Eva Hiebert, above, sister of Adam Hiebert, notorious outlaw pal of the late "Fretty Boy" Floyd, and the formidable array of guns shown here were captured when sheriff's forces raided an Atoka, Okla., residence on the tip that it was a gang hideout. Three men also were taken as suspects.

STATE LEGISLATURE OPENS WITH SIX MAJOR TOPICS TO BE TAKEN UP DURING SESSION

By United Press
AUSTIN, Jan. 8.—The 44th Texas Legislature opened at noon today for a session of 120 days or longer.

Chief topics to come before the session are:

- 1—Prohibition retention or repeal.
- 2—Pari-mutuel wagers at race tracks.
- 3—Utility regulations.
- 4—Relief in co-operation with federal housing and re-employment plans.
- 5—Provisions for state operation and its financing.

CONSOLIDATION PLANS FALL THROUGH WHEN RMA DIRECTORS VOTE TO POSTPONE ALL ACTION

Members of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and the retail merchants association met in the office of the chamber of commerce Monday night to decide upon plans for consolidation of the two organizations, but no action was taken on the plan at that time.

The meeting was called to order by Dr. P. M. Kuykendall, president of the chamber of commerce, with Edwin George, president of the retail merchants association as co-chairman. The object of the meeting was briefly explained and Edwin George was called upon to tell what action the board of directors of the retail merchants association had taken in the consolidation plans.

He explained very briefly that the directors had met and considered the consolidation plan and had decided that this was not the time for the consolidation, but that the directors believed a merger of the organizations could be effected at some later date.

As five of the directors of the chamber of commerce are going out of office and three have moved from town, 24 names were selected to submit to the city commission from which eight new directors are to be selected for the chamber of commerce for the next year.

A meeting for Monday, Jan. 14, was called, at which time the new directors will take office and a new set of officers for the coming year will be elected by the directors.

ADEQUATE OIL LEGISLATION IS BEING URGED

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Oil Administrator Harold Ickes today said the supreme court decision invalidating the hot oil provision of NIRA "emphasizes the necessity for specific and adequate legislation" for government control of the oil industry.

Indications were that federal officials were considering a move to have congress declare the industry a public utility and give the government complete control over production, refining and marketing.

Admitting the adverse ruling of the court on section 9-C of NIRA "is a serious setback," Ickes said, "While we intend to do the best we can with the means still available to us, the basic remedy rests with congress."

"The decision of the court in my opinion emphasized the necessity for adequate legislation to effect a national conservation program designed to prevent the waste of oil and gas resources and to prevent the demoralization of one of our largest basic industries."

Representative Wesley Disney, Dem., Okla., considered introducing a house bill which would reenact in accordance with the constitution the provision declared invalid by the supreme court.

DALLAS, Jan. 8.—Considered generally of paramount importance to the oil industry of the Southwest today following a ruling of the United States Supreme Court branding as unconstitutional NIRA legislation for regulation of the industry, were these two questions:

1.—Will the Texas railroad commission be able to clamp down on the flow of hot oil from East Texas fields as did the federal board set up under the NIRA, or will a flood of illegally produced crude and gasoline follow?

2.—Will the result of the decision enactment in a form proper under the constitution of provisions for federal regulation of the industry or will the states concern work out a state compact for regulation?

There was diversity of opinion among informed sources on both questions.

Scouts Will Have Court of Honor On Next Friday Night

The Boy Scouts of Troop 9 are to have a court of honor Friday night of this week, since they have not had a court of honor in some time. Every Scout who is ready for advancement is urged to be present.

There were 28 members at the meeting last Friday night and the meeting is expected at least four more members to be there next time. Every scout who is ready to be promoted is urged to be present.

The Stag patrol is furnishing the program this week and is planning to have an even better program than the one last Friday night, which was furnished by the Fox patrol.

If all the members in either tribe or in both tribes are present they are to go on a hike, so every member of Troop 9 has been urged to be present next Friday night, prepared to see some real Scout work carried out.

Olden Student On NTAC Honor Roll

New Legislature Convenes For Vital Session

Photographed above is the famous capitol building at Austin, second only to the National Capitol in size. Here the new Texas Legislature convenes to face problems considered greater in variety and importance than ever before. Action is anticipated promptly to halt natural gas wastage in the Panhandle. This wastage has grown so rapidly, that reports to the Railroad Commission reveal that each day it now equals the daily domestic and commercial gas consumption of the entire United States. Taxation, liquor laws, relief, oil control and other vital subjects demand early solution.

RIOTING BREAKS OUT IN MEXICO CITY REVOLT

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 8.—Passions aroused by the latest religious war were at fever heat today as the city was heavily patrolled by police after a battle between students and red shirts in which at least five students were shot.

The outbreak started last night and the fighting continued until today, as 5,000 students, after a demonstration, attacked and partly wrecked the headquarters of the red shirts, a fascist and anti-religious organization.

The student demonstration was in protest against a recent riot in which five Catholics were killed and one red shirt lynched, after the red shirt had attacked a Catholic congregation. Police made more than 20 arrests.

Class In General Science Visits at City Water Plant

The general science class of the Morton Valley High school, accompanied by their teacher, Nonnie A. Smith, visited the city water plant in Ranger and saw how raw water is taken from the lake, treated to purify it and is finally pumped through the mains of the city where it is distributed to the water customers.

W. C. Blackmond accompanied the class gave an interesting and instructive lecture on the process through which the water goes in making it fit for human consumption and free from contamination.

The members of the class, as well as the teacher, were very much impressed with the precautions taken to see that Ranger citizens get only pure water, and many questions were answered during the course of the tour of inspection of the waterworks plant.

The members of the class who made the trip were Edith Adams, Ruby Yarbrough, Golda Baggett, Mittie Williamsen, Ethelyn Vance, G. W. Tankersley, W. T. Gooden, Buster Wheat, Charles Peoples Clifford, N. C. F. Eakins and Margie McCray.

91st Court Grand Jurors Enter Their Second Day of Investigation of H. L. McBee Hanging Skeleton Mystery

Ninety-first court grand jurors today, it was authentically said, began their second day of investigation of the strange death of H. L. McBee in which three are charged with murder in connection with the case.

McBee, Rising Star highway worker, disappeared from his home in Rising Star in May, 1933. A futile search was conducted for some time.

The skeleton identified as that of McBee was found by Herman Boyman and Dean Broughton of Rising Star near that town early Saturday morning, Dec. 22.

Identification of the skeleton was definitely fixed the following day as being that of H. L. McBee. A highway tag with numbers corresponding with those given him when he was a highway worker were one of the identification certainties. Also "gold fillings and other dental work was identified as the same as an Eastland dentist had done for McBee some time ago.

When found, the body was suspended from a low limb of the tree by a piece of wire wrapped about the neck and tied to the limb. The upper part of the body was all intact, but the feet had dropped off, carrying the shoes and trousers with them and were wadded up on the ground under the tree. A cap pulled well over the

BLOODHOUNDS PUT ON TRAIL OF A SUSPECT

SEYMOUR, Tex., Jan. 8.—Bloodhounds today were on the trail of the murderer of H. A. Nicholson, 42, drug prescription clerk, who was found with his throat slashed near here yesterday.

Nicholson died at the home of Joe Sessions, farmer, who lives four miles west of Seymour. Sessions said he left the room where Nicholson and another man were quarreling and when he returned he found Nicholson lying on the floor with his throat slashed. The other man was gone.

Sheriff's officers ordered bloodhounds put on the trail. A charge of murder in connection with the death was filed against Bob Ellis, filling station operator.

Hog Prices Go to New High Level

By United Press
FORT WORTH, Jan. 8.—Hogs continued their record shattering climb on the Fort Worth livestock market today when they reached a top of $8.15, the highest price paid here since 1928.

The price paid today was 10 cents above yesterday's top which established a five-year record.

MAN STOPPED BY RANGERS AFTER WARNING

Austin Police Say He Is "Too Drunk To Talk" When Jailed.

AUSTIN, Jan. 8.—Ranger Walter Hale today arrested a motorist between Austin and Hutto on a description telephoned by a Mrs. Wilson of Taylor that she had heard the man, who had a Winchester rifle, threaten to come to Austin to kill Gov.-Elect James V. Allred.

Mrs. Wilson gave the warning when she arrived in Austin at the home of the Rev. Charles Robinson.

Rev. Robinson at once notified Austin police, who notified the rangers.

Mrs. Wilson told the Robinson family that the man came into a filling station and lunch stand. He ordered a meal and began "raving," she said.

"Allred has promised him a job and he hasn't gotten it," she quoted the man as saying. She said he announced he was going to Austin to kill Allred.

Women in the filling station called the proprietor, who attempted to reason with the stranger and quiet him. The stranger then rushed out, got into his automobile and started to Austin.

A man placed in Austin jail said to be from Taylor, was described by police as "too drunk to talk."

HAUPTMANN IS IDENTIFIED BY AGED WITNESS

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 8.—Joseph Perrone, who delivered a ransom note to Dr. J. F. Gandon during the Lindbergh ransom negotiations, today identified Bruno Hauptmann as the man who gave him the note for "Jafsie."

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 8.—Eighty-seven-year old M. and S. Hochmuth placed a palsied finger on Bruno Hauptmann today and identified him as the man with a ladder he saw near the Lindbergh estate a few hours before Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., was kidnaped.

The aged and be-whiskered resident of the Sonland countryside walked across the tense and silent courtroom where Hauptmann is on trial for his life and laid a gnarled finger on the defendant's left knee.

"That is the man," he said in a cracked voice. His attitude carried all the conviction he could muster.

"I saw his face like a man who had green ear. I saw parts of a ladder."

Thus the State of New Jersey struck its first surprise blow at the trial of the German carpenter, charged with the murder of the son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

But the words of Hochmuth, who contended his eyes were good, failed to shake the prisoner. His stone-like face remained unchanged. Slowly he moved his head from side to side in a denial of the charge. Otherwise he did not move a muscle.

The ancient Hochmuth's testimony dropped two bombshells for the prosecution:

- 1—It was designed to place Hauptmann at the scene of the crime on the day of the crime whereas he has denied he was in New Jersey at any time approximate to March, 1932.
- 2—It was designed to link him with the kidnap ladder.

Appellate Justices Return to Eastland

Justices of the 11th court of civil appeals returned from Waco Monday night where they had held court in the 10th district tribunal.

Justices J. E. Hickman, W. P. Leslie and O. C. Funderburk went to Waco Sunday evening to hear the eight cases transferred to this district.

Insurance Dies Suddenly

Hunter Foley, 50, of 1102 West Ninth street, died of a heart attack at 3:30 Tuesday morning. He was well known in Ranger as an insurance agent, as he had offices in the two cities.

Funeral services are to be held at the Catholic church at 9 o'clock Wednesday, with interment in a cemetery.

CENTURY-OLD BRICK

MEXICO, Mo.—Allen Baker, laborer for a paving construction company, was removing bricks from a landmark chimney to make way for a new highway. One of the bricks was dated 1824. The figures were crudely cut on the tritified brick before it had been put in the kiln.

DREAM CAME TRUE

WOBURN, Mass.—Blonde-haired Dorothy Almborg, 12, awoke sobbing after a dream that her curls had been cut off. When her parents, aroused by her cries, turned on the lights in her bedroom, they found Dorothy's dream was true—a snipper had cut her long curls and fled with them.

AIRPLANE WARNS OF FIRE

SANDUSKY, O.—Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Purcell, farmers, residing near here, have an unknown airplane pilot to thank for saving their winter's crop stored in a barn. The plane zoomed several times over the house to warn the members of the sleeping family that their barn was on fire.

MODERN NIMROD

SHELTON, Conn.—Henry Wells brought home the carcass to prove he caught and killed a gray fox barehanded. Wells said he discovered the fox in the middle of a roadway while driving his automobile. He stopped the car, walked over to the animal which apparently had been fascinated by the headlights and throttled it.

ALMOST A FISH STORY

McALLEN, Texas.—U. S. Border Patrolman Walter Wells bagged an alligator which was more than six feet long and weighed 150 pounds, with a .22 rifle. The saurian was the largest ever killed in the Rio Grande Valley.

NO THRILLS WANTED

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—Bull-fighting, rodeos, and dare-devil automobile stunt drivers are banned from Caswell Park, playing ground for the Knoxville Smokies of the Southern Baseball Association, under a new contract with the city.

How Texas Cities Got Their Names

Following are more stories on how Texas cities received their names:

San Benito
Organizers of the town of San Benito in the lower Rio Grande valley originally chose the name of Benise, but that name was abandoned when it was learned another town already had that name.

Real estate promoters next selected the name of Diaz, which had been widely advertised and then abandoned by the town known now as Mercedes.

A postoffice was established at Diaz in April, 1907, but a month later the name was changed to San Benito in honor of Ben Hicks, one of the owners of the original townsite.

Kilgore
The village of Danville, hidden deep in the pines of East Texas, was a trading post long before the Civil war. Wagon trains on their way west stopped for repairs and rest. A few settlers lingered to clear timber and build homes in the Sabine bottom lands.

When the railroad came in 1872, a new town was formed. It was named Kilgore in honor of Buck Kilgore, representative in Washington from the second congressional district.

It was Buck Kilgore who astonished the nation in 1877 by kicking down a door in a house chamber which had been locked to keep him out of a quorum then being formed.

Fifty-three years later the name again received national attention when the town became the center of the great East Texas oil field.

Before the advent of oil Kilgore was quite a village of 800 inhabitants. Since the completion of the Bateman-Crim well it has grown to 15,000.

Big Spring
The town of Big Spring owes its existence and its name to a large spring which was important in early day history as it was the only watering place for Indians, scouts and pioneers between the Colorado and Pecos rivers.

Around the spring have been found many tons of buffalo bones, many Indian arrow heads, trinkets and implements used by Indians and early settlers.

The spring supplied an abundance of water to townpeople for many years, but when the municipal waterworks was established, the vein of water which furnished the spring was tapped and eventually it ceased to flow.

MICE STOP FIRE

BOLIVAR, N. Y.—When the heating apparatus in the Bolivar theatre failed, investigation disclosed a mouse-and rat infestation. Suffering from cold, five mice crawled into the mechanism of the oil burner and put out the fire.

THISTLES DESTROY BRIDGE
By United Press
EIKHART, Kan.—Russian thistles which have been rolling before Kansas roads, blocking highways and filling up fence corners, were blamed for the destruction of a $75,000 bridge. The thistles collected in the trestle, a spark from a passing train set fire to them and the bridge was destroyed by flames.

FARMERS OWE MILLIONS
By United Press
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—Utah farmers had $25,000,000 outstanding against them in Federal Land Bank and State Land Board loans on Dec. 1. Reports disclosed 6,154 Federal Land Bank loans, totaling $19,963,976.62; 2,397 Farm Loan commissioner loans, totaling $1,959,936.84, and 1,457 State Land Board loans totaling $5,276,722.76.

THIS BOY IS GOING TO BE near-sighted

...IF HE KEEPS ON READING WITHOUT PROPER LIGHT

If this boy, or your boy, continues to read and study in insufficient, improperly-arranged light, he is bound to be near-sighted or to be afflicted with some other eye trouble. Human eyes were not designed to be subjected to strain and unusual wear and tear without breaking down and failing to perform as normal eyes. We pass this advice on to parents, school teachers and others who have to do with conditions affecting eyes and eye-sight—don't let anyone read, sew or do close work without being sure that the lighting is properly arranged for such work. Just a few minutes a day of exacting sight work under dim or poorly-arranged lights will ruin the finest pair of eyes ever known. Look your own lighting over—you can without doubt find many places where improvement will be beneficial for all concerned.

READING--STUDY LAMPS

For the study table, desk or end table, these lamps are the finest creation of lighting engineers yet presented to users of light. Brighten up with ALL-BRAN!

You've had days when you've felt discouraged and low. Nothing seemed to go right. Frequently these dreary days can be traced to common constipation, due to lack of "bulk" in your meals.

This ailment may cause headaches and loss of energy. Correct it by eating a delicious cereal.

Laboratory research shows Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and food-iron.

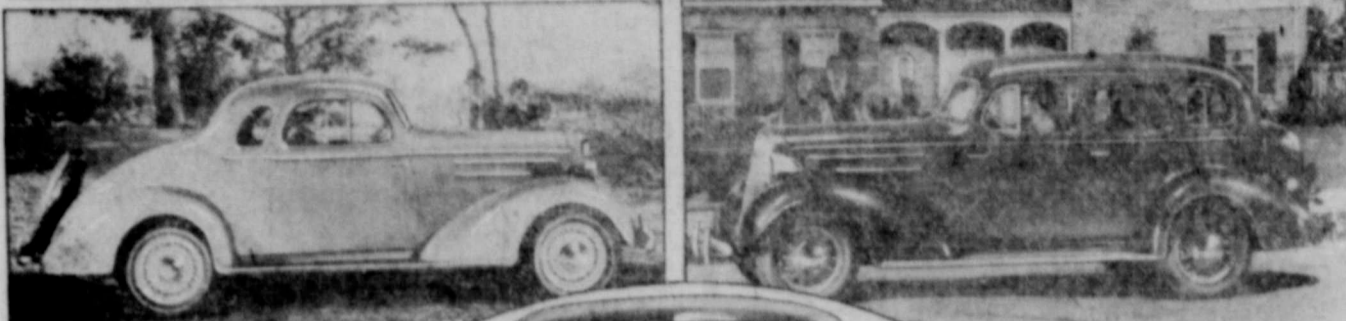

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN resists digestion better than the fiber in fruits and vegetables. It is gentle—and often more effective. Isn't this natural food better than taking patent medicines—often harmful?

Two tablespoons of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. With each meal, in chronic cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

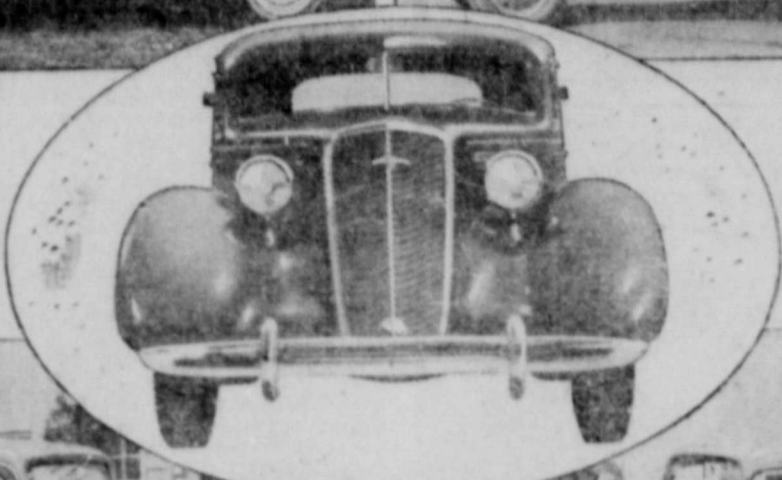

Brighten days with ALL-BRAN! Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Chevrolet Announces Two New Lines for 1935

The Coupe model typifies the beauty and style of Chevrolet's New Master De Luxe series for 1935. Improved performance and exceptional economy also characterize these cars.

Right: Front view of New Master De Luxe Coupe, showing streamlined and graceful lines. Below: The Sedan model in the New Standard series, which, powered by the improved Master engine, combines brilliant performance with its elegant lines and style.

Typical of Chevrolet's two new lines of cars are the models illustrated here. The Master De Luxe series reveals strong emphasis on beauty and style. Mechanically, the Master De Luxe series and the New Standard series have much in common, including the Master engine, in which numerous refinements have been made to enhance performance, durability and economy. As these pictures reveal, the New Master De Luxe departs distinctly from previous Chevrolets in the striking advances which have been made in body design and trim.

Fast, graceful lines also mark the New Master De Luxe Sport Sedan. Ample luggage space is provided by the built-in trunk, and a luggage compartment behind the rear seat cushion.

Another attractive model in the New Standard series is the Coupe styled here. Numerous body and chassis refinements, in conjunction with the Master engine, unite to make these cars outstanding values in the lowest-priced field.

High School and Junior College News of the Day

The Code of a Good Sport

(Taken from the College Digest)

1. Thou shalt not quit.
2. Thou shalt not alibi nor make excuses.
3. Thou shalt not gloat over winning.
4. Thou shalt not be a rotten loser.
5. Thou shalt not take unfair advantage.
6. Thou shalt not ask odds: thou art unwilling to give.
7. Thou shalt always be ready to give thine opponent the shade.
8. Thou shalt not underestimate an opponent, nor overestimate thyself.
9. Remember that the game is the thing, and that he who otherwise is a mucker and sportsman.

10. Honor the game thou est, for he who playeth the straight and hard wins even he loses.—Hug Fullerton.

Poetry

WHY NOT?

As to and fro to school we go
And note the trails so worn
And bare.

A question pops into our mind
We gaze about with puzzled
We never fail to use the Why do you s'pose those there?

Somehow it seems a dreadful
That money should be away!

And since it has been spent
It's up to us to make it pay
Let's all help wear the
