CENTRAL WINS FROM RANGER BY 26-19 SCORE

Ranger High School's Bulldogs had a belated start at Fort Worth Friday night, to score two touchdowns in the third quarter to keep from being unacceptably beaten by the Central School Panthers, but even the last minute rally the dogs were down by a score of 19.

In the early minutes of play the Bulldogs put over their first down when they took a paralyzing blocked punt on the 45 yard line shortly after the kickoff and drove through to a touchdown, upon carrying over for the first time.

The try for point after the touchdown failed. On the next kickoff Rankin took the ball on his own 15 yard line, slipped down the side-shock off several tacklers and crossed the goal line to tie the score. Anderson's attempt at goal failed.

In the remainder of the first quarter the Bulldogs were badly outclassed, their scrims and plays proving inadequate and failed to make more than one down, while Central was up 20 more points, score almost at will.

The second Central touchdown came after they took a punt on the 27-yard line and four plays later a penalty for Ranger were cut into another score. Pratt added the extra point.

Just before the half ended Central scored again, after being upped at the 10 yard line, when he marched 34 yards to score on Pratt passed to Thompson on the 22-yard line for the touchdown and Pratt added the extra point.

Central got possession of the ball in the third quarter on a punt and returned to the 21-yard line where three plays made a first down and Bob Brandon circled for the marker. The try for the point failed because of a fumble.

Aaron Anderson then opened up one of the most sensational air attacks ever seen on Lagrave field, kept the customers on their feet the remainder of the game, driving deep in Ranger territory and shot a pass to Britt for a first down on the 45 yard line. A pass to Payton carried to the 25 for the first down. One pass to Anderson and Anderson then passed to Pratt for the score. Anderson intercepted a pass on the 39-yard line, then sent a pass to Britt for a first down. The next was to Payton for a first down. One pass failed and

Steel on Trial in Labor War

The face of Ernest T. Weir, above, board chairman of the Weirton Steel Company, at Weirton, W. Va., reflects the gravity of the trial he is attending at Wilmington, Del., where the federal government is seeking a permanent injunction against participation of the company in elections of its employees for collective bargaining representatives. To Weir victory will mean a vindication of the company shop as against outside unions, while to the government the trial holds the fate of the important labor section, 7-A, of the National Industrial Recovery Act.

BOYS SAVES GRANDMOTHER FROM FLAMES

By United Press
FORT WORTH, Oct. 6.—The alert-minded bravery of Billy Miller, 12, today saved his bed-ridden grandmother, Mrs. Kate Gardner, 92, from burning to death in a fire which destroyed his parents' home.

Billy was alone with his grandmother, while his mother was driving his father, W. B. Miller, down town. The youth said he had been playing with a shotgun and put it in a closet.

He heard it explode, setting fire to the house. He raced for the garden hose and tried to quell the flames. Unable to do so he called the fire department and then went to the rescue of his grandmother, suffering with a heart ailment.

The youth succeeded in getting her from the bed and into a hall near an outside door when aid arrived.

By United Press

Hamlin said the chamber probably would support the measure. The bill will probably be re-introduced at a proposed special session of the legislature, if called, or at the regular session.

By United Press
WACO, Oct. 6.—Emile Deshotel, 40, was in jail today facing charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor in connection with the death of 14-year-old Adelaide German, whose body was found floating in the Bosque river last Saturday.

Sheriff W. B. Mobley arrested Deshotel in Shreveport yesterday. Deshotel was quoted with the girl and two women when Adelaide got into deep water and could not get out and the others left, pledging secrecy.

JUNIOR COLLEGE WINS FROM ACC FROSH BY 7-0

The Ranger Junior College Rangers defeated the Abilene Christian College freshmen Saturday afternoon 7 to 0 in the first game of the season for the Rangers.

Neither team made any considerable gains in the first half, the Freshmen being held for two first downs in the first quarter, while Ranger was making none, and Ranger making two in the second quarter, while Abilene failed to make a first down.

Early in the third quarter, with Townsend going into the backfield, the Rangers made a 39-yard march down the field on straight football to push over the winning touchdown.

As the second half opened Ranger kicked off to Abilene on the 25-yard line and a fumble gave the Rangers the ball on the Christian's 39-yard line.

Townsend, on a spin, picked up nine yards and then repeated for three and a first down. Williams made four through the line and then failed to gain on two tries, but Ranger was penalized five yards, putting the ball on the 25-yard line. Townsend picked up seven yards on a spin and came back to pick up seven more on the same play.

Townsend again picked up three yards on his spin and on the next play, which started out like the spin on which Townsend had been gaining, Williams took the ball from him and circled right end for seven yards and the touchdown. Black kicked the goal for the extra point.

In the fourth quarter the Freshmen started an air attack that failed completely, the passes being weak and the pass receivers getting under the ball on a number of occasions, only to let it slip through their hands. They attempted 21 passes, three were completed, three intercepted and 15 were incomplete. They gained 43 yards on their three passes.

The Rangers attempted three passes, all of which were incomplete, and resorted to straight football throughout the game.

Punting on both teams was weak, though both Faircloth and "Rabbit" Jones got off good punts on one or two occasions. Ranger drew 11 penalties for 55 yards and A. C. C. drew two for 30 yards. The Rangers made six first downs to three for the visitors.

The starting line-ups: Abilene Christian—Landers and Gilbert, ends; Moore and Oliver, tackles; Nelson and Adams, guards; Reed, center; Rose, quarter; Wilbanks and McLaughlin, halves and Lemmon, full.

Ranger Junior College—Taylor and Black, ends; Jordan and Vaughn, tackles; Townsend and Love, guards; Allison, center; R. Jones, quarter; Williams and Faircloth, halves and Mackall, full.

County Exhibits Sent To Dallas

Eastland county agricultural exhibits, which have always rated high, left for the state fair Friday for the fair grounds at Dallas in charge of J. M. Baird, Cisco vocational teacher, and M. O. Hood, vocational teacher at Rising Star.

Exhibits of the county have taken first, second and third at former state fairs.

Though lack of rains handicapped the growing of exceptional agricultural products, those exhibited during the county fair were judged unusual. T. B. Woods of A. & M. college, College Station, judge of agricultural and community exhibits at the county fair, said "the exhibits were exceptionally good for the year."

Blunders ruined the "perfect crime" that Mrs. Gertrude Puhse, 42, Granite City, Ill., above, and her lover, Thomas Lehne, planned in slaying the woman's husband, so they will die in the electric chair at Menard, Ill., prison, Oct. 12. Mrs. Puhse is the first woman sentenced to electrocution since Illinois adopted that penalty.

PRESIDENT TO BE ON PROGRAM FOR BANKERS

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Some bankers may get a spanking when the President addresses the American Bankers association.

Association president, Francis Law, probably doesn't expect that. "He hasn't got it in for the bankers and the bankers haven't got it in for him," Law said after Mr. Roosevelt accepted a speaking invitation.

But something about bankers—perhaps only a few—is troubling the White House more than a little. The presence of an irritant was emphasized in Mr. Roosevelt's week-end fireside chat when he implied that American Bankers had not aided the administration as London bankers have aided the British government.

Parents of Band Members Asked to Meeting Monday

R. L. Maddox, director of the Ranger High school band, has called a meeting for Monday night of all members of the band, their parents and all citizens of the town interested in keeping the band intact.

The meeting is to be held on the stage. This year the prospects for a real band are better than ever before, there being 56 already enrolled and several others planning to join in the near future. Quite a few of the old timers in band work are interested and are reporting regularly for practice. Mr. Maddox reported Saturday.

An urgent call to all the parents of band members has been made and all are expected to attend the organization meeting in order that they can help work out plans for maintaining the band for the current year.

Extension Classes Will Meet Thursday

Those taking the Abilene Christian College extension courses in Ranger met in the high school Saturday morning and discussed the probability of meeting on Thursday evenings instead of Saturday mornings.

A meeting has been called for next Thursday at 6 p. m., at which time it will be determined if there is more demand for an evening class than for the Saturday morning courses.

Classes have been organized in history of education and advanced American history and it is likely classes in physical education and curriculum building will be started.

Physical education is required of all beginning teachers, it was pointed out by Dean Von Roeder, as well as of all teachers in school systems where credit is given for physical education.

Mr. and Mrs. Chaffin have made many friends during their short stay in Ranger, and are leaving tonight for their new home in Fort Worth.

WHITE HOUSE PARTY CRITIC

Overriding their own presiding officer, Bishop Ernest G. Richardson (shown) of Philadelphia, delegates to the New Jersey annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church telegraphed to President Roosevelt an apology for being "quoted as involved in criticism of yourself and your family" in connection with a holiday social function at the White House. The conference overwhelmingly defeated a proposal to censure President and Mrs. Roosevelt for an alleged "bilarious Christmas beer-drinking party," even though Bishop Richardson had expressed his belief in the story.

RIOT SPREADS OVER SPAIN IN NEW REVOLT

By United Press
MADRID, Spain, Oct. 6.—The Spanish left wing strike revolt spread today in the face of strong counter attacks by the government of Premier Lerroux.

Late today, the ministry of war said the situation in the Asturias mining region was grave, with rebels in possession of many towns after heavy fighting.

The revolt was gaining headway in the northern areas, but fighting—giling up a toll of around 140 estimated dead—was reported from isolated districts in other sections.

In Madrid suburbs, guards clashed with rebels, resulting in many casualties. In Barcelona, civilians armed with rifles jammed the streets to frustrate a purported plan of extremists to declare a republic.

The cabinet, which the Socialists, Communists, Anarchists and various extremist factions are combating, sent reserve troops and naval forces into action against the rebels.

The premier said he would declare martial law throughout Spain if necessary.

Austin Prodigy Has a Birthday

By United Press
AUSTIN, Oct. 6.—Martin Eitlinger, the 9-year-old prodigy who has mastered college courses today celebrated his birthday by going to the circus.

The birthday came yesterday, but Martin, who plans to enter the University of Texas at the age of 19, went to school. Only in school can he be prevented from reading too many books and learning too fast.

For birthday gifts he received a few books—described by his parents—Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Eitlinger, as readable, and a subscription to a science magazine.

But Martin was not going to spend all his time with his books and mathematics. He is going to ride horses and play games. His father said so. And his father, now professor of mathematics at the University of Texas, has a background of experience from which to decide.

Edwards Given Death Sentence In Murder Trial

By United Press
WILKES BARRE, Pa., Oct. 6. A jury of miners today condemned Robert A. Edwards to death for murdering one sweetheart so he would be free to marry another.

The verdict completed the parallel between the tragedy of Harvey's Lake where Freda McKechnie, expectant mother of Edward's child, was blackjacked to death and the Dreiser novel, "An American Tragedy."

The jury of conservative, middle-aged men, deliberated through most of the night. Edwards turned white when the fatal words were read—guilty, death.

FERGUSON TO KNOW MONDAY ABOUT SESSION

By United Press
AUSTIN, Oct. 6.—Former Gov. James E. Ferguson, advisor to Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, today announced a definite decision whether there will be a special session of the legislature, will be reached Monday.

If called, it will be in time to avoid complications over election of new legislators on Nov. 6, Ferguson said.

It will not be called, he said, unless enough members show a willingness to pass at least some of the five proposals to be given the session.

Drouth and other relief funds to be advanced in Texas by the federal government are only temporary aids and do not eliminate need for relief legislation, he pointed out.

It was indicated that proponents of added relief funds, tax penalty remission, Colorado and Brazos river projects and a Centennial appropriation will have to combine forces at the session to accomplish anything.

To date the governor has heard from only 35 of 80 members of the special session. All but two favored the session.

MOST TRAFFIC MISHAPS RESULTS FROM HASTE

There is nothing on which people disagree much more widely than on the question, What causes automobile accidents?

Everyone has his own pet theory; and usually—human nature being what it is—we are inclined to blame those particular faults of which we know we ourselves are never guilty.

But there isn't such a great deal of room for argument, after all. A lot of painstaking work has been done in tabulation and analysis of fatal traffic accidents, and the things which cause tragedies are pretty clear.

Statisticians of the Travelers Insurance Company recently drew up a table covering fatal traffic accidents for 1933, as officially reported by the various states.

They found that in more than 32 per cent of the fatal accidents in which drivers were found to be at fault, a driver had been exceeding the speed limit. In 13 per cent of the cases, a driver had been on the wrong side of the road. In an equal number of cases, a driver had taken the right of way when he was not entitled to it.

In upwards of 5 per cent, a driver had been guilty of "cutting in," passing a standing street car, passing on a curve or a hill, or passing on the wrong side. In nearly 19 per cent, a driver had driven completely off the roadway. In nearly 9 per cent the cause could be listed only as reckless driving.

Now the thing to notice, as the insurance company statisticians point out, is that all these causes, lumped together, are practically synonymous for "heedless, needless haste."

They are the sort of offenses that are committed when a driver is in such a big hurry that he fails to tend to his knitting.

And if you total those percentages, you'll find that they account for approximately 90 per cent of all fatal accidents in which any blame attaches to the driver.

It is often, and truly, said that the intoxicated driver is as dangerous as a maniac with a gun. Yet these figures show that fewer than 5 per cent of the fatal accidents can be laid to drunken driving.

The overwhelming majority—90 per cent—is caused by simple, everyday haste.

The drunken driver, dangerous as he is, isn't in it as a public menace with the driver who is in too big a hurry.

FURTHER WORK RELIEF

Gov. Ferguson will call the legislature back, probably next week to act upon a group of measures chiefly designed as public improvement and work-creating programs.

The Port Arthur bridge construction bill deserves a place on the list. Gov. Ferguson submitted it to the recent session. It was one of the many measures failing to get consideration then.

The state now has authority to build toll highway bridges, where no other kind can be financed. It does not have authority to contract with the public works administration to apply tolls to a repayment of a loan for such construction. That alone was the purpose of the Port Arthur bill.

The measure would enable the state highway commission, as requested by the commissioners' court of Jefferson county, to borrow about $2,000,000 for the construction of a high bridge over the Neches ship channel, as part of the interstate highway, through Orange to Galveston.

A large share of the cost would go to creating jobs, in a county whose unemployment and relief situation is acute. The measure was especially urged before legislative committees by Allan Shivers of Port Arthur, senator-elect, as one to provide work for men who want jobs and not the dole.

Governor Ferguson has ponied out if the legislature will set in motion a large-scale development and work program, it could be justified then in turning to the issue of appropriating $5,000,000 for a Texas Centennial. Her statement fits well for the Port Arthur bridge project as for many other worthy ones in Texas.

GAME A HILL COUNTRY BUSINESS

Deer, turkey and fish, the game resources of the Texas Hill Country, rank with livestock and agriculture in cash returns. Thousands of sportsmen go to the section each year and either lease hunting rights by the year, or pay $4 per day for the privilege of hunting.

One of the by-products of the Buchanan dam project, whose completion awaits an act of the legislature to create the state agency to have it in charge, has been pointed out by Cong. J. P. Buchanan. Mr. Buchanan, who as chairman of the national house appropriations committee holds the purse strings, has committed himself to developing a federal game breeding area and a federal fish hatchery in the upper reaches of the Colorado river above Lake Buchanan as soon as the lake comes into being.

The plan means much to the sportsmen of Texas: It means more to citizens of the Upper Colorado country in attracting thousands of people yearly, and in assuring greater financial returns from the leasing of hunting rights.

Construction and operation of this hatchery and game sanctuary will create considerable employment for Texans, all to be paid for by the federal government.

No real citizen takes a real interest in his home city until he does something for it.

in opposition to the bill. These came from officials of cities and towns.
 "As state senator, I felt that in view of the government being compelled to take care of the destitute and needy on relief rolls, many thousands of whom enjoy the privileges of government and share none of its burdens it is unjust to penalize the taxpayer who is bearing the burden and sharing less in the privileges of government. Many thousands who own real estate are equally as burdened as those who do not own it; and should we add a penalty upon him at this time because of his inability to pay his tax bill in full? "I again solicit the expressions of the people upon all of these subjects. The governor has requested me to transmit these views to her. As a member of the senate, I shall be governed by the will of the people of this district on all subjects upon which I have the means of knowing what their will is, and upon all others I shall do what by judgment tells me will best serve and advance their interests. I try faithfully to give thoughtful and careful consideration to all matters of public interest and to express my own views and vote according to the dictates of my conscience.

The Clew of the Forgotten Murder

BEGIN HERE TODAY
 CHARLES MORDEN, reporter for The Blade, telephones the newspaper a report of the death of EDWARD SHILLINGBY, private detective, believed to have been killed by "MADAM" RUTH LAMPSON, gangster.
 The same night an impostor pretending to be FRANK B. CATHAY of Riverview, wealthy and prominent, is brought to headquarters on suspicion of driving while intoxicated. With him is a girl who says she is MARY BRIGGS, Madam-hiker. Both are released.
 Morden telephones the facts to his newspaper. Next day the real Cathay calls on DICK KENNEY, city editor of The Blade. Cathay claims his reputation has been injured, and demands damages and a retraction.
 Kenney and Morden decide to put the matter before DAN BLEEKER, junior publisher of The Blade.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER III
 DAN BLEEKER, junior publisher of The Blade, was in the latrine. He was thin of frame, salow of complexion.
 "Looks serious," he said.
 "It is," Dick Kenney assured him.
 "Sit down and wait until I finish these letters," Bleeker snapped.
 Bleeker shoved his pen across the top of the letters, jabbed a button and a tall, gaunt young woman strode into the room. She cast an appraising glance at the two men who occupied chairs, picked up the letters and departed.
 As the door closed Dan Bleeker turned to the two men. "All right," he said, "what is it?"
 "That Frank B. Cathay story we ran last night," Kenney said.
 "What's the matter with it?" asked Bleeker.
 "The man who was arrested wasn't Cathay at all."
 Dan Bleeker gulped. He whirled about in his swivel chair, stared at the men with black-eyed, aggressive rage, jumped to his feet.
 "Haven't you been in the newspaper enough to know that you can't run a story like that without being absolutely sure of your grounds?" he demanded.
 DICK KENNEY'S voice was anxious.
 "It was just one of those things that couldn't be helped," he said.
 "It came in at the last minute. The man gave the name of John Smith. The police checked back on where he'd rented the roadster and found that he'd given the name of Frank B. Cathay, of Riverview. They confronted him with that statement and he admitted his identity. He produced cards, all sorts of identification."
 Dan Bleeker snorted contemptuously.
 "Cards!" he said. "My God! You couldn't get a $20 check cashed on the strength of that identification. Yet you go ahead and plunge the newspaper into a libel suit on identification that hasn't got anything more to it than that!"
 "No, wait a minute," Dick Kenney told him. "We did a lot more than look at the cards. We telephoned to Riverview and talked with Mrs. Cathay. She admitted her husband was in the city. And Tom Carson's down at the detective bureau didn't release the man until he had given proof of his identity. There were signatures on the cards. Carson had him duplicate those signatures."
 "That all your story?" asked Bleeker.

"I want you," Bleeker said, "to go to Riverview. Find out all you can about Frank B. Cathay."
 Kenney nodded.
 "It's a damned poor way to verify the man's identity," Dan Bleeker said.
 "We were just going to press," the city editor reminded him.
 "Wait a minute," Bleeker interrupted. "There's something fishy about this."
 "Of course there's something fishy about it," Morden said.
 "I was covering the thing from a human interest angle," said Morden. "When they started checking up on the man's identity. Then they found out the car he was driving was a rent car; that when he rented the car he had given the name of Frank B. Cathay of Riverview, had shown his driver's license and exhibited his lodge and club cards by way of references."
 "How did he get those cards?"
 "Cathay says his pocket was picked."
 "Did you ask him what he was doing in town?"
 "He said he was here on business."
 "Did he tell you the nature of the business?"
 "No."
 "Tell you where he was stopping?"
 "No. I asked him and he refused to answer."
 DICK BLEEKER fastened his glittering black eyes on Morden. "Ever work for a newspaper on a libel suit, Morden?" he asked.
 Morden shook his head.
 "Know how it's done?" asked Bleeker.
 "I have an idea," Morden said. "All right," Bleeker told him. "Go into the morgue, dig out everything you can find on Frank B. Cathay of Riverview. If he's been reported the case when it first came in. It was a John Smith case then. I was instructed to get a human interest article and—"

 "And you're the one that got us into it, huh?"
 "Yes sir."
 Bleeker sighed.
 "That's a lot better, my boy," he said. "When I ask you a direct question, give me a direct answer. The alibis can come later. If you'd kept beating around the bush I'd have fired you."
 "I was covering the thing from a human interest angle," said Morden. "When they started checking up on the man's identity. Then they found out the car he was driving was a rent car; that when he rented the car he had given the name of Frank B. The New WATERLESS WAY

While the New Utility Cooker brings to you the possibilities of enjoying old-fashioned meals in addition, it permits you to prepare foods by the newer methods of cooking without water.

Science has discovered that there is so much natural moisture in all meats, vegetables and fruits that it is entirely feasible to cook them with little or no water.

About the only reason why we have cooked with water was to avoid burning. Water distributes the heat evenly, conducting it away from the point nearest the fire.

However, after we have cooked our foods we have poured off the excess water and with it we have poured the bone-forming, teeth-building minerals; the iron, calcium and phosphorus that constitute the essential elements which the human system must have. With the new perfected Utility Cooker you can prepare foods deliciously tender and full of these health-building elements. The Utility Cooker is ideal for the housewife who wishes to practice this modern, more healthful and more economical way of cooking.

PULLMAN, Wash.—Honey bees can do two dance steps, according to Dr. R. L. Webster, Washington State College entomology professor. While not like the fox trot or waltz, they are characteristic movements of worker bees returning to the hive. The so-called "dances" convey to other bees information regarding abundance of pollen within reach of the colony.

then he panned to Payton over the goal line for the score. Anderson's try for the extra point failed.

Ranger kicked off to Central, who failed to gain and punted over the goal line. Taking the ball on the 20-yard line Anderson completed a series of six straight passes to make first down after first down, first to Britt, then to Payton and finally to Jacoby, who was standing on the goal line, for the final score. Anderson again failed to kick goal.

Central took the kickoff and marched down the field in a desperate effort to score again before the Bulldogs could get possession of the ball, but their drive ended on the 25 yard line when the final pun was fired.

Central's passing attack was effective in the first half, but not like the Ranger aerial of the last contest, while Central's line plays gained time after time. The Bulldogs were unable to gain through the Central line, making only one first down on running plays, while they made seven by the air route.

The starting lineup:
Ranger—Westbrook, le; Love, r; Wardon, le; Bunton, c; Carraway, rg; Wheeler, rt; Payton, re; Anderson, qb; Walsh, lb; Agnew, rh, and Britt, full.

Central—Thompson, re; Branson, rt; Fuqua, rg; Hammonds, c; Paris, le; Chilton, lb; Owens, le; Pratt, qb; Fielding, lb; Brandon, rh and Cunningham, full.

Score by periods:
Central 13 7 6 0—26
Ranger 6 0 0 13—19
Officials, Curtis, referee; Wolf, umpire, Hall, head linesman.

IN MEMORY OF MY TRUE FRIEND, MRS. C. T. BERRIER

(By Mrs. Johnnie E. Boyd)
A precious friend from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled;
God had a place in Glory Land
That no one else could fill.

And oh how she did like to sing
Of that brighter home above;
To me she was always a friend,
As tender as a dove.

To me she said not long ago:
"I'll always do God's will;
"It is my theme, has always been,
"Give me the roses while I live."

God needed a rose to bloom for Him
In his garden fresh with dew;
We cannot now quite understand
Why he took this one so true.

But with gentle hands He transplanted her
Close to his holy seat;
When we reach heaven, praise God's name,
"Tis her I am sure we'll greet.

Now to the family left alone
Without this mother true;
Just please remember His word,
How God will take care of you.

Ruggedness Test Car Visits Ranger

The Terraplane which left Dallas on Oct. 4 on the Hudson Terraplane ruggedness run which lasts until Oct. 18, in which time it will pile-up more than 10,000 miles than the average car will go in a full year, arrived in Ranger Saturday morning at 9 o'clock on the first lap of a 2,000-mile circuit covering most of Texas.

The car with its two drivers, T. M. King and E. Bates, was escorted into Ranger, up Main street to Marston, over to Pine and to the local Hudson Terraplane dealer showrooms, by C. J. Moore, dealer; J. E. (Jess) Meroney, local bulk agent for the Magnolia Petroleum company, whose products, Mobiloil and Mobilgas, are being used exclusively during the run, and two representatives of the Times, E. D. Hicks and W. B. Crossley.

Leaving Abilene Saturday morning at 7:30 o'clock, which was 30 minutes behind schedule, King and Bates succeeded in whittling off 20 minutes of that time to arrive in Ranger only 10 minutes behind time and after a quick fill-up of Mobilgas and check of tires, water and oil, were off to Breckenridge, the next point on the circuit.

The manner of selecting the Terraplane to be used in the run was quite unusual, for instead of using a stock car off a dealer's showroom floor as the test car for the ruggedness run, the Centennial Scout is a Terraplane which has already seen a year's mileage in the hands of an actual Texas owner. Thus in driving over 10,000 additional miles in two weeks of day and night punishing touring the car will be receiving an equivalent of its second year of mileage.

The Terraplane picked at random was the property of Dr. Irving Parish, of Houston. Dr. Parish had run the car nearly 12,000 miles in the very exacting service of his profession as physician. Because his Terraplane had proved most economical and had never failed his need, he was loath to part with it, but consented to do so for the period of the run.

So, it is not a stock car, fresh from the factory, that is making this gruelling run over a mile loop five times or more a veteran Terraplane out to that it can stand up under normal conditions of this easily as it has sold itself Texas physician in a year's driving.

Breakfast At Acorn Acres Opens the Season For New Era Club

Informal Program Opens New Era Club Season

Informal but very delightful in every detail was the breakfast given at Acorn Acres tearoom, Strawn highway, Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, for members of the New Era club, which comes as the opening of the new study season.

Through the artistic inclination of the incoming president, Mrs. W. B. Crossley, autumn leaves in shades of amber touched with deep rich brown marked places for guests at a table smartly appointed and centered with a mound of cosmos and chablor buttons, carrying the club's colors of purple and yellow.

Mrs. J. L. Turner acted as pleasing toastmistress, presenting Mrs. F. D. Hicks, who in the invocation expressed herself most graciously and fittingly. Mrs. Crossley, incoming president, was introduced and later given a clever toast by Mrs. Turner. Her response was given in words well chosen and impressive.

Mrs. Clyde H. Davis offered a reading which was thoroughly enjoyed.

A short business session drew the delightful breakfast affair to a close, attended by Meses. E. K. Smith, Clyde H. Davis, P. E. Moore, C. O. Smith, Frank Ford, W. B. Crossley, Ray Fesmire, M. H. Hagaman, Charles Surbrook, O. B. Denny, Jarbo, F. D. Hicks, J. L. Turner, O. E. Samms, and Misses Mittie Pettitt, Rose McEwer and Marie Kohn.

Miss Moorman to Be Presented in Piano Recital

Miss Mildred Moorman, product of the teaching of Dunning system of improved music study, will give her junior certificate piano program at the First Baptist church, Sunday, Oct. 7, at 4 o'clock. Miss Moorman expressed her wish for this recital at the First Baptist church, due to her membership being placed there.

Mrs. M. R. Newnham, Teacher of Dunning System, Completes Extension Course

Mrs. M. R. Newnham, teacher of the Dunning system of improved music, has just completed a review extension course in senior post-graduate work of Dunning system, under Harriet Bacon Macdonald, of Dallas, normal teacher and member of faculty of the Dunning improved music study, who has been teaching in Mrs. Newnham's home for the past 14 days. Mrs. Newnham has a permanent certificate which entitles her to give junior and senior certificates by examinations given by teachers which is faculty member of national education board.

Who Will Represent Ranger As Princess and Maid-in-Waiting at the Texas State Fair Pageant of Cerealia?

We shall admit this is a bit personal but just who are you going to vote for to represent Ranger clubs at the Texas State Fair Pageant of Cerealia, to be held at Fair Park auditorium, Oct. 17. Members of the 1934 and New Era clubs, with their presidents, Mrs. M. H. Hagaman and Mrs. W. B. Crossley, in charge, did a splendid job in selecting some 13 young women to be voted upon by the voters.

For the lucky two there is a lovely program of entertainment awaiting them under the personal arrangements of Mrs. William Hagaman, who is to serve as hostess and ephemerone of committees.

We can't think of two more attractive places in the city of Dallas than the Dallas Country club, where luncheon is to be served, and later a dance at the Baker hotel, favored by many as the outstanding hotel in the southwest.

This courtesy to towns including some 25 in the state, comes through the Texas Consolidated Theatres and Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

The carefully chosen group of girls could lend sufficient competition to other young "debs" in places much larger than Ranger. The 12 nominees represent the blond, brunet and the auburn type. A striking combination may easily be winners in this affair, one which is indeed dignified and will accentuate charm and lovely mannerisms.

Again we name the popular young ladies who will appear in person at the Arcadia theatre Thursday evening, Oct. 11: Misses Maxine Henderson, Ruth Smith, Mary Lou Throver, Ora Lee Ratliff, Dorothy Outlaw, Lucile Grant, Helen Goforth, Dixie Neal, Marguerite Adamson, Clara Barker, Kathryn Galloway, and Mary Edlo Davenport.

Guest of Drs. Wier and Wier

Billie Wier of Fort Worth is spending the week-end in Ranger, visiting at the home of Drs. A. K. and D. T. Wier, Strawn highway.

Daughter Born

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Love announce the arrival of a daughter at the West Texas Clinic and Hospital, Friday, Oct. 5. Mrs. Love and baby, whose weight is eight pounds, are resting well.

Second Lesson of Splendid Study to Be Heard

Oct. 8 the missionary society of the Methodist church, under the leadership of Mrs. C. D. Woods, presents the second chapter of "Zuzuka Sees Japan." To those who heard the first chapter given in playlet form and saw the authentic costumes worn, know that the leader is putting everything into the study of this book. We know that they will want to return and tell others of the enjoyable and worth-while hour.

Barn Dance Promises Entertainment to Large Number of Dancers

With such persons in charge as members of the entertainment committee of the Elks club, including Harry Henry and Bill McDonald, the dance affair which comes in the fashion of a barn costume special, promises to be a success to say nothing of the fun and gaiety during the evening of Thursday, Oct. 11.

By special requirement such person attending must be garbed in tacky costume, and music for the hour is to be furnished by members of the American Legion Tickville band, directed by Dr. Harry A. Logsdon.

The dance attraction looms as one of the most anxiously looked forward to social features marking happenings during the month of October.

Marriage of Popular Couple Attracting Interest of Friends

Miss Lettie Lou Simmons, attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Simmons, who Saturday, Oct. 13, becomes the bride of Mr. J. W. McKinney, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McKinney, with the ceremony to be performed at the home of the bride-elect's parents, is attracting much interest among Ranger friends.

The young couple, both graduates of Ranger high school, are quite popular among the younger set and after their approaching marriage are to make this their home.

Ranger Princess to Select Maid-in-Waiting For Pageant of Cerealia

The fortunate young lady who will represent Ranger as princess at the Texas State Fair pageant, Cerealia, at Dallas, Oct. 17, will be extended the privilege of selecting her maid-in-waiting.

It was erroneously stated in Friday story that the young lady receiving the second highest number of votes would act as maid-in-waiting.

Miss Lucile Buchanan Withdraws from Nominees For State Fair Pageant

Miss Lucile Buchanan, popular Ranger teacher, has asked that her name be withdrawn from the group of nominees who are to be presented at the Arcadia Theatre Thursday evening, during which time a Princess and her Lady in Waiting will be voted upon to represent Ranger clubs at the Texas State Fair Pageant of Cerealia, Oct. 17, at Dallas.

All-Day Meeting With Mrs. Shirley

Members of Julia Alexander grove of Woodman circle met at the home of Mrs. Minnie Shirley Friday for an all day quilting and luncheon. The entire day was spent quilting on two beautiful quilts, one a "butterfly," the other "fan" design. At the noon hour places were laid for Meses. Ratliff, Ruby Mosely, Lena Patterson, Ruby Greer, Verna Ringold, Patay Patterson, Christine Yerton, Exa Nivers, Edna Williamson, Ada Neville, Maxwell Townsend, and Meses Dealva, Elizabeth Minnie Lee Shirley, Jerry Don Mosley, and hostess, Mrs. Shirley.

Ritualistic work will be put on for the banner, now in possession of Graham.

Guests of note to be entertained include the state supervisor, Mrs. Eva Huskey, of Greenville; Mrs. Dr. Anderson, state oracle, of Ft. Worth; Mrs. Martha White, past state oracle of Breckenridge; Mrs. Edna Bingham of Ft. Worth, district deputy.

The morning program presents the speakers of the day. Presentation of the flag, will be followed with invocation by the Rev. H. R. Johnson.

MAVS DEFEAT OLNEY 14-12 FRIDAY NIGHT

Eastland Mavericks battling the Olney Cubs Friday night in Olney before a crowd of approximately 1,000 in the last two minutes of play made a touchdown, kicked goal to win by a score of 14 to 12 from Olney.

The winning run was made in the way of a pass from Tully to Horton who raced 35 years to the five-yard line, on the third play Garrison plunged through the line for the important score. Tully kicked goal.

Eastland's first score was made in the second quarter when Tully threw a 50-yard pass to Garrison who fleet-footed across the goal. Tully converted.

The score at the half stood 7 to 6 in Eastland's favor.

Squad members report Blannard Spearman's aggregation a plucky little team who hit the weight average bell way lower than Eastland.

Mavericks who saw time in the game were Sam Butler, Bill Bagley, Aubrey Brawner, Rerald Tully, John Hart, Capt. John Garrison, Horace Horton, Bob Sikes, Jack Trantham, Coriell Upton, Troy Taylor, D. C. Frost and Jack Trantham.

Relief Work Is at Near Stand Still

Sewing rooms last week filled with a buried atmosphere and the hum of swing machines were Saturday quiet in all rooms in the county, and relief projects in the county were shut down due to the cut in Eastland county's money allotment for October.

At the Eastland county general relief office Saturday, an administrative official said that the whole relief work in the county was cut to the bone with no projects going and only relief disbursements were being made to those on the direct relief rolls, and those very few.

The mattress factory started last Monday at Eastland was shut-down in the latter part of last week.

Case workers, the officials said, were going over their books and investigating each and every client so that those unworthy or relief would be removed.

Since the federal government has recently allotted money to Texas, the official said, the office expected word of some nature in the early future.
