillo. Here he pleaded insanity. He was sent to a state institution for the insane at Wichita Falls, where he remained a short time.

Fort Worth Ball Franchise May Be Sold At Meeting

By W. WINSTON COPELAND

United Press Staff Correspondent
FORT WORTH, Jan. 5.—An inkling as to whether the Fort Worth Texas league baseball franchise will hang over this city in 1934 will be forthcoming this week when the league magnates meet at San Antonio, Jan. 6.

At present the status of the franchise is completely clouded in uncertainty, that is, if it can be sold to have a katus.

The league has demanded that the Fort Worth interests have available a cash guarantee by Saturday to insure the franchise being returned here. Otherwise the franchise will be taken to another city, league officials threaten.

That other city, some say, probably is Shreveport. That the franchise should go to Shreveport, however, draws a chuckle from some sporting authorities, since Shreveport proved a financial failure when a member of the league, unable to support a ball club led by George Sisler, one of the greatest names in baseball.

That situation, however, does not ease the tension here. Dr. Webb Walker, receiver for the club which finished last season far in the red, has refrained from declaring himself. Walker is a loyal baseball fan and it is known he will do whatever is in his power to keep Fort Worth in the circuit.

Whether he will be able to do so is questionable.

Various overtures presumably have been made to major league clubs to operate the Fort Worth club as a farm. Teams mentioned in this respect have been the Boston Red Sox, Chicago White Sox and the New York Giants.

Whether these appeals have been made and whether they have any shadow of success has not been revealed.

The position of the club now is much that of a vacuum in a void, except for the fact there is a $50,000 baseball plant here, prospectively without a club to operate it.

The club itself is non-existent. Without a franchise and without anything definite, no players can be signed for next season, leaving the whole matter for development after the league's decision Saturday.

Delegations to Be Heard on Road Projects Monday

By United Press
AUSTIN, Jan. 5.—Delegations from 34 counties have made appointments for hearings on road matters here next Monday and Tuesday.

Judge T. E. Darcy, Cleburne, is to be heard on requested designation of a state highway from Grapevine to Happy Hill in Johnson county by way of Arlington, Mansfield and Lillian; designation of a highway from Cleburne to Valley Mills and reinstatement of highway 144 from Cleburne to Walnut Springs.

CALIFORNIA FLOOD TRAPS CARS IN SEA OF MUD

Half-buried in a sea of mud, automobiles dotted the scene of devastation after raging torrents, bearing tons of silt and rocks, swept over Los Angeles county, Calif., killing more than 40 and causing $5,000,000 damage. The view here is in Glendale, a suburb of Los Angeles, with booted men and curious women inspecting the ruin and barefoot children enjoying a mud wade.

'MYSTERY GUN' BROUGHT INTO PASTOR'S TRIAL

By United Press

PIGGOTT, Ark., Jan. 5.—The spotlight in the murder trial of Rev. Dale Crowley, pastor of Jonesboro Baptist tabernacle, focused today on a "mystery gun." Until then there were two guns that figured in the case—the pistol used by Rev. Crowley and the unfired revolver owned by the victim.

The third weapon was removed from the scene of the slaying by Mrs. Mary Holson, 74, along with the weapon owned by Crowley and McCurdy. Walter Montague, a transfer company employe, identified the third gun and claimed ownership. He said he let someone have the weapon before the slaying but the name of the wielder of the revolver remained unidentified.

Big Financing Program Now Being Planned

By United Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Federal fiscal experts planned today the largest peace time financing program in history. They seek to borrow approximately $10,000,000,000 to meet government expenses and maturities over the next six months.

No sooner had President Roosevelt revealed in his budget message the need for that sum than treasury experts were put to work in mapping out the financial program. Only in war time in 1918 has the treasury been confronted with the raising of that much money in so short a time.

The manner in which the $6,000,000,000 additional new money and the $4,000,000,000 to pay off obligations would be raised was in doubt, but it was learned on high authority the money would be raised as it has been in the past. This was through direct sale of bonds, notes, bills and certificates direct to investors, bankers and insurance companies.

The current financing program resembled the final effort to win the war in 1918 when a huge, patriotic bond selling campaign raised more money than is contemplated over the next six months.

The first step in the program was considered today by treasury officials. Despite the huge cash balance of $955,991,710 now in the treasury, a rapid increase in emergency expenditures over the past few weeks might require issuance of new securities before the end of January.

Capone Gang Is Reported Selling Whiskey in West

By United Press

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Secret orders from Washington today launched a tri-state investigation of reports that remnants of the Capone and other Chicago gangs are flooding the midwest with cheap bootleg liquor.

Revenue agents said they had information indicating several million gallons of bootleg and cut whiskey had been fed into liquor channels by gangsters of the prohibition era.

Widespread arrests in the conspiracy were understood to be imminent. The United Press learned a prominent former Chicago official was involved.

RAILROADS OF NATION SHOW BIG UPTURN

By United Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The nation's railroads are assuming a more healthful financial outlook for 1934, the interstate commerce commission said today in its annual report to congress.

The report, departing from custom, made no recommendations for improvements in the rail situation for 1934, leaving the matter to federal transportation co-ordinator Joseph B. Eastman. Eastman is expected to submit his recommendations to the commission soon and they will be transmitted to congress for action.

Signs of a brighter outlook for the nation's carriers, the report said, could be seen in lessening of unfair competition, increased earnings, replacement of equipment activity and higher prices for bonds during the first half of 1933 compared with the same period in 1932.

The report, covering the period from Nov. 1, 1932, to Oct. 1, 1933, showed the railroads' net deficit, after deducting fixed charges, was $94,500,862 for the first quarter of 1933 against 654,688,462 for the corresponding period in 1932.

Pointing out employment on railroads was rising, the commission said the carriers should now undertake all practical maintenance and repair work possible to further boost it, spread spending, and aid recovery. The labor employment index for carriers was 57.7 last September compared with the 1927 basis of 100 per cent.

The depression, according to the report, has caused some railroads to engage in rate cutting and other competitive measures, which will not be restricted so long as they are on a "non-discriminatory basis" and employes' salaries do not suffer.

Citing emergency legislation from congress last spring as beneficial to the situation together with government loans to the roads, the commission predicted railroads soon would be compelled to undertake heavy maintenance and expenditures to handle any increase in traffic.

Railroads, the commission reported, are co-operating generally with the policy of consolidating and improving efficiency of operation. Increased net earnings, the commission added, may result for 1933 compared with 1932.

The commission expressed belief that a general cut of freight rates to meet competition from motor trucks and boats would not cure the situation. It would result in general revenue totals being low.

EASTLAND IS SCENE OF AN INVESTIGATION OF ALLEGED OIL WELL SUPPLY THEFT RING

Over a Dozen Reported Unofficially to Have Been Arrested and Six Confessions Are Said to Have Been Given.

An investigation by State Rangers of an alleged statewide ring of thieves believed to have stolen and transported to various points in Texas $1,000,000 worth of oil field supplies, was begun in Eastland Thursday and was still in progress this morning. The Rangers working in this immediate section are under Captain Odneal. The sheriff's departments and county and district attorneys of Eastland and other counties of this portion of the state, are co-operating with the Rangers.

The investigation is being conducted for the entire Oil Belt and more than one hundred have already been questioned by the Rangers in an attempt to trace the movement of pipe and other oil field supplies through this section during the past several months.

While no charges have as yet been filed, it is stated, unofficially, that more than a dozen men are being held in various jails over West Texas and that at least six of those being held have made confessions that have enabled the officers to locate several thousands of dollars worth of stolen material at various Texas points.

The Eastland-county grand jury, which had recessed subject to call, will re-convene Monday and the vast amount of evidence accumulated by the investigating officers will be turned over to that body.

DOY ARNOLD TO BE TRIED SECOND TIME

By United Press

HASKELL, Texas, Jan. 5.—The second trial of Doy Arnold of Breckenridge, charged with murder in the street slaying of his wife in Breckenridge in 1932, is scheduled to begin here in district court Monday.

Arnold, who has been held in the Tarrant county jail for several months, was brought here today to await trial. The trial here is on change of venue from Stephens county.

The first trial court reached a verdict of guilty but the court of original appeals ordered a new trial.

Although the second trial was scheduled into a regular trial it was expected to develop into a sanity trial as well. While in the Stephens and Tarrant county jails officers said he made strange noises, first like the barking of a dog and later a sound like the cackling of a hen.

91st Court Jury Commission Is Named by Judge

Judge George L. Davenport of the 91st district court has appointed a jury commission composed of Jim Cheatham of Eastland; Clarence May of Ranger; and Martin Joyce of Rising Star, to select petit juries for the February term of the 91st district court which convenes Monday, Feb. 5.

Second Youth Confesses Part In Old Slaying

By United Press

FORT WORTH, Jan. 5.—Police said today a second youth last night admitted participation in an attempted holdup that took the life of U. E. Horton, filling station operator, and which had baffled police for three years.

The second youth, Jack Carter, 26, admitted participation in the holdup, police said, and named David Fowler, 21, as the one who shot Horton. Fowler yesterday admitted part in the slaying, which occurred in March, 1931.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson

BIRTH AND INFANCY OF JESUS

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Jan. 7.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of The Congregationalist

The thought of the whole world during the recent Christmas season was turned toward the story of our lesson—the story of the most wonderful birth.

We always should remember that the division of our Bible into chapters and verses is the work of a later age and was not in the original manuscript. There is, therefore, no break between chapter one and chapter two, but the story in our lesson of the coming of the Wise Men to visit Jesus is an incident in the whole record of his birth and infancy.

Who were the Wise Men, and where did they come from? There has been a great deal of speculation about that, but the question cannot be answered with any certainty.

It was an age in which much importance was attached to the stars, and in which the precursors of later seers and scientists, who observed the stars, were men with a deep response to the wonder and mystery of the universe in which they lived.

These Wise Men may have come long distances, for even in an era when transportation and travel were slow and tedious, man's instinct for adventure and gain had established far distant routes of trade.

There is a tradition, without any clear proof, that the Wise Men came from the Far East, possibly from India. The incident as it stands to emphasize the universality of the Christ who was born, even as his teaching and the salvation that he brought have applied to all men without distinction and to peoples of every land and clime. There is something suggestive in the journey of these Wise Men to see a new-born babe, and in their reverential attitude. Their coming and their worship were a manifestation of faith; but even beneath this faith was a deep and splendid humility.

It means much when we can see in a new-born babe a possible saint or prophet or king of the future. Considering all the men of greatness and goodness who have risen from poor and humble surroundings, we will might assume an attitude of reverence and humility toward every child.

There can be no great home life, no soundness of national life, and no hope for the world where there is no the supreme value placed upon the child. The story of our lesson represents a high plane of human life and interest.

As in so many passages and incidents of Scripture, we have, also, the strong contrast between the attitude of the Wise Men and that of erdo. How typical of human life even in our own day is that contrast!

On the one hand we see today, as we have seen in past ages, the love and goodness that reverence the child, the forces of education and nurture that work to beautify and ennoble child life; while on the other hand there are the Herod-like forces of destruction, the forces that for the sake of gain will keep children in the slums and hovels unenriched and for the most part uncared for.

A lesson concerning the child Christ means little to us unless we can see it in terms of this contrast and unless it moves us to put all our emphasis and interest upon the things that make for the well-being and proper development of the child.

The Christ who was born in Bethlehem later was to take the children in his arms and bless them. It is only as we live in the same spirit and practice that we truly rejoice in his birth.

OLDEN

Special Correspondent

A group of 29 Olden young people surprised Mary Ford at her home Monday night with a surprise party in honor of her eighteenth birthday. She had gone to the home of a girl friend and when they returned about 8 o'clock she was greeted at her door by the crowd yelling "Happy New Year," as she entered. Music, singing and dancing were enjoyed until a late hour. Refreshments were served. The crowd at 10 o'clock, by Jean Adams, Katherine Stanton and Marie Brown.

Mrs. Emmett Rice is ill in an Eastland hospital at this time. Olden schools opened Tuesday, Jan. 2, with several absent because of colds and illness.

Little Jack Bockman, who has been seriously ill for some time, and who underwent an operation at a Ranger hospital some time ago, is still in the hospital but reported to be improving gradually. An entertainment was given Monday night at the home of Beatrice and Mary Lillie Young. Games were played and cocoa and cake served to the guests, which included Johnny Jarrett, Florine Reaves, Earl Connell, Ruth Hunt, Roscoe Simms, Velma Jones, G. W. Curry, Margie Len Fowler, John C. Wyatt, Doris Stanton, Joe Barney Arthur, Milton Fullen and those from Eastland, including Gladys, Lois and Billie Hoffman and Mrs. C. H. Hoffman. All reported a splendid time.

Fifth Sunday singing was observed at the Olden Baptist church Sunday night, a large crowd attending and participating in the singing.

Recent rains and cold weather are welcomed by fruit growers and farmers here. It is hoped January will be a cold month, thereby keeping the buds back, unlike last year when the warm weeks in January caused the fruit to bud, only to be killed by frost and a freeze later. However, the rains and cold weather has caused the men employed on the Magnolia pipe line project north of town as well as the CWA men to lose some time.

The 9-year-old daughter of R. J. Kraep of Desdemona, who is gauger for the Magnolia in this district, is ill in a Ranger hospital, having undergone an operation for appendicitis. She was reported resting well Tuesday, although her condition is still quite serious. Jewel Russell is working in the office of Fred Davenport in Eastland now.

Man Wears Coat Regularly 29 Years

STEPHENVILLE, Texas.—This is not an old story, but it's a yarn about an old coat—not one that's been hanging in the closet for all these years, but one that sees service every week.

When Jim McCleskey, well known character around the courthouse, postoffice and newspaper offices in Stephenville, got ready to celebrate the exchange of 1933 and 1934, he donned a coat he bought back in 1905 and a pair of trousers he selected from some store 10 years ago.

Jim "dolls" up every Saturday and Sunday, and he always wears the 1905 coat, and it looks pretty good. Jim says he hasn't missed a single week wearing the garment in 29 years.

The coat is in good condition, despite its age and frequent use, but the trousers are getting thin at the knees, caused, Jim declares, from prying that they will last until the depression seats.

NOTED CALIFORNIA BANKER REPORTS
 'BETTER TIMES ARE HERE'

On the Golden Coast of California one of the most noted of American bankers is ever watching world movements from the lookout chair of his gigantic chain of banks. His name? A. P. Giannini. He is the chairman of the board of the Bank of America. He is the big financial voice of all that territory west of the Rockies. He made history in his battle royal for control when pitted against him were three or four of the shrewdest of the financiers of Manhattan island. In a year-end statement dealing with the economic situation he stressed "world-wide improvement in business." Speaking of the future as well as the present, he said:

"What we need today is a recognition of the improvement that has already started. Better times are here and only the many false starts heretofore made and only the confidence shaking controversies concerning the president's program have prevented recognition of this fact."

This California banker who speaks in millions for millions knows his America, his Golden Coast America and a vast territory on the fringe of the Golden Coast. It goes without saying that 1933 was an epoch making year in the history of the American world. It was the year when the American ox, floundering in the ditch, was dragged out of the mud and placed on a solid road which leads to the top of the hill.

There is a congress coming in. It will mark the return of the second year of the new deal gospel dispensation passed on to the American people by the administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Of course, mistakes may have been made. A man who never makes mistakes never scores successes. A man who is too timid to blaze a new trail when the old trail has been blotted out is a dead weight to his fellows. A man who relies on the and fortunes of the many or rather the welfare of all the people, is not a safe leader in a democracy or in any other form of government.

HEAD OF KANSAS LAND BANK GIVEN THE AIR

John M. Fields is a widely known Kansas republican. He was the president of the Federal Land bank at Wichita. Well, John has been given the air. Gov. William I. Myers of the federal farm credit administration journeyed from Washington to Wichita. He had a heart-to-heart talk with John. Then Myers caught a train for the East. John called in the reporters. Brevity is said to be the soul of wit. John practiced brevity. He told the press boys he "had been fired at the direction of President Roosevelt for the reason that the bank under his direction was not lending enough money and is not lending it fast enough." Perhaps a hungry democrat in Kansas will be given the job. There are democrats who would be very liberal in lending the government's money and know how to lend it "fast enough."

Cotton Acreage Reduction Contracts
 For Year 1934-1935 To Be Ready For Signatures By Farmers Soon

Cotton acreage reduction contracts for the years 1934-1935 will be ready for signing within the next few days according to a statement made public by J. C. Patterson, county agent. There will be local committees to assist producers in making out their contracts just as with the 1933 plan. Letters will be sent to producers announcing the plan and probably listing dates where meetings will be held to explain details of the new contracts.

This new reduction is necessary due to the fact that there is still an enormous surplus of cotton on hand and unless the proposed acreage cut is made we will again face a prospect of a four to five cent cotton. Had there been no crop-up in 1933 we would have had on hand approximately 29,000,000 bales of cotton. Cotton producers readily concede that this would have been the price range had no cotton been destroyed in 1933.

Secretary Wallace expresses abounding faith in the wisdom of cotton producers to see that the burden of acreage reduction is on their own shoulders and with them rests the responsibility for success or failure of the new reduction plan. If the growers want less acreage and consequent higher prices they will execute the new contracts. If they want four to five cent cotton this fall they will plant all the cotton they can and expect others to reduce.

New contracts call for a 40 per cent reduction under the five-year average for the farm which the contract covers. The average lint yield for the years in which cotton was grown must be 100 pounds lint per acre for contracts to be acceptable. Payments are to be 3 1/2 cents per pound for the average per acre lint yield on the "rented" acres. Contracted land is actually rented to the government. Also a parity payment of not less than $2 per bale on average production of rented acres will be paid.

Landlords execute the contracts and are to be joined by tenants where the tenants are to receive a portion of the payments. Rental payments will be paid, half as soon as possible after the contract has been accepted and half in the fall with the parity payment made in December.

GRAND JURY TO MEET
 The 121st district grand jury recessed subject to some weeks ago, will reconvene Monday.

Call Issued for Statement of Board

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—A call for a statement of the currency trust called on all national banks to report their condition as of Dec. 31.

Houston Deposits Up 14 Millions

HOUSTON, Jan. 5.—Bank deposits here increased $14,081,000 from last Oct. 25 to Dec. 30, according to figures compiled by the 18 city institutions at request of the national committee of the currency.

MOTHERS, DAUGHTERS

Mrs. Maggie S. Hall, 83, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "Early in life I was troubled with a chronic headache, which was relieved by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I have since used them for my general weakness, and I feel that I am a new woman. My prescription and took a few bottles of the Golden Medical Discovery. My physician said the treatment was all right. New size, tablets 30 cts., liquid $1.00."

Married Flirts

BEGIN HERE TODAY
 GYPSY MORELL and TOM WEAVER are married in a simple ceremony in a suburb of New York on the same day that LILA HROVAT and DEBBIE BLISS marry with pomp and circumstance in the city's most fashionable church. Gypsy and Lila are childhood friends. The Weavers spend their honeymoon in Tom's shack on a Long Island beach, and the Blisses go to Europe. Lila expects to live in luxury, but Gypsy intends to keep her job, as teacher in a settlement house.

CHAPTER II
 OCTOBER, Gypsy thought, was exhilarating in the city. It was a season, it held a mood, which belonged to Fifth Avenue, with its well-dressed women, its alluring displays behind plate glass windows.

Their little apartment, it is true, was a good long trek from the Avenue—five long blocks, in fact, but Gypsy and Tom admired it none the less and felt smart and urban because they now belonged in "the upper East Side" class. It was the first home Gypsy had ever known, other than the shabby mansard house in Blue Hills. And it was so different in all respects, so compact and shining and modern.

They had decided against living in a made-over "rough-up," as those apartments which have been wrested from the interior of stately old brown-stone fronts are called in Manhattan. Both Gypsy and Tom were tired of old houses, or thought they were, anyhow. The big, square, cream-colored block of apartments which they chose, with its tiled lobby and self-steering elevator, seemed the last word in comfort and convenience to them. That is, it did until they first caught a glimpse of Lila's place. But I am getting ahead of my story.

Their own particular cubbyhole consisted of two rooms, a living room and bedroom, and a kitchen and bath. The kitchen, in that quaint fashion known peculiarly to the New York apartment dweller, opened directly on the entrance hall, and the upper half of the door which closed it off was made of frosted glass. This distressed Gypsy mildly, but she numbered a handsome Japanese screen, all coiling dragons and flying birds, among her wedding presents, and this effectively hid the view from guests.

The whole place was finished pleasantly if unspredily in a cream-colored plaster, marked off by imitation paneling. Gypsy, used to the faded papers and liver colored paint of the house in Blue Hills, thought it very modish and restful. She and Tom moved in on October first, the last day of their vacation, and hung pictures, pushed furniture about, and established in their spick and span kitchen the treasures in tinware and glass which they triumphantly brought home from the ten-cent store.

"Isn't it perfect?" Gypsy, her brown curls pushed back, a smudge on her charming nose, her frock completely hidden by a coverall of blue linen, demanded approval of her labors. The little room shone with cleanliness and fresh paint and good will. The day-bed, upholstered in green mohair, occupied the longest wall space. There were two Windsor chairs and a drop leaf table. There was an unpolished bookshelf. There were one or two nice black and white prints. The casual onlooker might have pronounced the room half-furnished, as indeed it was, bare of rugs and curtains and cushions, but to the young Weavers it seemed perfect.

There was a long pause. Tom said, with forced brightness, "I told you about her, Darling," Tom said, slipping his arms around her.

"Later, of course," Gypsy planned, "we'll get some deep chairs and some rugs. We simply can't manage them yet—and what does it matter?"

Tom, who had been hanging pictures, stepped down from his stool to embrace her. What a darling she was, how good, and brave and beautiful! Why, she might have had everything, this girl, and she had chosen instead to link her way with his! He couldn't believe in his luck, quite yet.

They plinked in the kitchen that evening, enjoying a scrambled meal of omelet, beans and crisp bacon and salad. It was fun—it was all fun—from setting the table with a checked cloth to washing the blue and white dishes.

"You'll have to get some sort of part-time maid," Tom told her, firmly. "You can't work all day with those kids and come home to beds and dishes."

"We'll see about that," Gypsy said. But privately she was sure she was equal to anything. Let's see . . . she got $28 a week at the Settlement, and Tom's salary was $75 now. He'd had to take two reductions. That was more than $100 a week. It seemed riches to the girl. Back in Blue Hills there had never been anything so glorious, so utterly marvellous, as a regular income. Daddy had a way of defending penniless clients, and even when the cases he took were those of rich people, the latter had a way of letting their bills run. Tom had lighted his pipe, was relaxing at ease on the day-bed. Gypsy went down the hall to contemplate, for the hundredth time, the bedroom. She loved every inch of it, from the green and white counterpane, reproductions of some old pattern, to the dress-

Ten Years Younger

There is probably one statement we hear around the Crazy Water Hotel more than any other. We hear it just as our smiling guests are shaking hands with Mr. Love, and saying goodbye. It usually ends up with: "I feel ten years younger!"

What do they mean? Well, they might be thinking about the climate. Here in Texas, sunshine is no novelty—but have you ever tried our sunshine here? We don't have any copyright on fresh air—but have you ever stretched your lungs over our mountain air at sunrise on a nippy winter morning? And there are plenty of ways to enjoy this climate. We're still playing golf in our shirtsleeves. And the bass have been taking flies. And the first few days of the duck season, at day-break every morning it sounded like a war.

All these things are right at the city's doorstep.

It may be our guests after all, however, are thinking about the wonderful relaxation, stimulation, youth-ification in a course of Crazy Mineral Baths. In giving their bodies a good overhauling, you might say, inside and out, with Crazy Mineral Water—Nature's perfect eliminant.

Come to the Home of Crazy Water. Throw off about ten years of unnecessary age. Go home with an appetite like a timber wolf. And what will this cost you in dollars and cents? Listen:

Rates by the week (our "Treatment Plan") include a comfortable outside room, Crazy Mineral Baths, as much Crazy Water as you can drink, your meals (and GOOD cooking)—in fact, all the comforts of a first class modern hotel—for as low as $20 per week single, $35 double.

If that isn't enough to make you drop everything and come, write us for more. Better still come and see!

"I see," Gypsy sounded away, and quite as if she'd seen it all.

"How could I help asking for lunch, darling?" Tom coaxed, wanted to see me, for old sake, and naturally I want my friends to meet my wife."

"Old friends!" Gypsy, pretent to dust a silver candlestick wouldn't meet his eye.

"Look here, darling, what's all about?" She talked with her set his jaw and melted to her that "Aren't you being awfully silly?"

"I—I guess so."

"Well, stop it, then, and be your own adorable self. Look your best when you have lunch with me and Vera tomorrow. At the Aquin, at one I want her to be properly dazzled by my wife."

"Oh, oh!" Gypsy stared at accusingly. "You know it's my day back at work and I can't sibly come that far uptown for lunch. You know it!"

"I swear I forgot," Tom lo-resentful. He hated to be the wrong end yet—and wasn't it the first of many annoyances, when you had a "ing wife?"

Gypsy's heart was sore. The first evening at home had a on it. That would be lunching tomorrow—not only without her, with another woman!

Roads—

 and the railroads would lose more than freight earnings recovering the commission believes.
 pointing out that some shippers staining special rate reductions prejudicial to other railroads the commission suggested should amend the emergency transportation act to include freight, passengers and income transmitted from one country to another through the United States.

As the act is now worded, provisions are made for shipments from the United States to foreign countries and from foreign countries to the United States. By utilizing special rates, shippers often can route merchandise from Canada to Mexico, then reship it to the United States at considerable savings, it was pointed out.

The commission said it approved reconstruction finance loans totaling $436,405,000 to 24 carriers from November, 1932, to September, 1933. This represented a considerable decrease over the preceding year, which the commission attributed to better business conditions.

The commission said it was continuing its efforts to induce railroads to establish sinking funds from part of their net income toward retiring their funded debts, which averaged $842,955,000 during normal years.

Six telephone companies, the commission asserted, have been permitted to merge under the new emergency legislation.

The statistical department reported book investment in railroads and equipments throughout the country was approximately $26,000,000,000 in 1933. In 1916 it was less than $20,000,000,000. During 1932, railroad capital increased slightly over 1931 although the 50 per cent ratio of debt to capital remained constant, it said.

Railroads operated 1,247 miles less trackage in August, 1933, than during the same month in 1932, the report disclosed. The percentage of unserviceable freight cars increased from 12.7 in November, 1932, to 14.6 Oct. 1, 1933; locomotives out of service increased from 17.8 per cent to 21.5 during the same period, while the car surplus was decreased from 545,157 to 38,086.

right now, is to improve his blocking and tackling, and when these two tasks are learned he will be an outstanding player. He is now an excellent pass receiver and with him in the lineup next year more passing will likely be seen by the Bulldog fans.

He played all the Central game and played a good part of the time in the Eastland, Breckenridge, Mineral Wells and Lubbock games, being one of the starters at Eastland.

Jimmie Westbrook, though weighing but about 130 pounds—with a rock in each hand—was one of the scrappiest of the men on the entire squad. Although the smallest letterman, he was used at times to replace one of the largest men on the entire squad and by his fighting spirit, made good at his job. Though smallest in size he was as large as any in fight and determination.

Jimmie was manager of the team in 1932 and assisted Garvin Chastain at that job in 1933.

He played in the Lubbock, Central, Mineral Wells, Breckenridge and Temple games, and proved that he needed but one thing—weight—to have been a regular and a good one at that. Coach Curtis is expecting him to be a regular next year as he is unusual for a boy of his size and is tough, hard to hurt and hits plenty hard. Although a man of his weight is seldom used in the line, especially as an end, he proved that his weight meant little to him and would tie into an opponent, regardless of size, and could be counted on to take out his man at the right time.

Next we will tell about a man who was plenty good to make the team this year, but who did not break into the lineup, but who practiced regularly and consistently and will make the team next year.

When you mark down your lighting
 You mark down your merchandise

YOUR customers automatically discount the value of good merchandise seen in dim light. Whether they buy draperies or dress fabrics . . . pie plates or Persian rugs . . . they buy the goods that look the best.

Progress in store lighting has been amazingly constant and swift. The new development for using light as an efficient merchandising force are interesting, practical and profitable. Economical, too!

Let us check your lighting on the basis of today's progress!

Now, by means of scientific instruments more sensitive than a jeweler's scale, our lighting engineers can show you instantly whether or not you are getting all the light you are paying for—and getting enough light to enable your customers to inspect your merchandise easily and accurately.

Write or phone for an early interview. It will cost you nothing to have us check your lighting.

May King Murder Case Scheduled For Trial Jan. 22

The case of Mrs. May King of Gorman charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Leon Robinson, night watchman at Gorman, on the evening of Nov. 13, last, has been set in the 91st district court for trial on Jan. 22, according to Criminal District Attorney Grady Owen.

A special venire of 75 men has been ordered drawn from which to select a jury to try the case.

Mrs. King, herself shot and seriously wounded at the time Robinson was killed, is still in the sanitarium at Gorman where she was taken for medical aid immediately after the shooting, which took place on the streets of downtown Gorman.

For Hard Coughs or Colds that Worry You

Cremulsion is made to give supreme help for coughs or colds. It combines seven helps in one—the best helps known to science. It is for quick relief, for safety.

But careful people, more and more, use it for every cough that starts. No one knows where a cough may lead. No one can tell which factor will do most. That depends on the type of cold.

Cremulsion costs a little more than lesser help. But it means the utmost help. And it costs you nothing if it fails to bring the quick relief you seek. Your druggist guarantees it. Use it for safety's sake. (adv.)

Mrs. McGee To Give Book Review At Community Club House

Mrs. McGee of Brownwood will give a most entertaining book review, at the Community clubhouse, Eastland, Saturday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock. The well selected drama will be given from Eugene O'Neal's outstanding works. Ranger clubwomen are extended a most cordial invitation to be present.

Lone Star Social Club Entertained At Breckenridge

With Mrs. J. S. Worrell, Mrs. W. D. Schoolcraft and Mrs. S. N. Bumpass, acting as co-hostesses a group of members representing the Lone Star social club of Ranger, were pleasantly entertained Wednesday afternoon at the Breckenridge Y. M. C. A. during the mid-afternoon hours.

The hour opened with a business session during which time brought new officers into service for the ensuing month. Mrs. J. L. Turner was re-elected president, Mrs. G. G. Williams, vice president; Mrs. J. S. Worrell, second vice president; Mrs. Onis Littlefield, secretary; Mrs. A. J. Lowe, treasurer, and Mrs. H. S. Packwood, publicity chairman.

A visitation committee composed of Mrs. V. V. Cooper Jr., Mrs. W. D. Schoolcraft, Mrs. F. E. McCurdy, Mrs. John Kindle, and Mrs. E. L. Norris, was appointed by the president, drawing the session to a close.

During the social a dainty refreshment plate was passed to Mrs. E. K. Smith, Cooper, G. T. Williams, S. D. Whitley, J. L. Bates, J. B. Kayfield, J. F. Trout, E. L. Norris, Onis Littlefield, A. J. Lowe, Fred Drienhofer, T. J. Jenkins and hostesses. The next meeting was announced for the afternoon of Jan. 17, at the local clubrooms of plant No. 103, with Mrs. Norris and Mrs. Turner, joint hostesses.

which was followed with the presentation of plans for the new year. An instructive discussion was held relative to this subject, proving valuable and worth while. The meeting was attended by 18 members of the club's personnel.

Mrs. Stephens to Speak At Hodges Oak Park P. T. A.

An interesting meeting of Hodges Oak Park Parent-Teachers association will be held Tuesday afternoon Jan. 9, at 3:30.

Mrs. H. H. Stephens will be presented in a talk whose subject will be "Spiritual Training."

The program for the hour will be under the direction of Mrs. John Thurman. Members are asked to be present for this session, the first to be held during the new year.

Mrs. Leigh, Mrs. Lockett To Speak At Sunday Morning Hour

Mrs. J. E. Leigh of Dallas, corresponding secretary of State Women's Missionary Union of Texas, and Mrs. B. L. Lockett, Missionary to Africa, will be at the First Baptist church, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock where both visitors will speak.

Mrs. Leigh and Mrs. Lockett are making a tour of the 17th district in the interest of the Young Peoples' organization. Their first meeting with the young people will be at Ciso Sunday afternoon at 2:30. All the young people of both Baptist churches are invited to attend this meeting, which assures talks of interest to all.

EL PASO—A decrease in border slayings may be a result of the $5,000,000 Rio Grande straightening project at El Paso, according to H. C. Horsley, district chief border patrol inspector.

"With river bends eliminated and underbrush cut, officers can patrol the border with safety to themselves," he says.

The river will be shortened 155 miles to 88 miles. The national boundary remains the same.

Greatly Relieved By Black-Draught

"Constipation caused me to have a tired, worn-out feeling and a dull headache," writes Mrs. J. W. Alverston, of Danville, Va. "I was anxious to find something to help me for I would not feel like doing my work. I found that by taking small doses of Black-Draught at night I was greatly relieved. It makes me feel just fine. I am glad to tell others about it."

Children like the new, pleasant tasting SYRUP of Black-Draught.
