Suspect is Arrested in June Robles Kidnaping

FINANCES OF STATE IN GOOD CONDITION NOW

AUSTIN.—State finances are in much improved shape. It does not take any bulky balance sheet to show it. Warrant discounters are buying state warrants at a greatly improved rate.

Where once the state employe wanting cash had to knock off 3 per cent or more, he now can get cash for his state warrant at a discount of 1 1/2 per cent.

A call for outstanding warrants issued up to February was made by State Treasurer Charley Lockhart almost simultaneously with the April 30 state pay day. The result was a rush of discounters to purchase employe warrants.

The discounting of warrants at 1 1/2 per cent indicates that the purchasers expect to wait only a month and a half to cash in the warrants at the treasury. Warrants are usually cashed on the basis of 1 per cent a month.

During the depression period, when the state general fund has been in the red, the warrant buying business has become large in Austin. At first stores cashed warrants for their customer. Then it became the custom to cash warrants only when a certain percentage of the warrant total was expended in purchases. Lately the cashing has been almost entirely in the hands of private speculators.

Department heads are forbidden by law to discount pay warrants for employes. It is a legitimate business for others.

Two revenue acts of the last legislature already are under fire in the State Court of Criminal Appeals here. Both are licensed fee measures, with criminal penalties for engaging in the business without the specified license and fee.

The Dallas Retail Grocers' association is attacking one of the measures in a test case. It involves the new license fee levied on retail fish dealers in an amendment to the fish and game laws. Only two licenses have been taken out in Dallas since the act became effective on April 13.

The coin vending machine license is the other one under court attack. The statute is alleged to be discriminatory, charging a fee for some types of coin machines and omitting others.

If State's Attorney Lloyd Davidson can convince the court that it is valid, state revenue will gain an estimated $200,000 to $300,000 a year.

Eastland Defeats Dublin 8 to 7 In Seventeen Innings

By CHAS. E. LAFON
The Eastland Horned frogs won a hard-played and hard-fought but well earned ball game from the Dublin Orioles at Dublin 8 to 7 in 17 innings. The game was won and lost and tied in practically every other inning. It was a nerve-racking affair from start to finish.

The Horned Frogs started off with a two-run lead in the first inning but the lead was short lived as a homer by Gatlin in the second and two singles in the third to tie the score at 2-2. Dublin again scored in the sixth but the Horned Frogs came back in their half of the seventh to tie the score at 3 all. Eastland scored in their half of the 12th but Bradberry of Dublin hit a home run with one aboard but Bradberry was touched by a Dublin fan who had become so wrought up over the wallop and the winning run that he ran out to give the runner a welcome home but in so doing he touched the plate putting the runner out automatically. So again the score was tied. The locals again forged ahead in the first of the 16th off of two doubles, and a single making the count to four but in the last half of the 16th Dublin got two men on and Gatlin again hit a home run tying the score. The Horned Frogs' score in the first of the 17th with two singles, a hit batsman and a fly to the outfield, Morris scoring the winning run. There were men on for Dublin in the last half of the 17th with two singles but for the third out, a ground ball which Morris handled easily throwing the runner out at first and retiring the side.

The heavy hitting of the locals was somewhat subdued in yesterday's game but the locals did manage to hit in the pinches sufficient at any rate to push across the winning tally.

INSULL NEARS CHICAGO UNDER A HEAVY GUARD

Aboard Train with Insull, Chicago Bound, May 7.—Samuel Insull, heavily guarded and his route still secret, was on the last stage of his long journey from Turkey to Chicago today in the custody of federal officers.

The former utilities executive said he was ready for the "fight of his life" for vindication.

The government kept up the secrecy surrounding return of Insull by hinting that the party in which he is a prisoner might change trains enroute to Chicago.

In an amazing 24 hours, Insull had been taken without ceremony from the steamship Exilona, lying off Sandy Hook, and rushed by government cutter to Fort Hancock, whence he was transferred by motor to the junction point where the train for Chicago was boarded.

CHICAGO, May 7.—Samuel Insull will be unable to raise the $200,000 bond demanded by the government for his liberty pending trial and may be forced to go to jail, his attorney told the United Press today.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Senator Huey P. Long today was promised supreme court consideration of his fight to avoid facing in the District of Columbia supreme court the $500,000 libel suit brought against him by Samuel Ansell, one-time counsel for the senate committee investigating Louisiana elections.

The court acted in an appeal from the District court of appeals during, which held that Long's congressional immunity did not exempt him from being served in a civil damage suit although he was in Washington attending the congressional session.

Ansell's suit was filed after Long had assailed his character on the senate floor and announced he would waive immunity to face any damage suit Ansell might bring.

Admits Gun Sale To Dillinger

Admitting sale of machine guns to the Dillinger gang, H. S. Lehman, San Antonio, Texas, gunsmith, shown here handcuffed after his arrest is held on a charge of receiving a stolen government pistol. A second handle, for steady firing, had been placed on the gun, shown below, and officers say Lehman planned to change it into a miniature machine gun.

Large audiences were present to hear Evangelist C. C. Gobbel in both the morning and evening services Sunday.

The morning lesson was given especially to the members of the church. Mr. Gobbel read from the 16th chapter of 1st Corinthians the 13th and 14th verses, "Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit ye like men, be strong. Let all your things be done with love."

Large Audiences Hear Rev. Gobbel At Revival Sunday

Romans 1:16 "For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek." This great truth formed the basis of the evening lesson. In a very forceful manner Rev. Gobbel taught the promises, facts and commands of the gospel of Christ, in the light of God's revealed word. The gospel is God's power now as it has been since it was delivered unto man. Without obedience to the commands of the gospel there can be no salvation.

A very cordial invitation is extended to attend both the morning services, 10 to 10:45, and evening services, 8 to 9 o'clock. Congregational song services will feature each service of the meeting.

From Ranger the motorcade proceeded on its way to Strawn, next stop on the way to Dallas.

F. HAMILTON MAY BE FREED OF INDICTMENT

DALLAS, May 7.—A motion to quash an indictment against Floyd Hamilton, brother of the notorious Raymond Hamilton, was made in district court here today as Raymond went on trial.

District Attorney Robert Hurt said the motion was made as an attempt to hasten the trial of Clyde Barrow's former partner.

Floyd was indicted for the robbery of the Grand Prairie bank on May 19, 1932, the offense for which the state now seeks to send Raymond to the electric chair.

The motion to quash was filed, Hurt said, because the attorneys have requested that Floyd be tried first. Rather than risk delay in Raymond's trial, the state decided to free his brother.

Raymond was not shackled or handcuffed as he sat at the defense table, but on all sides of him deputies eyed him from vantage points that would insure an unobstructed bullet path should Hamilton choose to make a break for liberty.

"He especially wants the smaller and medium sized industries given a full chance to survive on equal terms with the larger industries," Jones wrote.

Air Chief Scored For Plane Purchase

WASHINGTON, May 7.—A house investigating committee in a special report today held that action by Major General Benjamin Foulis, chief of the army air corps, in connection with a public works allotment of $7,500,000 for plane purchases were "in clear violation of the existing law."

The report, signed by eight members of a military affairs subcommittee made no specific recommendations.

The committee said assistant secretary of war Harry Woodring was fully justified in efforts to have the planes bought through competitive bidding, but asserted actions by Gen. Foulis prevented fulfillment of Woodring's plan.

SAYS VICTIM IS HIDDEN IN MEXICAN HUT

Arrested Man Admits He and Mexican Abducted the Child.

NOGALES, Ariz., May 7.—Department of justice operatives reported today they had arrested the man believed to have kidnaped Juan Robles and that he had told them where the six-year-old daughter of Fernando Robles, wealthy rancher, could be found.

Officers said the suspect was being held incommunicado "somewhere in Santa Cruz county, Arizona." They said he was an American. He was reported to have admitted his alleged connection with the kidnaping and to have named an accomplice.

The man was arrested, department of justice operatives said, on a clue furnished a week ago Sunday by Mrs. Eva Coleman, a cafe proprietress. Mrs. Coleman, a negro, also was in custody.

Department of Justice agents led a posse of 22 peace officers into the Huachuca hills, across the border. They had a working agreement with Mexican officials permitting them to cross the line.

Officers said the alleged accomplice is a Mexican. The accomplice, officers said the suspect told them, is holding the girl in a shack concealed on the Mexican side of the border. A desolate territory of canyons, steep rugged hills, covered with sagebrush, extends on both sides of the border.

CAMPAGN ISSUES ARE SHAPING UP

AUSTIN, May 5.—Issues in the governor's race are evolving gradually.

Attorney General James V. Allred will "major" in utilities. A neat sideline will be his attack on lobbyists. Franklin D. Roosevelt's campaign for governor of New York set the pattern that will be followed.

Mary-Hughes, recent state Democratic chairman, centers on prohibition repeal with half the liquor taxes going to schools.

LL Gov. Edgar E. Witt, cleverly, begins with the plea to become the "Centennial Governor." His leading issue apparently awaits his rally to be held in Bell county soon.

A SECOND ROOSEVELT ACCLAIMS 'THE PARADISE OF THE LORD'

Theodore Roosevelt knew his Texas. He was a republican with the same background and the same ancestry of the distinguished Roosevelt who is now President of the United States. Many Rough Riders for the Spanish-American war were recruited in Texas. They were with a Roosevelt commander in the charge up San Juan hill. This Roosevelt who has passed out of the picture visited Texas many times. Sam Houston was one of his idols. On his last visit to the Lone Star state he acclaimed "Texas the Paradise of the Lord." Moreover, he expressed the hope or the wish that someday he would be given time to write a history of this marvelous empire that has been under six flags.

There is another Roosevelt skipper of the state. He has a marvelous background and a remarkable record as a servant of the people. Texas sent a Good Will Delegation to the northland and April 18 was "Texas Day" in the nation's capital. This skipper of the state headed the large delegation of Washingtonians and extended a most cordial welcome to the 100 visitors from the land of Stephen F. Austin and Sam Houston. These visitors were received at the White House. A very noted son of the fourth estate, Lowry Martin, was the spokesman for the visitors. This is what he said:

"As head of this delegation I want to tell you that we bring congratulations and felicitations to you for bringing our state and the nation to recovery. This is a non-political, non-partisan delegation. We represent 6,000,000 Texans who want you to know that Texas is for you and your recovery program 100 per cent. This is a very happy moment in our lives. We want you to know that we are with you, we sympathize with you, we love you. If the occasion arises when you need us, we stand ready to help you. It is mainly through your efforts and your hard work we have come out of this depression. I want to present you this flag. We want you to keep it in your office where you can look at it and keep it as a memento of this day."

This second Roosevelt skipper of state accepted the beautifully made silk Texas flag. He smiled his famous smile. He said: "I am very, very appreciative. Texas is not only the largest state in the union but it seems to be running the government more than any other state. I can go fishing and Vice President Garner carries on the government 100 per cent in my absence. And it looks as if all the purse strings of the government are in the right hand pocket of Jesse Jones. I want to congratulate the Texas delegation in both houses of congress. Senator Sheppard and Connally are among my closest and warmest personal friends. With the house delegation—aside from occasional lapses—we get along very well. Jack Garner has been teaching me how to tell fish stories. If I can possibly do it, I want to go to Texas this summer and learn more about fish stories. I stayed a week overtime on my southern trip and in doing so I put off for a week entertaining the president of Haiti. I am giving this entire day to the President of Haiti and so was not able to come to the train."

And then, addressing the Texans and others who faced him, the Roosevelt skipper said:

"It is a wonderful thing you are doing. I wish you would travel for a year and sell Texas to every state in the Union. You don't have to sell Texas to me. This flag is going in my study, where I can keep it always beside my own Presidential flag. I want to thank you every, very much."

Texas occupies a large place on the map of the American world. Texas in future time will lead the procession of states industrially and agriculturally and financially. Texas has a large share of the treasure wealth of America. Texas could support a population of 50,000,000 as easily as it supports 6,000,000. There will be a centennial celebration in 1936. There is an election coming this year. The governor and the lawmakers to be elected in November will be the centennial representatives of all the people of this southwestern empire. Change the song to read, "Texans, the Eyes of the World Are Upon You," and in this "Paradise of the World" make it possible for all the people who are law-abiding and thrifty and patriotic to be given at all times the protection guaranteed by the bill of rights of the constitution—as the pioneers who made Texas intended when they passed this wonderful land on to those who would come after them.

MAYOR LAGUARDIA A PERSISTENT SEEKER FOR TROUBLE

Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, the Moses of the reformers of New York, is a persistent seeker of trouble and usually finds it. This is his latest: "Lawyers have done more to hinder the advance of civilization than cancer or small-pox." This fiery apostle of reform who has an international reputation will not be re-elected mayor of the greatest of American cities. A politician, a successful politician, should avoid vitriol and use vaseline.

There seems to be a lot of controversy about this and that. Political controversies will probably rage until the end of time, for once politicians get a bone of that nature between their teeth, they are loath to let go.

A natural resources commission may be a leading one before the campaign is over. Edw. K. Russell, Annona candidate, stresses prohibition. That Alred still leads the pack is indicated by a reported movement of other candidates to head him off. He apparently intends to lose no ground without a fight. Dick Waters, Texasana, resigned as an assistant attorney general and will actively direct the Alled campaign. Waters is but one of a score of popular assistants to Alled, whose home towns are scattered from El Paso to Texasana. Arms Budgets Have Kept a Committee Busy for Two Years

By STEWART BROWN United Press Staff Correspondent GENEVA.—The most persevering and tireless committee of the Disarmament Conference has just concluded its labors. After 17 months of continuous work the Technical Committee of the Commission on National Defense Expenditure has just brought forth a report. The committee broke all League records for the duration and number of its sessions to draft this report. The committee has held 225 plenary sittings and about 200 sessions of its subcommittees since the beginning of the conference, more than two year ago. Formed Beer Club The members found each other so friendly and agreeable that once each week they met in plenary session as a Beer Club in a local cafe. The committee was composed of two Poles, a Japanese, an Italian, a Frenchman, an Englishman and an Indian. It was their task to examine the military budgets of all the governments represented at the conference with an object to deciding how international publicity could be applied to military expenditures. Also their work was to decide if it were possible to limit military budgets. The latter work was somewhat handicapped by reservations against the principle of budgetary limitation of armaments made by the United States, Japan, Italy and Germany. Regarding publicity the committee unanimously found it desirable and applicable. Important Work Their labors might prove extremely important if the conference decides to obtain a reduction of armaments by cutting military budgets. They also have done great service to the conference by preparing a model military budget which makes it easy to compare the military expenditures of each country. This work entailed the thorough examination of the military budgets of 60 countries. Full information for this purpose was submitted by countries representing 90 per cent of the world's military expenditure. The committee found in 1931 the world spent about $6,000,000,000 on armaments. The big countries submitted full details of their military expenditures—some of them, especially in the case of Russia, never having been published before. Some 20 smaller nations, mostly South American countries, submitted only partial or incomplete documentation. Scholarship Goes to Local Shoe Salesman

Friends and customers of Hassen company are congratulating W. W. Paschall on the announcement of his success in winning an important scholarship. The news came this week and Mr. Paschall leaves for Dallas to take up advanced studies in scientific shoe fitting at the Scholl training school of master shoe fitting.

No one is more elated at Mr. Paschall's success than he is himself, because he realizes that the practical training at this famous school will enable him to offer his customers the type of service that they have needed in connection with their feet.

That Mr. Paschall will profit in knowledge to the fullest extent from his advanced training is beyond all question, for the scholarship award is the result of his keen interest in, and aptitude for, this branch of science.

Sanitary Code of State Needs Changes

By United Press
 AUSTIN — Texas' 20-year-old sanitary code is likely to be supplanted by the 44th State legislature next year with a "bill of health" to fit living conditions of 1935.

State Health Officer Dr. John W. Brown and his first assistant, Dr. H. N. Barnett, have conferred with Assistant Attorney General Scott Gaines here on a new health law for Texas.

Health officers have studied sanitary laws of various states, selecting provisions from each which Gaines will fit into a legal code to fit Texas conditions. The new sanitary bill is to be introduced at the next session of the legislature.

OUR MR. W. W. PASCHALL WINS A HIGH AWARD

A Dr. Scholl scholarship to Mr. W. W. Paschall. Mr. Paschall's application of scientific methods has contributed much to the foot comfort of our customers and we are proud to announce that he has been awarded a scholarship in the Scholl Training School of Master Shoe Fitting.

This means that Mr. Paschall will receive advanced training in foot comfort methods of Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, the eminent foot specialist.

Mr. Paschall left today for Dallas to take up this advanced course of study and we know that his return, with a broadened knowledge of the most modern methods of relieving foot troubles, will enable us to improve an already important service.

Scientific, accurate shoe fitting is a most important service as it insures protection against most of the common causes of foot aches and pains. Mr. Paschall is delving further into this subject of protection as well as that of relieving foot troubles through the means of Dr. Scholl's Foot Comfort Appliances and Remedies.

Many Stars Vie For Honors In "Lady For a Day"

Headed by Warren William, a splendid cast was assembled for "Lady for a Day," the Columbia picture adapted from the Damon Runyon story, "Madame La Gimp," showing today at the Arcadia Theatre. May Robson, "Grand Old Lady of the American Stage," plays the role of "Apple Annie."

The story deals with an old apple-woman who peddles her wares in the metropolitan theatrical district, and, unknown to her associates, is supporting a daughter in school in Spain. She is giving her child the impression that she is wealthy and socially prominent, and has a splendid husband.

Suddenly she learns the daughter is on her way to America, with a young Count who wants to marry her, and the count's father, of the Spanish nobility, "Apple Annie" appeals for aid from her friends, the most conspicuous figures of the White Light district. They rally to her rescue.

"The Dude," a gambler, borrows a rich man's apartment and installs Annie in it. "Missouri," a nightclub hostess, has the apple-woman beautified. It is necessary for her to have a temporary husband, so "Judge Blake," a pool-shark, is pressed into service.

After a series of hilarious happenings, the masquerade works out perfectly. The Spanish nobles accept all of Annie's pretensions, and take the daughter back with them for a magnificent wedding in their ancestral home.

Warren Williams, fresh from triumphs in half a dozen Warner successes, plays "The Dude." Glenda Farrell, brilliant young comedienne, plays "Missouri," a night club hostess. Bald rotund Guy Kibbee, who shone in "42nd Street" and many other pictures, is cast as "Judge Blake," the husband for a day, and Ned Sparks is "Happy," a "dumb stooge" for "The Dude."

Frank Capra, Columbia's ace director, whose last picture was the artistic "Bitter Tea of General Yen," directed the picture. He was responsible for many of the company's greatest successes, including "American Madness," "Platinum Blonde," "Dirigible" and "Submarine."

May Robson just celebrated her fiftieth anniversary as an actress. She has not been long in pictures, but has won herself an outstanding rank among the veteran character players. Her most recent film was "The White Sister," in which she portrayed the Mother Superior. She is also in "Dinner at Eight." In "Strange Interlude" she was Norma Shearer's mother, and had another mother character in "Letty Lynton." Perhaps her best work was in "If I Had a Million," where she was the old lady who turned a gloomy institution into a place of joy.

Others in the cast are Jean Parker, Hobart Bosworth and Nat Pendleton.

game in the 12th with three on and one out but the batter in attempting to bunt the ball popped a fly to the pitcher who doubled the man off at third retiring the side.

Dublin got three home runs, two over the short left field fences and the other a freak home run inside the park. Bradberry hit a fly ball to Wright who muffed the ball and picked it up and in attempting to throw the ball in he threw the wrong way and Bradberry was able to trot around minus any effort on his part.

For the Horned Frogs, Morris, Brothers, Pope and Amis showed to advantage for the Frogs. Odell hurried very effectively during the six innings he was in the box allowing only five hits. Wallace hurled 11 innings and bearing down when necessary getting 10 strikeouts. Odell who started for the Frogs was relieved by L. Wallace in the last half of the seventh with the score tied, so the credit of victory went to Wallace who pitched the remainder of the game for the Frogs. Outside of some careless base running on the part of the Frogs, it was a bang up ball game and also a nerve wrecker.

For Dublin, C. McCarty, Warner and Bradberry were the shining lights of the Orioles. The Orioles had by far the best club the locals have played this season and should be a constant threat to the contending clubs.

Due to the length of the first game they were unable to play the second half of the double-bill so it will be played at a later date.

The Horned Frogs will be at home to the Dublin Orioles next Sunday and Welch Park should be filled to overflowing in anticipation.

More than a score of fans motored down from Eastland to witness the games and from all accounts were well pleased with the game. In fact some of them returned a wiser but probably a little older fan than when they left.

Mother's Day

TWENTY YEARS AGO this May 8th (how time does fly along!), the gentlemen of the Congress, with a surprising one-ness of mind, passed a joint resolution fixing the second Sunday in May as a memorial to the mothers of America, and ordered flags unfurled from all government buildings.

Next Sunday, accordingly, we celebrate Mother's Day, 1934, and we are reminded of the banking institution which issued a thrift calendar. For each day of the 365, some Scotch money-canny proverb was placed beside the date. But along with Mother's Day just two word appeared: Be Extravagant!

Feeling that you subscribe to the same spirit about your own mother, we suggest that right here and now you start your gift-plans. Look through all the store announcements. Think of wearable things and home-usable things, plus a bouquet and a box of sweets. Think of Grandmother as well as Mother and don't forget to gather up some cards for mothers-outside-your-family. You'll find our advertisers all ready to help you with ideas and prompt out-of-town deliveries.
