INSULL IS FINALLY JAILED AT CHICAGO TODAY

LITTLE THINGS' IS SUBJECT AT REVIVAL MEET

Speaking to a Monday morning congregation evangelist Gobel chose as his subject, "Little Things." Forming a basis for his lesson he read Luke 16-10. "He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much; and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much," together with a statement by Solomon in Prov. 30:24-25. "There be four things which are little upon the earth, but they are exceeding wise: The ants are a people not strong, yet they prepare their meat in the summer; The conies are but a feeble folk, yet make they their houses in the rocks; The locusts have no king, yet they for all that do them by bands; The spider holds for her hands, and is in king's palaces."

Solomon mentions four little things from which we may glean great lessons. The ant, said he, "are a people not strong, yet they prepare their meat in the summer." While opportunity is given them they make ready for the winter days in which they cannot work. They are unlike the grasshopper which whiles away his opportunities and makes no provisions for the morrow. Some Christians are like the grasshopper; they take no thought of the future, living only in the present time; they make no preparation for the time in which they will be called upon to render an account of their works while upon this earth. Solomon reproved people of this kind in Prov. 6:6 "Go to the ant, thou sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise." Jesus while upon the earth appreciated the necessity of work. In John 9:4 "I must work the works of Him that sent me, while it is day; the night cometh, when no man can work." The present moment is the only time given us. Yesterday is past, tomorrow is in the future, we have no lease on life, we must work today. It was Paul who said, "Today is the day of salvation."

"The conies are but a feeble folk..." Realizing their helplessness to protect themselves from the hand of men, who sought them for the value of their fur, they fled to the rocks and there prepared their homes, found safety. God has provided a place of safety for His people. Bulwarked by the commands, word of God, there is a place for me, for you, for everyone, said Mr. Gobel. That we may know what God expects of us He speaks to us in Col. 3:17, "And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him." God provides a place where all work is to be done, Eph. 3:21 "Unto him (Continued on page 6)

Former Governor Wins Two Points In a Civil Suit

DALLAS, May 8.—Former Gov. James E. Ferguson today won both points in a district court hearing here on a suit brought against him and his wife, Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, by the Dallas Joint Stock Land Bank.

The action was for foreclosure on the 525-acre Ferguson Bell county farm for failure to meet payment on a $40,000 note made eight years ago.

The judge granted Ferguson's motion to delay the trial until Jan. 1, 1935, and set the amount of rent to be paid on the land at $2 an acre. The bank sought to have the suit tried now, and, failing in this, sought to have the rent fixed at $4 per acre for the year.

Elks Plan Mothers Day Observance In Clubrooms Sunday

The Ranger Elks club is now formulating plans for a Mother's Day observance program for next Sunday afternoon, May 13, at 2:30.

A committee composed of Wm. N. McDonald, C. J. Moore and E. E. Crow has been appointed to take charge and arrange a program, which will follow along the general lines of the programs presented by the club during the past few years and which have proved to be exceedingly popular.

Announcement of the complete program will be made within the next day or two, it was stated today by members of the committee.

Two Orphans to Receive Fortune

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—Two boys, who have spent the past four years in the Albuquerque orphan asylum, soon will have a fortune in their own names.

Julian Sanchez, 13, and his brother Alejandro, 10, were not excited when they received the news that the long litigation had ended and that they were entitled to the estate which was at one time between $75,000 and $100,000.

"I'd like to stay until I finish the eighth grade," Julian said. He is now in the fifth grade.

Alejandro wanted to stay in the orphanage, but he also wanted to be with his mother, Mrs. Elena Sanchez, who moved to Albuquerque when her two sons were placed in the orphanage.

The money is the estate of Marcario Torres, wealthy Estancia Valley sheepman, who died in 1927.

When Torres died he left his estate to his invalid widow, Maria Torres. A suit was filed on behalf of the two boys as heirs to the estate. The claim was made the Sanchez boys were children of Torres.

When the suit was first tried the lower court decided against the boys, and the case was appealed to the state supreme court, where a reversal was gained. Again the case was brought to trial in the district court, and again the boys lost the verdict. An appeal to the supreme court this time brought the order that judgment be entered in favor of Julian and Alejandro.

First Section of Special Edition On Press Today

Copy for the special edition of the Ranger Times is coming in daily, with indications that the issue will be the best ever published and will contain more information than any ever attempted by the paper, making it a good advertisement for the town.

Those who have advertising copy to turn in are urged to get it in the office as early as possible in order that their advertising may be set to the best advantage and given good location.

Those who have been requested to write special articles on special subjects are also urged to co-operate by turning in their copy as early as possible so that the mechanical department will have time to set the type and the business office will have time to make the most attractive layout of pages possible.

The first section, containing 18 pages, went to press this morning with a second section of eight pages in the process of being made up. Some of the advertising and news copy promised, but which has not yet been turned in, is needed, however, to complete the section and the public has been asked to co-operate in getting material for publication in on time.

Hamilton Is On Trial at Dallas

DALLAS, May 8.—Raymond Hamilton, 20, southwest desperado, sat in a crowded courtroom today and watched grimly the turning of the wheels of justice which were moving him toward the state penitentiary, and possibly toward death in the electric chair.

The wheels were turning much too fast to please the tummy youth. His attorneys vainly threw legal technicalities into the machinery in efforts to halt or retard its motion.

Today's session was featured by efforts of counsel to select a jury from a panel of 400 veniremen. The district attorney was hopeful the jury might be completed by tonight.

Explains Broken Engagement

"If her parents hadn't interfered everything probably would have worked out all right." Sober and unsmiling, John Jacob Astor, one of the world's richest young men, thus explained the breaking of his engagement to Miss Eileen Gillespie when he returned to New York, as shown, above, from a tour of the world. Young Astor revealed that he "put his foot down" when Miss Gillespie's parents "wanted to go with us on our honeymoon."

LONDON STILL PLANS FIGHT FOR HER TRADE

LONDON, May 8.—A grim fight to restrict world-trade proceeded in London today while British and other statesmen continued statements that restoration of the flow of international commerce was essential to recovery.

The cabinet, after declaring a trade war against Japan, was working out measures to impose import quotas in the crown colonies on Japanese goods. It awaited action on tariff reprisals on British goods.

Rubbermen of the principal producing countries, were perfecting details of a plan designed to restrict the export of rubber, principally to American consumers.

New Deal Faces Its First Test In Indiana Today

INDIANAPOLIS, May 8.—With the 12 Democratic congressmen basing their campaigns for renomination solely on the accomplishments of the recovery program, Indiana voters will give the "New Deal" its first test today in the primary election.

The congressional race among 68 candidates, the largest field ever to seek Indiana's 14 positions, will hold the spotlight.

But spirited contests among the record number of candidates seeking other offices ranging from precinct committeemen to judge-ships command considerable local interest.

Immediately after the primary, political interest will be concentrated on the biennial state conventions of the two major parties next month.

Convention Dates
The Republicans will meet June 5 and the Democrats June 12. The conventions will select candidates for United States senator, secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer and state superintendent of public instruction.

In the Republican convention, the incumbent, Arthur R. Robinson, appears slated for renomination for U. S. senator, but the Democrats have seven already announced for the post and others expected to follow.

Today's balloting will be the first under the state's new voters' registration law, passed by the 1933 General Assembly.

Heavy Vote Expected
Although no statewide figures on registration were compiled, political observers have pointed to county reports in substantiation of their predictions that the voting probably will be the heaviest in the state's history.

Only two of the incumbent congressmen are believed threatened with defeat in the primary. They are Mrs. Virginia E. Jenckes, Terre Haute, the state's first and only woman member of Congress, and Arthur Greenwood, Washington.

Four Negroes Are Attacked By Three Strikers Today

HOUSTON, May 8.—Four negroes, three of them striking longshoremen, were dragged from an automobile here today by three white men who started beating them with axe handles. The fight ended abruptly when one of the negroes fired once with a shotgun which he had in the car. No one was struck by the charge.

Oil Men Urge a Federal Oil Control Measure of Congress

TYLER, May 8.—Congress was called upon at a meeting of oil men today to pass an "adequate" federal oil control law.

A resolution containing the appeal was adopted at the meeting, held under sponsorship of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce and the petroleum council.

The oil men also adopted resolutions endorsing the work of Attorney General James V. Allred in the East Texas field.

Simmons Does Not Approve of Pardon Power of Governor

DALLAS, May 8.—Revocation of the power of the governor of Texas to issue pardons at will was advocated here today by Leo Simmons, manager of the State Prison system.

"I'm not talking politics, and I'm not talking against any particular governor, but the Texas parole law as it is today and as it has been for 20 years is a farce," Simmons declared, addressing 300 police chiefs and city marshals here.

Convicted of branding her 7-year-old daughter Esta (below) with a white hot poker to make her behave, Mrs. Lydia Reed (top) was sentenced to serve 30 days in jail at Lakewood, N. J. "That's the way my mother taught me when I was little," Mrs. Reed was reported as saying.

'ANDY' MELLON NO BILLED ON TAX CHARGES

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 8.—A federal grand jury today ignored government charges that Andrew W. Mellon failed to pay sufficient income taxes in 1931 and returned a "no bill" after hearing the government story.

The grand jury reported to Judge Robert Gibson that it found no basis for the government charges that Mellon failed to pay all his income taxes in 1931.

The exoneration came after a speedy inquiry yesterday, immediately after the grand jury convened. It heard income tax experts and Mellon's aides, and then adjourned until today because all the federal judges had gone home.

Mellon himself, in one of his rare public statements, declared last week the charges were unfounded, and that as a matter of fact he overpaid his 1931 taxes.

Aid to Be Given In Oil Field Strike

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Chairman William Listerman, of the labor policy board of the petroleum administration, said today the board was prepared to "offer its good offices" should present negotiations between employers and the International Oil Workers' Union in the Seminole area of Oklahoma fail.

He observed that Dr. George Stocking, of the board, was in Texas and had been keeping in touch with the strike in the Seminole field.

Japan Intends to Seek Naval Parity

TOKIO, May 8.—Japan's intention of seeking naval parity with Great Britain and the United States at the 1935 naval conference was plainly intimated today in a speech by Maseo Osumi, minister of marine.

Osumi, addressing the governors of the prefectures of Japan, said the government is strengthening and perfecting the navy and would take the opportunity of the 1935 conference to "free herself from the unfavorable restrictions contained in existing treaties."

Communications Code Hearing Set

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Despite rumblings to the contrary, Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson is certain he can negotiate an agreement with the $5,000,000,000 communications industry on the NRA telegraph code, he said today.

The code, effecting the nation's communication's giants, was set for public hearing May 16 coincident with announcement that the President, under powers of the Recovery Act, would arbitrarily impose the code if the industry proved too calcitrant.

Plans For Reserve Officers Dinner Are Now Complete

A program of unusual variety, in which is listed a very prominent after dinner speaker and several outstanding visiting artists, has been arranged for the Reserve Officers dinner dance, according to Major R. A. Larner of Eastland.

The occasion will begin with an informal banquet and floor show in the colonial ballroom of the Ghoslen Hotel in Ranger on Friday evening, May 11, at 7:30 p. m. There will be a short intermission after the banquet program, after which an informal dance will be given for those who desire to participate. In addition, tables of bridge and other games will be indulged in by those who do not dance.

A cordial invitation has been extended to all reserve and former officers of the United States army, navy, and Marine corps to be present with their ladies and invited guests. Admission will be by invitation only, and it is urged by the committee that all officers who bring guests must see that proper reservations are made not later than Thursday noon. Reservations for Eastland may be made through Major R. A. Larner; Cisco, Major J. Stuart Pearce; Ranger, Lt. A. N. Larson or the chamber of commerce; Breckenridge, Lt. J. Hem Johnson; and Strawn, Lt. Jim Stuart.

C. E. Maddocks Has Papers Over A Century Old

C. E. Maddocks of Ranger has some of the most interesting papers and heirlooms, taken from a standpoint of age, of anyone in this section of the country, which he keeps in a fire-proof safe for protection against fire, time and the elements.

Among the papers is a copy book used by one of his relatives almost 200 years ago back in the New England states. It contains lines written by the teacher and several copies made by the pupil. One page is a reproduction of a ship's log dated 1756, with pictures of the ship drawn in colors by hand.

Another book, which is time-worn, but which can still be read, is a hand written arithmetic which bears one date of 1762 and another notation at the back stating that it is the property of Edward Libbey, dated 1807. Other dates refer to William Libbey being born in 1729.

A deed, which is the only one of the several documents that is printed, is dated Nov. 17, 1795, while a hand-written quit claim deed bears the date "In the 15th day of August in the ninth year of his majesty's reign, 1769." It was signed in Kettercy, County of York, Massachusetts, which is now in the state of Maine and conveys to Benjamin Staples some land for a consideration of 75 pounds.

Mr. Maddocks said that the first Libbey came to America in 1636 and records show that there are a large number of descendants, among whom was his grandmother, who was named Libbey.

Robles 'Confession' Was Just a Fake

TUCSON, May 8.—Department of Justice agents today branded as a hoax a purported solution to the kidnaping of June Robles which took three officers into Mexico and roused hope the child would be returned to her family.

The fate of the girl again became the object of apprehensive speculation. Whether she was dead or alive remained a question—department agents would not or could not answer as they returned here from Nogales.

They did say, however, that what they thought yesterday was a solution of the kidnaping, had collapsed. The so-called confession by an American suspect which inspired a search, they said, was a fake.

Braniff Airways To Begin Service

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 8.—Braniff Airways of Oklahoma City will operate both airplane passenger and mail service in the southwest in a day after United Air Lines discontinues, Paul Braniff, general manager, said today.

Oil Code Inquiry Defeated In House

BOND SET AT $200,000 BUT CAN'T MAKE IT

CHICAGO, May 8.—Near collapse with faltering steps but insisting that he would face it standing up, Samuel Insull was locked up in the county jail today because he had nothing left of his fortune of a $100,000,000 — not even $200,000 for bond.

There was a possibility following a cheerful, tearful plea by his doctor and attorney that he might be removed later from his cell to a room in a hospital.

Though he is granted permission to go to a hospital deputy marshals will be posted outside his room night and day.

"We will not try to make the bond," Insull said.

"As to my health, a physician provided by the government accompanied me here by train and his report as to my physical condition is available if desired."

The Insull family physician was summoned to the marshal's office in the federal building as Insull was awaiting to appear in court and announced the prisoner was suffering from a hardening of the heart muscles.

The court argument over the bond was spirited and at several points when District Attorney Dwight Green spoke of the "luxury" Insull obtained during his flight from the law, the aged prisoner sneered.

When Judge Barnes announced bond would be fixed at $200,000 as had been demanded by the government, Insull stiffened in his chair and his head jerked convulsively.

"I do not regard the government's request for $200,000 bond as unreasonable and this court cannot be legally concerned with the financial condition of the defendant," Judge Barnes said.

ARMY OF AMERICANS ON THE CIVIL SERVICE LIST

This is a democratic administration with new deal trimmings. The federal civil service commission's monthly report shows 623,559 persons on the payroll for the executive branch of the government March 31.

Of that number 81,569 worked in the District of Columbia. The post office department employs 267,198, including mail carriers and clerks throughout the country. The total represented an increase of 11,807 over the payroll Feb. 28. Herbert Hoover stepped out; Franklin D. Roosevelt stepped in. Regardless of the army of hungry democrats the country over, civil service has not been dynamited by the Roosevelt administration.

HEFLIN CLAIMS HE WAS COUNTED OUT

For many years James Thomas Heflin of Alabama was in the big picture of congressional activities. First as a representative for years from his home state and later as a senator of the United States.

He planned to stage a comeback in the fifth congressional district of Alabama. He ran third in a field of three seeking the prize. Miles B. Allgood, the sitting member, sought re-election. Joseph Starnes was a contender. Returns are in. Heflin ran 3000 votes behind Allgood and 2000 behind Starnes. He was shut out of the run-off.

Now Heflin is going to investigate the primary. His claim is that he received "fewer votes in the count than he should have." Heflin is a brilliant orator, an ugly antagonist in joint debate and in Ku Klux Klan times was one of the leaders of the movement. He booted Alfred E. Smith in 1928.

He was defeated for the senate by John Bankhead, co-author of the Bankhead cotton control act. Heflin contested the election before the senate but Bankhead won and was awarded the prize. Many comebacks will be attempted by leaders whose faces were turned to the wall in 1932 in the primary elections of the year 1934. Heflin made an almost super-human effort to score a comeback. He ran third and last and now it is a betting proposition that he will be an independent candidate in the November election.

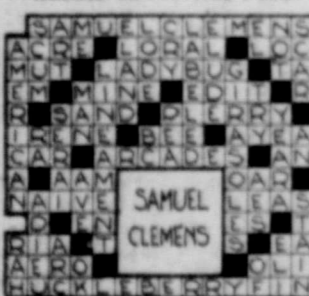

The best way to prevent war is to pass a law that will force all politicians in Europe to the front line trenches when war is declared. It wouldn't be a bad idea to start that movement at home! Pass an amendment to the Constitution that at the outbreak of war all members of Congress who have never been in the army or navy be drafted into the front lines at once, and those who have had military or naval experience stay home and run the country. If that could be done, we probably never would declare war on anybody.

Cline, whose term expires at San Angelo.

Of this number four are dead: Col. C. T. Herring, Amarillo; A. B. Spencer, Crosbyton; R. Q. Lee, Cisco, and H. P. Brelsford, Eastland. The others are still active in the affairs of the regional chamber and will be present at the San Angelo convention.

Col. Herring, the first president, was elected in 1919 at the organization convention in Mineral Wells. He served until the convention in Abilene in 1920 when he was succeeded by H. P. Brelsford of Eastland, who died during the past year.

The third president was Clifford B. Jones of Spur who was elected at the Ranger convention in 1921. Jones has been active in the organization since its inception, and at the San Angelo convention, is slated to be chairman of the important group conference on agriculture, and to discuss the Public Works Administration before the Rehabilitation Group Conference. He is also a member of the Convention Work Committee. Jones served as regional adviser for the FWA for the states of Louisiana, Texas and New Mexico.

A. B. Spencer, Crosbyton, the fourth president, and now deceased, was the only president to serve two terms. He was first elected at the Plainview convention in 1922, and re-elected the following year at the San Angelo convention. Spencer served as manager of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce following his retirement as president.

C. C. Walsh of San Angelo, now a resident of Dallas, and an official of the Federal Reserve Bank, was the fifth president, and was elected at the Brownwood convention in 1924.

R. Q. Lee, Cisco, succeeded Walsh to become the sixth president. He was elected at the Mineral Wells convention in 1925. After his term of office he served his district in Congress which place he was holding when he died.

Arthur P. Duggan, Littlefield, at present a State Senator, and candidate for congress from the newly created nineteenth district, was elected president at the Amarillo convention in 1926.

R. W. Haynie of Abilene, a lawyer, was elected in 1927 at Wichita Falls to succeed Duggan. He is expected to attend the convention in San Angelo.

At the Fort Worth convention in 1928, A. M. Bourland, a dirt farmer from Wilbarger County, was elected president. Bourland served until the El Paso convention, and was elected manager of the organization upon the resignation of Homer D. Wade during the summer of 1929 preceding the El Paso convention held in October, the only convention not held in the spring. As president-manager, Bourland was active in the organization of the chamber at the El Paso convention.

In 1929 at the El Paso convention, W. B. Hamilton, oil man of Wichita Falls, was elected the tenth president. Hamilton has been active in the chamber for many years as head of the oil and gas committee and activities. He will be Chairman of the Oil and Gas group conference at the San Angelo convention.

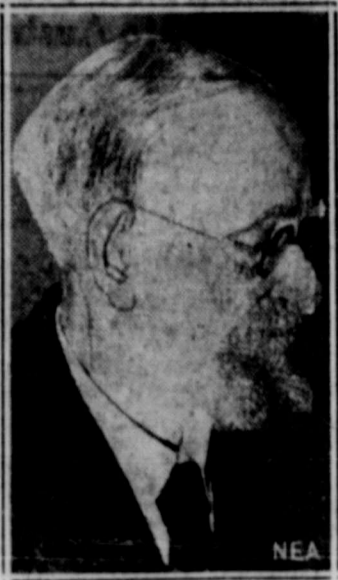

Charles E. Coombes, lawyer of Stamford, succeeded Hamilton, being elected at the Abilene Convention in 1930. Coombes is in the program of the sixteenth convention to address the public officials of West Texas at their luncheon, Tuesday, May 15. During the past year he has served as the chamber's legal adviser on public works applications served by the organization for West Texas political subdivisions.

Honorable Harte, San Angelo publisher, was elected president at Lubbock in 1931. Harte launched the West Texas Beautification program and has remained chairman of the activity since. At the convention in San Angelo he will discuss Federal relief before the Rehabilitation Group Conference as a member of the Texas Relief Commission. He will also make an award in the second year beautification contest.

Wilbur C. Hawk of Amarillo, a publisher, was the thirteenth president, and was elected at the Redwater convention in 1932. He is heading his city's delegation at the San Angelo convention which is seeking the 1935 convention for Amarillo. Since his term as a director from Amarillo in 1930 he has been active in organization's affairs.

Tennis Star Balks At Small Crowds

By United Press
HOUSTON, Tex.—Professional tennis took a setback when Henri Cochet, once highest ranking player of the world, refused to play his scheduled match here because the crowd was too small.

A conflict in dates with the opening of the Houston Texas Baseball season caused the small attendance. The temperamental French ace consented with much coaxing to play one set of his scheduled doubles match but would not appear for the singles. He returned a few days later and played all matches before a larger attendance.

Care For Mothers To Be Stressed By State Health Officer

AUSTIN.—Provision for adequate care for mothers-to-be, as a practical means of putting into effect the honor and reverence due all mothers, is urged in connection with the nation-wide observance of Mother's Day. The day will be celebrated on Sunday, May 13.

"Because of the precious memories the day arouses, each of us wishes to pay our own tribute of homage to the mothers of the past and present," Dr. H. N. Barnett, director of the bureau of child hygiene, said, "for their unflinching love and devotion, their self-sacrificing service, and their never-ending influence on our lives. But those of us who are engaged in public health activities are thinking of the third group, also—the mothers-to-be—when we urge that Mother's Day be used as a starting point for efforts to make motherhood safer for all expectant mothers—the mothers of tomorrow.

"The doctors throughout Texas are glad to give care of this kind to expectant mothers in their own practice, but many mothers and fathers do not realize the importance of such supervision during the period before the baby arrives, and neglects to secure it. And often both mother and baby suffer the consequences of this neglect."

DONNA of the BIG TOP by BEULAH POYNTER

BEGIN HERE TODAY
DONNA GABRIEL and MADELINE SIBBAL, who call themselves "The Gabriel Sisters" are trapeze performers with Renfro's circus. When Madeline's grandfather who is blind asks her to spend a week-end at his farm she persuades Donna to go instead. Donna, pretending to be Madeline, falls in love with BILL SIBBAL, Madeline's cousin.

CON DAVID, animal trainer, is devoted to Donna but she rejects him as merely a friend. Madeline loves Con and schemes to win him.

Donna falls from the trapeze and is injured. Madeline wires Bill to come for her and begs Donna to continue the impersonation. Bill takes Donna to the farm to recuperate. BILL, FATHER of the housekeeper, is suspicious of the girl.

Donna grows stronger and soon is able to get about in a wheelchair.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XI
NED TRAFFORD was surly and belligerent. Irritable without provocation. Twice Renfro had caught him under the influence of liquor and threatened him with a "notice" if he ever caught him drinking again. But Trafford avoided Madeline and, as the days sped by, her fear of him lessened and gradually died.

Renfro had watched Madeline performing on the trapeze alone and, since business was bad and there was a prospect of Donna's return, he had decided to let Madeline remain in the show as a "single." One Gabriel sister did not make a feature act, but the cut in salary helped a little.

Madeline knew Con's interest in her was due to the fact that he could get news of Donna through her, but his very indifference only spurred Madeline's determination to win him.

During every performance she watched the animal trainer put his "cats" through their paces and she never failed to compliment him on his daring when he left the arena, his white silk shirt clinging to his body and beads of perspiration about his white lips.

"There isn't an act in the world that can equal it, Con!" she would exclaim ecstatically.

He was flattered by these attentions. The sting of Donna's repulsion still rankled, though he loved her with all the fervor of his Latin temperament. Con was perfectly aware of Madeline's love for him, as was every one else in the circus.

NOW and then he invited her to dinner at a hotel or restaurant as a change from the fare in the mess tent.

A month went by, then six weeks. The heat became intense. Under the tents the air was heavy, almost intolerable. The poor animals, forced to stay in small quarters, suffered and snarled and roared and spit.

Under the glare of a thousand blazing lights the performers tried to concentrate on their numbers, to forget their discomfort and put forth their best efforts, but the acts moved slowly and without pep. A crazy boy sickened and died. Renfro tore his hair and gnashed his teeth as he watched the show and they might as well sleep.

"Cut out the job stuff!" he broke in harshly. "Spill it!"
"She's going to be married."

MARATHON IS WINNER FROM ELKS BY 14 TO 8

By F. B. KIRKES

Playing before a large crowd, the Marathon team defeated the Elks in a loosely played game in the twilight league by a score of fourteen to eight.

Although both teams gathered in ten solid base runs, the Marathon boys hit in the pinches and took advantage of ten Elk errors which were made when errors hurt.

Dr. Downtain, pitching for the Elks, pitched a nice game as well as hit a long double in the third inning to account for two of the Elks runs, then scored on a single by Chief Murphy. Downtain had perfect control, issuing no walks.

Curtis, Elk catcher, hustled hard and was rewarded by beating out two slow rollers to the infield. Three Marathon runs came from balls hit into the center field, two of which went for home runs and should have been easy outs. Chief Murphy undoubtedly misjudged them and then failed to hustle to hold the runners on base.

Angus, pitching for Marathon, matched Downtain in effort put forth, also accounting for two of his teams runs with a long double to center field. Angus was stingy with walks giving no one a free ticket to first. He was credited with five strikeouts. Only in two innings was he in serious trouble and then by virtue of his mates' miscues.

Peak, catcher, and Tatum, second baseman for Marathon, each helped the old batting average along with two hits each out of four trips to the plate.

Samms and W. Seymour each delivered home runs, both coming in the fifth inning, Samms scoring a mate ahead of him.

Ranger Shoeman at Seat of Learning

Mr. W. W. Paschall's experience in shoe fitting at the Haasen Co.'s Shoe Store has impressed him with the need for special study of foot comfort problems. In line with his ambition, Mr. Paschall is now in Dallas attending the School Training School of Master Shoe Fitting.

This means that on Mr. Paschall's return to the Haasen Co. Shoe Store will provide, in greater measure, an important service for the benefit of its customers—that of furnishing means of Foot Comfort and correct fitting of shoes. This is a progressive step because only an experienced man in the shoe business realizes the full significance of foot troubles and the true importance of relief measures.

It will be the business of the Foot Comfort Department, operated under Mr. Paschall's direction, not only to show how thousands of foot sufferers have benefited through the use of Dr. Scholl's Foot Comfort Appliances and Remedies, but to show also how to prevent foot trouble by scientific guidance in the selection of correct footwear.

The Scholl Training School of Master Shoe Fitting covers every phase of foot comfort study, and when Mr. Paschall returns, his new qualifications are certain to make him many new friends.

Texas Will Test Einstein Theory

ALPINE, Texas.—A test of the Einstein theory, study of star at-mospheric and investigation of the properties of matter exposed to high temperatures will be the particular work assigned to the Mt. Locke observatory, shortly to be opened in the Davis mountains of West Texas.

Its 80-inch telescope will be second in size to the 100-inch glass of the Mt. Wilson observatory. The difference in size does not denote an inferior instrument. It will be fully as powerful, for its special purpose of studying faint nebulae and discovering distant universes.

Operation of the observatory for 30 years will be under joint direction of the University of Texas, which is supplying the plant, and the University of Chicago, which will staff and operate it. Dr. Otto Struve of the Yerkes observatory will direct its work.

The observatory is being erected with proceeds of a residuary legacy left to the University of Texas by the late W. J. McDonald, Paris, Texas, banker.

Its site is on a 6,791-foot elevation, chosen after months of atmospheric and temperature tests.

He sells the birds to gun clubs which use them instead of live pigeons at the traps.

Millions Hinge On a Decision

By United Press
SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Millions of dollars of bank deposits heretofore believed to have been lost to them may be restored to depositors if defunct state banks in Illinois if contentions of attorneys for State Auditor Edward J. Barrett are successfully upheld by the state supreme court.

The deposits referred to are those which the state has had in various closed banks and which heretofore have been regarded as preferred claims with the result that no depositor is entitled to collect a cent of the bank's assets until the state has been paid in full.

Robert L. Bracken, Polo, acting as attorney for Barrett, who is receiver for all closed state banks, in arguments before the high court, holds that the state is not entitled to preference in that there is a state banking code which does not specify state deposits as preferred claims. The action of the state auditor in challenging the right of the state to collect deposits in full from assets of defunct banks is in the nature of a friendly suit to determine whether bondsmen for the state treasurer should be compelled to pay for state losses, or whether the state really has a right to make a preferred claim. Should the court hold that state deposits are not preferred claims, it would mean the releasing of many millions of dollars to be divided equally among all depositors, including the state. Such a decision also would probably affect deposits of other political units which heretofore have been recognized by most receivers and the courts as having preferred claims to public deposits.

Food Market Advice

Heaven Sends Us Good Meat...
 GOOD meat is good meat whether it comes from the forequarter or the hindquarter of an animal. Which you choose depends partly on the length of your purse and partly on how much time you can spend in the kitchen. The so-called tougher cuts, such as brisket, can be cooked in a short time and may be superior in tenderness and flavor to the so-called tender cuts of "lower grade" meat. Long, slow cooking at low temperatures such as braising or pot roasting or stewing, is the secret of making tough cuts tender. The forequarters of beef and lamb and all cuts of pork and veal require this type of cooking. Since these cuts are the ones best suited to the average food budget at this season, proper cookery must supplement good meat.

New Cherries Here
 Big sweet cherries are plentiful and inexpensive. They are good to eat plain and contribute color and flavor to many salads and desserts. Cantaloupes are plentiful and of good quality. Honeydew melons are generally available. Strawberries from the West have come into market. Apples are still plentiful and new crop apples are expected to be in market sometime in June. It approaches the end of the season for Florida oranges and grapefruit and for navel oranges but California Valencia oranges are expected in the very near future. These oranges are available during the summer and early fall.

The Goodly Onion
 Fortunately, new crop onions are plentiful for onions are almost indispensable in the types of meat cooking suggested above. Carrots and celery add their flavor to the rich brown gravies which are characteristic of braised meats. Peas are of good quality and are available at summer prices. While usually served as an accompaniment to lamb or poultry they are equally at home with veal, pork and beef. Green beans are moderate in price.

Asparagus is plentiful and is reasonably priced. Lettuce is a little high right now but less lettuce is required for fruit and vegetable salads than for green ones. Tomatoes and cucumbers are more abundant and radishes and green onions help out the salad bowl.

While not as open as in New Orleans, the hotels, clubs and cafes in Miami Beach and Palm Beach make no attempt to conceal their liquor sales.
Pennsylvania Drinking
 Drinking in Pennsylvania has become somewhat "respectable" under the sponsorship of the state liquor control board established by one of prohibition's most ardent supporters, Gov. Gifford Pinchot. All bottled goods in the state are sold through the state stores and drinking is permitted in tap rooms and cafes. All drinks must be consumed seated, as none are sold at the bar.

State enforcement acts still remain on the statute books and bootleggers continue their normal relationship with customers. The supply in the south consists principally of "moonshine" liquor. Throughout the middle west prohibition remains the law of the land.
New Sophistication
 Kansans, observers report, have gained a new drinking sophistication previously unknown. Bootleggers still do a thriving business throughout the dry southwest, although repeal is responsible for slightly lowered prices and improved quality. The drinking habits of a decade, however, are difficult to change, and consequently, gin and "green" whisky still dominate in Texas, Oklahoma and Nebraska.

Despite the newer technique of drinking prevailing in the urban centers of Kansas, the imported and blinded whiskeys have failed to catch the fancy of the bootleg trade and grain alcohol still remains the standard base for "prepared" liquors.
 Missouri and St. Louis, which gave prohibition scant heed, have changed little from pre-repeal days. Drinks are fair, reasonably cheap and plentiful.
Oklahoma Not in Parade
 Oklahoma, which is so dry that physicians may not even prescribe whisky, shows no evidence of joining the national wet parade. Prices have dropped about 25 cents a quart on products distilled in the eastern hill counties, and bootleggers still control a profitable business. Many of the inland towns of Texas are dry, but in the cities liquor and wines are procurable at reasonable prices.

Throughout the New England states anti-prohibitionists are generally satisfied with the working of repeal, except in the matter of prices and quality. In Boston the sale of liquor approximates pre-prohibition conditions, with the difference that saloons have been replaced by taverns.
New England Prices High
 Because of the complaint that prices are high, bootleggers are plentiful in New England. In Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire, liquor is handled through package stores which make a specialty of filling mail orders for citizens who certify they need the liquor for "medicinal" purposes. Synthetic drinks, compounded from raw alcohol, distilled water and "flavoring," still are favorites throughout New England. In Rhode Island and Connecticut, regulations are much stricter than in Massachusetts.
 The smallest state in the union, Delaware, has established a one-man control board composed of Pierre dePont. Reports indicate that Delawareans are satisfied with the methods of distribution, prices and the quality of wines and liquors dispensed by the board. After five months of experimentation — under a multiplicity of regulations and laws — prohibitionists watch the retention of the bootlegger with alarm.

prohibition. Without any form of state control, bars and old-fashioned saloons are running wide open. The invasion of women into the drinking establishments of New Orleans is one of the most interesting and curious manifestations of the post-repeal era in Louisiana. Even the more exclusive New Orleans bars—long a perfect refuge for men—have succumbed to the afternoon cocktail hour and actively cater to women guests.

In Florida, although state enforcement laws still stand, they are ignored quietly in favor of the wealthy who visit the resort cities.

Wild and Wooley West Has Passed On Into History

HOUSTON.—The "rip-snorting" days of a wild and wooley west, when a United States Marshal held a gun slinging reputation equalled only by the Texas Rangers, have passed.
 H. E. L. Toombs, one of the roughest men to hold a marshal's commission, retired after three years' service without ever carrying a gun or arresting a man.
 "It's a business man's job now," Toombs said. He has poured over his ledger sheets through long nights, tracing down erring figures instead of dogged pursuit over western plains for an offending outlaw as his predecessors did. Toombs, probably the average marshal for any district in any state, appears much as any business man.

 The many government agencies, seven in all, track down and arrest the criminals. Only duties of the marshal, once feared as the "law of the ranges," is to serve legal papers and deliver the convicted criminals to prison. These are the only occasions on which the deputy marshals wear guns, Toombs said.
 Principally, the marshal's office is a disbursement headquarters for federal employees of the district it serves. During the three years he was in office Toombs paid out or distributed approximately $900,000 in government pay, keep for prisoners, and paying of bailiffs and witnesses.
 Toombs is a Boy Scout worker. While marshal he frequently pointed out that out of 967 men on federal probation only two had been Boy Scouts.

Kansas City Plans Art Development

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Patrons of the Kansas City Art Institute hope to make it the biggest art center in the middle west through a membership drive.
 "We hope to expand our membership to 5,000," Marvin L. Orear, general chairman, said. "In the last few years too little attention has been paid to art, many overlooking the important part it plays in industry."

New York Radio Patrols Amaze Police Head

General John F. O'Ryan, New York City Police Commissioner, inspecting the first of a fleet of new Ford V-8 cars ordered for radio police patrol service in New York City. The car is drawn up in front of Police Headquarters. Below, Gen. O'Ryan at the wheel of the new radio patrol car.

A fleet of 55 new Ford V-8 cars selected because of their ability to thread their way quickly through crowded city traffic or to maintain speeds in excess of 80 miles an hour on the open road, has just been delivered to the New York City Police Department for radio patrol service. Each is equipped with a radio receiving set.

Even Gen. John F. O'Ryan, New York City Police Commissioner, was amazed recently when, from the stage of the Hudson Theater, the Columbia Playhouse in New York City, he broadcast on the Ford dealer's radio program, a dramatic demonstration of the radio patrol system in actual operation.

Hardly had the Commissioner finished a routine order for the nearest patrol to report to the theater when two radio patrolmen dashed into the theater with guns drawn, expecting trouble. They had picked up the radio call at Broadway and 47th Street, more than four blocks away.

With the use of the radio patrol cars and the police short-wave radio transmitter the metropolitan police are able within a brief period of time, sometimes less than two minutes, to rush patrol officers to the scene of trouble—frequently before criminals have even had a chance to escape.

Ignorant of the nature of the call and despite the dense traffic in New York's theater district four officers thrust their way inside the theater in just 20 seconds. Gen. O'Ryan, on the stage, was so surprised himself at the sudden response that he forgot to complete his part of the program, while the crowd of 1,200 in the theater cheered and applauded the police demonstration.

day afternoon opened with hymn, "We've a Story to Tell to the Nations." Prayer was said by Mrs. J. W. Tibbles, who also read a poem, "Trust."

The program was given under the leadership of Mildred Fern Mitchell, Devotional, Math. 28th chapter, was read by Margaret McKeehan. Nelma Robinson read a poem entitled, "Mother."

The president, Hazel Barker, appointed a decoration committee composed of Juanita Walsh, Margaret McKeehan, and Marie Dodd. Ten Texas Pastors Declare War on War

Ten Texas pastors have taken the position that American churches should refuse to sanction or support any future wars.
 Their viewpoint was expressed in answer to a questionnaire sent out by a special national investigating committee headed by Harry Emerson Fosdick and Kirby Page.

Only one of the 11 answering this particular question, Prof. E. W. McDiarmid of Texas Christian University, replied negatively, a report of the committee said.

"My feeling is that such a decision as this should not be made until the emergency arises," the report quoted Dr. McDiarmid. "I do not think the church or any institution should say what position should be taken at some distant time."

"It would be foolish for an individual to say what he would do five years from now. Conditions may change."

"I firmly believe that the churches should oppose war, but I base my reply to this question on the unwisdom of asserting what action in a great emergency would be the best."

The ten pastors taking a stand against support of any future war, according to the report, were: the Rev. Joseph M. Dawson, Waco; Bishop Seaman of Amarillo; the Rev. J. W. Mills, Beaumont; the Rev. John H. Epp, Hillsboro; the Rev. S. L. Batchelor, San Angelo; the Rev. David Anthony, San Antonio; the Rev. C. H. Horner, El Paso; the Rev. Porter M. Bailey, Tyler; and the Rev. Paul C. Stephenson, Dallas.

In the national count, the report said, 12,904 replied in favor of a stand against future wars, 4,638 replied negatively, and 2,152 were in doubt.

The question was one of 15 sent to 100,000 of the nation's ministers.

On the question of military training in public schools and universities, replies from over 100,000 showed 2,579 favoring military training, 17,923 opposed, and 973 neutral, the report said.

be glory in the church by Christ Jesus throughout all the ages, world end without end . . .

"The locust have no king, yet they go forth all of them by bands." Though the locust have no leader yet they appreciate the fact that co-operation and unity is necessary. Christ taught this great fundamental truth in his prayer to the Father Jan. 17: The church at Jerusalem by a united effort, all preaching the same gospel, evangelized the entire known world in less than thirty years.

"The spider taketh hold with her hands . . ." She is not easily discouraged. Her web, home, may be destroyed time and again, yet spins she another. Christians should not be easily discouraged. We are prone to let even little things discourage us in our Christian life. We should feel as did the apostle Phil. 4:13 "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me."

"Saved by Grace" was the evening subject. Reading Eph. 2:1-10 Mr. Gobel brought a wonderful gospel lesson to his attentive hearers.
