BOARD NAMES TEACHERS FOR COMING YEAR

At a meeting of the Ranger school board, held Thursday night, teachers for the school year 1934-1935 were elected, with the exception of some four or five positions that are yet to be filled.

The board voted that a policy should be adopted by the board not to elect both a man and his wife to positions with the Ranger schools. It was also voted that a man be elected to the teaching staff of the ward schools, in addition to the principal of the principal of the school and that the superintendent work out a schedule by which at least one less teacher could be used in the Ranger Junior College, one of which was to include an agricultural teacher.

It was voted to defer action on forming a football schedule for Junior college at this time, and to take the matter up at some later date when it will be determined as to whether or not it seems advisable to work out a schedule.

No salaries were designated at the meeting Thursday night, and they will be worked out at some future date when the board goes more thoroughly into the financial condition and situation.

200 Automobiles to Form Motorcade to Broadway Meet

DALLAS.—F. O. Mackey, president of the Broadway of America Highway association, today announced that more than 200 automobiles would form the two motorcades to the seventh annual convention of the association, meeting in Dallas May 8-9.

"From every indication, and the splendid spirit of cooperation which I found on my recent trip over the highway from Douglas, Ariz., to Minnville, Tenn., I feel safe in saying that the Dallas convention will be one of the most outstanding in the history of this great association," Mr. Mackey said.

"The Dallas convention will celebrate the paving of the first trans-continental highway in the United States. At this time there remains but 42.7 miles of unpaved road on the entire route. Every foot of this is under contract and will be completed not later than Sept. 15, this year.

"At the Dallas Convention, we will lay our plans for advertising this great snow-free and scenic route, that today is carrying the bulk of discriminating motor travelers."

The motorcade will reach Ranger at 3 p. m. May 7, departing at 3:10 for Dallas.

Carpenter Breaks Up Robbery With His Deadly Fire

SAN ANTONIO, April 27.—One bandit was dead, another was believed dying and a third was in jail here today due to the expert marksmanship of Manuel Garcia, 40-year-old carpenter.

Garcia saw three men holding up his neighbor in the latter's store last night. The bandits, each masked, had forced the store keeper to stand behind a counter with his hands in the air. A light was burning so that from his front porch next door, Garcia could see all the men.

He seized a small, .22 calibre rifle and shouted to the store proprietor to lie down. Garcia shot and killed one of the men, the bullet striking him between the eyes. Another was shot in the back and doctors said he would die. The third man fled but was arrested.

STRONG URGES AN OIL PROBE IN THE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The house rules committee voted today to give right of way on the floor to the Strong resolution for an investigation of the oil code administration.

The resolution, sponsored by Representative Sterling Strozier, Democrat, Texas, calls for a special house committee to call to the attention of oil code administrator Harold Ickes, alleged violations of the code by big companies.

Strong charged the oil code administration is under control of Standard Oil and other powerful units which are using the code for their own purposes.

His resolution called for an investigation into the oil production allotments. Strong charges that at present west coast petroleum products are being shipped east at rates detrimental to Texas producers.

Two Are Named On Cotton Committee

A. J. Ratliff and E. H. Mills have been named as a committee of two to represent Ranger in connection with the cotton-control plan, as provided under the Bankhead bill, recently signed by President Roosevelt.

The committee will work in cooperation with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in helping to see that West Texas is given an equal division of the allocated production.

Man Is Killed In Border Liquor Fight

EL PASO, April 27.—United States border patrolmen killed an unidentified man and wounded two more in a border liquor battle in the sand hills of southern New Mexico, 10 miles west of here, today.

Officers said they opened fire when the caravan refused to stop shortly after crossing the boundary. A load of liquor was seized.

JAPAN REMAINS SILENT UPON EAST POLICY

TOKIO, April 27.—Japan will maintain silence until Great Britain announces views of its far eastern declaration.

Some newspapers have suggested advisability of a formal government clarification of the declaration, but the foreign minister is said to believe the issue will pass.

LONDON, April 27.—Sir Francis Lindley, British ambassador to Tokio, said firmly that Great Britain maintained all its rights in China under treaties and stood by all its obligations under treaties concerning China, it was understood today.

Growers of Mohair And Wool Decline Spring Clip Offer

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Whatever else Japan's unofficial hands-off China has done, it appeared today to have closed the door to the bi-lateral discussion of specific problems between Japan and the United States as a prelude to the 1935 naval conference.

Wool and mohair growers of this section, who were scheduled to sell their spring clip at Ranger Thursday, declined the offers made by the buyers and decided to wait two or three weeks for better offers.

Only two buyers were on hand and the best offers made on the 11,000 pounds in storage was 32 cents per pound. The growers, after learning of the prices offered, decided not to make a sale at this time, but to await further developments and to try to get better prices for their clip.

A telephone call to Ranger last week from the head of one of the largest wool and mohair marketing associations in the country, advised that the local growers be careful about selling too quickly at the first opportunity, stating that they could get better prices now being offered if they did not sell too quickly. It was partly on the strength of this information that the local growers declined the offers made by the two buyers in Ranger Thursday.

Unintended Victims Of Kidnaping Are Found In Auto

LONGVIEW, Texas, April 27.—Willie May, 5, and Beatrice, 7, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Camp of Gladewater, were saved today after having been victims of what authorities believed was an unintentional kidnaping. The children were found sleeping in a broken down car eight miles east of Longview today. They were unharmed. The girls were sleeping in their parents' car in front of a Gladewater church Thursday when the machine was stolen while the parents were attending a program at the church.

Ray's Girl Friend

Mary O'Dare, sister of Odell Chambliss, and wife of Gene O'Dare, both serving time for bank robberies, has been identified as the companion of Raymond Hamilton. She was arrested in Amarillo and officers lay in wait there for Hamilton to show up. Mary is said to have confessed to being with Hamilton when he robbed a bank at West, Texas, recently. Victims identified her picture.

HAMILTON IS DISGUSTED AS LOVE SPURNED

DALLAS, April 27.—Raymond Hamilton, a disgraced young man, paced the floor of the death cell at the Dallas county jail today, angry because he had been "double crossed" by the woman he loved.

Told that Mary O'Dare, his girl friend, had said she was through with him and intended returning to her husband, Hamilton scowled.

"You can't trust anybody any more," he said. "They'll double cross you every time. As long as you've got money you're a fine fellow and everybody likes you; but when you're broke they're through with you."

It was a different Hamilton who spoke then the apparently carefree youth who was brought here after his capture by possemen at Howe, Texas.

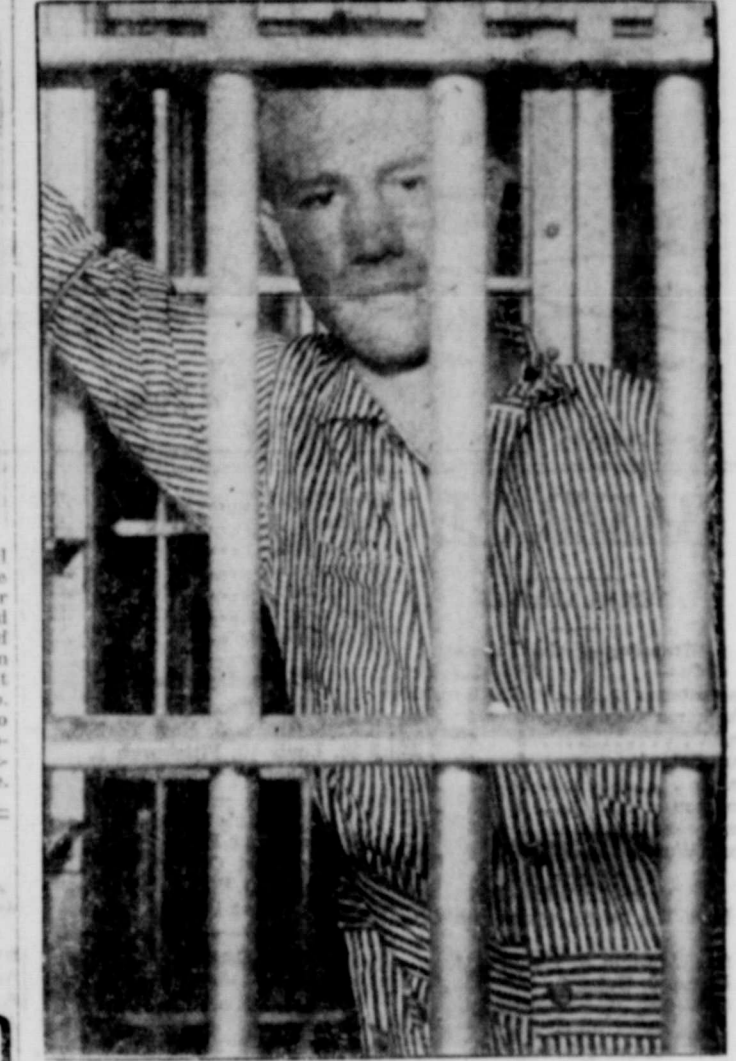

Hamilton told the sheriff today he might plead guilty even if the state refused to trade with him, believing such a course would be the best means of avoiding a death sentence from a jury.

Burglars Enter a Store at Gorman

Burglars Thursday night entered the Higginbotham Bros. general mercantile store at Gorman and took merchandise of an estimated value of $1,000. Entrance to the building was gained by prying the lock off a front door. The loot was taken out a side entrance.

Sheriff Virge Foster and members of his department, together with Gorman officers, were at work early this morning on the case. They had few clues to work on, however.

IN DALLAS COUNTY DEATH CELL

Behind bars again is Raymond Hamilton, Texas' No. 2 bad boy, in a picture that brings cheer to the hearts of the citizenry as well as peace officers of the Southwest. Their only hope now is that Clyde Barrow may soon be so framed in a photo.

Mrs. Maxey, Head Of Radiographers Has a Big Job

Responsibility of a great degree has been the lot of Mrs. Byrta Rose Maxey of Eastland, president of the Texas Society of Radiographers, in making arrangements which surrounded the convening of the body, May 3-5, at Dallas.

Mrs. Maxey in the past few weeks has made trips to various cities in the state conferring with members and officials of the society making arrangements for the programs which will be presented during the meet.

Radiography and its utilization in different phases of medical science will be discussed by doctors and operators from over the state.

Employment of motion pictures and lantern slides are to be used by many of the speakers at the meet. This method of explanation has formerly proved to speakers versed on radiography that it is an aid in conveying important thoughts and points to their audience.

Seaman Garrison, also about 26, was lodged in the Eastland county jail this morning following the filing of an assault charge against him by Sheriff Virge Foster in Justice of the Peace Milton Newman's court.

OFFICERS ON TRAIL OF GANG OF DILLINGER

SQUAW LAKE, Wis., April 27. Five automobile loads of Department of Justice agents stalked the wooded slope along Squaw Lake today on a vengeance hunt for members of the John Dillinger gang.

Agents were informed that at least four desperate outlaws were hiding in a resort building on the lake front. The gangsters were believed to have reached Squaw Lake after fleeing from a trap at Little Bohemia Lodge.

The money will enable rural schools to remain open for the usual term, she said. Adult educational and nursery classes will be continued under the grant.

Man Who Helped To Stop Kidnaping Is Under Charges

TEXARKANA, Texas, April 27. Gilbert McKee, Winfield filling station operator, whose wife captured two of the alleged kidnapers of C. M. Kella of Fort Worth Tuesday, today faced charges himself.

He pleaded guilty in federal court to possessing whisky and was held for the grand jury under $500 bond.

Stock Exchange Bill Goes Before House

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The house will begin consideration of the stock exchange control bill Monday under a wide open rule permitting amendments, the rules committee decided today.

OPPORTUNITY FOR CONTACTS IS OFFERED

TUSCON, Ariz., April 27.—Deserted streets and blind-drawn windows today offered the kidnapers of June Robles, 6, the opportunity they needed to return the child and collect the $10,000 ransom the family is ready to pay.

It was believed the hour was near when June will be returned home. Two notes have been written giving Fernando Robles, the father, and Bernabe Robles, the wealthy grandfather, directions. The mother, near prostration, has spent the time since the abduction Wednesday, in constant prayer.

Today the intense hunt in which more than 1,500 took part, was called off. The Robles men and officers conferred. It was agreed that it was impossible to deal with the kidnapers while the town was virtually under a state of siege.

The abduction has shocked the state, unused to the hard criminality of metropolitan areas. Pioneers who had worked with the elder Robles when they were winning the area from the wilderness and their human enemies more than half a century ago, rallied to their aid.

Feeling ran high and threats to handle the case with the neatness and dispatch with which the West once dealt with horse thieves, were heard.

Good Crowd Attend Meeting at Breck

Honoring State Senator Clint C. Small, business men and oil operators of the Oil Belt district gave a formal luncheon for the occasion in the Petroleum club rooms at the Burch hotel in Breckenridge, Thursday evening.

WASHINGTON BOOK COSTLY

MR. DILLINGER, IT'S IN THE BOOKS THAT YOU'RE GOING TO LOSE

By H. ALLEN SMITH
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, April 27.—Mr. John Dillinger, At Large (please forward).

Dear John:
It is not my aim to go around giving random advice, John, but I've been looking in some books today and I've got bad news for you. You might just as well start saying your prayers because it's in the books that you're going to lose.

You must have heard about Harry Tracy, John. Harry was a lot like you, always going around and knocking people off. He escaped from pens all over the west, had his hand in so many holdups that people finally quit counting them, did a little cattle rustling on the side and huffed the bloodhounds as well as the posses. He broke loose from Oregon prison back in June, 1902, and started raising all kinds of hell over Oregon before the boys got him in a barley field on Aug. 5. Harry never came out of that barley, John.

I don't need to go into the matter of Jesse James. You read about him when you were a kid, and how he got away with it for quite some time before a fellow named Ford plugged him at St. Joe, Mo., back in the spring of 1882.

Billy the Kid Lost
Even staying on American soil, John, I can call your attention to the case of Billy the Kid. He was a bad guy, all right. When he was 21 he went around bragging about how he killed one man for every year he had lived, and he said that his 22nd would be a sheriff by the name of Pat Garrett. That was down in New Mexico, in 1880, and one night Billy the Kid walked into Pete Maxwell's house, looking for a side of bacon for his supper, and who should he find sitting there but Pat Garrett. Billy was pushing up daisies thereafter, John.

We don't need to go into the matter of Gerald Chapman who was hanged in Connecticut just eight years ago because, like you, John, he was handy with his guns and liked to take large sums of money from folks by force. And you already know about Legs Diamond, and how they blasted him out of bed with a machine gun in December, back in 1931, at a rooming house at Albany.

You know, though, about Pancho Villa. He started out as a cheap sort of cattle rustler, got to robbing left and right, and pretty soon he was out putting the lug on people indiscriminately, even burning down whole towns. He and three of his pals were riding around in an automobile in July, 1923, when someone as playful as Pancho let go with a fusillade and that was the end of Villa and his best friends. You just can't beat the game, the way I look at it, John.

Andre "The Sword" Spada
If you've been reading the papers lately you'll know about Andre "The Sword" Spada, the Corsican bandit. He's had people in his neighborhood scared stiff for a long time. Now he's wandering around in the stir barefooted, with a cross hanging around his neck and with his hands trembling in fear of the guillotine, which he no doubt will get.

John, damn it, you wouldn't even get by with it in China. Think of Chang Ten-Lin, one of the few bandits who ever became ruler of an empire. He made you and your gang look like mollycoddies. He started out as a poor Manchurian swineherd, became famous as a robber and sold his gang to the Japanese as guerilla warriors. After the Russo-Japanese war Japan helped Chang set himself up as ruler of Manchuria. He held the job until somebody bombed him to death near Mukden in the spring of 1928.

John, I could go on like this all day. But I don't think it'll do you any good. Several of us Indiana fellows around New York are pretty fed up with you. You didn't turn out well. But you can see from the above that our minds are going to be eased before long. In short, John, you're sunk.

Well, stay out of the funny papers.

H. ALLEN SMITH.
P. S.—Will send you a nice copy of the Lord's Prayer engraved on a pinhead if you'll wire me your present address.

BANKHEAD COTTON CONTROL BILL A STERN REALITY

Place it in the record that the house of representatives adopted the senate approved conference report, 235 to 105, and sent to the White House the measure to force farmers to keep cotton production in the coming crop year at 10,000,000 bales. Place it in the record that President Roosevelt recommended the bill in principle in a letter to Chairman Marvin Jones of Texas when the house agricultural committee was considering it. Chairman Jones made the closing speech in the final showdown of the controversy. He said: "Planless agriculture condemns our South and our farmers elsewhere to eternal poverty. Industry plans production to meet consumption needs and agriculture should do likewise."

As finally passed the provisions of the Bankhead measure may be extended for a second year by presidential proclamation if two-thirds of the land owners, sharecroppers and tenants desire. Long staple cotton is exempted in states in which production has not exceeded 250,000 bales in any one year in the last five years. It levies a tax of 50 per cent of the current market price on cotton produced in excess of the quota allotted on the basis of the average production in the past five years. The tax is not to be less than 5 cents a pound. Dirt Farmer George Terrell of the Texas piney woods country voted against the measure. Well, the showdown has come and the future will tell the real story.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

People continually complain of the difficulty in getting sufficient sleep at night, owing to the noise made by dogs.

This nuisance is particularly distressing to invalids, and even those who can ignore the sound of machinery and traffic find their attention held by the kind of almost personal note in a dog's barking.

When a dog barks or howls continually it usually means that he is suffering from hunger, thirst, or lack of warmth, and, therefore, the owner of the animal is really responsible for the nuisance.

It is a curious fact that wild dogs do not bark, and that the domestic dog seems to have acquired the habit entirely through his association with man.

Dog's Mouth Was Canary Bird's Cage

By United Press
KANSAS CITY, Kan.—There is no place like home, even if it is a canary cage.
Mrs. L. C. Noggle pitted her bird and opened the cage so it could fly around the room.
The canary flew about the room for several minutes. Then it got tired and alighted on Rex's long nose. Rex opened his mouth and the canary disappeared. Mrs. Noggle, horrified, pried open the dog's mouth. The bird flew out.

The way tobacco is cut has a lot to do with the way Chesterfield burns and tastes

There are many different ways of cutting tobacco.

A long time ago, it used to be cut on what was known as a Pease Cutter, but this darkened the tobacco, and it was not uniform.

The cutters today are the most improved, modern, up-to-the-minute type. They cut uniformly, and cut in long shreds.

The tobacco in Chesterfield is cut right—you can judge for yourself how Chesterfields burn and how they taste.

Everything that science knows is used to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder . . . the cigarette that tastes better.

DONNA of the BIG TOP by BEULAH POYNTER

BEGIN HERE TODAY DONNA LAUREL and MADIELINE SIDDLER, who call themselves "The Tangled Sisters" are famous performers with Hentley's circus. Donna's antics also circus performers are dead. Five years earlier "Madeline" was away from the middle-western farm where her grandfather AMOS SIDDLER lives. A few days before the circus is to play in her old home town Madeline receives a letter from her grandfather asking her to spend the weekend with him. Madeline breaks Donna to go to her place. The two girls look alike and Donna considers it. Madeline SIDDLER, Madeline's cousin, comes for her to Donna (pretending to be the other girl) who talks to him and later goes to dinner with him.

Again and again Donna's thoughts returned to Bill Siddal. She wondered how the trapeze act appeared to him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER II IN the dressing room Madeline was changing her costume with the assistance of one of the wild west riders who augmented her salary by acting as maid to the star performers. Madeline's eyebrows lifted at Donna's entrance. "How's the cousin?" she asked. Donna sat down on a folding stool and kicked off the heavy carpet slippers that covered her "soft soles." Dusterously she slipped from one costume into another. If she had heard her partner's question she gave no heed to it for she did not reply.

"It's funny your folks never write to but one of you girls," giggled Madeline's assistant. "Or maybe they write to you together?" "They do," Madeline informed her. "Bent it, Ruth, I can finish alone." Ruth disappeared. "What's Bill like?" Madeline demanded when she and Donna were alone.

"What you'd expect. A young bayseed. You'd never see him for dust, but," Donna smiled, "I like him. He was so embarrassed it was funny. I guess we were both embarrassed. I'm going to have supper with him after the show." "I suppose the tight shocked him out of a year's growth?" "No, I don't think so. After all, bathing suits are so common that tight shouldn't mean anything."

"Bathing suits!" Madeline sniffed. "Where would Bill Siddal see a woman in a bathing suit? Outside of Little Creek there isn't a place to swim within 50 miles and no woman ever went swimming in Little Creek."

"That's our cue," Donna said suddenly, not at all sorry to interrupt the discussion of the young man she had just met. As she tripped lightly across the arena Donna gave a swift glance at the rows of seats, knowing full well that under the blazing lights she could not distinguish Bill Siddal from any other person.

Both girls discarded their cloaks and slippers. With deft overhead movements Donna swung her lithe, perfect body up a swinging rope that led to the flying trapeze. Once she was in position there, Madeline did likewise. The two worked without a net, a reckless disregard of life and limb.

trance, watching her. Today Con's presence irritated her. She found it difficult to keep her mind on the count that was as necessary as the bars beneath her. Again and again her thoughts returned to the brief encounter with Bill Siddal. She wondered what he had thought of her—she who had never cared for any man's opinion before. She wondered how the trapeze act appeared to him, and if he really believed her to be his cousin. Suddenly Madeline's sharp whisper, "Snap out of it! You almost missed me," brought an end to these speculations.

At last it was over—the chariot races, the wild west show, the grand finale. Lights were extinguished and the audience departed. Donna dressed quickly. She slipped into a printed silk frock that any small town girl might have worn. Her hat was a large straw hat with a wreath of daisies.

"Give him a kiss for me," Madeline laughed as they parted. "I may tell him the truth," Donna retorted. "If you do you'll just miss your party, for nothing would induce me to go to that farm!" Bill was waiting at the spot Donna had designated. "Have I kept you long?" she asked, annoyed that her voice should tremble.

"Not very. It was a good show," he smiled down at her. They walked over the trampled grass to the railroad tracks and Donna said, indicating the dining cars on the siding, "That's my home."

home for a girl raised among trees and flowers and with plenty of ground around." They did not speak again until they reached a board walk leading towards the town. Then he said, "I wish I could persuade you to leave the circus and stay home with your grandfather. He's getting pretty old and he talks about you all the time."

"Maybe next winter—" Donna stammered. "Just now it would be impossible." "I suppose show life is thrilling where I did. But there can be a lot of interest around a farm, too. And it would only be while the old man is alive. I thought I'd hate the farm, and at first I did hate giving up what I was doing to settle down in the back woods. I'm sure, though, that if the place were mine I'd get a real kick out of trying to make it the best in the country."

"What were you doing?" Donna asked. "Studying medicine. I'd have graduated this year if I hadn't quit. When Grandfather went home some one had to be with him besides—" her eye on Grandfather—I call him that—and was I ever to marry him, blind or not. Naturally she doesn't like me, for I see through her schemes." "Who is she?" "Why the deuce-ee-ee! Surely you remember her! When her husband was alive she lived up the road about three miles. After you left she came over to stay with Grandfather." "The name—er—slipped my memory." "Well, naturally, they reached the circus at the town. I came home with wild vegetables, surrounded by well-to-do boys and stable lads, gave Donna a touch of assistance for the life she had never known. "It's such a pretty town," she murmured.

"Blind," Donna gasped. "Didn't you know? Didn't you get the letter?" "No, I didn't know." She shivered.

"Yes, Lebanon is attractive. And there are some fine people living here. I've made a lot of friends." The public square was thronged with farmers and their families for Saturday in Lebanon was always a holiday. The circus had brought hundreds of persons from all over the county and the Central House, the principal hotel, had more patronage than it could accommodate.

BILL, elbowed through the crowd and up the porch steps. "Got places for two?" he inquired of a bright-eyed little waitress, carrying a tray of dishes. "Howdy, Mr. Siddal. Yes, I reckon we can find a place for you. That couple is leaving now." Bill snatched at the vacant places, grinning broadly at Donna as he held a chair for her. "I suppose it's the same all over the country. A circus draws everybody."

Just as the little waitress inquired if Donna would have steak or pork chops, another couple came up the stairs. Donna raised her eyes to meet the mischievous ones of Madeline whose curiosity had overcome caution. At a discreet distance, accompanied by Ned Trafford, the boss caravanserai, she had followed her partner.

Donna could not suppress a gasp of dismay. In a frock very similar to her own and wearing a hat that was an exact replica of Donna's, the resemblance between the two girls was so striking that Bill could not help but notice it.

"What's the matter?" Bill asked. "Nothing. I just saw my partner and I thought she—"

Madeline passed by. She grinned impudently, swept a keen glance toward Bill and, under her breath, whispered to Donna, "Con is roaring like one of his cats." Then with her arm linked in Ned Trafford's she continued down the aisle of tables.

It all happened so suddenly that Bill scarcely saw Madeline's face but he did hear what she said. Though his acquaintance with Donna had begun less than six hours previous he demanded, as if well within his rights, "Who is Con?" "Oh, you saw him. He's in the animal act."

"Is he your sweetheart?" Donna laughed gaily. "Of course not." "But he'd like to be, huh?" "Perhaps."

HE looked at her sharply. "Mrs. Poynter said she wrote you the same time she wrote me, but I don't trust that woman. She has

Arms Profits Are Serious Menace To World Peace

COLUMBIA, Mo.—Profit from sale of munitions, and militaristic propaganda inspired by munitions manufacturers are the greatest menace to world peace, Walter Williams, president of the University of Missouri, who just has completed a six-month world tour believes.

Munitions manufacturers frequently create war scares in various nations so that they can sell their wares to both sides, Williams found.

"The entire interest of some of these countries is profit in selling munitions," Williams said. "It is a thoroughly damnable traffic. One great evil, the white slave traffic, has been fought successfully by the world, and now we have this atrocious munitions trade."

A number of munitions interests make diplomatic alliances to further their sales, Williams charged.

Predictions of immediate war, however, Williams characterized as "wild talk."

"There is no responsible statesman in the world who is not eager to avoid war as far as his nation is concerned. There is not a political, or economic, problem that cannot be solved without recourse to arms."

Dictatorships, Williams interpreted as an outgrowth of popular demand by the people.

"The masses of people are getting more of what they want than ever before," he said. "I noticed a great increase in nationalism on my trip which embraced 28 different nations and territories, but it is not a nationalism against someone else—it is a desire to lift one's own country to equality with others."

ing more of what they want than ever before," he said. "I noticed a great increase in nationalism on my trip which embraced 28 different nations and territories, but it is not a nationalism against someone else—it is a desire to lift one's own country to equality with others."

Censorship of the press constitutes one of the gravest problems of dictatorships, Williams believes. "The press in Germany is regimented to the extreme; in Austria and Egypt it is censored; in France it is subsidized. There are few countries left which honor our cardinal precepts of freedom of the press, speech and conscience. The governments deliberately prevent the people from knowing what is going on."

BLACK-DRAUGHT For CONSTIPATION

"I am 71 years old and have used Dr. Stafford's Black-Draught about forty years," writes Mr. W. J. Vanover, of Rome, Ky. "We are never without it. Keep a package of this old, reliable, purely vegetable laxative in your home, and take it for prompt relief at the first sign of constipation.

Branding Irons In Sul Ross Collection

ALPINE, TEXAS.—Branding irons that burned claiming marks in the hides of yearlings during the past century lie in historical importance at Sul Ross Teachers college here.

Cattle rustling, drives over long trails in northern grazing lands and markets, and all the color of pioneering in the Big Bend country of West Texas are counted in these curiously twisted pieces of iron.

They were collected from over the Pecos river country by Henry T. Fletcher, Brewster county banker and ranchman, and presented to the West Texas Historical and Scientific society of which he is president.

Among the 60 irons is the "G" from the H. I. Kokernot ranch, one of the oldest brands in Texas. It was registered in 1836, and the mark has been used continuously for the past 98 years. The brand was bought by the Kokernots from a man named Jones and four generations of the family have seen their herds go out to the spring grazing country with the "G" burned on their hides.

The Kokernot ranch covers 600 acres in the four counties of Pecos, Jeff Davis, Reeves and Brewster. The original small "S." brand of the Anti-Horse Thief Association of Texas, is one of the prize possessions in the collection. It was made at Marlin in 1861 and an affidavit attests its authenticity. The handle of the iron is gone, broken off when a horse thief was hit on the head in a raid on a rustler's hangout where eight thieves and two officers were killed.

An old soldier of fortune's "Spectacle G" brand is one of the most curious in the exhibition.

When George McGuire, Portuguese-Irish soldier, stacked his guns and came to the Big Bend country in 1887 he had him a brand fashioned which he thought would be thief proof for his fling as a frontier cattleman. It was a circle, five inches in diameter, with a letter "G" in the center. Thieves stole his cattle, burned the "G" into a circle and called it a new brand—the Double Circle.

McGuire burned two of the brands on the side of each of his animals and connected the brands with a straight bar burn, originating the Spectacle G.

All brands were registered in a "brand book"—as legal to cattlemen as a government copyright. The book bore the marks of the West Texas ranchmen and infractions were checked against inscriptions on the thumbled pages.

Prehistoric Bones Of Redmen Found

ATHENS, Pa.—How long the American Indian has roamed this continent may be learned by archaeologists spading among the bones of prehistoric tribesmen here.

Important discoveries, extending the period of Indian occupancy back 4,000 years already have been claimed by Donald A. Cadzow, Pennsylvania state archaeologist.

The discoveries on Spanish Hill near here tell graphic tales of life in the American wilderness long before the birth of Christ. Cadzow has reconstructed a picture of tribal doings from the relics.

Children Are Real Victims of Slump

CLEVELAND.—The children of the nation—who suffered mental and physical ills—were the real sufferers of depression, in the belief of Dr. Henry C. Schumacher, widely known Cleveland psychiatrist and director of the Child Guidance clinic here.

The result of such suffering has been an increase in child delinquencies and problems. Dr. Schumacher pointed out in his annual report to clinic trustees.

However, in the cases of children of persons, who even in prosperous times were on relief rolls, a decided improvement in mental health is shown, he said.

"The depression brought stability to this group. Relief was certain—there was increased food and stability, and since the neighbor next door was on relief too, the contrasts vanished," the psychiatrist said.

In the group of persons on the verge of becoming dependent, there has been the greatest disturbance to children's mental and physical well-being, according to Dr. Schumacher. He said that open rebellion against parents was evident, with boys taking to petty stealing and truancy. He added that the same situation has been true of the "comfortable" group, made less comfortable by depression.

"There has been great disillusionment among adolescents. They feel they have been let down by society, their established ideas rudely shaken. I have talked with many who express a definite fear of growing up," Dr. Schumacher said.

OLD INDIAN DEED ON VIEW

MACKINAC ISLAND.—When the Mackinac Island Historical Fair opens July 1, Miss Florence Fuller, daughter of Dr. George N. Fuller, secretary of the Michigan Historical commission, will be at its helm. Among the priceless collections to be shown, Miss Fuller said, is a copy of the deed given by Indian chiefs in the transfer of Michilimackinac to King George III of England for $25,000. Michilimackinac was a territory including the entire straits section of upper Michigan.

Ranger High School Economics Class Attending Home-Making Rally at Austin

Miss Jimmie Morgan, teacher of home economics in Ranger High school, was accompanied to the home-making rally being held at the University of Texas, Austin, this week drawing to a close Saturday afternoon, after an interesting three-day session, by Opal Ralston, representing club district 16, and Elizabeth Turner, who is entering a school dress for first year clothing. Reba Calloway, entered in tailored dress from second year clothing, and Dorothy O'Donnell, entering for evening dress from third year clothing.

The home economics building at Austin, one of the most beautiful in the southwest, is creating marked attention and admiration from all who have visited it. This particular department of school instruction is fast becoming one of the most outstanding and best recognized of any department for its unusually high type of work and type of young girls who manifest interest in the rare course offered.

Miss Morgan, who is quite popular and valued for her apparent efficiency, will return with her class representatives Sunday morning.

Custer's 'Last Stand' Site to Be Museum

By United Press
 BILLINGS, Mont.—The site of one of the greatest tragedies in American military history will be preserved as a national museum, if local service clubs' efforts are successful.

Agitation has been renewed here and in Wyoming for erection of a memorial museum on the battlefield where General George A. Custer and his Seventh Cavalry made its famous "last stand."

Relics of that ill-fated display of courage have been made available through the will of Custer's widow. The present movement is a renewal of attempts to obtain a federal appropriation to construct a building to house them.

Ann Harding Is Plastic Surgeon In 'Right to Romance'

The love experience of a lady beauty doctor who could change women's faces from old to new but could not change men's loves from new to old, provides the intriguing and novel theme of "The Right to Romance," Ann Harding's latest stellar vehicle for RKO-Radio pictures, which comes to the Arcadia Sunday.

The lovely star of "When Ladies Meet" and "Double Harness" is said to have the finest and most human role of her entire career in this appealing drama of the search for romance of a famous lady plastic surgeon who tires of her career and yearns for the love which is every woman's right.

Her marriage to a gay and irresponsible young playboy brings her heartache and disillusionment when she observes his renewed interest in a former sweetheart.

A stirring emotional climax is reached when the surgeon is forced to choose between restoring the beauty of her rival, whose face has been scarred in an airplane accident with the husband, or leaving her forever unattractive — never again to steal love from another woman as she had stolen it from the surgeon.

Featured roles in the film are carried by Robert Young, as the siren, and Nils Asther who appears as the serious young doctor with whom the surgeon eventually finds true love and happiness in her career. The strong supporting cast includes Alden Chase, Irving Pichel, Delmar Watson and Helen Freeman.

"The Right to Romance" has been directed with subtlety and skill by Alfred Santell.

Retail Sales Show A 57 Per Cent Increase In State

AUSTIN, Tex.—Retail sales during March in 85 Texas establishments representing all parts of the State were 57 per cent greater in dollar volume than in March, 1933, and 41 per cent above February of the current year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Dollar sales for the first three months of the year were 40 per cent above those of the corresponding period last year. The average in sales from February to March during the past seven years has been 25 per cent.

Cities whose increase over March last year was above the average of 57 per cent were: Beaumont, Corsicana, Galveston, Houston, Port Arthur, Temple, Tyler, and Waco. Stores in the group of cities classed as "all others" including some of the smallest places, showed an increase of 63 per cent.

For the first quarter cities showing sales above the 40 per cent average increase were: Houston, Port Arthur, Tyler and Waco. The miscellaneous group showed an increase of 47 per cent.

Men's clothing stores showed the largest increase over March last year, namely, 85 per cent, followed by department stores with annual sales below $500,000, 59 per cent; women's specialty shops, 56 per cent; department stores with annual sales above $500,000, 55 per cent; and dry goods and apparel, 47 per cent.

"Easter purchasing was done in March this year whereas last year it came in April, and retail prices have increased in the neighborhood of 20 per cent, thus affecting dollar value of sales," But after allowing for these factors, improvement in retail sales over last year has been substantial.

"Further evidence of improved purchasing power is shown by the fact that in March 37 per cent of outstanding accounts was collected while in March, 1933, 28 per cent was collected."

Seal and Other Skins Bought Bob For Savage Boys

SANTIAGO, Chile.—How a Dutch-American cabaret singer became hairdresser to a tribe of savages on a desert island became known when Freddy Rey reached civilization again at Magallanes. Finding night life here was too dull to finance his imitations of Maurice Chevalier, Rey signed as extra hand on the American-owned freighter, Mount Taygetus, in Valparaiso. The ship was bound for Europe.

Threading her way through the treacherous southern channels, the Mount Taygetus lost her rudder during a stormy night, and at 3 a. m. was carried on to a dim, dark shore by the strong currents. When daylight came, the sea was full of bobbing heads, which the sailors at first thought to be seals, but which proved to be a tribe of Alaculfe Indians.

They swarmed on deck and used the only words of Spanish they knew, "tobacco" and "brandy." Rey took a keen interest in them, and in spite of warnings from the Greek crew, who distrusted the naked savages, went on shore to visit their camp.

He found the village barber at work. His victims sat no a round store, while he chewed at their hair with his teeth until it was the right length. Rey pulled out a pair of scissors. The natives shouted with delight as he neatly trimmed and shaped the coarse heads into boyish bobs and shingles. They queued up for days while

Interest On Farm Indebtedness Is Being Curtailed

WASHINGTON.—Federal Land Bank and Land Bank Commissioner's farm mortgage loans in Texas have refinanced farmers' indebtedness upon which annual interest charges formerly ran from 5 per cent to 9 per cent in most cases, it was shown in an analysis by the Farm Credit Administration of more than half the loans closed of more than half the loans closed from June 1, 1933, through March 31, 1934.

The highest rate farmers now pay on the mortgages into which these debts have been refinanced is 5 per cent and on a large proportion it is only 4 1-2 per cent. The savings resulting from reduced interest charges applies, of course, not merely to one year but to the life of the loan.

The analysis dealt only with interest rates paid on first and second mortgages, and upon short-term commercial bank loans. It did not deal with other classes of debt or many other untraceable items bearing upon the cost to farmers of carrying their debts, such as loan and renewal fees. The total of loans closed from June of last year through March of this year in Texas was about $67,400,000.

While the bulk of the loans carried rates from 5 per cent to 9 per cent, in a number of localities and in the cases of a number of loans, interest rates of 10 per cent, and in a few instances above

10 per cent, were paid by farmers on their debts.

The average rate paid by farmers on mortgage debts refinanced with land bank loans in Texas was 6.3 per cent, while the average paid on short-term, commercial bank loans was 8 per cent. Corresponding figures for mortgage and short-term debts refinanced with Commissioner's loans were, respectively, 6.9 per cent and 8.8 per cent.

The average charge on all the indebtedness refinanced with land bank loans was 6.4 per cent. Against this rate farmers pay on their land bank loans 4 1-2 per cent interest until July 11, 1935, after which the rate becomes 5 per cent. Borrowers who obtained their loans directly from Federal land banks instead of through national farm loan associations pay a rate of 1-2 of 1 per cent higher.

The average interest rate on all debts of farmers refinanced with Commissioner's loans was 7.1 per cent, against which the farmers now pay a rate of 5 per cent.

Zane Grey Story at Arcadia

Fred Kohler, Barbara Fritchie and Randolph Scott, featured with Monte Blue, in Paramount's "The Last Round-Up," in an exciting scene from the picture. This outdoor romance, based on Zane Grey's story, "The Border Legion," comes Saturday to the Arcadia theatre.

Nebraska Tree Day Is Doomed

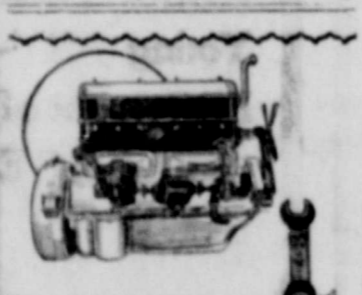

LINCOLN, Neb.—Backed by the impetus of a state-wide tree planting campaign in observance of Arbor Day, the Nebraska tree distributing program for 1934 already is a success, according to Clayton W. Watkins, extension forester at the Nebraska Agricultural College.

Applications for more than a million trees have been placed on file and crews of men are working day and night at the Nebraska National Forest at Halsey and at Fremont, filling orders. Watkins, who is stationed at Halsey, reported that 16 men employed there are moving an average of 70,000 transplants and seedlings of evergreen varieties daily.

As forest workers extended themselves to meet the demand for trees, officials of the Nebraska Department of the American Legion, sponsors of the "tree for every stump" campaign, announced that Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace will come to Nebraska to deliver an Arbor Day address April 23.

Site of Wallace's speech will be at Arbor Lodge, former home of J. Sterling Morton, founder of Arbor Day and Secretary of Agriculture under President Cleveland. Arbor Day observance in Nebraska will be centered there, on the outskirts of Nebraska City, in honor of Morton, as the founder of the day.

MANITOWIC, Wis.—A father and son wrestling card here brought out a large crowd. Johnny Meyers, Harvard, Ill., former middleweight champion, defeated Marvin Strahota, Milwaukee, in the windup and Ray Meyers, son of Johnny, threw Jimmy Strahota, Marvin's son, in the semi-windup.

Will Rogers in "Mr. Skitch" Is Coming To Arcadia Theatre Soon

Declaring it to be the most poignant and human comedy he has had to date, an enthused Will Rogers will have the stellar part in "Mr. Skitch," the new Fox production starting on Monday at the Arcadia theatre. The story, by Ann Cameron, appeared in the Saturday Evening Post several years ago and is considered a classic of humorous writing.

Elaborate plans were made to make this film one of the most pretentious comedies of the season, and from advance reports the film lives up to the expectations of the producers. Rogers himself, who is acknowledged America's greatest funster in all fields of expression, endorses "Mr. Skitch" as the most amusing situation that it has ever been his fortune to play in.

In the film he is cast as the heroically indolent head of a family of six. Through a bank failure, he and his family are left penniless and put out of their home. He gathers up his voracious brood, puts them in a dilapidated car and speeds westward, hoping to secure a job in some other community. Extraordinary adventures with petty gambling and the trials and tribulations of migration from one auto camp to another constitute the comedy-with-pathos elements of the story.

A considerable part of the picture was filmed on location, with numerous auto camps and scenic spots as settings. Some of the splendors employed as the background for the film are the spectacular eruption of Old Faithful geyser, the beauty of the falls and lake in Yellowstone Park, and the awe-inspiring magnificence of the Grand Canyon.

Heading the cast in support of Will Rogers, ZaSu Pitts, the screen's foremost comedienne, plays the part of Rogers' wife. Other members of the cast, noted for their careful selection, are Rochelle Hudson, Florence Desmond, Harry Green, Charles Starrett and Eugene Pallette.

Tammany is through with Curry-combing the Tiger.

'MR. SKITCH' IS ROGERS' NEW FILM VEHICLE

Ranger theatre goers have a couple of real thrills in store for them next week when the new Rogers picture, "Mr. Skitch," and Greta Garbo's "Queen Christina" come to the screen of the Arcadia theatre. The Rogers film comes Monday and is followed on Wednesday by the Garbo feature. This will mark the first time Garbo has been on the local screen in almost two years.

Aside from the two headliners mentioned above the Arcadia is showing Lillian Harvey and Gene Raymond in "I Am Suzanne" Friday. Miss Harvey will be remembered for her excellent work recently in "My Weakness" and "My Lips Betray," which were liked very much by local residents. Raymond is remembered principally for his part in "Flying Down to Rio." Saturday the Arcadia will have one of the best stories ever to come from the pen of Zane Grey, "The Last Round-Up." Incidentally the song by the same name is featured in this picture. Randolph Scott, who has starred in a number of the better westerns has the leading role.

A really fine bit of screen entertainment has been secured for the Arcadia Sunday in "The Right to Romance," which stars Ann Harding and Nils Astor. The picture plays one day only and comes recommended as outstanding screen fare.

The Columbia Saturday is playing John Wayne in "The Lucky Texan," together with the Buck Jones serial, "Gordon of Ghost City," and Sunday offers the best bill it has had in many weeks in the new picture, "Upper Underworld." Warren Williams, Ginger Rogers and Mary Astor have the leading roles.

GOLF BALLS WIN HIS DISCHARGE

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—An "honorable discharge" was given "Mickey," an eight-year-old Australian shepherd dog, from the civilian conservation corps. The official release, signed by Capt. James F. Bower, commander, was given in "recognition of Mickey's marvelous powers of finding golf balls." Harry Coddington, owner of the dog, said the animal gained 15 pounds during six months of "strenuous" CCC work.

DIVORCEES CAN COOL HEELS

OKLAHOMA CITY.—One of the first official acts of Claude Weaver, Oklahoma statesman, when he was appointed district judge here to fill a vacancy, was to ban quick divorcees. Taking the bench here by appointment of Gov. W. H. Murray, Weaver announced he would hear no divorce cases unless it had been on file 30 days "to give the parties cooling time so they will make up and go back together."

Miner Rescues Pal Accused of Murder In 'Lucky Texan'

In the fourth of his entertaining series of Lone Star Productions, John Wayne will ride across the screen of the Columbia theatre Saturday in "The Lucky Texan." In "The Lucky Texan," Wayne plays the role of a college graduate who, heading his father's dying request, goes out West to help Jake Benson, his father's old partner of the past, in his few remaining years.

After numerous escapades with a couple of "sharps" who are trying to steal Jake's ranch and also his newly discovered gold mine, Wayne is arrested and about to be tried for Jake's murder, but Jake appears to save the day. Wayne is supported by an excellent cast, including Barbara Sheldon, George Hayes, Yakima Canutt, Lloyd Whitlock, Earl Dwyre and John Ince.

Wayne, the star, is a former University of Southern California football player, who first distinguished himself in "The Big Trail" and subsequently appeared in a series of western pictures for Warner Bros.
