American Troops Await Strike Call Orders

KEEPING THROUGH THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

It is mighty hard to predict at the time of the year what a football season is going to do in the fall season, and, too, we have an established custom of doing predictions after a game has been played instead of before. However, we have been crossed up on predictions, even at that late date in the case of the Bull-Dozer team who won their last year who won their last year, but lost them, as did the Brownwood in one instance.

Friday it seemed to us that they had begun to take their feet a little more seriously than the day before. The new rules on passing, Coach Moore again inter-fered for us just before the practice is anticipated a much more open game this year, with little taking on an air-minded with more balls being thrown than ever before. An adequate defense is also going to be the mainstay of the defense. We hope with the aerial pro-gram we are passing practice every day, with the whole team, guards, centers and all, practicing. The pass receiver gets his hands on a ball, but to catch it has to run the field and back. Few were missed yesterday, but the Britt, Bill Payton and Anderson looked rather em-barrassed when they muffed "one" and the squad gleefully in-terrupted to "hurry back" and to "back and see us sometime."

Mr. Grigoliet believed a good indication that news that Mrs. Grigoliet had in an automobile accident in which she was dated. According to the story, Mrs. Grigoliet was in a traffic accident which her two children and one of the other car were injured.

Post Card From Mrs. Grigoliet Says She Is Returning
A. Grigoliet was in receipt of a post card from Mrs. Grigoliet which was mailed from her on Sept. 11, stating that she was stopping for a day or two at a cousin of Mr. Grigoliet and leave for Ranger in a few days.

SEN. NAT PATTON PROMOTED TO SEAT IN AMERICAN CONGRESS

Sen. Nat Patton of Crockett is among the list of state lawmakers who are highly elated and smilingly facing the future regardless of the depression or drought or other calamities, afflictions or visitations, real or fancied under bluebonnet skies. Nat has a congressional representative nominee and certain of election. He emerged from the contest in the seventh district a victor over Roger Davis of Nacogdoches. He has a lot of legislative experience. He served as a state representative. Ambitious to go higher, he ran for a state senatorial post. He won. Then he decided he would like a temporary change in climatic conditions and threw his hat in the ring as a candidate for the congressional post in his district. Now he will go to Washington in January and be numbered among the 21 representatives from the state which will celebrate its centennial celebration in 1936.

There is a Waterloo in the life of every man. The dean of the senate, after many stormy political battles, met his and went down smiling as he was buried by an avalanche of votes cast for the "Abe Lincoln of the Rio Grande." Politics is a fascinating game. There are times when it is a nasty game but life is a game and a gamble for that matter and youth ever has its fling in politics and all the professions and in all the fields of human endeavor. A man who has a flair for politics is wisest and happiest when he sits in the treetops, picks and backs his favorites and surveys through naked eyes the marchers in the passing show.

"SIEGE OF MINNEAPOLIS" LIFTED BY OLSON

Gov. Floyd B. Olson of Minnesota has lifted "the siege of Minneapolis" where truck drivers were on strike five weeks and the national guardsmen were called out to protect life and property as well as to keep the wheels of commerce moving. All the strikers have returned to their jobs. All the guardsmen have returned to their homes. A compromise agreement was accepted by the drivers and their employers, according to the governor who has been pictured and publicized by the American press and criticized as well as cauterized by those who did not take kindly to his declaration of martial law and the use of the military in preserving order in the great milling center of the Northwest.

Why strikes? Why boycotts? Why blacklists? Why not an appeal to reason at all times with a fair deal for all concerned?

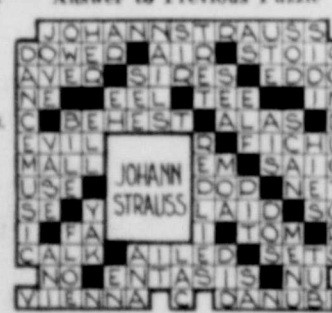

For the sake of better business and a more progressive city, every business man should be an active member of his home town chamber of commerce.

Pellagra Is Still Prevalent In Texas
Dr. Brown Says

AUSTIN.—Six hundred and 45 Texans died last year of pellagra, declared Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer. Pellagra is a disease that is caused by lack of the proper foods. It comes on slowly and may not be recognized until the victim begins to have a sore mouth, stomach trouble and reddening and scaling of the skin. When these symptoms appear the disease has been present for some time.

The longer a person has pellagra the harder it is to cure, so one should be on the lookout for the early symptoms such as nervousness, indigestion, and burning of the feet and hands. The disease may become so severe as to affect the mind.

Pellagra is not contagious. As long as a person eats enough of the right kind of food and is not otherwise diseased, he is in no danger even if he lives with a pellagra patient.

The prevention of pellagra depends upon eating the right kind of food at all times. To make sure that the diet is right, it should always include plenty of milk daily, some fresh meat, and as many fresh vegetables as possible. Tomatoes, whole wheat products, salmon, brewer's yeast and fresh fruits are especially valuable. Having provided these essentials of a proper diet, the rest may be arranged according to family and personal likes. In this way pellagra may be avoided.

NUDISTS SHORTEN LIVES
By United Press

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Nudists are making a serious mistake by exposing themselves, so entirely, to the rays of the sun. Dr. Carl Loeb holds that sunlight increases the speed of metabolism and causes the human body to age more rapidly, when given in such an "overdose." Although the human body requires some sunlight it does not warrant the complete and consistent exposure, as advocated by the nudists, he says.

Newnham Tells—

population, the largest town in the state. The next largest town is 10,000, and there is only one of that size. The next largest town is 7,000, and there is only one of that size. Only 46 miles of hard-surfaced road from one end of the state to the other, being their principal highway. The country is barren, desert looking all the way, and of course sparsely populated. The homes in the country are the worst I have ever seen. It made me think of that old boy who was living out in West Texas in the 80's, during the drought, and before he got ready to leave he wrote on his shack, with a piece of chalk: "Two hundred miles to a railroad, 50 miles to the postoffice, 30 miles to wood, 20 miles to water, six inches to hell. God bless our home. Gone to live with the wife's folks." But, anyway, we journeyed on through this barren country to the bad lands, which of course are still more barren and properly named.

We came to Rapid City, in the Black Hills, which is the center of a once prosperous mining district, whose mines of course by this time have been depleted, and a number of them shut down. It like this country, is not adaptable to farming. In fact it is not nearly as good farming country as this, and I understand that they found themselves in much the same condition that we find ourselves here, and they were asking themselves the question, "What can we do to keep this community alive?" But somebody who thought it could be done thought out a plan that was available to almost everybody in western United States, but during adversity when something had to be done, they started to work on the plan. They built a hotel in the Black Hills which hadn't been so very well patronized. In 1927 they, together with their United States senator, invited President Coolidge to use it as the summer white house. Sometime in 1927 there was a bill introduced in congress, which raised both houses and was signed by President Coolidge, to carve the busts of Washington, Lincoln and Jefferson on those rocks on Mount Rushmore. They have already been working there five years; they will be working about 10 years more before they finish. Washington is about completed; when they finish Jefferson and Lincoln they are considering trying to carve Theodore Roosevelt also. This of course has brought a nice payroll to the city, but best of all it has brought thousands of tourists to the city, and it will bring thousands more throughout the years to come, and I am sure that there are thousands of rocks in the states of Colorado, New Mexico, Utah, Montana, that would be just as acceptable for this purpose as Mount Rushmore, and most assuredly they are located in more accessible places, where there would be paved roads leading to them. This, my friends, if it were not a realization, would sound like the silliest dream of all. What will pull us out of the hole here? Some silly dream just like the above, which we will all be proud to call when we have made up our minds to work together for a common good.

In concluding, fellows, what I have been trying to say is let's all stick together as we have in the past; let's pull for the city in which we live, and when a dreamer comes along, and one will come, let's join hands with him and go on down the line for a bigger Ranger, a better Ranger, and a city which we will all be proud to call when we have made up our minds to work together for a common good.

BEACH CLUB GIRL

BEGIN HERE TODAY
 BOOTS HAD BEEN IN and lovely, slopes with HUSS LUND. Handsome swimming instructor, because her gride has been hurt by some petty social snobs. Huss goes to Miami, promising to send for her later. Boots gets a job in a department store. She is living in a tiny room in Greenwhich village when she is stricken with influenza. DENIS FENWAY, young author, befriends her and later introduces her to some of his friends. Boots finds herself receiving the possessive air beautiful KAY CHILLINGFORD has toward Denis.

Just before her illness Boots received a telegram telling her Huss had been killed in a motorboat accident. She goes back to the store to work, too proud to appeal to her parents. She sees EDWARD VAN SCIVER, one of Denis' friends, frequently. Denis is away somewhere.

Summer comes again and it is almost a year since Boots left her home.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
 CHAPTER XXXI

BOOTS had never known a summer like this one. Back in Larchneck it had been warm, certainly; but there you had had awninged rooms, the blue Sound itself to splash about in. Games, shaded porches, playing lawn sprays, children skipping delightfully under big trees in the care of starched and aproned nurses—all this had meant summer to Boots. You had a big house, of course, and big windows with the breezes blowing freely through the rooms. There were iced drinks in the big refrigerator in the roomy, shabby kitchen. Salads, crisp rolls, mountainous custards tempted your appetite. Bath salts foamed pink or green in the big tub and the feeling of crisply ironed silks next to freshly powdered, sun-browned skin was infinitely delicious. . . .

All this was changed now. Mrs. Mooney's rooms baked and sweated under a broiling sky. Mornings were brief interludes of peace and coolness but before 10 o'clock the store itself was an inferno. At noontime you went wanly in search of food, but nothing was inviting. The limp lettuce leaves in the cafeteria, the bowls of sandwich materials at the fountain luncheonette appealed you. At night, dragging a weary homeward way on blistered and swollen feet, you saw soiled children playing in gutters strewn with dirt and chaff. Sometimes a fire hydrant played, and then the street urchins were delirious with joy, their soaked, tattered clothes clinging to their thin bodies.

There was one solid week in June when the sky was an inverted bowl of brass—merciless, unclouded. Then on Saturday rain fell, drenching the parched and grateful earth in the parks. News papers published a toll of "heat victims." But Sunday dawned faintly cooler and a cry of gratitude went up from a million throats. . . .

It was on this Sunday that Boots, limp, tired, yet weakly thankful

Fertilizers Cut the Costs for Farmers When "Blended"

WASHINGTON, D. C.—"Blended" fertilizers are one answer to the quest for a cheaper source of satisfactory nitrogen for cotton fertilizers.

If enough sodium nitrate is used the acidity of ammonium sulphate, a mixture of these two relatively inexpensive sources of nitrogen produces as good yields of cotton as when the more expensive organic sources of nitrogen, such as tankage and cottonseed meal, are used.

This is the result of experiments in the southeastern cotton belt, by Oswald Schreiner and J. J. Skinner of the division of Soil Fertility, U. S. Department of Agriculture, reported today before the American Chemical society, meeting in Cleveland. Blending works equally well with the concentrated fertilizers, now coming into more general use.

These findings are economically important because they place inexpensive inorganic and synthetic nitrogen products, when properly balanced with basic materials, on a par in crop producing value with more expensive organic compounds from animal and vegetable wastes. The organic materials cost, on the basis of 1934 prices, is almost three times as much per unit as the inorganic.

In the experiments, two thirds sodium nitrate and one third ammonium sulphate gave much better results than one third the nitrate and two thirds the sulphate. The former mixture also gave as good yields as one part sodium nitrate, one part ammonium sulphate and two parts of either dried blood, cottonseed meal, fish scrap or tankage.

Another experiment showed that over a period of three years, full applications of fertilizer at planting time gave slightly higher yields and, naturally, lower labor costs than split or delayed application. This was true whether the source of the nitrogen was sodium nitrate, ammonium sulphate or urea. Similar results have previously been reported by the Alabama and Georgia stations.

The New WATERLESS WAY

White the New Utility Cooker brings to you the possibilities of enjoying old-fashioned meals in addition, it permits you to prepare foods by the newer methods of cooking without water.

Science has discovered that there is so much natural moisture in all meats, vegetables and fruits that it is entirely feasible to cook them with little or no water.

About the only reason why we have cooked with water was to avoid burning. Water distributes the heat evenly, conducting it away from the point nearest the fire.

However, after we have cooked our foods we have poured off the excess water and with it we have poured the bone-forming, teeth-building minerals; the iron, calcium and phosphorus that constitute the essential elements which the human system must have. With the new perfected Utility Cooker you can prepare foods deliciously tender and full of these health-building elements. The Utility Cooker is ideal for the housewife who wishes to practice this modern, more healthful and more economical way of cooking.

Mrs. M. R. Newnam Attends Texas Dunning Teachers Association Meet
 Mrs. M. R. Newnam has home after a very pleasant visit of several days out of town which took her to Houston and Sherman. In the latter place she attended the Texas Dunning Teachers association, an annual session sponsored each year by the above organization.

The program for the celebrated occasion was a beautifully arranged one, carrying for the entertainment of distinguished delegates high class features of music and art. The session opened Sept. 8 with a breakfast at L & W. cafe, with registration at convention hall, Kidd-Key college.

Formal opening and convention opening came prior to the silent prayer and greetings by Mrs. Beatrice Eikel of Sherman. Luncheon was held at Casa Linda and later the banquet at Hotel Grayson.

Mrs. Newnam, who is a teacher of Dunning and who attends all prominent assemblies, reports the above as one of the most complete and impressively presented of any ever to have been given by the Dunning association.

While in Houston she visited at the bedside of her mother, who has been confined to her home all summer suffering from a heart ailment.

Dr. Sensabaugh, New Presiding Elder, Attends North Zone Meeting
 Ranger Methodist Missionary society was honored by being hostess to a district zone meeting which was held in an all-day session at the church Wednesday, Sept. 12. The meeting opened at 10 a. m. and lasted until 4 p. m., with an hour for luncheon.

Sensabaugh is the new presiding elder, who gave an interesting talk during the luncheon period.

The meeting was very ably presided over by the zone leader, Mrs. Phillip Shaw of Breckenridge, and aided by Mrs. Jones, of Eastland, secretary to the session.

Mrs. W. E. Barron of Desdemona, district secretary, was present. A program filled with outstanding numbers and inspiring speeches was enjoyed. A high light of the program was the music provided by four colored people from Breckenridge. The music consisted of a saw player, and singers, the combination of which was most unusual and delightful in effect.

 The usual Wednesday afternoon meeting of Woodman Circle chapter, Julia Alexander Grove No. 1954, was conducted under the guardianship of Mrs. Rubye Greer, and heard by thirteen members present.

After the regular routine which composes the program proper, discussions were heard regarding the all-day meeting of the Woodman Circle chapter to be held at Garland, Thursday, Sept. 27th. Several members from the local chapter are planning on attending the program.

The penny prize furnished by Mrs. Ona Keel, was won by Mrs. Christine Yerton.

According to present announcement it is likely that the lodge is soon to lose one of its most valued members, one who has done much work in the office of guardian, Mrs. C. C. Cash. The company of Lone Star Gas, for which Mr. Cash works, is contemplating an early transfer for the Cash's. Just where the transfer will take them has not as yet been definitely decided.

All members are asked to report for next Wednesday's session. Since the afternoons are becoming more pleasant and members are home after vacation trips a larger membership is expected.

Well Selected Study Topics Afford Interesting Club Hour

Roll call was given an appropriate response with quotations in keeping with the lesson subject, "Duties of a Mother," followed by the co-subject, "Your Child Ready for School." As Mrs. Hassen drew her talk to a close a round table discussion was opened for further points on the topic.

Ringold Talks On Thrift at Lions Meeting Today
 The Lions club today heard an unusually good talk on "Thrift," given by Lion E. A. Ringold, who began his discussion by telling of the teachings of Benjamin Franklin, America's pioneer in the field of saving.

It was 41 years after the death of Benjamin Franklin that the first savings and loan association was started. That humble beginning was in the form of a few men, serious-minded, honest, thrifty men, who banded themselves together and pledged the depositing of $5 per month until those payments plus the interest made from the loaning of the money had grown to $500 when it was to be withdrawn and used to build or purchase a home. The idea once put into practice grew slowly but steadily until in 1929 there were more than 8,000,000 investors in building and loan associations and more than $8,000,000,000 invested.

When the financial crash came in 1928 and 1929 over 15,000,000 workers and wage earners were thrown into unemployment. These millions, some of whom were investors in the savings and loan stock, naturally came to need their money and sought to withdraw it, but there were others in the 15,000,000 unemployed who had borrowed on their stock to build or buy with and as they were without funds were unable to pay the associations, therefore the savings and loan associations along with the banks of the nation were floundering or becalmed in a Saragasso of finance.

The government, Mr. Ringold said, enters the picture just here with its founding of the Federal Home Loan banks, which partly filled the need for aid to the distressed home-owner but which were pointed the way to a better way of helping which is the founding and chartering of federal savings and loan associations in every community that desires and will make possible the chartering of such an association.

Ranger just last week completed the necessary arrangements and there is now in the hands of authorities an application for a charter for Ranger for a federal savings and loan association that will pull money out of postal savings accounts and other places where money is placed for safe-keeping but where it is also stagnant. Money put into the federal savings and loan will be loaned locally by a local board for the improvement and repair of local residence property by local craftsmen.

In conclusion, Lion Ringold asked that every Lion work toward a bigger and stronger association for Ranger for two seasons. It will help the investor to save and it will help the home-owner borrower and the home-town building craftsmen.

After the regular order of business, the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and the reports of committees, several guests were introduced. They were Dr. Hal R. Parks, who heads the science department of the Ranger Junior College; Mr. Rupert Ringold of the English department of the Ranger High School, and Mr. O. G. Lanier, who for a number of years has been associated with the Ranger school system.

about the prospects. We did get Bob Norman covered for a while and we both agreed that the Notre Dame system was pretty to watch, and also agreed that some teams had had some success with it, while others had proven miserable failures, including the team whose Alma Mamma had originated the system. We also agreed that though some who knew even more football than we did advocated the double wing back, for which either of us have little, if any, sympathy, we could see that it had little to recommend it to us. Being unanimous on that point we went home feeling that we had decided a momentous question to the satisfaction of both of us.

At present it seems to us, though we admit readily that we are often wrong, that the starting lineup might stack up something like this by the time the season opens:

Anderson and Agnew, halves; Britt, full; Walsh, quarter; Payton or Sharp and Jacoby, ends; Love and Palmer, tackles; Warden and Carroway, guards, and Bunton, center. There are several good candidates for the guard and tackle positions, however, and there may be considerable change seen in our lineup and the one Moore uses. So far he hasn't asked our advice, and until such time as he does we will let him run the team, just as he has been considerate with us and let us run the editorial end of this paper.

It seems to us that Payton may have the inside track on one end position, though Ira Sharp looks like he is going to give someone a run for his place in the line. He may make a tackle, or he may be used at either tackle or end. That is just our guess, though, and is not official at all.

On the defense Britt has been playing end while Jacoby has been switching into the tackle slot, which may be the combination Moore will use.

There are a number of youngsters out who seem to have more than average football ability, despite their sizes, and they may develop into good material before the season opens. Surely most of those out for practice now if they continue to come out, will be seen in the lineup next year or the year after.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL
 When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends start to leave coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us sloppy, groggy and no good for anything. What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and ¼ of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over the body every six minutes.
 When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whiff of vomit, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something worse" is offered you, don't buy it. For it may be a national (mercury) pill, which causes teeth, gums and acids the return to many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you see for—24c. ©1934, C.M.C.O.
