Nations Have Come to Accept a Colony's Right to Freedom

Senator Antonio R. Barcelo of Puerto Rico returns to San Juan from a meeting with President Roosevelt and announces that Washington intends to treat the Puerto Ricans just as it has treated the Filipinos—make them ready for self-support and self-government and then, if the islanders wish it, give them independence.

No announcement to this effect has yet come from Washington, and it is of course possible that the senator misinterpreted the president's remarks. But the mere fact that he could make such a statement without creating a perfect furore at Washington shows how greatly the world's viewpoint toward the possession of overseas colonies has changed in the last few generations.

Originally a colony was looked upon as the unqualified possession of the home government. It existed only for the sake of the homeland; it was to be exploited as the homeland washed, and it could not conceivably have any voice in the matter.

It was because this notion was accepted as a matter of course that the action of the American colonists in 1775, in taking up arms for a decent portion of self-government, seemed such a wicked and unnatural thing to King George III and his council.

Even after the Americans had made their protest good and established their independence, the old idea was slow to change. The thought that distant colonists had rights of their own, and that whether they should remain colonies or become independent states must depend, in the long run, on their own wishes, was one which the rulers of the world resisted stoutly.

But it made progress, nevertheless. Today Uncle Sam stands committed to set the Philippines free in the near future. Proud England offers a new measure of self-government to India. And now it is hinted that Puerto Rico may follow the Filipinos out from under the American flag, if her people wish it.

And whether this latest prediction be substantiated or not, it at least is a significant highlight of a new mental attitude.

The right of any people to complete freedom, in other words, is now taken for granted. And since the tide has set so strongly in that direction, can the freedom-denying dictators of Europe be anything but temporary vexations? In the long run, will not the spirit of the times be too much for them?

THE BIGGEST THING IN THE COUNTRY

Lovable

BEGIN HERE TODAY
ANN HOLLISTER, pretty and 20, breaks her engagement to TONY MICKLE, commercial artist, because of his drinking and general irresponsibility. The same day PETER KENDALL, wealthy and prominent, learns how VALERIA BENNETT, his fiancée, has deceived him and tells her everything is over between them.
Ann and Peter, both heart-broken and disillusioned, meet in a restaurant when Peter asks Ann to marry him she agrees.
They go to Florida and spend several weeks happily. Then Peter is called home because of business. All of the Kendall family except Peter's sister, MILLICENT, south Ann.
Ann wishes to make trouble between Peter and Ann. One night they are preparing to go out for the evening when a telephone call comes for Peter. Ann recognizes Valeria's voice. Later when Peter leaves the apartment she is sure he has gone to Valeria. Tony, who deceived her, because she is angry of Peter, Ann goes to his apartment.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXV
ANN heard the kitchen door close, heard ice rattling about in a pan. Just a minute more and Tony would be coming in with the cocktail.
She lifted her coat from a chair and walked out of Tony's living room. The door, closing behind her, brought him but she was in the car when he came tearing down the walk.
"After all, I'm to celebrate your birthday alone," he mocked, "while you rush home to play the dutiful wife to a wandering husband."
"I remembered something—something important," Ann started the car, pressed her foot firmly down on the gas.
Ann drove the car into the garage, went into the building, and in another moment was letting herself in the warm, luxurious apartment.
She undressed, got into her gown and slipped on a negligee. Brushing her bronze hair absently, her eyes met the eyes of the girl in the mirror. They were shadowed and perplexed.
If Peter realized his marriage had been a great mistake why wasn't he honest about it? Surely he knew she would release him if he wanted to be free.
Perhaps he planned to tell her soon. Even now he and Valeria were probably discussing things, wondering how Peter could make it more plain that his make-believe marriage had brought him nothing but regret and that he wanted to dissolve it.
Rubbing on cold cream Ann's finger touched her eyelashes. They were wet. Stupid to be crying because she had brought nothing but regret to Peter. She wiped off the cream hastily, pushed the cold cream jar aside. She got into bed and switched off the light.
Just then she heard Peter's key in the outside door. He was back this early. Strange.
VALERIA had said in a voice that sounded desperately anxious, "Peter, you must come. At once. It's about—about that check I gave you day before yesterday."
"What about it?"
"I can't discuss it over the phone. Aunt Louise might hear. Peter, you must come."
Peter thought he understood. Valeria had overdrawn. Evidently she had discovered it and realized the check would be turned down. "I'll be right over," he said. He went to Ann's room, planning to explain that Valeria was in some difficulty. But when he opened the door Ann's eyes had met his, smiling. Then she had stared at him and that had made him angry. Naturally Ann did not know how hysterical Valeria could become. Peter had suspected that if he delayed going, the phone might continue ringing until he did go over and quiet her fears.
He reasoned that Valeria was afraid to let her aunt know she was running so close to the financial edge.
Valeria kept him waiting 15 minutes. When she appeared she was wearing a pair of red velvet lounging pajamas. Her golden hair which she usually wore close to her head in sleek, shining waves was loose—in a careless fluff, making her look like a schoolgirl. She smiled at him radiantly.
"Peter, you darling! I can't say how glad I am to see you."
Peter stared. He had expected to see her upset, perhaps crying, but there was no indication of hysteria or nervousness.
"Cigaret?"
"No, thanks," Peter said shortly. "What did you want to tell me about the check and why couldn't you tell me over the telephone?"
"I'm horribly embarrassed. And then Aunt Louise might have been snooping around. I feel terrible asking you."
"Gracious, no. I'm not quite that low. It's this way. Aunt Louise didn't tell me until I came home that there were some heavy obligations she must meet this month. The truth is, Peter, I would be so much more convenient to pay you next month."
"Why in the world didn't you say so? You know you could pay me whenever you please."
"That's terribly sweet of you, but the check has gone through now. Valeria reminded him.
PETER frowned. So it had. "Well, that's easily remedied," he said after a moment. He took his check book and fountain pen from his pocket, made out a check and handed it to her.
Valeria smiled. "Thank you worlds. This will ease Aunt Louise's mind. I'll send a new check next month."
"Any time that it's convenient for you."
She followed him to the door. "Must you go, Peter? I really get horribly lonely these days. Her voice was wistful. "It's only natural that I should miss you, isn't it?"
Peter got away in a hurry. He was thinking that with the least excuse Valeria would be getting emotional.
On the way home he found he was worrying a little about the check. It wasn't important, of course. Still—
He was thinking about Ann, too. She had looked awfully pretty with that angry light in her eyes. It was the first time he had ever seen her angry. Now that his own anger had cooled he was inclined to be amused over the way Ann had fared up. She had spirit.
When he drove in he noticed that the door to the garage where Ann's car was kept was open. It had been closed when he left. He stood looking at her car. He shook himself out of the mood. He was getting more and more worried about that check business and the

Eastland County Budget Amended

Amendment to Eastland county's 1934 budget was made by county commissioners in the current term to care for additional expenses.
The following expenses were added to the budget:
"An amount necessary to pay expenses required of county in carrying out CWA and other federal relief work, estimated to cost around $1,200.
"An amount necessary to pay for labor and material used in repairing the county jail, estimated to cost $3,500.
"An amount necessary to pay the tax collector for compiling the delinquent tax record estimated to cost $2,351.80."

The best relief measures are those assurances which the government can give to business that it is now safe to invest in new enterprises.—President Henry R. Hariman, of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

I have no interest in maintaining myself in a position that I did not solicit.—President Carlos Mendietta of Cuba.

How Texas Cities Got Their Names

By United Press
Houston, largest South Texas city, was named in honor of Texas' revolutionary leader and first president, Gen. Sam Houston.

Texas' first governor, J. Pinckney Henderson, gave name to the present East Texas oil town.

Tyler, progressive East Texas city, has as namesake a president whose administration was as busy as any of peacetime history.

Austin, capital city of Texas, was named in honor of Stephen F. Austin, "Father of Texas."

Fort Worth, Texas, named in honor of General William W. Worth who was put in command of the Garrison at Fort Worth.

Tarrant county, of which Fort Worth is county seat, was named for E. H. Tarrant, a revolutionary officer, Texas ranger, and state legislator.

First of the Spanish conquistadors gazed across the Rio Grande and sighted "El Pas o del Norte," the route which yet serves commerce and gave its name to Texas' western city.

Letters For Santa Claus

Dear Santa: I am a little boy nine years old. Please bring me a typewriter, bag of marbles, and a train. My little sister, five years old, wants you to bring her a large baby doll that will open and close her eyes, and a tricycle. My little sister, four years old, wants the same thing, and don't forget to bring us lots of candy, fruits, nuts and fireworks. And don't forget our two grandmothers, and other little children. Lots of love, S. G. Munn, Desdemona, Texas.

Dear Santa Claus: There are three of us boys. We are Elwood and Dorwood, twins, six years old, and Bobbie Jack, 3. We live west of Desdemona. We, Elwood and Dorwood, want an electric truck each, a big toy car, and some candy, fruit and nuts. Bobbie Jack wants an airplane, little truck and candy, fruit and nuts. Please don't forget the other children, especially the poor ones and the orphans. Your friends, Elwood and Dorwood and Bobbie Jack Ragland, Desdemona, Texas. P. S.—And please don't forget our friend, Obie, up on the hill.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little girl 11 years old. I go to Cooper school. I am in the fifth grade. I help my mother very much. I was in the fourth grade but I made a straight A card and they put me in the fifth grade. So bring me a pair of beads, a pair of gloves, a fountain pen, some note-book paper, and a note-book. Don't forget my little sister. Bring her a rubber, a rubber elephant, and a rattle. Santa, please don't forget my candy, nuts and fruit. Your little pal, Lucille Brown. P. S.—I hope you get to visit all the little children this Christmas, dear Santa, so bye-bye.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little boy eight years old. I want a football and a motor boat, and some candy and some apples and some nice socks and a pretty tie. I would like to have some storybooks too. Your friend, Pete Koch.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little boy, nine years old. I go to Cooper school. I am a very good boy at times, so please bring me a football and a motor boat, and some candy, nuts and fruits. Don't forget my little friends, also my two little brothers and two sisters. Your little friend, Avon Brown, 518 South Oak street, Ranger, Texas.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little boy three years old. I have been a good little boy. So please bring me a little red wagon with a bumper, a cap pistol and a little car, a French horn, some candy, nuts and fruit. Please remember all of my little friends. With love, your little friend, Donald Gene Brown, 518 South Oak street, Ranger, Texas.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a good little boy five years old. I help my mama, so please bring me a little wagon, a gun and scabbard, a harp and a little racer. Remember all the children. Your little friend, Bobbie Lee Brown. P. S.—Santa, I sure would like some candy, nuts and lots of good stuff to eat.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little girl seven years old. I am going to school in Olden. Please bring me a big ball, a little dining room suite, Shirley Temple book, and a Mickey Mouse watch. Santa I hope I haven't asked for too much, because I want the poor children to have something too. Lots of love to Santa, Nita Jean Maxwell. P. S.—Please bring me some fruits and candies.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little boy 23 months old. I have been a good little boy all my life. Santa, please bring me lots of toys such as a toy fiddle, a tractor, and an airplane, a crazy kat kart and lots of fruit, candy and nuts. Yours truly, Donald Wayne Rodgers.

Dear Santa: Please bring a BB gun, a train and a wagon to me and my little brother. Your friend, Jimmie Nabors.

Dear Santa: I am a little boy three years old and I want you to come to see me. Please bring me a cowboy suit, tricycle, electric train and a football and please remember my Daddy and Mother, also all the other little girls and boys. With love, your little friend, Danny Ray, Crane, Texas.

Dear Santa: I am a little girl four years old. Please, Santa, bring me a sleepy doll, buggy, tea set, washing machine. Please remember my Mother, also all the other little girls and boys. With lots of love, your little friend, Wanda Jean Rodgers, McCamey.

Dear Santa: I am a boy, 7 years old. I go to school and I am on the honor roll, so you see I try to be a good boy. I want you to bring me a knife, a pencil box, a gun and a football, candy, nuts and fruit, also fireworks.—Your friend, James Lawson.

Please don't forget to come to my little brother, Clinton Delaine. He is 7 months old. Oh Santa! Don't forget to bring both of us some candy, nuts, and fruits.—Your little friend, Arretta Jean Key.

FARM NEWS

Mrs. H. A. Jordan, food supply demonstrator in Mason county, has dried 50 pounds of fruits, mostly peaches, and canned 110 containers of fruits and 30 containers of tomatoes in order that her family of three may have two servings daily.

R. F. Ray of Killen made the following observation with reference to the sheep buying program: "I believe that the sheep buying program will show a more pronounced and lasting benefit than any of the other drouth programs. It was a great drouth relief measure for the present, but more lasting benefits will result from the culling. They were culled for age, breeding, individual quality and condition. I believe that it is conservative to say that the quality of breeding base of Bell county sheep is 50 per cent better than it was before the program."

Bread crumbs from stale graham bread as well as from white bread are on the emergency shelf of Mrs. Oscar Linman, food supply demonstrator of the Lakeview Home Demonstration club in Tom Green county, who uses them for making whole wheat pancakes. Mrs. Linman says that one-half graham bread crumbs and one-half white flour makes a better pancake than either whole wheat flour or all white flour.

According to W. M. Forrest of Madison county, the 1933 cotton crop increased his yield this year 42 bales. He plowed up 350 acres of cotton last year and this land produced 60 pounds per acre more than did adjoining land. Those 42 bales netted Mr. Forrest around $290. He is working Trinity river bottom land which he did not think needed fertilizer, but is now convinced that some leguminous cover crop turned under on his land would be a profitable investment.

RICHMOND—At the end of her first year's work in yard improvement, Mrs. L. E. Elkins of Fort Bend county has a total of 105 permanent shrubs and trees in her yard, according to Miss Loris J. Welhausen, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Elkins began with an uneven, weed-grown yard containing only one evergreen shrub and three fruit trees. Cuttings and plants were secured from neighbors and from the woods. As a background for the home, 58 evergreen shrubs were set out. The broad lawn is well sodded, and a cutting bed set out this fall contains enough wax ligustrum, oleander, hibiscus, lantana and rose cuttings to complete the planting of the borders.

COOPER—By more than filling her farm food budget, Mrs. Oz Jeter of Delta county has provided enough canned food for her family for the winter, according to Miss Mary Louise Ramsey, home demonstration agent. She has not canned the meat yet or made her green tomato pickle, but she has 753 quarts of leafy vegetables, starchy vegetables, other vegetables, fruits and fruit juices, tomatoes and tomato juice, preserves and jelly, and pickles and relish. In addition, she has provided 1020 pounds of cured starchy vegetables, 250 pounds of cured meat, three bushels of other vegetables, 10 gallons of lard, six gallons of syrup, and 10 gallons of honey. Mrs. Jeter has assisted five non-club women in canning their farm food supply for the winter.

PERRYTON—Six old chairs which she had discarded have been refinished by Mrs. W. M. Good of the Nottle Home Demonstration club in Ochiltree county, by removing the varnish, repainting the chairs, and tanning hides to use for new bottoms on the chairs, according to Miss Marie Ludwig, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Good learned to tan hides and make them into chair bottoms at the rural work center at the farmers' short course held at A. & M. college last summer.

EASTLAND—Terracing and deep plowing gave Homer White of Eastland county a bumper crop of hegari this year where his neighbors who planted hegari or other grain corghums on unterraced land and cultivated it in the usual manner made only dwarfed stalks of fodder, according to J. C. Patterson, farm demonstration agent. Mr. White reports that he grew approximately two tons of hegari heads per acre.

Terracing work on this farm was completed last winter and immediate ly rows were laid off with the tractor. The land was plowed as deep as the teams could pull a bull tongue plow.—Heavy spring rains soaked the ground thoroughly and a reserve supply of water was held in the deeply plowed land.

AUSTIN—Six hundred and sixty-seven new orchards have been started in Travis county during the past three years as the result of an orchard program carried on by the 4-T club members of the county, according to T. H. Royder, farm demonstration agent. The number of trees in the orchards has been increased from 2,614 to 6,869, showing an increase of 4,255 trees. Of these, 1,384 were donated by a local civic organization while 2,871 were bought by the club members themselves. Twelve different kinds of fruits are grown in the orchard.

GOLIAD—A profit of $630.16 above all feed costs was made on a flock of 383 hens in 1934 by Walter Dietzel of Goliad county, according to K. J. Edwards, farm demonstration agent. Two years ago Mr. Dietzel was making a very low profit and showed a large percentage of culls. At that time, he changed to a breed of white leghorn hens recommended by Edwards and followed methods advocated by the extension service. During the past year his hens laid an average of 185.4 eggs per bird for the year.

High School and Junior College News of the Day

By Reba Callaway

College Chapel I Students of Ranger Junior College were entertained Wednesday at the chapel period with a Christmas tree. Dr. Parks was Santa Claus and with the help of reindeer issued the presents. Santa Claus brought Mr. Von Roeder a toy car to chase the students who cut.

Mr. Von Roeder announced that school will close for the Christmas holidays Friday, Dec. 21, and will take up Jan. 2, 1935.

This was the last chapel program for the Junior College until after Christmas. C. L. F. Banquet The C. L. F. had its annual Christmas banquet on Tuesday night, Dec. 18, at Acorn Acres. Before being seated at the table, everyone present joined in singing some Christmas songs. The table was very pretty, having a Christmas tree in the center with two tall red candles on either side. The first course was jello salad of lettuce; the second course consisted of chicken a la king, candied sweet potatoes, carrots, English peas, ham and coffee. Although everyone complained of being terribly "full" at this point, they all managed to enjoy the last course—real old-fashioned plum pudding.

After the dinner, all of the girls went into the adjoining room, where each received a lovely gift from a beautifully decorated tree. Games were then enjoyed by the following members: Ann Kelley, May Jo Brown, Helen Goforth, Helen Best, Frances Lancaster, Opal Brannon, Lillian Seeliger, Opal Brown, Voneel Strong, Jessie Mae Grant, Reba Callaway, Ruby Bishop, Gladys Pinson, sponsor.

Announcement The first order for the senior rings has arrived. A second order for the rings will be sent after the Christmas holidays.

The junior bracelets and pins have arrived.

High School Chapel The last chapel of this year was held today from 11:00 to 12:00. H. S. Von Roeder and R. F. Holloway officiated.

In the center of the stage a beautifully decorated Christmas tree stood. Christmas songs, sung by the student body, helped carry out the Christmas spirit.

School will close Friday for the Christmas holidays and will reopen January 2, 1935.

Masquers Have Christmas Party The Masquers of the Ranger Junior College were entertained with a Christmas party at the home of Jim Blair.

Members of the club assembled at Jim's home at 8 o'clock. Everyone received presents from the Christmas tree. Games were played throughout the evening and refreshments were served to about 20 members.

Notice We take this opportunity of wishing everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Personally Speaking Mrs. L. C. Harrison and brother, Frank Carr, of Grassmont, Okla., are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dixon the first of the week. They left Wednesday for Dublin, where they will visit other relatives and friends.

R. N. Harris of Strawn was a business visitor in Ranger Wednesday.

SCORPION ADDED TO TROPICAL COLLECTION

BURLINGTON, Vt.—A full-grown scorpion has been added to the tropical collection at the University of Vermont's Fleming Museum. The scorpion, found in a bunch of bananas at a local fruit store, has joined company with an adult tarantula and a three-foot boa constrictor, also found in a bunch of bananas shipped here from the tropics.

BELLED COYOTE KILLED

PEARSALL, Texas.—A wild coyote with a collar and bell around its neck was killed near here by Warren Smith, ranchman. Smith said the coyote was old and apparently had been caught and "belled" by someone years ago.

RIFLE FRIGHTENED BEAR

SUNBURY, Pa.—Mirand E. Steffen Jr. met a bear face to face in Jock's mountain near here while on a deer hunting trip. Knowing that it was legal to kill bear in self-defense, young Steffen raised his rifle to his shoulder and aimed at the bear. Looking down the barrel of the gun was too much for the bear. It turned around and scampered away.

ALFALFA PAYS WELL

CARRIZO SPRINGS, Texas.—The alfalfa crop in the Nueces valley flock at the Hugh Malpas farm, by has been so profitable that feeding with the domestic birds, Claud Mathis, manager of the Nueces Land company at Bermuda, has increased his acreage this year. The crop averaged more than eight tons per acre on some farms this year.

Eastland Personals

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Karkalits were visitors in Cisco Tuesday. Mrs. Vera McLeroy was a visitor in Cisco Tuesday. George Brogdon was in Cisco Tuesday. Miss Ruth Cameron of Cisco visited in Eastland Tuesday.

SEA GULL JOINED TURKEYS

COBURG, Ore.—A sea gull made a forced landing near here and fraternized with a turkey feeding with the domestic birds. The locality is about 60 miles inland.

MAN DISQUALIFIED

SPOKANE, Wash.—A Spokane

firm which annually offers a box of candy to the person bringing in the first bouquet of buttercups disqualified Arthur Kraut, who appeared December 1. They held that Kraut's spring posies belonged to the 1934 instead of the 1935 season.

TREES IN DEMAND

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—It looks like a merry Christmas for California. Forestry officials here reported that three times the available Christmas tree stock in national forests has been applied for by distributors.

ENDED MYSTERY

SEATTLE.—Workmen scented a murder mystery when they unearthed a human skeleton while digging a sewer. Later discovered the sewer through what once was a field, where indigent people buried 25 or 30 years ago.

TEXAS CENTENNIAL HALF DOLLAR

Now Ready for Distribution at Commercial State Bank

"A Keepsake for Texas' Sake"

YESTERDAY: Men pressed forward in the sun, and shouts arose from the hillside . . . The dead lay covered in dust, and the living gasped chokingly in the heat . . .

YESTERDAY: The blue night settled about the hills, and faint shadows from the moonlight spread around the still, human forms upon the ground . . . The Battle of San Jacinto had been fought—Texans had left their homes, had sacrificed their wives and children, had given their lives—but the Battle of San Jacinto had been won!

TODAY: Texas honors her heroes. Texas treasures freedom. After a hundred years of progress, Texas looks into the Future.

TODAY: Texas Centennial Half-Dollars are on sale at your local bank. TODAY every loyal Texan is asked to buy a keepsake of Texas—his memorial of patriotism, his individual contribution to the building of a Texas State Museum. The Texas Centennial Half-Dollar—a coin of beauty, designed by the famous sculptor, Pompeo Coppini—not only commemorates Texas' hundredth birthday, but is as invaluable as the glorious history it portrays.

TODAY: You can buy a Texas Centennial Half-Dollar, so that TOMORROW you can point with pride to a new victory, a new memorial—

Beautiful Decorations Feature Party Honoring Masquers Club
 Christmas, always a gala time socially, is being heralded in smart appointments for a number of parties for the week.

Last night the home of Mrs. J. Scott Blair, Sinclair-Prairie camp, was beautifully decorated with the Yuletide theme emphasized in detail, when members of the Masquers club of Ranger Junior College was honored with a most pleasant evening of entertainment.

Games in keeping with the season were played intermingled at intervals with bridge, dominoes and other table diversions rounding out a perfect courtesy to guests and one enjoyed to the fullest degree.

A glimmering and brightly clad Christmas tree came in for its share of color and admiration, holding a prominent place among the artistic decorations, and motif repeated in the delicious salad plate served with coffee.

The pleasing house hostess was given a cordial response for her compliment from the following members: Paul Hodges, Ovada Westerman, Louis Mae Eaves, Tufman Elrod, Marie Galloway, Louise Harrell, Claire Dyar, Helen Best, Dorothy Donnell, Raymond Stockmire, Lillian Seeliger, Audie Gentry, A. D. Lewis, Thelma Thompson, W. O. Shaffer, Katherine and Jim Blair, young Bobby Blair and Mrs. Hai Hunter, club sponsor.

Ranger Junior College Lends A Charitable Hand to Santa

In order that they might be included among those who are doing much to make a happy Christmas for the unfortunate of Ranger, members of Ranger Junior College planned a cleverly carried out entertainment yesterday morning which occupied the chapel hours.

Several days ago a committee comprised of Misses Ruth Smith, Lillian Seeliger, Ann Marie Kelly, Marie Galloway and Maxine Tackett, a group of popular and well known college girls, decided a Christmas tree presided over by Santa Claus would be a splendid idea; after offering the suggestion to the student body it was just as good as done, and in a perfect way.

Assistance was given this feature by each individual of the college and personal attention was given with Jim Blair and Jack Mooney who served in capacities of toastmaster and Santa. Each gift contributed was a can of food, when assembled proved to be many types of groceries, one hundred cans in all.

This donation and a very fine one was turned over to Mrs. Saunders Gregg, who each season gives her untiring efforts to Child Welfare work which plays an important part in the lives of those of the city who otherwise perhaps would not be remembered at this time.

Other members of the Child Welfare club come in for their share of credit, and the organization is one of the most active clubs of Ranger.

The general spirit of the occasion certainly brings the rating and splendid standards of Ranger Junior College students up in many person's estimation. An unselfish and whole-hearted spirit as has been demonstrated by this group of fine boys and girls is an assured ingredient for successful men and women of tomorrow.

Buffet Supper One of Week's Delightful Parties

Softly colored lights, shedding their mellow glow from beneath chandeliers prettily decorated, holly wreaths adding their note of welcome to the holiday season, and a Christmas tree heavily laden with gifts made up the lovely decorations featured in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin George, Tee Pee camp, last night when they were home to members of Child Study Club—Association No. 1, whose husbands were honor guests for the entertainment.

High-point of the hour opened with the serving of a dainty yet delicious buffet supper at tables laid in maderia cloth and centered with the miniature trees. The tapering branches were cleverly dotted with gum drop candy, when assembled among snow clad branches formed a picture to represent Christmas fruit nestled amid the trees securely arranged in sand bases sprinkled with flakes of snow.

The menu of baked chicken had a complete course of salads, vegetables and dessert passed with coffee and tea.

As supper drew to a climax Santa Claus paid an impromptu visit, and immediately made his headquarters at the tree, over which he presided most interestingly, presenting each guest with gifts.

Party guests were: Messrs and Mmes. Bill Barnett of Eastland, Jewel Summner, E. L. Fontaine, Joe Thompson, Edwin George, and The Rev. and Mrs. D. W. Nichol, Dr. and Mrs. E. R. Green, and Mrs. O. G. Lanier, Mrs. Brown Bradley, and Mrs. Melvin Belknap.

Lone Star Club Elects Officers

At a pleasant meeting both socially and in business members of the Lone Star social club had a busy hour Wednesday afternoon, when they assembled at the club-room at plant No. 3 for the purpose of bringing into office new officers for the ensuing year.

Those elected were: Mrs. Sam Gable, president; first vice president, Mrs. J. L. Turner; secretary, Mrs. H. S. Packwood; treasurer, Mrs. V. V. Cooper, Jr.

Mrs. Turner assisted by Mrs. J. B. Rayfield, served a refreshment plate of fruit cake with whipped cream and chocolate to members, Mmes. Paul Myeie, Jeff Hamilton, V. V. Cooper, Sam Gamble, Johnnie King, H. S. Packwood, J. F. Byas, Onis Littlefield, Fred Driehof, George Williams, E. J. Smith, E. L. Norris, and young Misses Vera Vivian Cooper and Elizabeth Rayfield.

The club will meet the third Wednesday in January, with Mrs. Jeff Hamilton, Mrs. J. F. Byas and Mrs. George Rhoads, joint hostesses.

Gay Party
 House decorations were primarily of the Yuletide motif, together with colorfully tinged autumn leaves, Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Edna Williamson opened her hospitable home for the entertainment of members forming the Julia Alexander Grove No. 1954 of the Woodman Circle.

ropes of tinsel and small red, green, blue and yellow lights. Tables were dressed in the red and green color hue and bridge, "bunco" and "42" were played.

Mrs. Lula Lyons was tendered a prettily arranged miscellaneous shower. Gifts presented were daintily arranged in a basket carrying the color theme.

A refreshment plate of fancy sandwiches, fruit cake and cocoa was served to Mmes. Ona Keel, Ruby Greer, Ella Reynolds, Opal Burnett, Hattie Lester, Hazel Moot, Lena Patterson, Christine Yerton, Claudie Barney, Rubye Mosley, Eleanor Horton, Viola Cash, Eva Niver, Verna Ringold.
