RANGER SCENE OF RUNNING GUN BATTLE

That heavy fog which blanketed a large part of the United States recently isn't the same one the country has been in the last few years.

OUR CONVICTS AGAIN BREAK FROM PRISON

MALESTER, Okla., Jan. 14.—Four convicts and officers were fighting today for four tubercular convicts, who during the night escaped out of the penitentiary. The second time in recent years. Three of the fugitives left Meeter in a commandeered taxi. Two were dropped at Holden and the third made the cab driver take him to Shawnee, from where he evidently went on with a job. The fourth prisoner's whereabouts were uncertain. No trace had been found. Three months ago the same four convicts, with two others, tunneled through the hospital and escaped. One of the six died of exposure and the other were captured.

Student Links Ladder to Crime

Ben Rupeca, Princeton University student at the time of the Lindbergh kidnaping, was prepared to go on the stand in the trial of Bruno Hauptmann and tell of having seen a car carrying a collapsible ladder, such as was used in the crime, in Featherbed Lane, near the Lindbergh home at Hopewell, N. J.

YOUTH GIVEN 99-YEAR TERM FOR A MURDER

WACO, Jan. 14.—Roy Curry, one of two youths charged with murdering Malcolm Stewart of Katy, Texas, on Nov. 17, was to be sentenced to 99 years in prison by District Judge D. W. Bartlett today. A jury in district court yesterday found Curry guilty of murder after deliberating 23 hours and set the sentence at 99 years. Stewart was killed when he resisted robbery. A companion of Curry's in the murder, Joe Averett, was sentenced to death on conviction on identical charges. He has appealed.

Rumor Links Mary and Buddy

Romance rumors rode hard on the heels of the divorce grant that freed Mary Pickford, right, from Douglas Fairbanks, linking the name of the mistress of Pickfair with that of "Buddy" Rogers, left, who came out of Olathe, Kan., to win fame as a juvenile star. Friends scoffed at the reports. Rogers is 28; Miss Pickford 41.

SURPRISE IS THROWN INTO KIDNAP CASE

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 14.—Three state witnesses added the weight of their evidence to identification of Bruno Hauptmann as the kidnaper of the Lindbergh baby. Hildegard Alexander, a tall and attractive clothing model, declared she saw Hauptmann spying on Dr. John Condon in a Bronx railroad station while Condon was talking to a telegraph operator shortly after the kidnaping in March, 1932. Eldridge Stein, the state's second handwriting expert to dissect the ransom notes, testified to his conclusion that they were written by Hauptmann. Albert Osborn, the highest paid handwriting expert in the world, maintained his conviction the ransom notes were all the product of the Bronx carpenter, despite a vigorous cross examination by Edward J. Reilly. Miss Alexander's testimony came as an electrifying surprise to the trial fans, who had settled down to listen to what they believed would be nothing but repetitious and dull handwriting testimony. The state's first surprise witness was subjected to a bitter cross examination for 20 minutes by the defense chief, but she steadfastly insisted on her story. Miss Alexander related how she had gone to the station to telephone her mother from a public booth. She walked to the far side of the writing room, she said, and saw Dr. Condon talking to a telegraph operator. Hauptmann, she said, was about 50 feet away from Jafsie, watching him intently. Hauptmann turned to a press correspondent and said: "I was never in that station. I guess the lady was looking for a movie camera."

Jafsie Daughter

Mrs. Ralph Harker, daughter of Dr. John F. Jafsie, is shown entering Hueston County (N. J.) courtroom, where she was expected to follow her father on the witness stand to testify in the trial of Bruno Hauptmann.

OFFICERS SAY ONE BANDIT IS LIKELY KILLED

Seven Shots Fired by Police On Residential Street of Ranger Sunday. Ranger police officers engaged in a running gun battle along one of the main residential streets of Ranger early Sunday morning with four suspected hijackers, in which one of the hijackers is thought to have been killed outright or fatally wounded. The running battle occurred on Young street shortly before 3 o'clock Sunday morning after word had been received that four men in a Buick coupe, bearing license numbers 318-318 had robbed filling stations in Breckenridge, Palo Pinto and Wink city and were headed toward Ranger. The car had been stolen in Olden about 10:30 Saturday night. Policemen Guy Fiedger and Jack Roach, when they received word from Strawn the hijackers had sped through that city headed toward Ranger, stationed themselves on the Strawn road near the outskirts of the city and waited for them. Soon the car was sighted and the two officers took up the chase, Fiedger driving and Roach manning a sub-machine gun, the same gun which was stolen from the Ranger armory and which was later taken from Raymond Hamilton when he was captured following a bank robbery in North Texas. The hijackers sped down Strawn road, with the officers in close pursuit, but no shots were fired as the four-man bandit party went in the direction of the main section of Ranger. The bandit car turned out Young street, with the police car about a block behind when Roach opened fire with the sub-machine gun. At Blundell street the fugitives turned south, going out the road by the Montgomery dairy. It did along this road made it impossible for the pursuing officers to see more than a few feet ahead, and at a cross road they took the wrong turn and lost the fleeing car. While the Ranger policemen were engaging in the chase in Ranger Sheriff Virge Foster and his deputies were just giving up a search for the stolen car south of Olden, where it was thought it had been taken, and were returning to Eastland. The bandits apparently doubled through Lone Cedar into Olden and headed north on the dirt road out of that town, as the coupe, with three bullet holes in the back, was found later Sunday morning a few miles north of Olden, burned. Another car, which was stolen in Ranger the same night, was also found about a mile nearer Olden with a flat tire, and officers believed that the same quartet of bandits had stolen the two cars and had left one in a pasture south of Olden. When they lost the pursuing officers they stopped for the second car and drove north of Olden, where the car used in the hijacking was abandoned and burned, apparently to obliterate bloodstains and fingerprints. The reason the officers believed that one man was probably fatally wounded is that three of the seven shots fired from the high-powered rifle, entered the back of the coupe under the glass, going out through the seat. With four men in the coupe it would have been almost impossible that the bullets would have missed the man sitting next to the driver, as all three bullet holes were within a four-inch circle that struck the middle of the back of one man when four got into the burned machine to determine the positions of the men in the car. Eastland county and Ranger officers searched the wooded section near where the car was found, all day Sunday trying to locate clues, but did not find any evidence that one of the men had been left dead in the vicinity of the burned car. No arrests have been made, but officers are still working on the case.

Petty Confers With Mineral Wells School Authorities Saturday

MINERAL WELLS, Jan. 14.—J. (Red) Petty, newly elected coach of the Mineral Wells school football team, visited Mineral Wells Saturday and conferred with local school authorities. Petty has taught and coached football at Eastland for two years. Mr. and Mrs. Petty will return to Mineral Wells Saturday, Jan. 15, and Mr. Petty will assume his coaching duties in the high school at the opening of the spring semester, Monday, Jan. 21.

Sunday Was Big Day at Methodist Church of Ranger

Yesterday was an unusually good day in the Methodist church. There was one re-instatement of membership at the night service. The officers of the Woman's Missionary society were installed in a special service today at 3 p. m. The stewards will meet in their monthly meeting tonight, the meeting beginning with a supper at 7:15. Each steward is requested to bring a guest. There will be a meeting of all Sunday school workers at the church next Monday night, Jan. 21. Plans will be completed at this time for participation in the district training school which will be conducted at Eastland during the week of Jan. 27.

Avalanche of New Bills Are Read In House at Session

AUSTIN, Jan. 14.—Legislators looked an avalanche of proposed new laws today as they prepared to adjourn until Wednesday for the inauguration of James V. Allred. When the clerk ceased reading the list of proposed measures there were 113 bills before the House and 16 proposals for changes in the state constitution. One proposed a centennial constitution to fit the second hundred years of Texas' independence. There were bills to again put in force the moratorium on real estate and the law against excess deficiency judgments, both of which were held invalid under former laws. The plan was revealed in the report of subcommittee of experts to the cabinet committee and goes to the white house where the president will bundle all the plans into a message to congress next week. The security program, as worked out by the subcommittee and which the cabinet group and the president are expected to adopt in its main points, provides: 1. Old age pensions of $50 a month for needy persons over 65. 2. Employment insurance to which labor would contribute 1 per cent of wages and industry 3 per cent of payroll. 3. A health insurance plan which would give free medical attention by private physicians, to those on work relief. 4. Extension of present work to protect child health. In some quarters it appeared that the $50 a month recommended for old age pension will be cut below $40 a month by the time congress starts actual work on drafting the bill. The fund to care for persons now eligible is to come from the public treasury, with the federal and state governments sharing equally the cost. It is clearly intended that only aged persons who have no immediate relatives upon whom to depend, or whose families are unemployed and needy will share in the pension fund. The proposed legislation likely will provide for later working out a method of contribution by industry and workers by which the latter may be pensioned upon reaching the age limit. A similar method of contribution to provide workers with insurance against temporary unemployment was the subject of much controversy in the subcommittee. A sizeable majority was in favor of the entire contribution coming from industry. A vigorous minority, in which liberals from both labor and industry were represented, held out for a 1 per cent levy on wages to be added to the 3 per cent on payrolls which industry would pay. It was indicated the cabinet committee would have a division of opinion on this question. The subcommittee proposed funds be turned over to local federal reserve banks. The federal government would withdraw perhaps one-third and hold it in the treasury, to back up supervision of the plan, to see that states matched the federal contribution according to their agreements, and to provide emergency funds to meet extraordinary conditions. The committee pointed out that industries which begin to contrib-

ROOSEVELT'S SWEEPING PLAN FOR WAGE EARNERS' SECURITY IS BEING WORKED INTO LAW

By LYLE A. BROOKOVER, United Press Staff Correspondent (Copyright 1935 by United Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—President Roosevelt's sweeping social legislation plan contemplates security for the wage earner, independence for the aged, and health insurance for needy and children, the United Press learned today. The plan was revealed in the report of subcommittee of experts to the cabinet committee and goes to the white house where the president will bundle all the plans into a message to congress next week. Stolen Car Is Found Stripped Near Olden

A 1929 model Ford coupe, which was stolen from Dr. W. L. Downham in Ranger Saturday night, was found Sunday south of Olden. The car had been stripped by the thieves.

Gang Ride Victim Found In Chicago

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Frank Abriogani, found shot to death in his parked automobile on the west side today, apparently the second "gang ride" victim in Chicago in the past 24 hours. The body was found slumped over the steering wheel. The window on the driver's side had been rolled down and shots fired through the opening, police said. He was shot in the left hand and in the head. The killing followed closely on discovery of another ride victim. He was Frank Panio, known to the police as a veteran of 150 arrests as a pickpocket. He was thrown from a car and shot to death in the streets yesterday.

Cold Wave Missed Most of the State

The cold wave that was to have visited Texas passed east today and, except for the Panhandle, Texas escaped freezing weather. "The worst of the cold spell is over," Dr. J. L. Cline, federal meteorologist here, said, and rising temperatures were forecast for tonight and Tuesday. CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—A cold wave, almost equaling the winter's worst, swept the northwestern plains and the great lakes today, dropping temperatures to 20 below in the Dakotas and near the zero mark as far south of Central Illinois. Snow was predicted for this afternoon or tomorrow in Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan and Ohio. The northwest was warned to prepare for another blizzard of the type that smothered highways under drifts Saturday and sent thermometer plunging to their depths.

Women's Chamber Of Commerce Active

CRYSTAL CITY, Texas, Jan. 14.—The little city boasts of one of the most and strongest feminine chambers of commerce in the nation. Its official title is the Crystal City Women's Chamber of Commerce and has been in existence six years. The organization works closely with the men's chamber, but is separate in every detail. It is a commercial group, civic improvement and a charity and culture organization. The group has constructed a community building, completed a park beautification project and sponsored a city library. It established a garbage disposal system, tore down signs which marred the beauty of the town, and obtained enactment of a curfew ordinance.

NO SEPTEMBER MORNINGS

SALEM, Ore.—Salem finds itself a veritable cesspool of sin and disorderliness. An old blue law passed in 1896, and still on the books, makes it unlawful for anyone to go swimming in the city "without being clothed from the neck to the knee in clothing that shall be thick enough to conceal his person."

HIGH COURT WILL RULE ON NEGRO VOTES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The supreme court today decided to entertain a challenge of the validity of the Texas State Democratic party organization's action in barring negroes from party primaries. The court acted on an appeal brought by R. R. Grovery, a negro citizen of Harris county, who was refused an absentee ballot to vote in the Democratic primary July 28, 1934. The refusal was based on the action of the 1932 democratic state convention, which passed a resolution admitting only white citizens to party membership. Since the democratic primary virtually decides election, Grovery contended he was deprived of his franchise. The question of the power of party in the south to bar negroes from the primaries has been before the supreme court several times. The universe, say scientists, is expanding at a rapid rate. Can't someone please call this to the attention of Huey Long?

Parakeet Had No Chance to Give Alarm

HOUSTON, Jan. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ames' parakeet had no chance to warn them when a burglar entered their home recently because the intruder wrung the bird's neck and tossed the body out of a window while they slept. "Our parakeet might have awakened us if she had not been killed," Mrs. Ames said. "She could say a few words, and she often amused us by calling my husband like I do—'Oh, WHP!'"

Oil Cases Delayed In District Court

AUSTIN, Jan. 14.—Oil cases vital to the state's regulation of transporting refined oil products out of the East Texas field scheduled for trial in district court here today, were delayed until later this week.

PORT COLBORNE, Ont.—Inclusion of Miss Helen Kinnear, local lawyer, in the list of lawyers named King's Counsel by the Ontario government is believed to be the first time this courtesy appointment had been bestowed on a woman.

PLENTY OF SALMON

JUNEAU, Alaska.—Magnitude of Alaska's 1934 salmon industry was such that the fish packed, if laid end to end, would reach around the earth at the Equator, an estimate by the packers' association showed. Enough would be left to extend from Canada to Mexico.

Thieves Now Steal Bicycles In Houston

HOUSTON, Jan. 14.—Thieves have turned to stealing bicycles here and are making a profit. More than 700 wheels were taken during 1934 and were valued at $13,000. A. O. Taylor, bicycle theft investigator, reported, however, that his department recovered about $7,200 worth and made 250 arrests.

Extension of Power Of RFC Is Sought

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The administration has decided to seek legislation extending the lending power of the RFC for two more years. Jesse Jones, chairman, said today after a conference with President Roosevelt. Jones cited various reasons as to the necessity for the extension, pointing out the Commodity Credit Corporation needs more assistance as well as export and import banks.

DOG THIEVES ACTIVE

KIRKSVILLE, Mo.—Officers are tracing an organized gang of dog thieves that has been operating in northeast Missouri. One of the men had been left dead in the vicinity of the burned car. No arrests have been made, but officers are still working on the case.

Labels of Our Beliefs Changed In Value

The labels which we use to describe various human activities—such words as "radical," "conservative," "progressive," and so on—are useful things, since they serve to classify intangibles in a handy, card-index manner.

The interesting thing about them, however, is the fact that their value changes from year to year without our knowing it.

Half a dozen years ago this speech—calling, as it did, for a network of old age pensions, unemployment insurance schemes, collective use of certain natural resources, and the addition of 3,500,000 men to the federal payroll—would have sent shivers up and down some millions of honest American backs.

Coming when it did, it was rather generally accepted as a "middle of the road" venture. Many people even saw in it a swing toward the right.

The old labels which we attached to such projects a few years ago have lost their meaning; and that has happened simply because we have moved out from under them.

Consider another example: The recent campaign speech of Premier R. B. Bennett of Canada, which called for "an end to the reckless exploitation of human resources and the trafficking in the health and happiness of Canadian citizens."

Premier Bennett's program, in its essentials, seems to be more or less a duplication of President Roosevelt's. It calls for unemployment insurance, a revamped old age pension plan, insurance against sickness and accident, new income tax laws to correct unequal distribution of wealth, and a system of minimum wage and maximum hour laws for labor.

Now the point, right here, is not whether the voters of Canada give Mr. Bennett a mandate to put this scheme into effect, or retire him and give someone else a chance. It is the simple fact that a Canadian premier, like an American president, has advanced a program which would have seemed startlingly radical if it had been suggested as recently as 1928.

What has happened, of course, is that our viewpoint has changed under the impact of the blows dealt by the depression. We no longer look at things as we used to; and before we pin any more labels on new proposals, we would do well to examine the labels carefully and see if they mean the same things that they used to mean.

We have simply moved out from under our favorite figures of speech.

Rode Horse to Classes For Over 46 Years

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, Jan. 14.—Prof. J. L. Pritchett saddled his horse and rode to his classes at Sam Houston State Teachers college for 46 years, but ill health finally forced him to resign and stay indoors.
His connection with the college has not been severed, however, because Dr. H. F. Estill, president, who accepted his resignation, appointed him professor emeritus of mathematics. A faculty committee drew up resolutions commending him for his long service as a teacher.

A daily dog walking service has been started in New York, so now the dogs' owners won't have to take even that much exercise any longer.

COL. ROSCOE TURNER, holder of the transcontinental records west-to-east and east-to-west. "A good flier uses up energy just as his motor uses gas. A Camel gives me a 'red' in energy. I smoke all I want. Camels never upset my nerves."

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE
NRA Service Staff Writer

IT'S a pity that food economy to the average housekeeper seems to mean drabness. A pity—because the premise is all wrong. True, you may have to put your thinking cap on a little more frequently to make your meals attractive when you have only a little money to spend, but what of that? What have you got a mind for, anyway?

It's the attention to detail that makes food perfect, not the money you spend on it. The family can be as well nourished on stews and pot roasts as on expensive roasts and steaks. And if the stews and pot roasts are nicely done, the consumers will be just as happy, too, as when eating steak.

Desserts of ginger breads, spice cakes and eggless steamed puddings are especially good during the cold months and cheap to make. Apples and dried fruits may be used in numerous ways for delicious desserts. Canned fruits, too.

Flank Steak Is Good Value

Rolling flank steak is not dear and furnishes extra-good food value. Plan to serve a rolled flank steak some day when there is baking to do. Cook the meat while you are doing the baking in the morning. Then at dinner time reheat the oven for an hour and bake the extra vegetable or pudding while the meat is finishing. The steak will cook in the heat of the cooking oven and also in its own heat in the morning so an hour at dinner time is enough to thoroughly cook the dish. Scalloped the accompanying potatoes and bake the beans. Add apple ring salad and eggless steamed pudding.

Rolling Flank Steak

The steak should be scored by the butcher or you can do it yourself at home. Make a paste of 1-2 teaspoon mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar and 3 tablespoons vinegar. Spread meat with paste.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Chilled tomato juice with lemon, cereal, cream, buckwheat pancakes, syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Celery and rice in egg sauce, lettuce sandwiches, sliced bananas in raspberry gelatine, vanilla cookies, milk, tea.

DINNER: Rolled flank steak, scalloped potatoes, baked beans, apple ring salad, eggless steamed pudding, milk, coffee.

cover with stuffing, roll, and tie. dredge with flour and bake as suggested for two hours in a slow oven.

Stuffing: Two cups stale coarse bread crumbs, 3 tablespoons melted bacon fat or butter or butter substitute, 1 teaspoon minced onion, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon salt, hot water.

Mix salt, pepper and onion with bread crumbs. Add melted fat and mix lightly with a fork. Add 3 tablespoons boiling water and cover mixing bowl closely. Let stand ten minutes and then mix with a fork. Add more water if necessary, but the stuffing should not be sticky or pasty.

Steamed Pudding

Eggless steamed pudding is one of my pet dishes, easy to make and good to eat. Take three tablespoons shortening, 1-2 cup molasses, 1-2 cup milk, 1 cup pastry flour, 2-3 cup graham flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon soda, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-4 teaspoon each cloves, allspice and nutmeg, 1 cup steamed dates cut in small pieces.

Melt shortening and add molasses and milk. Mix and sift salt and spices with white flour. Stir in soda which has been dissolved in 2 teaspoons cold water. Turn into an oiled mold, cover and steam two and one-half hours. Serve warm with liquid sauce and a garnish of whipped cream.

Wrestling Bear to Be On Elk Program

The re-opening of the Elks wrestling arena will be held tonight with an unusual feature on the preliminary bout, with Andy, a 400 pound bear wrestling two of the best wrestlers seen in this part of the country. The two who will wrestle with the bear are Leo Kodrick, the Little Giant, and Dutch Aultman, the German wrestler, who will attempt to pin the bear's shoulders to the mat.

Andy is a real, live bear and has been successful in most of his bouts with the toughest wrestlers.

The main event will be a two-hour time limit match for the best two out of three falls. This match brings together two worthy opponents in Tuffy McMullen, 156-pounder from Breckenridge, and Mervin Barackman, 125-pounder and champion of Canada and the Northwest.

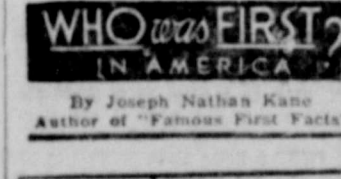

In the last appearance here of McMullen, some two years ago, he defeated Bobby Novack of Chicago. McMullen has greatly improved in his profession and will no doubt give the champion a hard battle.

This is ladies' night and one lady will be admitted with each 25-cent or 35-cent paid admission.

The federal government is planning to help out the 46 states that are paying widows' pensions. But won't that encourage some wives to get rid of their husbands sooner?
