Blanton Calls Meeting of Ranger Supporters

The next mayor of New Baltimore, Mich., is 26. Recalling Shirley Temple and Schoolboy Rowe, it wouldn't be surprising if the government declared an old age pension for anyone over 39.

BULLDOGS TO GO INTO ACTION FOR FIRST TIME ON NEXT FRIDAY

KEEPING THROUGH THE KNOTHOLE

Most of the fans in the Oil Belt will have an opportunity this weekend to see their favorite teams in action for the first time, and Ranger fans are no exception, as the Bulldogs will play their first game of the season with the McMurry college freshmen at Lillard field Friday afternoon in the only home game for the team until the conference season opens with Eastland playing here on Oct. 19.

Other teams to see their first action over the week-end include Abilene, the Eagles playing Coleman at Abilene; Cisco, who enters teams Gorman at Chesley field, Cisco; Brownwood, who will journey to San Antonio to play Thomas Jefferson High School, and Eastland, who will engage the Bobcats at San Angelo. Breckenridge, who defeated Comanche last Friday by a score of 19 to 0, will play Mineral Wells at Breckenridge on Friday.

After playing McMurry freshmen in Ranger, the Bulldogs will go on the road and will not be back until the opening of the conference season. The following Friday they will play at Lubbock, will play Central High at Fort Worth on Oct. 5, and will go to San Angelo for a game on Oct. 12 before playing another home game.

Since this will be the only opportunity for a vast majority of the Ranger fans to see the team in real competition before the season opens, an unusually large crowd is expected to be on hand for the McMurry game. Not only will it be the only opportunity to see the Bulldogs play, but it will be the first time for them to see the brand of football that Coach Moore has been teaching, though a number have been visiting the training field and have seen the workouts, at which some scrimmage has been on the training schedule.

It is not expected that the Bulldogs will be in mid-season form by the opening game, because it can easily be remembered by most that in past years the practice games have not clearly indicated the brand of football of which the team is capable.

The McMurry freshmen are reported to have a very strong team this year, as they have a large number of high school players of last year on the squad, and the cream of the crop will, no doubt, be the guest speaker at American Parole association luncheon.

Arthur D. Wood, chairman of the United States Board of Parole, and president of the Parole association, was to preside.

Three meetings were scheduled for the day, that of the committee on criminal statistics; the Chaplains association, with Rev. George M. Brady of Wethersfield, Conn., president, in charge, and the National Prisoners Aid association, with J. E. Dayton, director-president of the bureau of rehabilitation, in charge.

A joint meeting of the committee on probation and the American Parole association also was scheduled.

Under Fire

Captain Robert Carey of the S. S. Cleveland, who told the Federal inquiry that he did all possible to aid survivors of the burning Morro Castle, has been criticized by junior officers. They insist lowering of life boats was delayed an hour.

Criminology and Child Welfare Are Studied By Group

HOUSTON, Sept. 17.—Leaders in the fields of criminology, penology and child welfare are meeting here today for the 64th annual convention of the American Prison association and the 31st annual meeting of the National Conference of Juvenile Delinquents.

Five other groups will combine their meeting with the convention. They are the Warden's association, the Chaplains association, and the National Prisoners Aid association, the National Probation association, and the American Parole association.

A general session of the group will open the convention, with Joe R. Moore, supervisor of the probation system of the United States, as chairman.

Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, speaking on Common Problems of Probation and Parole, was scheduled to be the guest speaker at American Parole association luncheon.

LEGISLATURE BEGINS THIRD WEEK OF TERM

AUSTIN, Sept. 17.—Texas legislators began the third week of their special session today with a fast moving program that carried the Colorado river authority bill to final passage in the senate.

Sen. W. B. Collie of Eastland cast the only negative vote against the bill to create a public authority to vitalize a $4,500,000 PWA loan for completion of the Buchanan Dam on the Colorado river.

The legislature confidently expected to complete the special relief bill and provide at least $5,000,000 for winter aid this week.

House leaders thought that the House would finally accept the million dollar cut by the senate but were less hopeful the senate budgeting of expenditure would be acceptable.

It was expected amendment would be rejected with a request for a conference committee.

L. H. Flewollen, who has been appointed special associate justice of the Eleventh Court of Civil Appeals by Governor Ferguson to try two cases in which justices were disqualified.

The letter to Judge Flewollen read as follows:

Appeal Is Filed For Raymond Hamilton In Death Sentence

AUSTIN, Sept. 17.—An appeal for Raymond Hamilton, desperado now at large, from a death penalty assessed him in Walker county for the slaying of Prison Guard Major Crowson, was filed today in the court of criminal appeals here.

Crowson was slain during Hamilton's escape from the Eastham State Prison farm in January. Hamilton was recaptured, but escaped from a death cell in July.

Henry Methvin Is Identified as Slayer

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 17.—Henry Methvin, former Texas convict, was identified today as the slayer of Constable Cal Campbell of Commerce, Okla.

Oklahoma officers who made the identification took the 23-year-old Methvin to Commerce to face trial in connection with the killing which climaxed a mad flight by Methvin, Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker.

Chief of Police Percy Boyd of Commerce, one of the group of officers who took Methvin from the jail today, said he was certain Methvin fired the shot in the head killing. Boyd was shot in the head and kidnapped at the time Campbell was killed.

Announces New Book on Tarzan

TARZANA, Cal.—Violating all known rules of selling technique, a book published here recently greets its purchasers with the astonishing declaration that it is the poorest novel its author has ever written.

The book is "Tarzan and the Lion Man," by Edgar Rice Burroughs, and the super-frank publisher is Burroughs himself, under the corporate name of Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc.

The announcement on the jacket of the book, after apologizing for the usual exuberance of the publishers' blurbs, states: "After making amends for that, we are going to tell you that Mr. Burroughs believes this to be the poorest Tarzan novel he has ever written.

"On that point, however, there is a difference of opinion. The editors of 'Liberty' magazine say that 'Tarzan and the Lion Man' is the greatest, and thousands of their readers agree with them. Now we leave it to you. What is your opinion?"

The novel concerns the adventures of Burroughs' perennially romantic hero, Tarzan, when he encounters the safari of a motion picture company on location in the African jungles as it struggles against the onslaughts of hostile Basuto tribes and the treachery of its Arab guides.

The exciting plot takes Tarzan and the 'Lion Man,' a movie actor who resembles the ape-man in all but courage, into the domain of a half-mad scientist who has taught a tribe of gorillas to speak English, and on the trail of Arabs who have captured two beautiful girls who unwittingly possess the key to the vast treasures of a valley of diamonds.

At the end of the story Tarzan is induced to come to Hollywood, but after one look at the movie capital he promptly returns post-haste to the comparative tranquillity of his African jungles.

Endeavor won by two minutes and nine and two-fifths seconds. Four out of seven races are required to win the cup.

Drastic Reforms In Banking Asked

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The senate banking committee today demanded reform of America's "archaic" banking system in a report that condemned group banking practices.

The report was based on the committee investigation into banking at Cleveland and Detroit and analysis of which was published several months ago.

Inquiry into the Union Trust company of Detroit and the Guardian Trust of Cleveland was declared to show the weakness of the whole banking structure.

Airplane Company Made Huge Profit

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Stock holders of the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft company realized a return of more than 1,000,000 per cent on their original $1,000 investment in the firm, investigators were told today.

The company was organized in 1925 with a stock issue of 5,000 shares priced at 20 cents a share. Investigators said that at the end of 1932 the return of the investment was $11,437,250.

The amazing profit was revealed as the committee started its third week of the first phase of the inquiry into the munitions industry.

MILLS FLAYS NEW DEAL AS OLD SYSTEM

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The new deal's economic planning, so labeled progressive, actually is reversion to a system discarded in 1787—"an old, old deal, dealt from a pack thumbed by the fingers of countless kings, despots and tyrants," Ogden Mills, former secretary of the treasury, said today.

In a constitution day address before the women's national republican club, Mills said planned economy means the end of economic liberalism and called for a government, of which the dictatorship of Italy, Germany and Russia are the supreme expression.

The United States constitution, Mills said, got its authority from the people and set up certain limitations designed "to secure the blessing of liberty to ourselves and to posterity."

During the last year and a half under the guise of emergency legislation, practically all of these limitations have been broken down or ignored.

Calls Meeting

Hon. Thomas L. Blanton, who has called a meeting of his friends and supporters, to be held at the Elks arena Tuesday afternoon, to discuss some topics of importance to Ranger.

GORMAN SAYS STRIKE IS NOW SHOWING GAIN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Efforts of textile manufacturers to open their mills today proved a "complete failure" strike leaders declared after a checkup.

"The strike is bigger than it was Saturday," Francis J. Gorman, leader, said.

At the same time he threatened all allied textile trades would be called out if the strike was not settled this week. He said the executive committee would be asked to order a walkout of allied workers.

Gorman, accompanied his threats with a denunciation of General Johnson, adding that "if Johnson is an officer in NRA at the time the A. F. of L. convention meets, our delegation will introduce a resolution demanding his resignation or his discharge."

Gorman said national guards and deputy sheriffs attempted to establish a reign of terror in the strike zone today but that reports indicated the strike was more successful than ever.

He declared the strike was completely effective in spite of the recent "organizers and pickets are being thrown in jail by the hundreds."

GEN. JOHNSON GIVEN DUE RECOGNITION BY F. D. R.

Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, the fighting West Pointer of the New Deal administration and administrator of the NRA, will not desert his post. President Roosevelt has increased his salary from $6000 to $15,000 a year.

He has not been stripped of power. He has the confidence of the President and has been given additional power as well as prestige.

This increase of salary and authority was directed by special order of the President. Moreover, the action was taken in order to give the militant warrior of the New Deal set-up, "a salary more nearly in line with his work and to enable him to meet heavy living expenses." Well, the laborer is worthy of his hire. If he is a $15,000-a-year man, he should be paid $15,000 a year. If he is a $50,000-a-year man, he is worth the price. If he is a $2000-a-year or a $1000-a-year man, that is his misfortune.

There are leaders and there are leasers. There are men who blaze the trails where others walk without being compelled to cut a road in the wilderness or kick down the barriers. General Johnson has borne the brunt of the battle of the administration since he was picked as the field marshal of the fighting battalions entrusted with the enforcement of the NRA rules and plans and codes, all experiments. Weaklings have their place in the scheme of things or in the great economy of nature set-ups, but a weakling cannot stand the gaff, blaze the trail, sail his ship on an uncharted ocean and avoid the snags which often wrecked political ships of steel and steam.

Johnson has had a very tough and a very thankless job. He has not finished the job. But like the Arizona fiddler "he is doing his damndest and angels kin do no more."

UNCLE ANDY MELLON RETURNS TO HIS DESK

Andrew W. Mellon is 79. He is home from a vacation in Scotland. He was welcomed to the Smokey City, known as Pittsburgh. Bright and early he made his way to his office building and "turned to a littered desk and mapped out for himself a 12-hour work day." Under the federal statute Uncle Andy must wait two years after relinquishing his treasury post before he may again actively engage in banking, and although that period will be up in March his close associates say that it is doubtful if their chief will ever again return to that occupation. While abroad he did not invest $1,500,000 in a famous painting. He admits that all he has done is to admire the painting, and "as much as he likes art he had no idea of paying such a price for a painting."

Uncle Andy is one of the most remarkable men in American history. From early boyhood he has been a glutton for work. He is a rugged individualist. His father before him piled up an immense fortune and Uncle Andy has added hundreds of millions to that fortune. Think of it, 79 and in harness again with a huge fortune at his command but ever insistent that man was made to work "almost from the cradle to the grave."

Hidalgo County 'Cabbage War' To Reach the Courts

EDINBURG, Tex.—Echoes of Hidalgo county's famous "cabbage war" of early spring will be heard September 24 in Judge Bryce Ferguson's 92nd District Court when trials of three men indicted in connection with burning of one packing plant and destruction of considerable cabbage will be called.

District Attorney Sid Harlin announced the settings has been made by Judge Ferguson Saturday. C. T. Brockington of Mercedes faces trial on an arson charge in connection with the burning of Carl Bessett's cabbage plant at Alamo in March. The plant was totally destroyed with an uninsured loss of about $15,000. A night-watchman at the plant was abducted by a group of men and released a short time later several miles from Alamo on a country road. When he made his way back to the town, the plant was in flames. Alamo and McAllen fire departments battling the blaze all night.

A. C. Barnhart of McAllen, head of the McAllen unit and an official of a Valleywide growers' organization, is also charged with arson in connection with the Bressett fire.

S. W. Prince of La Feria faces trial on an indictment charging burglary with intent to commit arson. It is alleged that he broke into the Dan Logan packing plant at San Juan the night of the Bressett fire and soaked the interior with kerosene. Cabbage in the plant was ruined and several loaded refrigerator cars on sidings were also ruined when the cargoes were soaked in oil. The night-watchman at the Logan plant was held prisoner in a nearby gin seedhouse by another group while contents of the plant were being soaked in oil, investigators were told.

All three men were indicted shortly after the Bressett fire, Hidalgo county deputy sheriffs and Texas Rangers participating in the probe. All have been at liberty under bond of $3,000 each for Prince and Barnhart and $1,000 for Brockington.

THEY ALL get a lift with a Camel!

Men and women in every walk of life report that smoking a Camel offers an immediate and enjoyable way to defeat fatigue and irritability. It is an important fact to all that Camels do "turn on" one's natural energy. You have doubtless observed this in others...in yourself, if you are a Camel smoker.

It is a wholesome and natural "energizing effect," fully confirmed by scientific research. You'll also find in Camels: mildness...delicacy of flavor...costlier tobaccos! Smoke as many as you want! Camels never get on your nerves.

Camel's Costlier Tobaccos never get on your Nerves!

HOUSEWIFE. Mrs. Charles Daly: "My recipe for renewing energy is to smoke a Camel. Camels do pick up my energy when tired."

ANIMAL COLLECTOR. Frank ("Bring 'em Back Alive") Buck, says: "I can smoke all I want because I smoke Camels. They don't upset my nerves."

ENGINEER. Jack Ford, of the Burlington's "Zephyr," says: "Engineers like Camels. They help increase energy when worn out."

SPORTSMAN. Rex Beach says: "When I light a Camel as good as new. A Camel quickly gives me a well being and renewed energy. As a steady smoker I learned that Camels don't interfere with my work."

BRIDGE EXPERT. Shepard Barclay says: "I can smoke Camels steadily without my nerves being affected."

FLYER. Roscoe Turner says: "I watch my nerves fully as I do my flying. That's why I smoke Camels."

TOBACCO MEN ALL KNOW: "Camels are made from finer, more expensive tobaccos — Turkish and Domestic — than any other popular brand."

STAR PITCHER. Guy Bush, pitching ace of the Chicago Cubs, says: "When I come out of a game after nine hard innings, there's nothing that lifts up my energy the way a Camel does. I feel freshened up in no time at all!"

DEEP-SEA DIVER. Frank Crilly says: "I smoke Camels and have smoked them for years. Camels taste better and never upset my nerves."

OLYMPIC CHAMPION DIVER. Miss Georgia Coleman: "When I'm tired and need a 'lift' I smoke a Camel. Soon I feel like my real self again."

GOULER. Miss Helen Hicks, U. S. Champion: "I can always quickly restore my energy with a Camel — you do get a 'lift' with a Camel."

SPEED DEMON. "After a championship speed boat race Bill Horn, Gold Cup winner, 'I break out my Camels quickly and in no time at all I get my energy. It's a swell feeling, any time when tired."

By B... National Horse Show Set for November 7 to 13

By United Press
NEW YORK.—Thrills and spills expected by daring horsemen will be the lot of New York's week of Nov. 7-13 when the National Horse Show opens at Madison Square Garden.

Highlights of the program include a show jumping contest, a polo match, a dressage performance, a combined driving event, and a series of exhibitions. The show is famous for the world's largest collection of harness racing, which is held on the last night of the show, with all winners competing.

Like famous shows in Europe, the national provides numerous prize classes, besides harness racing, although there is 13 months in the latter category.

Miss Wethered lost her amateur status when she took up the post of "golf adviser" at a large store here. It didn't affect her much, for she had been in "golfing retirement" for some time before that.

Miss Wilson, winner of the Open championship in 1931, 1932, and 1933, only lost her amateur status this year. It was due to a new definition of an amateur, which prevents anyone playing in competition who has written on golf when his or her ordinary profession is not a journalist. Miss Wilson had been reporting on different competitions, and her entry for the Open this year was refused. She was also excluded from the Curtis cup team.

The match, played at Bramley, attracted more than 500 spectators, another near-record for an exhibition here. Miss Wethered was around in 77, and Miss Wilson took one stroke more.

STRANGE FISH CAUGHT
By United Press
NOANK, Conn.—Capt. Fred Burdick's fishing trip to Little Narragansett bay netted him two strange tropical specimens. One was a thread fish, five inches long with 12-inch blue and green threads extending from its green body. The other was a cobra, resembling a snake. Both are rare in these waters.

FORT WORTH.—The American Liberty Legion, recently organized by Al Smith and other national figures, is not new to Ft. Worth, at least in idea.

PICTURE, WRITING IN EGG

By United Press
LIPAN, Texas.—Maybe some hen had eaten Easter egg prints. Anyway Edgar Jones, while candling eggs for shipment, discovered one with pictures and writing inside it. The pictures are almost perfect outlines of a woman's head and of a cow's head. The writing, somewhat scrawly, spells out "TICK."

BEACH CLUB GIRL

BEACH CLUB GIRL
MABEL McElliott
CHAPTER XXXIV
It was a burning morning. During the night the water carts had sprinkled the dusty streets and for a brief space during the early hours freshness persisted. By half past nine the heat was unendurable. The sky seemed a copper now inverted over the face of the earth.

She stood staring at the instrument in her hand like a dazed creature. "You understand this is not creating a precedent, Mrs. Lund." Miss Houghton purred. "It's most irregular."

Nothing however could keep the crowds from the sale counters at Lacy's. They pressed in—women with their hands on their heads, men with their hands on their hips, women with expensive handbags and clean gloves, women with neither and with parcels wrapped in sleazy paper tied with thin, unreliable strings.

"I know and thank so much," Boots drifted away. She would have to get out—somehow—at four o'clock.

As she went to her locker the need of the department beckoned to her from the doorway of a gassed and partitioned cubicle. Miss Houghton looked stern, but then that was her habitual expression. Boots was conscious of a lift of apprehension in her heart.

"Well, well..." He paused impatiently, tapping his pointed finger against the counter. "You may go then but you'll be docked for this. It's been a terrible day. Girls dropping like flies."

"Would the morning never end?" The humid air was like a tangible thing pressing against her chest, stifling her. Once a girl fainting down a crowded aisle, and the other girls peered at each other with hurried eyes as a space was cleared for the sufferer's passing.

"He looked wretched; even his white carnation drooped. "I'm feeling ill, Mr. Bliss." It was true. Nervousness had given her a feeling of nausea and her head ached. Everything swam before her.

"Someone is calling you on the telephone, Mrs. Lund," said the older woman in a perfectly expressionless voice which, however managed to convey the impression of displeasure. "You know employees are not supposed to have calls within hours, but I will make an exception."

It had been so easy; her head still swam with the surprise of it. She found herself out on the torrid pavement among the jostling crowds. It was a pity she hadn't time to refresh herself but she would have to hurry now to make the appointment on time. How like Denis arrogance to make a four o'clock appointment for her knowing perfectly well how difficult it would be for her to keep it.

When Boots heard Denis' voice she realized why the exception had been made. Not even when Miss Houghton, egg-faced, so and plump, could resist Denis at his most charming. She said, "Yes," in a tone deliberately restrained and impersonal.

"The lobby of the big office building was cool, almost empty. She stepped into a car with intricate bronze grilles, her heart beating double time. Maybe Mr. Masterson would be gone, maybe he would not see her after all.

"You were going to call me," Denis accused. "I forgot."

"I'm at Lacy's," she said briefly. "I've been there for almost a year." "That so?" His eyes raked her small pointed face with its frame of gilt hair. "Well, let me know. Write your name and address here. Telephone number, too."

Partners in Purchasing

AS WE make our purchases for Fall—clothes and fuel furniture and food—we are a vast body of people, all responding alike to the urge of the oncoming season. But in still another way we are joined. We seek aid, advice and suggestion from today's advertising in this paper.

This habit of ours to look to the printed word for help has grown in quite a natural way. From experience over the years we have found that it pays. For only a worthy store and product can be advertised continuously. To pay the advertiser, advertising must be honest.

That is why advertising is a helpful partner of us all. It helps the manufacturer and store to sell. It helps you—the customer—to buy to the best advantage.

Shirley Temple Is Seen In Arcadia Feature for Today

Shirley Temple, the sensation star of Paramount's "Little Miss Marker," returns in another Paramount picture which affords even more scope for her ample talents. It is "Now and Forever," today at the Arcadia theatre, in which the five-year-old is starred with Gary Cooper and Carole Lombard.

Shirley Temple plays the role of the daughter of the light-hearted, reckless adventuring confidence man, Gary Cooper. Since Cooper, in the film, has not seen the child since birth, he decides to relinquish his rights in her to his brother-in-law for a cash consideration.

Here a gradual but perceptible change comes over Cooper and Miss Lombard due to the influence and the love of the child. When Cooper becomes pinched for money he slips back to his old ways again. He is discovered by the child, and in a thrilling climax performs a deed of heroic self-sacrifice to restore her faith in him and free her for happiness.
