CHARTER FOR FEDERAL S. & L. APPLIED FOR

Charter for the First Federal Savings and Loan association, Ranger, is now in the hands of Samuels of the Federal Loan bank Little Rock, Ark., who has been in the city for the past few days in the organization.

Mr. Strauss appeared before a board of representative Ranger on Friday morning, clearly before them the meaning and value of such an organization, and left here Saturday afternoon, after application for the charter had been completed. He will visit his family in Houston, go on here to Albuquerque, N. M., to complete the organization for association there, whose charter had been granted, and hopes to return to Ranger within 30 days to consummate this organization and to work.

Temporary officers for the association are A. J. Ratliff, president, John Hansen, vice president, Wayne C. Hickey, secretary.

These officers will be in charge until a permanent organization is perfected, after which permanent officers and a board of directors will be elected.

While the time was very short in Ranger to get the proposition before the citizens of Ranger, the citizens were most gratifying, as 50 people pledged about $27,000.

Within the next 10 days the committee will use every effort to get the list up to between $35,000 and $40,000.

Mr. Strauss told a newspaper reporter that he could be quoted as saying that the spirit of optimism in Ranger business and industrial men had been unexcelled.

He wished to thank them all for the co-operation they gave him in the city.

Those who have already subscribed for stock are: W. D. Conner, R. F. Holloway, E. A. Kincaid, Saule Perlstein, Hall Walker, J. Flewelling, C. B. Pruet, A. J. Hoff, Calvin Brown, A. N. Larson, G. D. 50-Cent Slayer To Die in Chair

Death in the electric chair Dec. 12 will be the fate of Rudy Ashbrook, 19, shown here in Cincinnati jail, because he killed a taxi driver in a holdup that netted only 50 cents. Judge D. J. Ryan wept as he imposed sentence. He declared it was the most sorrowful duty of his life.

Junior College Ranks Increase

That the Ranger Junior College is each year getting more firmly and loyally entrenched in the hearts and minds of folks near and far was clearly brought out Saturday morning when the first registration for college pupils was held at the high school building.

A splendid number of students from this city, Eastland, Olden, Strawn, Breckenridge and Parks, as well as other places, greeted Dean Von Roeder and Superintendent Holloway and other members of the college faculty as they arranged their programs for the year.

A number of high school graduates who are taking advantage of staying at home for another two years before going to high institutions of learning were noted among the registrants.

On Monday morning at 9 o'clock the final registration of college pupils will be held in the library.

On Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock the college will be formally opened in the high school chapel in conjunction with the high school opening.

Plenty of Eats For School Pupils

Ranger school children will find plenty of places to eat this school term. Here is some news from the various eat shops that no doubt will prove interesting to their boy and girl patrons:

Mother's Eat Shop will be open again this year, serving the children lunches, hot and cold drinks. School supplies may also be purchased. Mrs. Murrey has been operating the eat shop for a number of years and the children are assured of good service and splendid food when they visit her place. See the announcement elsewhere in this issue.

Mrs. R. E. Harrell, well known Ranger woman, has opened an eat shop and school supply place near the Hodges Oak Park school. She will serve lunches, hot and cold drinks and sell school necessities to the children. She invites the mothers and children to visit her place. Read her card in another place in this issue.

Dixon Eat Shop, serving meals and short orders to Ranger school children, will be open and ready for business Monday. School supplies can also be found there. The shop is located near the Hodges Oak Park school. Patrons and children of the school are invited to visit the place.

RECORD ATTENDANCE PREDICTED FOR RANGER SCHOOLS

FEAR "BLOODY MONDAY" SAYS LABOR CHIEF

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Expressing fear that "a reign of murder" will begin on Monday, Francis Gorman today ordered 50,000 more textile workers to join the walkout.

Gorman has sent notices to all upholstery, drapery, rug and plush union to walkout. He estimated that 50,000 in New England, Pennsylvania and the south would be affected.

"A Bloody Monday" through the 1500 mile strike belt appeared a possibility, as the strike leader challenged industrialists to try to stem the increase in strike ranks by starting looms again.

Oysters to Take New Place On French Menus

PARIS, Fr. — In France, the oyster has replaced the frog.

After one of the most bitter gastronomic struggles of the ages, the delicious bivalves from the French and Portuguese coasts have been attached to the French menu. Millions of Frenchmen now eagerly await the coming of each September, when the restaurateurs announce the "grand arrival" of shell food.

In the years preceding the war, oysters, including the cheaper Portuguese variety and the expensive Marenne, were consumed largely by the garments. They ate them like kids eat peanuts at a circus, mostly by the hundreds, it not being exceptional for a gentleman of capacity to eat 300 at a sitting.

The oyster of France is not the bulky, dead gray looking animal of the Chesapeake Bay. It is a succulent jade green and pearl colored morsel far sweeter and more tasty than the best American bivalve. Here in France they are eaten raw, always raw. The French chef never will cook an oyster.

In France, the oyster must be drowned in white wine. No French chef has sunk so low as to fry an oyster, because one could then not eat them by the dozen. Oysters are sold on street corners and delivered to the home on big plates just in time for dinner.

It seems probable that with the triumph of the oyster, some smart chef will start cooking them, and the oyster may take the place of frogs and snails, which, after all, were best known during the siege of Paris, when there was no food, but lots of imagination on the part of hungry cooks.

DuPont to Appear Before Committee

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Irene DuPont, whose vast Delaware munitions interest made a war time profit of $58,000,000 will face senate's arraignment inquiry it was learned today.

The 58-year-old manufacturer, one of the wealthiest men and an organizer of the non-partisan Liberty League, recently commented on the investigation as "part of a nationwide red plot."

New Embassy for Brazil Shifts the Capital Socially

By HARRY W. FRANTZ
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON.—Brazil's recent purchase of a new embassy building at 3,000 Massachusetts Avenue swayed the social scales toward that fashionable neighborhood in a long-continued rivalry for residential "balance of power" between two districts.

The new mansion, formerly owned by Mrs. Robt. McCormick, will be occupied by the newly appointed Ambassador and Madame Oswaldo Aranha sometime next winter.

The Brazilian embassy at present is situated near Meridian Park, in proximity to upper Sixteenth Street which a decade ago seemed likely to be the permanent "embassy row" of Washington.

In this neighborhood are the palatial mansions of Mexican, Italian, French, Polish, Spanish, Dutch and Cuban diplomatic emissaries. Within the last decade, however, there has been a steady trend of diplomatic residence toward Massachusetts Avenue, particularly in the section between Dupont Circle and the Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul, now under construction as an intended "Westminster Abbey" for Washington.

British, Japanese, Rumanians, Chileans, Czechoslovaks, Persians, Egyptians, and others went into the newer district. With each successive addition to the Massachusetts neighborhood, social Washington debated all the implications of the move, and real estate men waged strenuous campaigns for their respective neighborhoods.

The new residence of the Brazilian ambassador will be the fourth occupied by that embassy since the World War. At each home in turn Brazilian diplomats maintained the atmosphere of the "old school," with visitors ushered into handsomely furnished reception halls rather than directly into the modern offices of a chancery.

Four Government Organizations Meet

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—A stronger hand by the United States treasury department in the national banking affairs was believed indicated today in an effort to co-ordinate various government agencies.

The treasury announced that the four government organizations would meet Monday and Tuesday to iron out various overlapping functions.

Epidemic Grows In The Mid-West

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Sleeping sickness, epidemic terror of the mid-west for three years, is gaining alarming momentum in Illinois, reports by state health authorities revealed today.

Forty-one new cases appeared in the last days of this week in south and central Illinois, boosting the year's total to 167.

Boy, 11, Is Sent To State School

BRECKENRIDGE, Sept. 8.—Deputy Sheriff Tape Freeland left Friday for Gatesville, taking with him Bobby Kime, 11, adjudged a juvenile delinquent and sentenced to one year in the state industrial school for boys, after a hearing before County Judge Bryan Atchison. He was accused of taking $65 from Ben's Ice House.

Young Hunter Is Wounded

BRECKENRIDGE, Sept. 8.—Robert Ray, about 16, is in the Westside Hospital with a badly mangled foot as the result of the accidental discharge of a shot gun.

Young Ray and a friend were hunting doves near Breckenridge Wednesday afternoon when the accident occurred. The boy had the gun resting on his foot when it was discharged.

Physicians hope to be able to save the foot by treatment.

PRELIMINARY REGISTRATION ENCOURAGING

Record Attendance Predicted for Both High School and Junior College.

A record attendance for Ranger schools was predicted Saturday by Supt. R. F. Holloway, following the registration that morning of high school seniors and junior college students.

The high school registration showed that much interest was being manifested as the 35 or 40 seniors who had enrolled up to the noon hour bespoke much interest in their work as they enrolled for the year, arranged work and planned for various courses and activities.

Assisting in the registration were Dean H. S. Von Roeder, Mrs. MacHealer, Messrs. Moore, Hair, Ringgold, Parks, Maddox, Jarvis, Holloway and Mrs. Hunter.

On Monday morning at 9 o'clock the final registration of high school and junior college students will be held. Freshmen will meet in room 12, sophomores in room 25 and juniors in room 19. Students who have not heretofore attended the school are requested to meet at 1 o'clock in room 12.

Regular classes will start Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. However, classes of 30-minute periods will be held Tuesday, beginning at 8:30, and continue until 10 o'clock, at which hour the formal school opening will be held.

A program will be held at this time. There will be a good speaker, musical numbers and the entire faculty will be introduced to the school and to the visitors. This meeting is open to the public and a cordial invitation is extended all who are interested in the launching of the 1934-35 terms of school to attend this meeting.

At 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon there was an informal reception in the school library for the faculty, which was presided over by Supt. R. F. Holloway, who after making a brief talk introduced the various school heads, who in turn talked with their various sections. Members of the school board were also present, and at the conclusion of the business session punch was served and a general get-acquainted meeting was enjoyed.

Jewish Holiday To Be Observed

The Globe, the Star and Mrs. Cohn's stores will be closed Monday in observance of the Jewish New Year. Owners of the three stores have not announced just what their plans are for the day.

The year marks the 5,695, according to the Jewish or lunar calendar and ushers in the penitential period, lasting 10 days and closing with the Day of Atonement, the holiest day in the Jewish year.

The outstanding observances of this holy day season are the Shofar or Horn service on the morning of the New Year, the "Kol Nidre" or "All Souls" service on the eve of the Day of Atonement and the memorial service on the afternoon of the Day of Atonement. This solemn service, lasting from sunset to sunset, closes with the second sounding of the Shofar announcing reawakening to new and greater realization of the higher purposes of life.

Rifle Club to Have Practice Shoot

The American Legion Rifle club announces a practice shoot for this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the rifle range, Ranger.

Strike Magnet

In efforts to make the textile strike 100 per cent effective, union officials are even using sex appeal. Vera Mayhew is one of many pretty girls in Gastonia, N. C., wearing these poster appeals for cooperation of mill hands.

Judge Favors Aid Refiners

AUSTIN, Sept. 8.—Judge Dodson in the district court today held that the state railroad commission has no power to restrict the movement of crude oil products.

He dissolved the commission's injunction against the East Texas refiners who have refused to ask permits for such movements.

Twenty-one East Texas refiners and four railroads were involved in the suit with the railroad commission.

Elks Wrestling Card Is One of the Best

The Elks All Wrestling card for Monday night is scheduled to be one of the best seen in Ranger for a long time.

The first number will be Doc Poole and Bill Stringer, weights 170 pounds. These boys are rough and ready and are in the pink of condition. There is a bit of feeling in this card and the fans will see plenty of action.

Jack Fields the ju-jitsu expert will attempt to fasten one of these deadly holds on Paul Blaylock. Jack says if he ever gets a lock on the "ruffian" it will be too bad for Paul.

The last number on the card will show Verne "Kid" Lewis matching holds with Frank Murdock. This will be a two hour time limit fight and the fans have seen the "Kid" wrestle and know that he will be hard to handle. Weights of these two men are 175 pounds.

Chas. Lay, promoter for the Elks, is giving the fans goods cards each Monday. This card will be an all wrestling card and the public is invited to attend.

Eyes of the Nation on Maine's Vote

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 8.—Maine, the traditional sounding board of the nation, votes Monday in the first state election since the inauguration of the new deal. Republicans and democrats alike feel that the outcome will be indicative generally as either for a re-inauguration of Roosevelt's policy.

A vigorous campaign with the new deal as the major issue has stirred interest and a heavy vote is anticipated.

Among other things that Maine will decide will be whether it will repeal its prohibition laws.

3,000 TROOPS MAY MOVE ON NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 8.—The Louisiana national guards, mobilized here by Senator Huey P. Long, today was ordered to prepare itself for instant action. Three thousand troops were rigorously confined to barracks and state-owned docks.

The city authorities, Long's bitter political enemies, suspected some immediate move to enforce the 26 new state laws that stripped the city government of much of its power.

Mayor Semmes Wolmsley took secret precaution against an immediate seizure of the city offices by troops trying to sway the result of Tuesday's congressional primary. He commanded a force of 1,300 regular and special policemen as fully armed, is not well trained as the militia.

Would Put Teeth in Relief Measure Bill

AUSTIN, Sept. 8.—The Texas House of Representatives today finally passed its bill issuing $9,000,000 additional relief bonds to be administered by the state board of control.

The bill was completed by the adoption of a series of amendments putting "teeth" in the effort to rid relief rolls of those who refuse to work. The bill calls on the board of control as a part of its duties to report a working rehabilitation plan to the next legislature.

County residence for a year was made an requisite for employment, and proper authorities were given right to remove county administrators with or without permission of the state director.

Run-Off Candidates Spent Small Sums

County candidates expense accounts filed in Turner M. Collier's county clerk office shows that the majority expended small sums in the primary-run off inform.

John White, county treasurer-elect, spent $34.25, making his total expense for the campaign $269.10. Mrs. Frances Thornton in the same race spent $37.10 making her total $279.

E. A. Ringold, candidate for representative from the county spent a total of $297.40 while his opponent, George A. Davison, spent $256.80.

Clairborne Eldridge, county superintendent candidate, spent $57.60 making his total $459.35. T. C. Williams spent $38.00 making his total $79.75.

Bureau Gives Out Cotton Figures

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The 1934 United States cotton crop was estimated as 53.8 per cent of normal, indicating a production of 9,252,000 bales, the crop report service of the department of agriculture announced today.

Cotton production last year was 15,470,000 bales. Abandonment for the season was 2.8 per cent and the area left for harvest was 27,241,000 acres.

LUXURY LINER DESTROYED BY FIRE NEAR N. Y.

Morro Castle Loaded With 550 Holiday Tourists; 200 to 250 Estimated Dead.

ASHURBY PARK, N. Y., Sept. 8.—The new New York-Havana luxury liner, the Morro Castle, loaded with holiday tourists, was destroyed by fire off the New Jersey coast today with an appalling loss of life.

Of the 558 passengers and the crew aboard, it was estimated that from 200 to 250 had lost their lives, by burning or drowning, and that the remainder of the 350 had escaped. Many of the dead were trapped in their cabins and burned to death while others drowned as they leaped into the sea.

A large percentage of the crew escaped. The rescued told harrowing tales of their salvation from death at sea. Several expert swimmers among them swam eight miles to the shore. Others escaped in life boats hurriedly put over the side from the scorching deck.

The cause was not definitely determined. Some survivors said that lightning had struck the craft.

With her captain dead in his cabin of heart disease before the fire, he did not live to see the disaster that happened to his ship, the flaming liner drifted toward the coast.

S. O. S. calls went through the air and dozens of liners and fishing ships hastened to the liner but nothing could be done except to pick up the survivors.

Fifteen members of the ship's crew who remained aboard the vessel finally succeeded in getting a hawser aboard from a coast-guard cutter, which then started towing the bulk to shore.

A total of 80 bodies recovered at sea were brought to Point Pleasant by fishing boats and coast guard vessels.

450 Rural School Children Back To Schools Monday

Approximately 450 rural school children of Morton Valley, Kokomo, Alameda, Union and Cross Roads will resume their studies Monday, County Supt. B. E. McGlamery stated Saturday.

The schools, all of nine months terms, are headed by the following principals: Lewis Smith, Morton Valley; L. R. Higginbotham, Kokomo; R. B. Hodge, Alameda; Carl Elliot, Union and J. R. Ervin at Cross Roads.

The start is earlier than heretofore for many of the schools, the county superintendent declares, because there is no work on the farm and very little if any cotton picking.

UNCLE SAM WILL NOT INTERFERE IN AFFAIRS OF LOUISIANA

President Roosevelt has made a positive statement that his administration would refrain from participating in the political war raging along the Louisiana front. He said it at a press conference, and he intimated that the State of Louisiana, speaking through its legislature, has the authority as well as the power to enact laws for the regulation of the municipal units of the commonwealth.

Why not? Louisiana is a sovereign state. Its pioneers and its builders down the years recognized and upheld the dogma of states rights. Really, the voters of Louisiana are alleged to be the masters. They make and unmake governments, state and municipal. If they select a political dictator as their leader, regardless of the gospel tenets of the teachings of Thomas Jefferson, it is their funeral and it will be for them to pay the price. If a majority of the voters of Louisiana are incompetent or incapable of creating and then upholding a government of the people, then it is tough on the minority who believe in the rule of all the people and not a brazen political boss who is ready at all times to clothe himself with all the financial power of a dead Caesar.

SEN. PATTON AND HIS PIONEER FOREBEARS

Sen. Nat Patton is a most enthusiastic as well as aggressive champion of the Centennial celebration "whose glories will ring around the world in 1936." Sen. Patton has a Texas family tree. His grandfather came to Texas in 1828. He was one of the pioneer builders of Nacogdoches. There is an old log cabin in Nacogdoches built by the original Patton. There have been Pattons ever since. Nat has been a state representative, county judge, a state senator, active in democratic politics, ever a champion of Texas and ever for the conservation of its resources along the lines marked by those who fought and died for the rights of the state. Now he is a congressional nominee of the democrats of his district and the people of old Nacogdoches; where his grandire carried the torch of civilization in 1828, gave the congressional nominee an overwhelming vote in the August finale.

He will have a voice in the house of representatives of the American congress the coming year and perhaps Texas senators and 21 representatives will be able to do something to keep the Centennial home fires burning.

BEACH CLUB GIRL - MACE McEUIOT

English skin and the delicious English voice, with the frill of organic flower petals callily white against the dead black of her frock, was talking lightly to Denis. Her smoke-gray eyes traveled restlessly about the room as she spoke. Once she laughed and the sound was like the tinkling of silver bells. Denis smiled rosy on her approvingly. Boots snarled that girl. She was so cool and sure of herself. There were blue shadows smudged above her eyes and her dull brown hair was swept back from her broad, low forehead.

"Who is she?" she asked young Edward. "Kay?" He indicated the girl with the organic petal collar. "Oh, she's been around quite a bit. We knew her at Cambridge. Her sister, Denise, is married to one of the young instructors in chemistry. Kay's in charge of the Evelyn Amable shops here." He mentioned a name which stood for everything expensive and elegant in the world of cosmetics.

There was nothing about her manner to indicate that she had ever heard of Boots before. She was perfection itself, cordial in the most polite fashion, interested, sweet. And yet Boots was conscious of the slightest strain of antagonism between them. "Why?" she wondered. "What on earth can she find to dislike in me? I'm so—so utterly harmless."

THE room was full of the babble of light voices. Cigarette smoke hung like a lilac pall over everything. It seemed to the girl in her raw shyness, that there were strange faces everywhere. Where was Denis? She faltered on the threshold and a big-shouldered young man in country tweeds came forward. "You're Mrs. Lund? Denis told me to look out for you. He's been waiting for you—just been called to the telephone."

Denis seemingly had forgotten her this afternoon. Of course he was busy. A host is always busy. Boots told herself boldly and proudly. She was just imagining things. What did she expect, after all? He'd been kind to her as one is kind to the lame or the halt and that ought to be enough for her.

It was nothing to Boots that Kay Chillingford had Denis' whole attention for a solid quarter of an hour. Boots had no earthly claim on Denis. Just the same she felt sick and shabby and a bit chilled. She wished with all her heart that she might creep away from this well-dressed chattering group. She didn't belong here.

But, my dear, you don't know the half of it. "As, but she dates, dates frightfully, if you ask me." "His stuff is absolutely putrid. If you know what I mean, The Nobel prize."

Boots agreed. She had the feeling the other girl was abnormally curious about her, wanted to know all about her friendship with Denis. Obviously Boots didn't belong in this well-dressed group. Her frock was too shabby, her manner too shy.

"You were at school together?" she asked. It seemed to her Denis had told her that. "Yes," he nodded. "He was head and shoulders over the rest of us. Denis has real brains. The rest of us just plug along."

Landscape Architect Would Name Texas Towns For Flowers

AUSTIN.—"All out for Crepe Myrtle City!" may be heard by Texas travelers in the future if the prediction of Jac L. Gubbels, landscape architect for the State Highway commission, comes true. Each city, town, village, and hamlet will be asked to develop some flower motif Gubbels said, emphasizing native plants as did the highway department last season in decorating Texas' highways with 600,000 native shrubs and trees.

After the citizens in each town have adopted a motif, the place eventually will become known as "Crepe Myrtle City," "Tamarix Town," "Vitis Village," "Hibiscus Hamlet," or "Cape Jasmine." After whatever native plant flourished in the town, he believes. Leged has it that Amarillo was named by the Spanish for a species of yellow flower that grew near its site. Later it was advertised as the "City of Roses," partly through the efforts of Gene Howr, newspaper columnist, to foster rose culture there.

Austin is known now as the "City of the Violet Crown," because the series of bluebonnet-crested hills that surround it.

Gubbels is enthusiastic about the future of Texas' scheme. "Just as the history of Texas has been colorful and glorious in the past from the standpoint of its historical achievements, so shall its future be in the actual color and glory of its highways, byways, landscapes, cities and towns," he said.

Texas Woman, 63, Is Still Able to Handle Ranch

By United Press
 MAY CITY, Tex.—Mrs. Mayland is 63, a little wisp of a woman, but even now she can twirl a lasso, throw a half-breed Brahman or slap on a branding iron to the best of the vaqueros.

A cow and a horse, that's all I want," she said. "And I'd rather have a cow and a horse, than to be able to handle my own title."

But from appearances she does not seem to worry about that for several years at least. When the branding season comes she dons a gullion hat, bit-roped spurs, boots and riding pants and is out on the range to help in branding.

She is one of the last of the old-fashioned cattle-women reminiscent of Amanda Burks of the last century, the so-called cattle queen of the South who drove herds of South Texas cattle over prairie trails to the markets.

Mrs. Cleveland comes of hardy stock. Her father was Norman, an early day cattleman. Her grandmother, back in the 40's killed an Indian with a down near the old town of Agorda.

She was born and reared in matagorda county where her grandparents settled during the war with Mexico in 1847. She has known the range all her life.

And a short conversation with her is convincing that she inherited a large quantity of her grandmother's qualities.

"A good cow pony and a six-shooter, they're the best friends the cattleman ever had," she said. Then she will relate the story of her "best cowpony," how it would keep the mother cow away while Mrs. Cleveland applied the branding iron to the calf. The pony was so adept, she recalled, that only on rarest occasions did the cow ever succeed in putting the woman vaquero to flight.

The calves of the Brahma cross-breed are difficult to handle, because of their strength, especially for a woman. But Mrs. Cleveland "knows the tricks of the trade."

She has been in the saddle since childhood, ridden virtually every kind of horse known to the South Texas range and in all her life has never been thrown but once, she said.

Cattle thieves still infest the ranch. Mrs. Cleveland resorts to the old method of handling cattle thieves, the six-shooter, an important bit of the codeword of the old West.

"Somebody has been stealing our calves," she said. "My son's going down to the pasture tonight to lay out and try to catch 'em at it."

Then turning to the son, she advised him in that code of the old West:

"Take the six-shooter, and if you catch 'em just send into town for the undertaker."

King Salmon Lucky Horse for 3 Owners

By United Press
 LONDON.—King Salmon is a lucky race horse for his owner.

During the last year he has changed hands three times. Each of his owners has won important races and a packet of money with him.

But he won't do it any more, for King Salmon's racing days are over. He is to go to stud at a fee of $700. He finished his racing career in a blaze of glory, however, winning the important Eclipse Stakes at Sandown Park, recently, in the record time of two minutes, six and four-fifths seconds, for the mile and a furlong. The race was worth nearly $38,000.

Lord Carnarvon bred the three-year-old colt by Salmon Trout out of Malva, which was dam of Blenheim. He won a valuable race for his owner.

King Salmon was then sold to Sir Hugo Cunliffe-Owen, in whose colors he finished second in the Two Thousand Guineas and the Derby. Sir Hugo, in turn, made a nice profit when passing him on to Sir Richard Brooke.

For his last owner he won the Great Yorkshire Stakes, and carried off the Coronation Cup at Epsom. He also finished fourth in the St. Leger.

Upton Sinclair Is Vote Victor

A former militant Socialist running on a "left wing New Deal" platform will be the Democratic candidate for governor of California in the November election. Upton Sinclair, noted author, above, rolled up a heavy majority over two opponents to win the nomination, receiving the largest primary vote ever given a Democratic candidate in California.

Three Army Men Soon to Retire

By GORDON K. SHEARER
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 AUSTIN.—Service of two generals and a ranking colonel in the national guard of Texas will end next September. Many of the overseas men who formed the new 36th Division upon their return from France are approaching the age of 64 when army regulations say they must retire.

Maj. Gen. John A. Hulen, Fort Worth, commanding the division, will reach the retirement age Sept. 9, 1935. Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, Houston, commanding the 56th Cavalry brigade, will reach the retirement age just a week earlier. Col. Chas. A. Davis, Lubbock, commanding officer of the 131st Field Artillery, will cross the age line Sept. 16, 1935.

General Wolters indicated during the recent state political campaign that if Attorney General James V. Allred became governor, he might not wait until he reached the age limit to retire. Should he do so, his successor, in line of seniority, will be Col. Lawrence E. McGee, Dallas, commanding the 112th Cavalry. Colonel McGee now is stationed in Austin as U. S. property and disbursing officer.

Church Competes With Movie Shows

By United Press
 BRECKENRIDGE.—Hot weather no longer can be a legitimate excuse for members of the First Christian church here attending a theatre rather than church.

The Rev. Ben Parker, pastor, has seen to that. He has installed a cooling system in his church to compete with the "iced air" advertisements of restaurants and theatres.

His system is an economical one, too. In the winter it can be used as a heating system.

The New WATERLESS WAY

While the New Utility Cooker brings to you the possibilities of enjoying old-fashioned meals in addition, it permits you to prepare foods by the newer methods of cooking without water.

Science has discovered that there is so much natural moisture in all meats, vegetables and fruits that it is entirely feasible to cook them with little or no water.

About the only reason why we have cooked with water was to avoid burning. Water distributes the heat evenly, conducting it away from the point nearest the fire.

Moreland is pastor of the First Methodist Church at Kaufman.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Man" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, today.

The Golden Text is: "As many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God" (Romans 8:14).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him" (Genesis 1:27).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus taught but one God, one Spirit, who makes man in the image and likeness of Himself—of Spirit, not of matter. Man reflects infinite Truth, Life, and Love. The nature of man, thus understood, includes all that is implied by the terms 'image' and 'likeness' as used in Scripture" (page 94).

There seems to be no limit to American endurance. Many people who read the "Life and Loves of Max Baer" are said to be looking forward to a new life story of Iron Man Dave Hutton.

Road Men Plan A 1935 Meeting

By United Press
 WASHINGTON. — Relationship of a highway building program to the administration's New Deal policies will be emphasized at the 1935 convention of the American Road Builders' Association, Capt. H. C. Whitehurst, president, announced today.

The convention and highway exhibit will be held here Jan. 8-11, and is expected to attract thousands of leading highway officials, engineers, contractors and manufacturers, from all parts of the country for the purpose of outlining a plan for an adequate highway program.

Such a program, based on securing financial aid through federal and state sources, giving special attention to the use of highway revenues for highway purposes and principally the non-diversion of the gasoline taxes and motor license revenues for purposes other than highway construction and maintenance will be the theme of the convention, Whitehurst said.

"In the past few years the diversion of highway revenue has threatened to stagnate construction and maintenance," he added. "This will result in a serious impediment to progress in our transportation system."

Ford to Build Huge Steel Mills Soon

DEARBORN, Mich., Sept. 6. — Henry Ford is today in full swing on the final move that will give his industry an absolutely independent supply of the 36 different kinds of special steels which it requires.

The move involves the building of two huge new steel mills, installation of a vast amount of special machinery and sufficient additions to his present power equipment to drive the new mill.

The construction will require eight months to complete and will cost between $12,000,000 and $13,000,000.

When the new mills are ready, Ford can produce 3,000 cars a day without buying a pound of steel in the market.

He will have attained a position, so far as steel supply is concerned achieved by no other private manufacturer in the world. All other great manufacturers using steel are dependent on outside producers—even the great European and American ordnance and railroad equipment manufacturers.

Ford's move will tend further to make the Detroit area a great steel producing district by the addition of 500 tons of finished steel a day.

Workmen have already nearly completed the sinking of the caissons for the foundations of the two big mills which will be erected to the east and west of the present open hearth and steel mill buildings. That to the east will be a continuous cold strip mill capable of turning out sheets up to 84 inches wide; that to the west a continuous hot strip mill, turning out strips 48 inches wide.

Built of steel and brick in the same design as the present steel mill, the new buildings will provide 229,400 square feet of floor space and this, together with 64,500 square feet of floors in the present buildings will be required for the new operations. They will provide sheet steel for Ford bodies and frames.

The buildings alone will cost $650,000. Into them will go special machinery and equipment costing more than $6,000,000—a 54 inch blooming mill, huge reheating furnaces, roughing mills, hot finishing mills, cold mills, 500 feet of continuous pickling tanks and several annealing furnaces. The plants will give employment to 500 additional men.

To produce the additional power needed to drive the new mills will involve a practical duplication of the present Rouge Plant power equipment. Orders for turbo-generators to cost $2,000,000 were placed a few weeks ago. They will be housed in space provided years ago in the present powerhouse. In this will go a new high pressure boiler and turbines, condensers, metering and control equipment, feed and circulating pumps and other machinery will bring the total cost of the new power development well above $6,000,000. The combined cost of power and steel developments will be approximately $12,750,000.

The present steel productive capacity of the Detroit area, including the Newton Steel company at Monroe, is approximately 6,000 tons a day. Ford's new operations will increase this production by 25 per cent.

First Baptist Church Welcomes High School and College Students
 The Young Peoples' department of the Sunday school of the First Baptist church extends a special invitation to high school and junior college students to join their classes. Both young men and women will find in this department teachers thoroughly trained for teaching service, unusual opportunity will be found here to lay a splendid foundation for Bible knowledge, so essential in building a well-rounded life.

The fellowship found among the splendid young people of the First Church is unexcelled, and will go far toward enhancing the pleasures of school and college days, and will have memories to be cherished through the years to come.

Both church and pastor extend a warm welcome. The splendid group of young men and young women who are to make up the large student body in Ranger this school year, and stand in readiness at all times to render every service possible to make their stay among us pleasant and profitable.

W. M. U. Circles To Study Jointly
 Mrs. A. W. Lewis, newly elected president of the Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist church, announces the meeting hour to be conducted Monday afternoon at the church, 3 o'clock in circle form. Every member and officer is asked to attend the session which will bring to the surface many instructive plans for the ensuing term.

Billie Ross Hodges Host to B. Y. P. U.
 The First Baptist church Junior B. Y. P. U. members were entertained at the home of Billie Ross Hodges, 908 Cherry street, Tuesday evening, with the entertainment coming in the form of a "lucky party."

Doris Robinson was judged as being the tallest and most comically garbed guest in attendance. Games of different kinds and story telling filled the gala hour of fun, which was brought to a close much too soon. Chilled watermelon was served to party guests: Kathryn Thomas, Helen McKeehan, Doris Robinson, Marguerite Dodd, Geneva Williams, F. P. Brasher, Jr., James Walsh, Francis Lawson, Beatrice Jones, and honor guests, who are not members, James Ratliff Mages of Mineral Wells.

Miss Buchanan To Offer Music Courses In Junior College

Courses in harmony, sight reading and public school music have been added to the college schedule this year. Gillian Buchanan, who has done extensive study and teaching in these subjects, is to head this department. Students will receive college credit for these courses as well as private or class instruction in piano and violin.

Miss Buchanan is an authorized teacher in class teaching of both piano and violin. This new and successful method is much cheaper and affords pupils of limited means to have a musical education. Four to six pupils are in each class.

Miss Buchanan will have her studios at each of the schools.
