OPENED HIGHWAYS IN TEXAS

By United Press
AUSTIN, Jan. 22.—Bids on 21 highways in 15 counties of Texas to cost $1,165,000, opened here today by the highway commission.

Twenty projects were part of the recovery highway program.

The state project was a Spring bridge and pipe culvert away 99-spur, Iron county.

Others bid upon today include:

Highway 1—Grading and drainage for seven miles in Bexar co. a unit in the route from San Antonio to San Marcos.

Highway 2—Concrete base and pavement, abutment and storm sewers for a mile in Houston.

Highway 3—Grading, drainage and concrete pavement for 2.4 miles Robertson county, and a 171-ft. bridge over Mud creek, also Robertson county.

Highway 4—Widening the present crown for three miles south of Turbott in the Trinity river, Freestone county.

Highway 5—Grading, drainage structures, concrete pavement, and bituminous concrete pavement for 2.5 miles in Harrison county near H. E. & W. T. railroad crossing.

Highway 6—Grading, drainage and concrete pavement in Livingston county, and 142.5-foot bridge over irrigation canal one mile east of Hidalgo.

Highway 7—Grading and small drainage structures for 3.3 miles from Albany south, Shackelford county.

Giant Merger of Telegraph Systems Is Contemplated

By United Press
NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Amalgamation of the most powerful telegraph communication systems in the world into a single, American-owned and government-supervised monopoly, was forecast today.

Such a merger, involving the Western Union Telegraph company, the Radio Corporation of America and the International Telephone & Telegraph company and its subsidiaries appeared to depend solely on the attitude of the United States government.

If congress, which has been asked to permit the merger, is willing to pass necessary legislation, the managements of the giant corporations involved are willing to join hands. Decreasing revenues have convinced most authorities the merger must come.

Wrestling and Boxing Will Be On Elks' Card

A big-time wrestling and boxing match will be presented tonight at 8:15 at the Elks club.

In the main event Verne "Kid" Lewis, light heavyweight wrestler tangles with Leonard Gustafson, Swede from St. Paul, Minn.

The semi-final brings together two very clever middle weight wrestlers, Herb Wakeland, Waxahatchie, meets Otis Hedrick, Los Angeles.

Ten rounds of boxing by four fast young boys will complete the evening's entertainment. Jack Porter and the "Mexico Kid" will go six rounds or less and Bill Heenan and James Bronson will trade punches for four rounds.

Bill Anson will referee and Fire Chief Murphy will do the announcing.

Former Commander Of Leviathan to Speak In Ranger

One of the important duties of Herbert Hartley, former commander of the Leviathan, who will speak at the Rotary and Lions club Ranger, Texas, on Wednesday, January 24th, at noon, talks sponsored by the Rotary and Lions clubs, was the welcoming of distinguished guests to his ship and the leading of the social festivities which surrounded their stay as passengers.

Commodore Hartley does not believe the sea is the "old devil" which it has been called so many times. He has known it for many years, and he loves it. He says that at times the sea may be cruel, but at other times it is kind, and that its interest to men is its power to bring out in its complete delights or sorrows of man.

Business Census Now Being Taken

R. E. Toland is engaged in taking a business census of Ranger and Olden, these reports on the business done during the past year being confidential government records, which he is collecting from the merchants for the government files in Washington.

It is expected that the census will be completed before Feb. 15.

Ranger Masons to Meet On Tuesday

The Ranger Chapter of Royal Arch Masons is to meet Tuesday night, Jan. 23, according to announcement made by C. H. Suits, H. P., and B. C. Johnson, secretary.

All members of the chapter are urged to be present.

Two Ancient Hats Found In Village

By United Press
STEPHENVILLE, Tex.—Two hats of an ancient vintage have been resurrected by D. O. Jones, of Alexander, a small town in Erath county.

One is a millinery creation that is strongly reminiscent of the Victorian age and might have looked good on Nellie—the one who had the bird on her hat. It was bought at Busek 58 years ago and cost $4.50.

The other hat is a brown derby, one that would look good on either Steve Brodie or Al Smith. It was bought in Dublin, Texas, 43 years ago. The headgear is in good condition.

Tells of Burning Of Office Files

How his was ordered by former Second Assistant Postmaster General W. Irving Glover to destroy some of his office files, was the testimony Raymond L. Johns, Glover's former private secretary, was giving when this picture was taken during the Senate hearing on air mail contracts, Johns said that the contents of the files were personal.

$38,000 ROAD WORK STARTS IN EASTLAND

Commencing Monday, road contractors who specialize in concrete construction and who have the contract for the construction of several blocks of Highway No. 1 through the city of Eastland, are unloading equipment, establishing offices and otherwise getting ready to begin work within a few days on the West Main street project.

The West Main street project, which is a re-routing of state Highway No. 1 through Eastland, is to be paved with concrete at a cost of approximately $38,000. The funds are being provided by the state highway department, which has Wesley Hall, a highway engineer, stationed in Eastland to supervise not only the work on West Main street but other highway construction in the county. Mr. Hall's offices are located in the Eastland city hall.

The city of Eastland secured the right-of-way for the highway through the city, secured the removal of various water and gas mains that were in the way of construction work, connected up dead ends of water mains and lowered all mains. Labor for much of this work was secured through CWA and Texas relief offices.

FARM BILL PASSES

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The senate today passed the $2,000,000,000 farm mortgage refinancing bill, designed to remove some of the debt burden from the farmer.

Over 100 Elks listened with interest to the address of Grand Exalted Ruler Meier, who was introduced in a clever manner by District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler McCann.

After the address by Mr. Meier several southern selections were presented by the American Legion, Tickville band, all of whom are members of the Ranger Elks lodge.

Interesting talks were made by Brothers Downs, Rubenstein, Mangold, Holmes, Ormsby and L. R. Pearson.

An outstanding feature of this meeting was the fact that a past state president of the Texas Elks State association filed each chair of the lodge. Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, exalted ruler of the Ranger lodge and a past state president, presided as exalted ruler; Colonel Downs as esteemed leading knight, Charles Mangold as esteemed loyal knight, and Henry E. Holmes as esteemed lecturing knight.

Other officers of the many lodges present sat to the right of their respective positions. At the close of the meeting the entire gathering voiced the opinion that it was one of the greatest meetings they had ever attended and filed into the clubrooms for a good lunch and a general good time for the final hours until midnight.

MONEY PLAN PLUNGED INTO A MAELSTROM

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—President Roosevelt's money program was plunged today into a maelstrom today with indications that bitter debate would delay passage for several days. Driving for speed on the dollar devaluation bill, the senate banking and currency committee arranged to complete hearing with the testimony of Owen D. Young and Prof. George Warren.

The President's bill, described by many in congress as the most momentous piece of financial legislation of the century, faced a different reception in the senate than accorded it in the house.

The house, passing the bill Saturday with many leaders puzzled over its contents, presented a picture of mass power which assured the administration of prompt compliance with its policies.

TEAMS, TRUCKS PUT BACK ON CWA PROJECTS

Eastland county CWA officials this morning received instructions from Austin to put trucks and teams back to work. These had been ordered discontinued the latter part of last week.

Orders were also received at the Eastland county office to limit the work time for each truck team and person to 24 hours per week in the towns and cities and to 15 hours per week in the rural districts.

Beginning Friday of last week and for the balance of the week a total of 1,200 men, women and children will be engaged on local projects throughout the county. An additional 60 men will be engaged on federal projects in the county.

All pending projects have been returned from Austin with instructions that they be re-submitted on new forms that have just been adopted.

The Eastland county CWA office also received notice that a carload each of flour, cheese, butter and meat was in transit to Eastland for distribution in Eastland and seven other surrounding counties. Eastland county's portion of these shipments were given as follows: Pork, 18,500 pounds; cheese, 9,306 pounds; flour, 17,750 pounds; butter, 1,800 pounds.

Large Gathering Of Elk Notables Attend Meeting

The Ranger Elks enjoyed a splendid meeting Friday night, when the largest group of Elks ever assembled in this part of the state was present to hear an address delivered by Walter F. Meier, grand exalted ruler.

Visiting Elks from over the state included H. S. Rubenstein of Brenham, president of the Texas Elks association; Col. P. L. Downs of Temple, Charles Holmes of Dallas, and Henry E. Holmes of Temple, past presidents of the Texas State Elks association; George L. McCann of El Paso, deputy district exalted ruler of Texas, west; Hal E. Christie of El Paso; F. G. Reinhardt of Wichita Falls; E. J. Ormsby, exalted ruler of the Mexico lodge; B. S. Huey of Cisco, past deputy district grand exalted ruler of Texas, west; N. J. Nannery of Breckenridge, past deputy district grand exalted ruler of Texas, west; Julius Kruse, exalted ruler of the Eastland lodge, and a delegation of Elks; R. C. Mason, exalted ruler of the Breckenridge lodge and a delegation; and Jake Dearman, exalted ruler of the Cisco lodge and a delegation.

Over 100 Elks listened with interest to the address of Grand Exalted Ruler Meier, who was introduced in a clever manner by District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler McCann.

After the address by Mr. Meier several southern selections were presented by the American Legion, Tickville band, all of whom are members of the Ranger Elks lodge.

May King Case Is Again Reset

The May King murder case has again been re-set and this time the date is Feb. 5. It was formerly set for Jan. 22, but was later changed to Feb. 7, then to Feb. 5.

Figured in French Pawnshop Scandal

Serge Stavisky, the promoter who headed the Bayonne pawnshop whose fraudulent collapse precipitated a political crisis in France, is shown at top. Stavisky, who later committed suicide, was suspected of having backed the newspaper La Volonte of which M. Dubarry (lower left) is director. Magistrate M. Ordonneau (lower right) conducted the official investigation of the case.

SEARCH BEGUN FOR SLAYERS OF FARM YOUTH

BURLESON, Tex., Jan. 22.—Officers began a search today for two men reportedly seen Friday night with T. B. Gullett, 18 year old Whitney youth, whose charred body was found in the smoldering ruins of a hay barn near here Saturday.

The quest for a solution of the mysterious circumstances surrounding his death was intensified when J. A. Allison, a neighbor of the Gullett family told officers he had seen two men with the youth Friday night.

The body was positively identified by the youth's father, T. G. Gullett.

The father said his son left home Friday night in the family car to visit a girl near Whitney, 50 miles from the barn where the body was found. The youth's car was found parked in a blacksmith shed, near Poria.

Young Gullett apparently had left the home of his fiancée about midnight, Allison said. He said he passed Gullett on the road, recognizing both the youth and the automobile.

Gullett turned off the road to let him pass, Allison said, and then turned around and drove the car up the road to another automobile which was parked. Allison saw two men in the car, he said.

Gullett's body was found early Saturday by a farmer near here who went to investigate a fire he had seen the night before on an adjacent farm. The youth's head and his body were badly burned. Doctors said death resulted from a blow on the head.

Officers believed the youth had been killed and left in the barn before it was set afire. A motive for the slaying, however, had not been established.

Breckenridge Road Project Approved

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 22.—Four national recovery highway projects, estimated to cost $390,000 were announced today by the state highway commission for bidding early in February.

The new projects, approved by the United States bureau of public roads, included concrete base and asphalt surface treatment for highway 1-A in Breckenridge.

THIEVES ROB TWO RANGER FIRMS SUNDAY

Petty thieves were busy in Ranger Sunday afternoon, breaking into two establishments and stealing about $25 in money and a quantity of cigars as the combined loot of the two robberies.

Sometime between noon and 2 p. m., thieves entered the C. D. Hartnett Grocery company warehouse and took around 600 cartons of cigars.

The time of the robbery was established by workers in the vicinity who were loading a car and who stopped for lunch at noon and returned to their jobs before 2 o'clock.

Chief of Police Jim Ingram was notified around 4:30 in the afternoon, when the robbery was discovered, and he went to investigate. It was thought that the other robbery must have been staged while he was investigating the wholesale grocery robbery.

Between 4 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon robbers, thought to have been boys, broke into the Killingsworth, Cox & Co. building, broke open a cash register drawer and took $10 in cash and then rifled the cash drawer in the office, taking around $15 in cash.

The time of this robbery was definitely established because Floyd Killingsworth was in the store at 4 o'clock and at 5 o'clock John Tibbels entered the store and found the cash register had been opened.

Those who staged this robbery broke in a rear window and entered the store. From the size of the hole in the window glass it was evident the robbery had been carried on by boys as it would have been impossible for a grown man to crawl through the hole.

A screw driver, taken from the hardware store, was used to pry open one drawer of the cash register, and was then left on the counter nearby. Chief of Police Ingram was further convinced that it was the work of amateurs because the cash register was not locked and could easily have been opened without the use of the screw driver. The top drawer of the register was slightly damaged.

Several other drawers, each of which contained $10 in cash, were not molested and only the top drawer was jimmied. Experienced thieves, the chief of police said, would have known how to open the cash register without so much work and would have opened all the drawers instead of looking in only one.

These were the first robberies in Ranger in several weeks.

Pretty Boy Sought Over New Jersey

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 22.—An alarm for apprehension of Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd was broadcast today on the New Jersey State Police teletype. It was said that police believed Floyd, long sought in the southwest, where he has become an almost legendary character, had entered New Jersey from Pennsylvania.

The men also are under federal indictment here for mail robbery.

The two each are charged three times with murder for the deaths of J. B. Rutherford, Dallas; his brother, Harry Rutherford, Abilene, and Jack Sturdivant, Eula. They were to be tried first on the death of Sturdivant.

The bodies of the three men were found in the river bundled together with hog wire and weighted down with 300 pounds of cement. They had been shot and disfigured.

The state charges the three were slain in a dispute over division of the loot from the mail robbery.

M. T. Howard, alleged associate of Stevens and May, also is charged with murder in the slayings. His case was continued last October and has not been reset for trial.

Stevens recently was sentenced in federal court to serve 14 months imprisonment on a plea of guilty to charges of possession of narcotics. A cache valued at $50,000 was found in secret wall panels at his farm home near Handley when officers were searching for the bodies of the three slain men.

1301 Men Are Paid $15,166.72 for Work

Eastland county CWA employed 1,301 people throughout the county last week, paying them a total of $15,166.72. CWA also employed a number of trucks and teams for which a total of $1,313.20 was paid. The grand total for these two items was $16,479.92.

In addition to the people employed and the teams and trucks used by CWA, F. E. R. A. employed 134 people in the county last week at a cost of $1,748.74, making the grand total for all government relief work in the county for the past week, $18,228.66.

A $253 Investment Made Him Millions

Another startling story of a stock market cleanup was disclosed at the Senate hearing on air mail contracts when Frederick B. Rentschler of New York testified, as shown here, that he made a profit of more than $5,000,000, out of a $253 investment in air line stocks.

POSSE STILL IS ON TRAIL OF THE SLAYER

WEATHERFORD, Jan. 22.—Officers sought a second negro near here and at Fort Worth today as the actual slayer of W. S. Golden, 64 year old Parker county farmer, near Aledo yesterday.

Golden was shot to death when he, accompanied by his son, ordered two negroes from his farm where they were hunting. One of the negroes, according to the son, raised his shotgun and fired at Golden. A charge of shot entered the farmer's side, killing him instantly.

The negroes fled, one going east and the other south, abandoning their car. The son notified officers and a search began. One of the negroes shortly afterward surrendered at a nearby farm. He did not do the shooting, he said. The negro gave officers the name of another negro. The first negro who gave him the name as Swift Lewis, 39, of Fort Worth, said the second negro also was of Fort Worth.

Tired officers and citizens who had beaten the bushes in the broken country near Willow Creek all night, returned empty handed today. After breakfast and a rest, they started out again. The search was concentrated near Annetta, a small village near the junction of Willow Creek and the clear fork of the Trinity river. The area is heavily wooded and broken by ravines, offering shelter for the fugitive. Meanwhile all roads out of Parker county were watched.

FORT WORTH, Jan. 22.—The state's attempt to prosecute the alleged slayers of three men here last July was postponed today until February 19th.

The trial was postponed unexpectedly after a two hour round of sparring between prosecution and defense attorneys to see which of the defendants would be brought to trial first. After the state won its move to force the trial of W. D. May, the defense counteracted with a plea that it could not go to trial in the absence of three Mexicans who worked on the May farm and who are defense witnesses.

District Judge Hovey ordered the trial reset.

A special venire of 200 men has been summoned for possible jury service.

Stevens and W. D. (Bill) May, Stevens' alleged lieutenant in both crimes, were named jointly in each of three indictments. Both defense and prosecution attorneys were said to have agreed to try Stevens first.

The men also are under federal indictment here for mail robbery.

The two each are charged three times with murder for the deaths of J. B. Rutherford, Dallas; his brother, Harry Rutherford, Abilene, and Jack Sturdivant, Eula. They were to be tried first on the death of Sturdivant.

Prison Guards Are Fired by Warden

CROCKETT, Texas, Jan. 22.—Neglect of duty was blamed today for the dismissal of three guards at the Eastham prison farm south-west of here, in connection with the escape of five convicts last Tuesday.

The guards, ousted by Lee Simmons, general prison manager, were J. R. McCaffitty, Doc Robertson and E. S. Mathis.

Capt. B. E. Monzingo, manager of the farm, said there was no criticism of the men for failing to return the fire of the convicts and their liberators. He cited neglect, however, for leaving their squads of convicts they had taken into the woods to work.

The guards, ousted by Lee Simmons, general prison manager, were J. R. McCaffitty, Doc Robertson and E. S. Mathis.

BOILER BURSTS

On account of a bursted boiler which made it impossible to heat the building, there was no school at the Eastland High school before noon today. School officials said the boiler would be repaired and the building warm by noon and there would be school as usual this afternoon.

ALL AMERICA WILL CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY OF PRESIDENT

Five thousand cities and towns throughout the United States will celebrate the 52nd birthday of Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States. It will be one of "the largest and most enthusiastic parties" ever held on the same date in American history.

Texas made the nomination of Roosevelt possible at the Chicago convention. Texas gave him the largest majority of any American state.

An executive committee of the Central Texas Roosevelt benefit ball has been organized. Gen. Chairman E. H. Perry is directing its activities. Committee assignments are being made. Approximately 80 persons so far have been placed on the general committee and others will be added.

In very recent years, students have written on such subjects as: "The Jaybird-Woodpecker Feud, a Study in Social Conflict," "A Study of Time Involved in Manipulation of Various Type of Fastenings on Children's Garments," and "The Motivation of Dress Among Certain African Tribes."

The two countries today that are the most prolific in the production of slang English expressions are the United States and Australia.

"In general, it may be said that there is a tendency today towards the standardization of any given language. This is because the radio and other means of national and international discourse makes it necessary for speakers and writers to express themselves so that they may be understood over a wide area.

As to when to use slang, Prof. Latham said that there was no substitute for common sense. A garbage collector would not look well in a dress suit. In the same

Tax Reforms Need of School System Pittenger Declares

AUSTIN.—Tax reforms constitute the most urgent need of the nation's school system, according to Dr. H. P. Pittenger, dean of the School of Education at the University of Texas. Ninety per cent of school support comes from taxation, and most of that from the general property tax, which has declined more than any other type of tax revenue, due to depression conditions as in other times but tax reform would help.

"Tax reform alone is not sufficient to solve the problem," he continued. "Even the best taxes will not pay as well under depression conditions as in other times but tax reform would help."

Twenty thousand elementary and secondary schools over the nation are expected to close by April 1, in addition to the 2,000 that failed to open last fall, because of a large decrease in school finances, Dr. Pittenger said.

Dr. Pittenger showed how the scales of public education have been sadly unbalanced since 1930. Due to the NRA non-child labor agreements there has been a large increase in high school enrollment, bringing the total elementary and secondary school attendance up to about 26,500,000. Against this increase in enrollment is a large decrease in financial means. In 1929 and 1930 the annual expenditure for public education was over $2,300,000,000. That amount has been lowered about 25 per cent until today it is about $1,700,000,000. With this increase of 2,000,000 children to be educated, and $6,000,000 less with which to do it, there has been not only the closing of a large number of the schools, but also the shortening of terms in those schools still open.

There are 70,000 rural schools operating less than three months in the year, and 180,000 city schools operating less than six months. Also there are about 67,000 fewer teachers employed in the schools today than there were three years ago. A large amount of special services, such as night schools, playgrounds, kindergartens, art work, physical training, and special high school work, have been eliminated.

TEAR DOWN OLD HOTEL
By United Press
SEATTLE, Wash.—The Butler Hotel, famous hostelry of the Alaska gold rush days, is being torn down from the inside. The walls alone will be used in a remodeling job, and the shell of the building which has sheltered famous men and women from every country will be revised to contain a garage and numerous stores.

Coin collectors are exempt from the order to turn in all gold coins to the U. S. treasury. That should let us all out, except those that still are unemployed.

How Are YOUR Nerves?

Fortunate indeed is that modern man or woman who does not get nervously upset. Raw, jangled nerves seem, all too often, to be the order of the day.

If nerves are your problem, we suggest a check-up now—on your eating, sleeping, and smoking. Get a fresh slant on your smoking by trying Camels. Much is heard about the tobaccos used in various cigarettes. But this is a fact, as any impartial leaf-tobacco expert will tell you:

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand.

Everywhere you see Camels smoked more and more. People do care about mildness... about good taste... about their nerves. And Camels never get on your nerves... never tire your taste.

"COWBOYS NEED HEALTHY NERVES— AND, BELIEVE ME, SO DO HOUSEWIVES"

Mrs. Phyllis L. Potter, Home Maker, Montclair, N. J., says:

"I don't doubt but what it takes healthy nerves to ride an outlaw horse! But any woman who is a home maker will agree with me that shopping, cleaning, and answering the doorbell a dozen times a day are enough to jangle anybody's nerves. I know that I have to be careful in choosing my cigarettes. I am a confirmed Camel smoker because I can smoke Camels freely without a hint of jumpy nerves."

Eddie Woods, All-Around Champion Cowboy, says:

"To have nerves that can take it, I smoke only Camels. I've tried them all but Camels are my smoke! They have a natural mildness, and I like their taste better. Camels do not jangle my nerves, even when I smoke one after another."

The New Ideas Department

By Mrs. Alice D. True

We appreciate the fact that the Ranger Daily Times has given us a column each week, which for the present—at least—we shall call our "New Ideas Department." In this department we hope to exchange a number of new ideas or articles which have been used or worked out by the different members and the secretary. We hope to make this a very interesting and educational department, and we may ask for two columns later instead of one. Send your ideas now to the secretary. Let's make this column a clearing house for new ideas: devoted to business ideas and those of direct benefit to Ranger merchants and customers.

Three High "C's" in Business
Three high "C's" which are often used in business periodicals are: Co-operation, Courtesy and Confidence, and in this column we will consider the first, or Co-operation in Business. Many times we think that this word, "co-operation" is worn threadbare, but at times there is no other word that will take its place. As in all other phases of business, this holds true. "United we stand, divided we fall." Once upon a time in the great city of London a noted artist had rendered a masterpiece in a wonderful way. The applause of the audience was both loud and long. Johnnie, the little boy who had owned the nine organ, was very much pleased. He felt that he had achieved, even though in a small way, the approval of the great artist and said: "We did fine didn't we?" The artist rebuffed this and said: "We? What did you have to do with it? I played well, as it seems from the applause." "Oh," said Johnnie, "didn't WE do it?" "Why no," said the artist. "I did it." The audience continued to applaud and called for an encore. She placed her fingers on the keys, but no music came forth. She looked at the boy and said: "Pump, Johnnie, pump." "Not on yet life," replied Johnnie; "nothing doing." Then she said: "Oh, please, Johnnie, go on and pump." "Well," replied he, "was it WE?" "Yes," she answered, "we did it." Then Johnnie did his part, and together they rendered such music as gladdened the hearts of their listeners.

PROBLEM

Noah Webster defined co-operation as collective action in the pursuit of common well being; working together for the common good, having the other fellow in mind. It is the same spirit which prompted the aggressive youth before the fight to say: "Look-a-here, before we start I'd better warn you that one of my uncles is in the undertaking business. He's my favorite uncle, too, and I'd do most anything to help him."

Some merchants as well as individuals do not seem to think how dependent we are upon one another in our present-day economic system. We are a small world with our wireless and our airplanes we are more interdependent than ever before. We have heard some people in Ranger say: "I'll run my own business and let the other merchant do the same." He may do a rushing business for a while; again he may be flitting with the undertaker.

Please remember the slogan which we have used in Ranger for years: "United we stand, divided we're stuck."

Housing Survey Is Started in Dallas

DALLAS, Tex.—One hundred and twenty-five enumerators have sharpened their pencils and started knocking on doors of Dallas homes to conduct the government's housing survey.

The survey consists of 32 questions, the answers to which are confidential to the government and the enumerators are sworn not to divulge any of the information obtained.

The information sought includes the type of building, the number of families dwelling within it, apartment or hotel or house, number of bathtubs, water closets, showers, rooms in addition to bath rooms, year built, number of stories, basement, garage, type refrigeration and other questions including the condition of the shingles on the roof.

Famous Old Tavern in Ohio Restored

GALLIPOLIS, O.—Plans for restoring an old tavern, known as "Our House," to the condition in which it is believed to have existed when Lafayette visited it in 1825, are under way here.

The structure has been purchased by the Gallia County Historical Society and will be made into a museum. General Lafayette, who aided colonists during the Revolutionary War, slept one night in the tavern and is believed to have been its most distinguished all-time guest.

The building was built in 1812 by Francis de Hebercourt, first postmaster of the French settlement here, who, as a boy, was a friend and classmate of Napoleon at St. Cyr, French military academy.

Restoration of the building is expected to include the setting up of an old bar, which was in the tavern during its earliest days, along with furniture of the period. The building has been a dwelling during recent years.

Hoboes' Dream May Become a Reality

NORWALK, O.—Hoboes camped along a railroad west of here gave local police a startling bit of new governmental information recently.

While officers listened with their tongues in their cheeks, several of the tramps informed them that Washington is soon to extend special aid to knights of the road. Food, fuel and perhaps even shelter are to be provided at various such hobo camps, established on outskirts of cities, the vagrants claimed.

Police listened quizzically, but without noticeable bulging of eyes. They admitted, however, that they had on their hands enough men to start such a project.

ASKS FLAG DISPLAY

AUSTIN.—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson has asked for a general display of the flag of the Confederacy on Gen. Robert E. Lee's anniversary, Jan. 19. A proclamation asking the observance in honor both of Lee and those who "gave all that they had" to the cause of the Confederacy has been issued.

Woman Has Job As Scout For A Big League Team

MINERAL WELLS, Tex.—Scouting for young prospective stars for the White Sox baseball club is the unique job of Mrs. Roy Largent, here with her husband for a winter's rest and to regain her health.

The couple will leave early in February for Pasadena, Calif., where the Chicago club will train this spring. The Largents live in McKinney, Texas.

In baseball circles Mrs. Largent is said to be the only professional woman scout who has gained rank among the best in the business. She has been scouting with her husband since 1925.

Her search for prospective "Babe Ruths" has carried Mrs. Largent on tours throughout the country totaling more than 250,000 miles.

Seldom has the woman scout with her husband been charged with a bad decision. They have been given many rewards for their ability to spot "big league" players on sandlots and in minor leagues.

Mrs. Largent was credited with assisting in decisions that resulted in such ball players as Randy Moore, Art Shires, Carl Reynolds, Smead Jolley, Vic Eraser, Bill Norman, Irvine Jeffries, Luke Appling, Alex Metzler, Joe Bonura, Ira Hutchinson and many others leaving the "sandlots" for the big leagues.

Of the wary ones, Mrs. Largent said Art Shires has given her and her husband the most trouble trying to keep him corralled and out of trouble.

The only woman baseball scout in the country predicted a banner year for the White Sox, and anticipated great work again by the playing manager, Lou Fonseca, first baseman.

"The club acquired a great deal of strength when they bought George Earnshaw from the Philadelphia Athletics," said Mrs. Largent.

Lou Comisky White Sox owner, paid $25,000 for Earnshaw, it was said. According to sports reports, Comisky spent some $400,000 on players this winter. It was said he intended to buy more players for his roster and to trade or sell some of the men on it at present in an endeavor to turn out a top-notch ball team this season.

While on the West Coast Mrs. Largent and her husband said they would look over coast league clubs for prospects for 1934.

The White Sox team is to return to its stamping ground to open the 1934 season April 17.

With the New Deal in government, Mrs. Largent said she expected a new deal in baseball to follow—a great attendance this next year than in 1928 and 1929.

Is This Too Good for Your Cough?

Creosolium may be a better help than you need. It combines seven major helps in one—the best helps known to science. It is made for quick relief, for safety. Mild coughs often yield to lesser help. No one can tell. No one knows which factor will do most for any certain cough. So careful people, more and more, are using Creosolium for any cough that starts.

The cost is a little more than a single help. But your druggist guarantees it, so it costs nothing if it fails to bring you quick relief. Coughs are danger signals. For safety's sake, deal with them in the best way known. (adv.)

Press Club Sends Roosevelt a Ten Pound Daisy Cheese

CUBA, N. Y.—A ten-pound "daisy" cheese, made at local dairy plants, was sent to President and Mrs. Roosevelt from the National Press Club of Washington.

The Press Club has been buying "daisy" cheeses from the plant for some time and at a recent meeting voted to present the President and the First Lady with a ten-pound dainty.

Pinhole Specs Exhibited

LEIPZIG.—Opticians have borrowed the principle of the photographic lens and devised spectacles with shutters which step down the light as in a camera.

The lenses are replaced with two adjustable black plates with pinholes, or "optic diaphragms," which cut off the fringe of rays which cause glare of bright sunlight. The new spectacles, which are on exhibition at the Leipzig Trade Fair, are so adjusted that the pinhole permits just the right amount of light to enter the inner eye, and is thus concentrated on the "yellow spot," which is the most sensitive part of the retina.

Court Upholds Nazi Employee's Report

BERLIN.—A Nazi cell-leader may not be dismissed for making a damaging report on his employer to Nazi headquarters, the Berlin Labor Court has just ruled.

In the case before the court, the foreman of a certain plant made a full report to his Nazi organization on his employer's business, and used strong invective against the employer himself.

The court declared that this report was "confidential" and not meant for the public. Hence the invective therein did not afford grounds for dismissal.

The court further stated that, considering the foreman's "simplicity," the strong words he used in his report about his employer were pardonable as he could not be expected to be familiar with the more polite phraseology ordinarily used in such reports.

The supreme court sits on the third floor of the state capitol. Usually it meets on Wednesday. Uncertainty about the time when the nine judges may be expected to file into the courtroom and take their places behind its long desk may have something to do with the lack of attendance. Usually the sitting is at noon, after the judges have finished a conference in chambers on the week's grist.

Whatever the reason the court is almost entirely without what the movie magnates call BO (box office) appeal.

Across the hall, the state court of criminal appeal has bigger audiences. It is a supreme court in cases involving crime. One reason for its greater attendance is that it combines hearing of arguments and announcement of decisions at the same session.

Of course the judges do not decide cases on the same day they are argued. The decisions announced are those in cases that may have been argued a week or months before. Rulings are first announced, then a docket of arguments is called.

Frequently relatives of defendants attend to hear the arguments for new trials. Relatives seldom come to hear the decisions.

Announcement of the decisions is double checked as the court sits. Alternating from left to right, the five judges in turn announce the rulings in cases that have been argued.

ALIMONY WAITS ON BUTTER

HOLLISTER, Cal.—Unless the price of butterfall increases, Mrs. Emma Giudici will not receive $10 per month alimony from Antonio Giudici, whom she divorced recently. A court, continued the case on the plea of Giudici, a dairyman, that he could not pay the alimony until he received a greater return on his products.

Most Important State Court Has Small Attendance

AUSTIN.—Texas' most important court has the smallest attendance at its sittings.

Three-fourths of the time when the state supreme court, which has the last word in Texas civil disputes, hands down its decisions, Bailiff John Henry Johnson's "O-yes, O-yes" is heard only by the judges, court clerks and a few newspaper men.

Not since former Gov. Ross S. Sterling challenged the nomination of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson to succeed him, has the little courtroom been filled when a case was decided there were but a few present.

The First 30 Days are the Hardest--
HERE January is almost gone and if one of your resolutions was to operate in the New Year on a family budget plan, you have already experienced many of the temptations to abandon it. Indeed, the first 30 days are the hardest for budgeteers!
It takes courage and patience and careful planning to live by the budget. There's no question about that! And one of the most vital essentials is careful buying.
The first principle of careful buying is a daily study of the advertisements in your newspaper. Within its columns the trade of the world parades before your door, in those moments when you are considering your own needs, at the time you can balance your desires and your resources. You can make comparisons—pause, consider, decide at your own convenience!
Nothing can be more helpful to you in making your dollars go farthest than the opportunities and economies revealed to you through the advertisements in this newspaper.
