MRS. EVA LEE WORKS 365 1-2 HOURS IN RED CROSS ROOM
At the Red Cross meeting yesterday Mrs. Eva Lee was presented a Red Cross Pin—having given 365 1-2 hours of time to the work of Surgical Dressings. She has been a faithful worker.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dunlap and children Jean and H. E. Jr., of Long view, are visiting in Mrs. Dunlap's mother's home Mrs. F. L. Crisman in West Baird, after a trip to Carlsbad Cavern.

Mrs. K. G. Fincher and children, of Canyon have been visiting her mother, Mrs. Brumbaugh. Beckye Griggs returned home with her and will also visit relatives in Amarillo before returning home.

A CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this method of thanking my neighbors and friends for their kindness and thoughtfulness to me during my illness.

I wish to thank each one who has sent cards or flowers and spoken a kind word. I also want to thank Dr. Griggs and all the hospital staff. It is things like these that makes life worth while. May God bless each one of you.

Sincerely,
Mrs. J. H. Higgins.

POSTED NOTICE

My farm and pasture just south of the railroad is posted. No one is allowed to hunt, fish, swim, or haul sand from this place or trespass in anyway. Trespassers will be prosecuted. Please stay out.

Mrs. Murry Harris.

TREES MAKE SOAP

Rosin from pine trees is being substituted for fats in making soap. Turpentine is the base for synthetic camphor, and can be made into synthetic rubber.

WOOD VERSUS COAL

A cord of dry oak or hickory has the heating value of a ton of soft coal, according to the U. S. Forest Service. Green wood has only half the heat-producing value of dry wood.

Murine soothes, cleanses and refreshes irritated, reddened membranes caused by head colds, driving, winds, movies, close work, late hours. Free dropper with each bottle. At all Drug Stores.

Put every dollar above the necessities of life into War Bonds. Payroll Savings is the best means of doing your best in helping your sons and friends on the fighting fronts. Figure it out yourself.

Meat-Drippings Make Fine-flavored Dishes

Use fats carefully and thriftily; give left-over fats to the government to make ammunition

Frying:

Use drippings or rendered fats from pork, beef, or chicken. Fry chicken in bacon drippings.

Shortening:

Here are some of the dishes that thrive on home-rendered meat fats: Chocolate cakes, and Spice cakes (pork, beef, or chicken). Biscuits and Muffins (pork). Molasses Cookies, Gingerbread, and Meat Pie Pastry (beef). Delicate Pastry (chicken).

Seasoning:

Creole Sauce for cabbage or turnips (beef drippings). Meat Sauces, Meat Stuffings, Scalloped Potatoes, Croquettes, and Vegetables (chicken). Split Pea Soup, Potato Soup, Vegetables, and Dried Beans (pork, especially ham drippings).

Your butcher pays you the government price for your salvaged fats.

To Measure Victory Fats

Use two tablespoons less per cup than of ordinary fat called for.

To Clarify Fats:

Use potato slices to "take up the slack" ... to one cup of fat, use half of medium-sized potato cut in one-quarter-inch slices, added to the cool fat. Heat gradually until fat stops bubbling. Strain through cheesecloth or a fine sieve. If strained and stored in refrigerator, and NOT SCORCHED, fat can be clarified again, even after frying fish. (SCORCHED fat is not good enough for dynamite, even.) Keep in gas refrigerator.

To Render Raw Fats:

Cut suet and other fats in small pieces. Boil in water. Let chill, and lift the white cake to store in refrigerator.

This advertisement is a part of Lone Star's wartime service, and to remind you to use your natural gas wisely; do not waste it, even though it is cheap and rich. And please take care of your gas range and refrigerator, to make them last till we win this war.

Fats for Ammunition:

One pound fat = 1 1/2 lbs. gunpowder
Two pounds fat = 1 pound dynamite
Two pounds fat = five 37-mm. shells

CAN PEAS AND BEANS, TOO!

Peas . . . Some like them hot, some like them cold, but nearly every-body likes them canned, or so claims Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director of Ball Brothers Company. Not everybody likes green or "Eng-lish" peas and that's all right because there are plenty other peas of different color and flavor.

All kinds of peas, lima beans, and butter beans are canned the same way. All should be picked and canned the very day the pods are full enough to be shelled. At that time they will be from small to medium size, tender and sweet.

Peas and beans begin to lose flavor and food value as soon as pulled from the vine and are likely to spoil if time is wasted between gathering, preparing, and canning.

Flat sour and all other spoilage can be avoided by paying strict attention to canning rules. Yes, Rules, they are as simple as this:

1. Check over jars and lids the day before the canning is done. If glass top seals or two-piece metal vacuum seals are to be used, examine the top edges of the jars—the slightest flaw may cause you to have to do work over. The same is true of the sealing surface of glass lids. If there is any doubt as to the tension of the wires on "lightning" jars, fill them with hot water, seal, let stand until cold, then hold up-side down and examine for leaks, and don't forget to wash jars, caps and rubbers clean.

2. Use young, tender, freshly gathered vegetables—and they won't be fresh after being out of the garden all night.

3. Prepare no more than your canner will hold and not that many if the canner is large and the help small.

4. Wash the pods clean before shelling. Sorry, but dirt is the chief cause of spoilage, so rinse the peas or beans in clean, cool water after they are shelled.

5. Cover with hot water and cook from 3 to 10 minutes, depending upon size; then pour into the jars while boiling hot—this won't break jars that have been covered with luke-warm water, heated to boiling and kept hot until needed.

6. Leave about an inch space at the top when filling the jar; add 1/2 teaspoon salt to each pint. Pint jars are best for peas and shelled beans because the heat reaches the center of the pack more quickly but whether pints or quarts are used, be sure to have enough water to insure quick heating all the way to the center of the jar. Seal or partly seal jars, depending upon type used; then put into the canner as quickly as possible and process the correct length of time. Young, tender, green peas take 50 minutes; blackeyed and field peas, limas and butter beans are processed 60 minutes at 10 pounds pressure. If no pressure cooker is available, process (boil) 3 1/2 hours in hot-water bath canner. Use the same time for pint and quart jars. Nothing larger than a quart is safe for canning non-acid vegetables.

The bacteria that cause spoilage in peas and beans thrive in the temperature that makes you say "Whew, ain't it hot in here!" The quicker you make it too hot for bacteria, the better. So, don't fiddle around when canning vegetables or anything else for that matter. If you have no pressure cooker, use a water-bath canner (never an oven or a steamer for vegetables). And remember to boil beans and peas 15 minutes before tasting them—even if a pressure cooker is used—for about once in a million or so times, a toxin forms in non-acid foods. Such toxin can be destroyed by boiling. Failure to take this pre-caution has been known to cause se-rious illness. Reboil non-acid veg-etables left over from one meal to another.

To use a water bath right: Have the water steaming hot and deep enough to cover the tops of the jars two or more inches when they are put into the canner. Get the water boiling as quickly as possible and keep it boiling steadily every minute of the time called for in the recipe. Take the jars out of the canner as soon as they have pro-cessed long enough; complete the seal on all jars that require it (all except two-piece vacuum seals should be partly sealed before and completely sealed after processing—the vacuum seals are sealed before only); stand the jars far apart on a cloth or folded newspaper to cool. Make sure every jar is sealed when put away for winter and, believe it or not, there will come a day when you will say "I didn't dream it possible that canned peas could taste so much like garden fresh ones"

CONSTIPATED?

Don't Force! Don't Strain— Thus Risking Hemorrhoids TRY THIS FOR 5 DAYS

Here's one right and proper way to moist-en hard dry passages and obtain more gen-tle "easy" movements. Every morning for 5 days, 15 minutes before breakfast, drink a glass of hot water to which one teaspoon-ful of Kruschen Salts has been added. While you are eating breakfast the hot water and Kruschen will be feeding moisture to those hard, dry passages. They become soft, moist, easier to expel. No need to strain and thus risk painful rectal irritation. Usu-ally within 30 minutes wastes are expelled smoothly and gently. You feel gloriously fresh again. Be sure to follow the simple easy directions. Don't delay—you can get Kruschen Salts at any drug store.
