A FEDERAL DRIVE AGAINST HOT OIL RUNNERS IN TEXAS

Federal Oil Administrators Harold F. Ickes dispatched Louis R. Glavis, chief of the division of investigation of the interior department, to East Texas oil fields, "to begin a drive expected to result in criminal prosecution."

Chief Glavis made the journey by army airplane after notifying the Texas field force to meet him in Dallas. Before he boarded the airplane, he said his agents would "come armed with reams of oil code violation evidence."

Speaking of the New Orleans federal circuit court of appeals decision which upheld the constitutionality of the oil code, Secy. Ickes said: "Glavis will gather around him all of our special agents in Texas. He will instruct them to prosecute, relentlessly, every producer and shipper of hot oil who has flaunted the code and endangered the stability of the oil industry."

It was a magnificent vindication of the rights of the commonwealth, regardless of the grumblings of the critics of state proration and the petroleum code of the national recovery act.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—Little bugs are flying through the office window and getting on my neck. Unimportant? Well, not insignificant, anyway.

When the little bugs get on the necks of the New Dealers, it certainly doesn't help the country. Not that the little bugs bite. But no man can concentrate and do his best work when he has to keep brushing them off his neck.

It is also sharply to the point that the little bugs are harbingers of summer, and summer, in Washington, means many waves of biasing heat.

Orthography Says Witt Next Governor
FORT WORTH.—Lieut. Gov. Edgar Witt has it all figured out by the orthographical method—that he cannot miss being elected governor. Orthography, the gubernatorial candidate quickly explained on a visit here, is nothing more than simple spelling, the kind you studied in the red or blue speller, or what you worry about when writing such words as phantasmagoria. "It's very simple," Witt explained. "There are four letters in my home town's name, Waco. Three other Waco men elected governor also had four letters in their names. And there are four letters in my name. It's all so simple when you stop to think about it." The other Waco governors were Sul Ross, Richard Coke and Pat Neff. "And not a single candidate for governor from Waco has been defeated," Witt continued.

THE FORD DRAMA OF PROGRESS

The Ford Motor Company invites you to visit its exposition at A Century of Progress, Chicago, where the absorbing story of Ford men, methods and ideals has been unfolded beneath a single roof.

In this story of advancement are imprints of Henry Ford's own career. Many devices in the display came into being through Mr. Ford's efforts, or through exigencies created by his insistent drive toward improvement and increased efficiency in every mechanical operation. Beside the Ford Exposition Building stands the gray, weather-beaten barn in which Henry Ford worked and played as a Michigan farmer boy. Its presence is peculiarly significant, because it has been equipped with machinery to illustrate how the farmer may process raw materials for industrial uses and bring about a closer and mutually profitable relationship between industry and the farmer.

Suppliers Join Ford in Educational Exhibit
Twenty-one of the suppliers who manufacture Ford V-8 parts have joined with the Ford Motor Company in the industrial exhibits to make them complete and informative. Each exhibit begins and ends upon the same two keys—the first that every part of the Ford car comes from the earth. The second is that each part, from the smallest bolt to the heaviest steel part, must pass individual tests to make sure it is up to Ford standards.

From Mine to Finished Automobile Parts

The sources of iron, steel, copper, aluminum, zinc, lead and other metals are graphically portrayed. Exhibits depicting the processes that are used in manufacturing parts from these metals are actually at work producing the finished parts.

A program of symphony orchestra music has been planned for the Ford Exposition to last throughout the summer months. Opening the musical program will be the Women's Symphony Orchestra of Chicago, directed by Miss Elba Sundstrom. The Women's Symphony will close a one-week program June 13th. An afternoon and evening concert will be given daily.

On June 16th the Detroit Symphony Orchestra will begin a series of daily concerts to continue for twelve weeks. Under the baton of Victor Kolar the Detroit Symphony will give a two-hour concert each afternoon and evening of the week.

The Ford Exposition Building is illuminated at night by hidden batteries of lights. These lights, playing upon the central tower exterior, produce an effect of great beauty. Straight up from the tower is a mighty beam of light furnished by searchlights with a combined strength of 600,000,000 candlepower. It is visible for many miles, and for hundreds of miles to airplanes.

The Grand Concourse of the Ford Building. Shows here is a priceless collection of vehicles of transportation of all time, from the ancient Egyptian chariot to the automobile of today.

ELKS TOPPLE STARGAS OUT OF THE LEAD

The Elks Legion team of the Twilight league, popularly called the "Elks" for brevity, presented a decided reversal of form and played heads-up ball Friday afternoon to topple the Stargas team from first position, which it has held from the beginning of the season.

The Elks got off to a bad start in the first inning, when Stargas got their bats working and rapped out six hits, one a triple by third baseman Terry, to account for all five of their tallies. One error, that was not costly but allowed one who had singled to take second, was chalked up in the inning, before the side was retired. If looked, at first, like a walkaway for the Stargas, but the Elks settled down. Dr. Dinsmore allowed but four hits in the remaining six innings, while, with one or two exceptions, having air light support behind him to cut down the Stargas runs.

In the fifth two outs were made on the first two pitched balls and the third out was made, retiring the side, with only four balls being thrown by the Elks pitcher. In the third Wolf got a life at first when Dinsmore was pulled in toward the sideline to make a catch and Wolf ran into his arms, knocking the ball out of his hands. Doyle got on in the fifth when Smith and Burrage ran together trying to catch his pop fly a few feet in front of the plate, knocking both players down. Snyder and Doyle pulled some neat and heady base running when they took leads, in different innings, on pitched balls, getting into short-lived chase between bases that advanced them and scored or advanced runners.

There was plenty of excitement in the last few innings as the Elks slowly but surely closed up the big lead made by Stargas, overtook them and then went one run into the lead in the fifth and held their one-run margin. In the seventh, after D. Williams and Watson had made outs, Dinsmore and Long singled, placing a man on first and second, and a big cheer went up from the fans when the last man up, Terry, popped up to the pitcher to retire the side and sew up the game for the Elks. The fans were apparently with the Elks, who were rated as underdogs when the game started, but whose uphill fight soon got the fans on their side.

New Buses To Go Into Service Through Here On 15th of June

Fifteen new ultra-modern buses will be placed in service over the Southwestern Greyhound Lines by June 15, Paul W. Tibbets, president of the company, announced today. The new buses will operate through this city and will provide transportation from St. Louis to El Paso via Tulsa and Dallas without changing buses. Only one change is necessary between St. Louis and Los Angeles.

Although the buses have been ordered for several months, the great demand for this improved type of coach by Greyhound companies throughout the nation has made it impossible for the Southwestern Greyhound Lines buses to be delivered before about June 15. Normal capacity of the buses will be 33 passengers, with folding aisle seats providing for a total capacity of 40 persons in addition to the driver. The new coaches are being built according to the specifications of the Greyhound company. They will embody the latest principles of streamlined bodies and all the latest improvements of motor coach engineering.

Increased leg room for passengers; even more comfortable, individual deep-cushioned reclining chairs, and a new ventilating system affording optional control at each window will be popular features of the new coaches. Riding comfort will be further increased through the use of special length, tempered springs, Grass shock absorbers, and over-size balloon tires. Tropic-Aire heaters, front and rear, for cold weather will be standard equipment. Extra powerful four-wheel air brakes will provide a total braking surface of 863 square inches. Windows are of shatter-proof glass throughout. Road delays are virtually impossible.

Phares Tells Why Clyde Remained at Liberty So Long

AUSTIN, June 1.—Frank Hamer, successful trailer of Clyde Barrow, plays marble boards for recreation. The rolling spheres seem to have a fascination for him almost equal to solving a crime. He is a frequent patron of the marble machines at a drug store adjoining the state capitol grounds. Its patrons had a double treat Saturday. They saw both Hamer and pretty Celia Villa, daughter of the celebrated Pando Villa. Both dropped in at the same time. Adding to the Hamer saga, State Senator John W. Hornsby tells how Hamer and Tom Hickman, another noted ranger, once defied the entire state of Oklahoma. Texas and Oklahoma had a dispute over ownership of a strip of land along the Red river. Oil had been discovered on it and the taxes were worthwhile. Hornsby was named receiver for the property in a Texas court action. All he had to do was get hold of it. Hamer and Hickman were detailed for the purpose. Twenty Oklahoma guards occupied it. Waiting a favorable time, when some of the Oklahoma guard was relieved, Hamer and Hickman slipped in, seized it and refused to be dislodged. Oklahoma threatened to use troops to evict the rangers, but the matter finally was settled amicably.

Chief L. G. Phares of the state motor patrol says that congratulations over the successful chase for Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker often are followed by an inquiry as to why it took so long to get them. He supplies several reasons. Clyde, Phares said, was one of the shrewdest criminals that officers have tried to trace. He changed plans quickly. His tactics were different from any type. In many instances a man is located by watching a woman acquaintance. Barrow was not to be found that way. The chase was slowed up chiefly, Phares said, because of care used by officers to prevent injuring innocent persons. They had to be sure. That the long hunt was carried on without any other person being hurt, the chief considers a worthwhile achievement. Many times others were mistaken for the pair. Once a motor patrolman, who happens to resemble Barrow, started for Dallas. He took along a stenographer assigned to the Dallas office to make records in a case. She was red-headed. En route they stopped at a cafe. It emptied quickly. When they emerged, officers with drawn rifles awaited them. It was only after the patrolman's credentials were verified by telephone that the officers were convinced they did not have Clyde and red-haired Bonnie.

Chief L. G. Phares of the state motor patrol says that congratulations over the successful chase for Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker often are followed by an inquiry as to why it took so long to get them. He supplies several reasons. Clyde, Phares said, was one of the shrewdest criminals that officers have tried to trace. He changed plans quickly. His tactics were different from any type. In many instances a man is located by watching a woman acquaintance. Barrow was not to be found that way. The chase was slowed up chiefly, Phares said, because of care used by officers to prevent injuring innocent persons. They had to be sure. That the long hunt was carried on without any other person being hurt, the chief considers a worthwhile achievement. Many times others were mistaken for the pair. Once a motor patrolman, who happens to resemble Barrow, started for Dallas. He took along a stenographer assigned to the Dallas office to make records in a case. She was red-headed. En route they stopped at a cafe. It emptied quickly. When they emerged, officers with drawn rifles awaited them. It was only after the patrolman's credentials were verified by telephone that the officers were convinced they did not have Clyde and red-haired Bonnie.

Your Grass Roots May Also Have This Affliction

By United Press
BEAUMONT, — Yes, there's something wrong with those grass roots. County Farm Agent J. F. Combs is convinced, and if you want to know just what it is he'll let you read for yourself the official diagnosis.

Combs didn't like the looks of some of the roots so he sent them to the bureau of plant industry at Washington. The report received in reply said:

"These roots are infested with Nematodes. We found numerous specimens of the root-knot nematode, Heterodera marioni, and also another quite serious plant-infesting form, anguilulula multicincta. In addition, aphelenchoides parietinus, cephalobus oxyuroides, anguilulula filiformis, and dorylamus, perhaps obtusicaudatus, were found, but the trouble really comes from the first named species."

If you don't believe it, you can examine the roots yourself.

On April 12 census enumerators, who were taking the census in the city of Ranger claimed they were not getting the cooperation of the people and were having considerable trouble in getting all the residents of the city counted. The chamber of commerce, city commission and other organizations in the town took up the task of urging everyone in the town to be sure to be counted and considerable publicity was put out in an effort to have Ranger remain the largest city in the county, a goal that was finally reached.

On April 12, too, C. C. Hamilton, a veteran peace officer, died. He had been struck on the head when he was separating participants in a fight at a dance, but had apparently recovered until he died shortly after attending a carnival that was showing in town.

April 15 the car salesman of Ranger organized with T. J. Anderson as president, F. R. Hopkins as vice president and Miss Estelle Davenport as secretary.

April 20, Dr. J. L. Barnett, who was one of the owners of the West Texas Clinic and Hospital, moved to San Antonio and his interest was purchased by Dr. P. M. Kuykendall of Desdemona, who has continued as a partner since that time.

April 23 Judge J. N. McFatter, who had been confined to his home since Jan. 20 when he sustained a broken hip when he slipped and fell on the ice-covered sidewalks, was able to be back in his office and to resume his duties as justice of the peace.

April 25 the census taking in Cooper addition was completed and the same day James Phillips and C. D. Hartnett entered the annual invitation golf tournament at Mineral Wells.

April 28 a partial eclipse of the sun created considerable interest among the residents of Ranger and many pieces of smoked glass were seen around the streets. The same day it was announced that the Humble company would drill in the Merriman district.

April 30 a number of Ranger boys were signing up for service with the U. S. M. C.

May 1 forgery experts were busy in Ranger, getting away with $350 in cash and merchandise from a number of the stores. Other towns between Fort Worth and Abilene were apparently visited by the same gang as hot checks were reported all along the Bankhead highway route.

May 4 the census figures for the county were announced, while on May 2 Ranger High school debaters went into the state finals at Austin, but were eliminated by Temple debaters.

May 5 Patrolman Wolff had a gun battle with a man, who was later captured, and who was wanted in Lamesa for murder. A reward of $700 was offered for his capture. The two men emptied their guns at each other in the dark at 10 feet, neither being shot.

May 6 a small tornado struck Ranger around 1 p. m., damaging the Max Ohr home, several garages, demolishing house roofs, breaking in the windows at the Post Office grocery, wrecking a storage shed at the Hall Tire company, tearing down several barns, killing two horses and doing considerable damage to other houses in town.

May 7 the Elks of the Oil Belt met in Ranger.

Spring Revue Brilliant

The Spring revue presenting pupils of Miss Elizabeth Maxwell, at the Ranger High school auditorium Friday evening was a brilliant entertainment, emphasizing time exercised to a large degree both in dance numbers and gorgeous costumes worn by the dance personnel.

The stage colorfully and fittingly decorated afforded a perfect background for the revue, the last to be presented by Miss Maxwell, who has done much for Ranger children along the line of dance in its different stages.

Ruth Maxwell, sister of the well known instructor, who has served as accompanist since classes were first opened in Ranger, also filled that important place at Friday evening's performance.

From Ranger the talented young ladies go to Houston, where they will continue their work. Good wishes from parents and friends are extended for continued success and dance accomplishments.

The revue so beautifully accented through the spring color theme in costumes and decorations brought the following numbers:

Pirate—Carolyn Ducker.

Tempo—Cecilia McDowell, Lillian Spears, Marilyn Shertzer, Kathleen Collum, Betty Sheppard.

Glow Worm—Rose Mary Kirby.

"Let's Make Hay While the Sun Shines," Vera Vivian Cooper.

"Over Somebody's Else Shoulder," Lillian Spears.

Baby Tap—Rose Mary Kirby.

"Oh, That Kiss," Melvyn Sandler.

"Black Eyed Susan Brown," Thelma Joyce McIntosh.

Advanced Routine—Kathleen Collum.

Strut—Barbara Taft.

Soft Shoes—Betty Sheppard.

Rhythm—Jimmie Nottingham.

Wings—Cecilia McDowell.

Easter Bonnet Parade—Carolyn Ducker.

Bettet Orientale—Betty Sheppard.

herd, Marilyn Shertzer, Lillian Spears, soloist, Evelyn Moldave.

"The Little Piggie Went To Market," Mary Frances Oht.

Triple Buck—Camilla Hunt.

Eccentric—Cecilia McDowell, Kathleen Collum.

Wings—Evelyn Moldave.

"Shanghai Lil," Marian Jacobs.

"Three Little Pigs and Bad Wolf," (1) Marilyn Shertzer, (2) Kathleen Collum, (3) Cecilia McDowell, Bad Wolf, Miss Maxwell.

Dr. L. B. Gray Presides As Toastmaster At Banquet

The well planned banquet sponsored by the Christian Endeavor of the First Presbyterian church given in the clubrooms Friday evening was one of the most pleasant and successful social happenings of the current season.

Dr. L. B. Gray, pastor of the church acted as toastmaster, introducing as entertaining features Miss Marjorie Maddocks, who sang a beautiful vocal solo accompanied at the piano by Mrs. H. D. Smith, and Miss Margaret Perry, who played a lovely violin selection.

Impromptu talks were given by members of the Endeavor. Places for some 40 guests were marked at the banquet table appointed in a gold and purple color note. Bowls of farquap, and fern dotted the center of board complete with silver and crystal service.

Herbert Rapp, acts as president successor to Miss Lucille Grant, who has served most commendably for the last four years. The Endeavor is one of the most active associations of its kind in Ranger.

Ranger Organist To Be Heard At Arcadia Today

Theatre goers will be given a rare treat today in addition to seeing one of the best pictures of the season, "Jimmy the Gent," with James Cagney, shown at the Arcadia theatre, the coolest spot in town.

A ten-minute organ program scheduled for the hours 3, 5, 7 and 9 p. m., will be played by Mrs. Vera Watt, who was recently heard at this theatre in connection with the presentation of Mrs. Mary Belle Downstain's dance pupils.

Mrs. Watt, who has long been rated as one of the popular and accomplished pianists in fast being known for her ability as an organist. Ranger is fortunate in having such a wonderful pipe organ which is more than surrounding theatres may boast of.

The extra feature promises to be delightful and selections offered were carefully chosen from an extensive repertoire.

Mrs. Cash Hostess To Day's Entertainment

Mrs. C. C. Cash entertained members of the Woodman Circle Workers club and guests with a covered dish luncheon and social at her home, Mesquite street, Friday.

Entertaining rooms were gaily decked in summer flowers for the compliment, bringing into the pleasant hour needle work in the morning, luncheon at high noon and an auction sale and social in the afternoon.

Members and guests were: Mmes. Ella V. Reynolds, Vera Ringold, and daughter, Ruby Greer, Claude Barney and children, Lena Patterson, Edna Williamson, Minnie Shirley, Ruby Moseley, R. T. Neville, L. C. Keel and daughter.

The next meeting was announced for Friday afternoon, June 29, at the home of Mrs. Patterson.

Vacation Church School Opens Monday, June 4

The annual vacation school will open at the Methodist church Monday, June 4, at 8:30, under the general supervision of Mrs. C. D. Woods, superintendent of the children's division, and will continue for two weeks, five days a week.

The school will be for beginners, primary and junior departments. Each department will be supervised by capable instructors, aided by assistants. Special attention will be given to training the children in singing. At the close of the study there will be a special program for parents and friends.

Mothers are asked to have their children at the church in the morning at the named hour, 8:30.

Official Board Meeting At Christian Church Monday Evening

An official board meeting is to be held at the First Christian church Monday evening, 8 o'clock. All members are urged to be present for the meeting.

Ladies' Auxiliary To Observe Joint Meeting With Eastland

Ladies auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church will motor to Eastland Monday afternoon for a joint program with members of the Presbyterian auxiliary of that place. The hour to open at 3 o'clock promises to be one of interest and all members are urged to plan on attending.

Personally Speaking

Weekly/Sunday School Lesson

Jesus in the Shadow of the Cross

Text: Matt. 26:4-75
BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of Advance

THE shadow of the cross was upon Jesus and his disciples. Jesus understood it. For some time, apparently, he had realized that his earthly mission was moving toward fulfillment in tragedy and sacrifice.

It is not easy for us to discern or reconstruct the human process of development in the mind of Jesus. We are so accustomed to think of him as omniscient, and so inevitably associate with him divine powers, that it is not easy for us to grasp the reality of his humanity, that the divine life in him was a life lived in the flesh.

The New Testament expresses this concerning his early life when it says that Jesus "increased in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man." But this normal development was true, also, of his later life.

Apparently it was as his ministry progressed that he began gradually to realize that the fulfillment of his Father's will and purpose would be in his own sacrifice and death.

But even to the last he struggled in a human way against the idea, and we see him in the agony of Gethsemane, praying earnestly that the cup may pass from him; but with equal earnestness accepting the Father's will, whatever it may be.

THUS we see Jesus with his disciples in the shadow of the cross. The disciples did not understand what was happening or what was impending for them all. They may have had in mind the triumphal entry that Jesus had made into Jerusalem a few days before; and they might naturally have concluded that the coming of the Kingdom in earthly splendor and power, for which they had looked, was about to be realized.

the members be present at this time. Preaching, by the pastor, 8:15 p. m. Subject, "Scarescrows in Religion."

Don't forget we are to begin our protracted meeting on the night of June 16. Don't miss any of the sermons between now and then.

The missionary ladies will meet Monday afternoon, time and place to be announced this morning.

Official board will meet Monday evening at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

Come and worship with us.

Miss Sammy Ruth Matthews will offer a reading at the evening service.

Cagney Coming to Arcadia Today In "Jimmy the Gent"
"Jimmy the Gent," the Warner Bros. picture starring James Cagney, will be the feature attraction at the Arcadia theatre for a Sunday run today.

The picture is based on the hilarious comedy romance by Laird Doyle and Ray Nazarro and concerns two crooks who are both trying to expose the other to impress the girl they both love.

The story unfolds in humorous vein the unique racket of heir chasing, that is, the hunting down of lost heirs in order to inherit unclaimed estates. And the two notorious heir chasers, James Cagney and Alan Dinehart, do not stop at bribing persons to act as heirs and coaching them into perjured testimony.

Bette Davis is the feminine lead opposite Cagney and the girl over whom Cagney and Dinehart do battle for her love. Alice White, Allen Jenkins and Mayo Method are said to supply much of the comedy element although the fast talking and fast acting Jimmy always turns up with his share.

The romantic angle is not neglected and is supplied by two couples, Cagney and Miss Davis and Allen Jenkins and Miss White. Other prominent members of the cast include Arthur Hohl, Phillip Reed, Hobart Cavanaugh, Mayo Method, Ralfe Harold, Phillip Faversham and Nora Lane.

The House passed the bank "pay off" bill, which was to be expected. Imagine a congressman turning down a "pay off"!

PROCEEDINGS IN COURT OF CIVIL APPEALS

The following proceeds were had in the Court of Civil Appeals, Eleventh Supreme Judicial District of Texas:

Affirmed in Part; Reversed and Dismissed in Part—The American Legion, William Frank Martin Post No. 185, Department of Texas, vs. Big Spring Veterans, Inc., Howard.

Reversed and Remanded—City of Abilene et al. vs. American Surety Co. et al. Taylor.

Reversed and Rendered—City of Cross Plains vs. J. M. Radford, et al. Taylor.

Motions Submitted—J. R. Headrick et al. vs. John S. Roach, appellant's motion for rehearing; A. M. Ferguson, temp. admr. vs. A. S. Mauzey, application for writ of mandamus, writ of prohibition, or writ of contempt of court; Mrs. Lessie Jones Sanders et al. vs. Mrs. A. R. Lowmore, et al. appellant's motion to strike appellee's brief; Texas Employers Insurance Assn. vs. R. G. Burnett, appellant's motion for rehearing; J. H. Huff vs. W. T. Huff et al. appellant's motion for rehearing; Zack Mullins et ux. vs. Continental Savings & Loan Assn., motion to return mandate; Texas Life Insurance vs. Mrs. Verna Plunkett, agreed motion to postpone submission.

Motions Granted—Texas Life Insurance Co. vs. Mrs. Verna Plunkett, agreed motion to postpone submission.

Motions Denied—A. M. Ferguson, temp. admr. vs. A. S. Mauzey, application for writ of mandamus, writ of prohibition, or writ of contempt of court.

Motions Dismissed—Mrs. Lessie Jones Sanders, et al. vs. Mrs. A. R. Lowmore, et al. appellant's motion to dismiss appellee's brief.

Motions Overruled—J. W. Leatherwood vs. Wm. W. Snider, appellant's motion for rehearing; J. R. Sessums, et al. vs. Citizens National Bank, appellant's motion for rehearing; Jose Tallabas, ind. etc. vs. Wing Cheng, et al. appellee's second motion for rehearing.

Apparently they did not at all understand the words of Jesus when he warned them concerning the trials that would come upon them.

When he suggested that even their faith and their loyalty might fail they were, naturally, indignant. Had they not given up all things to follow Jesus? Were they not equal to any emergency?

There is a touch of reproach in the protest of Peter "though all men shall be offended because of thee, yet will I never be offended." Even when Jesus had assured Peter that he should deny him, Peter was still confident, and all the disciples joined him in asserting their unflinching loyalty.

HOW soon the warning of Jesus was justified! With great weariness Jesus went into Gethsemane in prayer. He was "sorrowful and very heavy," and he poured out the burden of his heart to Peter, James, and John—the three disciples whom he might expect best to understand him and sympathize with him.

It was then that he went a little farther and alone in prayer poured out his agonizing petition that the cup might pass from him, coming to the disciples, he found them asleep, and there is sadness in his words, "What could ye not watch with me one hour?"

It was not of himself, however, that he was thinking. He was thinking of all that would test these disciples in the great life and work to which they had committed themselves, and his concern was that through faithfulness and prayer they might find strength to conquer temptation and to subdue the weakness of the flesh.

A second and third time Jesus left the disciples and came back and found them asleep. Then with the hour of fate at hand, with reproach subdued, in sadness he bade the weary disciples sleep on or to arise and go with him, for the betrayer was near at hand.

AUSTIN, Tex.—Former Governor Ross S. Sterling, back in the oil fields, is happier than for years although he is working longer hours. Walter Sterling, here for an oil hearing, said his father is enjoying the return to active oil production and is in excellent health. The former governor's company has 18 derricks crews at work. The work is proving successful. The company is getting around 3,000 barrels of oil daily.

Three thousand barrels of oil a day, at recent prices, may quickly recoup losses Sterling experienced after leaving the oil game.

Those who recall how he built a small oil business into the Humble Oil and Refining Company will not be surprised to see him again a major figure in the oil world.

Ross Sterling Is Happy to Be Back In Oil Business

Eleven men are running for governor—an office which some believe the state could abolish with little embarrassment. A movement has been started to abolish with little embarrassment, governor—pardoning.

Extradition matters could, more appropriately, be handled by the court of criminal appeals; the secretary of state prepares many, and might as well issue most of the proclamations.

Two-thirds of the legislature can pass laws regardless of a governor's veto. In these days of disputed policies, there is some contention that every law should require two-thirds vote. If that were made the rule, the governor's veto power would disappear.

Election of a governor is supposed to determine the public wish on policies. Skillful candidates so mix the issues that the voter must be favored to get a candidate who professes to be for other things.

A statute provides a way to put issues on primary election ballots. If adopted they become party pledges. It seldom is used. An effort to use this method of passing on repeal of state prohibition was defeated at the last meeting of the state democratic executive committee. The committee made up the ballot June 11. A fresh effort for a referendum may be made then.

"If oil men were assured that Gov. Ferguson would appoint R. D. Parker (now in charge of East Texas oil enforcement) chairman of a new commission, demand for an immediate session would start," said a commission employe, who, for obvious reasons, will not permit use of his name.

Special Oil Session Rumors Are Heard

AUSTIN.—Despite insistence of the Governors Ferguson that there is no prospect of a legislative oil session, the report persists of an early summer session to create a new oil commission.

Rangers to Catch Crooks, Then Talk

AUSTIN, Tex.—Adjutant-General Henry Hutchings has issued orders to state rangers to "Catch them first." After they, meaning criminals, are caught, Rangers may talk. Talk before capture will mean a vacancy to be filled on the Ranger force.

The general, one-time newspaper publisher, says he is not attempting to establish a censorship. "When something is accomplished, we will gladly furnish information about it," he said. His ban is against statements about plans. Most criminals can read, the general believes. If they can't they have friends who can.

Few Rangers heed the General's order. Seasoned news men, long ago learned that when Rangers "put out" something, it is for the purpose of misleading the persons sought.

Central Bureau of Crime Seems Certain

AUSTIN.—The pursuit that ended in death for Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, likely will lead to establishment of a central crime bureau when the next legislature convenes.

Both the Barrow and Hamilton chases demonstrated the faults of the existing uncoordinated agencies.

State highway patrolmen, assured by Fort Worth police that Barrow's fingerprints connected him with the slaying of highway patrolman at Grapevine, centered on his capture. Tarrant county officers charged Raymond Hamilton's brother and Bonnie Parker's sister.

Success of Former Ranger Captain Frank Hamer, acting as a state highway patrolman, points to him as the man likely to head the central bureau if it is formed.

For Correct Time

Let us remind you again, as Summer is right upon us, that now is the time to have your Winter clothing demoted and stored away.

By having them demoted and stored, you are also protecting them from the elements, which gradually deteriorate textiles. The atmosphere at times contains elements and compounds quite harmful to clothing. Besides the oxygen, nitrogen, moisture and carbon dioxide which make up the bulk of air, there are found quite often, traces of ozone, nitric acid gas, ammonia gas and also sulphur dioxide. All textiles have a tendency to absorb these elements due to the humidity of the air. And those spots and stains in your clothing that would be quite easy to remove now, might next year, be changed to an insoluble oxide impossible to remove. Every housewife is familiar with the tarnish that collects on silver articles in the home. It is nothing but silver changed to silver sulphide by the air. So even if the moths don't find your clothes, the elements will. Play safe and have them demoted and stored to insure their appearance next fall.

Spring Revue Brilliant Dance Entertainment

The Spring revue presenting pupils of Miss Elizabeth Maxwell, at the Ranger High school auditorium Friday evening was a brilliant entertainment, emphasizing time exercised to a large degree both in dance numbers and gorgeous costumes worn by the dance personnel.

The stage colorfully and fittingly decorated afforded a perfect background for the revue, the last to be presented by Miss Maxwell, who has done much for Ranger children along the line of dance in its different stages.

Ruth Maxwell, sister of the well known instructor, who has served as accompanist since classes were first opened in Ranger, also filled that important place at Friday evening's performance.

From Ranger the talented young ladies go to Houston, where they will continue their work. Good wishes from parents and friends are extended for continued success and dance accomplishments.

The revue so beautifully accentuated through the spring color theme in costume and decorations brought the following numbers:

Pirate—Carolyn Ducker.

Tempo—Cecelia McDowell, Lillian Spears, Marilyn Shertzer, Kathleen Cullum, Betty Sheppard, Glow Worm—Rose Mary Kirby, Buck—Doris Pearlstein.

Let's Make Hay While the Sun Shines—Vera Vivian Cooper.

Over Somebody's Else Shoulder—Lillian Spears.

Baby Tap—Rose Mary Kirby.

Oh, That Kiss—Melvyn Sander.

Black Eyed Susan Brown—Thelma Joyce McIntosh.

Advanced Routine—Kathleen Cullum.

Strut—Barbara Taft.

Soft Shoes—Betty Sheppard.

Rhythm—Jimmie Nottingham.

Wings—Cecelia McDowell.

Easton Bonnet Parade—Carolyn Ducker.

Bettot Orientale—Betty Sheppard.

Personally Speaking

Jack Muirhead of Eastland transacted business in Ranger Friday afternoon.

B. L. Rogers and L. E. Warden, associates of the Lone Star Gas company of Dallas, were business visitors here last week.

Miss Mildred Perdue, employee of the Paramount Hotel coffee shop, has returned from a pleasant visit to Carlsbad Cavern, and other interesting points in New Mexico.

Mrs. S. B. Baker spent Thursday and Friday of last week in Dallas.

Mrs. Raymond Doyle is visiting in San Angelo, where she is at the bedside of her mother who is quite ill.

Miss Marguerite Adamsen will leave tomorrow for Austin, where she will enter summer school at state university.

Roy Jameson, Jr., left yesterday for Lawton, Okla., where he will remain during the summer.

Mrs. O. L. Hill has returned to her home, Elm street, from Mineral Wells, where she was a patient at a sanitarium. Mrs. Hill is remembered as the former Miss Roberta Blankenship.

Mrs. J. S. McDowell and daughter Cecelia, spent Saturday morning in Cisco.

Duncan McRae and sister, Mrs. Mary Eldridge of Fort Worth, arrived in Ranger Friday afternoon to be with their mother, Mrs. D. C. McRae, who underwent an operation at the West Texas Clinic and Hospital Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Fullwood and son Sid Bradley of Longview, are visiting relatives here, among whom are Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cash.

Miss Betty Lynn who has been employed at the Paramount hotel coffee shop for the past week during the absence of Miss Mildred Perdue left today for Fort Worth, where she has accepted a position.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Nottingham of Los Angeles, Calif., are visiting in Ranger with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Nottingham.

Lewis and Saunders Gregg are home for the summer after attending school at state university this year.

Joe Williamson and R. D. Edgar of Abilene were business visitors at the C. E. Maddocks insurance office Saturday.

Gerald Windgate of Eastland visited here Saturday.

Ranger Organist To Be Heard At Arcadia Today

Theatre goers will be given a rare treat today in addition to seeing one of the best pictures of the season, "Jimmy the Gent," with James Cagney, shown at the Arcadia theatre, the coolest spot in town.

A ten-minute organ program scheduled for the hours 3, 5, 7 and 9 p. m., will be played by Mrs. Vera Watt, who was recently heard at this theatre in connection with the presentation of Mrs. Mary Belle Downtain's dance pupils.

Mrs. Watt, who has long been rated as one of the popular and accomplished pianists is fast being known for her ability as an organist. Ranger is fortunate in having such a wonderful pipe organ which is more than surrounding theatres may boast of.

The extra feature promises to be delightful and selections offered were carefully chosen from an extensive repertoire.

Mrs. Cash Hostess To Day's Entertainment

Mrs. C. C. Cash entertained members of the Woodman Circle Workers club and guests with a covered dish luncheon and social at her home, Mesquite street, Friday.

Entertaining rooms were gaily decked in summer flowers for the compliment, bringing into the pleasant hour needle work in the morning, luncheon at high noon and an auction sale and social in the afternoon.

Members and guests were: Mes. Ella V. Reynolds, Vera Ringold, and daughter, Ruby Greer, Claude Barney and children, Lena Patterson, Edna Williamson, Minnie Shirley, Ruby Mosely, R. T. Neville, L. C. Keel and daughter.

The next meeting was announced for Friday afternoon, June 29, at the home of Mrs. Patterson.

Vacation Church School Opens Monday, June 4

The annual vacation school will open at the Methodist church Monday, June 4, at 8:30, under the general supervision of Mrs. C. D. Woods, superintendent of the children's division, and will continue for two weeks, five days a week.

The school will be for beginners, primary and junior departments. Each department will be supervised by capable instructors, aided by assistants. Special attention will be given to training the children in singing. At the close of the study there will be a special program for parents and friends.

Mothers are asked to have their children at the church in the morning at the named hour, 8:30.

Official Board Meeting At Christian Church Monday Evening

An official board meeting is to be held at the First Christian church Monday evening, 8 o'clock. All members are urged to be present for the meeting.

Ladies' Auxiliary To Observe Joint Meeting With Eastland

Ladies auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church will motor to Eastland Monday afternoon for a joint program with members of the Presbyterian auxiliary of that place. The hour to be open at 3 o'clock promises to be one of interest and all members are urged to plan on attending.

Weekly/Sunday School Lesson

Jesus in the Shadow of the Cross

Text: Matt. 26:1-75

BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of Advancement

The shadow of the cross was upon Jesus and his disciples. Jesus understood it. For some time, apparently, he had realized that his earthly mission was moving toward fulfillment in tragedy and sacrifice.

It is not easy for us to discern or reconstruct the human process of development in the mind of Jesus. We are so accustomed to think of him as omniscient, and we so inevitably associate with him divine powers, that it is not easy for us to grasp the reality of his humanity, that the divine life in him was a life lived in the flesh.

The New Testament expresses this concerning his early life when it says that Jesus "increased in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man." But this normal development was true, also, of his later life.

Apparently it was as his ministry progressed that he began gradually to realize that the fulfillment of his Father's will and purpose would be in his own sacrifice and death.

But, even to the last he struggled in a human way against the idea, and we see him in the agony of Gethsemane, praying earnestly that the cup might pass from him; but with equal earnestness accepting the Father's will, whatever it may be.

Thus we see Jesus with his disciples in the shadow of the cross.

The disciples did not understand what was happening or what was impending for them all. They may have had in mind the triumphal entry that Jesus had made into Jerusalem a few days before; and they might naturally have concluded that the coming of the Kingdom in earthly splendor and power, for which they had looked, was about to be realized.

Apparently they did not at all understand the words of Jesus when he warned them concerning the trials that would come upon them.

When he suggested that even their faith and their loyalty might fail they were, naturally, indignant. Had they not given up all things to follow Jesus? Were they not equal to any emergency?

There is a touch of reproach in the protest of Peter "though all men shall be offended because of thee, yet will I never be offended." Even when Jesus had assured Peter that he should deny him, Peter was still confident, and all the disciples joined him in asserting their unflinching loyalty.

How soon the warning of Jesus was justified! With great weariness Jesus went into Gethsemane in prayer. He was "sorrowful and very heavy," and he poured out the burden of his heart to Peter, James, and John—the three disciples whom he might expect best to understand him and sympathize with him.

It was then that he went a little farther and alone in prayer poured out his agonizing petition that the cup might pass. Then, coming to the disciples, he found them asleep, and there is sadness in his words, "What, could ye not watch with me one hour?"

It was not of himself, however, that he was thinking. He was thinking of all that would test these disciples in the great life and work to which they had committed themselves, and his concern was that through watchfulness and prayer they might find strength to conquer temptation and to subdue the weakness of the flesh.

A second and third time Jesus left the disciples and came back and found them asleep. Then with the hour of fate at hand, with reproach subdued, in sadness he bade the weary disciples sleep on or to arise and go with him, for the betrayer was near at hand.

The members be present at this time.

Preaching, by the pastor, 8:15 p. m. Subject, "Scarecrows in Religion."

Don't forget we are to begin our protracted meeting on the night of June 16. Don't miss any of the sermons between now and then.

The missionary ladies will meet Monday afternoon, time and place to be announced this morning.

Official board will meet Monday evening at 8 o'clock. All the members are urged to be present.

Come and worship with us.

Miss Sammy Ruth Matthews will offer a reading at the evening service.

Cagney Coming to Arcadia Today In "Jimmy the Gent"

"Jimmy the Gent," the Warner Bros. picture starring James Cagney, will be the feature attraction at the Arcadia theatre for a Sunday run today.

The picture is based on the hilarious comedy romance by Laird Doyle and Ray Nazarro and concerns two crooks who are both trying to expose the other to the police.

The story unravels in humorous vein the unique racket of hair chasing, that is, the hunting down of lost heirs in order to inherit unclaimed estates. And the two notorious heir chasers, James Cagney and Alan Dinehart, do not stop at bribing persons to act as heirs and coaching them into perjured testimony.

Bette Davis is the feminine lead opposite Cagney and the girl over whom Cagney and Dinehart do battle for her love. Alice White, Allen Jenkins and Mayo Method are said to supply much of the comedy element although the fast talking and fast acting Jimmy always turns up with his share.

The romantic angle is not neglected and is supplied by two couples, Cagney and Miss Davis and Allen Jenkins and Miss White. Other prominent members of the cast include Arthur Hohl, Phillip Reed, Hobart Cavanaugh, Mayo Method, Raife Harold, Phillip Faversham and Nora Lane.

The House passed the bank "pay off" bill, which was to be expected. Imagine a congressman turning down a "pay off"!

Ross Sterling Is Happy to Be Back In Oil Business

AUSTIN, Tex.—Former Governor Ross S. Sterling, back in the oil fields, is happier than for years although he is working longer hours. Walter Sterling, here for an oil hearing, said his father is enjoying the return to active oil production and is in excellent health. The former governor's company has 18 derricks crews at work. Their work is proving successful. The company is getting around 3,000 barrels of oil a day, at present rates, may quickly recoup losses Sterling experienced after leaving the oil game.

Those who recall how he built a small oil business into the Humble Oil and Refining Company will not be surprised to see him again a major figure in the oil world.

Eleven Seek Office Of Chief Executive

AUSTIN.—Eleven men are running for governor—an office which some believe the state could abolish with little embarrassment. A movement has been started to abolish with little embarrassment, governor—pardoning.

Extradition matters could, more appropriately, be handled by the court of criminal appeals; the secretary of state prepares many, and might as well issue most of the proclamations.

Two-thirds of the legislature can pass laws regardless of a governor's veto. In these days of disputed policies, there is some contention that every law should require two-thirds vote. If that were made the rule, the governor's veto power would disappear.

Election of a governor is supposed to determine the public wish on policies. Skillful candidates so mix the issues that the voter must ballot against some of the things he favors to get a candidate who professes to be for other things.

A statute provides a way to put issues on primary election ballots. If adopted they become party pledges. It seldom is used. An effort to use this method of passing on repeal of state prohibition was defeated at the last meeting of the state democratic executive committee. The committee makes up the ballot June 11. A fresh effort for a referendum may be made then.

Special Oil Session Rumors Are Heard

AUSTIN.—Despite insistence of the Governors Ferguson that there is no prospect of a legislative oil session, the report persists of an early summer session to create a new oil commission.

"If oil men were assured that Gov. Ferguson would appoint R. D. Parker (now in charge of East Texas oil enforcement) chairman of a new commission, demand for an immediate session would start," said a commission employee, who, for obvious reasons, will not permit use of his name.

Rangers to Catch Crooks, Then Talk

AUSTIN, Tex.—Adjutant-General Henry Hutchings has issued orders to state rangers to "Catch them first." After they, meaning criminals, are caught, Rangers may talk. Talk before capture will mean a vacancy to be filled on the Ranger force.

The general, one-time newspaper publisher, says he is not attempting to establish a censorship. "When something is accomplished, we will gladly furnish information about it," he said. His ban is against statements about plans. Most criminals can read, the general believes. If they can't they have friends who can.

Few Rangers need the General's order. Seasoned news men long ago learned that when Rangers "put out" something, it is for the purpose of misleading the persons sought.

Central Bureau of Crime Seems Certain

AUSTIN.—The pursuit that ended in death for Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, likely will lead to establishment of a central crime bureau when the next legislature convenes.

Both the Barrow and Hamilton chases demonstrated the faults of the existing uncoordinated agencies.

State highway patrolmen, assured by Fort Worth police that Barrow's fingerprints connected him with the slaying of highway patrolman at Grapevine, centered on his capture. Tarrant county officers charged Raymond Hamilton's brother and Bonnie Parker's sister.

Success of Former Ranger Captain Frank Hamer, acting as a state highway patrolman, points to him as the man likely to head the central bureau if it is formed.

Let us remind you again, as Summer is right upon us, that now is the time to have your Winter clothing demoted and stored away.

By having them demoted and stored, you are also protecting them from the elements, which gradually deteriorate textiles. The atmosphere at times contains elements and compounds quite harmful to clothing. Besides the oxygen, nitrogen, moisture and carbon dioxide which make up the bulk of air, there are found quite often, traces of ozone, nitric acid gas, ammonia gas and also sulphur dioxide. All textiles have a tendency to absorb these elements due to the humidity of the air. And those spots and stains in your clothing that would be quite easy to remove now, might next year, be changed to an insoluble oxide impossible to remove. Every housewife is familiar with the tarnish that collects on silver articles in the home. It is nothing but silver changed to silver sulphide by the air. So even if the moths don't find your clothes, the elements will. Play safe and have them demoted and stored to insure their appearance next fall.
