LOYE TELLS ORDERS TO DESTROY FILE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—H. H. Loye, postoffice department official, testified today that he was present when a file of the office of former Postmaster General Walter Dill was destroyed.

Loye's statement followed testimony of Charles Lindbergh, who testified that he had received a gift of 25,000 shares of the stock of the Transcontinental Air Transport in June, 1928.

The stock was valued at $250,000. D. M. Shaffer, Pennsylvania Railroad official, told the committee the gift was for value services Lindbergh had rendered.

A thorough search of the department for missing documents led to the discovery of a file which was under way as the senate investigation committee prepared to start its work.

Files were destroyed when Lindbergh retired from the department last March.

Official correspondence in the files was left in my files," he said, "but some personal correspondence was destroyed."

Now that we've recognized Russia, you ought to recognize a Soviet star when you see one. One of the talented Soviets you're likely to see soon is exotic Mlle. Moshlevskaya (above), current ballet favorite of Moscow. She is appearing in Salambo in the Moscow Big Theater.

Whooping Cough A Serious Disease, Says Health Officer

AUSTIN.—Whooping cough was formerly regarded as one of the infectious diseases of minor importance. According to Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer, this is not so. Each year many children die of this disease; in fact it causes more deaths than scarlet fever, measles and smallpox combined.

Whooping cough is a treacherous disease. It resembles the poveral wolf in sheep's clothing. Illness begins gradually, causing parents to feel that the symptoms are those of an ordinary cold, until the characteristic whoop appears. Unfortunately, the disease is most infectious during the early stages. Children in the first years of life are in the greatest danger of developing pneumonia, the most severe complication.

The chief hazard in controlling epidemics of whooping cough lies in those measures which help to prevent the spread of disease. Children with the disease should remain at home and in isolation for a period of 21 days. Children with the disease should be reported to their family physician or local health officer.

Dr. Brown further urged parents to do everything they can to protect their children from whooping cough. Keep them away from playmates who have colds, especially when whooping cough is prevalent. Teach children not to put things in their mouths that have been handled by others and to wash their hands before meals. In spite of all precaution, if your child seems to be catching whooping cough, call your doctor at once. He can do much to relieve the patient's distress if treatment is begun early and will advise about diet, rest, exercise, and fresh air for the patient.

Ranger Joins 5,000 Cities in Staging Roosevelt Birthday Dances Jan. 30

A committee composed of Walter Harwell of the Rotary club; W. N. McDonald, G. A. Murphy and Wade Swift of the Elks club; H. P. Earnest of the Ranger Country club; Mrs. Pete Jensen and Mrs. W. D. Conway of the Child Welfare club; Dr. H. A. Logsdon, mayor, and W. C. Hickey, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday afternoon and outlined plans for a NIRA ball, to be held at the Elks clubrooms on the night of Jan. 30.

The Elks club offered the clubrooms, free of any charge, for the ball, the proceeds from which are to go to President Roosevelt as part of an endowment fund for The Warm Springs Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

G. A. Murphy, Wade Swift and Mrs. Pete Jensen were appointed on a ticket selling committee; Mickey Sloan and Harry Henry were named as a committee to furnish music; A. N. Larson was named as chairman of the publicity committee and Mrs. Jensen and Mrs. Conway were named as a committee to contact all clubs in town which were not represented at the meeting Tuesday and get them to join in making the ball a huge success.

Tickets for the dance will be $1 minimum, but it is expected that from $25 to $50 may be paid for the first ticket sold and that many will pay as high as $5 to $10 for tickets, as the money other than actual expenses, will go to the foundation. At Fort Worth the first ticket was sold to an executive of the Texas Electric company for $1,000, it was pointed out at the meeting, and it is likely that someone in Ranger will pay as high as $50 for the first ticket as it was reported a tentative bid of $25 had already been made.

The heart of the nation responded immediately to the appeal of a committee of national leaders that every community in the United States hold a birthday ball in honor of President Roosevelt on the night of Jan. 30, the proceeds to go to a permanent endowment fund for the nation-wide work of the Warm Springs Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The president will be 52 on that day.

Early indications are that the president's birthday party will be one of the unique social events in American history, with balls in honor of President Roosevelt in 5,000 communities in every state in the union.

In the few days following the first appeal of the committee, hundreds of communities and organizations telegraphed national committee headquarters in the Waldorf-Astoria that local committees had been appointed and were already working with enthusiasm.

In the first five days after the national appeal, more than 500 representative trade union officers telegraphed enthusiastic co-operation to William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, who is chairman of the labor division of the national committee.

Matthew Woll, vice president of the federation and secretary of the labor division, reported that labor was responding with unprecedented enthusiasm.

"When President Roosevelt stepped into the white house the only office which he retained among his many other interests was the presidency of the Warm Springs Foundation," said Colonel Doherty's statement "announcing the committee. "The retention of that office shows how near and dear that potential great medical and charitable institution is to his heart. I do not think that the president would appreciate any tribute to his unselfish and unflinching devotion to the public welfare more than the act of the American people in fulfilling his own dreams for a great institution for the treatment of infantile paralysis at Warm Springs."

D. Joseph Is Speaker at the Rotary Meeting

D. Joseph, newest member of the Ranger Rotary club, had charge of the program at the regular meeting today and gave a very interesting talk on his trip to Syria last summer.

His talk was chiefly on the customs and habits of the people in the various countries he visited and the climate in these countries. He mentioned that while on the trip back to his native land he visited in Palestine, Jerusalem, Nazareth, the Dead Sea, Mount Lebanon and other cities and localities which held much interest.

His trip started early in the summer and lasted until early fall and during that time he gathered material on which his talk was based.

Because it was a subject about which few had first-hand information, his talk proved to be one of most interesting presented before the Rotary club in some time.

W. W. Housewright of San Benito, formerly of Ranger, was a guest of the club.

Many States Make Highway Awards

WASHINGTON.—Progress in award of contracts for public works highway construction has been so rapid in many states as to leave only small balances of the appropriated funds still available for allotment, according to reports of the U. S. bureau of public roads.

At the end of the year, 64 per cent of the $400,000,000 provided for emergency construction of highways by the national industrial recovery act had been taken up in work advertised for contract or started by day labor employed directly by the highway authorities.

Kansas had awarded to contract all the work possible with available funds. There are 26 other states that have exceeded the average rate of progress in putting the road money to work as indicated by reports of work advertised for contract or started by day labor.

Ten miles from the Marne battlefield, where 19 years ago ambulances, taxis and trucks carried off war dead and wounded, there occurred a repetition of this grim scene when, in the little town of Laghy, 200 persons perished in the collision of two express trains. The wreck, called the worst rail disaster in French history, is shown here in one of the first pictures of the tragedy to reach this country.

Debt Conciliation Committee For County Appointed

The purpose of this committee is to assist farmers and ranchmen, who are entitled to credit, to obtain loans through the federal land bank and to assist debtor and creditor in ironing out any differences that might arise in valuing property or settling debts, etc.

The committee Tuesday met and organized. R. L. Jones was named chairman, and D. L. Kinnaird, secretary.

The next meeting of the committee will be Tuesday of next week in the office of Mr. Kinnaird in the Exchange National bank building.

Hit and Run Driver Identified By Mother

FORT WORTH, Jan. 10.—A mother who surrendered her love for truth today revealed the identity of the driver of a car which fatally injured James Terry, dairyman, here Sunday night, as her son.

Police had been searching for the driver since the occurrence.

Arnold's Wife Issued Threat Witness Says

HASKELL, Jan. 10.—The defense in the trial of Day Arnold launched an attack against the prosecution's case today when R. H. Elder, Breckenridge, a defense witness, testified Zeina, the slain woman, had threatened Arnold and his mother.

Elder said he heard the defendant's wife voice threats she would kill Arnold and Mrs. Hattie Staggs, the mother, who has remained constantly at her son's side during the trial thus far.

Several defense witnesses previously testified to having noted peculiar actions on the part of Arnold, whose defense counsel were seeking to prove insane when Mrs. Arnold was stabbed and beaten to death in Breckenridge in September, 1932.

Dallas Police Ended Year With 1 Unsolved Crime

DALLAS, Tex.—The Dallas police department ended the year 1933 with only one unsolved major crime to its discredit—the murder of O. J. Fatheree, 23-year-old Texas-Pacific roundhouse employee, who was shot to death last May 11.

The Fatheree case has been something like a "hangover" and has baffled the best criminal investigators in the department.

Fatheree, a call boy, was fired upon from ambush early that May morning shortly after he had appeared for work. The assailant used a shotgun.

Although an exhaustive investigation was made with hundreds of persons held for questioning, detectives failed to find a motive for the slaying or a clue to the identity of the slayer.

Fatheree died several hours after the shooting. He regained consciousness, but was unable to give any account of the mysterious attack. The charge struck him in the abdomen.

"We are still working on the Fatheree case," Lieut. of Detectives Will Frits said. "We will not stop until the crime is marked 'solved.'"

After nearly a year of investigation by homicide detectives, the Smiley Buchanan murder mystery case was marked "solved" when officers arrested R. T. Bennett, negro, for the slaying of Sam Langford, policeman. Bennett's confession solved the slaying of Mrs. Buchanan in her apartment early in December of 1932.

Quick apprehension of Bluit and Thurman Burkley, negroes, and their confession solved the murder of Miss Katherine Prince and her male escort on a lonely road southeast of Dallas. The negroes were put to death.

Arrest and indictment of Ivan Pool for the murder of Nick Raspauskay, cafe owner, was marked "solved" near the close of the year. Principal aid to police investigations was from Tom Manion, veteran peace officer, now in the Federal Penitentiary at Leavenworth for his part in the escape from the Dallas county jail of Harvey Bailey, Urschel kidnaper.

Counties Must Get Right-of-Way For Highways

AUSTIN, Jan. 10.—Texas counties seeking new highways today were advised they must first furnish right-of-way for roads already designated as part of the state highway system.

The unwritten rule was agreed upon by commissioners who put it into effect in considering requests for new roads by county delegations.

Palo Pinto county's request for a highway from Graham to Mineral Wells by way of Graford, was taken under advisement.

Witnesses Questioned In Crash of Airplane

CHILDRESS, Jan. 10.—An official investigation to determine the cause of a plane crash yesterday in which three persons were killed was being conducted today by a Department of Commerce inspector.

A number of witnesses were being questioned. These included members of a highway construction gang, which reported the plane was stunting before it plunged 1,500 feet to the ground.

PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST ARE BOTH INCLUDED

No Action Asked on Home Owners Loan Corporation Securities.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—President Roosevelt today asked congress in a special message to authorize a government guarantee of the principal as well as interest on $2,000,000,000 on farm credit administration bonds.

A bill to carry out the president's proposal was introduced in the house by Chairman Jones of the agricultural committee after reading of the president's message.

An interest guarantee was provided in the legislation, which merged nine farm finance agencies. The president told congress a moral obligation to guarantee the principal already existed and should be recognized by law.

Creation of a corporation to issue the bonds was proposed in the message to keep the refinancing of agricultural credits on a self-sustaining basis. The president pointed out a guarantee would put the farm bonds on a par with treasury securities.

Conceding the "technical responsibility of the government would be increased $2,000,000,000" if the guarantee were authorized, he urged it was desirable to acknowledge the obligation existing to make up any deficiency in the principal sum of the bonds.

The last sentence of the brief message emphasized if the bonds were guaranteed they would be backed, not only by the credit of the government but by the property securing them.

The message did not recommend a guarantee of bonds of the HOLC, though he revealed last week they might be included.

Congressional leaders also had understood some action would be taken toward a guarantee of the latter category of securities.

Milk War Ends By Agreement

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—The milk strike ended today with agreement to submit the matter to arbitration. Meanwhile the government prepared to take control by licensing all distributors in the city.

The agreement was announced by Mayor Edward Kelly after a conference with all parties to the dispute. Shortly after the United Press learned federal authorities were going to provoke the licensing agreement, no matter what the factions decided to do.

TEXAS BANKS AND BANKERS AND THEIR WILLING CAMPAIGN

Texas banks and bankers stepped into the breach, speaking of the slow sale or non-sale of the so-called bread bonds. They organized a set-up. They sent their message around the Texas world.

This was the Florence message, speaking of the four Dallas and Fort Worth banks: "These banks have agreed to provide the money to be paid to the state treasury during the interim of the consummation of the delivery to the legal subscribers to the bonds, thereby avoiding a delay for several days nad considerable red tape that would otherwise result."

A reminder that the state commission has set Jan. 22 as the date to receive bids on the unsubscribed portion of the $2,750,000 issue provided for by the state legislature. Well, these Texas bankers have faith in the validity and stability of the bread bonds. They backed the proposal to finish. They backed it with coin.

All of which is a reminder that Washington says the federal government plans to borrow within the next six months almost twice as much actual money as there is in the nation, and that Uncle Sam will get his 10 billion dollars through the use of bank and other credit since most financial transactions are carried on in that way.

CONFIDENCE

Somewhere in enlightened America a judge heard a charge against an employe of taking $25,000, and released the accused on suspended sentence. Next up was a penniless wretch who had plundered 10 nickles out of a coin-box. Five to 15 years in prison, was his penalty.

The judge washed his hands haughtily: "There is no such thing as coincidence in this court." It wasn't coincidence: It was travesty upon the name of justice that the law of any state would permit such contrast of punishment.

The successful business men of a community, expressing their individual and collective views through their Chamber of Commerce, can make that community outstanding in every phase of community endeavor.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

The other day in another state I met one of our lawmakers and had quite a chat with him.

He, like most lawmakers, has troubles of his own and the main one seemed to be how to get reelected. However, he talked with the light of wisdom in his eyes, although at times cold shivers seemed to run down his spine when he told about bills he had voted for.

This lawmaker appeared to be living in a world of men he does not understand. He is under constant pressure of the need to express himself intelligently to the folks at home, for the folks at home ask plain questions that require plain answers, which he found hard to make.

It seems that when he was attending a session of lawmakers he listened and was moved by a concord of sweet words. He was stirred and elevated by great thoughts and stories beautifully told, and voted for more taxes the way he was told to vote. He became a rubber stamp. The folks at home soon caught on and told him they were not interested in rubber stamps; that he was sent there to reduce taxes—not increase them. Evidently his time is short and, oh, how he wants to hold his job!

It's always a good policy for a lawmaker to listen to the folks at home.

Married Flirts

BEGIN HERE TODAY
GYPSY MORELL and TOM WEAVER are married the same day as LILA ROTALING and HERBIE BLISS. Lila expects to live in luxury, but Gypsy intends to keep her job, teaching in a settlement house.

Now go on with the story CHAPTER VI
MR. BLISS, sir? Studio A, on the 14th." The page boy, with his pillbox hat cocked askew, answered Tom's question Gypsy's heart was beating faster than usual.

"Having fun?" Derek asked. Gypsy's eyes shone as she answered, "Yes."

"Now come on down and meet the others," she commanded. "You look simply sweet, dear. You always do." And Gypsy felt comforted. Perhaps she wouldn't be out of things, after all, in her little old home-made dinner dress.

Gypsy liked Derek. He was a pale, bland, reserved young man with light brown hair and a diffident smile. His manner, though quiet, was distinctly cordial. Gypsy sat with pleasure that he and Tom were "hitting it off" well. Tom hadn't expected to like the crowd.

The room was all black and white and cherry. A bed made of some curious, gleaming black wood, a dressing table of metal, a white rug. A cherry shawl thrown over the foot of the white satin covered. Cherry curtains. Lila, catching Gypsy's interested glance, said, languidly, that she thought it rather an amusing decor.

Derek told herself loyally that all this surface glamour of the smart world meant nothing to her; and yet, in her heart, she was just

MEANWHILE she laughed, made the proper answers, and followed her hostess into dinner. Nothing of her turbulence registered on her pretty wide-awake countenance. Tom, across the table, nodded at her and gave her the special look that meant he thought she was lovely tonight.

Everything about this dinner was perfection. Silver dolphins held the flaring candles; the flowers were white. The lace tablecloth must have cost a king's ransom. The Filipino boy slipped back and forth noiselessly with tempting viands in silver dishes.

"I ought to ask Lila to our place," Gypsy thought, helping herself to flet of sole. "I ought to—but I dare not, after this." She put her hand over her glass. No, she would not have any wine. She looked up to find Derek's eye upon her. He smiled encouragingly. He was nice. He most decidedly was.

THE dessert came just then and the young man called Bobby, who was at Gypsy's right, began to talk to her about the theater. Had she seen "The Bright Car"?

Oh, she must! She must go at once. It was grand. It was swell entertainment. She mustn't miss it. Gypsy murmured something agreeable. Tickets to "The Bright Car," she had heard, were selling at something like $22 apiece. It was one of the hits. It wasn't the least bit likely that the young Weavers would see it that season.

"Darling, I can't," said the young man called Bobby. "I've got to be in Rome for Christmas." They moved away from the table after that; the rooms by now were clouded with smoke and almost unbearably warm. Koto had lighted a log fire in the huge fireplace at the end of the baronial living room. Lila took Gypsy's arm.

"Darling, I haven't had a word with you all evening. I'm coming down to lunch at the Settlement house some day. Then we can talk." They were going on to the Cotton Club, Lila announced. It was amusing. Everybody had heard that girl singing "Stormy Weather," she supposed? Well, then, it didn't matter. It was something to hear again and again.

"You haven't!" Lila, Blanchard, at Gypsy's nod of dissent, lifted one carefully plucked eyebrow and shrugged her astonishment. How quaint, how simply staggeringly quaint of this woman! Where had Lila picked her up?

Derek said something to Lila in a low voice, and with a little moue of annoyance, she cried: "Well, sit down, everybody. We mustn't leave for a least five minutes. We've got to wait for..." Her voice trailed off. Gypsy turned to laugh at one of Danny Chittenden's sallies, and lost the rest.

Ten Years Younger

There is probably one statement we hear about the Crazy Water Hotel more than any other. We hear it just as our smiling guests are shaking hands with Mr. Love, and saying goodbye. It usually goes up with: "I feel ten years younger!"

What do they mean? Well, they might be thinking about the climate. Here in Texas, the shine is no novelty—but have you ever tried sunshine here? We don't have any copyright fresh air—but have you ever stretched your lungs over our mountain air at sunrise on a nippy winter morning?

It may be our guests after all, however, thinking about the wonderful relaxation, stimulation, youth-ification in a course of Crazy Mineral Baths. In giving their bodies a good overhaul you might say, inside and out, with Crazy Mineral Water—Nature's perfect eliminant.

Light Globes Replaced Annually To Light Capitol
By United Press
STIN.—It takes 90,000 electric globes a year to keep the capitol and other state buildings lighted. Bids on that number estimated year's supply will be received by the state board of administration here this week. The number does not include the large globes used for lighting the capitol grounds and driveways nor the lights thrown upon the capitol corridors require about a million globes a year. In the past it was considerable theft of globes, despite the vigilance of the

"Love and Friendship" To Be Heard At Club Thursday

A program woven about the will be heard Thursday afternoon subject, "Love and Friendship" when members of Child Study association No. 2 meets with Mrs. S. L. Bourland, at her home, 2:30. The lesson will be given under the direction of Mrs. B. S. Lemma, assisted by Mrs. George Parsons. A substitution will be made for Mrs. Max Orr, who with her husband left this morning for Honey Grove, where they will attend the funeral services of Mrs. Orr's uncle, who passed away at his home today. ## Dan Cupid Was Busy At Capitol During Past Year

AUSTIN.—Dan Cupid is not on the state payroll, but he was one of the busiest persons under the state capitol dome during 1933. His arrows hit one state senator, seven state representatives, 15 members of the state highway department staff, four employes of the state comptroller's office, three from the Board of Control and two in the State Railroad commission offices.

Cecil Murphy's recent marriage to Miss Zula Matthews, an assistant clerk in the Senate, brought down one of the State Senate's eligible young bachelors.

House members who married during the year were R. W. Calvert of Hillsboro; Emory Camp, Rockdale; Otis Dunagan, Big Sandy; R. H. Good, Cooper; Vernon Lemens, Rainbow, and Thomas J. Renfro, Fort Worth.

Judge Mack Burch, Decatur, head of the legal division of the state highway commission, married Miss Jessie Jiegler, who was on former Gov. Ross S. Sterling's secretarial staff. Mrs. Burch formerly lived at Houston. Other weddings in the highway department included: Miss Dorothy Motheral married Weldin Cloud, Lampasas; Miss Dora Topperwein married William Morrow of the state treasury department; Miss Ida Anderson of the highway department steno-graphic force married J. A. Shelby of the assistant highway engineer's office; Mrs. Josephine Burns chose Ray Faltinson, also of the highway department, as her husband; Miss Bobby Lucas married James Howard of the state land office; Miss Rosemary Deen married M. B. Baker of the state insurance department; Miss Constance Catterall became Mrs. Naylor by marrying a member of the state motor patrol division at Houston; Miss Evelyn Glascock became the bride of Seth Breeding of the U. S. Geological Survey force working with the state water board. Miss Lucille Cooper became Mrs. Adair Petmecky and Miss Marguerite Person became Mrs. Belva Jackson. W. O. Dixon of the highway department married Miss Sarah Hundley of Dallas; Billy Bell married Miss Ann Brooke; Gordon Carlton married Miss Coleta Croslin and Henry Taylor married Miss Agnes Smith of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

Wedding bells rang in the State Board of Control office for Miss Hattie May Wilbanks who married F. C. Bryant of Pecos, Miss Sadie Davis who married Cecil Hull of San Antonio and Secretary J. R. Ham who married Miss Fay Hunt of Lubbock. Another member of the staff is expected to send out wedding invitations soon.

Two members of the state railroad commission staff here married in the closing week of 1933. Miss Grace Crow, stenotype recorder of hearings before the commission, married A. F. Coward of Dallas. Miss Edna Allen of the motor division married Arlys B. Cross of Amarillo.

Claude Blanton, former University of Texas football star, has qualified as the first state employe to marry in 1934. His bride was Miss Kay Peavey of Lufkin. Weddings in 1933 took three brides from the comptroller's office. They were Miss Mary Stadler who married Robert Hutchings of Dallas; Miss Vida Killingsworth who married John Weston of Austin and Mrs. Katherine Odum who married William Manning of Austin.

Chevrolet to Have Showing at Dallas And Fort Worth

Mr. H. C. Howard, zone manager of the Chevrolet Motor company, with headquarters in Dallas, has notified Anderson-Pruet, Inc., local dealers, that his company will hold a pre-showing of the new 1934 Chevrolet in the Biltmore Garage in Fort Worth, during the week of Jan. 13 to 20. Mr. Howard has stated that a complete line of models will be shown in a beautifully decorated setting. The official opening will be attended by prominent local officials and by Southern Methodist University band.

"Our 1934 cars represent more than annual new models," Mr. Howard said. "They are radically redesigned and basically new. We are holding these showings because we have a large number of interested people in the Dallas zone who want to get the earliest possible view of the new car."

In so far as cars will not be on display at the local dealership until the latter part of January, Mr. Howard heartily extends an invitation to all people in Ranger to attend either of the two shows.

Junior College and High School

This and That: Well, well; after rushing to school 30 minutes early today expecting to devote the extra time to interviewing the young ladies who were wearing the suede jackets belonging to "their" football hero, as to the "ways and means" they rated the new jackets, this editor was shocked (surprised, perhaps is the word) to discover that Vera Bryan was the only girl who was wearing one of the jackets. But we have it rather straight that Warden intended to (and probably will) let "Foots" Riley have his jacket while Corrine Benson rates Jesse White's, the young lady from Olden, Don's, and Miss Arnold, Andy Bruce's. We haven't the last idea whether Riley's jacket will go to Gorman or to one of his Ranger admirers. But no doubt Bryan's will be in Fort Worth soon.

1934 Brings New Laws on Fishing

AUSTIN.—The year 1934 ushered in several changes in the fishing laws of Texas. The chief changes are embodied in house bill 81, enacted by the 43rd legislature and effective this month.

Persons selling minnows for bait now must obtain a state license costing $1.33 for an eight-month period ending with the state's fiscal year Aug. 31. Wholesale fish dealer's license was hiked from $10 yearly to $200, or to $133 for the first eight months of the new year.

Retail fish dealers in cities of 40,000 or more population are required to obtain a license costing $20 yearly. The retail license in smaller cities is $10.

The commercial fisherman's fee has been increased from $1 to $2. Persons renting fishing boats with motor or sails must hold a $3 license. A $1 license is required of persons who rent skiffs. Guides who direct inexperienced anglers to the choicest fishing spots also must hold a state license. The new law licensed seining at the rate of $1 per 100 feet of seine.

The state game, fish and oyster commission here also has reminded sportsmen that the deer, bear and turkey season closed Dec. 31. The quail season will close Jan. 16. The deadline on ducks and geese is Jan. 15.
