SPECIAL SESSION TO CONVENE IN SEPTEMBER

NATIONS DEATH TOLL REACHES 142 ON FOURTH

By United Press
America's celebration of the fourth of July under widespread police orders for a safe and sane observance resulted in 142 violent deaths, a United Press survey revealed today.

But the danger from explosives, once most feared on Independence Day, was reduced to the lowest point in many years. Only five fireworks deaths were reported. Many thousands, however, suffered injuries in firecracker and sky-rocket accidents, the total running to almost 2,500 in New York city alone.

Airplane and traffic accidents killed more than 50 throughout the nation as highways were jammed with crowds. About the same number was drowned.

Wins Last-Hour Stay of Death

A second reprieve from the death chair, only an hour before execution time, has given new hope to Mrs. Anna Antonio, above. A new statement by Vincent Smetta, one of the two men convicted of slaying the woman's husband, denying that she hired them to murder, stayed execution of all three until July 9, for further investigation.

Bullock Revival Still In Progress

The Bullock revival meeting is progressing and will likely run a few days next week.

The Rev. C. J. Cloud is bringing great Gospel messages inspiring the people to strive to go in the way of right, light, and truth of Christ. During the first three days of the meeting the revivalist preached answering three important questions: "Why I Believe in God," "Why I Believe in Christ," "Why I Believe in the Bible."

He answered these questions by saying that he could not get along without God; that he could not get along without Christ; that he could not get along without the inspired word of God, the Holy Bible.

Everyone is cordially invited to come to worship God and hear Brother Cloud preach. He has been in the active ministry of the Methodist connection for 16 years, serving most of the time as pastor and part of the time as traveling evangelist.

The pastor of the Ranger circuit of Methodist churches announces that there will be preaching on the regular appointment at the Mount Zion church Sunday afternoon at 8 o'clock. We will try to have the Rev. C. J. Cloud to be present to preach at Mount Zion.

Candidates Have Spent Much On State Campaigns

Unsold City Bonds Destroyed by Fire

EL PASO, Tex.—Fire destroyed $763,022 worth of unsold El Paso city bonds.

Five Are Killed In Plane Crash

ST. ANSGAR, Iowa, July 5.—An Independence Day celebration left an aftermath of mourning in three communities today for five people killed in the crash of a flaring plane within sight of several thousand.

Almost instantaneously it broke into flames.

Ferguson Takes To Stump Again

ITASCA, Texas, July 5.—Former Governor Jim Ferguson returned to the political stump here last night with his old-time fire, homely illustrations and eloquence.

C. C. McDonald in the logical man for Texas to elect governor, was Ferguson's plea. McDonald's platform and his ability to carry it out should be in the people's minds when they vote, he said.

Citing McDonald's 10 years' service as secretary of state and assistant attorney general, Ferguson got the crowd aroused with the declaration: "We do not want any more children in the governor's chair."

EASTLAND TO HAVE 50 CENT GAS AT ONCE

At a meeting of the Eastland city commission this morning, which was attended by officials of the Community Natural Gas Company, which operates the gas distributing plant in Eastland negotiation begun by the commission sometime ago for a lower gas rate and which resulted in the gas company granting a reduction to 67 1/2 cent basic rate, were continued and resulted in a still lower rate of 50 cent net being granted.

The maximum rate under the new agreement is 67 1/2 cents. The 50 cent rate scales down as did the other rates and becomes effective for gas used after June 25.

Officials of the Community Natural, in granting the 50 cent rate, stated they were granting it because of the cooperation the commission and the citizens of Eastland were extending them and in the belief that by reason of the lower rate there would be sufficient increase in volume to justify it.

SAN FRANCISCO WATERFRONT IS STRIKE SCENE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—Violent rioting broke out on San Francisco's waterfront shortly before 10 a. m. today in a longshoremen's strike.

Two freight cars were set on fire. Police rushed charging picket lines of marine strikers, flaying their clubs and firing gas guns.

Two men were shot. One, a spectator, was wounded in the hand and stomach. A striker was shot in the leg. Police said the shots were fired by strikers.

The trouble began after trucks operated by the San Francisco Industrial association, in an effort to break the strike, had made a total of about 15 trips from the McCormick Steamship company pier to a warehouse, carting away coffee and general cargo.

Approximately 2,000 strikers were gathered back of police lines near the Matson Navigation company pier. These pickets saw five break out in two box cars some distance away and seemed to accept the smoke as a signal for action. They surged forward. Police rushed to meet them. Ricks began to fly.

Police brought up a tear gas squad and rained gas bombs on the rioters.

Donald R. Richberg, chief counsel for the N.R.A., will speak tonight.

LARGE CROWDS PRESENT IN RANGER FOR JULY FOURTH

Probably the largest crowd to spend the fourth of July in Ranger was on hand early Wednesday morning and remained throughout the day, taking in all the events that had been planned in connection with the celebration.

The day's activities opened with political speeches. State Senator Clint Small opening the speaking engagements with a talk to a large crowd at The Willows. He was followed by Mark McGee of Fort Worth, who spoke in behalf of United States Senator Tom Connally.

In the afternoon local candidates presented the voters with their campaign views before large crowds.

The Service Club team of the Ranger Twilight League which is showing steady improvement and can be counted upon to be one of the contenders in the second half of the season, played a soft ball game with the Sinclair club, Sinclair winning a closely contested game by a score of 8 to 6. Following this game a Lone Star team played a team of boys from Morton Valley in another free-kicking, closely contested game.

Beginning at 4:30 swimming and diving contests were staged at the Willows swimming pool, with a number of entrants and a large crowd on hand to witness the events. The bathing beauty review was the only event that did not draw a number of contestants and it was called off. The swimming pool committee today announced that the Willows did the best business on Wednesday of any day in the four years it has been operated by the Lions club.

Another large crowd was on hand in Lillard field in the evening to witness the March of Time pageant, which was thoroughly enjoyed and which proved to be much more of a spectacle than anyone had anticipated, the episodes being enacted in a realistic way that proved of much interest. Especially good were the episodes showing the Indian camp, Coronado's march, the Colonial days, the pioneers and the attack on the wagon train by the Indians, the rescue by the cowboys and the holdup of the stagecoach.

Other episodes, which had as much historical backgrounds, but which did not have as much action, were also interesting.

The fireworks display, which was put on in connection with the pageant, was spectacular and presented a beautiful display of fireworks, ending with the portrait of Franklin D. Roosevelt, outlined with burning flares, as Uncle Sam, Miss Liberty, a soldier and sailor formed the immediate foreground, while a group of ex-service men who saw service in the World War and the national guard company stood at attention in the center of the field, while the Lone Star band, which furnished the music for the pageant, played the Star Spangled Banner.

The entire audience stood at attention during the playing of the national anthem and the patriotic tableau which was enacted as the grand finale.

Clint Small and Mark McGee Speak To Ranger Voters

State Senator Clint Small, candidate for the democratic nomination for governor of Texas, spoke before a large Fourth of July crowd at the Willows in Ranger Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Declaring that his gains in all sections of the state show that he no longer is considered a sectional candidate, Senator Small told voters that he would show no favoritism if he is elected to the office.

"Not trying to help the interest of all concerned is the best way that I know how to do a job," Small declared.

"It is not my intention to misrepresent the facts to you and to cause you to exert your efforts in a vain and useless cause, but my support in other sections of the state is more encouraging every day. I have been fortunate to have a fine group of citizens in Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio and other down state cities supporting me."

"From Brownsville to Texarkana, my support is growing daily. In San Antonio I have been told that the men who are supporting me have a better organization than Sterling had four years ago when he carried Bexar county by a large majority," the Senator said.

"I have tried my level best to help this country; I have done my best to represent all of Texas to the best of my ability. If I am elected there will be no favoritism," he said.

Small declared the liquor situation in Texas is deplorable. "It should be the duty of the attorney general to enforce the dry laws as long as they are on the statute books," he asserted.

Small criticized those who would divert a part of the money going to the highway department to use in other governmental branches.

The address by Senator Small was followed by a talk delivered by Mark McGee of Fort Worth in behalf of Senator Tom Connally. He spoke briefly of the accomplishments of Senator Connally in the five years he has been in the United States Senate and urged the voters to return him to the post to which he was elected six years ago for the good of Texas and the entire citizenship of the state.

STATE RELIEF BOND ISSUE TO BE REQUESTED

Session Not To Convene Until After Elections Are Completed.

DALLAS, July 5.—Former Governor James E. Ferguson announced today Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson definitely had decided to call a special session of the state legislature shortly after September 11th.

Alarmed over continued drought conditions, Ferguson said, the governor will ask the legislature to provide for issuance of the remaining $3,500,000 worth of state relief bonds.

The session will not be called until the run-off primary is out of the way and the state democratic convention set for September 11 is over, Ferguson said. But for the election, he intimated, the session would be called sooner.

"If the drought continues two weeks more there will be 200 counties needing relief," he asserted, "instead of the 96 now on the federal list."

"The condition is now statewide and only a five or six inch rain can help. Even a soaking fall over the state can't help the corn crop much. The situation will be faced with the most serious situation in its history if the dry spell continues much longer, coming as it does on top of a world-wide depression."

"The situation will be worse even than the blue days of last winter for any country that doesn't make a corn crop in its adversity."

"In travelling from Travis to Hill county yesterday Ferguson said he saw no cotton that would make over a bale to 15 acres or any corn that would have five bushels to the acre."

Aspirin Prices Changed By Bayer

A new schedule of prices for Bayer Aspirin tablets—the lowest in the history of the Bayer company—went into effect yesterday in all Ranger drug stores. The Bayer company introduced Bayer Aspirin in this country 35 years ago. It has since become one of the most widely used of all drug products and the price reduction will mean a saving to millions of customers. Last year the Bayer company reduced the price of its 100-tablet package and, according to officials of the company, the distribution increased so definitely that it was decided to extend the lower price to include the dozen and two-dozen packages and to again reduce the large family size. In announcing its new consumer price schedule, the Bayer company issued the following statement: "Bayer has always kept faith with its customers by giving them the finest, most uniform product that science can produce. Its decision to reduce prices is evidence of Bayer's desire to extend even further its service to its customers." The new consumer prices of Bayer aspirin are now effective in 60,000 drug stores throughout the United States.

Minister Takes Up Dare of Another

ORANGE, Tex.—Because a Methodist minister dared him, the Rev. C. E. Ekridge, pastor of the First Baptist church, shouted "Whoops" and hurled his 200 pounds into the Sabine river. The Methodist followed suit. The preachers' antics nearly broke up a political rally they were attending.

Massachusetts Town Worried over Library

GREAT BARRINGTON, Mass.—This small town will become very literary if the Probate Court allows the will of J. Shepard Cone's father. A few years ago Mrs. H. H. Mason died and left the town money with which a library known as the Mason Memorial Library was built. It has just been discovered that Cone's father, who died in 1883, left a trust fund for his son. After the son's death, which occurred recently, it was to go to the town for the construction of a library to be known as the Cone Library. The town is wondering what to do about it. A scientist reports that the universe is six thousand million light years in diameter. Some day one of these scientists will make a statement that we can catch him on. The latest fashion advice from Paris is to tint your hair and enamel your finger nails to match your costume—if you don't care to have your friends notice your new dress.

ALLEY OOP

MANY CHANGES IN STATE RACE MAY BE SEEN

By GORDON K. SHEARER United Press Staff Correspondent AUSTIN, Tex.—With four weeks to go, the race for governor in Texas is still a puzzle. Any ranking of the candidates may need much changing by Saturday, July 28, when the ballots are to be cast. Allred continues to be named as leader by most Austin visitors. They give several reasons. Past races have shown him unbeatable in winning votes during a campaign tour. Most of the other candidates are taking jobs at him; that is taken to mean they expect him to be in the run-off. An attack on a candidate whose friends might be won for the second primary with him out is poor politics. Another reason cited by those who pick Allred is that he is expected to get the bulk of the dry vote. The showing between C. C. McDonald and Tom Hunter depends to a considerable extent on the effectiveness of the campaign which Former Gov. James E. Ferguson will launch this month for McDonald. Reports tell of Hunter getting a big following in sections that in past campaigns have been "Ferguson territory." This probably explains why the former governor is planning such an extensive and intensive campaign. After opening at Itasca on July 4, Ferguson will go to Center, Lufkin, Brenham, Cuero and Houston, all of which are old Ferguson strongholds. He will follow with speeches at Edson's famed political roundup, at Dallas, Sweetwater, Lubbock and Coleman. On the eve of the election he will speak for McDonald at San Antonio, where it is hoped a comfortable lead can be built up. Lieut. Gov. Edgar E. Witt and Sen. Clint Small appear to be drawing strength from the same general class of voters—those who are not swayed by any one issue. They appeal to the conservative voters. They frankly say voters must not expect Utopia, whoever wins. Witt's record of having polled the greatest number of votes ever given any one in a Texas election must not be overlooked, nor the fact that he comes from the center of the vote area. Reports of Small accretions are brought to Austin so frequently as almost to suggest a planned design to create a "Small Will Win" psychology. Attacks on race track betting have featured his recent speeches. One of the arguments being advanced by Small is that "Small can beat Allred in a run-off." The same is claimed for Witt. Chances of either Small or Witt would jump 50 per cent with the other out of the race. Maury Hughes, Dallas, remains so far the unknown quantity in the campaign. It is his first state-wide race. That does not mean that he is a political novice. Trained by long association with J. C. Adams, who for many years was Democratic National Committeeman from Texas, Hughes has been state Democratic chairman and a leader in the movement against party bolters. He goes into the race, however, with the party machinery in the hands of a committee that turned him down on two pet projects. One was to place repeal of prohibition on the primary ballot. The other was to have an equal number of men and women on the state Democratic Committee. Edward K. Russell's best hope seems to be to get a wide enough acquaintance this year to make himself a formidable candidate in a later race. He is undoubtedly making friends by his campaign. But if attempting to pick the standing in the governor's race is hard, the attempt in the race for attorney general is harder. Walter Woodward and Bill McCraw have already opened up on each other. McCraw attempts to hang the Lone Star Gas Corporation around Woodward's neck and Woodward is attempting to give McCraw a Klan necktie. Judge H. S. Lattimore of the Court of Civil Appeals at Fort Worth points out that he is on the ballot as a candidate for the Supreme Court under his own initials. It is not an attempt to seek votes through the similarity of his initials with those of his father, Judge O. S. Lattimore of the Court of Criminal Appeals. "Hal" as he is known to friends, is a nickname and could not go on the ballot. He has been on the ballots in all his previous political races as "H. S."

Forged Pardons Are Not New In History of Prison

AUSTIN, Tex.—Forged pardons are not new in Texas. One of the most celebrated releases by spurious order occurred during the administration of the late Gov. J. D. Sayers. A 99-year convict obtained liberty that way. Seen back in his home county by the prosecuting attorney, he left Texas before it was discovered how he left prison. He was not recaptured. A genuine pardon blank with the true signature of Governor Sayers was used in that case. The release, intended for another prisoner, was altered to apply to the 99-year convict. A forged release order freed a prisoner during the recent administration of Gov. Ross S. Sterling. In that case, as in one recently discovered, state stationery was imitated and names forged.

Farmer's Dream Of Riches Gone

HARLEM, Mont., June 30.—Farmer Sam Harvey's dreams of sudden riches vanished to leave him holding a dozen sacks of dusty old bones. Remains of a prehistoric dinosaur were found on a ranch near here. Darwin Harbicht, U. S. A. engineer and assistant to Barnum Brown, curator of the American Museum of Natural History, was notified. Harbicht and his party drove to the fossil find to find the excited Harvey. Asked where the dinosaur fossil was, Harvey grinned elatedly and led them to his house. Inside the house, neatly sacked, were the crumbling remains of the prehistoric giant. Harbicht's disappointment was great—but not as great as that of Harvey, who explained he had sacked the bones to make sure none would be stolen. Removed by inexperienced hands, the bones were worthless. When first reported, the skeleton was all in place and promised to be an important find, in as much as the bones were those of the headed duck bill dinosaur—a freak who breathed through the upper part of his bill while he fed beneath the water with the lower part. It was the first time that such a species had been found in Montana. Harbicht's disappointment was great—but not as great as that of Harvey, who explained he had sacked the bones to make sure none would be stolen. Two of Lost Tribe Are Still Surviving

ST. LOUIS.—A lonely vigil is kept here by the last two members of a lost tribe—that of the Wooden Indians. Chief "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" and Princess "Honky Tonk-aroo" are the only two members of this tribe here who have not joined their fathers in the Happy Hunting Ground. The masculine survivor stands guard outside the smoke shop of Edward Mecklenberg, while the princess adorns the front of the shop of the woman tobacconist, Mrs. Clara Heaghey. For 78 years, since the day Mecklenberg's grandfather purchased the chief, he has been lugged to the sidewalk when the shop opened in the morning and back inside at night—a total of 28,489 round trips, if you're interested. Once adorned with a tomahawk in one hand and a peace pipe in the other, the chief has suffered from the ravages of time and the mischievousness of small boys. He now stands empty-handed. Only once has he left his stand in those 78 years—in 1896 he was blown 15 feet by a cyclone. The princess has not been so lucky about being carried to shelter at night. Her feet are buried ankle-deep in a block of concrete to prevent her being carried off by an aspiring "suitor."

Cavalry Has Beer, Infantry Has None At Encampments

AUSTIN, Tex.—The cavalry lads have a new one to pull on the doughboys when relative advantages of the service are the topic. Troopers of the Texas National Guard had beer at their two-week encampment near Mineral Wells. The doughboys will have no beer at Palacios next month. At least they are destined to go dry unless Maj. Gen. John A. Hulen changes his mind and orders. So far he has refused to permit beer at the Palacios encampment. Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters ruled in favor of beer for the encampment of the cavalry brigade which he commands. It was at the canteen there both on tap and in bottles. Bottled beer was served for 10 cents. Mugs of draught beer were a nickel. Officers were not permitted to drink at the canteen. Beer was served as part of the officers' mess. General Wolters says the serving of beer caused no disorder, was easily handled and seemed to please the personnel. Incidentally, the Palo Pinto county encampment was the first National Guard encampment at which beer has been permitted in many years. General Hulen's chief objection to permitting beer at Palacios is said to be because many of the infantrymen are minors. PRIEST CELEBRATES 50 YEAR. ST. LOUIS.—Rt. Rev. Mgr. James J. McGlynn, pastor of St. Rose Catholic Church here, celebrated his 50th anniversary as head of the church July 17th. More than 100 priests and priests participated in the ceremonies. It took eight years to compile the latest Webster's Dictionary, but it won't take a year before it gets out of date.

Mastodon Skeleton Found in Mexico

JUAREZ, Mex.—Proof that giant animals of a by-gone day roamed northern and western Chihuahua was found in an arroyo near Madera recently. U. S. Consul W. P. Blocker reported an almost perfect skeleton of a mastodon was excavated on the Las Varas ranch. A Mexican ranch hand saw one of the mastodon's tusks sticking up through the arroyo soil, and the digging resulted. The skeleton is about five times the size of an elephant skeleton.

Devil's Sink Hole Produces Guano

ROCKSPRINGS, Tex.—Devil's Sink Hole, 13 miles east of here, has become something more than an attraction for sightseers. A group of Dallas business men are installing machinery to recover guano deposited in the cavern during the centuries it was used as a roosting place for birds. Guano is valuable in agriculture and war for its nitrate content. CAT MOTHER OF 125. SCITUATE, Mass.—"Mother Cat," living up to her name, has had more than 125 kittens. Mother Cat, which celebrated her 11th birthday recently, is never happy, according to Mrs. Bernice S. Cushman, owner and wife of a lighthouse keeper, unless she has a litter of kittens to mother. If the cat has no family of her own, she adopts some of the neighbors' and cares for them during kittenhood.

Gaynor and Farrell In 'Change of Heart'

Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell score personal triumphs in "Change of Heart," their first co-starring vehicle in 18 months, which opened yesterday at the Arcadia. It's a story big enough for their reunion—Kathleen Norris' romance of modern youth wrestling love and happiness out of a skyscraper world. The novel appeared under the title "Manhattan Love Song," and it is amid topple towers of New York that the romance of America's sweethearts unfolds.

"Change of Heart" brings you a new, grown-up Janet Gaynor. She's a vivid, real-life heroine, grown to womanhood, and experiencing all the emotions of a woman. And Farrell is no longer the dreaming boy, but a man who challenges the world and faces its confusion and cross-currents of life. James Dunn and Ginger Rogers complete the quartette of youth around which the drama revolves.

The story is a drama of epic struggle and inspiring love. It portrays with astounding realism the hardships of four youngsters just one of college, two girls and two boys. Banded together by ties of loyalty, they enter the portals of a big city and begin their brave fight to realize their ambitions. Through all their adventures run a complex love situation. The love of Janet Gaynor for Farrell, however, soon becomes the focal interest of the plot. Farrell finally realizes his love for Gaynor, and when Ginger Rogers returns from a trip, he faces a showdown as to whether he will remain faithful to Janet or be lured away by an old yearning for Ginger Rogers.

The love scene between Miss Gaynor and Farrell in an East Side tenement after she has nursed him back to convalescence is probably unique in picture history. It's a memorable scene that ranks with the wedding scene in "Seventh Heaven" as one of the "big moments" of all time.
 The two romantic teams, Gaynor and Farrell and Rogers and Dunn do splendidly in roles that are perfectly suited to their talents. Humorous touches enliven the drama. The picture closes its local run at the Arcadia today.

Move to Boycott Indecent Movies Started In Houston

By United Press
 HOUSTON, Tex.—A movement to boycott indecent motion pictures shown in Houston has been started here by the Legion of Decency.
 The legion called for 20,000 Houstonians to assist in the drive against salacious movies by pledging themselves not to attend.
 The Legion of Decency was organized locally last week when sentiment throughout the state began to be voiced publicly.
 Favorable reaction to the campaign and to the legion, sponsored by the Catholic clergy, is growing.
 The Rev. George A. Wilhelm, pastor of the Holy Name Catholic Church and leader of the movement here for cleaner movies, said he was promised cooperation from the Ministerial Alliance and the Baptist Pastors' Conference.
 Plans of the legion are to boycott the theater that insists on billing movies considered "indecent" until the management agrees to "clean up," the Rev. Mr. Wilhelm said.
 "Cleaner movies are a real need and I am sure a favorable reaction will be forthcoming from the Alliance," Secretary F. C. Fields said. "We have discussed the matter and find that the project has our sympathy. We hope the force of public opinion will aid us to get cleaner movies and to uphold all morals."

 The movies, Father Wilhelm said, are getting steadily worse, coming to "a climax this past spring with a number of indecent films."
 "It was only through such a legion that the drive against these indecent pictures could be made successful."
 "For years we have been urging the motion picture industry to cut out the rough stuff," he added. "But they laughed at us. We know that decent shows draw better crowds than salacious ones and we will prove that to the movie people with our Legion of Decency."

The legion is getting millions of signatures from right thinking people all over the nation, he said, and 20,000 pledge cards are being distributed in Houston.
 Father Wilhelm said he was certain similar legions would be organized soon in other Texas cities which he understood were making similar clean-up drives.
 "The movies have a wonderful opportunity for presenting worthwhile shows, but they have been debauched and put in the honky-tonk class," he asserted.
 "Something terrible has happened to America since the World War, some sort of moral breakdown. It is time for America to wake up and get over the jazz age."
 "We should end this deluge of rotten movies, indecent dances that have been introduced here from South America, and other phases of immoral attitudes."
 The Legion of Decency added that in order to do this there should be an effort made toward temperance.

 "I don't mean prohibition, because while that is a fine ideal, we know it is not practical."

History of Texas Rangers Is Written

By United Press
 FORT WORTH, Tex.—A romantic and colorful history of the Texas Rangers has been completed by C. L. Douglas, Fort Worth Newspaperman, and published by the Southwestern Press.
 The book, entitled "Gentlemen in the White Hats," is factual as well as picturesque relation of the famous Texas constabulary, dealing with such figures as Captain McNelly of the old time Rangers and Tom Hickman of the modern era.
 An interesting chapter deals with Capt. Frank Hamer and his capture of Texas' most famous outlaw since Sam Bass, the murdering Clyde Barrow and his gun-moll, Bonnie Parker.
 The author has been engaged in newspaper work for 11 years and has spent most of those years in Texas. "Gentlemen in the White Hats" is his first book.
 The Harvard professor who said thinking caused the depression had to have the depression to make him think of that.

Vigilantes Watch Traffic Violations In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH.—In addition to keeping one eye cocked for motorcycle policemen, Fort Worth motorists now have to keep the other eye set for the vigilantes.
 A lookout for the vigilantes, however, will be unavailing, as the members are secret. The vigilantes is an organization comprised of citizens who duty it is to watch out for traffic violators.
 The organization, believed the only one of its kind in the state, was formed not only to curb traffic violations but also to reduce the number of automobile fatalities in Fort Worth.
 The committee works like this: A member spots a violator. The member reports it to the committee. The committee sends the violator a letter of warning. The committee members keep check on the violator. Future offenses will be reported to the police.
 Judge Harry Boynton commended the plan. He said police would follow-up the vigilantes and arrest violators when the driver was identified positively.

 When Chevrolet announced price reductions several weeks ago, something important happened... something of vital concern to every buyer of a low-price car: Chevrolet stepped into the most favorable price position it has enjoyed in a long time!
 Reductions amounting to as much as $50—the most substantial price cuts announced in the low-price field this year—dropped Chevrolet's base price to a new low figure of $465. Just compare this price—compare any Chevrolet price—with those of other cars. Then compare what you get for what you pay! There'll be no question in your mind which car to buy, once you do.
 Chevrolet offers patented Knee-Action—and others do not! Chevrolet alone has a Fisher body! And the same thing applies to cable-controlled brakes, Y-K frame, shock-proof steering, and 80-horsepower, valve-in-head six-cylinder engine. Chevrolet gives you far more features—far finer quality—a far better name for dependability. Yet the price of the Chevrolet Standard is lower than that of any other six or, of course, any eight in the world.

HENRY DAVENPORT
 Candidate For
Commissioner Precinct No. 1
 ANSWERS ATTACK MADE ON HIM BY FRIENDS OF HIS OPPONENTS

There has been a rumor in circulation over the Commissioner's Precinct the past week or ten days that I was responsible for the wage scale that was now being paid all CWA employees and employees under the new set up. This has been most unfair to me as the statement below will show that I had nothing whatsoever to do with the making of the scale of wages, neither was I ever asked my opinion on the wage scale as now exists.

Friends of my opponents are using this against me in their campaign to get votes—and in order that the people may know, and believing that the people will be fair and impartial in their decision, am publishing the following letter. Will appreciate anyone interested in taking the time to check on these statements made by these parties and also to check my record from any angle that they may see fit.

Following is the letter:

EASTLAND COUNTY RELIEF ADMINISTRATION
 General Office at Eastland, Texas
 July 2nd, 1934.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:
 In order to clarify some misunderstanding regarding the appointees of the Eastland County Wage Scale committee, this is to advise that Mr. G. W. Leaverton of Ranger, Texas, a member of the Carpenters' Union, was appointed to represent organized labor. Mr. Pete Coole of the Cisco Lumber & Supply Company, was appointed to represent construction labor and Mr. M. B. Kowalski, county project superintendent, of the Eastland County Relief Board, was appointed to represent the Eastland County Relief organization.

The above appointees were selections made by the county relief committee with the exception of Mr. M. B. Kowalski, who was appointed a member of the wage scale committee on orders from our Austin headquarters. The above applies to the work division of the FEPA inaugurated after CWA activities ceased on March 29th, 1934.

The wage scale applied to all CWA activities over the entire county was a scale set up to apply to this entire county by our Austin Headquarters and applied to the entire CWA program until it stopped operations March 29th, 1934.

It has been brought to my attention misunderstandings have arisen regarding the selections made for the work division of FEPA Wage Scale committee, as well as the wage scale set for the old CWA program and the above is self-explanatory.

Yours very truly,
 H. E. DRISCOLL,
 County Administrator.
