SENATE DOES NOT CONCUR IN AMENDMENT

AUSTIN, Nov. 2.—The senate refused to concur in house amendments to the Colorado bill and voted to ask a conference committee to adjust differences.

The major job facing the conferees will be what to do with the house amendment subordinating water rights on the lower Colorado to water rights in West Texas on the upper portion of the river.

With only seven working days left of the current session, Senator Roy Sanderford today offered a bill to issue $3,500,000 worth of additional relief bonds, remainder of the $20,000,000 bread bond issue.

Hannibal Lodge Entertains Masons From This District

The fatted calf was killed last night at the Hannibal Masonic lodge, 10 miles south of Thurber in Erath county, when Grand Junior Warden W. Marcus Wethered of Coleman visited the Masons in that community.

It had previously been announced that Grand Master W. S. Cooke of Fort Worth would be present but he was unavoidably unable to attend.

The people in the Hannibal community did themselves proud in that such a wonderful banquet was served to some 150 visitors. Barbecued beef, cake, coffee and pies with all the trimmings were served.

It is an unusual occurrence for officers of the grand lodge to be persuaded to visit lodges of small membership because of the short time in which they have to make the rounds of over 1,000 lodges in the state. This is the second time that Hannibal lodge has been honored with state officials. Several years ago Grand Master Hiram F. Lively visited this lodge.

Among those seen at the banquet table were C. E. May, D. L. Jameson, John Essery, Ed Dixon, C. J. Samuel, Bob Hamilton, J. P. Donley and Fred Hughes, of Ranger; R. C. Stidham and Ralph Wynne of Thurber; Judges W. P. Leslie and Clyde L. Garrett and Jess Richardson of Eastland; L. D. Pair of Strawn, and Tom Downing of Caddo.

George Stewart, well known Erath county farmer and cattleman, presided in his usual good-natured manner.

Women To Wrestle On Elks' Card For Next Monday Night

Charlie Lay, promoter for the wrestling bouts each Monday night at the Elks arena, is endeavoring to give the wrestling fans of Ranger better bouts each week. For this coming Monday night he has arranged a two-hour time limit match between Jimmie Murphy of Ranger and the undefeated Gorilla Pogi of the Argentine Republic.

Both these boys have wrestled several times in Ranger but not against each other. Lay has succeeded in matching them in a five-fight match, which promises plenty of action.

On the semi-finals, which will be for the best two out of three falls, there will be a special feature when two women will wrestle. Both hold state wrestling licenses. Mrs. Gladys O'Shea, weighing 140 pounds, and Miss Billie Morrison, weighing 138 pounds, will be the grapplers. Miss Morrison has traveled all over the state, meeting all comers within five pounds of her weight.

There are a number of women holding wrestling licenses in the state, but this will be the first bout of its kind ever held in Ranger.

PRINCE PLANS POLO TEAM
SACRAMENTO, Cal.—Prince Serge M'Divany plans to organize and captain a team of European polo players to participate in a tournament here next September. The team, he said, will include his brother, Prince David.

Sues Dr. Wirt For $400,000

A $400,000 libel and slander suit has been filed by Miss Rose Schneiderman, above, against Dr. William A. Wirt, Gary, Ind., school superintendent, in New York, charging that he branded her a conspirator in his charge last spring that the brain trust planned to overthrow the government. She is head of the Women's Trade Union League and a New Deal aide.

W. W. Carlin is Instantly Killed In Car Accident

W. W. (Mickey) Carlin of Ranger was instantly killed in an automobile accident near Strawn late Thursday afternoon. Details of the accident were meager, but it was reported that he lost control of his car after passing a truck and struck the guard rail at the side of the road, his car crashing through the railing. Death was said to have been instantaneous.

An ambulance was called to take him to Strawn, but he was dead by the time it arrived, the reports say.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlin and their two children, a boy of about five and a girl of two, had recently returned from a trip to Montana to visit Mr. Carlin's parents.

The decedent had been an employee of Jake Hamon in Ranger for a number of years and for the past six or seven years had been an independent operator. He had been a resident of Ranger for about 15 years.

He is survived by his widow, the former Miss Nell Whalen, and his two small children.

Funeral services are to be conducted at St. Rita's Catholic Church in Ranger Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, with the Rosary at 11:30. Interment is to be in the Evergreen Cemetery following the services at the church.

Active pall bearers will be Jim O'Neal, B. C. McDonald, Morris Leville, Jack Mooney, Wm. N. McDonald and W. N. Bourdeau. Honorary pall bearers are to be selected from among his large host of friends throughout this part of the county.

Police of Iowa Are Seeking Hamilton

AMES, Iowa, Nov. 2.—Police today searched for Raymond Hamilton, southwest desperado, after Leslie Bonnes, filling station operator, identified his picture as one of two bandits who held up his station Wednesday night.

Two bandits held up four persons in the station, robbed the attendant of $30 and escaped on foot.

Roosevelt Is Ready To Extend One Code

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—President Roosevelt appeared ready today to extend the automobile code for a second time without amendment, again dashing labor's hopes for revision.

In such action by the president, it was felt by some, labor would face the most direct refusal of its demands since joining the NRA partnership.

MINERS STRIKE TURNS INTO A BATTLE ROYAL

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Nov. 2.—United Mine Workers and pickets from the United Anthracite Miners of Pennsylvania, rival unions, clashed at the Susquehanna collieries at Nanticoke today.

More than 1,000 men engaged in a pitched battle that lasted two hours. Police reported 12 were injured. Stones were hurled and there were numerous fights.

Anthracite miners called a strike last night and announced they would not allow one miner to work. Pickets stoned cars and threatened men who attempted to go to work.

Deputy Supervisor Reminds Operators Reports Are Due

A general letter to operators in Eastland, Stephens, Palo Pinto, Comanche and Erath counties, calling attention to the fact that production reports for October are now due and will become delinquent on Nov. 15, have been mailed out by Omar Burkett, deputy supervisor for this district for the state railroad commission.

The letter, which is dated Nov. 1, reads as follows:

"Your production report for October is now due and you have until the fifteenth of this month before same becomes delinquent, however since this report of your monthly production to the railroad commission is a separate one from that required by the comptroller and the federal government and is based on your gross runs as shown by your daily run tickets or pump or gauges, there is no necessity of your waiting until the last minute to make report and take a chance of being delinquent.

"There are 89 operators delinquent in making their September reports in the five counties listed above. Crude runs were promptly refused by the pipe lines when notified an operator failed to send in his report on time, the greater part of them have not been reinstated to date, it being a difficult matter to secure re-instatement promptly account much red tape.

"We urge you to send in your reports promptly (in duplicate) as soon after receipt of this letter as possible. Your doing so will help us greatly in getting summary of district to the commission and too, give us a chance to help operators in case of error or other delay.

"Blank forms may be had from the following places over the district:

"Chambers of Commerce, Breckenridge, Cisco and Ranger.

"Rushing's Drug Store, Desdemona. Also supply of forms, will be sent any operator on request to this office."

Mr. Roosevelt will remain in Hyde Park until Wednesday, when he will return to Washington to stay for a week before heading into the Tennessee valley on an inspection trip that will carry him eventually to Warm Springs. He will remain at Warm Springs until December.

Youngest Barrow Thinks He Is Double Tough A Reporter Finds

By JOE L. MYLER
United Press Staff Correspondent
DALLAS, Nov. 2.—A curly-haired, beardless and freckle-faced youth of 20 in city jail turned a jaundiced eye on an inquisitive reporter and remarked:

"Nuts."

The youngster was L. C. Barrow, brother of the celebrated Clyde and Buck, whose bodies, torn by bullets, lie in adjacent graves in a Dallas cemetery.

He is accused of being the leader of an urban outlaw band which in recent weeks held up several filling stations and a drug store and hijacked two Dallas merchants. He was arrested in a round-up which netted 10 other youths and four girls.

The question to which L. C. replied so succinctly, if vaguely, brought up the name of his more notorious brother Clyde, who, until a posse of officers ambushed him and Bonnie Parker in Louisiana last May, was the southwest's No. 1 bad man.

"Are you trying to follow in Clyde's footsteps?" the youth was asked. The answer would keep any newspaper out of the mails.

Sullen and apparently impressed with his own ferocity, L. C. made it clear in anything but drawing-room language that he wasn't following anyone's footsteps. He was, it appeared, double tough on his own account.

When L. C., who is under five-year suspended sentence for automobile theft, was arrested, his mother, Mrs. Henry Barrow of Dallas, was touring South Texas with a sideshow. Standing beside the bullet-riddled automobile in which Clyde and Bonnie were slain, she lectured on the subject, "Crime Does Not Pay."

L. C.'s opinion as to whether crime pays was wrapped up in an explosive so sultry that calloused jailers winced. The reporter,

Heydler Resigns As Nat'l League Head

By United Press
NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—John A. Heydler today announced his resignation as president of the National League.

"Ill health" was given as the reason.

He tendered his resignation at a meeting of the board of directors of the league. While no announcement was made, it was understood the board would meet next year to elect Heydler's successor.

Dern Urges Larger United States Army

By United Press
SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 2.—The United States army should be built up to the regular strength of 165,000 men, George Dern, secretary of war, declared today.

The cabinet member expressed his views on the need of a larger army following a review of the Second division at Fort Sam Houston early today.

Huey Long's state policemen, guarding his personally conducted rab-rah expeditionary force, were admitted to Tennessee as game warden "to guard wild life." It wasn't the open season for migratory geese.

COTTON PLAN IS SUGGESTED BY AAA HEAD

France Resuming Gold Shipments

By United Press
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 2.—A comprehensive cotton production control program, differing from the Bankhead act in some respects, was announced today by Oscar Johnston, manager of the AAA cotton pool.

Johnston, whose plan was revealed in a copyright story by the Memphis Commercial Appeal, suggested the cotton producers' problems would be solved and further government action would be unnecessary if international relations were adjusted properly.

His plan includes, among other things, a shifting of processing taxes from raw cotton to manufactured cotton goods, reduction of the present contract rental and widening of foreign markets.

PARIS, Nov. 2.—Gold shipments were resumed to the United States today because of the dollar's rise.

The American stabilization fund was reported active to make the shipment unprofitable.

One American bank was reported to have arranged a shipment of $2,000,000 to New York. This was believed to be the first of a series if the dollar continued above the point at which the dispatch of gold is profitable.

Bandit Says He Is Ray. Hamilton

By United Press
WACO, Texas, Nov. 2.—A bandit who told victims he was Raymond Hamilton sped over Texas highways today in a stolen car with $180 of pilfered cash in his pockets.

Although the holdup man operated with all the notorious Hamilton's bravado and speed, officers doubted from his description he was Hamilton.

The robber entered an automobile agency and told J. B. Burch he wanted to try out a car. Burch took the man riding and eloquently recited the car's fine points. Impressed, the man produced a pistol and robbed Burch of $30.

Housing Plan MERGER MAY BE EFFECTED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The $15,000,000, 10-year program for low cost housing proposed by President Henry Harriman of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States offered the president today a means of uniting his own housing program into a new co-operative move with business.

In some quarters it was believed the Harriman proposal, made in a talk here last night, was being considered by the administration in line with the president's announced intention of utilizing the new housing drive with the employment relief program.

The president had made, today, a direct move to lay the basis for acceleration of activities of the federal housing administration by ordering interest rates on home financing loans held at a 5 per cent basic rate.

Harriman's plan called for private financing of the program, which would embrace plans for construction of 750,000 low cost houses on ground sufficient for gardens, which would put owners on a semi-subsistence homestead basis.

WAUKESHA, Wis.—Old residents here are planning a campaign to buy Bethesda Spring park, where the first of Waukesha's famous springs was discovered and restore it for use as a public recreation spot. The spring and hotling works and the park land recently were purchased by another mineral spring company for $17,400.

By United Press
SEVEN ISLANDS BAY, Que., Nov. 2.—Half buried under sand, the hull of the motor ship St. Roi David, which sank during a storm Sunday, was found on the north shore of the St. Lawrence river today, with the captain and five-man crew missing.

PAPA BEAR

ANGER FLARES ON OCCASIONS AT QUESTIONS

By United Press
CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Samuel Insull matched wits with a government prosecutor in federal court today, his face red with anger as he almost shouted denial to charges he engineered a $143,000,000 swindle.

Leslie Slater, assistant attorney general, walked slowly to the witness chair where Insull sat and launched a volley of questions as soon as direct examination concluded.

Insull, sitting with back arched stiffly and anger in his eyes, repeatedly sought to evade direct answers to Slater's questions.

"I'll answer if you stop shooting double barreled questions at me," he said once, his voice rising.

On direct examination Insull said he fled to Europe three years ago, "because I thought it best for the companies and investors."

"When did you leave Chicago, and why?" asked his attorney, Floyd E. Thompson.

"Well," Insull said, sighing heavily, "I was pretty well broken down. I had been through a terrible ordeal. My career had been wrecked and it had affected my health."

"When did you leave Chicago?" Thompson repeated.

Question: "Did you have any other reasons?"

Answer: "Yes. All the people in my three operating companies had grown up under me. They all loved me from president down to the office boys and oil wipers. I knew that with my absence the companies would be better served under receivership because it would overcome the others' habit of coming to me for advice."

On Oct. 4, he continued, he went to Italy. It was on that date that a Cook county grand jury indicted him and his brother of embezzling.

"Why didn't you want to return to the United States at that time?" he was asked.

"I didn't want to come back then and be prosecuted in a political campaign," Insull said.

PROGRAM FOR ARMISTICE IS NOW COMPLETE

Members of the various committees in charge of the Armistice Day celebration in Ranger, which will be staged Monday, Nov. 12, met in the office of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday night and completed details of the program.

J. E. Meroney, in charge of the parade, announced that the plans, as tentatively approved, showed that the Ranger high school band, the Lobo band from Cisco and the Lone Star band would participate, as would the pep squads of the Cisco and Ranger schools. In addition some eight or 10 business firms have promised to have decorated floats or cars, and it is hoped that 10 to 15 more can be secured between now and the day of the celebration. The local national guard unit and the local Boy Scouts will also march in the parade.

Members will parade with their colors, as will the post from Thurber, while invitations have been sent to legion posts in Eastland, Cisco, Breckenridge and other neighboring towns, inviting them to take part.

The parade will form at 10 o'clock and will start at 10:20, going through the main business streets of the town, ending in front of the Gholson hotel at 11 o'clock, where a volley will be fired by a firing squad and a bugler will blow taps in memory of those who lost their lives in the war. After a 30-second minute of silent prayer, during which the entire assembly will face west, a local or visiting speaker will deliver a 15-minute address in keeping with the day.

At noon a barbecue will be given to all ex-service men of Ranger and all visiting ex-service men. Horace Adams, who is in charge of the barbecue arrangements stated that he had prepared to feed from 125 to 150 at the noon hour, when the Carl Barnes post will be host at the Ranger County club.

In the afternoon the principal form of entertainment will be the annual football game between the Ranger Bulldogs and the Cisco Lobos, which will be played at Lillard field.

At 7:15 a street dance and vau-deville will be staged. G. J. Moore, who is chairman of the committee in charge of this feature of the entertainment, stated that he had secured eight local vaudeville acts, which will take from five to 10 minutes each. R. B. Canfield and Saule Perlestein announced that they had collected $55 for this phase of the entertainment, all over the actual expenses to go to the Ranger high school band, which will play for the occasion. It was said that probably more acts would be secured, after which, those who wish to do so can participate in the (Bob) Robinson, post commander of the Carl Barnes Post of the American Legion, today issued a call for all members of the post to meet at the office of the Chamber of Commerce at 8:45 Saturday morning, to attend the funeral of his buddy, W. W. Carlin, who was killed in an automobile accident Thursday night.

Those who can attend have been requested to report to Wayne C. Hickey at the Chamber of Commerce office and they will attend the services at the Catholic Church in a group.

Pastor Gives Blood To One Parishioner

AKRON, O.—A Nebraska minister administered physical as well as spiritual aid to one of his flock, at the general conference of Evangelical Churches, held here.

W. B. Stoltz, 61, of Milford, Neb., commissioner of Seward county, lay delegate to the conference and Nebraska, was taken to People's hospital after suffering an internal hemorrhage. His pastor, Rev. B. Hillier, also of Milford, furnished a pint of blood for a transfusion.

Communists to Cost Syracuse $87,000

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—It will cost the city of Syracuse $87,000 in order that the 23 enrolled communists here may cast their votes in the November elections.

Mayor Roland B. Marvin has appealed to Governor Herbert H. Lehman in an effort to find a way to avoid the expense. The state's chief executive, however, replied that according to law Syracuse must permit the enrolled communists to cast their ballots.

As a result, the city must buy 87 new machines to supplant old ones which do not have the necessary eight rows for various party candidates.

Museum Plans Two New Lecture Courses

PHILADELPHIA.—Pennsylvania Museum of Art and the Pennsylvania School of Industrial Art will offer two new series of free public lectures this winter.

The first, to be on the topic "Philosophy of Art," will be presented Jan. 2, and the other, "Art and Civilization," Jan. 9.

Among the many prominent philosophers to speak here during the lectures are Dr. DeWitt Henry Parker, of Ann Arbor, Mich.; Dr. Erwin Panofsky, of New York university; Dr. John Dewey, of Columbia university, and Dr. Lewis W. Flaxson, of the University of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Gustav Pauli, of Kunststhalde, Hamburg, famous German thinker, and Rnanda Coomaraswamy, of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, are also expected to attend the lectures. Coomaraswamy is considered an authority throughout the world on Indian art.

Maybe it shows to what low estate the republican party has fallen, that a Maine elephant rushed by plane to St. Louis, weighed only 268 pounds.—Omaha World-Herald.

High-Stepping Trio

Joan Blondell, Dick Powell, and Ruby Keeler shake three wicked hooves in this scene from "Dames," Warner Bros.' newest musical, coming to the Arcadia Saturday. A cast of screen favorites, including Guy Kibbee, Hugh Herbert, ZaSu Pitts, and the glorious Busby Berkeley beauties, make the picture one you won't forget!

El Paso Claims Champ Egg Eater

EL PASO, Nov. 1.—John de Veto, cafe operator, has been crowned champion egg eater of El Paso.

He ate 60 eggs and topped his meal off with a mug of beer and a ham sandwich before sauntering off to claim a drug store's offer of a "full meal" for the winner.

His nearest competitor, Lee Dodrill, walked away from the table after consuming 32 eggs.

All the spectators were awed by the feat except "Myrtle," a woman from Kansas City, who hurled a challenge at the egg-eater as he left.

The champ and the new challenger are expected to stage another contest soon.

There's nothing to the rumor that the Picards came down when they ran square into the price of steak.

Married Men In Dallas Are Happy

DALLAS, Oct. 31.—Married men are happier than married women in this city.

Such at least is the conclusion of a survey completed by the Council of Chambers here.

The survey also disclosed that marriages later in life are "notably happier than earlier ones," and that young people are not "properly educated" for marriage.

WOMAN PASSES 100 MARK

EAST LIVERPOOL, O.—Mrs. Nancy Ormes, whose father, James Coal, was a pioneer farmer, and whose mother was a full-blooded Indian, has just celebrated her 100th birthday anniversary.

Ryrd's party reports it made only 38 miles in six days, due to a raging blizzard. Oh, well, they're not going anywhere.

Arlington Man Was Once Expert at Scalping People

ARLINGTON, Nov. 1.—Lifting scalps is a lost "art," but once upon a time W. M. Hall could do it with the speed and finesse of a Comanche brave.

There really wasn't much to it, Hall will tell you—just a circular swing with the knife, a jerk at the top-knot or scalplock, and the thing was done.

To moderns, that may seem a cruel and cold-blooded thing, but to the old-time frontiersmen it was a custom to meet the Redman at his own methods. Now 80 years old, Hall recalls the day when the practice was something of an outdoor sport in Texas.

Hall has carried home several scalps himself, six or seven, he doesn't remember the exact number. But there's one in particular he does remember. He collected it when a lad of 15.

In 1871 he was with a group of settlers taking wheat to mill when a band of Comanches attacked the party, 22 miles south of what now is Comanche, Tex. The settlers succeeded in putting the Indians to flight after young Hall, with his last shot, felled the chief.

The next day the settlers returned with a larger party and took up the Comanche's trail. The party found the chief's body hidden under a rock.

"We pulled him out and I scalped him," Hall said. "And I was glad to do it, for the Indian was wearing several scalps on his belt that didn't come from Indian heads."

'Dames' Is Mammoth Musical Comedy at Arcadia This Week

"Dames," Warner Bros.' newest and most spectacular musical comedy romance, comes to the Arcadia Theatre Saturday, with an all star cast headed by Joan Blondell, Dick Powell and Ruby Keeler.

Three hundred beautiful girls dance and frolic in beautiful and complicated ensembles that are said to be the most novel and most sensational yet created by that master of special numbers, Busby Berkeley.

Dick Powell and Ruby Keeler furnish most of the romance as a pair of lovers whose match is anathema to their families. Three famous comedians, Zasu Pitts, Guy Kibbee and Hugh Herbert, provide a large share of the comedy.

Humming Bird Routed Huge Eagle

KERNVILLE, Calif.—His Highness, the large golden eagle, who is often seen floating majestically high above the hills in this section, hung his head today and brooded.

The reason for his sorrow, according to H. M. Calkins, local resort owner, is a good and sufficient one.

While in the mountains recently, Calkins observed the eagle perched high up in a pine tree, twisting about, flapping its great wings and giving vent to an occasional "squawk." Approaching, it was discovered that the huge bird was attempting to fend off the vicious attacks of a humming bird, smallest of feathered creatures.

The David and Goliath battle evidently had been going on for some time, Calkins reports, as the eagle fled shortly in complete rout.

On Friday, Nov. 9, the patrons will meet at the schoolhouse for a general cleanup. Scrubbing, painting, repairing, kalsomining, giving a brand-new finish to the building, will be the order of the day. The state department of education is helping in this movement by granting $100 to the Wayland district for that purpose.

Wednesday evening, Oct. 31, the Wayland Parent-Teacher association sponsored a Halloween party at the schoolhouse. Mrs. George Fambro was awarded the prize for being dressed the spookiest. In the bride and groom rapid dressing contest Mr. Byrd and Miss Quinn took the prizes. Mrs. Mansker won the prize in the advertising contest.

Many games and contests were played during the evening and enjoyed by a large crowd. Exploratory parties were then organized and sent on a treasure hunt. A note on the cemetery gate directed the explorers through the cemetery and then through the haunted house. After going over dummies, springs, through cobwebs and climbing a croaky staircase, the treasure was discovered and shared by the guests. They then returned to the schoolhouse and were served coffee and cookies.

Let's Have Confidence All the Way Around

President Roosevelt's suggestion that the bankers repair their confidence in the people of the United States might profitably be extended to all groups, classes, and organizations in the country.

We have spent a good deal of time, in the last 18 months, wondering about what this, that, or the other group is going to do.

Will the bankers stand for this? Will the unions do that? Will the industrialists play along on such-and-such a scheme? Will the farmers support So-and-So's program? Will Wall Street stay hitched? Will the railroads play ball?

Those are the questions we have been asking. Gazing up at the pitiless heavens and receiving no answer, some of us have managed to develop a pretty fair case of the jitters about it all. So many problems, so few answers, so many groups to be accounted for—how are we to comfort ourselves amid so much confusion?

The president seems to have suggested the answer.

Government, he reminds us, is simply the fusing of all elements in the nation's life. It is the implement through which the common will becomes effective. It does not stand on one side, in opposition to all these groups; it stands above them, drawing its strength from them and from all citizens jointly.

This being the case, it must provide leadership; and the leadership it provides must, in the last analysis, reflect fairly accurately the temper of the great mass of citizens, because when it ceases to do so the citizens invariably get themselves a new government.

Over and above all these questions about what the various groups will do, then, there is the question of the temper of the people generally. In the long run the majority sentiment will prevail.

To have confidence in the great majority, therefore, is to have confidence in our future course—and to be dubious about the future is to doubt the good sense, the courage, and the fortitude of the people of the United States.

Nothing has been done in these very trying years to justify such doubts. The plain citizens of the land have behaved with exemplary patience and intelligence under extremely difficult circumstances.

Once we become fully confident that they will go on doing so, we can automatically restore our confidence in the behavior of the various groups into which the people are divided.

FRECKLES and HIS FRIENDS—By Blosser

FAMOUS FOOTBALL FEATS!

Many were the sensational deeds Mrs. Granger's red-headed son, Harold, pulled off on the gridiron for Illinois. But probably his greatest day's performance was turned in against Michigan in 1924. The Wolverines had trained for months to stop Red. So confident were they that they directed the opening kickoff right into his hands. Red promptly galloped 90 yards to a touchdown. Four more counters he scored before the game was 12 minutes old—runs of 65, 55 and 45 yards from scrimmage. He played a total of 41 minutes that afternoon and, before he had finished, had run up a total of five touchdowns, passed 40 yards to Leonard for another, and gained a total of 402 yards, a feat never since equalled.

The Clew of the Forgotten Murder

BEGAN HERE TODAY... "I did it," Griff said slowly "by doing what I told you to do and what I know you wouldn't do—putting a shadow on the Elite Apartment house to check up who came in and who went out." He entered abruptly, started pacing the floor. "But I don't think," Bleeker said, "that..." "Don't interrupt me," Griff told him. "I'm thinking. I tell you, we've got the facts of the case in our hands. That is, we've got enough facts to give us the key clew that we want. There is something the right under our eyes, something big, something that we're overlooking." He paced the floor in silence, his feet pounding rhythmically upon the rug. "Bleeker ventured a suggestion. 'If you suppose,' he asked, 'that it's something about the girl's connection with Cathay...' Griff said slowly, 'It's something bigger than that, something that's staring us right in the face. It's not an inanimate clew. It's a big, vital clew—something that's a new angle of the case.' 'Obviously, the connection of this girl has something to do with it. Obviously, the impressionation of Cathay by this so-called pick-pocket has something to do with it. Obviously, the connection between Kenneth Boone and this girl has something to do with it. Those are things that we know about. We haven't run them down yet, but we know about them. But this is something bigger; something that's a new angle of the case; something that's right under our noses and yet we haven't seen it.' He fell to pacing the floor again. 'The telephone rang. Griff hesitated a moment, then picked up the receiver, listened for a moment and nodded to Bleeker. 'For you,' he said. Bleeker listened while the receiver made a succession of rasping noises, then looked up at Griff and nodded. He said, 'A check-up on the Summerville end shows that Robert Chelton did just what you said he would do, and rather what you said he had done.' Bleeker relayed the instructions over the wire, hung up the telephone, then frowned thoughtfully at the criminologist. 'It seems to me,' he said, 'that it's a matter of major importance. If what you say is true, this man Chelton must be an accessory. Obviously some man figured in the murder, particularly in connection with moving the body. If Esther Ordway and Alice Lorton are one and the same person, and this man writes a letter in which he refers to them both, he must have done so for a very definite purpose. That purpose was to baffle the investigating authorities. Therefore, it would seem to me...' Griff stood facing the newspaper man, his eyes slitted in concentration, his face preoccupied. 'It's unimportant,' he said, 'because I know all about that angle of the case. Robert Chelton is the same person as Kenneth Boone. Kenneth Boone has been located. Alice Lorton, alias Esther Ordway, is with him. They're under surveillance right now.' BLEEKER'S expression was one of eager enthusiasm. 'You've anticipated all of this?' he said. 'You've uncovered all of this information?' Griff nodded. 'Good heavens! How did you do

ON TEXAS FARMS

Planting cowpeas, terracing, and crop rotation enabled Byron Scott, Rains county farmer, to produce eight 600 pound bales of cotton on 12 acres even in a drought year, according to Roy King, farm demonstration agent, under whose guidance Mr. Scott carries on his soil rebuilding, moisture and conservation program.

Drouth may have affected some people's food supplies but the members of the Greenvine, Prairie Hill, and Latium home demonstration clubs in Washington county reported 9,165 containers of fruits and fruit juices, vegetables, meats, pickles, jams, jellies and preserves on their pantry shelves and fall vegetables yet to be canned.

As a part of their clothing work 250 home demonstration club women in Cherokee county report that they have made 165 foundation patterns and by them made 225 dresses and slips; built 25 new clothes closets and remodeled 100; made four shoe pressing boards and two shoe racks.

Pooling and planting more than 100 acres of cabbage for carlot shipment, 114 members of the Galveston County Truck Growers' association are doing their bit to supply the country with green food this winter. Copenhagen Market and Golden Acre are the varieties being planted. A Kansas City firm has bargained for the output.

BEEVILLE—Fifty-two varieties of canned food, totaling 1010 containers can be found in the 4-H pantry of Vera Ray, farm food supply demonstrator of the Clareville Home Demonstration Club in Bee county. According to Miss Lorena Yates, home demonstration agent, there are eight varieties of vegetables, seven of meats, nine of fruits and fruit juices, tomatoes and tomato juice, preserves and jellies, vegetables and fruit pickles, relishes, and three varieties of time-saving or emergency canned foods.

The value of her pantry is approximately $200. The cost, including the purchase of lumber for shelves, 350 tin cans, eight dozen jars, four dozen bottles, fruit for canning, and other items, was $28.25.

VICTORIA—A cedar lined closet costing $6.20 was displayed by Mrs. A. V. Pargac, wardrobe demonstrator in Victoria county, to achievement day visitors recently, according to Mrs. Gertha Vest, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Pargac feels that the closet will be very practical as it protects clothes from silver fish and moths which are so destructive.

GILMER—Mrs. Espie Spier, yard demonstrator in Uphar county, believes in rooting her own cuttings for her yard and now has 153 living in her cutting bed, according to Miss Lula M. Dilworth, home demonstration agent. Included among her cuttings are amur privet, abelia, salt cedar, mock orange, wax leaf ligustrum, cape jasmine, vitex, and juniper. She has put out nearly 20 native shrubs in her yard this year and has made other improvements.

BRADY—In spite of the fact that drouth has cut grain and feed crops to practically nothing, 15 McCulloch county 4-H club boys have a total of 59 club calves on feed, according to James D. Prewit, farm demonstration agent. One club carlot is being fed by Richard Winters of Brady. These 40 young calves were started about the middle of August at which time they averaged 323 pounds each. Drouth conditions had stunted them considerably, but they are showing a fast recovery on a good self feeder filled with whole oats and a mixture of maize, corn, and cotton seed meal.

PORT LAVACA—Arch McDonald of Calhoun county decided that trench silos provided the best method of saving his grain sorghum, and so he has just finished his second trench silo this year, according to B. L. Herndon, farm demonstration agent. His first one was 130 by 10 by 7 feet and the second is about half this size. Both silos were built and filled at a total cost of $100.

PALFURRIAS—The value of proving dairy silos has been shown again by Elmer J. Rupp, Brooks county dairyman, with Sophie's Agnes, Laddie 27th, according to Lou's Franke, farm demonstration agent. This sire, once a member of the famous Lasater dairy herd, has been sold and resold several times by dairymen of this locality, and each time described as unsatisfactory. The figures of the U. S. Bureau of Dairy Industry show that the eight daughters of this sire in the herd of Mr. Rupp will average 377 pounds of butter fat a year as compared with the 285 pounds average of their dams. A 24.2 per cent increase in milk production and a 22.2 per cent butterfat increase was indicated. This record stamps the unwanted Sophie's Agnes' Laddie 27th as an

Leadership of L. B. Denning of Dallas, president of Lone Star Gas company, was recognized when he was elected vice president of a national gas association.

Lone Star Chief Is Elected Second Head of Gas Association

National leadership of another Texan was recognized this week when the American Gas association, convened here in sixteenth annual convention, elected L. B. Denning of Dallas, president of Lone Star Gas company, vice president of the international organization for 1935. Election to this position places the pioneer Texas natural gas man in line for president in 1936, according to precedent.

The natural gas industry especially in the southwest looks forward with courage despite its many problems. Its supreme aim is to deliver best possible service to customers," said Mr. Denning in accepting the election.

The American Gas association represents one of the world's leading industries and is composed of artificial and natural gas distribution, transmission, production, and manufacturing companies in the United States and Canada. All previous heads of the association have been from the east and north, and Mr. Denning is the first to bring the office to the southwest.

A pioneer and leader in the natural gas industry, Mr. Denning has been identified with Lone Star Gas company since 1909 when he organized the firm. He has served as president since 1915. It was under his direction that the company developed into the first extensive transmission system for serving small and widely separated towns in the southwest.

POSTED ANGLING FEES

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—Buttons were believed to have played an important part in increasing by $40,000 the number of fishing licenses issued in California this year. Anglers were furnished with large buttons, which they were required to wear conspicuously. It was difficult for fishermen to escape payment of the license fees, which will total approximately $100,000.

Time Lost is Money Lost

It costs money to be sick. You see it directly if your pay envelope is short. You lose out on some important work if you live on a farm or if you are one of the few who are not docked for lost time. You can't afford to show up on the job unless you are feeling fit. The boss wants results—not excuses.

How many times do you get on Stomach, Head-ache, Sour Stomach, "That Tired Feeling," That "Morning After" Feeling, Neuralgia, Rheumatic, Sciatic, Muscular or Periodic Pains keep you at home or interfere with your doing a full day's work?

All these troubles are caused or made worse by too much acid in your body. To correct this condition take

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

HALLOWEEN with its ghosts and goblins and its tradition of gaily is the ideal occasion for a party, and an easy party, moreover, for supper served cafeteria style is entirely in keeping with the spirit of the whole idea.

The dining table stretched to its limit, or two long tables placed counter-fashion near a wall in the dining room, may be arranged with the food and the necessary china and silver. Trays for each guest are piled at one end of the table. Next to the trays is a pile of napkins—paper, probably—each wrapped around the required silver. If you like, you may tie each napkin with a bow and tiny favor, or if bridge or other games requiring tables are to be played, the tables may be tied around the napkins. Small tables are scattered through the living rooms to serve as supper and bridge tables.

The host may carve and serve the meat and the hostess pour the coffee as the guests help themselves. Arrange the salad on individual plates—bread and butter size rather than salad—or, even better, it may be put on a large platter from which each person serves himself on his supper plate. The dessert, unless it's the melty kind, can be placed right on the serving table to be taken with the rest of the menu, or the guests may return to the serving table for it after the first course is finished.

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST:—Steak and quinoa, cereal, cream, ham, toast, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON:—Meat terrapin, onion and orange salad, bread, stevia, sponge cake with whipped cream, milk, tea.
DINNER:—Individual planked dinner, salad of mixed greens, grape juice, tapoca pudding, milk, coffee.

Here's your Halloween menu: Ham baked in cider and served with twice baked sweet potatoes, horseradish and mustard sauce, zinger ale salad, toasted muffins, Jack o'Lantern pie and coffee. Fascinating names such as goblin roast, pixies' potatoes, witches' delight salad, All-Hallow bread, hoodoo salad and Jack o'Lantern pie may be given to the items if you like, and if any of the family is good at it, you might have the menu cleverly printed and illustrated.

Jack o' Lantern Pies
Another good Halloween supper menu is built around veal and ham pie of Pichewickin fame. With this you might have squash croquettes, cabbage and orange salad, cheese cups and little Jack o'Lantern pies.

Two tablespoons prepared mustard and two tablespoons prepared horseradish are added to one cup whipped cream to make the witches' delight sauce.

Royal Honors and Hallowe'en
 Wednesday night presented a brilliant scene at Hodges Oak Park school, and brought a large crowd hurrying to the Hallowe'en entertainment, the outstanding attraction of the evening being the coronation of the queen and king.

The school staged a very lovely coronation scene in the building where the carnival affair held sway and the complete attention of all.

The gay interior decorations, added brilliancy to the scene, one complete in all details.

The theme had a background of latices work entwined in many gay colors found in the feature motif of fall.

The entrance approaching the throne, faced the long aisle to the door, through which the royal court entourage was heralded.

The Herald announced King Jack of the House of Hunter, with the Queen Cecelia of the House of McDowell.

To the pretty music of the piano played by Miss Marguerite Adamson, the pageant was completed by the King placing the crown on the Queen's head, escorting her to the royal chair and taking his place beside her.

Coronation ceremonies were in charge of Misses Baskin and Adamson, who following presented a lovely miscellaneous program as follows:

1. Hallowe'en song, Betty Joe Tibes, "San Todd, Dorene Bruce, Lillian Carter, Gene Gunn, Imogene Dixon, Bonnie Roark.
2. Dance, Lois Bragg.
3. Music, Francine Haxley, Chas. Ostler.
4. Little Orphan Annie, A delo Hassen.
5. Dance, Marguerite Watt.
6. Harmonica quartet, Roddy Austin, Katherine Thomas, Dorothy Jean Hise, Doris Goforth.
7. Song, Edward and Darling McCregor.
8. Reading, Madeline Margaret Lee.
9. Dance, Cecelia McDowell.

BLACK-DRAUGHT
 "Such a Good Laxative," Says Nurse
 Writing from her home in Potosi, Mo., Mrs. Anna LaPlante says: "I am a practical nurse and I recommend to some of my patients that they take Black-Draught, for it is such a good laxative. I took it for constipation, headache and a dull feeling that I had so much. A few doses of Black-Draught—and I felt just fine."
 Because so many people know from having used it that Thorford's Black-Draught is a good, purely vegetable laxative, millions of packages of it are sold every year.

ing the arrival of a son born to her and Mrs. Snyder, Thursday night, at the City-County hospital. The young man has been named Donald Ray. Mrs. Snyder and baby are doing fine.

Bilbo to Try to Outshine Kingfish

WASHINGTON.—Theodore G. Bilbo, former governor of Mississippi and more recently a newspaper clipper at the department of agriculture, is coming to the United States senate on the wings of one of the most publicized remarks of 1934.

Bilbo's promise is to "raise more hell than Huey Long."

Bilbo, flamboyant center of Mississippi politics for years, defeated Senator Hubert D. Stephens in the democratic primary, which is equivalent to election in Mississippi.

A consummate showman, Bilbo has a flair for appealing to crowds, making rousing speeches and capitalizing his own personal misfortunes. He twice has triumphed over bribery charges, has been in jail for contempt of court, has been defeated twice for state office—yet now has reached a new high point of political success.

Bilbo was governor of Mississippi during the World war and supported the Wilson administration. Formerly he had been state senator. He became a martyr in the eyes of the people when, claiming an effort had been made to bribe him, he was assaulted by a political enemy and beaten with a pistol butt.

Bilbo was appointed to his $5,000 job as a clipper of newspapers through the influence of Senator Pat Harrison, Dem., Mississippi. He resigned from that sinecure to run for the senate. In a driving campaign, in which he stomped the state and lived on hastily eaten, skimp meals, Bilbo gained a majority of 8,000 votes over Stephens.

Bilbo says he is for president Roosevelt and is expected to vote for the administration except on veterans' legislation and bills which conform to his campaign to seek a wider distribution of wealth. The capital is awaiting Bilbo's arrival with interest also from a national standpoint. He is fond of red neckties and baggy clothes. He sports a horseshoe pin of diamonds. And Washington is wondering how this ensemble will survive the customs decreed for the dressy functions to which Bilbo will have access in his new role as senator.

May Lose Citizenship As Result U. S. Suit

The United States is seeking to cancel a naturalization certificate and revoke rights of American citizenship bestowed six years ago upon Gust Petros, a native of Greece, who is assertedly now living in Karpension, Epirus, Greece republic.

The bill of complaint, first of its kind to be filed in the Abilene division of the North Texas district federal court, alleges Petros obtained the naturalization certificate "fraudulently, with no intention of becoming a citizen," and that he left the United States Aug. 24, 1931, after having been admitted to citizenship before the 88th district court at Eastland, June 7, 1928.

The petition states that Petros sold his business and carried away with him his savings and that he now pays taxes in Greece on property valued at 300,000 drachmas, the property being real estate on which he resides and on which are two store buildings. (A drachma, according to Webster's dictionary, is equivalent to 19.3 cents, making Petros' asserted property worth $57,000.)

The bill of complaint was filed by Clyde O. Eastus, United States attorney for the North Texas district, acting under direction of the attorney general of the United States. The papers were prepared by Frank R. Potter, assistant United States attorney.

'Dusting the Covers of Texas History'

The Texas Centennial Celebrations of 1936

Cabeza de Vaca was interested in the customs of the Indians with whom he came in contact, for the red-skinned men were quite different from the brown, black-bearded travelers from the far-away Spain. Perhaps he jotted down some of the unusual characteristics in his journal in order that he might remember to tell his kind people.

De Vaca discovered that the dead in one certain tribe were never buried. Even though they might have been loved very much, they were not mourned, and when a child cried over the loss of a parent or friend, he was punished by being severely scraped from shoulders to legs by sharp mice teeth.

Another tribe had entirely different customs about the dead, however. When a person died, (unless it happened to be the all-powerful Medicine Man), his bones were cremated while the tribe danced around and around the fire. Then the bones were ground to a powder, and at the end of a year, the anniversary of the death was celebrated by giving the relatives of the deceased member the pulverized bones to drink in water!

Baby daughters were killed at birth in one tribe. The fathers did not want their daughters to grow up, for fear that when grown they would fall in love with a warrior of an enemy tribe. Therefore the babies were killed. However, when the sons grew up, since there were no girls in the tribe to marry, they went to an enemy tribe and bought a wife for one bow and two arrows, of for one net. Silly to us, perhaps, but important to them.

DeVaca had many more interesting things to write of the Indians. It was because of his friendliness toward them that the Spaniards were treated kindly when they came to the land of the Indian later. The first explorer of Texas brought a story of unusual interest, and it is through him that Texans have found out about the people who first inhabited the hills and plains of the State.

CHRISTIAN GROWTH Luke 2:42-52; II Peter 1:5-8 The parents of Jesus, Joseph and Mary, were religious Jews who observed the laws and customs peculiar to their race. Joseph adhered to the law which required the presence of every male Jew in Jerusalem at the Feast of the Passover. Jesus was now a well grown boy of 12 years, developed physically, mentally and spiritually to an unusual degree. A boy was considered of age at the age of 13 or was called "a son of the law." He was dressed as a man and put on phylacteries for daily prayers. But at the age of 12 he must be initiated into the observances of the law. Following the custom, Joseph, accompanied by Mary and Jesus, left their home at Nazareth and traveled to the city of Jerusalem to attend the Passover, the feast that celebrated the deliverance of Israel from Egyptian bondage hundreds of years before. It was now in the year of April, A. D. 8. The Passover lasted eight days. The people traveled in groups. Joseph and Mary had traveled all day before they discovered that Jesus was not in the company of people. They returned to the city in search of him. "And it came to pass, after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the teachers, both hearing them, and asking them questions." They were happy to find him and must have had great joy in such a son who would seek companionship of learned men asking questions and understanding them in such a manner as to cause these men to be amazed at his wonderful intelligence. But Mary was also mother and had been frantic at his loss. "He gently reproved him and Jesus answered her a puzzling answer: "How is that ye sought me? Knew ye not that I must be in my Father's house?" But Jesus returned to Nazareth with them and was always a dutiful son. Mary pondered his strange behavior in her heart. She could not comprehend everything concerning this child but she brooded over him in her heart until the great and complete understanding came years later. The growth of Jesus is pictured in Luke 2:52 of our lesson. "Jesus advanced in wisdom, stature, and in favor with God and man." We find the four essential elements of growth: "in wisdom," in factually, stature, physically, and in favor with God, spiritually, and men, socially. It takes years to develop from babes in Christ to a full Christian manhood or womanhood. It is not attained by some magic but by working out the great work started by the Holy Spirit. The understanding of God's will in the life must be deepened to develop the real Christian life if one would rise above the title of "a nominal Christian." Peter, who labored, both in Jerusalem and Rome, gave us a perfect plan of growth found in II Peter 1:5-8, written in the year A. D. 68. He first emphasized diligence in acquiring these steps of grace: faith, virtue, knowledge, self-control, patience, godliness, brotherly kindness, and love. But if these are diligently cultivated a great promise is given. "For if these things be in you and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ." Much emphasis is placed upon personality today. The personality of person teaching has much to do with bringing the truth home to the hearts of the pupils. It was the magnetic personality of Jesus from his Father that drew men to him. To have a vibrant personality Christ must dominate that life. It must have the abiding faith, the Word of God, and prayer life to attain the growth as exemplified in our Golden Text: But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ (II Peter 3:18).

"History of Fashion Important"

Says Orry-Kelly Famous Hollywood Designer in the Fourth of a Series of Personal Interviews.

ORRY-KELLY Designer of Fashions for Warner Bros. Pictures

DOLORES DEL RIO Star of Warner Bros.—First National Pictures

"In order to design successfully for the screen, one must possess the gift of prophecy—be able to foresee the fashions of the future," asserts Orry-Kelly, designer for Warner Bros.—First National Pictures. "But the fashions of the past play an equally important part. In recent years, interest has been focused upon costume pictures, so that I have had many opportunities to delve into the history of fashion as a background for my design. I find that the more research I do upon the subject of the clothes of yesterday, the more completely I understand the fashions which I must create for tomorrow. I believe that every woman who is interested in fashion would learn to understand it even better if she were to study her history from this fashion point of view.

Study Human Side "To intelligently dress my characters in the clothes of various periods, it is not enough to glance hurriedly through a book of old sketches and select a garment in the manner one would choose a costume for the Beaux Arts Ball. I must make it my business to thoroughly study the human side of the period, become familiar with the social and economic causes for the fashions and then, guided by this knowledge, proceed to design clothes creatively, putting myself in the place of the dressmaker of the particular period, working from the same inspiration which prompted them to do the things they did.

"In searching for this inspiration through pages of history, it has been particularly interesting to notice how close a relationship there is between clothes and the events of the times. For instance, a French coquette is thrown from her horse. Her hair falls down and she ties it up with the aid of a garter. Soon all women are wearing a head dress called, after her, the 'Fontange.' 'The Merry Widow' in 1908 sent all our smart women into large hats with willow plumes. Hobble skirts, the vogue in 1910 caused Broadway trolley cars to be redesigned with lower steps to accommodate them.

"To thoroughly understand fashion today and tomorrow, we must understand ourselves, the sort of lives we lead. When we dined in speak-easies, we knew we were violating the law and so had no compunctions about violating the rules of dress. It was not unusual to see a woman in tweeds perched at a bar beside a woman in gold lame. Today, with repeal bringing drinking and dining out in the open, we are more careful to dress correctly for the occasion.

"We have more leisure today than we enjoyed several years ago and much of it is being diverted to sports, with the result that there is a greater vogue for tweeds right now than this country has probably ever seen. And the influence is felt even by the confirmed city girl who doesn't sniff a blade of grass from one end of the year to another.

"With this spirit of freedom dominating the life of the modern girl, it is quite possible that within the next few years skirts will be shorter again. The acceptance of shorts has accustomed our eyes to knee-length apparel. Women have discovered all over again how comfortable it is to have their legs unhampered. We are beginning to see slit skirts for evening, always a forerunner of a rising hemline.

Welcome Change "The Hollywood stars should welcome this change, for they are known the world over for their perfect legs. However, I believe there are many women whose ankles would be every bit as attractive, if they took the same care to clothe them in beauty. The screen stars realize that nothing can do quite so much in the way of flattery as the right shade of stockings, stockings that harmonize perfectly with the rest of the ensemble.

"Stars such as Joan Blondell and Dolores del Rio choose my Screenite shades for their own hosiery wardrobes. Originally developed for studio use, these shades blend so perfectly with various costume colors that the screen stars have found them a valuable fashionable secret."

Heavy Vote Tuesday Of County Urged By A Former Officer

Necessity of Eastland county voters going to the polls Tuesday in order to uphold the county's representation at democratic conventions has been pointed out by those connected with that party.

Party loyalty alone should prompt voters to cast their ballots Tuesday, said a former democratic county chairman, who added that other counties might get a larger representation at conventions if Eastland county does not vote heavily. He said, "Convention representation of the county is based upon the number of votes cast for the democratic nominee for governor at the preceding election."

Texas Corn-Hog Referendum Shows Affirmative Vote

COLLEGE STATION. — Texas corn-hog contract signers voted more than ten to one in favor of a corn-hog program for 1935 and more than three to one in favor of a one-contract-per-farm program for 1936 according to the final figures in the Texas referendum compiled by E. M. Regenbrecht, extension swine husbandman. The actual vote was 16,543 in favor of the 1935 program and 1,577 against it, while 13,196 favored the one-contract-per-farm and 4,055 opposed it.

Of the non-signers, 787 voted in favor of the 1935 program and 256 voted against it. This was nearly three to one. On question two 756 non-signers voted for it, and 327 voted against it.

In direct contrast with the Texas vote of approval is the vote recorded in Kansas. Fifty-nine counties there favored a 1935 program, but it was vetoed by a heavy negative vote in the eastern one-third of the state. Final results showed 17,429 signers voting in favor of it while 19,985 voted against it. Among the non-signers voting in approximately one-half of the counties, the count was 1-17 for and 4,130 against the program. It is estimated that not more than 50 per cent of the eligible voters cast ballots in the referendum. The proposed one-contract-per-farm program was refused by a margin of 23,629 to 11,607 among signers, and 4,008 to 408 among non-signers.

Farmers Anticipate Credit Needs and Make Local Loans

HOUSTON.—Foresighted farmers in all parts of Texas are anticipating their credit needs for the coming growing season and already are making arrangements with their local production credit associations for loans in 1935, according to reports received by Tully C. Garner, president of the Production Credit Corporation of Houston. The practice of making arrangements before the money actually is needed has many advantages to recommend it, Mr. Garner pointed out, and the associations would like as many farmers as possible to make their applications prior to the crop production season. Before making application to a production credit association, the prospective borrower should analyze his 1935 plans carefully; how many acres are to be planted to cotton, how many to feed and their crops, how much labor will be necessary and how much money will be needed for tractor costs or feed for workstock. After he has done this, he should be able to estimate accurately just how much money will be required and when he will need each of the installments of his loan. By following this procedure, the applicant has no worry about where operating expenses are coming from or when he will get them. When he is ready to begin operations, his loan has been arranged and all details attended to and all he has to do is ask for his check. By budgeting his loan, the borrower affects interest savings that are sometimes surprising to those who have not used production credit before. Interest, which now is 5 per cent, is paid on each installment only for the time the borrower has use of the money, making a whole season's financing available at very low cost.

BRAND NEW EYES! Don't let improper light damage them... Somebody surely ought to be proud of this baby—what a dandy he is. He is perfect to the nth degree. We could talk about him all day but his eyes are what interest us most right now. Like all babies, his eyesight is perfect now and with proper care—the right kind of lighting for his playing, studying and reading as he grows up—they probably will be for many, many years. But—because of lack of attention to home and school lighting, the boy of today has only a 60-40 chance of finishing college without having to wear glasses. The excellent services of eye specialists do great things when it comes to correcting eye deficiencies. But when it comes to prevention, proper lighting takes the spotlight. Look your home lighting over—you'll find a great many things wrong that you'll want to correct. Call on us—we'll help you. Unwed Mothers Are Given Shelter

PHILADELPHIA.—There is a haven here for unmarried mothers and their babies. Since 1854—the year of its establishment—St. Vincent's Hospital, a Catholic institution, has sheltered and cared for many hundreds of unfortunate cases. Expectant mothers are not placed on a clinic basis. They may go to the hospital for examination and stay there three months after the baby is born. The babies go to "school" and are "graduated" when they reach the age of four years. Then usually they are turned over to an orphanage. But by the time they leave the "school" the babies have been given the needed care and attention which is found in the average home. Play periods with an abundance of sunshine are given the infants. By the time they are four, they have learned to eat their meals alone, brush their teeth, bathe themselves and attend nursery classes. The maternity qualifications of the hospital have attracted many private patients, and a paying clinic also is well patronized.

Once Deserted Town Now Hums With New Activity

JAL, N. M.—Ghosts are walking here again—ghosts of oil and riches. A town which sprung from nowhere in 1925-1928, when tests proclaimed the presence of petroleum and dreams proclaimed the imminent establishment of another Borger or even Tulsa, settled back to quiet and desolation with the same magic alacrity, when the depression hit. Houses could be had for a song. Footsteps in the street disturbed only their own echoes. Then in 1933 came a revival of the oil industry. With it came the time when many companies which held lease in Jal had to drill on their properties or release them. Great drilling activity began. People poured into town again. People who again smelled oil and the hope of wealth. A theatre will open soon. New hotels and a $15,000 tourist camp are on the building program.

Tax Certificate Pool Will Close On November 10

COLLEGE STATION.—November 10 has been tentatively selected as a final date for receiving surplus cotton tax exemption certificates for the national pool, according to an announcement received from the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. Purchase of certificates from the pool, it was emphasized, would continue as long as the pool had certificates on hand. E. L. Deal, manager of the pool, said it was felt that all holders of surplus certificates who wish to turn them into the pool will have had that opportunity by November 10. State allotment boards have been urged to assist producers who wish to turn in surplus certificates to the pool. "Because we have tentatively selected a final date for receiving surplus certificates," Mr. Deal said, "it is now more urgent than ever that producers speed up the surrender of any certificates they wish to offer for sale through the pool." The pool now has on hand orders for many more certificates than it is able to fill, Mr. Deal said. On all of these orders the purchasers expect to pay four cents a pound which is the rate fixed by Secretary Wallace as the standard selling price for surplus certificates purchased through the national pool. Producers will be paid approximately $20 a bale for all certificates sold through the pool. When the pool is liquidated, each producer will be returned his share of any certificates the pool does not sell. These may be used next year if the Rankhead Act is effective for 1935.

When the farmer got up, very mad, he discovered the butt snapped the nerves back in place and now he walks normally.

YOUR GROCER HAS THIS SUNNY WAY TO BETTER HEALTH

Check Common Constipation with a Delicious Cereal. Food has a lot to do with how you feel and how you look. For instance, you need plenty of "bulk" with your meals to avoid the risk of common constipation. This ailment frequently causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy. Yet, in most cases, it can be overcome pleasantly and safely by eating a delicious cereal. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" in convenient and concentrated form. Laboratory tests show the "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is safe and effective. In fact, it is much like that found in leafy vegetables. Within the body, the fiber of ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes. In addition, ALL-BRAN provides vitamin B and iron. Isn't this sunny way better than taking patent medicines—so often harmful? Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases with each meal if seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all." Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or cook into appetizing recipes. Be sure you get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It contains much more needed "bulk" than part-bran products. It is the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Couple Wed 62 Years Say that Fights Help

BUFFALO, N. Y.—A good many every day is the recipe for happy married life offered by Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Perkins. Mr. and Mrs. Perkins should know how—they have been married for 62 years, and each of them were wedded happily. Says the Mr.: "Just because a man and a woman get married is no guarantee that each is going to see eye to eye on everything. The groom's man and the bride's a woman and there's the makings of a whole life of disagreement. I think a good setup every day is a fine thing for any married couple." Says the Mrs.: "So do I. If more of these couples let off steam in a daily argument, in which they both laid their cards on the table and checked up on each other, there would not be the popular place it is. Harboring of imaginary or real grievances over a long time is bad for the mind and wrecks any marriage."

"When I received a letter signed 'Jack,' explaining how he had played a trick on my husband, I believed him," Mrs. Smith testified, "then I found the same sort of apparel in his grip another time."
