MARLAND PLANS CIVIL SERVICE LAWS AND MERGERS

Rep. E. W. Marland of Oklahoma is the democratic nominee for governor of that commonwealth. Marland is a broad gauged and level-headed business man. He is said to be shuffling the political deck for a new deal which may bring widespread changes in state government if he is elected. He will advance a plan to select employes by civil service examination. He has announced plans to have a firm of efficiency experts from out of the state determine what departments may be eliminated and how many employes are necessary to each office. This democratic leader of Oklahoma democracy who relegated Alfalfa William to the sidelines is inviting trouble long before his election in November or his inauguration as chief magistrate of his adopted state.

Thomas P. Gore will come up for re-election to the senate in 1936. Those who are close to Gov. Murray predict that he will be a candidate for the toga now held by Gore, the blind senator who was a Populist leader in Texas 35 years ago and fought democratic nominees for major and minor office all down the line. In his youthful manhood Gore was a radical of radicals. Now he is a conservative among conservatives. He is for the gold standard and as a senator has voted against many administration measures and will continue his opposition to some of the measures planned under the big dome of the Washington capitol at the coming regular session of the congress. Rep. Marland made a huge fortune in the petroleum game. He is one of the real philanthropists of Oklahoma and the Southwest. He lost millions in the depression years, but he is said to have land holdings in Oklahoma which had a value of more than $5,000,000 before the crash came in 1929.

MILLIONS SET ASIDE FOR LOANS ON COTTON

Col. Jesse H. Jones of Texas, chairman of the RFC, sent a message of glad tidings to the cotton growers of the country when he made the official announcement that his corporation had set aside $250,000,000 for cotton loans. The plan English of this is that the huge sum had been decided on as the support for loans for farmers at 12 cents a pound on the cotton they hold. Chairman Jones declared the allocation of a quarter billion dollars would take care of over 3,000,000 bales. All the federal guessers predict a crop of 3,000,000 bales for the Lone Star State. Farm Administrator Davis has advised the tillers of the soil that there will be no federal loans made on the 1934 corn crop for the very substantial reason that the drought had made possible the consumption of the entire expected crop as feed. For the first time in many years there will be no carry-over of corn and corn will not be used as fuel in the Dakotas or Nebraska or Missouri or Kansas this winter.

I have noticed an advertisement running in many newspapers by a hotel in Tennessee. The ad in part says that they have a plantation dining room and the most unique dining and dancing room in America. They also have the highest open air roof garden in the south. It must be some hotel! Its management evidently realizes that when you have something of quality to sell, you can best sell it by newspaper advertising.

Bronzed Indiana Farmer Seeks Honors for Famed 'Johnny Applesed'

By ASH EMSHWILLER

United Press Staff Correspondent FORT WAYNE, Ind.—A Sun-bronzed old man, W. S. Roebuck, successfully specialized farmer in his early seventies, although alert and one who yet works his fields from sun until dusk, is beginning to think of dying and has one more aim in life before he passes. W. S., or Wes, as he likes to be called, has in his possession certain documentary evidence, fruit of 15 year's research, which he believes will mark definitely the grave of John Chapman, early Mid-West agriculture hero.

History recorded thousands of words about Chapman, a Harvard graduate better known as Johnny Applesed. Unsung for the most part of half a century after his death, he finally has come into his own deserved prominence.

A nation-wide movement will be started probably some time this fall to mark Applesed's grave with a permanent shrine, financed by contributions by millions of school children.

It was he who, through some eccentricity, went widespread through the undeveloped Central States between 1801 and 1840, planting countless apple orchards and distributing seeds and saplings to the early settlers. The story of Johnny's annual trips during those hard frontier years in Pennsylvania cider mills for his supplies of seed; that tedious distribution along the westward flowing rivers into the Mississippi Valley—for the sake of future generations—has been well told in fact.

But 73-year-old W. S. is not concerned with rewriting the history of Johnny's life. To him it is more important where the national figure died and where they buried him.

It was written Johnny died "in the spring of the year at the home of a Richard, or William, Worth in St. Joseph Township, near Fort Wayne," and that "they buried him under a tall spruce tree along the bank of historic St. Joe River about two and one-half miles from town."

An historical society in 1912 marked a grave on the west river bank as that of Johnny Applesed, and they put an iron fence around the spot.

But there were four disbelievers, one of whom was Wes, who said that Johnny wasn't buried there "at all." "History," Wes said "is a little hazy about it."

For 15 years they probed the past, scratched around in history for persons who had had first-hand knowledge of Applesed. Sworn statements were obtained from dozens of people who were children when Johnny was planting orchards for their fathers.

Wes says, and he can back it up with a while brief case of ments, each one said that seed died in the log cabin Levi Worth and was buried hundred feet toward the east not the west river bank.

Human Skin Kills Germs. By United Press. CHICAGO.—Man's skin is most remarkable disinfecting in existence, experiments of tenacity of Illinois medical researchers indicate. Series of tests under the direction of Dr. Lloyd Arnold of the University College of Medicine, revealed that 98 per cent of thousands of bacteria which had been in contact with human skin disappeared within ten minutes. Dangerous bacteria, such as those of lockjaw, typhoid, diphtheria, and cholera, were completely destroyed. However, the skin has certain never-sterile areas where germs do not disappear, Dr. Arnold reported. "Four such areas under the fingernails, the thin skin of the nostrils, and the rim of the eyelid where the outside skin meets the inside lining. Dirt most completely destroys the disinfecting qualities, the experiments further showed. The percentage of bacteria which disappeared for unclean skin surfaces was almost negligible in every case, the scientists found.

Mary Belle Downtain to Open Classes in Dance Oct. 1
 Mrs. Mary Belle Downtain, popular dance instructor throughout this section of the country, will again conduct a school of dance in Ranger this season extending throughout fall and going into several months of the new year of 1935.
 Her classes are to be held in the pretty colonial room of the Gholson hotel and Mrs. T. A. Watt will also be employed as accompanist, who is not only splendid as a pianist but who has been pleasingly heard on several occasions at the Arcadia theatre, where she played the pipe organ.
 Classes are to open Monday, Oct. 1 and Mrs. Downtain asks that those interested in study make enrollment not later than Friday, Sept. 28, whereas a complete and smoothly arranged schedule may be outlined.
 The teacher spent two weeks in New York this summer studying from the most famous dance masters to be found in the United States, and is beautifully qualified to offer splendid training in the field of dance accomplishments.
 To enroll call Mrs. Downtain at her residence, telephone 123.

P. T. A. Membership Committee Meets
 Mrs. Roy Moore, Mrs. C. B. Hatchings, Mrs. B. S. Dudley and Mrs. H. S. Packwood met at the home of Mrs. J. F. Byas this morning in an important meeting which perfected plans for the Parent-Teacher association of Young ward school, of which Mrs. Packwood serves as president. This committee forms the membership members elected a short time ago.

Reception to Honor Teachers and Board Members at Young School Thursday Night
 The Parent-Teacher association of Young school will entertain with a reception at Young school Thursday night at 8 o'clock, honoring all teachers and board members.
 An invitation is extended to all parents to be present for this courtesy.

Mrs. Webber and Satterwhite Circle Chairmen for W. M. S.
 Members of Circles Wide-Awake and Friendship when combined makes up an active group of members known as the Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist church, opened an interesting session held at church Monday afternoon, and presided over by the newly elected president, Mrs. W. A. Lewis.

 The circles divided and held sessions during which time circle chairmen were elected to serve in that office for the ensuing term. Mrs. Gus Satterwhite was elected chairman for the Wide-Awake circle, while Mrs. W. L. Webber will serve as chairman for Circle Friendship.
 The circles reassembled for the latter part of the program, hearing the devotional taken from the Gospel by Luke. Business and general plans for the year were discussed to advantage. Next Monday's meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Walter Reimund, Vitalious street. A Royal Service lesson will be given at that time.

Miss Williams Leaves for San Antonio
 Miss Josephine Williams left this morning for San Antonio, where she will remain for some time, studying beauty culture. While in San Antonio she will be located at 132 Kathryn avenue.

Mrs. Glenn Orem and Children Home After Visit Here
 Mrs. Glenn Orem and little daughters have returned to Waco after a visit here spent at the home of her brother, Bob Burns, and family. They were accompanied on the return trip by Mrs. Burns and children, who visited several days in Waco. Mr. Burns joined them for a week-end visit, driving his family back to Ranger the first of this week.

Intermediate G. A.'s Meet for Program
 The Intermediate G. A.'s of the First Baptist church met at the church Monday afternoon at their regular hour, 4 o'clock, and rendered an interesting program.
 New and old business matters were openly discussed with the president, Hazel Barker, presiding. Mildred Fern Mitchell, program chairman, offered for the entertainment of members a well composed program made up of miscellaneous numbers. A social period brought the conclusion of the session attended by Odell Jay, Nell McGlothlin, Mildred Fern Mitchell, Hazel Barker, Elizabeth Jay, Sawana Stafford, and Mrs. Lee Mitchell, who presided in the absence of Mrs. John Tibbels, counsellor.

Picnic to Celebrate All Church Night at Country Club Tonight
 A picnic supper will celebrate all-church night for the membership of the First Christian church tonight, with every member meeting at the church at 6:30 o'clock and going in a body to the Ranger Country club, where tables have been arranged for the bountiful repast.
 In the event it should rain, since rain clouds have been appearing each afternoon, the picnic supper will be held at the church.

Menus and Recipes Prepared by Department of Home Economics Texas State College for Women DENTON, Texas, Sept. 12
 Muffins are generally popular with everyone and make acceptable bread variations for breakfast, luncheon, or dinner. Nothing tastes better for breakfast than a good hot muffin. A great variety in muffins can be made from the standard muffin recipe.
 The making of muffins is simple and quick. Measure all ingredients carefully. Mix the milk, melted fat, and beaten egg together, fold the liquid into the flour, baking powder, sugar, and salt. Do not over mix; it is necessary to just moisten the dry ingredients.
 Breakfast: Grapes, bacon and eggs, graham muffins, orange marmalade, coffee, cream, sugar, milk.
 Lunch: Macaroni and cheese, tomato salad, whole wheat bread and butter sandwiches, ice chocolate, cookies.
 Dinner: Baked ham, creamed potatoes, buttered cauliflower, lettuce salad, corn muffins, fruit jello.
 Breakfast: Stewed prunes, ham, bran muffins, honey, coffee, cream, sugar, milk.
 Lunch: Creamed eggs on toast, combination salad, date muffins, sliced fresh pineapple, milk.
 Dinner: Meat loaf, baked potatoes, creamed asparagus, bread, butter, peach salad, chocolate blanc mangle, iced coffee, cream, sugar.
 Plain Muffins: 2 cups flour, 1/2 cup milk, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons melted fat. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, and sugar. Beat together egg, milk, and melted fat. Stir the liquid into the dry ingredients. Bake in well greased muffin pans in hot oven 20 to 30 minutes.
 Each recipe makes from 10 to 12 muffins.

Scenes of Burning of Moro Castle at Arcadia Tonight
 B. E. Garner, manager of the Arcadia Theatre, announced today that he had received, by air mail, a feature film showing the burning of the Moro Castle on Saturday, in which more than 125 lives were lost.
 "This is not just a news reel shot," Garner said today after seeing the film screened, "but is a special 'shot' which lasts more than five minutes and which shows in clear detail many of the scenes during the actual burning of the ship and the rescue of some of the passengers and the crew."
 The film will be shown at the Arcadia Theatre tonight and no extra charge is to be made. This is considered one of the best pictures of its kind ever filmed as cameramen were flown to the actual scene of the disaster and scenes were filmed almost as soon as word of the tragedy was received in New York.

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE
 With BILL MAYES
 work out has been seen right here in Ranger in recent years. In the Cisco game of 1931, Cleo Gray was an unknown. He had played a few minutes but was not considered a serious contender for a backfield place. In that game, however, he got his big chance and made good, which he continued to do from there on out until he dropped from school, making the all-district team in spite of the fact that he was one of the smallest backs in the district.
 The same thing can happen this year or next to some of the boys who are working out regularly, but the boy who comes out only occasionally, and who drops out of practice because he thinks he might not make the team this year will probably never make it.
 Yesterday there were two good teams on the practice field—something very unusual of late in Ranger. But, there was still another team which went in and did some good defensive work, though they were small, which showed that they had the fighting spirit necessary to make football players, even if they did lack a little in size. It was true that there were from 14 to 16 on the defense at times, but it took at least two of some of them to measure up in weight to some of the larger boys, though when it came to determination they were as large as anyone.
 Having been away for a few days and not knowing just exactly what had been going on, we were particularly glad to see Jacoby and Payton out there on the end positions. We imagine that they are going to make two of the best ends in the district this year, if they want to do so, because either of them is capable of being just as good an end as he tries to be. Jacoby showed that in the Temple game last year when he received praise from sports writers of Temple, Waco and other towns in that part of the state. Bill can shake any end work for district honors if he puts out.

Lenson Bethel Gets Government Position
 Lenson Bethel of Ranger, who has been working the past few weeks with his father at Menard, passed through Ranger Tuesday night en route to Washington, D. C., where he has accepted a civil service position.
 Mr. Bethel took a civil service examination in bookkeeping and accounting several years ago, which he passed successfully, and was placed on the waiting list for a position. Three weeks ago he went to Menard to aid his father in the operation of a cotton gin, and while in that town received a telegram to report for duty in Washington.
 When he stopped off in Ranger he had his family with him and said that he intended to establish a home in Washington immediately upon his arrival.

Bobsleigh Is Tip For English Race
 By United Press
 LONDON.—Bobsleigh is the present hot tip for next year's Derby. Experts declare that he is the best two-year-old in the country at the present time. Hookmakers are cautiously offering odds of 10 to 1 against him for the great classic.
 Bobsleigh ran green at the Ascot meet, his first appearance, but at Goodwood at the end of July, he won the Richmond Stakes in smashing style. He was a 1 to 3 favorite at the off, and romped home by four lengths.
 The colt is the property of Lord Derby, who is lucky to have such a good animal to step into the racing plates of his Derby winner Hyperion, now retired. Bobsleigh possesses much more range and scope than Hyperion did at the same age.
 There is nothing flashy about this chestnut colt, but when you come to look him over carefully, you find it exceedingly difficult to pick a flaw in him.
 The man with real vision is not predicting reversion; he is investigating his neighbor's needs before ordering the winter coal supply.

Did You Ever Know A Man Like This:
 Borrowed his neighbor's paper and read it each afternoon—his wife and children never had an opportunity to see the home news—they could all read, too. Why not think of them and let the carrier boy leave a copy each afternoon and Sunday morning... your family will appreciate your consideration.
 —OR, YOU MAY BE TOO BUSY TO READ YOUR HOME PAPER—GIVE THE WIFE AND KIDNIES A CHANCE—IT ONLY COSTS 19 CENTS A WEEK DELIVERED TO YOUR HOME!

Night Classes to Be Offered in College Studies

Arrangements have been made at the Ranger Junior College for night classes or Saturday classes in junior college or senior college work for those who are interested, the Abilene Christian college of Abilene co-operating in making the classes possible, it was announced today by H. S. Von Roeder.
 The work will be carried on through the extension department of the Abilene Christian college in both the junior and senior college work for all who are interested.
 Anyone wishing to take up these Saturday or night courses is invited to meet in room 12 of the high school building at 9:30 Saturday morning at which time the courses will be arranged.
 Demand for the subjects will determine whether the classes will be held at night or on Saturdays, Mr. Von Roeder said, and the type of work to be offered will also be determined by the demand. It is thought that such courses as English, education, social science and other regular studies will be available and the preferences of those who enter the classes will determine which will be carried on.
 These classes are available to the teachers as well as the pupils who have completed their high school or junior college work and wish to continue with their education.

Woman's Lure Makes 'Of Human Bondage' An Emotional Drama

Since the dawn of time, beautiful women have exercised strange powers over men, and even the stories of mythology are colored by sirens who lured men to their destruction.
 A poignant and strikingly human treatment of this age-old theme is said to be given in RKO-Radio's pictureization of the famous novel by Somerset Maugham, "Of Human Bondage," at traction at the Arcadia Theatre today.
 Leslie Howard is starred in the film, playing the role of a medical student who becomes enamored of an unworthy, but—to him—strikingly magnetic woman.
 Unwillingly attracted at first, her strange power grows over him until his soul is virtually in "human bondage" to her. Bound by the ties of his strange and idealistic passion, he clings to her and comes to her aid, even when he knows that she is soulless, treacherous and utterly unworthy.
 When it seems that his whole life is to be ruined, fate takes a hand in freeing him from the bondage which is slowly destroying his morals.
 Bette Davis plays what she considers the strongest role of her career, that of the heartless girl who takes all and gives nothing but unhappiness. Kay Johnson and Frances Dee are other feminine figures in the picture's absorbing romantic pattern, and leading male supporting roles are played by Reginald Denny, Alan Hale, Reginald Sheffield and Reginald Owen, John Chomwell directed.

Community Fair Dates Announced
 Start of a series of community fairs to be held this week in the county was announced Monday morning by Miss Ruth Ramey, county home demonstration agent, as being at Romney Tuesday, Word and Pleasant Hill communities will have their fairs at the Pleasant Hill schoolhouse Thursday, Miss Ramey said.
 Rising Star's two-day fair will begin Friday. Eastland good-will tripping merchants will present a program during the fair, at the invitation of Rising Star residents.
 Miss Ramey states that basket suppers will be served at the Romney and Word-Pleasant Hill fairs and all persons in the county are invited.
 J. M. Bird, vocational agriculture teacher at Cisco, and M. O. Hood of Rising Star are assisting Miss Ramey in the exhibits at the fairs.
 Osage Indians to the eighth decedant are entitled to $16,000 each because of oil discovered on their territory. Why shouldn't the Indians get the best of everything? Don't they have reservations?

The line, about which we had been having nightmares all summer because we thought it would be extremely light and weak, shows up much heavier and much better than we had expected. We had not counted on one or two boys crowing up as rapidly as they did, nor did we know that one or two would be able to be out for the team. A few good men make a lot of difference.
 And speaking of the difference a few men can make reminds us that a few days can also do wonders. A team that really looks rather ragged this time of year may be a powerful functioning machine before the season starts. Back in 1932 we saw the Bulldogs play Weatherford and come away decidedly let down. They looked pretty bad when we thought of Abilene coming in the next week. But the next week they took Abilene to a 20 to 0 trouncing and looked so good we could not understand it ourselves and Prover Anderson accused us of holding out on him because we had not told him we had so much to offer in the way of competition. We had to admit we were as fooled as he was.
 Some of the Oil Belt blazers of yesteryear are playing in the colleges this year, we see, with a good

A DOZEN GOOD REASONS for owning FORD V-8

It is unnecessary to resort to adjectives in describing the Ford V-8. To understand its value you merely have to look at its features—and find out how much they ordinarily cost. A dozen of them are listed below.

Study the Ford V-8 point by point. Discover the engineering advances that have made it one of the finest performing cars on the road. And discover comfort that you would hardly believe so little money could buy.

Drive the Ford V-8. And while you thrill to its pick-up, its power and its luxury... remember that it is the most economical car to operate Ford has ever built.
