Our face is red and we apologize. A number of pictures that we thought we were making, we weren't. Among the pictures that didn't show up on the negatives after the shutter was operated in the proper manner was pictures of specimens in the Garden Club's flower show. I have been substituting as new photographer, on occasions lately, and I know absolutely nothing about the craft, or profession, however it is classified. We never know until one of my shots is developed whether there will be a picture there or not. We know now. At least I was privileged to visit all of the flower displays, arrangements, etc., and in my opinion the ladies were prettier than the flowers, in their hats and everything. Next time I will put some film in the camera and see if that will help.

As much as you would like to see it rain in this country, and as welcome as rain is ordinarily, it is almost out of character not to want it to rain. Right now, however, everybody would like to see any rain that we are supposed to get in the next two weeks put on deposit and dispensed at a later date. Most of the wheat is probably ready to cut, at least a goodly portion of it is, and after you have raised a crop there is nothing like getting it in the barn.

According to the last bulletin issued by the Texas Employment Commission Texas wheat production is forecast at 61,005,000 bushels. This is 2,905,000 bushels below the May 1 forecast. According to this same bulletin practically all wheat in the state is harvested except irrigated acreage. Most of the wheat in this county is irrigated, so the harvest is ready to get under way if we can just postpone these rains for a few days. Apparently there are plenty of combines and harvest crews to make short work of the harvest.

Had you noticed, every time there is a little turbulent weather the fire siren gives forth with blasts, toots and snorts. Most of the time investigation proves that it was just a "false alarm." Of course it is gratifying to learn that nobody was left homeless by a fire, but most of us, if we are honest, would admit that we were relieved to learn that the alarm only meant that somebody's house was burning down instead of there being a tornado in the community. Perish the thought that a false alarm might be turned in by some prankster just for kicks, and to see the heads poke out at doors and whole bodies eject onto the streets with eyes turned skyward in an effort to locate the funnel. Nobody would do that, or would they?

If you know your signals, fire siren signals that is, and if you can count you might save yourself a little apprehension by being calm and reading the blasts. If it is two blasts it means fire practice, or maybe that a domino game is fixing to get under way at the fire hall. If it's a bunch of little short blasts, on eight seconds and off eight seconds, it's a fire alarm. If there are three reasonably long blasts it means that I have headed for somebody's storm cellar, that's your tornado warning. You might keep this information in mind, in fact it just might keep you from being scared out of your mind. Another thing about this weather situation is the manner in which weather reports are given by television stations. They will draw a square box around a sizeable chunk of country, on a state of national map, then the old boy in charge of spreading hysteria will point a pointer at the box and in an excited voice give forth with the warning, "If you live in this box, look out, you will probably be hit by the small end of a tornado." When they do that I become very cautious and listen for the further reports that he promised would follow. That radar thing, too, that they put on television is confusing. The one with the arm that travels in a circle and lights up in places. I've watched those things till my eyes hurt, and I've never seen a tornado on one of them yet. Usually when they play that radar machine and the announcer does his pointing and announcing he gives you the impression that he is about to throw his pointer down and seek cover because of all of that flashing that is going on. Most of them are brave, however, and they just stand there and tell you that you had better get ready to protect everything from hail and high surface winds, but they don't tell you what you can do to protect everything from hail and high surface winds. I bet when they give that warning farmers would like for them to explain just how to protect their wheat from hail. What used to be summer showers is now known as turbulent weather.

Prize Winning Essay Gets

Rosemary Carter R.E.A. Trip To Washington

EDITOR'S NOTE - Following is an essay written by Miss Rosemary Carter of Hart. She was the county winner of a free trip to Washington with expenses being paid by Swisher County Rural Electric Cooperative.

Hi! I'm freshly back from Washington, D. C. and I just can't keep from telling everyone I see what a wonderful time I had. To begin, I won an essay and oratorical contest sponsored by Swisher Electric Co-Op in Tulia. Thursday, June 22, at 9:45 a.m., Mr. Ray Carlton and Ronnie Bertelson, the other winner from Tulia, picked me up in Hart. We rode to Lubbock where we joined Nell Mays, one of the chaperones for the trip and the manager of member services for Swisher Electric. We flew via Braniff International to Dallas, where we met the other eighty youths we would be with and our chaperones.

The first night in Dallas was wonderful. We met the roommates we would have until the termination of our trip. I must say (prejudiced and very biased) that I couldn't have had better roommates because mine were the best on the trip! While in Dallas we were given name tags in the shape of Texas. I'll guarantee I was proud to wear mine, and so were the other 98 with me.

Friday, the 3rd, we were awakened by a jangling telephone at 5:30. Ten minutes later a chaperone was around beating on doors to make certain we would all be ready to breakfast at 6:00 and board buses at 7:00. You may be wondering about us poor, little, feminine, ladies lugging suitcases down to the ground floor and out to the buses. Worry no longer. Each morning as a girl finished packing (or shall I say something called a suitcase) she set her luggage outside her door. As a strong, husky, masculine specimen happened to walk by on his way to breakfast, he simply (sometimes not "t c" simply) lifted it and carried it to the bus where the luggage was tagged to go.

We had three Greyhound buses with thirty-three to a bus. My bus was number 3. (Best Bus). Friday, Saturday, and Sunday we were enroute to the big city. Between my crossword puzzles and gin rummy I was kept busy. When it wasn't that, there were always Norwegian folk songs r at nap to keep me occupied. Sunday night in Roanoke, Virginia, we had a devotional service by the pool, given by Mike Springer, one of the 99. The next afternoon found us in Washington, D. C. relaxing for a few minutes at the place that would be our home for the next five days, The Marriott. After letting our hair down and slipping our shoes off, we put our hair back up, donned heels and PRESTO! We were at our nation's capitol. Of course, picture-taking with cameras was limited, but my mind has a pretty good picture of our capitol complete with mosaic paintings, and Senate gallery. It was on the steps of our capitol where those of our area had pictures taken.

I will assure you, our taxes are well worth being able to afford a capitol to instill the pride of being an American. I was proud.

We returned "home", bathed, ate, and look out! We were touring the monuments. We saw the Lincoln Memorial, the Jefferson Memorial, the Iwo Jima Monument, and the Washington Monument. They were all very impressive. I could hardly believe that the Iwo Jima Monument was only bronze. Every thing about it, the mud on the uniforms, their facial expressions, their hands everything! Oh Let me warn you now. If and when you go to the Washington Monument - Do Not take the stairs! There are rest benches every two or three flights but I was so excited and so eager to reach the top that I became determined not to use them. Heavens I couldn't let an Alaskan see a Texan using a rest stop. They were true to humiliating. I did finally reach the top. The view of the city at night was magnificent. You may be sure, I took the elevator down. To rest would have been un-Texan, but to have been stupid and have taken the stairs would have been unforgivable and Alaskan-like.

Our bed felt so good. We had very reasonable curfews, but once in our room we seldom, if ever, got to bed before 12:00 or 1:00.

RECEIVING INSTRUCTIONS in beginning swimming are Shorty and Debbie Lacy, Peggy Baldrige, and Cindy Jungman. G. C. Graves teaches the class.

There was so much to talk about, hair to roll, and baths to take. I didn't like the idea of only 5 1/2 hours of sleep per night, but I've never had more fun missing it in my life.

Tuesday morning we toured Mt. Vernon and the Wax Museum. They didn't wake us until 7:00 that morning. If I could have been George Washington's daughter, I wouldn't have minded living in his time. I especially liked the rose arb r. When you use your imagination a little those tours can be educational and fun. They usually are anyway, but it takes a little "extra" to have the best tour possible.

Before our trip, I had always thought the Wax Museum to be a farce. Believe me, it is not. It is so realistic it will almost make you gasp. In the portrayal of Pocahontas and Captain John Smith, somehow, somehow the Captain's chest regularly rose and fell. At first, I couldn't believe he was only wax!

As soon as we went to lunch at the Museum we were gone again. This time we were bound for the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier Kennedy's grave site and the National Archives Building. The changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier was priceless. I wouldn't have missed it for anything. At President Kennedy's grave site the Texas delegation laid a wreath of beautiful yellow roses.

That night we re-assembled at the Iwo Jima Monument for a ceremony by the Marine Corps. If all I had seen on the trip had been that ceremony, it would have been a worthwhile trip. I could say that the ceremony honoring those men was a tear jerker and the thing I most liked on the trip. The whole time we were in Arlington National Cemetery I kept thinking of the poem, "In Flanders Fields." It is very much like the author describes it.

Wednesday morning we had breakfast with our Congressman, and pictures with them, too. I liked them all. They were true Texans. The remainder of the day was spent in Rural Youth Day. This was the time when we got to meet the other delegations. I'm glad I don't live in North Dakota. I wouldn't be able to understand a word the people there say, and they surely couldn't understand me.

Later that night we had a dinner and Shindig. I danced holes in my hose. (Shhh. Don't tell my mother I ruined a pair of her

Thursday we toured the White House. Oh, Yes, I almost forgot the most important part of my trip. This was the day I passed palms with President Johnson, Lady Bird, and Luci. All three of them! It greatly surprised me that evening to meet Luci coming out of the simple Hot Shoppe. I was going to eat a hamburger. I had never thought of it before, but why shouldn't the President's daughter like hamburgers, too?

The White House was lovely. Especially the East Room, or Gold Room. Of all the rest, it was my favorite. Next on the day's agenda was an NRECA tour. I was impressed by their friendliness and also by a bill that was being debated during our stay. The NRECA needs more money (but everyone does!) to loan to cooperatives in order that progress and growth can be granted to the NRECA. It is almost to a critical point. Too bad I'm not a Congressman. I'd vote yes!

From there we went to the Library of Congress. Of course, I pulled a stunt, but at least I wasn't alone in my boo-boo. The actual library is tabu for high school students for the simple reason that the books in there are too advanced and too numerous for an average high school student to really benefit much from using. About six of us didn't notice the stand giving us this tidbit of news, so we just walked right through the big wooden doors. I'll guarantee there were guards on all sides of us in no time wanting to know what we were up to. They were very understanding. We came out of the library faster than a speeding bullet. We did get to view the library from a gallery. It is immense. It is also the home of several statues and paintings. I do believe I could have spent a lifetime there. My roommate spent most of the day in there - forgetting about dinner. We did leave in time to sit in on the Senate in action, though. I saw Senator Dirksen and Senator Kennedy.

That night we had a boat ride down the Potomac River. It may be polluted, but it shows everything to be beautiful at night.

Friday was the last day in the city. We used it to glimpse at the Smithsonian Institute and to later tour the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception. It was while trying to get to another building of the Institute that my roommate, Lisa Roberts and I got lost. We wasted a whole 45 minutes trying to find Wilbur and Orville's plane. We did find it, and also the "Spirit of St. Louis". I'll tell you for sure! I wouldn't fly from here to Dimmitt in that, much less across the Atlantic Ocean. He must have really been brave.

The Shrine was so beautiful that is completed I'd like to see it. The mosaics were so right and so beautiful that you really must see them to believe they're real. All of this time, a boy from Bus No. 3, Blocker Meitzen from Refugio, had been carrying the flag of Texas in side his sport coat. He would touch it to whatever took his fancy just so we could say that the Texas flag had been there. We also made "hook-em-horns" signs with our hands.

Window screens were damaged and window panes were knocked out on the house on the north side of their farm where their son lives. Close to them the Lacy's, Anderson's, Fyatt's, Clark's, and Durbin's received almost total hail damage to cotton and wheat. This weather was reported last Thursday night at about 10:30.

ATTEND JUNIOR HIGH CAMP

Attending the Plainview District Junior High Camp this week in Ceta Canyon are Mrs. William D. Bell and Warren Gossett as counselors, and the following as campers, Jeton Jones, Gaylene Hawkins, Sandy Bennett, Donna Dudley, Linda Gossett, Sheila Gardenhire, Ralph Ed Bell, Harold Bob Bennett and Jerry Heller.

Rev. Douglas Gossett and Mrs. W. A. Hawkins took the Junior High group to Ceta Canyon.

METHODIST YOUTH

The Methodist Youth Fellowship was in charge of the Sunday evening service at the First Methodist Church, Hart. Warren Gossett, Routh Director, was in charge of the service of installation of the officers for the ensuing year. After installation service each officer told of his or her job in the fellowship. A skit on Social Concerns of the MYF was presented by the group.

President, George Ed Bennett; vice president, Sherry Morrison; and sang "The Eyes of Texas" everytime we had the chance.

To make our trip, the last night out in Texarkana we had a farewell party hobo style. Would you venture a guess as to who won the prize for being the tackiest girl there? None other than Rosemary Carter of Hart! I won a water proof beach bag with a clown on it and I also got to reign with the tackiest boy, Mike Lewis from Keller. We had a good, good combo, The Speeds. No one wanted to say, "Farewell," so we begged them into playing two overtures.

There are so many things yet to say! On our return trip, we stopped Sunday atop Lookout Mt. for a devotional. It made quite a few of us misty. It was in a perfect setting and was very meaningful.

We returned to Dallas on Tuesday morning, June 14. Goodbyes are tear-jerkers of the worst kind, and very few of us wanted to leave. Nell, Ronnie and I took a Braniff back to Lubbock. It was a wonderful flight home. If I had had a spoon it would have been so hard to convince myself I was in a plane and that I couldn't eat the clouds! They did look like ice cream, though.

All in all, it was the most wonderful thing ever to happen to me. One night a group of us were talking about what the trip had done for us. We decided these things:

- 1. We'd do anything for T.E.C.
2. Our spirit of patriotism had been hoisted to the very top.
3. We were proud to be Texans.
4. Some of the greatest kids in Texas were on the trip. (Probably one will be President someday).
5. We didn't want to go home, but once there we'd have some wonderful memories to relate to others.

Anyone in doubt as to not knowing whether or not to enter next year - ENTER!! You have every chance to win. And once you've been and gained those memories, no one can take them from you. I'll never forget it! Rosemary Carter

JERRY SMITH, Boys State Representative from Hart.

We left Amarillo a 4:00 a.m. Saturday the 11th and arrived in Austin about 3:00 that evening.

As soon as we arrived we were divided into cities. There were about 50 boys in each city, 15 cities, 7 counties and 3 districts. The two parties were the Longhorns and the Pioneers. I was a member of the Longhorn Party.

Each day began with calisthenics at 5:15 each morning, then breakfast at 6:00 and party meetings at 8:00. The party meetings usually lasted about three hours. Lunch was at 11:00 and the afternoons were mainly recreation.

At 4:15 everyone assembled to lower the United States flag and the State flag of Texas.

At 5:00 we had dinner and after the evening meetings we had an important dignitary speak to us. From 7:30 to about 9:00 we formed in the main auditorium for General Assembly and the evening speaker.

After assembly we had more party meetings. Then lights out. Boys State is conducted as near the regular State Government as possible.

For the past six years the Pioneer party has dominated the majority of the official offices. This year however, the Longhorn party united and drew up a very good platform. We swept the polls and obtained almost every important state and county office.

Our stay was climaxed Friday by a visit to the State Capital and by the Governor's Ball.

I was glad to get home Saturday the 18th, but I enjoyed the trip very much. I am very thankful to the American Legion for sponsoring the program, and to the Hart Post for giving me the opportunity to attend one of America's largest youth organizations.

WINN HONORS AT BOYS STATE

Charles Kuntz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kuntz, was elected Secretary of Agriculture at Boys State in Austin last week. He won over eleven contestants. Rodney Hutto also was elected to an office.

Castro Lodge AF & AM 879, Regular meeting 3rd Monday. Practice every Thursday, Doyl Underwood, Worshipful Master, Ira E. Brown, Secretary. Visitors Welcome.

By Vern Sanford No creature in Texas is shrouded with so many myths and half-truths as the rattlesnake.

This deadly reptile really has more of an overblown reputation than a true case history.

Facts gathered by the Texas Department of Public Health reveal that more Texans die from insect stings than from snakebite.

But this doesn't discourage those who preach the rattlesnake myth. Even though they have no biological proof they continue to tell stories about this much-publicized reptile. Yet many people accept their statements as fact.

Here are just a few of the more common myths credited to the rattler:

- 1. A mama rattlesnake will swallow her young upon impending danger.
2. By stretching a Manila rope about your camp at night, you're protected since no rattlesnake will crawl over a hair rope.
3. A large rattlesnake can inject more than a teaspoon of venom.
4. Extract the fangs of a rattler and it is harmless forever.
5. Rattlesnake broth is a sure cure for pneumonia.

There are many other such myths. But this sampling gives you some idea as to what many people have come to accept as truthful about the rattlesnake. In fact, it has gotten to the point where it is difficult to distinguish myth from fact.

For example, it is common belief that six-foot rattlesnakes are abundant, particularly in South Texas—home of our biggest rattlers. Yet, from an advertisement in Texas Game and Fish Magazine, official publication of the State Parks and Wildlife Commission, a few years back, calling for six-foot rattlers, there was only one answer. And this one just barely made six feet.

Truth is that a rattler over five feet is rare. Many people get generous eyes when they see a big rattler. Many a four-footer has grown to six feet or more after the story has been told a few times.

One of the greatest fallacies about rattlers is that their true age can be determined by the number of rattles they carry. Yet a two-year old rattler may have as many rattles as one four years old. So, the number of rattles actually is a very poor indication of age.

Hunting rattlesnakes has become a popular winter pastime throughout Texas. In some places, such as Sweetwater, rattlesnake round-ups are staged annually. They attract contestants from throughout the state, as well as from other states.

Most hunters capture snakes by spraying gasoline into known rattler dens and catching the groggy reptiles after the fumes have driven them into the open.

Favorite weapon is a snare. It is made from a long piece of aluminum tubing with a piece of wire doubled through it, leaving a loop at one end. This loop is dropped over a snake's head and the loose ends at the opposite end are pulled to draw the loop taut.

Some people even eat rattlesnake. Those who have tried it say it is fairly delectable. It tastes something like a cross between chicken and fish.

Most famous member of the Texas rattler family is the Western Diamondback. This snake has a large and heavy body and will average between three and four feet in length. A litter of young, born alive, will average about 12, but ones of 20 or more or not uncommon.

Most notable characteristics of this snake are the diamond-shaped markings along the back and the distinctive black and white rings on the tail, above the rattles.

Its head is broad, flat and triangular. Fangs are about one-half inch long and are recurved, folding flat against the roof of the mouth. This snake can open its mouth until both upper and lower jaws are completely vertical.

Diamondbacks are responsible for more deaths than any other North American snake because they are capable of manufacturing and injecting more toxin.

A lethal dose of venom is about one drop for each 50 pounds of body weight.

Their rattle comes from a jointed string of segments that are interlocked very loosely. Each click of the vibrations is almost heard individually when the tail vibrates slowly. But it becomes almost an incessant hum when the movement is frenzied.

Do not depend on the sound of the rattle to give warning. Some rattlers have been known to remain mute before striking; others might have lost their rattles through some mishap.

A rattler sheds his skin during the active warm-weather season. In winter it hibernates in its den and does not normally shed.

It begins the shed by rubbing its mouth against some object, loosening the lip scale. Then it works the loose skin free from the head and crawls out, leaving the skin turned inside out.

The rattler is a pit-viper, with the heat-detecting pit between eye and nostril.

A rattler has no ears, therefore its strike is directed at a heat source and also at vibrations.

H-D NOTES

JUNE IS DAIRY MONTH

Since June is Dairy Month we will concentrate on dairy products this week.

Remember when Grandma used to have her daily milk supply delivered in 5 or 10 pound syrup pails? Then, how she'd let it "set a spell" so she could skim the top for her cream?

Maybe she didn't even spell the word "m-i-l-k." It may as well have been milke, milch, merk, melec or meoluc.

That's really not so long ago — within the memory of many middle-aged persons. And it's really a short time ago, when we consider how long milk has been an indispensable part of the human diet.

Things have changed, of course — even since the days when any pioneer family with a cow and a few syrup pails could sell milk to neighbors.

This year, as we observe the 30th anniversary of June Dairy Month, most of our fluid milk is marketed as "pasteurized, homogenized, Grade A," through one of the 69 major markets operating under U. S. Department of Agriculture milk marketing orders. Consumers rely on high standards of quality and wholesomeness.

And we always have plenty of milk at reasonable cost. It comes to us each morning so we don't even have to "move camp" to follow the migrating of a herd of wild cows, as some ancients did to get their milk.

SUMMERTIME — PLAYTIME
Summertime is playtime for youngsters — and their busy pace keeps Mom on her toes thinking of new thirst-quenching ideas.

What could be more nutritious and still fill the bill than milk? "Milk breaks" scattered throughout the day will replenish the energy children use up in such a hurry and give them that added pick-up they need.

During Dairy Month, try this Choco-Melon Fluff. Crush 1 cup of diced honeydew melon; add 3 cups chocolate milk and ½ cup whipped cream. Mix well. Serve with a fresh berry-studded whipped cream crown. Serves 5.

A Pineapple Milk Freeze Cooler is ideal as a mid-afternoon refresher. Combine equal parts milk, crushed pineapple and vanilla ice cream, and mix well. Chill until firm. Serve with spoon and straw. Garnish with fresh mint.

Chocolate, mint and mallow is a delightful flavor trio. Blend 3 cups of chocolate milk and ¼ cup of crunched peppermint candy. Chill 10 minutes. Add 1 cup of whipped cream. Mix well. Top each serving with a spoonful of marshmallow cream and a sprinkling of crushed peppermint candy. Serves 4.

Party Punch with buttermilk is a real summer surprise. Blend together 4 cups chilled buttermilk, 3 cups chilled orange juice, some

Steve Hutton Makes Honor Roll At WTSU

Steve Hutton of Dimmitt was among 132 undergraduates listed on the spring semester honor roll at West Texas State University by Dean Walter H. Juniper.

The honor list is composed of undergraduates who compile at least a 2.5 grade point average of a possible 3.0 and who were enrolled for at least 15 semester hours of work.

Loren Young In Evangel College Summer Session

Loren Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Young, NW 8th Street, Dimmitt is one of 147 students enrolled in the first term of the 1966 summer session at Evangel College, Springfield, Mo.

A sophomore, he is majoring in education at Evangel. He is a graduate of Southwestern high school, Waxahachie, Texas.

Evangel College is a four-year accredited college of arts and sciences. A church related college, its parent denomination is the Assemblies of God.

Fall, 1965 enrollment at Evangel was 761, and an increase is expected this September. The administration is headed by President J. Robert Ashcroft.

lemon juice for tang, enough sugar to taste and a little cinnamon and salt.

Beat until foamy in a blender or electric mixer, or shake well in a tightly covered jar. Serve in tall glasses, garnished with grated orange rind or mint sprigs.

Spice milk. For six servings, you'll need 2 cups non-fat dry milk crystals, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, 1 tablespoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt and 1½ quarts fluid milk.

Add the dry ingredients to milk. Beat, stir or shake until smooth.

For six servings of Molasses Milk, you'll need 2 cups non-fat dry milk crystals, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1½ quarts fluid milk and one-third cup molasses.

Mix the dry milk and salt, then mix the fluid milk with molasses. Add the dry ingredients to the liquid and beat, stir or shake until smooth.

Maple Milk calls for 2 cups non-fat dry milk crystals, 2 tablespoons sugar, ½ teaspoon maple flavoring and 1½ quarts fluid milk.

Add the dry ingredients and flavoring to milk. Beat, stir or shake until smooth. Serves 6.

In using non-fat dry milk, keep in mind that this is whole milk with only water and fat removed. All the protein, calcium, phosphorus and B vitamins remain for needed bone and muscle-building nourishment. It's low in calories, too.

CHEESE
Cheese is another of our dairy products. It makes a good choice for an economy menu. Its wealth of important nutrients — including protein of the best quality, calcium, riboflavin and other vitamins — make it an excellent main dish feature item. Yet, the varied flavors, textures and consistencies of different types of cheeses suggest other menu uses as well, in desserts, appetizers or in snacktime preparations.

Cheese may certainly be considered an economical food, particularly since there's no need to waste any of it. It's best to cut off only as much as you need each time and then store the rest tightly wrapped in paper or clean cloth. Try to use it promptly, before it dries out — but remember even dried out cheese can be grated and used in many different ways.

Sometimes cheese may mold. If it does, cut off the mold and use the rest.

When cooking with cheese, keep the heat low to let it melt completely and spread through the whole dish. Fast cooking makes cheese tough and stringy.

To speed up melting and blending, slice it into small pieces or grate it before heating. Where possible mix the cheese into a sauce before adding it to other ingredients.

ATTEND GRADUATION
Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Fortner and Robert, Mrs. Rachel Hunter and Katy Mae Gauden were in Galveston June 15 to attend the graduation exercises of Mr. and Mrs. Fortner's son, Ronald, from the University of Texas Medical School.

Vo-Ag Does Shop Work

A good portion of the class time of the vocational agriculture classes of Dimmitt High School in the past year was spent in shop work. The Vo Ag II class taught by Jon Henderson learned how to use the power woodworking tools.

They had a required project which involved all the power tools. Some did personal projects also.

The Vo Ag III class learned how to weld with the arc and oxyacetylene welders. When they learned to make proper beads they were allowed to have personal welding projects, ranging from stockfeeders to stock trailers.

Ward and Oleta Golden were hosts at a nice open house at the new or remodeled Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber and Hardware store last week end. All of the area sales people from Lubbock and Amarillo were there. Most all of the Dimmitt people were there also. I went in and had coffee and those cute little weiner sausages in barbecue sauce bubbling away in a copper pot, cookies and lemonade. Serving the food was Doris Gray and Bettye Chambliss. Mamie Birdwell registered the guests for door prizes. Cordye Birdwell and the Golden were greeting the folks. Boys working are John Gray, Andy Elder, Ray Chambliss, Frank Daniel, Johnny Linn and Gene Fennimore were there with a radio and I even talked on that and scared me to pieces. Big bouquets of flowers were all over the store. Oh yes and everyone was trying to make the abstract pictures in the Whirligig Paint machine.

Mr. and Mrs. James Burnam and Wayne and June Brown of Hart visited June's father, W. P. Ware in Floydada on Sunday. Winfred Fuller, Bill Humprey and the Ramey boys, Edgar and Edwin, twin brothers, were telling about going down to Yellow House Ranch to see the cattle branding, using dry ice. It seems to be so cold it freezes the hair off instead of burning it off. Another old time job taken away by science.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Cooper and grandchildren are at the place in Ruidoso for a few days. Bonnie and Edward Ewing left for Colorado and other scenic spots, Saturday they will be gone a few days Bonnie is a hair stylist at Marie's. Hugo and Dottie Beyer told us about the good time they and continued to Garner State Park the next morning. The next day they drove to the Llano River near Castell where they fished and camped. The boys cooked out and slept in bed rolls during the trip. They wish to thank Frank Coleman for the use of his trailer.

daughter, Donna and Wayne Meacham had on their trip through the Las Vegas country and to Espanola and Chama, north of Santa Fe, to a Box Canyon where Hugo fished and cut his name on a tree 20 years ago. They caught several fish this time and told the story of Kippie, their 3 year old granddaughter, who likes to dig for worms. She looked for her little big worm and it turned out to be a baby snake.

Later the Edwin Ramey's went on to Hereford for the Dixon's Golden Anniversary party. Edgar and Edith visited her brother Beve Buchannon and family and Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Cummins at Friona.

I heard Johnny Linn say that he and Thelma visited his parents on the ranch near Perryton. He said they had a good old-time musical, fiddle, guitar, piano and food and laughter. The Johnny Linn's are at KDHN Radio.

The Lee Henrys and baby are home from a vacation trip to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Bell, their daughter Karen and Don Sheffy and little Kristi spent a few days at Ruidoso last week, and their house guests now are Mr. and Mrs. Don Anderson of Greeley, Colorado. They are Elmo's cousins.

They plan to place this $10,000 collection in a new museum called the "Baxter" at Batesville.

Lena and Marion Benton of Lubbock visited a few days with son Robert and Marty and the Rameys.

LoDawn and Ginger Kemp were hostesses at a "shis-ke-bob" barbecue Thursday afternoon for Jane Cleavenger, her friend Myrna from Vega and Pat Moran. Louise (mother) made a freezer of ice cream for the girls. They played the organ, sang songs, and talked about their college days.

Jay Lee and Reba Touchstone were hosts at a Surprise Party when about 30 of their friends came in Sunday evening to help "warm the new house on west Bedford."

A piggy bank with money in it was a gift to the house. Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gilbreath and the Allan Webbs served coffee and cookies to everybody.

Mrs. J. W. or Lolla Alexander of the Golden Spread Home and I went to Hereford Sunday afternoon to attend the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Dixon, longtime residents of Castro County. Most of the folks from Dimmitt, Hart and around, were there. We went to the west side of Hereford to the Golden Wedding party of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Baird. Mrs. Baird and Mrs. Alexander are sisters. We saw all of the M. L. Simpson Sr. and Jr. families. Saw Mrs. Hester Cash of Canyon, her daughter Fannie Laas of Plainview, her daughter from Canada. She is one of the early settlers of Castro County, also a relative of Lolla's. Mrs. Pauline Durant Baird and Bob of Seattle, Washington were there. Pauline taught school at Flagg years ago and lived with the Bill Bechers. Mrs. Alexander told me that she was Postmistress at Dimmitt in 1902 and on for a few years. She went to Box Suppers, ate with the senior Bill Burnham, who is the father of James, this was before he married and before he was sheriff, also, her beau bought the box Mrs. Ira McLain, (she was not married then) brought. They ate the food, left Mrs. McLain sitting there, she was a Henderson girl, now of Hart. She told me what fun they had at the Ranch dances and church on Sunday.

Lena and Ray Martin of Abernathy were week end guests of the Iris Touchstones and Joe Scette. Martin is a cotton ginner there.

CONFESSING JESUS

By Ronnie Parker

Hear the words of Jesus as He says, "Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven. But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven." (Matt. 10:32-33).

Paul says, "That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation." (Rom. 10:9-10).

Denial of the master is a pitiful thing. All one has to do in order to deny Jesus is simply fail to confess Him. Now a question? Have you confessed your faith in Jesus as the Son of God? You must do so else you will be denied before God! Your life must conform to your confession so after confessing Him, follow and obey Him in all things.

ATTEND CHURCH

Straight as an Arrow

In Archery you score only when you hit the target. To score well, you must have straight arrows.

When you attend church, it makes it easier to stay on the straight path. The church wants to help you in all ways of life, but can only do so, if you stay within its circle. Attend church and know the joy of a good life.

"For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all churches of the saints."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Walter Rogers' NEWSLETTER WASHINGTON

A NEW SUGAR IMPORT THREAT

I have fought for years to obtain for American farmers the right to produce a much larger share of the sugar consumed in this country. A combine of international sugar interests allied with East Coast shippers and processors has managed so far to retain the lion's share of the U. S. market for foreign producers. As a result, the growth of the sugar industry here at home has been slow, with acreages permitted for sugar beets held in tight check. Thousands of American farmers who would like to grow sugar beets are prohibited from doing so. As I have said so many times, one of the best ways to advance diversification of U. S. agriculture while providing a good cash crop for many more farmers would be to overturn the present quota system and put severe limitations on sugar imports from abroad. We can point to the success of the sugar beet growing area in the southwest part of the 18th District and the $20 million

Holly Sugar Co. plant at Hereford as examples of the benefits possible for American agriculture while increasing domestic sugar production.
A new round in this old fight is shaping because imports have risen swiftly and threateningly of products or mixtures containing sugar and butterfat and/or flour. These products are ingredients used by, among others, ice cream manufacturers and contain, commonly, approximately 55 percent sugar by bulk. While imports of these products totaled less than 35 million pounds in 1965, the import total in only the first five months of this year reached 37 million pounds. In 1961, when the world price of sugar was higher than the U. S. price there were no imports to this country of these products, but now the world price has fallen and the best market is in this country. Therefore, sugar that once was sold elsewhere is aimed at the U. S. market in a form not covered in the Sugar Act in order that the best price can be obtained.

Importing these products runs directly counter to the mandate of Congress in setting the Sugar Act quotas. The countries pushing the sugar mixtures are Belgium, Denmark, Great Britain, and West Germany, among others. Since none of these countries was assigned quotas for raw sugar, their shipping sugar-containing products or mixtures serves to add to the burden American farmers must carry because of already excessive import levels. The sugar-containing products being imported are direct substitutions for products Americans could supply.

The Department of Agriculture has been reviewing this problem at the instigation of concerned Members of Congress and the domestic sugar industry and has taken the first step toward limiting the importation of sugar-containing products. Section 206 of the Sugar Act provides that if importation of any such products will substantially interfere with the attainment of objectives of the Act, limits may be set on the quantities of such products to be imported. The setting of these limits is now being undertaken. Under the proposal, when proposed quotas become effective, no further imports will be permitted to enter the United States this year except from those countries that still have not shipped the amount specified in their quotas. The proposal also calls for imports to be reduced further in the calendar year beginning January, 1967.

Meanwhile these of us interested in obtaining for American farmers the right to serve their own country's needs must continue the fight to educate the Congress, officials in the Executive Branch, and the public at large as to the problem and opportunity. Sugar beets are a crop that could accomplish much toward solving economic problems for many farming areas in the United States if only more Americans were permitted to grow them.

THE ELEVATOR MAN

Reprint from Kansas Grain, Feed & Seed Dealers Annual Convention Program

If there's any one man who will merit a crown,
It's the man on a siding, in a small country town.
He dumps all your corn, and your musty old wheat,
And he loads it in cars mid the dust and the heat.
He swallows the dust till his lungs are both charged,
Then jars it on down till his liver is gorged,
And his kidneys are quittin' when they get a load,
But he keeps right on toiling in the plant by the road.

He's expected to smile at the smut and the rust,
And grow fat and sleek on a diet of dust.
If your endgate is fastened with staples and nails,
He's supposed to undo it without any nails,
And toss you a joke about Sonny or Sire,
While he mangles his fingers on your old bailing wire.
Then when you weigh back he must stand while you
Chew the rag about weights for an hour or two.

If the price has gone down he must take all the blame,
And the talk that he hears makes him spavined and lame.
When the price has gone up you are several loads "shy"
Of the bunch that you sold, and you try to tell why.
But if it goes down and you've not quite enough,
You go to the neighbors to help furnish the stuff,
And in storing some grain, when it comes settling time,
You'll haggle a week to save a thin dime.

We've all heard the story of the "patience of Job,"
But if you'll take the trouble, this matter to probe,
You'll find that the troubles of Job were not stout,
As compared with our friend I am talking about.
His daily complexes that pile up every hour,
He bears like a martyr, and he never gets sour.
If I had "Nobel Prizes," I'd hand them around'
To the dust covered heroes, in the "Small Country Town."

You can save a lot of cuss words and the dog a lot of misery if you will take hold of the mutt's jaw, press his cheeks against his teeth so that he can't close his mouth, and toss the pill far back in his throat. Then, quickly clamp the jaws together and stroke his throat until he swallows.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Auto insurance rates in Texas may rise an average of $2.11 a year per motorist.

State Insurance Board is weighing testimony given at a public hearing on rates last week. Decision probably will be announced soon, since new rates usually are effective August 1.

Look for these rate changes if the Board follows staff recommendations:

Liability (bodily injury and property damage) up 11.9 per cent.

Private passenger $50 deductible collision, up 2.4 per cent.

Full comprehensive coverage, up 0.3 per cent.

Private passenger $50 deductible comprehensive coverage, up 17.7 per cent.

Rates, of course, will vary widely among 26 rating districts. Among strong recommendations to the Board were:

A driving record classification plan to reward the safe driver with lower rates and hit the "bad" driver with higher premiums.

A more flexible rate schedule for drivers under age 25 — with highest rates for young males of 17.

A private passenger classification plan to produce a lower rate for drivers with less exposure to accident conditions.

A means by which a driver in the "assigned risk plan" could purchase additional coverage over normal $10,000-20,000 limits.

Board earlier announced it was considering feasibility of requiring companies to write an equitable portion of all lines and classes of insurance in order to provide coverage for drivers over 65 and under 25 who face increasing difficulties keeping policies in force.

FRUIT FLY REPORTED — First Mediterranean Fruit Fly has been discovered in Texas — in Brownsville area.

Agriculture Commissioner John White said the dangerous pest has been positively identified. Medfly can cause economic loss by stinging or implanting eggs inside fruit, causing widespread spoilage.

Total of 15 inspectors from Texas Department of Agriculture and U S Department of Agriculture Plant Pest Control Service have been sent to the Valley to place an additional 1,000 traps and determine extent of infestation.

White assured Valley citrus growers that treatment of any affected and susceptible orchards will follow immediately to insure complete eradication. He noted that past Medfly outbreaks in Florida have been successfully checked.

HEALTH RULES DROPTED — State Health Board has adopted tentative rules governing standards for frozen desserts sold in Texas and regulations to check disposal of wastes from boats. Dessert rules apply to ice cream and substitutes, sherbets, water ices, ice milk and other products. A public hearing on proposals will be scheduled later.

Proposed watercraft regulation would require holding tanks for all-marine toilets on boats. Sewage could be removed only by pumping it into onshore facilities. Rule also would outlaw boatmen throwing garbage, rubbish and litter into waters. Aim is to prevent water pollution.

Spicy Tuna And Rice

There's a pleasant spiciness to Tuna-Rice Con Queso that one doesn't suspect in reading the recipe or looking at the prepared dish.

Tomatoes canned with green chilies spice the mixture flavorfully. If you are unable to find such a product in your store, use regular canned stewed tomatoes and add a tablespoon or two of chopped jalapeno peppers.

Crushed corn chips and grated and diced cheese add to the south-of-the-border flavor of this main dish. The cooked rice mellows the spicy seasonings and adds its own pleasing texture. Any of the American grown rice available (brown, regular milled white, parboiled, and precooked) can be used in this recipe. Cook the rice according to package directions.

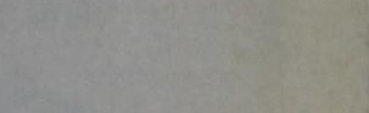

Tuna-Rice Con Queso

1 cup chopped onion
1 cup chopped green pepper
2 teaspoons butter or margarine
3/4 cup tomatoes with green chilies
1 cup grated cheddar cheese

1 cup diced process cheese
3/4 cup milk
3 cups cooked rice
1 can (12 1/2 ozs.) tuna
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup crushed corn chips

Cook onion and green pepper in butter until tender. Stir in tomatoes and simmer 5 minutes. Add cheese and cook until melted. Blend in milk, rice, tuna and salt. Turn into a buttered 2 quart casserole. Top with corn chips. Bake at 350 degrees 20 minutes.

Snack Foods Call For Good Planning

Irene Albrecht, county home demonstration agent, told the Young Homemakers that food is a social custom in a speech June 16.

Miss Albrecht's program entitled "Nutritious Snack Foods," revealed what young homemakers often feed their children for snacks. She urged them to "plan snacks as you do your menus. Include milk when you can — June is National Dairy Month." Plans for the Diamond Jubilee and Young Homemakers College were discussed. The Golden Spread Nursing Home was adopted as project for next year. Present at the meeting were Ruth Nelscn, Charlene Hunter, Elsie Moore, Oneeta Cole, Elcist Varner, Billie Gunn, Sandra Rcb, Beth Odom, sponsor Jo Ann Snider and Miss Albrecht. Babysitters were the FHA girls.
