

ALLRED LEADS IN GOVERNOR'S RACE

Returns in Early From Over the County

RETURNS FROM 232 COUNTIES IN TABULATION

Woodul, McCraw, Smith and Sharp Lead in Returns Late Saturday.

With returns from 232 counties out of the 254 in the state, 122 of which were complete, James V. Allred, Attorney General of Texas, was leading his opponent, Tom F. Hunter, by 39,173 votes.

When the tabulation was made by the Texas Election Bureau, a total of 815,813 votes, of the estimated 950,000 that some expected would be cast, showed Allred had 427,494 votes, while Hunter had 388,319.

Walter Woodul, candidate for lieutenant governor, was leading Joe Moore by more than 100,000 votes and seemed assured of election, while John McCraw had a comfortable lead over Walter Woodward for attorney general.

Lon A. Smith, present railroad commissioner, was leading John Pundt by almost 100,000 votes to be safely in the lead for re-election.

The race for associate justice of the supreme court was more closely contested than any other state race, with less than 19,000 votes separating the candidates.

In this race John Sharp was leading H. S. Lattimore, the former having polled 384,845 votes to 366,397.

The vote on the state offices was as follows:

For Governor	388,319
James V. Allred	427,494
For Lieut. Governor	436,128
Walter Woodul	436,128
Joe Moore	316,547

For Railroad Commissioner	425,612
Lon A. Smith	327,723
John Pundt	366,397
For Associate Justice Supreme Ct.	384,845
H. S. Lattimore	366,397
John H. Sharp	384,845

Lotief Elected to Legislature Again

With complete returns in from Callahan county and returns from all Eastland county boxes complete with the exception of Tudor, in which there are but a few votes, Cecil A. Lotief was leading Ed Curry for Representative from the 107th, or florial district, by 443 votes.

The vote from Tudor would not possibly change the outcome of the race, should it all go to Curry.

Callahan county gave Curry a total of 1,663 votes, while Lotief got 1,218, but Eastland county's vote for Lotief was enough to overcome the lead Curry piled up in Callahan county.

In Eastland county Lotief polled 3,482 votes, while Curry polled 2,604 votes, the lead of Lotief in the county being 878 votes.

Manchukuo Defies Soviet Demands

HARBIN, Manchukuo, Aug. 25. Manchukuan authorities, defying Russia's sharp note of warning arrested 70 more Soviet employees of the Chinese Eastern Railway.

The arrests were made yesterday, several days after Russia had called on Japan, close ally of Manchukuo, to direct release of 55 Soviet citizens previously held.

The police also said they seized rifles, pistols and hand grenades in the roundup of employees suspected in connection with alleged plots to sell railroad information to bandits.

REAL FIRE ALARM

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — When smoke poured from windows of a house here, neighbors and passersby turned in alarms, which were answered by 10 pieces of fire apparatus from four companies. The "fire" was caused by an overheated radio.

James V. Allred of Wichita Falls, candidate for governor, who was leading his opponent, Tom F. Hunter, by nearly 40,000 votes at midnight Saturday.

PARTY LINES BEGIN TO SAG SOME BELIEVE

Copyright, 1934, By United Press WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Political mass maneuvers today indicated old party alignments may vanish if the new deal splits the nation between liberals and conservatives.

Party lines already are shifting by the time Franklin D. Roosevelt leaves office there may be an answer to this question:

"Shall a conservative-liberal party be substituted for the Democratic-Republican label?"

The bi-partisan liberty league is the latest evidence of differences between conservative and liberal thought. The league must challenge many new deal policies.

Division now is principally on these points:

1. Money and credit policies.
2. Government expenditures.
3. Federal regulation and interference on individual action.

A third party movement succeeded in Minnesota, where farmer labor is the dominant political label. The LaFollette progressives in Wisconsin have bolted the Republican organization after years of inside battling to launch their own state machine.

Federal and county officers had a busy day in Eastland county, Friday.

Three large stills were confiscated and a filling station was raided, resulting in the arrest of three men. In the "official" party were Deputy Marshal C. S. Brown from Abilene, Sheriff Virge Foster and Deputy Woods of Eastland county, and Garner Moorman and George Bryant, investigators of the alcoholic tax unit, United States internal revenue department.

One of the men was lodged in the Taylor county jail Friday night, and will be taken to San Angelo today to face charges of possession of unpaid tax whiskey.

The other two were charged in justice court in Eastland. Two of the stills, all located in the woody section of the southwest part of the county, were of 100 gallons capacity. Several 1,000 gallon mash vats, wooden and steel fermenters, coils and a quantity of kegs were included in the equipment taken. Twenty seven gallons of whiskey were confiscated and large quantities of mash destroyed.

LONG MACHINE IS INVOLVED IN INQUIRY

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 25.—A federal grand jury investigating income tax payments of politicians directly involved the Long administration inquisition today.

It subpoenaed all records of the state highway commission and all members of the commission.

The highway commission has spent more than $60,000,000 since the Long political machine took charge of the state government. Enemies have charged that its record would reveal unprecedented irregularities.

Informed President Roosevelt had decided on a "hands off" policy in regard to the present political war, Sen. Long commented.

Roosevelt is no damned fool. He's running his business and I'm running mine. He knows his place."

Former Rangerite To be Buried Today

John P. White, 49, formerly a citizen of Ranger, died at his home in Tyler early Saturday morning.

Funeral services are to be conducted at Mt. Zion, nine miles north of Ranger, this afternoon with Rev. Markley, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Breckenridge, conducting the services. Burial will be at Mt. Zion following the services.

The decedent is survived by his widow and two daughters, Mrs. LeRoy Eppien, of Abilene and Miss Marie White of Tyler. He is a brother-in-law of Luke Lane of Ranger.

His widow, two daughters and other relatives from Tyler accompanied the body to Mt. Zion for burial.

Singing Convention Will Hold Meeting

The Ranger Singing Convention will hold its regular monthly meeting this afternoon at the Central Baptist Church at 2 o'clock this afternoon, it has been announced by Dr. A. K. Wier, president of the association.

Miss Locke of De Leon, who played the piano at the singing school held here recently, will be accompanist. A real treat for singers is predicted and it is expected that singers from several of the surrounding towns will be present.

Two are Charged in Assault on Mudrer

Charges of assault to murder were filed in Justice of the Peace McFatter's court in Ranger Saturday morning against W. B. Welch and P. M. Prock, and bond in both cases was set by Judge McFatter at $500.

The charges grew out of an alleged assault, with Welch charged with assaulting Prock and Prock charged with assault on Welch. Both men have lived in Ranger for the past 12 to 15 years.

The bond was set to insure their appearance before the next session of the grand jury.

Watch is Missing After Ranger Fire

Ranger police received a report Saturday morning that a gold watch was taken from a dresser drawer in the Rev. L. B. Gray home, Young street, when the dresser was removed from the house during the fire that destroyed two homes.

The watch was described as an open faced, gold watch with gold face, size 16, Elgin movement, stem wind, lever set. The inside of the watch was marked "Parks, The Jeweler, Mexia, Texas."

Baby Face Nelson Sought By Agents

ST. PAUL, Aug. 25.—With the body of Homer Van Meter traveling in a baggage car toward the home of his brother in Fort Wayne, Ind., for burial, police and federal agents concentrated today on a quest for George (Baby Face) Nelson, last important survivor of the John Dillinger gang.

They again questioned Opal Mulligan, red headed young waitress, whose parents reportedly gave the tip that led Van Meter to death. What police learned they refused to say. Principally police hoped to locate Van Meter's hide-out. There, they thought, they might find a clue to Nelson.

Schall Attacks Roosevelt For His Request For Facts

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Sen. Thomas D. Schall, Rep., Minn., today launched a bitter attack on President Roosevelt in answer to the president's request for information regarding an alleged proposal for establishment of a government news service.

The attack climaxed a series of similar statements by Schall charging the president planned to establish a press censorship and contending the administration was endangering the freedom of the press.

Schall's statement was a declaration of the president's request suggested a "constant effort to mislead and fool the public."

He said the request was motivated by a "desire to make yourself appear before the people as a champion of a free press."

Liberty League Is Criticized For Its Statements

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—President Roosevelt feels the American Liberty League shows too much concern for property and not enough for his neighbors.

This was the way the presidential attitude was generally summed up after one of the most noteworthy White House press conferences in months.

Mr. Roosevelt explained he was all for the principles and defense of the American constitution as expressed by the Liberty League. However, he indicated, that while concern for these principles was fine enough, there were others which should not be ignored.

The tone of the president's comment was noted by observers as somewhat acid.

New Plans for NRA Are Discussed At Long Conference

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The national labor relations board today held the key to the question of whether 600,000 workmen will drop work at the looms of the textile mills.

The board was designated by Frances J. Gorman, chief spokesman of the united textile workers, as the only agency which can prevent a strike.

With the board indicating nothing of what action it might take the strike plans were pushed with vigor. The union plans a walkout before Sept. 1, unless an acceptable answer to demands is received.

The strike, if called will be the largest the new deal has seen.

HOUSING PLAN WILL BENEFIT SOME FARMERS

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 25.—The drought stricken farmer need not think he is left out of the picture under the federal housing act, according to Walter Cline, regional administrator of the act, who came here to start the machinery rolling.

"His pastures may be the color of a baked potato and his cattle may be in cans, but he still can get a loan to put up a new barn or put a pillar in his front porch if he's a good farmer," Cline said.

The new administration explained that under the provisions of the act a "character" loan may be made at the discretion of the lending agency.

"If the applicant had the reputation of paying his bills and of being a good farmer, a reasonable loan of $200 to $300 is possible," Cline said.

George Davisson Is Representative From the County

George A. Davisson, Jr., of Eastland, who will represent Eastland county in the next regular session of the legislature, having been elected by the voters of the county in the election Saturday.

George A. Davisson, Jr., of Eastland will represent Eastland county at the next regular session of the legislature, according to unofficial returns compiled Saturday night with 26 of the county's 27 boxes showing complete returns.

Davisson polled a total of 3208 votes in the county, the unofficial tabulation showed, while E. A. Ringold of Ranger, his opponent in the race, was only 326 votes behind, polling 2,882 votes in the second primary election.

Both candidates ran well in their respective towns, Ringold carrying Ranger by a commanding lead, while Davisson carried Eastland by an equally large lead.

FIRE ON POLICE CAR

FORD CITY, Pa., Aug. 25.—Three men, police believed may be linked with the $50,000 Butler mail robbery yesterday, poured a fusillade of shots into a police patrol car as they hurried by in a sedan bearing Ohio license plates, here today.

The strike, if called will be the largest the new deal has seen.

MOST RACES ARE CLOSE IN TABULATION

Davisson, Lotief, White, Eldridge and Davenport Lead.

With returns from every box in the county complete, with the exception of Tudor, from which no report had been received and in which there were only about 30 votes expected, county candidates knew their fate early Saturday night than at any time in an election held in the county.

As there was no race in the county which the Tudor vote could change, it was apparent that George A. Davisson, Jr., of Eastland had been elected as representative of the 106th district by a lead of 326 votes over E. A. Ringold of Ranger.

In the florial representative race with returns complete from Callahan county and Eastland complete with the exception of the Tudor box, Cecil A. Lotief had a lead of 443 votes over Ed Curry.

John White was elected county treasurer, on the basis of unofficial returns, having a lead of 202 votes over Mrs. Frances Thornton Cooper.

Claborne Eldridge appeared certain of victory over T. C. Williams, as he had a lead of 245 votes in the unofficial returns.

W. T. Davenport carried the largest lead of any candidate in the race, being elected county surveyor by a lead of 1,556 votes.

The totals in all races, including the state offices, for Eastland county were as follows:

PENNSYLVANIA CONVICT RIOT IS SUBDUED

GRATEHPORD, Pa., Oct. 25.—Rioting convicts in the Eastern Penitentiary, today caused thousands of dollars of damage before they were subdued by state troopers with machine guns. They set fire to several buildings.

Two hundred and fifty of the 1,000 prisoners engaged in the riot. The troubles started in a kitchen and spread to the yard.

A group of "bad actors," armed with clubs, stones and pieces of machinery, ran to a hill and defied prison guards for two hours. Finally 50 states, troopers and highway patrolmen trained sub-machine and riot guns on the rioters and threatened to fire if they did not surrender. Suddenly they submitted to capture and were placed in solitary confinement.

The fire, which got out of control for a time, damaged the new industrial plant, a cell block, a barn, the prison kitchen and destroyed three abandoned wooden barracks.

Man Now Says His Daughter Is Not Kidnaped

MINERAL WELLS, Aug. 25.—James Butler, Palo Pinto tourist camp proprietor, today abandoned the theory his daughter, Hazel, 14, had been the victim of kidnapers. Butler, who advanced the theory yesterday asking department of justice aid in seeking the girl, now believed she may have started to Hollywood to carry out her oft-expressed wish to become a movie actress. The girl disappeared Monday night after she left her home at the "Millionaire Tourist Camp" for a walk.

Butler said he believed if the girl had been kidnaped he would have heard from her captors.

CROWDED JAIL HELPS

CAMDEN, N. J.—Overcrowded conditions in the Camden jail recently proved a boon to 20 or 25 prisoners arrested on drunk and disorderly charges. The score of men were released because there wasn't room in the jail for them.

Boquillas Rugs Are On Exhibition

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—Eight Boquillas rugs, handwoven on primitive looms from the wool of Mexican flocks in an isolated section of the Big Bend country of Southwest Texas, have been brought here for exhibition in Witte Memorial Museum.

Rug making has been the primitive art of Mexican craftsmen for centuries. The weavers live with their flocks in a region 120 miles from a railroad, separated from civilization by rugged mountains and desert wastes. Bright eyes of red, yellow, blue and green are taken from native herbs and are permanent.

Advertising Pays T. T. Notgrass Pays

The following six inch advertisement appeared in the Weekly Ranger Times and the Daily Times last Friday, August 17:

"NOTICE—Have just installed an Electric Shoe Dyeing Machine. Can dye your shoes any color... just bring your shoes and a scrap of your dress and we can match it."

RANGER SHOE HOSPITAL

T. T. Notgrass North Austin Street

Mr. Notgrass was so well pleased with the results of the advertisement in the two papers that he voluntarily told a representative of the papers that more than 500 people came in to see the machine, while many brought shoes to have dyed.

A lady from Gorman told him she read the ad in the Weekly Times and brought two pair of shoes with her. There were many others who read the advertisement in either one or both papers and came to have work done and learn of the new process in dyeing shoes.

We are proud to call the attention of our readers to this result obtained by Mr. Notgrass and remind the merchants and business men of the city again there is no substitute for paid circulation.

At last a political job has been found where scores of job hunters say, "Salary's no object." One guess. Yes, it's Kentucky's nudist colony inspector.

14-CENT COTTON FACES THE SELLER

According to the report of the agricultural department of the federal government the yield this year of American cotton will approximate 9,195,000 bales on 27,000,000 acres. The market response was an immediate rise of $2.50 a bale or to 14 cents a pound. All authorities in New York and New Orleans declared there was no shortage of cotton because of the 10,836,000-bale carryover. This August estimate is a forecast of the smallest crop since 1896 with the one exception of 1921, and the Texas yield of 108 pounds per acre is the second smallest in 60 years, with a forecast of a 2,382,000-lb Texas crop in sight this year.

Fourteen-cent cotton will place a lot of money in the pockets of Texas growers. It will place a lot of money in circulation. It will lighten the load of the taxpayers. It will enable the delinquents to contribute to the revenues of state and county and municipal government. Japanese textile manufacturers are rapid travelers. They report 170 per cent increase in Japanese cotton goods exported to South America in the seven months ending July 31 compared with the same period a year ago. Their exports to the Philippines gained 236 per cent and to Central America 654 per cent, and an all-time record for Japanese cotton cloth exports was made, according to the department of commerce report.

Mussolini has his own troubles. Italy is said to be losing its cotton trade to the Japs. Germany is surrounded by a wall of fire and steel and there is something happening every day in a trade sense the world over. This is a marvelous history-making age and the specialists and the prophets and the economists continue "up in the air." They don't know where they are going but they do know that "the commercial world is on its way—somewhere."

LIVERPOOL CONTINUES TO FIX PRICE OF WHEAT

World grain prices are moving upward. Wheat at Liverpool edged over the dollar mark for the first time in nearly four years, and at Winnipeg, Canada, reached that summit for the first time in more than a year. Shoe leather is going up. Midwestern tanners have asked the government that hides of cattle killed under the federal drouth relief program be withheld from the market until the price reaches 9 cents a pound. A famous federal commander in the war between the States long years after the coming of peace sent a book from the press. It had an interesting title: "War Is Hell." Well, a combined depression and drouth appears to be hell in many of the agricultural states of America.

GOLD MINER GETS HERO'S MEDAL
 By United Press
 COLORADO SPRINGS, Col.—A silver medal and certificate of heroism were awarded Edward Todd, gold miner, by the James A. Holmes Safety association for a rescue attempt a year ago. Todd and another worker, Charles Huddin, fell 80 feet down a mine shaft.

For half an hour Todd swam about in the icy water at the bottom of the shaft supporting the limp form of his companion, unaware that a broken neck had killed him instantly.

BEACH CLUB GIRL

BEGIN HERE TODAY
 SYLVIA RIVERS rules the younger set in the fashionable New York suburb. She doesn't mind the fact that her family has little money.

One night at the yacht club Boots is out in an embarrassing situation by HARDY WHITEHORE, one of Sylvia's guests, who had been drinking. Sylvia maliciously contrives to force Boots' resignation from the position. Humiliated, Boots withdraws from the crowd. She goes about with HISS and the swimming instructor. Ross falls in love with her and she asks for time to think it over. Her behavior returns from a visit and Boots dreams having her mother know about her resignation from the club. Boots meets DENIS FENWAY, young author.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
 CHAPTER XV
 Boots swallowed hard. Denis Fenway in old gray flannels with a blackthorn stick in his hand, stood gazing at her, frankly embarrassed frankly at a loss. Boots was the more composed. She crumpled the damp hat that had been a handkerchief in her hand and smiled warmly at him.

"Don't pay any attention to me," she said quickly and lightly. "I've got the early morning blues. One of my Irish ancestors is stalking me today. We all like a good cry."

Surprisingly, the young man sat down beside her, stretching his long legs out on the cobwebbed grass, started and spangled with globules of dew.

"Cry away," he said briefly. "I have a good shoulder."

Boots put her handkerchief resolutely away in the pocket of her white woolly sweater and smiled again.

"Oh, the shower's over," she told him. "It was nothing."

If this handsome, indolent young man thought she was going to tell him her troubles he was vastly mistaken. Probably he would try to use her for—what did writers call it?—copy. He was going to be disappointed if that was his aim.

She threw him a side glance. How black, how absurdly long and sweeping his lashes were, over eyes of darkest blue! And how extraordinarily tall he was. If he weren't so obviously self-satisfied and conceited she might have liked him a little. As it was she put on her usual mask of casual interest.

"I thought you'd gone back to California," she said by way of making conversation.

He drew a pattern on the wet earth with the stick. "Presently" he drawled.

Boots flushed. If he thought she was interested—if he only remotely knew how unimportant his comings and goings were to her! She began to scramble to her feet, feeling she hated this handsome, well-dressed young man who was so definitely certain of himself and his place in the world.

He put out a lean brown hand to detain her. Even through her annoyance she was conscious of the strength of those warm brown fingers with their well-cared-for nails, their look of leashed power.

"Ah, don't go," he said, on a note of pentence. "There I was thinking you'd talk to me for a minute. You're forever on the wing!"

"Am I?" Boots wanted to know, arrested by this view of her.

"Yes. You're always scrambling in or out of a car or rushing to the swim or something," he complained in his agreeable deep voice. "I stopped by to ask you to come and have tea with me the other day. You were out—the beach or some-

By HARRY GRAYSON

WHEN a pitcher is not as fast as he once was, it isn't advisable for him to go around stirring up the hitters.

That, at least, is how Barleigh Grimes looks at it, and why he isn't picking the National League winner for publication.

"If I say one team is going to finish in front all I do is create a lot of trouble for myself," explains Grimes, who on Aug. 18 celebrated his 41st birthday as a member of the Pittsburgh club, with which he launched his major league career 18 years ago.

"A couple of other outfits probably won't agree with me, and the next time I work against them they'll say to themselves, 'So this is the guy who thinks we're out of the race, eh?' Then they'll beat down on me a little bit extra, and the next thing I know they'll be hitting the shirt off me."

"I have definite ideas about most things in this game, but it's hard to be a pitcher for an active player—and I'm not through with baseball yet although baseball may think it's through with me—to express opinions. I know what hitter is easiest for me to get out, but do you believe I'd tell him? If I did, he'd probably become the hardest. So Grimes thinks I'm easy, eh? Wham!"

Dean Eats His Words
 "I'll give you an example of what talking out of turn can do to a man, and Dizzy Dean is only 23. All Dizzy had to do to lick the Cubs was scale his glove onto the field. In July, of last year, the Oklahoman struck out 17 of them.

"So the night before his next start against them, he publicly invited the fans to come out to the park and watch him stand the Cubs on their heads. That made the day light out of him, and he's been unable to finish a game against them since. They chased him three times before the final gong called them off him last fall, and have trimmed him in three of the five games he has lost this year.

"The average pitcher is at his best for from three to seven years. He doesn't learn much during that time. He's just firing the ball and they're not hitting him to any great extent. For a while he can pitch high and outside to a certain hitter, and make him fly out. Then there comes a time when that hitter starts cracking high outside balls. The trouble with most pitchers is that they do not realize that the time has come to do something else."

Base-Runners Bothersome
 "A LOT of pretty good pitchers of the present day will have trouble if base-running ever comes back. It's one thing to pitch when you know the man on first is going to remain there, and another when you suspect he's going to steal.

"Any pitcher knows that a man must get a certain distance off first base to steal. If he has it that far you have nothing to worry about, but when he gets to a certain spot he starts to bother you. I've got to be more careful than any one else when I think a man is going to attempt to swipe a base. If I've got a splitter on I have to be sure it doesn't break into the dirt.

"Age doesn't mean everything," goes on Grimes, who pitched six hit ball for eight innings to take a tough battle from the great Hubbell and the Giants the other afternoon. "One day a man has it. The next day he hasn't."

Naval Officers Book Analyzes The War Chiefs

WASHINGTON—A critical analysis of leadership in Britain and France during the World War was made by the Chief of the United States Navy's office of Naval Intelligence in his book, "High Command in the World War," recently released by Charles Scribner's Sons.

Capt. William Dilworth Puleston, U. S. N., the author, gave three years research to the book, which has been hailed by high military and naval authorities of this country as one of the greatest of its kind ever written.

Speaking impartially, and from the view of an expert in war managers and a student of politics, Puleston censured interference by British and French political leaders with strategic dispositions of their armies and navies.

LONE STAR IS STILL IN RACE FOR TOP PLACE

Lone Star defeated Magnolia in the last game of the Twilight League season Friday afternoon before a large crowd to remain in the running for the second half championship. The win gave Lone Star a tie in the percentage column with Magnolia and the playoff for the second half championship will be played Monday afternoon. The score in Friday's game was 3 to 0.

Lone Star got the breaks throughout the game to win as they scored three runs on three hits and two errors, while Magnolia failed to score on three hits and two errors.

Lone Star scored first in the first inning when Hill walked and Gene Yonker doubled. They were held scoreless in the second and after two were out in the third Gene Yonker again doubled. Foy singled and Tom Yonker hit a short triple over first base, scoring Foy and Gene Yonker.

Magnolia did not hit until the fifth inning, when Groves and Craft singled, the second single coming after two were out, and Groves was thrown out at third.

Woods doubled in the sixth, but was held on second while two outs were made and was thrown out at the plate when Pace dropped Kindred's fly to second and he attempted to score from second.

Fire Destroys Two Homes in Ranger

Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed one home and did considerable damage to another in Ranger Friday night.

The home of M. M. Dutton, 615 Young street, was completely destroyed, as were the contents of the home. The home of Rev. L. B. Gray, next door, which caught from the flames of the Dutton home, was almost a complete loss and most of his household effects were destroyed.

The fire broke out shortly after dark Friday night, just as a light rainfall started. The house was blazing brightly when the fire was seen by neighbors, and the alarm turned in. The fire department was delayed for several minutes in reaching the scene of the blaze by a freight train that was pulling slowly across the Main street crossing. By the time the firemen arrived the Dutton home was completely destroyed and the fire had spread to the Gray home, which was burning rapidly. The fire in Rev. Gray's home was extinguished after one side of the house was almost completely destroyed and the interior had been badly burned.

Community Services To Be Conducted Weekly in Ranger

The ministerial alliance of Ranger has decided to hold special community services for those in Ranger who do not, for one reason or another, attend the regular services now being conducted in the Ranger churches. The first meeting will be held next Thursday on the vacant lot across the street from the city hall where Rev. Johnny Lovell has been conducting services for his congregation.

Rev. Lovell has consented to allow the ministerial alliance use the seats and lighting equipment because of the general need of services. Each minister in the city will aid in the services, one preaching at each meeting until each has filled the pulpit. The services will be non-denominational and the preachers will deliver gospel messages each Thursday evening. The meetings will be conducted in the open air until such time as the weather becomes too cool, when they will be moved into some downtown building, which will be lighted and heated for the purpose. It was the consensus of opinion of the ministers of the city that there would likely be a number of people in Ranger who might feel interested in attending services if some provision could be made for them. It was with this idea in mind that the community services were worked out so that anyone could attend and feel perfectly comfortable and at home. The public, and particularly those who have been unable to attend church in the past few years, is cordially invited by the ministers of Ranger to attend the regular weekly services to be held for their special benefit.

Italy Is Waging Tuberculosis Battle

ROME.—Over 20,000,000 persons are insured against consumption in Italy, and 5,000 beds in special hospitals are set aside for the cure of such cases.

It is now announced that a new drive is to be put into effect this year and next, which will bring the number of hospital beds available for tuberculosis cases up to 20,000 in 60 hospitals.

Fascist organizations here boast that nothing so ambitious has been attempted in any other country.

Fascism has engaged in a regular campaign to drive consumption out of the country, and the weapon chiefly relied on is the obligatory insurance system now in force for employes, workmen and servants of nearly all categories.

In fact, nearly 80 per cent of the cases offered state assistance in attacks from the disease were treated in special hospitals and sanatoria. When the disease has reached a certain stage of development removal of the patient becomes imperative according to the policy at present being followed by the Fascist doctors.

Outline a Plan For Waterfowl Baiting Control

WASHINGTON.—Details of a plan for eliminating abuses of waterfowl baiting were revealed Aug. 13 in a statement by the bureau of biological survey outlining a proposed addition to the hunting regulations now being prepared for consideration by the secretary of agriculture.

The proposed regulation would provide that waterfowl may not be shot or otherwise taken on baited premises except under seasonal permits issued without charge by the chief of the bureau of biological survey. The permits will be issued to and in the name of the persons or clubs occupying the baited premises.

Permits, it is proposed, will be issued only after investigation shows that baiting will effectively supplement local natural food supplies that are deficient, or will serve to concentrate the birds under conditions conducive to safeguarding them from greater destruction. Issuance of permits will also be limited to cases in which it appears that baiting will result in more nearly equalizing hunting privileges in the various localities and sections of the United States.

The proposed regulation would prohibit the shooting of waterfowl on baited premises after 3 o'clock in the afternoon and would provide that no waterfowl be shot while resting on water or land on any premises where baiting is practiced.

Every permittee would be required, under the regulation, to send to the biological survey chief within one month after the close of the open season a report showing the number of persons shooting on the baited premises during the open season; the species and the number of each species of waterfowl killed; the number of blinds; the bags per blind; the kind of food used, and the intervals of feeding.

Underground Stream Puzzles Engineers

LOS ANGELES.—A large underground stream struck in the sinking of the Potrero shaft of the Colorado River aqueduct project is proving a tough engineering nut to crack. Two deep well turbine pumps have been installed to pump the water out at the rate of 2,400 gallons per minute but the stream shows little sign of drying up. Engineers are planning to install a third and larger pump with a capacity of 2,600 gallons per minute. The stream, flowing 796 feet under ground, flooded the Potrero shaft to a depth of 647 feet.

St. Louis Man Was 50 Years a Smithy

ST. LOUIS.—John Knaup celebrated his fiftieth anniversary as a blacksmith in St. Louis the other day.

His is one of the few shops remaining in the city and is the only one, he says, that does nothing but blacksmith work.

But Knaup is not rushed with business. In fact, he says he gets about one horse a month to be shod. However, the drought this summer was a boon to him as he sharpened many plowshares, dilled by the baked ground.

Knaup's shop is in the same location it was when he first went to work in St. Louis, 50 years ago. His shop is across the street from a grade school and often, especially when he is shoeing a horse, the teachers hold classes at his place of business.

Wilbur Glenn Voliva of Zion City predicts that the world will end on Sept. 10, but some other arrangement will have to be made, as the world tries isn't due until October.

LIMA BEANS, in their pods or out, are the vegetable buy of the moment. A heartier food than the green beans of summer, they add calories to the diet, the number depending upon how they are served.

Use Little Water
Always cook lima in as little water as possible and cook uncovered. Let the water cook away or use it in a sauce with butter and a very little flour.

Parvee Tough Beans
The best way to serve lima beans that have over-matured is to rub them through a sieve after cooking and use them in a puree or soufflé.

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST: Fresh plums, cereal, cream, corn omelet, blueberry muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Open tomato and bacon sandwiches, milted apples with whipped cream, nut cookies, milk, tea.

DINNER: Veal birds with brown sauce, candied sweet potatoes, lima beans in cream, jellied carrot salad, peach charlotte, milk, coffee.

Ranger Should Benefit Under the Housing Act

(An Editorial)

Today, The Times and a large number of business men are calling upon the people of Ranger and trade territory to join in a movement to remodel, repair and rebuild the homes of this section.

The quickest way to get reemployment in private enterprise is through making property repairs and improvements. This work can begin almost as soon as it is decided upon.

The Federal Housing Administration, created to administer the Housing Act, suggests that every city wishing to derive the greatest benefit from the act organize a local campaign of modernizing and improvement, under the Better Housing Program, similar to those successfully conducted in many cities during the past two years.

The administration believes that only in this way can the people of a community be fully informed as to how they can take advantage of the new financing feature of the act, and as to the desirability of making needed repairs and improvement to their property at this time.

The Federal Housing Administration is ready to give assistance to those communities which desire to set up such a program. It will, wherever possible, send an experienced man to the city to assist in the organization work. It will supply literature in necessary quantities for distribution to property owners, architects, building supply and other merchants; it will supply sample posters, display cards, news stories, speeches and other material for publicizing the program. And it will suggest sample forms and complete instructions for field workers.

The carpenters, painters and all other building craftsmen are urging the citizens of the city to take action in this matter immediately.

The federal government, at the last session of congress, passed what is known as the National Housing Act which, in substance, will authorize banks and loan agencies to accept loans of from $100 to $2,000 for housing improvements. If the credit is approved the financial institution will provide him with the money for modernizing, by the terms of the Modernization Credit Plan under the act. Those loans may be used by home owners, or for use in improving and modernizing office or store buildings.

The government will guarantee 20 per cent of the losses when the money is borrowed and there will be very little red tape to go through before a loan can be secured. The payments will be from one to three years with a low rate of interest to be charged.

Those who are eligible for loans have been listed as follows:

- 1. Any owner of improved real property—home or business building.
2. Whether property is mortgaged or not—
3. Providing there are no past due obligations, interest, taxes, liens, etc.
4. Credit standing satisfactory to the lending agency.
5. Owners must have annual income of at least five times the annual payments assumed under the loan.
6. If due to the declining condition of the neighborhood as a whole, an owner is denied a loan, he may still become eligible provided a majority of the owners in his block combine to effect a general neighborhood improvement.

Terms and conditions of the loans are:

- 1. Amounts—$100 to $2,000 for any period up to three years.
2. To be repaid in equal monthly installments, except in the case of farmers, who pay on crop income dates.
3. Cost of financing—whether in form of interest, fees or other charges, may not exceed in total an amount equal to 5 per cent of face of monthly payment note.
4. Security—Owner signs promissory note. No endorsers, co-makers or collateral required (unless local or state laws require a mortgage or other form of security).
5. The government does not lend any money—it insures financial institutions against loss.

There is probably no better movement that could be started at this time—one that will put men to work and not only put men to work but will put the homes of Ranger, which have become run down over the last three or four years, back into much better condition. This plan, inaugurated by the government and backed by the local lumber dealers and building craftsmen, offers an opportunity to many home owners of Ranger to cooperate in improving their property at a small cost, and with payments that can be made over a period of a number of years with no big outlay at this time.

The Times feels that business leaders of the city should get together and work out some plans that the people of this community might receive the benefits of this most worthy endeavor on the part of the federal government to assist the people everywhere to repair and rebuild and fix up their premises. One can readily see that if the movement is properly handled and a proper organization perfected much work will be created and the homes of the people will be made to look better, will be saved from deterioration and the entire community will be benefitted.

The Times calls upon the Chamber of Commerce, all civic organizations, banks and loan companies and the business leaders of the city to get together and go into this matter from all angles and see what can be done! LET'S GET TOGETHER MONDAY!

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
WASHINGTON—The hazards of sickness and accident, constant threat of economic disaster in most of us, have become a concern of the New Deal.

Inside information indicates that some federal program for sickness insurance is almost certain to be recommended to the next Congress. It will be tied in with Roosevelt's promised plan for unemployment insurance, old age pensions, and other security measures.

Many New Dealers favor it—led by Harry Hopkins and other Federal Emergency Relief Administration officials. Roosevelt, who in many years as an invalid was associated with other invalids, is strongly in sympathy. The committee he appointed in advice with him on a social security program, its work directed by Prof. Edwin E. Witte of Wisconsin, will outline various possible plans.

Sickness insurance means cash benefits for sickness to compensate for lost earning power and also medical care—at the expense of insurance funds. Its big aim is relief of poverty among low-income workers whose wages automatically stop when they're incapacitated.

FEARA believes that at best there will be 12 to 15 million Americans for whom medical care must be provided from public funds in the next few years, on some organized medicine is inevitable.

But among the employed in normal times 2,250,000 workers are said to be constantly incapacitated by illness and 47,000,000 wage earners lose an average of eight days through illness and accident each year—something like $10,000,000 daily.

The government might undertake to stimulate either voluntary or compulsory insurance systems but the tendency here is to hold that the latter is necessary to cover unorganized workers living on minimum subsistence incomes.

One FEARA official proposes to include gross medical and hospital service in NRA codes, to be covered by fixed payroll deductions. Private systems, varying in merit, already are in effect in the railroad, coal, lumber, and metal mining industries.

Little Miss Chambers Celebrates Important Fourth Birthday With Party

Among popular visitors in Ranger this month paying visits to relatives and friends is little Miss Nancy George Chambers, darling young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Chambers of Dallas and grand-daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Brashier, who yesterday honored Nancy George with a party celebrating her important fourth birthday, and the first party ever to have been given her marking another year.

The Brashier home was lovely in its cloak of color carrying out a theme of pea-green and yellow blending their notes in appointments and decorations.

Entertaining games were enjoyed indoors and on the lawn rounding out a merry hour of play of the wee tots. Gifts given Nancy George were daintily appointed and centered with a beautiful birthday cake, repeating the congratulatory motif. The little honoree with appearing enthusiasm opened the gifts unceremoniously in parcel tissue and held with bits of varicolored ribbon before cutting her delicious cake which was served with ice to party guests: Billie Mae Davenport, Colleen Moore, Francis Ruth Haganan, George and Gloria Rogers, Alyene Stafford, Peggy Robinson, Letty Lou Robinson, Marilyn Murray, Norma Mills, Betty Lou Weaver, Jo Ann Brashier, Emma Gene Grillo, Bonnie Abney, Billy Jo Stafford, Bobby and Charles Cross, and guest of honor, Nancy George Chambers.

Mrs. Chambers is well remembered in Ranger by her host of friends as the former Miss Edna Reasler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brashier.
