HAPPINESS OF BOYHOOD ENDS ON A THRONE

Little Peter Karageorge, who becomes a king at an age when most boys are thinking about schoolwork and comes, seems to be one of the least enviable figures you could find in all the world of childhood.

A great many stories have been told about the good fortune of the boy who lives in a palace. But there are several million scrub-nosed kids in the United States whose chances for happiness are almost infinitely better than the chances of this little Serbian youngster.

The throne of Yugo-Slavia lies under a shadow. That part of Europe is not called "the cockpit of Europe" for nothing. The greatest of all wars began there! if another one comes, it is very likely to begin there too. To be king of Yugo-Slavia is to sit amidst powder kegs, waiting for menace to take shape beyond the borders.

But if there is danger from without, there is also danwer from within. Since the Serbs won their independence evening that was very much apfrom Turkey in 1804, the land has had eight kings—and preciated, but had a hail storm only three of them died natural deaths while on the throne. Local Gas Supply To Be "Odorized"

In order to help consumers loate leaks and identify improperregulated appliances, the Texasana Power company wil dorize the local gas supply with Calodorant, a harmless vapor that gives natural gas a distinctive and easily recognizable odor. The odorization treatment is to be started Monday, Oct. 22, according to local manager, P. B. Canfield, and will be continued for several weeks r until much time as the leak surcan be completed.

The gas supplied locally has virno odor and as a conse ience small leaks frequently g unnoticed. The addition of Cal dorant is expected to reveal these aks and eliminate the waste and anger to health resulting there-

Calodorant is a liquid, which is aporized and mixed with the gas a special process. The proporon used is small, one part of the lorant to every million parts of ant is instantly associated with unburned gas, yet it is not unpleas ant or offensive. It has no effect spon the heating value of the gas or the efficiency of appliances or neters. It is noticeable only in unrned form.

Calodorant has been used for everal years in cities, where the gas supplied is virtually odorless natural form. Denver, Ama-Memphis and a number of California cities are included in he list. Numerous leaks were loated in each survey with a reultant saving in gas bills and im rvoement of service

"After Monday, gas users should pen a burner for a second and dentify the odor of Calodorant.' said Mr. Canfield, in discussing he odorization procedure, "Then, if the odor is encountered later ith all burners either shut off or irning, it will indicate the pre nce of escaping gas. Customers are cautioned not to look for the eak with matches or candles but to call the gas company instead We will gladly send a man to in vestigate. If the leak comes from mproperly adjusted appliances we will regulate them without charge. In case of leaks we will mark the location of same and make recommendations for the plumber to follow.'

Develop Procedure For Lost Cotton Certificate Cards

WASHINGTON. - Producers have lost their participation trust certificates in the Cotton Producers Pool of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration may obtain an additional advance of two cents a pound or offer their certificates to the pool for sale without delay despite the loss of the certificates, under a plan announced today by Oscar Johnston, manager of the pool.

Producers who have lost their participation certificates and reuests for duplicates indicate a arge number have been displaced destroyed-must execute an affidavit on a form furnished by the Administration in order to receive a duplicate. If a producer has transferred his trust certificate to ome other person who has lost it, both the producer and the person to whom the participation trust certificate was transferred must execute affidavits on forms furnished by the Administration that he certificate was lost.

However, if either wants to ap ly for an additional advance of wo cents a pound or offer certificontes to the pool for sale, but has lost the certificate, the affidavit who will wrestle on the Elks Arena or affidavits may be attached to card Monday night.

For your protection, we are

ODORIZING our natural gas

N ORDER that you may readily detect gas leaks, we are odorizing our natural gas with CALODORANT, a harmless vapor which gives natural gas a distinctive and easily recognizable odor. The odorizing treatment will be started Monday, October 22, and continued for several weeks.

Although not offensive or unpleasant, the odor imparted by CAL-ODORANT is one that you will instantly associate with unburned gas. It saves you money and protects your health by revealing leaks that might otherwise go unnoticed because of the lack of odor in untreated gas. It does not affect the efficiency of meters or appliances and is noticeable only in unburned form.

After Monday, if you smell a distinctive odor that reminds you of a petroleum product, it will be CALODORANT proclaiming the presence of escaping gas. Do not look for the leak with matches or other fire. but call your gas company and we will send a man to locate the trouble. If the escaping gas comes from improperly regulated appliances, we will make the necessary adjustments without charge. In case of leaks, we will mark the locations of same and make recommendations for your

Remember CALODORANT is being used for your protection. It is being mixed with the natural gas at considerable expense in order that you may stop the waste resulting from leaks or improperly regulated appliances. It is to your interest to report the presence of CALQDOR-
