Kyle Will Offer Race Track Repeal Measure

Protactinium, a new metal worth a million dollars an ounce, has been discovered. How long before Cecil B. DeMille will make a bathtub out of it?

SAYS MEASURE CAN NOW BE BROUGHT UP

Gambling and Liquor Investigation Resolution Is To Be Withdrawn.

AUSTIN, Sept. 18.—Representative Henry Kyle, of San Marcos, today announced he would offer a bill for the repeal of the race track betting act.

In so doing he withdrew his resolution for a legislative investigation of alleged open gambling and violation of the liquor laws.

By submitting the subject of taxation, Kyle said the governor has necessarily submitted with it the right to repeal taxes. His bill repeals tax on race track and the accompanying provision that makes pari-mutuel wagers at tracks legal.

The investigation resolution was withdrawn only after Speaker Coke Stevenson indicated he would hold good a point of order against it. This point, raised by Representative Olin Van Zandt, is that the legislature has no power to investigate matters upon which it cannot legislate.

Gambling and liquor legislation have not been submitted for the special session.

Burkett Restrained From Questioning James V. Allred

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 28.—District Judge W. W. McCrory today issued an injunction restraining Attorney Joe Burkett from taking ex parte interrogatories from Attorney General James V. Allred and his state campaign manager.

Burkett filed the interrogatories as action to the suit brought to prevent Allred from being certified to the secretary of state, as the democratic nominee.

The injunction against Burkett was asked in behalf of all witnesses listed by Burkett but was granted only in behalf of Allred and his manager.

Four Bandits Rob Pennsylvania Bank

HAWLEY, Pa., Sept. 18.—Four bandits robbed the Hawley bank of $35,000 today.

PROBE REVEALS GERMANY IS MAKING PLANES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Sen. Gerald P. Nye, republican, north Dakota, said today that the senate munitions committee had obtained evidence the United Aircraft company and affiliates had six agents soliciting business in Germany in April of this year.

The company's German business, he said, grew from $6,000 in 1932 to $1,445,000 in the first eight months of this year.

C. W. Deeds, treasurer of the Pratt & Whitney Engine company, denied the sales were made for military purposes, but added that "ward from our European agents and press reports" indicated the Hitler government planned to rearm.

Nye said gossip among American plane manufacturers was that Germany was now building enough engines to equip 100,000 planes a month and that by the end of 1934 the German government will have a fleet of 2,000 ships.

Deeds said he had not heard the report. He testified engines sold by his firm could be synchronized for firing machine gun through propellers.

British Win In Second Yacht Race

Aboard U. S. S. Coast Guard Cutter Argo, Sept. 18.—Driving his blue racing lugger Endeavour, through frothy seas, Tom Sopwith scored his second straight triumph in the Americas cup series today and took a commanding lead in Britain's effort to lift the cup held by America for 83 years.

The Britisher sent his boat over the finish 51 seconds ahead of the Rainbow.

Utah Boasts of Its Huge Rainbow Trout

RICHFIELD, Utah.—Rainbow trout, at least in this vicinity, grow a lot larger than most people generally believe. The common opinion is that the mottled beauties do not get larger than eight or ten pounds.

But Calmar E. Griffith of Hinchey, Utah, recently caught one that weighed 23 1/2 pounds, measured 41 inches in length, and 19 inches in girth.

Paul W. Easton, Hollywood, Cal. (Griffith's companion on the angling expedition, caught one that tipped the scales at 14 pounds, was 30 inches long and 19 inches around.

MRS. MILLS DAVENPORT ELECTED POSTMASTER OF RANGER AT A MEETING HELD BY THOS. BLANTON

Mrs. Mills Davenport was elected postmaster of Ranger, to take office not later than Oct. 1, at a meeting of friends and supporters of Congressman Thomas L. Blanton, held in the Elks arena Tuesday afternoon. She was elected over V. V. Cooper and Sanford J. Dean, the other two leading candidates for the office.

The meeting was called through the columns of the Times at the request of Congressman Blanton for the purpose of finding the choice of the Blanton supporters in Ranger.

L. H. Flewellen presided at the meeting and introduced Judge Blanton, after he had thanked the Elks lodge and Jack Garner for the use of the hall and the arrangements that had been made.

After a few brief remarks, in which Judge Blanton said that he was asking the aid of his supporters in selecting the postmaster for Ranger, he said that an election would be held upon the three candidates who had been named.

In the first election Sanford Dean and Mrs. Mills Davenport led, though neither had a majority and in the second election Mrs. Davenport led by 157 to 89 votes cast.

After the result of the election was announced Judge Blanton said that he wanted the people of Ranger to have the best possible service out of the post office and that he was sure Mrs. Davenport would serve to the best of her ability.

He urged that the people of Ranger cooperate in the matter of helping all the post office employees to give cheerful and adequate service.

At the suggestion by Judge Blanton a rising vote of confidence was given Mrs. Davenport, whom the congressman said would have her commission in time to take office not later than Oct. 1, which will be the beginning of the new quarter.

At the close of the meeting another meeting at the Gholson hotel, at which members and directors of the Chamber of Commerce met with Judge Blanton, was called and the members of the organization adjourned to meet there to discuss other matters of importance to the city of Ranger.

Rev. East to Hold Services Tonight

GAVE PATROL WAGONS NAME

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—Police patrol wagons, according to Nashville police, gained the title, "Black Maria," in Nashville. Decades ago, Nashville's first prisoner carried in his first patrol wagon, a benched spring wagon drawn by two horses, was a large negro. Some observers, "wisecrackers," consequently dubbed the vehicle "Black Maria."

LABOR MEETING SCHEDULED FOR TONIGHT POSTPONED ONE WEEK

The semi-monthly labor meeting, which was originated at a mass meeting held Tuesday night, Sept. 4, has been postponed from tonight to next Tuesday night, according to announcement made by the arrangements committee.

The postponement was made necessary because of the fact that some of the speakers requested for the meeting tonight could not be present and because answers to some letters sent out by the committee had not yet been answered.

At the meeting next Tuesday night some important topics are to be brought out on which practically every citizen in the town should have a voice, it was pointed out by the committee, so the public is invited to be present.

These meetings are not only for laborers, but are for the merchants and professional and business men of the town, the city commission and all who are interested in the upbuilding of the town in any way. They are designed for a better cooperation between all and so that all might work for the betterment of the town, and thereby for the betterment of all who live in it.

Should the weather be unfavorable for an outdoor meeting next Tuesday night it is expected that the meeting will be held in the Elks Arena, as the committee has requested the use of that location in case of bad weather.

MENACED STRIKE LEADER JAILED

HOUSTON, Sept. 18.—Authorities today sought the killers of Houston's latest "ride" victim, Frank Majorana, 47, master plumber for the Southern Pacific line. "Somebody was found in a clump of weeds south of here last night. A bullet wound was found in the back of the head.

Police believed the victim fell into the hands of enemies who "took him for a ride" and killed him for vengeance.

Officers Seeking Gang 'Ride' Killers

Seized once while supposedly under protection of deputies, taken to a lonely spot, and beaten by a mob, and his life constantly threatened since, Okey Odell is safe for the moment behind jail bars in Kenton, O., as shown here. Odell, militant leader of the Ohio union strike, was indicted for assault with intent to kill.

Fire Damage Slight At Tailor Shop

EASTLAND, Texas, Sept. 18.—Moderate losses were sustained by proprietors of the Spee-Dee cleaning shop on West Commerce street in Eastland which was damaged by fire which broke out in the rear of the shop Monday afternoon.

Owners of the cleaning establishment have been unable to ascertain cause of the fire.

A call by the Eastland fire department after the alarm was sent prevented the fire from breaking out into the front part of the shop. Proprietors, Ike Winslow and T. A. Jones state.

Two States Voting In Elections Today

Wisconsin and Mississippi today provided a double test of New Deal sentiment with new primary voting to add to the widespread polls of last week.

For the first time voters will record their opinions of the experimental third party.

Spider Bite Brought 20 Pound Reduction

WICHITA, Kan.—Mrs. D. Stevens has found a swift method to reduce but she emphatically does not recommend it to others seeking a sly-like figure. She lost 20 pounds in six days after having been bitten by a black widow spider.

"I'd rather have the 20 pounds than the misery," she declared.

Youngest Lawyer To Be Congressman

MALVERN, Ark.—John L. McClellan, once the nation's youngest attorney, is the sixth Arkansas district's next congressman. He defeated Congressman D. D. Glover, fellow townsman, for the Democratic nomination, which is the equivalent of election in Arkansas.

McClellan was admitted to the bar at 17 in 1913 by a special act of the legislature. He was recognized then as the youngest practicing lawyer in the United States.

Methvin Says He Was Present But Didn't Fire Shot

Methvin, brought here from Shreveport as quoted as admitting he was present when Campbell was shot April 6, but he had nothing to do with the killing.

Officers said he contended he was helping push a car and did not fire the fatal shot.

NOME GUARDED AFTER A FIRE SWEEPS TOWN

NOME, Alaska, Sept. 18.—Armed vigilantes, reminiscent of the days of Nome glory, patrolled the streets today to guard food and clothing left after fire had leveled two thirds of the famous far north mining camp.

The fire burned every structure from the Golden Gate hotel to the water front, then, with the wind dying down, the flames spent themselves and the fire fighters obtained control. Only one hotel and one warehouse remained untouched.

Property damage was estimated at $3,000,000.

Three coast guard cutters were due at the city tomorrow night. Coast guard headquarters reported each carried a medical officer and supplies to supplement the work of Dr. Rex Schwartz, mayor and only physician at Nome.

Highways One and Six to Be Gold Star Highways

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 18.—State Highways one and six will be designated as gold star world war memorial highways under a resolution passed by the Texas house of representatives today.

There will be a memorial light at the intersection of the highways in Dallas. Along their routes will be bronze tablets for each of 5,167 world war participants from Texas who were killed. With the name of the soldier will be that of his mother.

STRIKERS IN MANY MILLS BACK AT WORK

A report on the general textile strike by President Roosevelt's special board was being drafted today with indications executive action might be suggested to end the walkout, now in its third week.

Textile centers in Georgia continued under martial law. Manufacturers estimated 15,000 workers had returned to the jobs since the troops mobilized.

Strike headquarters in Washington considered calling out 120,000 carpet and synthetic rayon workers.

Threats of violence forced the Pepperell mills, largest in Maine, to close. The plant employs 3,600. Disorders at Lancaster, Pa., resulted in injuries to several as flying squadrons attempted to close the mill.

About 200 strikers from the Patterson, N. J., area clashed with 50 police at a plant of the Botany Worsted Mills today.

Mexican Soldiers Pursuing Rebels

MONTERREY, Mexico, Sept. 18. Federal soldiers pursued two bands of men, who failed only because of miscarriage of plans, to start a revolution in Coahuila, Nuevo Leon and Tamaulipas, states bordering on Texas.

In a sudden dash the band-captured the towns of Hualhuises, Linares and Montemoros, killing seven persons, wounding more than 20 liberating all prisoners in one fall and, it was reported, robbing banks and levying contributions from merchants.

The bands fled to the mountains.

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

According to sports writers of the Oil Belt towns, practically every team, with the exception of the Ranger, and possibly Eastland, will fall rigged out in new uniforms to carry new color schemes. Just recently we quoted Wilson Ritchie Breckenridge as saying that the new uniforms would be more gray and green this year, as the new uniforms had a gray background, and some green somewhere on them. We believe green sleeves and green stripes down the pants.

Now, from Cisco, we learn from Guy Butler that "among other things" will be a signal revolution in change in the garbs of the Cisco High School heroes. The young warriors will wear black, red and white by a spot or two of the traditional brilliant gold. Under the new this solid color assumes a veiled and shadowy cast, as much as to assure those who suspect the origin of infernal origin that the school has arrived to admit openly its handwork. The prospect may be calculated to inspire some knee-bumping and twittering in the opposing ranks, but the attitude in which it places the wearer of the uniform conforms to the protagonist of the fictionists.

Whatever those last few words mean. And just after Benny had promised to keep his writings down to words of one syllable in order that we might be able to understand them.

Which reminds us that the maroon uniforms of the Bulldogs, which have seen hard and active service for the past two seasons, are becoming somewhat tattered and worn and it is beginning to be a problem to keep them intact, even through the practice sessions.

We may see time called by the boys on several occasions while they substitute gives his jersey, or his pants, to one of the regulars.

Only yesterday in scrimmage Britt made a run through the line of the second string and when tackled by the secondary he came up without any pants on. Or at least they were almost torn off.

Finally the scrimmage was taking place behind the walls of Lillard field and there were only a handful of grandstand quarterbacks present. The damage was quickly repaired and the practice went on.

All-Wrestling Show Enjoyed By The Ranger Fans

Chas. Lay, Elks promoter, made good his promise to give the fans a good show last night and it was a real show.

The first number was a thirty minute bout between Toke Smith and Blackie Blackburn, which was a real good match and went for a draw.

Pat Swanson and Paul Murdoch each won a fall and the time was up before the last fall, this being a draw. These boys were evenly matched, Swanson having a shade the best of it because of his aggressiveness. However Murdoch was the favorite of the fans and Swanson was booed on numerous occasions.

The best bout of the evening was between Chas. Lay of Ranger and Frank Schools of Los Angeles. These boys were fast and played the game fair. There was not any unnecessary roughness in any of the three falls. Each of these boys put out all he had and the match was enjoyed by all. Lay was the favorite of the fans but lost the match in the third fall. Whitley Davis was the referee.

All the proceeds from these entertainments go to charity. Lay promises the fans a new card next week and the public is invited.

Adding Machine To Receive Pardon

PITTSBURGH.—The man "who once raced an adding machine and won" will be freed on parole from the Western Penitentiary soon.

Eugene H. Kuhn, the "human adding machine" was sentenced to 40 to 40 years in 1919 for killing his estranged wife's parents. Recently Governor Gifford Pinchot granted clemency and Kuhn will soon be freed.

His mathematical ability has repeatedly amazed officials at the penitentiary. He can add two columns of figures simultaneously and can divide, multiply and subtract large sums entirely "in his head."

He can easily do the work of three clerks. Penitentiary officials said he has never taken any educational courses in mathematics.

MAYOR LA GUARDIA PLANS HUGE RELIEF FUND

Mayor F. H. La Guardia of New York is a very fast worker. First he put the Tammany tiger away and captured all the offices for the followers of the brilliant leader of the Italian-Americans. Now he needs a huge sum of money to meet the relief emergencies in the metropolis of the American world.

Four lotteries a year—a corporation picking officers by lot for fabulous three months salary—is the program of the mayor and his city lawmakers to provide unemployment relief funds, allowing 40 per cent of the receipts for salaries or prizes. Backers of the plan estimate that it will net $12,000,000 a year. Thirty-five million dollars a year more is expected from a business gross receipts tax of 1 per cent or "times the tax now in effect in the greater city."

Mayor La Guardia is one of the most eloquent orators. He is one of the gamiest of political fighters, but is he a great executive or administrator? He is facing a new Tammany—a Tammany said to be dominated by the New Deal administration or rather by its New York leaders.

The Tiger always comes back. The Tiger made his first appearance in the politics of New York more than 125 years ago. He has been slain many times. The 40 immortal Texans who made history at the Baltimore convention in the preliminary work of making Woodrow Wilson President of the United States "skinned the Tiger and nailed the hide of the political beast on the wall." Woodrow Wilson is dead. Many of the great leaders of Eastern democracy have passed out of the picture and on to the graveyard, but the Tammany Tiger is ever in evidence. There are little Tammanys in every American commonwealth. There are elephant trainers in control of many important cities. They may bear different political trademarks but all are practical politicians and all play the game for the political spoils to be won at the ballot box.

"OUT OUR WAY" - - - - - By Williams

for the Texas centennial and, likely, for amendment or re-enactment of the cigar stamp tax law. Just why validity of the cigar stamp act is in doubt is somewhat hazy for non-lawyers. A section of the state constitution says that an act shall not be amended by reference to its title but that the whole statute as amended shall be set out at length. The cigar stamp act was amended by adding a section designed to punish counterfeiting of the tax stamps. In doing so the whole act was not again set out. Apparently that is simple enough to the layman. But the courts, through the years, have felt called upon to make some fine distinctions. The constitution does not always mean what it seems to say, according to the courts. They have left it so unclear that some of Texas' ablest lawyers argued for two days about it in District court here. The nubbin of it seems to be that if the new part is entirely independent it can stand alone. If you must refer to the preceding statute to understand the new one, both must be re-enacted.

January Session of Legislature To Be a Busy One With Many of The New Measures Being Presented

AUSTIN, Tex.—Peering ahead the January session of the Texas Legislature seems destined to be a particularly busy one. Eight amendments to the state constitution will be voted upon Nov. 6. If they are adopted the next legislature will be called upon for wholesale revision of the existing tax laws. County consolidations will be in order and lengthened terms for municipal officers will be possible. Additional amendments to the constitution will be pressed upon the legislators to pass on to the people. Among them will be more relief bonds, repeal of state prohibition and pruning of the pardon power. The next legislature also will be asked to make adequate provision

A surprising thing about the cigar tax act is that it in no place mentions a three cents a package tax. It is generally called a three cents tax and three cents appears on the stamp affixed to cigar packages. In fact the tax is levied by the thousand pounds. A section authorized the state treasurer to design and issue stamps of convenient denomination to indicate payment of the tax. State Treasurer Charley Lockhart issued the three cent stamps as that amount represents the portion of 1000 pounds tax due on the ordinary packet of 20. Laymen learned, too, in the recent discussions of the cigar tax act, that all rulings of the final criminal court in Texas are not accorded the same veneration. Particularly, the opinions of the Court of Criminal Appeals, during a former period carry little weight. At that time the court membership was so divided in its views that in one case arguments before the court were postponed because of feeling on the bench.

BEACH CLUB GIRL

It wouldn't be hard getting brosen in. The prices were just as marked on the market, no cut rates at the Bay Tree. And the china was plainly labelled too. Oh, if anyone should happen to inquire about the secretary—people always were although nothing seemed to come of it—it was $235. And a bargain too. Pure Chippendale. Now she was going to flop on the couch and Boots could call her if anything vital happened.

It was simple as that. In 15 minutes Boots Lund was in charge of the Bay Tree. She was a little dazed by the suddenness of it. This pleasant, book-lined room, smelling of wood smoke from the deep old fireplace, would surely melt away and she would find herself in Lacy's, frantically running from one task to another on burning, aching feet. Meantime the big door opened and closed once or twice and an elderly man and two serious, unexpecting women went away with neat packages under their arms, and Frances Gawtry slumbered in the little back room with the gas ring.

At noon she emerged with one check roster than the other and bright, birdlike eyes half-open, like a child who has slept long and well. "Now you run out and have a bite," she instructed. "The tea-rooms around here are passable, I'll say that for them. Try Helen Dupuy's, two doors up. Tuesday's lamb curry. You'll adore that. Burt Masterson said he would be in around 1:30. You want to see you."

Boots obediently went to Helen Dupuy's, liking it instantly with its scrubbed deal tables and white-coated Japanese waiters hurrying back and forth with smoking dishes. She couldn't, she reminded herself, afford a 50-cent luncheon every day. But it was fun to celebrate today.

SHE had taken "Anthony Adverse" with her and now, with the blue bowl of soup steaming in front of her, she propped it up and began hungrily to read. This was bits on the small tables, scattered among the books. Fabrice, Deift, Copenhagen wars. There were gray-blue penguins. There were swans of Bohemian glass. And everywhere—in the recesses, on the high shelves, gleaming behind the faded pages of the old, high-shelved secretary—there were books, books, books.

"Good morning," said the young woman in the smock.

"I am Barbara Lund. Did Mr. Masterson send word ..."

The other smiled. "Oh, yes. Sorry, I thought you were an early customer. Will you put your things here?" She led the way to a back room.

"This is where we come and brood, Barbara, when business is bad or we want a good cry. If you're to be one of us you might as well get used to it. Hang your coat here. Horrid day, isn't it? I came in from Summit on what was practically a dawn train and I'm dead already. After I've told you a few choice bits about the shoppe I'm going to drop down on this couch and have a nap."

SHE went on, her soft, unaccented voice rippling lightly over the words. She was Frances Gawtry. She had been here for stumpy ages—six years really; straight out of college. She loved it. Boots would, she told him about the new job and Edward was a satisfactory audience.

"No kidding?" Edward marveled. "That's great. You'll be a knock-out in the shop. Suits you."

His praise, his enthusiasm warmed her. She hadn't half-expected Edward before. She was always expecting him to live up to some impossible ideal; to be clever and gay and exciting, all at once. Now she found his obvious admiration very soothing. Something in her wounded pride rose to meet it.

"Look, why don't we dine together tonight?" Edward wanted to know. "And do a show—something like that?"

She had avoided him before because he had shown signs of a deeper interest. Now she welcomed this. Anything to make her forget that mocking gaze of Denis Fenway.

BURT MASTERSON came into the shop just after she returned from luncheon and spoke to her briefly. Would $30 a week be all right, he wanted to know? It was not of Burt Masterson she was thinking. He had said, "I hope he's right."

He had smiled, and so the words hadn't sounded harsh.

So the day went by on winged feet. Boots flew back to her room at six o'clock to dress. The Bay Tree stayed open until nine o'clock every day. On Saturdays, Edward was coming for her at seven.

But first she must write to Denis. However she might feel about his treatment of her, there were the deencies to consider. Denis had got her this job and she owed him acknowledgment, at least.

"Dear Denis," her pen faltered. "Thank you ever so much for speaking to Mr. Masterson about me. I started at the Bay Tree today. I like it."

She signed her name. What a stiff little note! She stared at it in dissatisfaction, beginning another.

"Dear Denis: P. S. I got the job. Thanks a lot."

No, that wouldn't do. That was too flippant. Denis hated flippancy. His perceptions were so delicate. He would frown over that one.

This was the letter she might not write, might never send to him; "My dearest: Everything I did today was colored with thoughts of you. Every time a man approached me on the street my heart leaped because I thought it was you. I was angry at you Sunday. You hurt me very deeply. But I know it wasn't you, really. It was something outside yourself. I am working at the shop and liking it. Thank you and bless you for that ..."

She tore the sheet in little strips, tore them across once more. What utter madness!

Mrs. Mooney put her head in the door. "Your young man's here."

Boots started to her feet. Poor Edward! She had completely forgotten him!

Pittsburgh U. Adds Engineering Course

PITTSBURGH.—A new course in natural gas engineering has been added to University of Pittsburgh's oil and gas department. It is the first of its kind in the world.

The addition came on the heels of demands for training to keep pace with increased usage of gasoline, lubricants and other petroleum products.

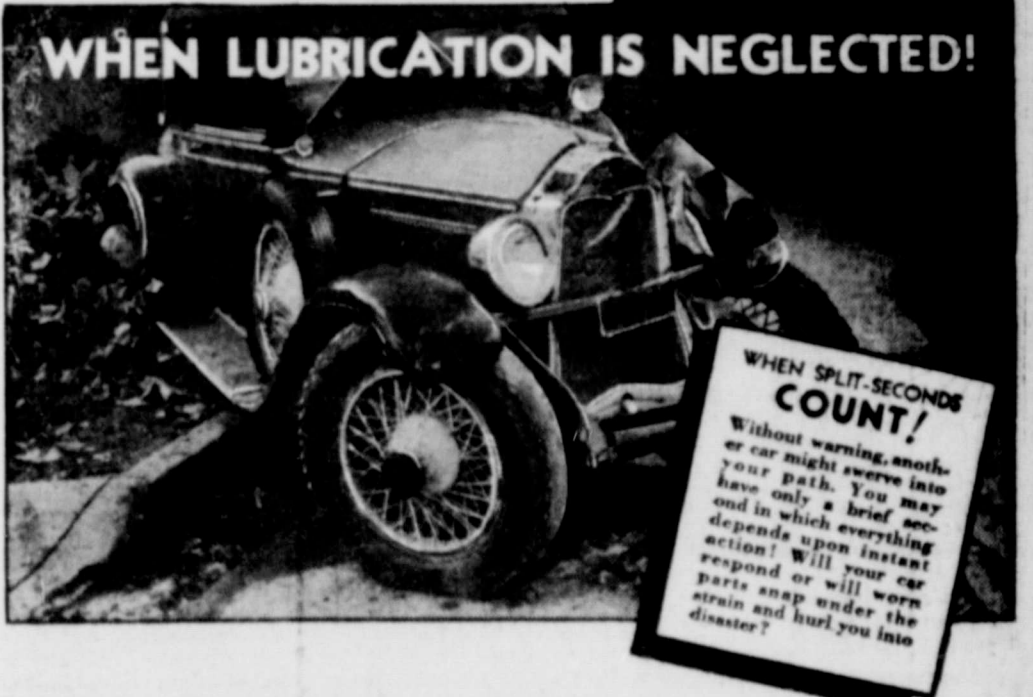

The university first offered major work in petroleum geology and engineering in 1912. Other American universities followed.

H. C. George, professor of petroleum engineering, came to Pittsburgh from Oklahoma as head of oil and gas department.

The Oklahoma school, of which George was president, has the most complete course in petroleum engineering in the world.

Recently a donkey fell out of a truck and choked on its halter. Would the elephant have done the same thing?

Play School for Pre-School Child in Ranger High School

Some authorities say that during the first two years of the child's life the family can give the normal development but after the second birthday all children should spend much of their playtime with children of their own age.

In a nursery or play school the child from two to five years is helped to attain normal growth and normal development, and to become a likeable individual.

Equipment is provided which can be manipulated by little folks. In this environment the foundation is laid for desirable habits and a pleasing personality.

The Home Economics department in Ranger High school is planning to have a play school for pre-school children in connection with the Child Guidance and Training unit given this fall, so that the students will have first-hand knowledge of how to better direct young children in their own homes and communities.

Mothers Attend Courtesy Tea

The tea given by the 3-A Foods class of the Ranger High school home economics was attended by a large number of mothers and high school faculty members.

The dining room was decorated very prettily with chilies and roses. The centerpiece for the table was a lovely bowl of roses, and two burning candles.

The refreshments that were served were punch and ice box cookies.

Keep on the SUNNY SIDE

Happy you noticed that your happiest hours occur on days when you feel your best?

Have more of those happy days. You and all your family. Guard health while you live. Keep on the sunny side of life.

The greatest enemy of health is common constipation. It may cause loss of appetite and energy. Certainly it kills enthusiasm! Yet it can be banished by eating a delicious cereal.

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's All-Bran supplies "bulk" and vitamin B to relieve common constipation. Also, iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in All-Bran is much like that in leafy vegetables. How much pleasanter to eat this delicious ready-to-eat cereal than to take patent medicines. Two table-spoonfuls daily are usually sufficient.

Get on ice cream cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

"Now and Forever" Swell Entertainment. Superb Cast, Story

Together with its grand romantic cast, its unusual and absorbing story and a multitude of other details which should recommend Paramount's "Now and Forever," now at the Arcadia Theatre, to your attention as ace-high motion picture entertainment, the picture has one other inducement which should convince even the most skeptical of theatre-goers. It is a field day for that outrageously charming, delectable and irresistible new screen sensation, Shirley Temple herself.

The audience at the Arcadia Theatre, yesterday, laughed with the dimpled darling as she sang "The Grasshopper and the Frog"; followed her with bated breaths into a child's Never, Never Land while she played pirates with Gary Cooper, and wept as they watched her cry herself to sleep over a child's tragedy.

How Cooper and Carole Lombard, who are starred with her in this picture, ever prevented Miss Temple from stealing it completely away from them will remain one of the unsolved mysteries of the cinema. And yet the fact is that these two, cast together as lovers for the first time, contrived such uniformly excellent performance to the film and that it seems that Paramount has hit upon another of those natural starring combinations, and that they are destined to be seen together from now on.

The story, warm in its human qualities and appeal, deals with a reckless scapgrape who brings his little daughter into his adventurous and erratic life. The climax is brought on by the theft of a jeweled necklace at the home of a wealthy woman in Paris, while Cooper, Carole Lombard and Shirley Temple are guests. The child discovers that her daddy is the thief and is broken-hearted and inconsolable over her loss of faith in him.

The stirring denouement comes as the shamed father proves himself ready to chance discovery, disgrace and even death to win back the faith and love of his tiny daughter.

Sir Guy Standing, Charlotte Granville and Henry Kolker, to be commended for their easy and effortless performances of difficult character parts.

Henry Hathaway contributed praiseworthy direction to "Now and Forever," which was adapted from an original story by Jack Kirkland and Melville Baker.

THINGS YOU MAY NOT KNOW... about your Telephone

Without the aid of the Western Electric Company, the men and women who furnish your telephone service would not serve you so well. Today, as a proven fact, this is why boys from Western Electric at a competitive market. Because the telephone service is for the long pull, these savings have many years been devoted, not to profits, but to holding the cost of telephone service low. This is a policy adopted in the making that from your standpoint as much as our own, it is sound and workable based upon the belief that what is best for the telephone user is in the end the best that will bring us the sure, more successful. Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Thomas A. Watson, the young electrician who helped Bell invent the telephone, made with his own hands the first instruments. But the demand grew too big for Watson to handle, so licenses were given to four other manufacturers. Confusion resulted. By 1880 telephone designs of these manufacturers were as varied in appearance and quality as the women's fashions for that year. Lack of uniform quality hindered the development of good telephone service. To gain this uniformity, these companies were consolidated in 1881 as the Western Electric Company, which for more than 50 years has served as the manufacturing and purchasing agent for the Bell System.
