Mrs. O. C. Byers, 38, and Ray Byers, 3, died in a Greenville hospital both of fractured skulls and other injuries.

O. C. Byers Jr., 12, was not expected to recover. He suffered a fractured skull and a broken left leg. The others were less seriously injured.

All of the occupants of the automobile were en route from Martin, where O. C. Byers Sr. is employed on a highway project to Braashear, to make their home with Mrs. Byers' father, J. H. Romack.

RACE RIOTS IN CONSTANTINE CONTINUED

CONSTANTINE, Algeria, Aug. 8.—Heavy detachments of police and troops patrolled the streets of Constantine today, hoping to check another murderous uprising by Arabs.

Inhabitants of Jewish quarters, covering in fear, learned the traditional enemies planned a massed onslaught. The entire city was tense with terror.

Latest estimates of the victims dead and wounded in three days and nights of race rioting reached 400. Twenty-three were dead and 40 more were critically wounded. Four of the dead were children. Their throats had been cut.

The outbreaks were believed due to two primary causes; first, an inflamed religious feeling and second resentment at high rates of interest charged by Jewish money lenders.

S. E. Wilkins Is Masonic Speaker at Ranger Meeting

Six lodges were represented, with a total attendance of about 60 Masons from over this section of the state last night when S. E. Wilkins of Dallas, representative of the Masonic grand lodge of Texas, was the principal speaker. The meeting was presided over by C. E. May, district deputy grand master of the seventy-third Masonic district. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

The speaker presented an interesting talk on educational and service lines, which was not only interesting, but educational to all who heard him.

Allred spoke in Ranger during the first campaign and drew one of the largest crowds of any speaker to appear in Ranger. A concerted effort has been made by Allred supporters throughout the county to have a large crowd present at Eastland tonight to hear the candidate.

A large delegation is expected to go to Eastland tonight from Ranger, headed by a group of Allred supporters and those who have worked in the interest of his candidacy throughout the campaign.

NEW SETUP IS ANNOUNCED ON DIRECT RELIEF

AUSTIN, Aug. 8.—Relief for destitute families in Texas will be issued hereafter in units of dollars and cents, rather than in units of pounds of beef, pods of okra or vitamins.

Use of itemized grocery orders for families on relief was ordered discontinued today by Adam Johnson, state relief director.

"While we have just so much to allot each person for food needs, we ought not to have the right to prescribe the diet of each relief client, even though it might be for his best interest physically," Johnson said.

PRICES SOAR ON EXCHANGES UPON REPORT

Drought Chief Cause of The Short Crop Estimates Over Entire Belt.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Drought burned the 1934 cotton crop to a new low level since 1890, with one exception, a government forecast showed today.

The department of agriculture, in its first formal production estimate, placed the indicated crop at 9,190,600 bales, well within the taxation free limits of 10,460,251 bales under the Bankhead cotton act, and the smallest crop since 1921.

Texas and Oklahoma suffered most severe reductions in the estimates, but the ravages of the sun will be felt throughout the entire belt, the report indicated.

Immediately after the report, Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace summoned officials to discuss its implications. The estimates were said to be below any anticipated by department officials. It was said despite the short production the Bankhead act would be enforced in every respect.

Bursting Stars May Have Caused The Cosmic Rays

NEW YORK—A theory which suggests that cosmic rays have their origin in special "bursting" stars, technically referred to as super-novae stars, has been proposed by Dr. Fritz Zwicky of the California Institute of Technology and Dr. W. Baade of Mount Wilson observatory.

According to Dr. Baade and Dr. Zwicky, these super-novae stars are normal stars which explode—at which time they are prominent in the sky because of the brilliant light which accompanies the eruption. In the process of bursting they may lose more than half their mass by radiating it into inter-stellar space.

Both ordinary light and ultra-violet light result as part of this flaring up. Simultaneously with the transmission of these two types of light, the theory holds that cosmic rays also are projected into space.

That cosmic rays have their origin beyond the boundaries of our own galaxy, which consists in part of the sun, moon and earth, has been scientifically acquired to Dr. Robert Millikan and Arthur Compton in addition to numerous other well known astronomers.

For the past two decades during which time cosmic rays have received the serious and continuous attention of scientists, no super-novae star has been known to have burst. Thus any opportunity to prove that the cosmic rays might have their birth in our own local star system such as the Milky Way has not been presented.

JAMES ALLRED IS TO SPEAK IN EASTLAND

Eastland county friends and supporters of Attorney General James V. Allred, candidate for governor and leader for that office in the July 28 primary, will be afforded an opportunity to hear Mr. Allred when he addresses a county-wide rally of his supporters from the south side of the courthouse lawn in Eastland tonight at 8:30 o'clock.

Judge J. Frank Sparks, one of the outstanding Allred supporters in the county, will have charge of arrangements for the speaking which insures every detail being properly cared for.

Judge N. N. Rosequester of Eastland, also a well known Allred supporter, will introduce the speaker.

Mr. Allred's friends especially invite those who voted for other candidates for governor in the first primary, to hear him tonight. Mr. Allred goes from Eastland to Coleman where he is to speak Thursday afternoon. He will speak at Abilene Thursday night.

President Lauds Mayo Brothers

ROCHESTER, Minn., Aug. 5.—Speaking at a program in honor of the famous Mayo brothers of Rochester, President Roosevelt today declared the unselfish service of medical leaders is necessary for his own social program.

The president paid tribute to Dr. William J. Mayo and Dr. Charles H. Mayo.

"Those of us who are concerned with the problems of government and economics," he observed, "are under special obligation to modern medicine.

"It has taught us," he explained, "that with patience and skill and courage it is possible for human beings to control and improve conditions under which they live."

TIMES WINNER 30 TO 0 OVER SERVICE CLUB

The Ranger Times defeated the Service Club Tuesday afternoon by a score of 30 to 0. Although the Times players made nine errors in the game, Service Club failed to score. Only one hit, a scratch pop fly back of the pitcher's box, was the only hit made by Service Club in the game.

A full team was not on hand and the manager of the Service Club team had to pick up several players to complete his lineup.

The Times did not begin scoring until the second inning, the first three men going out in order, a double play being made after C. Garner had singled. In the second they made two runs, got five more in the third, failed to score in the fourth, made four in the fifth, five more in the sixth and 14 in the seventh.

The lone hit made by Service Club came in the third inning when B. E. Garner led off with a single. In the seventh Gracey and Harwell went in as pinch hitters and both were safe on errors.

Group Discusses A Social Service Program In Ranger

A group of representatives of the various clubs and organizations of the city met in the colonial ballroom of the Gholson hotel Tuesday night to discuss ways of aiding the relief work in Ranger, particularly as it pertains to social service work.

After the object of the meeting was explained by Bailey Thomas, Hunter George, head of the social service department of the Eastland county relief administration, spoke on the aims and objects of the organization and how the clubs and citizenship could co-operate.

After some discussion, in which a number of questions were asked Mr. George, which he answered in a clear-cut way, suggested projects were mentioned. Among the things tentatively suggested as needed in Ranger were parks and playgrounds, a reading and recreation room for those who have no access to libraries or recreational facilities, a community canning plant and other projects that were deemed worthy of consideration.

No action was taken on any of the suggested projects, though, when it was mentioned that there was need of canning facilities to save some of the crops that were now ready to gather, this project was named as one to be gone into and started as soon as possible if it was found that there was need for it.

A suggestion was made that since the Child Welfare club was well versed in this type of work that it supervise and direct all such work and that the other organizations co-operate in helping to promote and supervise them.

After some discussion as to whether or not it would be right to turn all this responsibility over to the group of women who have done so much work along this line already, or to have a committee composed of representatives from all the organizations, it was decided that each representative would be instructed to make a report of the meeting at the next gathering of the clubs represented and the clubs be asked to vote on the proper procedure.

The meeting adjourned after it had evolved into a general discussion on the merits and demerits of all plans suggested. There was no objection to the Child Welfare club handling the projects and supervising them, other than it was thought that the task might be too large for any one organization to handle alone, and it was feared by some that it would place too large a burden on the shoulders of the members of the club.

Another meeting is to be called, probably some time next week, after each club has had an opportunity to discuss the problem and to vote on the questions which arose at the meeting.

Warships Ordered To Seek Vessel

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Two navy warships today were ordered on an errand of mercy. The Battleship Arizona and Cruiser New Orleans, en route from the West Coast to the Canal Zone received instructions from the navy department to alter their course and search for the Belle Isle, American fishing boat, which has been reported lost since June 11, when she sailed from San Diego for Galapagos Island.

OPPRESSION OF NRA ON SMALL TOWNS ENDED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson today ended criticism against NRA oppression by lifting almost all code restrictions on 17 kinds of small-town businesses.

The only restraint continued is that on child labor and fair trade practices, except for price fixing.

The order applies to businesses in towns of 2,500 population or less. Exemptions from hours, wages, operations, price posting and code authority assessment is granted.

Gas Explosion In New York Causes Much Damage

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—A gas explosion that sent a ton of brick and mortar tumbling to the street, damaged four pent houses on the roof of an 18 story building in Greenwich Village today.

One woman was so badly injured police at first believed her dead. Several other persons were injured, one of them being Louis Sobol, Broadway columnist.

Police formed a theory that accumulated gas leaking in one of the pent houses became ignited.

Buck Deer Swam River When Freed

PORTLAND, Ore.—Practically the only movement on the Portland strike-bound waterfront came when a four-year old buck deer swam across the Willamette River after being released from a log boom, where it had become trapped.

Swimming up the river, the deer became entangled in the logs. The buck struggled for some time, held by its large antlers resting on the logs. The deer first tried to fight off two men who went to his rescue, but finally allowed himself to be released. He then swam across the river and upon reaching the shore hurried into the hills.

Football Classic In Mexico to Be Played This Year

BEAUMONT.—Negotiations have been completed between Lamar College sports heads and officials of the University of Mexico for the Cardinals' international Columbus Day gridiron classic with the University of Mexico, Oct. 12.

The game was booked for the National Stadium of Mexico City and be part of the Columbus Day festivities in the Mexican capital.

Columbus Day in Mexico and throughout the Spanish speaking countries as "El Dia de la Raza,"—the day of peace.

Signing of the game came after scores of telegrams were sent to Manuel Estanol Arcestegui, manager of the football team of the University of Mexico.

It was hoped that a return game could be arranged for Beaumont in 1935.

Signing of the Mexico City game practically completed the 10-game schedule for Coach John Gray's 1934 Cardinal team.

The Red Birds will open their football schedule Sept. 21 with Lon Morris College and end their scheduled play with Schneider Institute Nov. 3.

Other scheduled games are: Sept. 29—Southern Louisiana college in Beaumont. Oct. 5—University of Texas Freshmen in Beaumont. Oct. 20—Loyola University Freshmen in Beaumont. ### Mobile Planning A Big Celebration

MOBILE, Ala.—Plans for a celebration, rivaling that of Mardi Gras, here during the height of the azalea season are being made by the Azalea Trail, Inc., non-profit civic organization formed to exploit the famed flower trail.

Steps to raise funds for a celebration that would include coronation of an azalea queen, opera, negro spiritual singing and a water carnival are being considered.

The organization hopes to bring 200,000 visitors here during the 1935 season. Fully 100,000 visitors, including 40,000 who rode automobiles with out-of-state license plates, traversed the 17-mile route of beauty last year. They were checked by CWA workers. More than 70,000 azalea bushes line the trail.

An increased campaign of advertising and publicity, outdistancing the campaign of last spring, will be a part of the organization's program for the 1935 season. The flowers bloom in early spring.

The 1934 exploitation campaign was financed through sale of memberships in the trail corporation at $1 for private citizens and $5 for business men.

Dial Twisters Face Sun Spots

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—Radio dial twisters are scheduled to have just grounds for using strong language during the next decade, according to Jack DeWitt, chief engineer of Station WSM, Nashville.

Static during the next ten years, DeWitt said, will grow increasingly noisier. Catlike wails will become roars sounding like a menagerie of jungle beasts in bad humor.

"Swirling electrons going across the sun" DeWitt explained, "will materially increase the difficulty of clear receptions of broadcasts.

"During intervals of 11 years numerous spots can be observed on the face of the sun. These spots are formed by swirls of electrons swooping across the planet. When they are heaviest, radio reception conditions are worse.

"This condition existed six years ago. Then it cleared away, and the year 1933 was excellent for reception conditions. But since that time, the swirls have been increasing and will continue to do so for five years. Then, the swirls will start disappearing and the year 1944 should be excellent for reception, with the same conditions prevailing as in 1929."

Aviators Hop Off On a Long Flight

WASKEGA BEACH, Ontario, Aug. 8.—Two British aviators, Leonard Reid and J. R. Ayling, took off from Waskega Beach today in an attempt to break the world long distance non-stop flight record by flying to Baghdad, Iraq.

Their black biplane was sighted over Quebec City at noon today, headed due east.

The plane carried 600 gallons of gasoline. The fliers hoped to make the flight of about 6,500 miles in about 65 hours.

He mentioned many practices that are being made by some of the manufacturers in order to get around the provisions of the recovery act and told his listeners how employees were suffering from this cause in many instances.

There were no visitors at the meeting today.

Club Managers of Twilight League to Meet On Thursday

Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, soft ball commissioner, has called a meeting of the managers of all teams, to be held at 4:30 Thursday afternoon in the offices of the chamber of commerce.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss a protest filed by several of the residents in the neighborhood of the soft ball diamond because of the dust that is caused by the traffic to and from the games, which is drifting into the houses and causing considerable inconvenience and is keeping rugs and draperies dust laden.

As there remains but two weeks after this week of the present soft ball season it may be that the committee appointed could not secure another field for this season before the end of the present schedule, but the committee is on the lookout for a field for next year and it is possible a move could be made within a few days if a suitable place could be located.

All managers have been urged to attend the meeting and any day or other interested party could make a suggestion as to where a field could be located is cordially invited to be present to make suggestions.

NOW COME THE FINALS IN THE DOG DAY MONTH OF AUGUST

Approximately a million Texas democrats cast their primary ballots July 28. Now the finals will be voted Aug. 25. Peace prevailed everywhere in all the 254 counties. Order was maintained everywhere the state over. Of course, the closing speeches of the campaign on the eve of the election were a bit hectic, but regardless of this it was the quietest campaign in the history of Texas and less interest was manifested from the opening to the close of the Big Parade.

Now it will be for a million democrats to go to the polls in the last week in August, cast their ballots and save the Commonwealth again as it has been saved perhaps 100 times in less than 100 years. A new legislature will be elected this year. There are many grave problems to be solved by the lawmakers as well as the governor to be elected in November. There should be a law enforcement legislative program. There should be a state police force organized. All the red tape in the handling of the units of law enforcement should be cut away. There should be an organized army known as the state police ready for duty at all times and their activities directed by a commander-in-chief who will place law enforcement above all else—regardless of political lineups or political affiliations.

There is a state highway patrol organization. Its members have performed splendid service in guarding the highway. There is a ranger force. For almost 100 years the rangers were the pride of all Texans. Their chief and their captains were courageous and clean and unconquerable. Conditions have changed. Today Texas has a vast population. It has many large cities. It has many growing cities which are not ranked in the first class. There is a new civilization. Even the most obtuse must admit that the old civilization has passed out. There is a new Texas in the making. It should be held sacred and property rights secure. It should be a Texas where criminals will be run to the earth and ever the majesty of law vindicated for the protection of all alike.

It is important that the lawmakers to be elected in November should have the qualifications as well as the courage and patriotism to face the big job cut out for them. It is important that there should be harmony all along the line in the new administration. It should be important that men who believe in the rights of the state and the traditions of the fathers should ever be on the firing line of service and duty in order that some day Texas may take its place at the head of procession of American commonwealths.

The vision of some advertisers needs broadening out.

Judge Declares a Divorce Moratorium

By United Press
 HILAND, O.—Common Pleas Judge C. C. Chapman, who declared a "moratorium" recently on divorces until Sept. 1, has announced he might hear a few cases before then.
 "There may be a few exceptional cases that call for immediate attention," Judge Chapman said, "but the majority will be delayed until fall." The jurist declared the moratorium, he said, because "too many divorce cases are being filed in the courts." He believes there would be fewer divorces if more care were taken in the issuance of marriage licenses.

College Mother Is Being Cared For By Ohio University

By United Press
 ADA, Ohio.—Mrs. Catherine Estill, 84, a beloved survivor of the early days of Ohio Northern university here, has been provided a home by the institution, whose students she mothered for so many years.
 When declining health caused her to lose title to her boarding house, the site was purchased from mortgage holders by the school. As Mrs. Estill was then an invalid, officials volunteered to provide her with a home when the old landmark was torn down.
 Her new home, like the old, has its historic associations. It was for many years the home of the Rev. John Wesley Hill, veteran Methodist circuit rider, whose son, Dr. John Wesley Hill Jr., now is chancellor of Lincoln Memorial university, Harrogate, Tenn.

The Newfangles (Mom 'n' Pop)

Youth Is Doing "America First"

By United Press
 BILLINGS, Mont.—"Seeing America First" is Reuben Plevinsky's motto. He arrived here the other day, six months out of Haverrill, Mass.
 Young Plevinsky not only is doing his sight-seeing thoroughly—but cheaply.
 Graduated from Boston University in 1932, Plevinsky sought employment, declined in desperation to write "the great American novel."

 To gather Americana, Plevinsky decided on an up-down and cross country tour, via railroad rods, hitch-hiking and any other economical means.
 He told reporters here he had spent only $20 since leaving Miami, Fla., in March. On that $20, he had visited the Gulf of Mexico, the Pacific Coast and the Pacific Northwest—with stops at New Orleans, San Antonio, Phoenix, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Sacramento and other cities. He left Massachusetts in January and wandered down the Atlantic seaboard.

 "I've got plenty of material for my novel," said Plevinsky, "but I certainly wouldn't recommend my 'de luxe' form of travel to anyone. Most people think such a trip is a wonderful experience, but many parts of it have been nightmares."
 STILL WEARS INDIAN GARB

SOPHIE KERR'S SUPERB LOVE STORY "STAY OUT OF MY LIFE!"

By Sophie Kerr
 CHAPTER XLII
 NANCY was sitting very straight on the sofa, her eyes wary, her expression defiant. Before her, in Miss Rosa's most comfortable chair, was Jane.
 "Oh, hello, Jane," said Amy. "I didn't know you were here. When did you come?"
 "Last night, quite unexpectedly," said Jane sweetly. "How are you, dear—how well you look!"
 The tone made Amy understand that her dress was old and out of fashion, her hat even more so, and her hair straggling, and she could scarcely keep from smiling.
 Nancy could keep still no longer. "Mother, Miss Terry's been asking me to visit her in New York. She'd like me to come and stay as long as I want."
 "What a nice invitation to come right out of the blue!" said Amy. "And I was saying, 'went on Nancy quickly, 'that I was sorry, but I couldn't possibly do it—I mean, there's so much here and—' Jane broke in with a composure so perfect that no one might guess rancor beneath. "I wish you'd let her come, Amy—you must think it odd, my speaking to her about it without talking it over with you first, but—well—my old friend's daughter—and all that—and I could give her a very good time. I've a wonderful penthouse apartment—and my own car and chauffeur—I motored here, by the way—and I was thinking of Europe this summer, and what fun it would be to have someone young and fresh and gay—and so very pretty—to go with me."
 "Mother and Father and young Howard and I were in Europe last summer," said Nancy. "We had the most marvelous time. I wouldn't really care to go so soon again."
 "You see, Jane—Nancy makes her own decisions," said Amy. "She's—she's like her mother in that."
 Nancy was restless and uneasy. "Yes, I am," she said, "and so though it was very sweet of you to think of it, I really can't do it. Mother, we ought to be going home. It's nearly time for lunch."
 "I haven't been up to see Miss Rosa yet," said Amy. "You can run on ahead, if you want, and get things ready."
 "All right," said Nancy. "I'll do that. Goodbye, Miss Terry—I do appreciate your asking me." She shook hands with Jane and went out quickly, patently glad to get away.
 "Why did you do it, Jane?" asked Amy. "Do you really want her?"
 JANE hit a cigaret. "Oh, I don't know. It was a bunch, an impulse. I'm lonely sometimes. I've made heaps of money, Amy. I got out of the market at the right time and I've watched my properties and my investments. I've probably lost as little as anybody in America during this depression, hardly enough to notice it. And when Nancy came in here today, so alive, and so awfully pretty (and after all she is my child, Amy), I thought

By Cowan A Glimpse Behind "Phonedom" Scenes

A fascinating glimpse behind the scenes of "Phonedom" is offered in "Looking for Trouble," the fast-moving and romantic story of adventure which is the feature film attraction at the Arcadia Theatre beginning today.
 One of the scenes is taken in the Chinatown telephone exchange in San Francisco, where all the operators are native girls in Chinese dress, each of whom speaks both Chinese and English with equal fluency.
 The story combines side-splitting comedy, double-barreled romance and exciting adventure, all centered around two "trouble shooters," the official title for the intrepid line-men who brave blizzards, fire, storms and floods in order that man's communication with his fellow man may not be interrupted.
 Spencer Tracy and Jack Oakie compose the wise-cracking team of
