STATE OR FEDERAL CONTROL

The drama of a congressional committee hearing in Dallas, Nov. 16, on the advisability of federal dictatorship of oil production within the states, may reach the lighter vein of comedy.

Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson has been called as a witness to present the state's views on the question officially. It is of record that the railroad commission wants federal cooperation in matters crossing state lines, but feels that Texas should administer its own affairs within the state.

Recently there has been a shift by W. S. Parish, C. B. Ames and many other leaders of the oil industry, from federal control to the voluntary plan of an interstate compact on oil. Heretofore agitation was strong among major interests for federal control. Such federal cooperation now as is being secured to halt interstate shipments of gasoline refined from "hot" oil is coming under the amendment of Senator Tom Connally of Texas to the NRA, and upon evidence and urging of Texas oil conservation officials.

Here is where the comedy comes in: The A. P. I. made up of the big groups and interests of the oil industry, has been clamoring for this and that, and no doubt will continue to do so.

Commissioner Thompson, running through a report of the A. P. I. in 1925, found a report by its committee of 16, including such men as J. Edgar Pew, chairman; W. S. Farish, E. W. Marland, now nominee for Oklahoma governor, and others, that said in effect: "The country has a petroleum supply that will last beyond the period when science will render the use of petroleum obsolete; and science is improving methods of production and refining, and of utilization. The proper course is unrestricted competition—that will take care of price, new development, and everything. Keep the government from meddling with the oil business."

It seemed, as congress, through its committee, gets a broad background of the claims for and arguments against federal encroachment within the states, that the A. P. I.'s former recommendations are sure to be read into the record. It for no other purposes, it would relate the present A. P. I. agitations, and evaluate more recent A. P. I. developments, to the background of the oil industry over a period of years, as delineated by the same chief figures now in leadership of that powerful institute.

Much water, and more hot gasoline, has run over the wheel since 1925; but the A. P. I. has moved on majestically from position to position.

If a lot of our politicians took a long vacation this country would get along better, as some of them are not constructive leaders.

The Texas Centennial Celebrations of 1936

Cast on a small island on the Gulf of Texas, Cabeza de Vaca and his companions, weak from the lack of food and good water, were almost without hope. Lope de Oviedo who had "more strength and was stouter than any of the rest" climbed a tree to scout the country. He reported Indians not far away. The travel-worn Spaniards knew then that death would surely be the result of their plight. But they were mistaken.

Some Indians who had watched the strange white men saw their situation and "sat down with us and all began to weep out of compassion for our misfortune, and for more than half an hour they wept so loudly and sincerely that they could be heard far away," De Vaca says in his journal.

The friendly Indians took the half-frozen men (it was now November) and gave them food. Then they sent scouts along the trail to the village, to build fires every hundred yards or so. At each fire the exhausted Spaniards were warmed and half-carried by their strong arms of the Indians, they reached the village where a huge fire already was prepared for them. When all the white men were comfortable, their rescuers spent the rest of the night dancing and weeping around the fire.

The "Isle of Ill Fate" was to hold its name for Cabeza de Vaca, for he and Lope de Oviedo were to be of the fifteen who survived until Spring. Six years of virtual slavery for Cabeza and Lope were to pass before they were to meet their friends again.

TO THE PEOPLE OF EASTLAND COUNTY:

A great deal of interest is being taken by the people of Texas in regard to the Texas Centennial to be held in Dallas during the year 1936, and I am writing this letter in order to get the views of the citizenship of my district as to whether they favor this Centennial. The Centennial committee is asking for the sum of $5,000,000.00 and, while I am heartily in favor of celebrating the centennial, I do not feel justified in voting for such a large sum of money. However, if the people of my district will instruct me to vote for it, I shall be glad to carry out your wishes, as I have endeavored to do in the past. I feel that I am your servant, and not your master.

I realize that a good many people will be attracted to Texas for this exposition in 1936, and I believe the state will derive a great many benefits from it. As I see the problem, though, Dallas will receive most of the benefits, since the Centennial is to be held in that city. I do not believe that the taxpayers in general would receive benefits in proportion to the taxes they would be forced to pay in putting on this big state fair in Dallas. Furthermore, the deficit of the General Revenue fund is now about $7,000,000.00, and a total deficit of all the state funds is about $14,000,000.00. In addition, the state must pay off the $20,000,000.00 in relief bonds within the next few years.

The subject of the Centennial, no doubt, will be one of the most important submitted to the Legislature during this special session. I am not opposed to the Centennial, but I do not want to burden the taxpayers for something from which they will never receive benefits in return. It seems to me that the legislature should be more interested in relief for the hungry than in helping Dallas to promote a Centennial.

Petroleum Institute To Meet In Dallas

By United Press

DALLAS.—A Texas city will host to the American Petroleum Institute convention this year, the third time since the birth of the organization in 1919.

The 15th annual convention of the A. P. I. will be held in Dallas near the greatest oil field in the world, Nov. 12-15. The fifth gathering was held in Fort Worth in 1924 and the 13th in Houston in 1932.

The National Trade Association of the petroleum industry met for the first time in Washington, D. C., in 1920. Chicago has given its annual conventions seven times—in 1921, 1927-28-29-30-31, 1933. It has met in St. Louis in 1925 and Tulsa once in 1925 and 1926 respectively.

Los Angeles was reported as preparing an elaborate program the hope of attracting the oil men there in 1935. The meeting place will be selected definitely after the coming session here, and the oil men predict success for Los Angeles' effects.

Annual Frolic Makes Busy Days For Waning October

Witchery, soothsaying and chicanery has ruled during the first of this week, for tomorrow is Halloween, and that hobgoblin's holiday when witches, goblins and would-be spooks get together in a way that cannot be overlooked.

Black cats have already begun to prowls across bridge tables, and black and orange become the theme of all sorts of gaieties.

The annual frolic is always a merrymaking in Ranger, when the general spirit of happy abandon displays itself in a night of masquerade... streets are turned into a riot of colorful costumes and informality prevails.

Already several of the ward schools have celebrated the occasion in a gala fashion with elaborate programs and clever stunts.

Last night the S. S. class of the Church of Christ, whose teacher is W. W. Jarvis Jr., and sponsor, Mrs. O. G. Lanier, was delightfully entertained with a party at the church.

Each member garbed in costume and mask was greeted on the church lawn by Mr. Jarvis, and invited to the basement of the church. The pathway dimly lighted brought reflections of ghosts and goblins, lurking in the background of color brought about by the clever combinations of a real Halloween setting.

As the last guest arrived escorted by a ghost wearing typical ghost robe, the group was then led in a march which took them about the entire church especially decorated for the entertainment. An entertainment was resumed in the basement all masks were removed and games entered into, under the direction of Mr. Jarvis, Mrs. O. G. Lanier and Mrs. E. E. Martin, Mrs. M. H. Bobo and Mrs. W. S. Murry, who graciously gave their services during the party.

Visits were made to spooky places and astonishing information was revealed at the house of "Believe It or Not," "The House of Murder" and other places presided over by gay witches. Goblins and witches seemingly had invaded the whole church and one thrilling encounter after another filled the hour until the host and hostesses for the occasion served a plate of delicious pumpkin pie with whipped cream, cocoa and coffee, with choice candies as plate favors.

The Halloween of 1934 will long be remembered by: Ernest Green, Audrey Gentry, Melvin George, Mildred Merritt, Marguerite Sanders, Paul Adkins, Violet Simpson, Daisy Maude Babo, Connie Bradford, D. W. Nichol, Jr.

Alathan Class
Delightfully Entertained At Home of Mrs. Hicks

With Halloween decorations in the offing, bringing the assemblage of black cats, witches, owls, and witchery, gave floral color and effectiveness to the party given at the home of Mrs. F. D. Hicks, on South Austin street, last night, when she was assisted by her co-hostess, Mrs. Pearl Long in entertaining in compliment to the Alathan class, of the Central Baptist church.

Unique games were enjoyed including a feature when each guests photo was made and then pinned about the wall to round out a beauty contest. Mrs. H. H. Stephens was winner in this theme of entertainment.

Refreshments of pumpkin pie with whipped cream topping and coffee were served party members: Mrs. H. C. Wilkinson, Annie Bankston, R. J. Taylor, H. H. Stephens, Alice D. True, E. S. Drink, Roy Baker, H. Bearden, Della Moore, and F. D. Hicks and Pearl Long.

Mrs. Smith Honors Daughter Betty Gene With Party

In honor of the eighth birthday of her little daughter, Betty Gene, Mrs. E. K. Smith entertained with a pretty birthday party at their home, Lone Star Plant No. 3, Saturday afternoon from 3:30 to 5 o'clock.

A color note of pink and white was carried out in the smartly featured decorations and lovely cake embossed in the two colors which centered the daintily appointed dining room table.

A gala frolic hour was enjoyed by the children until the serving of a delicious refreshment plate of ice cream, angel food cake, and confections. Favors were clever Halloween emblems stressing the gay celebrations Ranger children have been taking part in for the past few days.

Those making happy the party hour and presenting gifts were Polly Ann and Royce Gene Moore, Francis Ruth Hagaman, Minnie Sue and Katherine Thomas, Francine Hatley, Jacolyne Dutton, Marie and Betty Gallagher, Wadad and Adell Hassen, Alice Rae Davenport, Betty Lois and Bobby Ann.

Lady Says CARDUI Eased Pain In Side

Cardui helped an Oklahoma lady, as described below, and many others have been benefited in a similar way. "I had a hurting in my side every few weeks," writes Mrs. Bill Stewart, of Dewar, Okla. "I had heard of Cardui and started taking it. It stopped my hurting and built up my strength. I took 11 bottles and I sure felt better."

Try Cardui for back, cramps, nervousness, etc. It is a run-down condition. Thousands of women testify that Cardui is the best. It does not hurt you, and suits a physician.

How Wife Talks With Hauptmann

This screened both was especially constructed in the Hunterdon county jail at Flemington, N. J., to make sure that nothing except words passed between Bruno Hauptmann and his wife during her daily visits. A girl shows her conversation is carried on. Hauptmann stands behind the steel door in back of the box and speaks through the window.

Personally Speaking

Miss Fiona Patrick of Weatherford has returned to her home after a visit as the guest of Miss Esther Holyfield at her home, Gholsen hotel.

Mrs. Alice Davenport, Mrs. E. F. Latham, and Mrs. Christine Ware, were visitors in Breckenridge yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Blackie Huffman and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wilkes, served as hosts at the Huffman home Sunday to the following guests who were entertained with a 1 o'clock dinner party: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Huse and daughter of Comanche; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Booher and son Harold of Fort Worth; Mrs. Nell Paton and daughters of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jones of Dallas, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Smith and son Le Roy of Colony, and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Anderson and daughters of Colony.

older than Anderson and has played five or six years of football before coming to Ranger. He moved to Ranger about Sept. 15, 1932, and began playing football a few days later.

3—Mellinger Jacoby played three years at Coleman before coming to Ranger and probably played a few years somewhere else before being hired by the Coleman High school to play for them. Besides it is hinted that he is Benny Friedman, All-American end of 1927 or 1928, playing under an assumed name.

4—Bill Payton, Jack Love, "Stumpy" Warton, Rayburn Bunton, Jimmie Westbrook, Dean Walsh, Maurice Agnew, Lloyd Caroway, Eugene Wheeler, Everett Donowho and several others are indelible for all the reasons stated above and a few more counts have been found against each of them.

5—Bayne Harrell, waterjack, is also ineligible because he has been carrying water for the team for more than eight semesters, and besides he fell and spilled a bucket of water in the Eastland game.

6—Otis M. (Red) Moore is not even eligible to coach because he is not as red haired as Red Petty of Eastland and is turning out too good a team.

Saturday Coach Prince Elmer Shotwell of Breckenridge was over to see the game and asked if we could sneak him into the press box. Since he was over to scout the Bulldogs and Eagles we decided he might as well have a good seat, so we snatched him in.

We did not get to talk to him later, but he is reported to have said:

"I've been coaching high school football for nearly 20 years and have always been hoping that I would get one man with the power and drive of Britt or Anderson, and here there are two on one team. There just ain't no justice."

However Coach Shotwell has been mighty successful in finding fast and elusive ball carriers like Boone Magnus, Billy Pitzer and Spud Taylor, and they have been able to help his teams go a long way.

Coach Moore says that he is going to take his charges to Ahilene Friday of this week to play the ACC Freshmen. Ranger Junior College defeated the ACC Fresh by a score of 7 to 0 in their first encounter of the season, and the Christians had a big team. The Bulldogs will likely not have any setup in that game.

Lloyd (Little Bull) Caroway got three fingers in the way of a motor driven joiner at the school Monday afternoon and sliced the ends off three of them. The cuts, though painful, were not very serious and he is expected to be ready to play again by this weekend, or by Nov. 12 at least.

Baking Powder Use Explained

Because of the increased efficiency of K. C. and some other baking powders in use today, representing about 80 per cent of the baking powder consumed, they should be used properly to produce best results.

Knowing that baking powder leavens cake it is natural to assume that adding an extra half teaspoon to the amount specified in a recipe will give a cake greater lightness. The fact is that too much baking powder may cause sinking in the center, tough, gummy crust, coarse dry crumb, or cake that runs over the pan.

For best results it is a good plan to follow two simple rules: First, always use the amount recommended on your baking powder can. With K. C. one level teaspoonful in a cup of flour is sufficient. This proportion has been worked out as best for that particular type baking powder. Second, measure carefully—no excess amount of any baking powder does not produce best results. A level teaspoonful means that you must level off with a knife.

K. C. Baking Powder, which is advertised regularly in the columns of this paper, is manufactured by baking powder specialists who make nothing but baking powder—under supervision of expert chemists of national reputation. The quality is always uniform—K. C. is dependable.

Used according to directions it will produce the finest of baked goods. K. C. is one of the most economical and efficient products entering the kitchen. You will be convinced of this by giving it a trial and observing the results.

The manufacturers will mail, postage paid, a copy of the K. C. Cook's Book if you will send them your name and address with a certificate from a can of K. C. Baking Powder. Send your request to Jaques Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

Plowboys to Take To Road For Series Of Football Games

STEPHENVILLE, Tex., Oct. 23—John Tarleton Plowboys leave home this week-end for the first of a series of out-of-town contests, to return November 23 in a conference game with Ranger Junior College.

T. C. U.'s Plowboys will be the Plowboys' opponents Friday night in a non-conference tilt at Fort Worth. No game has been scheduled for next week-end, but Coach W. J. Wisdom indicated that he might take his team out for a practice game. On November 9 the Tarleton boys will play Weatherford Junior College at Weatherford, their second conference match. They will meet T. M. C. at Terrell November 16 for another conference match.

The last two games of the season will be played in Stephenville and both will be conference games. Ranger will come here November 23, and North Texas Agricultural College's Junior Aggies will be here for the Thanksgiving game, November 29.

Ward School Grid Season Is Now In Full Swing

The Ranger ward school football season is well under way with three ward schools and one high school B team competing.

Six games have been played in the current season with each team suffering defeat except the High School B team, which has played one game to a scoreless tie.

The winner of the ward school conference is to be presented with a silver loving cup by the Ranger Lions club. It has been announced by Otis M. Moore, director of athletics for the Ranger school system, while the Arcadia theatre has offered to be host to the members of the winning club and their coach, and the Ranger Times has offered to stand treat to an ice cream after the theatre party.

Much interest is being shown by the schools in their teams and a good crowd has been turning out for each game, with pep squads being organized in most of the schools.

The teams are limited to players of 112 pounds or less, those over that weight being ineligible.

The standing of the teams to date is as follows:

P. W. L. T.
Young.....2 1 1 0
Cooper.....2 0 1 1
High School B.....1 0 0 1
Hodges Oak Park.....1 0 1 0

Dear Mr. Von Roeder: How is it up there in Ranger, Texas? I am writing you a few lines and I want to get all the facts about Ranger Junior College. I may want to start there as soon as I get high enough in my books.

I am in the seventh grade now. I want to know what it will cost to take a course.

I am David A. Ponder's son and he has talked a lot about you. He said you was a fine fellow. Write soon and give me all the information you can. From one of your old friend's son, yours truly,

The College Student

A college student is a human being apart from the human race. He is made up from a small measure of brilliance, a large portion of crazy clothes, a dash of wire-cracks and a touch of rah rah. He is seen most often at football games and in comic sections of magazines. He may be identified by the alphabetical sweater, the no-color corduroy pants, the soup strainer skull cap, or by what is accompanying him. He may also be known by the vehicle in which he rides. If it resembles an automobile, there is something wrong.

He is also a she, a she that whom there is no "she-er." She is made up (no punning allowed) of a tam over one ear, a boy over one arm and a craze over one radio or one movie star. She can dance, she can play and she can be in love with three boys at the same time. She is a home-loving girl when in the classroom and a clothes-loving girl when at home. She has tact and poise. She can smile through her tears, bluff through her troubles and blow smoke through her nose.

The "he" plus the "she" equals the "it." It is devoted to many noble causes, including bigger and better football games, fatter allowances and better facilities for courting its favorite. It spends the day studying triangles, stars and Shakespeare, and spends the night studying moonlight, moonshine and ballyhoo.

"HUMAN FLY" BATTLES YELLOWJACKETS

TROY, O.—"Human flies" and yellowjackets do not like each other, especially if the "fly" is climbing. Henry Roland, a "human fly," was sealing the court house here when he ran across a nest of the yellowjackets. Pluckily he continued his climb with one hand, brushing away the insects with the other. He was exhausted when he reached the court house dome, 250 feet above the street.

Fake Warm Springs Crystals Run Afoul Food and Drug Law

WASHINGTON.—One man has been sentenced to a year in a Federal penitentiary and two others are awaiting trial on a charge of Food and Drug Act. Seizures were made at El Paso, Oklahoma City, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Louisville and Paducah, Ky.; Cincinnati and Shreveport, La.

Members of the company were W. C. Durham, Macon, Ga., who entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to a year in the penitentiary; Curtis J. Hazelrig, at liberty under bond, and Malloy H. Taylor, Jr., Macon, in jail at that place because of inability to make bond.

In their literature, their correspondence with agents, and especially in conversation with customers, the Warm Springs Crystal Company sought to use to commercial advantage the name Warm Springs. Salesmen were urged to point out the beneficial effects of the springs. The company and its "crystals" were disavowed in the beginning by the Warm Springs Foundation as having no connection with the springs other than that the office was set up in the same town.

When the "crystals" began to move into interstate commerce,

"Something must be done," Dean Davis said. "People of low intelligence are multiplying with enormous rapidity."

"Birth control information must be legally given or we are headed for a biological catastrophe."

Another supporter of birth control was Mrs. Lena Pope, head of a home here for underprivileged children and prominent in social work for 20 years.

"I believe in supervised birth control with all my heart," Mrs. Pope said.

The Rev. Halsey Werlein, Jr., Episcopal rector, took virtually the same stand, but added:

"There are 80 many things involved, I do not like to see an issue, motivated by propagandists, come up in a church convention."

TOOK PILLS FOR YEARS THEN CEREAL BROUGHT RELIEF

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Corrected His Constipation

If you are troubled by common constipation, read this letter:

"Just a word in appreciation of what your ALL-BRAN has done for my health. For years, I had been doping myself with pills and other dopes for constipation.

"I decided to try Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Now I am in good health, and haven't taken a drop of medicine for six months."—Thos. F. Little, 564 E. Wheeling St., Lancaster, Ohio.

Headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness—any one of these may be caused by common constipation. Yet this condition can be corrected, usually, by eating a delicious cereal.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to help promote regularity. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. How much safer than patent medicines! ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal.

If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."

Serve as a cereal or use in cooking. At all grocers in the red and green packages. Get ALL-BRAN, not a part-bran product. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
