THREE ARMS OF LAW COMBINE AGAINST GANG

CHICAGO, May 5.—Three powerful arms of the law combined today in new plans for location and capture of John Dillinger in Chicago, while across the ocean British officers investigated a report he was a passenger on the steamer Duchess of York.

Melvin Purvis, Chicago chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice and director of the search for Dillinger, refused to say why the outlaw was thought en route to Europe.

While the trans-oceanic search developed, federal agents, police and state's attorney officers perfected a new organization of their squads.

Expert marksmen of the police department, each a reputed "tough guy," were assigned to the search. A special arsenal was outfitted for their use, including machine guns, shotguns, tear gas bombs, hand grenades and bullet-proof vests.

ABOARD STEAMER DUCHESS OF YORK, May 5.—A thorough search of the Duchess of York failed to disclose any trace of John Dillinger, America's most notorious bandit. The captain dispatched a message declaring that Dillinger was not aboard.

RACINE, Wis., May 5.—A tip that John Dillinger was hiding in a barn near a feed mill, southwest of here, today sent the chief of police and a squad of armed officers into the county in search of the elusive gangster.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The United States army will turn over three major air mail routes to civilian fliers Monday midnight, with the prospect that within a short time private concerns will be carrying all the air mail again.

The first route to be taken over are the Newark-Oakland, Salt Lake City-Seattle, and Seattle-San Diego services. United Air Lines will handle the service. The post office department expects to release several more routes during the week under the temporary contracts awarded several days ago.

Four Are Killed In a Tornado

TULSA, Okla., May 5.—North-east Oklahoma had four dead today as public officials and citizens restored order in the wake of a tornado which shifted three times to create wreckage along a 70-mile course.

More than 12 had serious injuries. Three were killed near Alsuma, a few miles southeast of Tulsa, where the wind damage was worst. The fourth was killed north of Nowaka, between here and the Kansas state line. Several school children were cut by glass when a rural school southeast of Bartlesville was hit by a windstorm.

Armed Rebellion In Cuba Feared

HAVANA, Cuba, May 5.—An open call to armed insurrection against the government was made today by Antonio Guiteras, most influential opposition political figure in the country.

Guiteras in a bitterly phrased statement, said armed revolt was the only means of insuring honest elections.

Patriotic Cubans, he announced, are organizing for a revolution, which they intend to effect even if it means armed intervention by the United States.

To Attend Rotary Convention

H. C. "Andy" Anderson, left, former 41st district governor, Rotary International, and L. R. Pearson, president-elect of the Ranger club, who will attend the president's and secretary's assembly at the Wooten hotel in Abilene Monday prior to the district conference on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Several from Ranger to Attend Rotary Conference at Abilene

Rotarians from over the entire 41st district, which embraces a territory from Dalhart on the north to Belton on the south and Marlin on the east to the Texas-New Mexico line, will assemble in Abilene Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday for the annual conference and meeting of club executives. It is anticipated that 1,000 Rotarians will attend.

Each of the many committees, under the leadership of John Ray, general chairman, have been functioning 100 per cent and all indications point to one of the best district conferences ever held in this district.

O. E. Sellers, district governor from Fort Worth, will have charge of the three big days and will have reports to make that will be outstanding in Rotary history.

Ed R. Johnson, first vice president and a director of Rotary International, will be a representative from Rotary International and will appear on the program several times. He is from Roanoke, Va., and will be accompanied by his wife and daughter. He is a past district governor, serving the 56th district at the same time H. C. "Andy" Anderson was serving in the same capacity in the 41st district.

A very unique program has been arranged for the three days with arrangements made under the aims and objects plan. Governor Sellers has arranged his program so as to have each club in the 41st district represented.

L. R. Pearson, president elect of the Ranger club, H. C. "Andy" Anderson, past district governor and Dr. G. E. Haslam, club secretary, plan to attend the assembly of executives Monday, when they will have a part on the program. Mr. Anderson will have a large part on the program through out the three-day session, assisting Gov. Sellers throughout the conference.

Many others have signified their intention of attending from Ranger, including Walter Harwell, president of the Ranger club, accompanied by his wife, and Odell Bailey.

Ranger and Comyn In Double Header This Afternoon

Ranger baseball fans have a treat in store for them this afternoon when the Ranger club of the New Deal league meets the fast and snappy Comyn club in a double-header beginning at 2:30.

The two teams met at Comyn last Sunday in one of the best ball games of the season in the New Deal league, Ranger winning by a 2 to 0 score without making an error or allowing a man to reach second.

Comyn comes to Ranger this afternoon "loaded for bear" and will be fighting to take both of the double attractions.

The games are being played at the new park on the Eastland road just beyond the Prairie crossing, where a good diamond has been put in shape for the games.

Church of Christ Revival Meeting Now In Progress

In the first service of the meeting being conducted by the Church of Christ, C. C. Gobbel spoke to a splendid and appreciative audience. Reading Acts 8:1-6 the minister chose as a subject, "Christ."

To preach Christ, said Mr. Gobbel, means more than to preach that He was a good man. It is admitted by all, even the enemies of Christ, that He was a good man—that Christ was the author of the greatest code of morals the world has ever known is universally taught, that He lived among men and taught great and important lessons of life, and that as a result of His teaching He was crucified is a matter of history taught and believed by all people—but this is not what the apostle meant by "preaching Christ." Many who teach publicly the goodness and wisdom of Christ deny that He was the Son of God.

Christ claimed to be more than a good man, more than a wise man, more than a prophet — He claimed to be the Son of God. Therefore for one to preach Christ His sonship must be declared; not a son as was Adam as mentioned in La. 3:39, nor yet as we are sons, as mentioned in Rom. 8:15-17, but rather the only begotten Son as stated in Jno. 3:16. Angels announced Christ to be the Son of God, Matt. 1:20-21, the apostles confessed Him as such, Matt. 16:16. Christ taught this sublime truth, Jno. 10:37-41, Jehovah Himself claimed Christ as His son, Matt. 3:17-17. If indeed Christ was not the Son of God, then He was an impostor, He is not worthy of our respect, much less our devotion, service and worship. The only begotten Son of God is the Christ that I preach unto you.

To preach Christ one must believe and teach the sacrifice He made; "I came to seek and save that which was lost," stated Jesus, that is, to save them from their sins, Rom. 6:17. It was not an arbitrary command of Jehovah's, neither did Jesus suffer unwillingly but rather obediently, Heb. 5:8-9.

Christ must be preached as King of Kings and Lord of Lords. Not one who is to be king or one who is to become Lord but as one who has been given power and crowned king, Matt. 28:19-20—Eph. 1:22-25—Heb. 1:1-2.

He must be preached as the Christians Advocate, the one in and through which the Christian approaches the Father, 1st Jno. 2:1-2—1st Tim. 2:5—1st Jno. 1:7.

To preach Christ one must preach His future return to this earth to claim His jewels, the obedient ones—Jno. 14:2-3.

The commandments, the teachings of Christ must be taught if we are to preach Christ; Mk. 16:15-16—Acts 2:36-41. To preach Christ we are not to subtract or add to the Word of God.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend all services, 10 to 10:45 a. m. and 8 to 9 p. m.

Soft Ball Games To Be Played On Blundell Diamond

The new soft ball diamond on Blundell street is completed with the exception of a few benches, a scorekeeper's desk and some minor improvements that are to be made next week and the field, proper, is now ready for use.

The first game was played on the new diamond Friday when Tee Pee and Stargis initiated the new field before a good crowd.

Material was purchased for the erection of a backstop, which is in place and duck and cotton has been purchased for first, second and third bases. This material is now at the City Tailor Shop where the bases are to be made. They will be ready in time for the game Monday afternoon.

The schedule for the week, with all games scheduled for the Young Addition diamond, is as follows: Monday—Marathon vs. Elks. Tuesday—Tee Pee vs. Times. Wednesday—Service Club vs. Lone Star. Thursday—Magnolia vs. Sinclair. Friday—Marathon vs. Stargis.

British Officer, In Speech, Declares King Was Killed

NOTTINGHAM, England, May 5.—Lt. Col. Graham Setton Hutchison, former army intelligence officer and internationally known author, revived today reports that King Albert of Belgium did not fall from the mountainside to his death, but was murdered.

"I know the facts," Hutchison said in a speech to the Writers' club. "The story about his death was about the biggest piece of nonsense put over on the world in six months."

"It was put over by planned perjury. I ascertained that there were no bruises on the king's body or hands. He was tapped on the back of the head. This is known in Belgium and nobody dares speak of his death in Belgium today."

LONDON, May 5.—The statement of Lt. Col. Graham Hutchison that King Albert of Belgium did not die accidentally, but was murdered, evoked great excitement in diplomatic circles here today.

In many quarters it provoked anger, especially at the Belgium embassy, where it was denied.

Among the indictments returned by the grand jury was one against Seaman Garrison for assault with intent to murder. This was in connection with the case in which Milton Day was struck over the head with a billiard cue. Day, who was taken to a Fort Worth hospital for treatment of his eye returned to Eastland Wednesday, and is able to be up and about.

Woodin Burial to Be Held Sunday

BERWICK, Pa., May 5.—The body of William H. Woodin, the smiling little secretary of the treasury who piloted the nation through its most critical banking period, will be buried here, his former home, tomorrow.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt and others high in governmental life, paid final tribute to Woodin at New York, where funeral services were held for him this afternoon.

Cummings Answers Claims of Mellon

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Attorney General Homer S. Cummings today answered Andrew Mellon's attack on the government income tax suit against him with a blunt statement the former secretary could expect no special privilege.

"He must reconcile himself to being treated like anyone else in a similar situation," Cummings said. "Mr. Mellon is not as much in the dark as he would have the public believe."

"He knows the basis on which the treasury department made the additional assessment and why the department of justice has taken action."

Oil Rig Builders In Kansas Strike

M'PHERSON, Kan., May 5.—Approximately 200 oil field rig builders in the McPherson field were on strike today for higher wages. No decrease in hours was sought.

M. D. King, Fort Worth, head of the striking workers' council, said the walkout will spread to other mid-continent fields where it may effect as many as 2,000 men.

The rig builders seek $10 and $12 daily instead of the $8 and $10 they now are receiving.

Broadway Motorcade Will Arrive Monday

The Broadway of America motorcade, en route to the annual convention in Dallas, will arrive in Eastland Monday afternoon about 2:30 for a 10-minute stop on the north side of the square.

Mayor D. L. Kinnaird will deliver the address of welcome.

L. C. KEEL NOT INDICTED IN RANGER CASE

The 88th district court grand jury late Friday afternoon adjourned for the term after returning 28 true bills, all felipneys, to Judge B. W. Patterson.

The grand jury failed to return indictments against either L. C. Keel, Jim Vinson, Jim Fox or Otis Dabbs, charged in complaints in connection with the robbery of the Ranger National Guard armory on the night of March 19, last. In fact no indictments were returned against anyone in connection with the Ranger armory robbery.

Raymond Hamilton, notorious Texas bank robber, who is now in the Dallas county jail, is credited in news dispatches with having made the statement that he robbed the Ranger armory. A portion of the loot from the Ranger armory is also said to have been located in Dallas and one man, said to have had the loot, is alleged to have pleaded guilty to a federal charge of possessing stolen government property.

Among the indictments returned by the grand jury was one against Seaman Garrison for assault with intent to murder. This was in connection with the case in which Milton Day was struck over the head with a billiard cue. Day, who was taken to a Fort Worth hospital for treatment of his eye returned to Eastland Wednesday, and is able to be up and about.

Strike War Is Feared Along Texas Coast

HOUSTON, May 5.—A strike war was feared here today after a picket of the International Longshoremen's association was beaten by special guards after 15 armed agents were stationed at the entrance to the Southern Pacific lines dock on the ship channel.

The armed men arrived at the entrance before noon, holding their rifles in readiness, and ordered a crowd of pickets to move across the highway from the docks.

One man did not move. Three or four special agents began beating him, witnesses said. A deputy sheriff halted the fight and the man was taken away in an automobile to the International Longshoremen's headquarters.

Florida Planning A Celebration of Her New Prosperity

MIAMI, Fla.—With building permits, tax collections, post office receipts and other barometers of business soaring, Florida, in the wake of its greatest tourist season, finds itself so prosperous it's going to celebrate.

Plans now under way call for the state to officially mark its rising economic fortunes with an All-Florida Pioneers' Day on May 5 to pay tribute to the leaders, both present and past, who have contributed to the new prosperity.

According to Al I. Layshon, executive secretary of a committee of Florida publishers and business men sponsoring the celebration, parades and pageants will feature a state-wide festival, but the actual purpose of the event will be to revive tangible evidences of Florida's progress.

Figures already compiled show a tremendous upswing in business in the state. In Miami, focal point of the tourist business, building permits totaled $1,734,226 in the first three months of 1934 compared to $415,388 for the same period in 1933. Postal receipts for the same period advanced from $269,043 last year to $332,064 this year. Postal deposits soared to $6,029,680, the first over-six-million month in Miami's history. There were 5,767 property transfers recorded for the first quarter of 1934 compared to 3,579 last year, and March, 1934, showed more activity in the recording clerk's office than any month since May, 1931.

By the end of March, 1934, $1,121,000 or 49.6 per cent of the total city tax levy had been collected, putting collections 60 days ahead of 1933, when $1,066,908, or 49.2 per cent of the total levy had been collected by June 1.

State and county collections ran strong also, a $433,204 increase over the same period last year being reported by the county tax collector on April 1.

Honor Guest

C. C. Patterson, former secretary of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, now of Fort Worth, who will be an honor guest at the first annual dinner dance of the Oil Belt Reserve Officers association at the Gholson hotel Friday night, May 11.

MEETING WILL BE CONTINUED NEXT MONDAY

The meeting of Mr. Roosevelt and senators took place in the president's private car as a special train bore high officials to New York to mourn at the bier of William Woodin, former secretary of the treasury.

The congressional group left the train here after a 45-minute discussion with the president.

Conferees admitted no definite arrangement had been reached, but that they had accepted the president's invitation to meet at the white house Monday for further discussion.

Mr. Roosevelt promised the silver leaders he would make a close study of the proposals over the week-end.

Eastland Plays Dublin Today On The Dublin Field

A double header between Eastland and Dublin will be the baseball card for fans who are in Dublin today.

Dublin was defeated last Sunday by Moran by a small margin and at the present has a percentage of .666. Eastland has been victorious the entire season and fans from Eastland contend that the game is virtually in the bag.

May 13, Dublin returns the visit the Eastland club will make today. At the same date, business and professional men of Eastland are matched in a soft ball game as a preliminary feature.

L. E. Spalding, manager of the Frogs, has requested that fans who will journey to Dublin, and who have surplus seating accommodations to contact him as the team is in need of further transportation facilities.

Couples Set New Record for Peace

ST. LOUIS.—Two sisters and their husbands living here claim to hold the "world record" for friendly relations as neighbors.

The story began 31 years ago when two room-mates married sisters. One sister became Mrs. George Bullerick and the other Mrs. Louis Kroemer, in a double wedding ceremony.

The couples started housekeeping in adjoining flats and since then, with the exception of two brief periods, they have lived as neighbors.

At one time, when the families lived in the same flat—one upstairs and the other down—the mother went to live with one daughter on the first floor, and the father lived with the other upstairs.

Their romances began about the same time and the sisters announced their engagements jointly.

Although one is several years older, the two, as girls, dressed as twins. They attend the same church, the same social organizations and during the daytime, the women are constant companions.

And, the women say, "we've never quarreled."

Cavalcade Winner of Kentucky Derby

CHURCHILL DOWNS, Ky., May 5.—Cavalcade won the annual Kentucky derby here this afternoon, the time for the winner being two minutes, four seconds.

Discovery ran second with Agrarian third and Mata Hari fourth.

Hope Expressed For Administration Backing For Silver Measure

BALTIMORE, Md., May 5.—Silver bloc leaders ended an unusual train conference with President Roosevelt today, still hopeful that their fight for silver legislation at this session of congress would win administration approval.

The meeting of Mr. Roosevelt and senators took place in the president's private car as a special train bore high officials to New York to mourn at the bier of William Woodin, former secretary of the treasury.

The congressional group left the train here after a 45-minute discussion with the president.

One Man Escapes When Officers Find Still Near School

Though no doubt surprised, one man in attendance at a still, one quarter of a mile west of Curtis school house, escaped arrest after fleeing from the scene, when members of the sheriff's department came unannounced upon a liquor manufacturing plant, Friday afternoon.

The officers seized 20 gallons of whiskey, 1000 gallons of cut mash and still equipment which included a tank with an estimated capacity of 200 gallons.

Officers had some time previous to this captured a still at the same location.

Thorough Cleaning Of the Republican Party Is Suggested

WASHINGTON, May 5.—A thorough cleaning of the republican party is all that can save it from extinction, Senator William Borah, Idaho's independent republican, said today in discussing the political situation.

Although without any special candidate to succeed Everett Sanders as chairman of the republican national committee, Borah expressed vigorous views to the course he believed the party should pursue.

He demanded a complete separation from recent leaders. He did not mention names, but it was apparent he was talking of the republican party leadership during the Hoover administration.

MIAMI, Fla., May 5.—The navy dirigible Macon left its mooring at Opa-locka base today to join the fleet for maneuvers in the vicinity of Guantanamo.

Aged General Recalls Hardships Of Building Of Telegraph Lines Across Texas Back in Early Days

WASHINGTON—The future of the nation held little place in the thoughts of the men who pushed their way through the Texas wilds 70 years ago to establish communications with frontier settlers.

"We had time only to follow instructions," Major General Adolphus Washington Greely, who built hundreds of miles of telegraph lines through the Texas frontier in 1875, said today.

Greely is 90, and although he spent less than three years of his life in Texas, he recalls vividly conditions and hardships that existed.

"Names and minute details," he said, however, "have been forgotten with the years, and I never kept a diary."

Greely doesn't think much of the new deal and predicted it would fail. He said, also, that the states are bound to break apart within a hundred years time. How, and what will happen when they do, he can't predict. But they will break apart, he contended.

Greely first went to Texas in 1866, with a detachment of soldiers, in charge of a shipment of livestock for the army gathered in the valley of the lower Rio Grande.

"On my return," he said, "I spent a day at Galveston, my first visit to that important city. Here I had one of the surprises of my life when, asking for a glass of fresh milk, I was told that they had only condensed milk from New York—this was the principal hotel of the greatest city of Texas, a state that was the largest cattle producing region in the world. Later, I was told that all their butter and eggs came from St. Louis."

Greely explained that this incident was typical of food conditions in the state at that time.

In 1875, frequent incursions of Mexican bandits in the valley of the lower Rio Grande, and occasional raids of hostile Indians on the western plains of Texas, caused Congress to appropriate funds for the construction of such telegraph lines as would enable the army to protect frontier settlers more efficiently, Greely said.

"When months had passed without satisfactory results I was summoned to take over the job and expected to push it to speedy completion," he added.

"On arrival I was warned by my predecessor that it was an endless job; there was no timber for poles; the frontiersmen were intractable; the climate frightfully hot. I scoured the country for timber, and sought advice from the old freighters.

"I built the lines in northern Texas and Indian territory (now Oklahoma) on swamp-oak poles, poor but the only available local material. The central wire from San Antonio was put on pine and other scrub timber, gather with difficulty from the scattered woods of outlying hills. The stretch from Fort Concho to Fort Bliss (El Paso) across the barren 'staked plains', shrubless and waterless, seemed impossible, but it was built on pine timber involving long hauls from the neighborhood of Fort Davis—a post famous as having in its precincts only a single tree, though there was a forest within 50 miles.

"Finally an inspiration came to me. Familiar with the resources of the Dismal Swamp of southeastern Virginia, I decided to obtain therefrom juniper poles. The poles were delivered at Point Isabel, near Brownsville. So, for 200 miles along the Rio Grande, we built a telegraph line on poles which had grown a thousand miles distant.

"Conditions of transportation," Greely continued, "both for persons and freight were radically deficient, and lacking to a degree that would seem incomprehensible in Texas today."

Greely said his most amazing

memory of Texas rested around the story of "Sheridan, Hell and Texas."

Here's the story as Greely said Sheridan told it:

"When I went to Texas to find out how matters were going, I took along a large staff. I feared trouble here and was anxious to get back soon, and from various points sent state officers to investigate conditions I could not spare time to look into. I left Texas with only one staff officer, which caused talk at places I did not visit. Some paper fellow thought it clever to invent a reason, and so said that my last words on leaving were: If I owned Hell and Texas, I would live in Hell and rent out Texas."

"But, added Sheridan, did you hear the clever comment of a rebel editor? Quoting the original story he added—'Bully for Sheridan. Damn a man who won't stand up for his own country!'"

Chicago Boss Accused as Kidnaper

Buick To Have New Line Autos At Lower Price

FLINT, Mich., May 5.—Confirming reports of a new line of Buick motor cars in a lower price bracket, Harlow H. Curtice, president and general manager of the Buick Motor company, today discussed Buick's manufacturing program and the company's important step into a new field.

At the same time he announced that details of the new line of Buick cars will be made public May 15. Meanwhile a vigorous production and distribution schedule has been inaugurated by the factory, designed to make the new cars immediately available at all dealers and distributor points.

"It is Buick's manufacturing policy," Mr. Curtice said, "to draw upon the whole of Buick's long experience in automobile engineering and design and to co-ordinate every phase of Buick's vast manufacturing facilities for the single purpose of building the best automobile it is possible to build.

"This has been done in the 1934 line of cars and it has been done in creating the new lower priced Buick which we are about to announce.

"Buick heretofore has always been in the price field of from $995 up. In the 'old days,' when everyone was making more money and spending it freely, the demand for Buick automobiles resulted in factory production of a quarter of a million cars a year. For quite some time now, due to changed conditions, Buick has been in a price area considerably above anything warranting this volume.

Vivisection Has Embroidered Town

By United Press
MEDINA, O.—A vivisection argument is embroidering this Ohio town.

Beginning with the censuring of Medina County commissioners by the American society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and the Anti-Vivisection Society, Inc., for sale of dogs to Western Reserve University Medical School in Cleveland, the issue has spread to include the writing of a supposed "Crank" letter to one of the commissioners.

The letter was written to R. A. Auble, commissioners' chairman, and warned him to "either quit selling dogs for vivisection, or go out some place and jump off, before the gang gets you."

Almost the same mail brought Auble a letter from Carl J. Wigen, chairman of the medical school's committee on animal experimentation, commending commissioners for a firm stand on the matter. It branded complaints of the humane societies as "figments of imagination."

Auble's warning letter was written either by a poorly educated person, he thought, or one able to disguise the letter with poor spelling and handwriting.

Budget Loans Save Farmers Interest

HOUSTON.—Farmers and livestock men in Texas who are borrowing from production credit associations are saving money on their production costs this season by obtaining their loans on a budget basis, according to figures released here by the production credit division of the farm credit administration.

The figures show that production credit associations in Texas, although only recently organized, closed about 2,640 loans amounting to approximately $446,000 during the month of March. Only 270,000 of this amount was paid out immediately to farmer-borrowers. The remaining $170,000 of this amount was reserved for the budget accounts of individual borrowers who will be paid the proceeds of their loans as they need it for production purposes during the season. Farmers who have arranged to obtain this $170,000 in future advances will not be charged interest on this money until they start using it. Interest on loans made by the production credit associations are payable when the loan is due. Loans now being made by the associations bear 5 1/2 per cent interest.

The farmer-borrower may apply for a loan to finance his production costs for the entire season and receive an approval for full amount, but as a result of anticipating the approximate amount of his necessary expenses, he is able to arrange for a series of payments to be made by the production credit association to him during the length of time he has the money. Borrowers' needs are budget basis rather than the usual all the money at once. At the season's end, away with reduce a farmer's interest expense from one-third to one-fifth respect. Aged General Recalls Hardships Of Building Of Telegraph Lines Across Texas Back in Early Days

By United Press
 WASHINGTON—The future of the nation held little place in the thoughts of the men who pushed their way through the Texas wilds 70 years ago to establish communications with frontier settlers.

"We had time only to follow instructions," Major General Adolphus Washington Greely, who built hundreds of miles of telegraph lines through the Texas frontier in 1875, said today.

Greely is 90, and although he spent less than three years of his life in Texas, he recalls vividly conditions and hardships that existed.

"Names and minute details," he said, however, "have been forgotten with the years, and I never kept a diary."

Greely doesn't think much of the new deal and predicted it would fail. He said, also, that the states are bound to break apart within a hundred years time. How, and what will happen when they do, he can't predict. But they will break apart, he contended.

Greely first went to Texas in 1866, with a detachment of soldiers, in charge of a shipment of livestock for the army gathered in the valley of the lower Rio Grande.

"On my return," he said, "I spent a day at Galveston, my first visit to that important city. Here I had one of the surprises of my life when, asking for a glass of fresh milk, I was told that they had only condensed milk from New York—this was the principal hotel of the greatest city of Texas, a state that was the largest cattle producing region in the world. Later, I was told that all their butter and eggs came from St. Louis."

Greely explained that this incident was typical of food conditions in the state at that time.

In 1875, frequent incursions of Mexican bandits in the valley of the lower Rio Grande, and occasional raids of hostile Indians on the western plains of Texas, caused Congress to appropriate funds for the construction of such telegraph lines as would enable the army to protect frontier settlers more efficiently, Greely said.

"When months had passed without satisfactory results I was summoned to take over the job and expected to push it to speedy completion," he added.

"On arrival I was warned by my predecessor that it was an endless job; there was no timber for poles; the frontiersmen were intractable; the climate frightfully hot. I scoured the country for timber, and sought advice from the old freighters.

"I built the lines in northern Texas and Indian territory (now Oklahoma) on swamp-oak poles, poor but the only available local material. The central wire from San Antonio was put on pine and other scrub timber, gathered with difficulty from the scattered woods of outlying hills. The stretch from Fort Concho to Fort Bliss (El Paso) across the barren 'staked plains', shrubless and waterless, seemed impossible, but it was built on pine timber involving long hauls from the neighborhood of Fort Davis—a post famous as having in its precincts only a single tree, though there was a forest within 50 miles.

"Finally an inspiration came to me. Familiar with the resources of the Dismal Swamp of southeastern Virginia, I decided to obtain therefrom juniper poles. The poles were delivered at Point Isabel, near Brownsville. So, for 200 miles along the Rio Grande, we built a telegraph line on poles which had grown a thousand miles distant.

"Conditions of transportation," Greely continued, "both for persons and freight were radically deficient, and lacking to a degree that would seem incomprehensible in Texas today."

Greely said his most amazing

memory of Texas rested around the story of "Sheridan, Hell and Texas."

Here's the story as Greely said Sheridan told it:

"When I went to Texas to find out how matters were going, I took along a large staff. I feared trouble here and was anxious to get back soon, and from various points sent state officers to investigate conditions I could not spare time to look into. I left Texas with only one staff officer, which caused talk at places I did not visit. Some paper fellow thought it clever to invent a reason, and so said that my last words on leaving were: If I owned Hell and Texas, I would live in Hell and rent out Texas."

"But, added Sheridan, did you hear the clever comment of a rebel editor? Quoting the original story he added: 'Bully for Sheridan. Damn a man who went stand up for his own country.'"

Buick To Have New Line Autos At Lower Price

FLINT, Mich., May 5.—Conforming reports of a new line of Buick motor cars in a lower price bracket, Harlow H. Curtice, president and general manager of the Buick Motor company, today discussed Buick's manufacturing program and the company's important step into a new field.

At the same time he announced that details of the new line of Buick cars will be made public May 15. Meanwhile a vigorous production and distribution schedule has been inaugurated by the factory, designed to make the new cars immediately available at all dealers and distributor points.

BEER AND CIGARETS AS REVENUE PRODUCERS

State Treasurer Charles Lockhart is swinging around the political circle. He tarried a while in Texarkana while the East Texas Chamber of Commerce convention was on. He was interviewed by a reporter of the Texarkana Press. Well, the custodian of the state cash said at the present rate the sale of state beer stamps will realize $1,000,000 in Texas this year; that cigaret stamps would sell for an aggregate $4,500,000; that he was responsible for the saving of $50,000 that formerly went to Eastern banks (in commissions and interest); that this was effected by the state treasurer officiating as paying agent and ex officio county treasurer of the board of county and district road indebtedness.

Racing appears to be a popular sport away down here in Texas. There is a heavy rakeoff of the betting money which swells the revenues of the state. There are patriots who say that the revenue from the racetracks alone will go beyond the $500,000 mark at the close of the season. There appears to be a new Texas far different than the Texas of old.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

The sudden switch from the old customs established by our forefathers to the thundering of new ways came as a great surprise to most of us. In fact, it was such a surprise that quite a few people do not as yet know what it is all about and why. Of course, some men think that we are smarter than our forefathers, but that is a debatable question.

For the past few weeks we have been watching a decided tendency on the part of many to swing back to the old customs. Powerful politicians are advocating a return to a one time system of cutting down taxes and the reduction of the public debt.

Most people realize that the first call on the regular income of the government is to pay its ordinary running expenses, interest on the public debt and liberal payments and care for its disabled war veterans; then extra taxes must be raised to take care of the needs of those who, on account of the depression, are in need.

We have all been excited. New deals came along so fast that the average citizen was up in the air most of the time. We believe that the slow but sure return to better time has started. The American people are stopping to think.

Sugar Company Made Good Profit

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—A net profit of $1,140,238 was earned by the Utah-Idaho Sugar company, during the fiscal year ending Feb. 28, 1934. Willard T. Cannon, vice president and general manager told a stockholders' meeting. The firm, one of the largest sugar companies in the United States, is presided over by Heber J. Grant, president and "trustee-in-trust" of the Latter Day Saints (Mormon) Church. It dominates in Utah and Idaho and has strong prestige in Montana, Colorado and Wyoming.

Purchase of 6,104,000 tons of sugar beets last season was reported by Cannon, on which an average price of $4.37 per ton was paid upon delivery and more in ratio with market price for manufactured sugar as it was sold by the company.

Cannon said 2,844,000 hundred pound bags of manufactured sugar were sold in 10 states, an increase of 41 per cent. Net return was also 23 cents a bag more than last year, which was the company's lowest season.

Water shortage in the intermountain west was expected to hold the crop below average. Contracts for this season, however, will be unchanged. Farmers will be paid more for their product because of the market-rate clause. Cannon estimated the coming crop will be but 80 per cent of last year's.

BARNESVILLE, Ohio.—To settle an argument over the number of feathers on the average chicken, Vern Thornburg, dairy employe, killed and plucked a Plymouth Rock chicken. He reported 8,325 feathers. No one disputed the figure.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, today. The golden text is: "Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right?" (Genesis 18:25).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night" (Revelation 12:10).

Judge Clifford J. Chip in finding John Schultz, 38, guilty of intoxication.

"I was like this, judge," Schultz explained. "I got spring fever and when I get that way I feel blue so I thought a couple of drinks would do me some good."

"Well, did it?" queried the court.

"No, I feel worse now," Schultz answered flumy.

"Well, that's settled then," the court opined. "Alcohol does not cure spring fever."

Amusement Parks Expect Good Season

CANTON, O.—Eastern Ohio amusement parks, after five years of struggle, now anticipate their first normal season since 1929.

Operators of major eastern Ohio amusement parks are getting ready their resorts for a banner season, with openings scheduled from May 1 until Memorial Day.

At least four long established amusement parks, after five years beset with bankruptcy troubles, which operated on a part time basis in recent years, or were inactive, have emerged from legal vicissitudes and are planning a comeback this year.

Operators believe that the current industrial upswing will bolster their gate receipts.

DONNA of the BIG TOP by BEULAH POYNTER

BEGIN HERE TODAY DONNA GABRIEL and MADIELINE SIDDAL who call themselves "The Gabriel Sisters" are famous performers with Hiram's circus. CON DAVID, the animal trainer, is in love with Donna who regards him merely as a friend. Madeline, in love with Con, has been flirting with BILL TRAFFORD, horse care-taker. When Madeline's grandfather, AUNT SIDDAL, asks her to spend the weekend on his farm she persuades Donna to take her place. Donna is much attracted by BILL SIDDAL, Madeline's cousin.

Two weeks later Donna falls from the trapeze and is taken to a hospital, badly injured. Madeline sends word to Bill that "Madeline" is ill. She leaves a note telling Donna to continue the impersonation until she is well. Then Madeline goes on with the circus.

Bill arrives and tells Donna that an woman as she is strong enough he is going to take her to the farm.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER IX "I WOULDN'T surprise me if we never see him again," Miss Planter said, emphasizing her words by plunking a dish of string beans boiled with bacon on the table before her son. Nub Planter, a tall rawboned, angular man of 40, had taken Bill's place after the young man's hasty departure. Nub was thoroughly enjoying the three square meals a day that went with the circus.

Each day while Donna waited for the doctor, she rehearsed in her mind just what she would say. She made an effort to remember everything Madeline had said about her struggle to secure her first engagement; the embarrassment when she had first appeared on the stage; the long, arduous hours of practice as a chorus girl, and the ground of agents' offices, far over and over, "Nub today."

She described easily enough the affair and had led up to the first act. Described the circus was easy. It was at great length on the code of circus performance that she explained why it is that people aren't so they are sensible having affairs and make accidents they could never make if they had a clean life, so she explained to the families with the circus.

Nub grinned slyly. "With that young upstart outa the way," he said, "you'd about do as you please with the old geezer, huh?"

"Letter for you, Grandpop. Seems like you're gettin' a right smart lot of these days. How's your daughter that's with the circus?"

"Just fine." "From the car, sprint." "The old man." "I'll tell you, Nub."

"I think he's handsome, too." "Yes, Bill's good-looking," Donna admitted, "but he's more than that. He is good."

"My dear Donna—Bill and I are leaving for the farm tomorrow. I have to go on a stretcher and I understand they will have to shove it through the car window to get me inside. It will be good to get out of the hospital. They have been very kind to me here and my bones have healed quickly, but being in bed so long is pretty hard for anyone as active as I have all ways been."

Bill was not Donna's only caller. Some of the town's best drawn portraits through curiosity and more through kindness, came to help pass the tedious hours.

Lured into security, Donna almost forgot her own identity. When she was with Bill she felt she was Madeline. Only once did she come close to giving away her secret. She had begun to tell him of her father's death and the narrowness of this escape made her watch her tongue more carefully than ever.

She wondered what Madeline's father and mother had been like. Madeline had said once that she resembled her mother but she had never shown Donna a photograph. An enlarged portrait of Rosa Sidal hung in the farm house dining room but it was a cruel and atrocious and Donna discolored it as a likeness. Madeline's father had died of pneumonia and she with had lingered for years afterward, making her home with her father-in-law. That was all Donna knew.

Two short, cheerful notes had come from Madeline but they contained almost no news. There was nothing about Madeline's state of mind, the real cause of the accident, or any reference to the deception she had forced on her partner. The notes did speak of Con David. He had a new cat—a huge, untrained tiger that was a beauty. Con was taking Madeline to dinner almost every night now. Had Bill arrived yet? "Do have Bill or someone write to me," Madeline wrote. "I'm frantic for news."

The day Bill announced to Donna that they would depart for the farm on the morrow she summoned courage to ask him to write a letter for her.

Her voice was low and strained as she dictated: "My dear Donna—Bill and I are leaving for the farm tomorrow. I have to go on a stretcher and I understand they will have to shove it through the car window to get me inside. It will be good to get out of the hospital. They have been very kind to me here and my bones have healed quickly, but being in bed so long is pretty hard for anyone as active as I have all ways been."

Texas Too Large For One Capitol; Now Has Several

AUSTIN, Tex.—Texas has become too big to be governed from Austin. Not that the state has actually grown in size but state activities have so multiplied that various sub-capitals have been set up.

The State Highway Department has established 25 division headquarters. A division engineer is in charge of each.

The State Department of Education has set up 22 divisions and has a deputy state school superintendent in charge of each.

The State Railroad Commission has opened a branch office at Kilgore for the East Texas oil fields. It also has supervisors stationed in more than a dozen oil fields.

State Rangers have independent companies operating from Fort Worth, Palfurrias and Fort Stockton, besides the headquarters company at Austin.

Texas size also has led to establishment of duplicating colleges. Identical courses in many subjects can be had at the University of Texas, Austin; A. & M. College near Bryan; Texas Technological college, Lubbock; Col-

British Now Fear Japanese Rivalry For Wool Trade

LONDON.—Fears that the fate of the cotton industry also may overtake the British woolen industry when Japanese competition reaches its peak have disturbed investors and led to a weakening of the prices of leading woolen shares.

The financial press has avoided comment, but steady selling of these highly regarded securities has disturbed the London Stock Exchange.

Within a fortnight of the breakdown of the Japanese-Lancashire cotton negotiations, the shares of the highly successful company, Patons and Baldwins, had fallen from 74 shillings sixpence to 68 shillings, those of Woolcombers from 119 shillings to 114 shillings, and others similarly.

The financial editor of J. M. Keynes' weekly organ, "The New Statesman and Nation," breaks the general silence to protest against the effect of the "Japanese bogeyman" upon investors in an industry now enjoying definite prosperity.

"This is an unreasonable alarm" he declared, "for the woolen trade is not so stupid, or so lacking in the power of cohesion as the cotton trade. Moreover Japan is not yet a serious competitor in the woolen textile export trade."

But the financial editor admitted that in the cheaper lines Japanese competition might be effective in a much shorter time and concluded by suggesting that investors who feel uneasy should stick to the protected woolcombing sections of the trade.

Signal Device Is An Aid to Fliers

WASHINGTON.—A device for visually interpreting signals of aeronautical radio range beacons has been developed by W. E. Jackson and L. M. Harding, radio engineers of the Commerce Department's Aeronautics branch, according to Rex Martin, Assistant Director of Aeronautics.

Signals, Martin explained, are received through headphones by airmen who rely upon them for guidance during periods of poor visibility.

The device features an indicator which, fitted in the instrument panel, is similar to the contrivance used for blind landings. It is open-faced and has two needles—one vertical and one horizontal.

The vertical needle, Martin explained, is chief indicator and when a plane leaves the course defined by a radio beacon, this needle will move accordingly. However, he added, if the plane is exactly on course, the vertical pointer will remain in center of the dial.

The horizontal indicator, the official revealed, shows the volume of received signals, which the pilot may adjust as he sees fit.

Two Main Events to Be Staged Monday On Elks Fight Card

Benny Wilson, 148-pound wrestler who has appeared in the local ring on several occasions, and Jimmie Murphy, 140-pounder, will meet in one of the main events at the Elks arena Monday night, with "Shorty" Kodrick and Joe Fisher, two outstanding grapplers, meeting in the other main event.

Bill Dunowho of Ranger will be matched in a six-round boxing bout with Marvin Whitley. The two boys weigh in around 140 pounds each and a good match is promised when they enter the ring.

Ringside seats will sell for 35 cents and 25 cents with general admission at 15 cents. Ladies will be admitted free with each paid admission.

Kodrick is working out for his bout Monday night and will appear in a training bout at the arena Monday morning at 10 o'clock, to which the public is cordially invited. No admission charge is to be made.

Indianapolis Youth Rules at Ping-Pong

By United Press

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Jimmy McClure, 17-year-old Indianapolis youth, has become the national ping pong champion his first year at the sport.

Last year McClure had no place in the rankings of the National Ping Pong Association. Today he heads the list.

He won the national title by defeating Bill Condy, Chicago, in the finals at Cleveland a few weeks ago. Condy had just disposed of Jimmy Jacobson, New York, defending champion, in straight sets in the semi-finals.

In winning his way to the final, McClure had to dispose of Sam Silberman, New York, noted for steady return shots. Jimmy earlier had won the Southern Open, Michigan, State Open, Ohio State Open and three Indiana tournaments to gain the No. 1 ranking.

Jimmy has lost only one singles match since he became Indiana champion last Winter. The one loss was to Jacobson in an intracity team tournament at Chicago. The next time the two met, McClure won in straight sets.

In addition to being national and western open champion, the 17-year-old Indianapolis ace also holds a runner-up medal for the national mixed doubles championship. He and Flossy Basler, Chicago, lost to Sam Silberman and Ruth Aarons, New York, national woman champion, in the final.

By winning the national men's title he gained possession of the Parker trophy for a year. No player has won the trophy twice.

Jimmy is the first national champion to use a sandpapered paddle. All previous winners of the title have used rubber-faced paddles.

Jimmy, a slight, dark-haired youth, attributed his success in the national tournament to his paddle and a copper DeMolay pocket piece. When not playing ping-pong he is a messenger at a large department store.

Use of Electric Refrigeration Has Grown In Volume

Because its use has been gradually widened since its introduction, the electric refrigerator more than most articles of home equipment reflects the expansion of users, according to Floyd Killingsworth of Killingsworth-Cox & Co., local Kelvinator sales representatives.

"The first electric refrigerator was little more than an automatic ice box, where the slummy evaporating coil supplanted the melting cake of ice to provide refrigeration. Later, as it was found that ice was desirable for drinks, the evaporators were designed to permit the freezing of a limited number of cubes.

"This change was the first of a series of improvements which have continued until the modern electric refrigerator provides every conceivable type of refrigeration function. Not only does it offer a safe storage place for perishable foods and a supply of ice cubes; it also offers fast freezing of desserts, sub freezing storage for frozen foods and extra ice supply and other services.

"Progress in the mechanical design of the electric refrigerator has been equally as noticeable." Mr. Killingsworth pointed out. "Where the early machines ran noisily and often to keep refrigeration temperatures, the new Kelvinators are silent, efficient, and extremely economical to operate. The necessity for manual regulation of the refrigerator's operation has almost entirely been done away with and the newest products are automatic in virtually every respect. The new Kelvinators, with automatic return from fast freezing, automatic return from defrosting, vacation settings and other mechanical aids to trouble-free operation really are marvelous examples of engineering achievement."

Mr. Killingsworth said that the large crowds visiting the company showroom recently have been extremely interested in the famous Kelvinator "four refrigerators in one" feature and the new "food filling" arrangement perfected for the 1934 models.

STARGAS WINS FROM TEE PEE BY 17 TO 7

By F. B. KIRKES

The largest crowd of the current season turned out and witnessed the fast stepping Stargas team hand Tee & Pee their second defeat of the season.

The game was a thriller throughout, but both teams playing both good and bad ball. Eight innings were required to decide the contest, the score being deadlocked at six-all at the end of the seventh stanza.

The Stargas went on a rampage in the eighth, turning the game into a track meet and combining eight solid base knocks and five Tee Pee errors, scored 11 runs. Tee Pee also made an effort to rally in the eighth but the attempt was nicked in the bud after they had scored one run. Errors kept the pitchers in a hole almost every inning.

Both Smith and Long who divided the mound duties for the Stargas boys were in mid-season form, allowing only three hits over the eight inning route. Roberson pitching for Tee Pee pitched a good game until the eighth and had he had good support the score undoubtedly would have been different.

Terry, big third baseman for Stargas led their attack, getting two singles and a double in five trips to the plate. Denimore, Brown, Burrage, and A. Williams gathered two each. Every man on the Stargas line-up got at least one hit and all except F. R. King and Smith tallied a score. Brown's triple to deep center was the longest hit of the game.

Tee Pee's three hits were divided by Edwards, Hale and Turner. Edwards and Turner stretching their into doubles.

The infield fly rule was displayed in the eighth inning when Burns popped to the infield and was automatically out. First and second base were occupied.

Old Navajo Culture Revealed By Science

By United Press

WASHINGTON—Primitive pottery and remains of ancient vegetation are among finds by archaeologists at work on Koot Seel, a prehistoric ruin in the Navajo National Monument, Ariz., the Department of the Interior revealed.

The information was reported to the National Park Service of the department by John Wetherill, known to his Navajo Indian friends as "Hosteen John," custodian of the monument and a pioneer.

In a trash pile below Koot Seel was uncovered the body of a child. Buried with it were two pieces of pottery of great interest to archaeologists due the fact they are reported to be of a much earlier type than the culture of the rain itself.

A stump of tree, uncovered in a nearby creek 35 feet below the ground level, is believed to be a part of a tree which grew to maturity at the site the elephant was said to roam this country.

Dams Will Give Work to 100,000

By United Press

SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—Employment for more than 100,000 men would be provided in development of four dams in the White River Valley of the Missouri and the Arkansas Ozarks, under a bill introduced in Congress by Rep. John F. Miller, Arkansas, sponsor of the plan here.

The vast development would dwarf work done in the Tennessee River Valley, according to Miller's backers. The bill provides for flood control, reforestation, navigation, conservation of marginal lands, and industrial, agricultural and hydroelectric development.

Work could be started this month on the Table Rock Dam south of here in Taney County. The proposed dam would be 168 feet high and capable of generating 50,000 horsepower. It would cost about $20,000,000. The other three dams in the Arkansas Ozarks could be constructed for $43,000,000 it was estimated. The largest of the three is the Wildcat Shoals project in Baxter and Marion counties. It would be 225 feet high and could develop 62,000 horsepower. The other two projected dams are on the Norfolk River, four miles above its outlet, and on the Buffalo River, two miles above the mouth of Rush Creek.

Girls Use Amulets At Examinations

By United Press

NEW ORLEANS.—Although their courses in philosophy and psychology teach that superstitions belong to the ages of intellectual darkness, Newcomb College co-eds arm themselves with four-leaf clovers, lucky beans and other pet amulets for scholastic examinations and conquests of desirable male companions.

The attractive feminine students, however, maintain that "we are not superstitious, just careful."

Ancient Voodooos
To ancient luck charms and voodooos, the co-eds have added some new superstitions suited to their college needs. A dress worn to an examination, that the professor approved with a good grade, becomes a standby for future quizzes. While, if the student flunked, the particular frock worn then is relegated to the closet during examination periods.

Four-leaf clovers are the rage in luck charms this spring. Next in popularity, are lucky pieces of jewelry that have particular significance for the wearer. These include bracelets, rings, pins, ivory elephants and gidgets suspended from chains.

Rabbit Feet
Friday, 13th, is the outstanding taboo for examinations. A few rabbit feet are found in the dormitories. The otolith, or ear stone of the fish, is the most highly prized of the lucky stone and bean class of talismans, most of which are found on the Gulf Coast.

Goose Creek Asks Lower Utility Rates

By United Press

GOOSE CREEK, Texas.—Reduction of gas and light rates has been asked by the city council. The Houston Lighting & Power company and the Gulf Cities Natural Gas company will be instructed to lower their rates or submit to rates set by the council. The council proposed the gas rate be cut from 75 cents per 1,000 cubic feet to 40 cents, elimination of the 50-cent service charge and reduction of the $10 meter deposit to $5.

A light company contract signed in March has been rejected by the council.

Monument Erected To Sarah Bernhardt

By United Press

GENEVA, N. Y.—Its existence virtually unknown to the outside world, an old memorial to Sarah Bernhardt, French tragedian, erected by a devoted Geneva admirer, stands in a little frequent spot south of the city, near Plattburgh. It is believed to be the only monument ever erected in this country to her memory.

The monument, composed of concrete blocks of stone and a cement base, stands 14 feet high. It was built by Charles B. Bean, Geneva lawyer and descendant of Colonial settlers, who followed her career in this country and in foreign capitals.

A plaque, of Vermont marble, bears the following inscription: "To Madam Sarah Bernhardt, the greatest actress in the world, whose lyric fire and divine voice gave more intense and supreme life to the poets, in profound admiration is built this rugged memorial, by the Knights of Cyrus and devoted friends."

Vegetables Keep Best In Garden
The garden is a better place to keep vegetables fresh than the refrigerator. The economy of a garden is seldom considered from this viewpoint but it is an important one. There is no waste from storage. The vegetables are kept at their best quality while growing. They may get over-matured if left too long in the soil but they keep where they grow, and only a quantity sufficient for a meal need be gathered, leaving the rest to remain in tip-top condition for another day and another meal.

A garden saves a lot of room in the ice box and provides better quality vegetables than can possibly be gathered from the refrigerator or from the cold storage plant of the grocery. Home-grown vegetables do not suffer as do market supplies from wilt from being left in the sun and they are not passed through hands of whose cleanliness and sanitary condition there is grave suspicion.

Babe Didrickson Training for Golf At Mineral Wells

By United Press
MINERAL WELLS, Tex.—Miss Aniela Gorczyca and Mrs. Dan Chandler, perennial attractions in Texas golfdom, are going to find a hardy competitor this year, at least in fan-interest, in none other than Babe Didrickson.

Miss Didrickson, the wonder-girl athlete from Beaumont whose sports prowess is as complete as the signs of the Zodiac, has been in golf training here under capable tutelage.

Her goal is the Texas women's tournament to be held in Dallas a few weeks hence and the Southern Association tourney at New Orleans.

Whether the babe can rival the two state stars in golfing ability as well as she is certain to do in gallery-attracting power, is another question. Both Miss Gorczyca of Fort Worth and Mrs. Chandler, of Dallas, are nationally recognized.

The Babe's practice rounds here have shown much ability. Her driving power is sufficient. She has been getting from 200 to 275 yards on her tee shots. When she is in form she hits them 300 yards, her manager, Col. M. J. McCombs, said.

Pretty Afternoon Party

Garden flowers added a spring touch to the pretty setting Thursday afternoon when Mrs. Cecil Louks entertained complimenting members of the Lone Star Auction bridge club and special guests at her home, Cheaney plant.

At playing tables decked in bright covers and matching accessories high score in club was made by Mrs. Carl Hill, and high guest Mrs. J. A. Bates of Breckenridge, and the cut, Mrs. Harry Wheelon.

A dainty and delicious plate of ribbon sandwiches, olives, jelled salad, fruited beverage, with a second course of ice cream and cake was served at the close of the delightful party hour to personnel: Mmes. Harry Wheelon, Carl Hill, Ben Long, Gene Yonker, Fred Townsend of Gordon; Herman Kelly and honorary guests, Mmes. Kirby and Johnson of Cheaney plant, Kirby of Dallas, Johnson of Stratton, J. A. Bates of Breckenridge, J. F. Mayo Jr., of Dallas, R. V. Middleton of Big Spring and A. Robinson of Ranger.

The next hostess will name Mrs. Carl Hill, who will entertain at home, Vitalious street.

Close of Study Club Season Occasion for Smart Entertaining
The close of study club season will be the occasion for smart entertaining according to plans in the making at the present. The month of May will be marked with several affairs bringing special interest among various club personnel.

Closing the year's activities the 1929 and New Era clubs will entertain with beautifully appointed luncheons, scheduled for the latter part of the month.

All Parent-Teacher Associations will hold at least one more session before the final reports and programs culminating a busy and worthwhile year of splendid achievements.

The Women's Missionary Society, Methodist church will entertain in honor of Mother's Day with a tea at the home of Mrs. M. H. Hagaman, Tiffin road, Friday afternoon, 3 o'clock, May 11th.

With summer replacing the winter months, social entertainment will take on a more informal cloak in the form of impromptu amusements, swims, golf, picnics and lawn parties are expected to be much in the limelight and hostesses' modes of deceptions, refreshments and general plans will vary to quite an extent from what they have been for the past several months.

Ranger schools drawing to a close a sudden quietness will reign, with summer vacations close at hand and the usual visitors who will be in Ranger homes throughout the season.

Graduation exercises are also to be given mention in happenings to take place this month.

"Eastern Women of Today and Tomorrow" Continues to Hold Interest of W. M. S.
"Eastern Women of Today and Tomorrow," a study course which has thus far proved to be of unusual interest still holds the intense interest of members of the Women's Missionary Society, Methodist church.

Monday afternoon 3 o'clock Mrs. C. D. Woods will lead the program with continued chapters from the book to be given by Mmes. H. D. Bishop, O. G. Strong, Lillian Wolf and Herbert Stafford. The devotional will be given by Mrs. Robert Stafford. Members are asked to remember the hour and be present.

"Poor Married Man"

Splendid Success
The Young Parent-Teacher Association wishes to express their thanks to everyone in the cast who so ably portrayed their parts in the production "Poor Married Man," presented at the Ranger high school auditorium Friday evening to a large audience.

Appreciation is to be extended to its capable director, Mrs. W. W. Jarvis and little Anna Rogco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rogers, who gave a tap dance, and

Mrs. Norman Hostess For Monday Study

Mrs. Bob Norman will act as hostess to the ladies auxiliary of the Presbyterian church at her home, Travis street, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The hour will be spent in the study of Missions, a continuation of the course opened several weeks ago under the capable leadership of Mrs. L. B. Gray.

President Presides at P.T.A. Business Session

Mrs. Louis Pitcock, president of Cooper Parent-Teacher Association, presided during the business session held at the school recently during which time subjects of general interest and importance were discussed.

Scott Burr Employees Enjoy Picnic

Scott Burr store employees enjoyed an outing and picnic supper Friday evening at Palo Pinto creek. The party group left the store at 6 o'clock and drove to the chosen creek, one well known for its unusual beauty.

Those attending the pleasant hour were: Misses Effie Mae Williams, Ora Mae McGee, Mamie Robinson, Eunice Preslar, Velma Brown, Louise Burrows, Catherine Barker and J. T. Connell, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hatchings and baby daughter Marian Lee.

Personally Speaking

Judge George L. Davenport of Eastland was a Ranger visitor Friday afternoon.

Mrs. S. Hassen and small children returned to their home at Haskell Friday following a week's visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hassen and family, Sue street.

Mrs. Carrie E. Henry, who apparently has been recovering nicely from several days illness is again confined to her home, Strawn highway, where she is reported quite ill.

Mrs. J. S. McDowell and daughter, Cecelia, accompanied by Mrs. Christine Ware, spent Saturday in Fort Worth.

Women's Missionary Society, First Baptist church, including Wide Awake and Friendship Circles, are to meet at the church Monday afternoon, 2:30, for the transaction of business.

Mrs. J. D. McClister accompanied by Mrs. R. C. Fain, left today for visits to Waco, where Mrs. McClister will visit her husband for a week, and Mrs. Fain will be the guest of her sister.

Mrs. J. C. Carothers who underwent a major operation at Scott-White sanitarium, Temple, Monday of last week, is reported much improved. Ranger friends will be more than pleased to know she is doing so nicely.

Mrs. Ralph Arnold and Mrs. Cecil Pounds expect to leave in the near future for McCamey, where they will join their husbands and make their future homes.
