PROGRAM FOR BANQUET HAS BEEN FORMED

At a meeting of the committees charge of the Chamber of Commerce-Retail Merchants banquet, held Thursday night, Feb. 14, the program was completed and arrangements were made.

L. H. Flewelling is to act as master of the occasion. The program will open with the singing "America," led by Rev. H. H. Stephens, pastor of Central Baptist Church.

Following the invocation the dinner will be served after which the toastmaster will introduce the guest speakers.

Edwin George, Jr., will make a short talk on the Retail Merchants Association.

The Cooper School Trio, composed of Mildred Denton, Margaret Adkins and Fern Allen McHenry, accompanied by Mrs. E. Meroney, will present two pieces.

J. E. Meroney, president of the Chamber of Commerce, will then make a short talk on the organization he heads.

A blackface skit will be presented by Mrs. Lee Galley after Mr. Meroney's talk and it will be followed by the principal address of the evening.

Judge Charles Combes of Stamford, who is to deliver the main address, needs no introduction to the citizens of Ranger, as he has appeared on banquet programs in Ranger on several occasions.

That he has been asked back this year is, in itself, enough of a commendation of his powers as a speaker and a story teller of ability.

Judge Combes is one of the most popular speakers and entertainers to appear on a banquet program in Ranger and the tentative program of the banquet was changed on Tuesday night until Thursday night in order that he might be able to be present.

Much of his "fireside radio chat" with Texans tonight will be devoted to the message he sent the legislature asking repeal of the race law, he said today.

Confirmed

Mrs. Harrah Hughes, state representative from Dallas, who was confirmed as district judge of Dallas by the Texas Senate, Mrs. Hughes has been a member of the Texas legislature for three terms and is the first woman ever to be appointed as a district judge in Texas. She is a law partner of her husband.

Allred To Speak On Betting Law Repeal In 'Chat'

AUSTIN, Feb. 12.—Governor James V. Allred will pick up a telephone tonight and discuss with the 6,000,000 stockholders of the State of Texas the necessity of repealing the horse race gambling law.

Much of his "fireside radio chat" with Texans tonight will be devoted to the message he sent the legislature asking repeal of the race law, he said today.

His radio address at 7:30 p. m. will be the second since his inauguration. He will speak in his office by telephone relay to a broadcasting station.

STATE ARGUES KIDNAP CASE AGAINST BRUNO

FLEMINGTON, Feb. 12.—Attorney General David Willentz today charged Bruno Hauptmann "crushed the Lindbergh baby to death or insensibility, even before he left the nursery."

The attorney general's summation came during a dramatic case against the Bronx carpenter, in which he had flayed the array of "false witnesses" brought to testify for him.

In a sense his charge was a reversal of the theory that the child met death by accident while the kidnaper was descending his ladder from the nursery window.

MAN IS TAKEN "FOR A RIDE" NEAR HOUSTON

DAYTON, Tex., Feb. 12.—The body of a man, about 25, believed to be from Houston, was dumped from an automobile on the Houston-Beaumont highway three miles west of here today.

The machine, a coupe, sped on toward Beaumont.

The victim was shot four times, twice in the stomach, once in the head and once in the neck. He had been strangled with his own necktie and had been dead only a short time, Sheriff Pat Lowe of Liberty said.

Two farmers told Sheriff Lowe they saw the machine but failed to notice who was in it. The body, still warm, was thrown to the roadside 200 yards off the highway. It was clad in two-piece underwear, shirt, tie and a glove.

BEAUMONT, Feb. 12.—A coupe, believed the one from which a dead man was thrown today, was found an hour and a half later at Spindletop, near here, abandoned and on fire.

BEAUMONT, Feb. 12.—Investigation by officers today revealed that an automobile found abandoned and burned at Spindletop, near here, which was believed the one used in the "ride murder" of a man near Dayton, belonged to a Port Arthur man.

The owner said he loaned the car to two friends, who later reported the machine caught fire.

Funeral for Son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Seed on Tuesday

Funeral services were scheduled to be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Methodist church in Eastland for Douglas Seed, one year and 11 months infant of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Seed, Rev. E. R. Stanford of the Methodist church was to officiate. Burial will be at Straw cemetery in Strawn.

The infant was fatally injured Sunday afternoon when he stumbled, fell and hit a rocker of a chair, breaking his neck, and thirty minutes later died in Payne Lovett hospital at Eastland.

Ticket Sales For Banquet Indicate A Good Attendance

Between 80 and 90 tickets for the Chamber of Commerce-Retail Merchants banquet had been sold by Tuesday morning, it was reported today, while several others had reserved tickets for which payment had not been made.

Based on the first day's sales, and considering that one or two committees had not been able to work, the showing made was considered quite gratifying, and it is expected that between 125 and 150 will be present Thursday night.

Pasadena Tornado Does Much Damage

PASADENA, Cal., Feb. 12.—Winds reaching tornado force today cost thousands of dollars damage in the San Gabriel foothills, injured dozens of people and ripped sections of the roof off the grand stand at the Santa Anita race course.

TWO RECEIVE FIVE YEARS IN ROBBERY CASE

BRECKENRIDGE, Feb. 12.—Two Eastland county youths, 18 and 19 years old, sat alone in the 90th district courtroom Monday morning waiting to hear the verdict of a jury before they could sum up the profit and loss of their decision on Jan. 12 of "going on a hi-jacking."

The youths, farm boys, whose confessions pointed to suggestions from others, at that time had for their career of crime, which included hi-jacking the Pittman Filling Station in Breckenridge and a station at Metcalf Gap, according to their confessions, the sum of four or five dollars each and a few weeks in jail here, while they wondered how much more the jury would add on the red side of the ledger.

One of them, Harlon Massey, had still another picture parading before him—a wife about to become a mother.

When Judge Carl Haslin asked if either had anything to say as they sat alone before the bar of justice, Massey, a previous short term in his credit in the penitentiary, stood up and with quivering voice, almost breaking to tears, asked the jury for mercy, not for himself but because of that wife.

District Attorney Ben Dean in outlining the case for the jury pointed to the gravity of the crime saying the youths had nothing to recommend clemency except their youth and their confessions. That he asked only justice and was glad that it was not he who had to decide the case, but that it should come from a cross section of the people.

The jury filed slowly out and returned over an hour later and gave the youths five years each to think about and serve.

Keel implicated. The confessions of the two youths implicated Vernon Smith, who will be tried separately as he will contest the case, and L. C. Keel, Ranger, now sought by local officers as the "brains" of the hi-jackings.

Keel is remembered in Breckenridge, where he made several public addresses some time ago.

In the confessions read to the jury it was stated that the youths went to a skating rink at Olney after discussing plans for a hi-jacking on the evening of Jan. 12. "Smith and I went over and waited by the church and Massey went out and stole a Buick automobile," it said in part. In the car were some articles of clothing and the confession said the boys "went to the home of L. C. Keel in Ranger" and "left the clothing found in the car."

Hi-jacking planned. They had talked of "going on a hi-jacking. Keel and Massey were the ones that mentioned it to Smith and me. All agreed to divide." He added that Keel gave him a gun and they drove to Breckenridge to a filling station and called out the man and ordered some gasoline. Colburn continued on page 2.

Carriers Are Still Working On Contest To Win A Bicycle

In addition to the credits being given to the Times carrier boys for the subscriptions they bring in or the news items they furnish the paper during the month of the bicycle contest, for one week a credit of 5,000 points will be given for each want ad that is brought in.

During that week, too, the customer who places the want ad in the paper will get a bargain, as it will be run five days for the regular price of three insertions.

At this reduced price no want ads will be charged and cash must accompany the order for its insertion in the paper.

All the boys in the contest are working hard to win the bicycle, which has been on display in the Killingsworth, Cox show windows, and each is confident of winning.

Some of the boys fell behind on the first week of the campaign, but they are working hard this week, in spite of the rainy weather, in an effort to overtake the lead.

Reeser Home Burns Monday

The home of Morris Reeser, blind resident of the Lackland addition of Ranger, was completely destroyed by fire early Monday night while the family was away at the home of a neighbor on a visit. The fire is supposed to have caught from a wood stove that was left burning in the house.

GARRETT FILES APPLICATION IN FT. WORTH

Fifteen Projects Are In List Submitted For The County.

Eastland County through County Judge Clyde L. Garrett has submitted 15 possible Public Works Administration Projects that aggregate $971,000.00.

The projects were submitted Saturday by Judge Garrett to Julian Montgomery state PWA engineer, at Fort Worth.

Garrett with others from 13 outlying counties attended the Fort Worth meet.

The projects range from a county wide repair of school bus routes estimated to cost $300,000 to a repair of the county indigent home.

Purchase of land, in event any are approved, would cost $7,700. The projects:

All weather road from Eastland through Desdemona to Erath county line, $112,500, land cost $1,000. The project would give a short route to Stephenville connection link between highway No. 1 and 67 at Eastland and No. 10 at Stephenville.

All weather highway from Carbon to Rising Star, $67,000, land cost $600. It would serve as a connecting link between highway 23 and 129 at Rising Star with highway 67 at Carbon.

Rebuild hard surface road from Ranger north to Stephens county line, $14,800, land cost $200. It would serve as a connection between highway No. 1 at Ranger with highway No. 1A at Caddo.

All weather road from Cisco through Strawn to Callahan county line, $600,000, land cost $750. It would serve the rich farming belt inland towns with highway 1, 23 and 187.

Reshoulder paved road from Ranger west connecting with highway 67, $44,000, land cost $1,000. The reshoulder would call for widening of the road's base to bring up to standard highway specifications.

Pioneer to connect Cisco-Strawn road, $75,000 land cost $750. Would allow outlet to highways No. 1, 23 and 187 at Cisco and connect with highway 129 at Pioneer.

GHASTLY MEMORY OF LINCOLN ASSINATION HAUNTS WOMAN, BACKSTAGE AS BOOTH FIRED FATAL SHOTS

By NEA Service
Huron, S. D., Feb. 12.—On this day when millions of Americans are thinking of the humble birth and towering life of Abraham Lincoln, a little old lady of this town is thinking overpoweringly of his tragic death.

The passing of 70 years has not dimmed the picture of that horrible moment for Mrs. Nelson Armstrong. As a young actress she was backstage in Ford's Theatre the night Booth's murderous pistol shots cut through the light comedy of the play to present a sudden and stark tragedy.

Mrs. Armstrong was then the child-wife of Edwin Brink, whom she had married at 15 shortly before the tragedy. Through her husband she was soon playing small parts with the troupe. She will remember John Wilkes Booth, Lincoln's assassin, as a popular and light-hearted player.

He was always ready for gaiety when with the company, and never struck anyone as particularly serious.

Recalls Puzzling Remark
The play presented that fateful night of April 14 was "Our American Cousin"—a fill-in while Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream" was being rehearsed, for the Ford's Theatre company was at that time specializing in Shakespeare.

Kitty Brink did not have a role in "Our American Cousin," but her husband did. Kitty was relegated to the dressing rooms to help make up the other actors.

Burned Into Her Mind
Here is the way the events of that night burned themselves into the brain of the child actress so that the little old lady still remembers them:

Everything backstage was going along in routine fashion despite the fact that we were conscious of President Lincoln's presence. The knowledge circulated backstage just as he arrived, soon after the curtain rose. We weren't too excited over that, as he often came to Ford's Theatre during the war, for relaxation.

It was near the end of the second—or third—act, at about 10 o'clock, when "things happened." In the dressing rooms we heard two indistinct noises. We thought nothing much about it until we heard shouts both from the stage and from the auditorium. Realizing that the shouts were foreign to the lines of the play, we stepped into a little hallway.

Winter Events Vary With the Weather

New England weather prophets are muttering in their beards these days. All bets on the weather are off in Vermont because a Burlington hunter shot the groundhog just before groundhog day, while in Maine a flock of wild geese was seen heading due north during one of the coldest spells of the winter, leading people to suspect that something is wrong either with the winter or the geese.

But these incidents are only samples of the general midwinter topsy-turviness.

The Japanese government announces that it will seek to restore friendship between Japan and China, and on the same day starts 4000 men heading for the borders of Chahar province with all the implements of war.

Lupe Velez and Johnny Weissmuller have undergone their 11th reconciliation and the State of Nevada has filed suit to collect taxes on ten steamships operated out of the port of New York.

The chief of the fire department at Marblehead, Mass., has resigned because he can't induce his firemen to go to fires with him any more, and a merchant in Birmingham, Ala., has won a $500 verdict against his lodge brothers because they kicked him in the pants while giving him a fraternal initiation.

A New York gentleman is taken in by the police for begging, and he explains in court that he was simply standing in the street with his hat off so that the breeze would make his hair grow, and could be helped if well-meaning strangers dropped $3 worth of nickels and dimes into his hat while he was doing it?

Meanwhile, a St. Louis girl, who couldn't take time off from her job to go to the marriage license bureau, sends a girl friend off with her fiancé to get the document, and learns to her horror that the two not only obtained the license, but got married with it.

The sheriff of Robertson county, Tenn., running shy of deputies, has taken to arresting people by telephone and reports that so far no one has refused to come in to the jail and be locked up on request. Another telephone angle gets into the day's news when a New York phone girl has her ex-sweetie arrested for calling her up 135 times in one evening.

And, to cap the climax, Chicago detectives arrest two colored men for trying to operate a "rent a gun and shoot it yourself" agency, seizing the 28 revolvers with which the men were equipped and lodging the men in jail.

To all of which you may add whatever moral seems to you possible in the circumstances.

Human nature is pretty much the same everywhere. It resents being driven in any way.

Income Tax In A Nutshell

Losses on Stock Transactions

No gain or loss is recognized for income-tax purposes as a result of the exchange of stock or securities in a corporation solely for stock or securities in another corporation in pursuance of a plan of reorganization to which both corporations are parties or as a result of the exchange of stock or securities in a corporation solely for stock or securities in the same corporation in connection with a recapitalization. Where money or other property is received along with such exchanges, no loss is recognized, although a taxable gain may result. The statute also prohibits the deduction for any loss from the sale or other disposition of stock or securities where the taxpayer, within a period of 30 days before or after the date of sale or other disposition, acquires or enters into a contract or option to acquire substantially identical stock or securities.

Two important changes are made by section 112 of the Revenue Act of 1934. Under section 112 (g) of the Revenue Act of 1932 no taxable gain was recognized as having resulted to the recipient stockholders of a corporation from a distribution of stock or securities in such corporation or in another corporation, a party to a reorganization, without the surrender of the stock in respect of which the distribution was made. These provisions are entirely omitted from the Revenue Act of 1934, thus giving such distributions the status of dividend distributions paid in property.

The other important change is in the definition of the term "reorganization" as contained in section 112 (g) of the Revenue Act of 1934. In section 112 (i) (1) (A) of the Revenue Act of 1932 the term "reorganization" is defined to mean "a merger or consolidation (including the acquisition by one corporation of at least a majority of the voting stock and at least a majority of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of another corporation, or substantially all the properties of another corporation)." The corresponding provisions of section 112 (g) of the Revenue Act of 1934 define the term "reorganization" as "(A) a statutory merger or consolidation, or (B) the acquisition by one corporation in exchange solely for all or a part of its voting stock of at least 85 percentum of the voting stock and at least 80 percentum of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of another corporation; or of substantially all the properties of another corporation." The remaining provisions of section 112 (g) (1) are substantially the same as the provisions of section 112 (i) (1) (B), (C), and (D) of the Revenue Act of 1932.

Phil Kenamer To Plead Insanity And Self Defense

By United Press
PAWNEE, Okla., Feb. 12.—Phil Kenamer was insane when he fired two fatal shots into his friend, John Gorrell's head, last Thanksgiving, but is sane now, his counsel contended today.
Kenamer, 19-year-old son of U. S. Judge Franklin Kenamer, is on trial for his life in the slaying. The charge was premeditated.
Defense attorneys said a temporary insanity plea would be entered, coupled with self defense. This was indicated yesterday, but defense announcement was the first definite confirmation from the defense.

Judge Hughes Wins A Second Victory

AUSTIN, Feb. 12.—Judge Sarah Hughes of Dallas won her second victory today on the heels of her confirmation as first woman district judge in Texas.
The bill she had offered as a state representative to require examination of all applicants for licenses to practice law was engrossed by a vote of 91 yes and 34 noes.

Italy Demands A Formal Apology

Rome, Feb. 12.—Italy demanded of the Abyssinian government today a formal salute of the Italian flag in apology for the attack on native troops by Abyssinian tribesmen.

Demands made were announced as members of the supreme defense commission, called only in emergency, gathered for a meeting under Premier Mussolini to consider military phases of the crisis.

As mobilization proceeded, Italian outposts in Somaliland reported that 30,000 Ethiopians were massed on the frontier where preparations seemed being rushed.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—If you never happened to think how completely you're governed by lawyers, this seems like a good time. The president, who proposes the New Deal laws, is an ex-lawyer. Congress, which mulls over and passes them, is made up chiefly of lawyers. A host of lawyers in the federal agencies helps prepare and administer legislation and then sends it to the courts.
Most of the administrators are lawyers—Richberg, Ickes, Hull, and so on. Finally, the laws are approved or tossed out by nine ex-lawyers known as the Supreme Court.

That last group of lawyers has just expressed an angry peevishness against the rest of the game and served notice that both the laws and the cases before the court must be properly prepared.
One result of this blast is likely to be a shakeup in the solicitor general's office at the Department of Justice.

This interpretation of the court's rejection of Section 3c of NIRA in the oil case, first big test of New Deal legislation—is the one I get after distilling a couple of days' interviewing of many of those other lawyers.
Everybody had known the oil case was a weak one, though whether most blame should attach to the Justice Department for dragging it to the court or to the Petroleum Board for insisting on fighting it through is still being debated.

THE enforcement section of the oil code had been inadvertently omitted at one time, which threw the code out from consideration in this case and left only the presidential regulations.
Everybody had known the oil case was a weak one, though whether most blame should attach to the Justice Department for dragging it to the court or to the Petroleum Board for insisting on fighting it through is still being debated.

Here's How You Can Do IT!

1. Get permission of your parents to let you sell something for which your family has no further need; a baby buggy, half-bed, rocking chair, bookcase, roller skates, ball, bat, ANYTHING YOU HAVE TO SELL.

2. Work up a classified advertisement about it, count the words, multiply the words by .04c and send it with the money by the carrier you want to help.

THE CARRIER WILL BE GIVEN 5,000 EXTRA POINTS IN THE CONTEST.

The Ranger Times will run the advertisement 5 days, which is 2 days FREE—as the money you send in only pays for three days at the regular rate!

AND—

You will make a little spending money!

Under The Dome At Austin

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Tex.—Gov. Allred has found a cure for hay fever—at least for his hay fever.

Miss Mary Toomey of Dallas suggested the remedy when she was here to attend the governor's inauguration.

Therefore, Miss Toomey and the Dallas News which sent her here to report the inaugural social functions, are high in the governor's esteem.

Some will scoff at Allred's recovery, saying hay fever stops anyway in February. But the scoffers are not acquainted with the governor's type of hay fever.

Allred describes his as the "January and February kind."

The cure? Well, there are varied kinds of hay fever, and it might not work in your case.

The heavy growth of cedars on the hills about Austin is blamed by many for the prevalence of hay fever. So strong is this belief that bills have been placed before the legislature calling for wholesale removal of the pollen spreading cedars in areas near state institutions.

Greenhorn on a Longhorn

Bob Zupke, who guides the gridiron destinies of the University of Illinois, is one of the greatest wranglers of football players extant—but when it comes to bulldozing Texas Longhorn steers, the genial Zup prefers to sit down on the job. Here he is planted between the wide horns of the beastie after a cowboy pacified the animal on a ranch near Phoenix, Ariz., where the coach is vacationing.

Debate Teams From Eastland High Are Eliminated Early

Eastland Girl's Debate team participating in the invitation tournament at Fort Worth Sunday defeated Denton in the first four rounds and were defeated by Breckenridge in the second.

The boys team was eliminated by Thomas Jefferson High school team from San Antonio in the first rounds.

A boys team from San Jacinto High School at Houston and a girl's team from Breckenridge High school were first place winners in the tourney.

The Houston team was opposed in the finals by Thomas Jefferson High School of San Antonio. Fourteen boys' teams and 10 girls' teams participated in the debates.

Eastland girl debaters were June Hyer and Carolyn Doss. Boys were Frank Hatten and Edward Stanford. Miss Doris Powell, sponsor, and Mary Frances Hunter accompanied the group on the trip.

OKLAHOMANS DISILLUSIONED
By United Press
BOSTON.—It seems that Oklahomans have been disillusioned about certain historic landmarks in Boston. Searching for the Bunker Hill monument, four Oklahoma tourists discovered what they believed was it—a 15-foot shaft in Somerville Square. To make sure they were admiring the right monument they asked Henry L. White. He told them it was a World War memorial.

JUDGE OUSTED PICTURE
By United Press
QUINCY, Mass.—District Judge Kenneth Johnson ruled with a heavy hand recently. A colored calendar with a languorous-looking girl's picture on it had been tacked to the wall of the courtroom, but remained only a short time.

The judge ordered it replaced by a more conservative calendar, because the attention of too many witnesses and lawyers had been distracted by it.

IN GREENLAND...
UNTIL THE WHITE MAN CAME IN, ESKIMOS DEPENDED ON METEORS TO FURNISH THEM WITH IRON FOR MAKING TOOLS.

GREENLAND has been the landing place of many large meteorites, and from these great boulders the Eskimos pounded bits of metal—mere flakes—which they inserted in the cutting edges of their harpoon points. Admiral Peary brought a 14 lb. meteorite from Greenland.

Legislators are having a difficult time answering a question asked by truck operators. The question:

"Why are motor buses with as much as 36,000 pounds gross load allowed to use the state highways while trucks are limited to 7,000 pounds?"

Some legislators have attempted to answer the question with a bill raising the maximum truck load to 14,000 pounds. The 14,000 pound load now is permitted as long as it does not come into competition with the railroads—that is, a 14,000 pound truck load may move from the fields, warehouses or processing plants to the nearest common carrier depot.

A visit of the unemployed to the legislature proved a fizzle, as far as anything spectacular was concerned.

The "delegates" were received cordially, invited to name a spokesman. They did, a former S. M. U. student.

The spokesman made a good impression, waved no bloody shirt, failed to tear his hair, read the unemployed demands clearly.

The demands were spread on the record. Some of them already are embodied in bills, some may be, others will be ignored.

Austin took the attitude that the unemployed have a right to be heard whenever they wish; also, that when unemployed come to the city they need not expect to be maintained by the city.

An appeal to Gov. Allred to order rationing failed to get results. Personally, Allred invited those making the appeal to join him in his noonday bowl of chili.

Rep. Joe Greathouse of Fort Worth is going about with the toes of both shoes cut out, exposing his white socks. Cause: an attack of athlete's foot.

Rep. Joe Wells of Corsicana is a busy man these days. He is studying for University of Texas examinations, attending the legislative sessions and committee meetings. Next week he will take the examinations, the following week he will marry.

Dr. R. H. Montgomery, professor of economics at the University of Texas, was a traveling salesman before he became an instructor.

For 14 years Dr. Montgomery has been at Texas holding what he calls "the best job in the world." Other positions pay more salary, but he prefers his job.

Much of the result of his 14 years of study of utilities has been put in a bill now before the legislature as the "Administration Measure."

Before the bill was offered it was read by 76 legislators.

Tulsa Murder Trial Mystery Deepened by Younger Set's Thrill Escapades

Accused of a murder around which a fabric of weird mystery has been woven, Philip Kennamer, 19, left, son of Federal Judge F. E. Kennamer, of Tulsa, Okla., will go on trial contending that he accidentally killed John Gorrell, Jr. Back of the tragedy is a bizarre story of the Tulsa younger set, with too much of money, striving for new thrills. Vague tales are told of youthful crime cliques, holdups, kidnap and extortion threats and terror rings, of pampered youths at orgies in shady dives. Scores of the younger wealthy set were questioned after the killing and the mystery then was deepened when Sidney Born, Jr., shown lower right, was found shot to death in his car, apparently a suicide. Born was a close friend of Kennamer.

Gorrell, shown at extreme right, son of a prominent Tulsa man, plotted to extort $20,000 from H. F. Wilcox, oil magnate, under threat to kidnap his beautiful daughter, Virginia, 19, shown above, Kennamer alleges. Gorrell wrote the extortion note and gave it to Kennamer to mail, according to the prisoner's story. A few nights later, as the pair rode in a fashionable section of Tulsa, Kennamer says he told Gorrell that he did not mail the letter and was keeping it to foil the plot. He declares that Gorrell then tried to shoot him and, in the struggle for the gun, Gorrell was killed, the body being found in the car the same night, the gun by its side, as shown in the picture above. Kennamer, in jail, scoffed at an insanity defense.

Born was a close friend of Kennamer.

SILKEN SPINDLES

BEGIN HERE TODAY Gale Henderson, pretty and 23, works in a silk mill. She and her 19-year-old brother, Phil, support their invalid father. Steven Meyers, who also works in the mill, asks Gale to marry him. She promises to give him an answer in a few days. Gale goes skating, breaks thru the ice and is rescued by Brian Westmore, whose father, now dead, built the mill. Brian has come home after two years in Paris to enter the mill. Gale disappears before he learns her name. Vicky Thatcher, daughter of Robert Thatcher, general manager of the mill, schemes to captivate Brian. Gale goes on an errand for a neighbor, Mrs. O'Connor, which takes her into the country. It is a stormy night and she misses the return bus. Brian comes along and takes her home. As she gets out of the car she turns and faces Steve. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXIII Steve was not a dozen yards away. Even Brian recognized the constraint in the situation. He looked from Gale to the young man and then back again at the girl. "Oh," she said, "—hello, Steve. This is Mr. Westmore, Mr. Westmore, Steve Meyers." "How do you do," Steve's voice was too level, too cool. "Your father's been worried about you," he went on, to Gale. "I've just been around to see if the bus was held up somewhere."

StALCUP IS GIVEN DEATH AT HIS TRIAL

LUBBOCK, Feb. 12.—Vivian Stalcup today was convicted of murder and sentenced to death for the killing of Sheriff W. B. Arthur, Dickson County, in a jail-break.

Stalcup's attorneys gave notice of appeal after a pool of the jury revealed it was unanimously in favor of imposing the death penalty.

Stalcup remained stoically in emotion as the verdict was announced.

The defense attempted during the trial to place the blame for the shooting, which occurred last October 27, on Clarence Brown, Stalcup's companion in the jailbreak. Brown has not yet been tried.

Police are holding Mrs. Brown as an accomplice, notwithstanding the fact that she has twice escaped from jail and once from the penitentiary, was guarded as he entered court today to bear the verdict.
