UNITED PRESS SERVICE BRINGS LATE NEWS OF THE WORLD TO TIMES READERS

By the way things look, some of our senators don't seem to realize that relief is not spelled P-O-R-K.

VOL XVI RANGER, TEXAS, SUNDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 24, 1935 PRICE FIVE CENTS No. 236

Ickes Urges Further Oil Control Measures

MASONS HAVE GOOD PROGRAM FRIDAY NIGHT

In the neighborhood of 150 men and women heard Rev. E. S. James, pastor of the First Baptist church, Cisco, eulogize George Washington as the first Mason of the land. He said Washington was a man of decision, action, purpose and determination. Rev. James is a forceful speaker and the message was loudly applauded at its conclusion.

Quartet numbers by Floyd Killingsworth, Jack Galloway, Gaston Dixon and Arthur DeFebach were outstanding.

Miss Sammy Ruth Matthews in two readings, Mrs. D. T. Wier in a vocal solo and Mrs. Lee Galley in a special number, all received special encore.

A number of outstanding Masons were in attendance and several were called upon for brief remarks.

The purpose of the meeting as announced by Dr. A. K. Wier in his welcome address was to acquaint the Masons with the Grand Lodge program for the year and the revival of attendance among Masons in the state. It was also announced that later in the summer Ranger lodge was planning a chicken barbecue, place and time to be announced later.

Invocation was pronounced by Rev. J. M. Bond of the First Methodist church, and the benediction by Rev. James of Cisco. Rev. H. H. Stephens introduced the speaker.

Fall Perils Life of Famed Actor

His life in danger from injuries incurred in a fall from a horse, Richard Bennett, above, American actor and screen notable, is in an English hospital. Two ribs were broken, one piercing a lung. Bennett, 62, for years was associated with Charles Frohman and is the father of Barbara, Constance, and Joan Bennett.

BANDITS ROB A SAN ANGELO STORE OF $650

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 23.—Two well-dressed bandits executed a daring robbery here today and escaped with $675 after seriously wounding Plainclothesman J. M. Lowther.

The men entered the W. T. Grant company store and ordered breakfast. During the meal C. F. Clark, assistant manager of the store, passed by their table with Friday's receipts.

One of the men arose suddenly and clubbed Clark to the floor with his pistol. The other man seized the money and the two ran for a rear exit.

Lawyer, hearing Clark's screams ran to his assistance and encountered the bandits as they left the store. He was shot three times—in both lungs and a leg—and did not have opportunity to return the fire. His condition is serious.

Couples Air 'Love Swap' in Court

A dizzy marital quadrangle, with alleged swapping of wives and husbands, involving two wealthy Beverly Hills couples, with somebody always getting into the wrong bedroom, is the bewildering puzzle facing Judge Ben Lindsey in his Los Angeles court. Accusing his long-time best friend, Barton Sewell, upper left, of an affair with Mrs. Emerson, upper right, Walter Emerson, actor, lower right, is suing for divorce. Mrs. Emerson, fighting the suit, accuses Emerson of misconduct with Mrs. Sewell, lower left, and she in turn has sued Mrs. Emerson for $100,000 alimony. Sewell is not suing anybody, asserting, according to a detective, that he thought it was "all understood."

REPEAL ONE OF THE MAJOR BILLS PLANNED

AUSTIN, Feb. 23.—Repeal of prohibition and horse race betting, regulation of utilities and the state planning board will be begging for attention when legislators convene Monday.

Repeal of prohibition will be given a public hearing Monday afternoon before the senate committee on constitutional amendments. Local option is proposed as a substitute.

House plans to repeal prohibition today, a subcommittee studying regulatory laws on liquor in wet sister states. Early next month the committee will report on a liquor regulation plan to prevent return of the old-time saloon.

Bills to regulate horse race bookies are pending in house and senate. They constitute a buffer to absorb public sentiment for repeal of pari-mutuel betting on races.

Facing Prison In Kidnap Hoax

His father has forgiven Allan K. Bomberger, 21, above, Wabash College honor student, but a "self abduction" plot, but the federal government has not and is moving to send the youth to prison for a $50,000 extortion attempt. Young Bomberger readily confessed the hoax by which he hoped to get the money from his wealthy Hammond, Ind., lawyer parent.

CONNALLY BILL NOT ENOUGH HE DECLARES

Federal Tender Board To Be Set Up Again In Texas

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—With the Connally oil control bill just signed by President Roosevelt, Oil Administrator Ickes said the administration will back another bill before congress, giving the government stricter control over the industry.

The new measure, he said, will be used in connection with the Connally measure.

The bill it was understood, would give the government authority to regulate production in the nation's oil fields and provide for more orderly refining of crude oil and operation of market facilities.

"The Connally bill, as a 'hot' oil bill, is very satisfactory but it doesn't go far enough," Ickes said. He said an oil regulation bill was being drafted and that another measure had been prepared by Representative Wesley Disney, democrat, Oklahoma.

The administration it was learned, has been rallying congressional support behind a move for a strict federal oil control.

Ickes, in an attempt to obtain aid of oil companies for such a measure, has threatened the $12,000,000,000 industry with federal action to declare it a public utility.

With the signing of the Connally bill it was revealed the federal tender board will be re-established in East Texas to curb hot oil.

The board will be set up "within 24 hours" after the president officially designates an administrator for the new oil measure.

LEADERSHIP OF ROOSEVELT IS FACING TEST

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—President Roosevelt's leadership now faces the most severe test of his administration as his leaders in congress, their confidence shaken by reverses, fought to put the new deal back on an even keel.

The $4,880,000,000 work relief bill wrecked at least temporarily by senate insurgents, was the issue which brought the administration face to face with the most trying problems it has encountered.

Leaders at the capital, confused at the sudden turn in events, gave conflicting views of the situation. One side said perhaps sincerely and perhaps for strategic purposes, the work relief plan was "dead."

Others privately expressed the view it might be possible to rescue the work relief bill from the tangle around it in the senate.

Into this situation of uncertainty came a report the president to renounce his position and take advantage of the confidence expressed in him at the last election, might carry his cause to the people in an effort to force congress back in line.

Link Members to Elect Officers, Discuss Welfare

EASTLAND, Texas, Feb. 23.—Discussion of the association's welfare and election of officers for the ensuing year is slated at the Eastland Golf and Country club annual meeting Friday night. The yearly meet will be held in the clubhouse at 7:30 p. m.

Invitation to all members to attend as well as others has been extended by C. A. Hertig, club secretary.

Notification of intention to attend should be given the secretary by Feb. 26, it was reminded.

Interest in the club and golf has been evidenced recently by playing of golfers on the course from Olden, Cisco and other nearby towns, Eastland golfers have observed.

Officers of the club are Horace Conley, president; W. E. Storey, vice president; C. A. Hertig, secretary.

Directors are Horace Conley, W. E. Storey, W. L. Clark, Grady Pipkin and C. A. Hertig.

Services Said For Graham Woman at Eastland Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Wilma Niver Sparks, who died at Graham Thursday morning were held Friday afternoon from the Eastland Baptist church with interment in Eastland cemetery.

Rev. F. A. Hollis of Putnam conducted services.

Mrs. Sparks, wife of Harry Sparks, of Graham, died of pneumonia. She had lived in Graham for about three years, relatives state.

Last Rites For Brother Eastland Man Held Friday

Funeral services for Ed Stover of Mineral Wells, brother of J. A. Stover of Eastland, were conducted from the First Baptist church at Mineral Wells Friday by Dr. W. W. Chancellor. Interment was in Santo.

J. A. Stover and his daughter, Jamie of Eastland, attending services.

Mr. Stover died in Mineral Wells Wednesday of pneumonia. While in Archer City moving a rig two weeks ago he contracted the fatal ailment.

Survivors include his Eastland brother, his mother, Mrs. N. E. Stover, Weatherford; sister, Mrs. L. H. Harper, Weatherford; brothers, J. W. Stover, Mineral Wells; J. F. Stover, Mineral Wells; J. E. of New Mexico; J. I. Stover, Palo Pinto, and his wife of Mineral Wells. Two daughters, Virginia, 13, and Burnell, 15, also survive.

He had visited in Eastland two months ago.

Gene Le Bell On Monday Night Card

One of the toughest wrestlers in this country at the present, Gene Le Bell of Montreal, Canada, will swap blows, holds and everything in the main event at the Elks arena Monday night, Feb. 25. He meets the tough Irishman, Eddie O'Shea. La Bell is a French-Canadian and heralded as one of the toughest. He has beaten some of the best boys in this country since his arrival. You will see him in action showing how they wrestle in Canada. This match ought to satisfy the most skeptical critic.

In the semi-final bout, you will see Charlie Heard, the fast boy from San Antonio, against Blondy Crane of Abilene. Blondy has been working out faithfully for this bout. He has improved wonderfully, having defeated Eddie O'Shea at Big Spring last Thursday night. These boys are both very fast and a good bout is expected.

Lead Lessened In Times Contest For The Carrier Boys

Merritt Ballew's lead in the Ranger Times bicycle contest took a drop this week when Jack Hall came within 2,500 points of overtaking him, the closest leadership has been since Feb. 1, when the contest started.

The tabulation showed Saturday night that the standing of the contestants was as follows:

Merritt Ballew	164,400
Jack Hall	162,150
Wilmot Simpson	97,300
Archie Hazard	55,750
Doyle Alexander	29,250
Woody Adkins	20,250

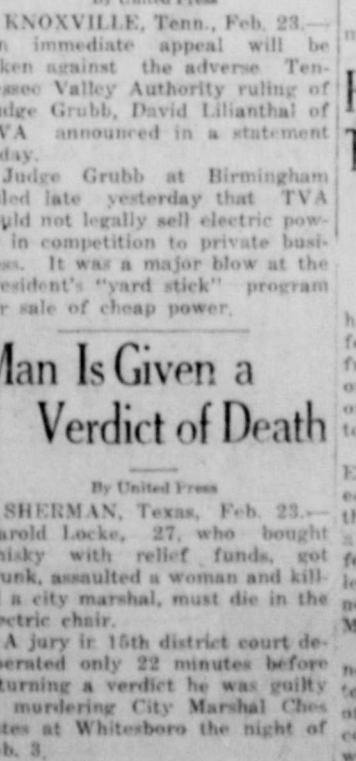

The boys will enter into the last few days of the campaign Monday, with a new Rugby bicycle, which is on display in the Killingsworth, Cox & Co. window, as the first prize. Subscriptions, news items or want ads each count as points for the contestants.

TVA Ruling Will Be Appealed Soon

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 23.—An immediate appeal will be taken against the adverse Tennessee Valley Authority ruling of Judge Grubb, David L. Lillenthal of TVA announced in a statement today.

Judge Grubb at Birmingham ruled late yesterday that TVA could not legally sell electric power in competition to private business. It was a major blow at the president's "yard stick" program for sale of cheap power.

Explosive!—Don't Handle With Care

What is the man doing? The man is hammering on a chunk of nitramon, which is a new high explosive. Is the man trying to demonstrate that nitramon is safe to handle because it cannot be detonated by anything less than a powerful dynamite cap.

Rivalry Among the Twenty Defendants Is Aired In Court

DALLAS, Feb. 23.—Bitter hatred and rivalry among 20 defendants, relatives or former friends of members of the notorious Harrow-Parker gang who are on trial here, was revealed in court today.

U. S. District Attorney Clyde Easton, in emphasizing the asserted feeling of hatred and mistrust that exists among the 20, told of a fight between S. J. Whately, federal prisoner, and James Mullen, who had testified in the afternoon. Whately allegedly attacked Mullen for his testimony.

Through Mullen and other witnesses the government continued to reveal the grapevine workings of the gang and to bring out the connections each of the 20 had with federal charges of harboring the hunted criminals.

LARGE CROWD EXPECTED FOR LEGION MEET

Today will be the big day of the 17th district convention, now in progress in Ranger.

A full program has been arranged beginning with the meeting of the resolutions and credentials committees early in the morning and ending with a joint business session of the Legion and auxiliary at the Legion Hall in the afternoon.

Delegates began arriving in Ranger Saturday morning and throughout the afternoon registrations were being taken at the lobby of the Gholson hotel, indicating that a good crowd would be present for today's session.

Among the notables of the Legion who were expected to be present and who were to have a part on the program today were Miller Ainsworth, state commander, who is to arrive this morning by plane from Laredo; Julien C. Hyer of Fort Worth; Ben J. Dean of Breckenridge; L. S. Daniel, district commander; Fred E. Young, state adjutant; Austin; Read Johnson, veterans bureau, Dallas, and Prof. W. A. Stephenson, Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene.

The program for today, after the meeting of the credentials and resolutions committees, will be as follows:

11:00 a. m.—Church, First Baptist church, Rev. G. W. Thomas, pastor, Washington Memorial address, Legionnaire Julien C. Hyer, Fort Worth.

12:30 p. m.—Barbecue, American Legion hall. H. G. Adams, chef.

2:00 p. m.—Social session, Post Commander presiding, American Legion hall. Address of welcome, Dr. A. L. Responde, Ben J. Dean, Breckenridge. Introduction visitors.

3:00 p. m.—Joint business session of the Legion and Auxiliary, American Legion hall. L. S. Daniel, district committee man, presiding. Reports of committees. Speakers: Fred E. Young, Read Johnson, Dr. W. A. Stephenson.

Dog Turns Thief And Steals a Rug

Ranger can claim the dubious honor of having a rug-stealing dog. Saturday Mrs. F. D. Hicks put a small throw rug out on her porch in air. Later she missed it, and thinking it had been stolen, notified the police.

The rug was found two blocks away, near the Church of Christ, where "Texas," a large dog, well known over a large part of Ranger, had taken it.

The dog had gone onto the porch, had taken the rug in its mouth and had started off with it when neighbors saw him and took the rug from him. It was returned to Mrs. Hicks late Saturday afternoon.

Practical Math Is Offered at Federal Adult School Class

Announcement has been made by Ray Holliday of a practical mathematical course, which is being offered in connection with the electrical courses being offered at the federal adult school.

The classes will meet every night at the high school building from 6:30 to 9:30. In order to finish the electrical courses it is required that this mathematical course be taken, it was announced.

Methodist Young People to Meet Friday Evening

Ninth zone district league young people and seniors will be guests of the Eastland league at a session in Eastland Friday evening at 7:30, it was announced Saturday.

The district meeting will be held in the basement of the Eastland Methodist church. Division of the program into recreational and recreational periods will be made. Parker Brown of Eastland is program chairman. Ralph Mahon Jr. of Eastland is publicity director for the meeting.

Miss Betty Mathis of Breckenridge is president of the association.

Young people and seniors of the Methodist church from Rising Star, Cisco, Breckenridge, Caddo, Ranger and Eastland comprise membership in the association.

Yarbrough Will Face Fourth Trial

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Feb. 23. Cal Yarbrough today faced his fourth trial on charges that he murdered his 16-year-old foster daughter, Doris.

His third trial, which was concluded Thursday, resulted in a hung jury. The jury was discharged.

Yarbrough was accused of burning his daughter to death two and a half years ago by throwing gasoline on her after her dress caught fire from a blow torch he was using.

Tears and Laughter
In World of News

If you have tears to spare, shed a few for the Long Island gentleman who got religion at a street corner revival meeting and, as a result, went straight to jail.

Moved by the spirit, this man addressed the crowd and told how he had, in his unregenerate past, stolen two valuable bronze candlesticks from a church in Brooklyn. It was just his hard luck that a detective who was working out that case happened to be in the crowd. Now the repentant convert is in jail on a charge of burglary.

By such odd little twists does the news of the day move. We find, for instance, in White Plains, N. Y., a man remarrying his divorced wife because she is the only bridge partner he ever had who could be counted on not to trump his aces. The discovery came less than six months after their divorce.

Then there is the Arizona cattleman who says he had been wanting to "sock a governor" for 20 years, and who finally relieved his feelings by stepping up and hitting Gov. B. R. Moeur in the eye—getting, in return, a split lip from the governor's counter blow, and a night in jail.

A French aviator, meanwhile, returns from Russia with the news that the Russians are finishing new fighting planes at the rate of one every two days, and Russia's effort to pay off old debts in the United States by incurring new ones falls flat.

Two English airmen finally finish their part of the England-to-Melbourne race four months late, but console themselves with the thought that they knocked four months off their own previous record for the flight, anyway.

A Philadelphia widow sues a motion picture operator for $10,000 for breaking her heart, and the jury agrees that something ought to be done about it, but marks the damages down to one dollar.

A policeman who was dropped from the force at Columbus, O., on charges of gambling announces his candidacy for mayor, and an English milkman is inspired by the maternal clatter of his bottles and pots to become a high-brow musical composer.

A world's record for fertility in pigdom is set in an English farmyard, where 25 little pigs are born all in one fell swoop. Simultaneously, a relief official in Dallas reports that 64 per cent of all the babies born in Dallas last year were born to parents who were on relief.

And then—just to cap the climax of news oddities—a heaver sneaks into the house of an up-state New York hermit and gnaws off the man's wooden leg!

Eastland Cleanup
Day Announced
By Civic League

Mrs. W. P. Leslie, general chairman for the Civic League committee engaged with other city organizations in the cleanup campaign for Eastland, announces that the activities are to commence March 4th, Monday.

The League committee that met at the home of Mrs. Leslie to perfect plans. Mmes. James Horton, O. A. Martin, Eugene Day, E. E. Layton, Milburn McCarty, Curtis A. Hertig, and W. P. Leslie, divided the city into districts with a captain for each.

All organizations are to work in this movement. Mrs. Ray Larner was appointed captain Hillcrest addition; Mrs. W. A. Martin, captain southwest district; Mrs. McCarty captain southeast district; Mrs. Hertig, captain, colored people and Mexico town; Mrs. Horton, chairman Eastland county beautification, and co-chairman, Mmes. Dixie Williamson and W. P. Leslie. These will take care of highways through Eastland and also work with the committee as a whole.

The city will furnish trucks and men to take up trash, and residents are urged to clean their own premises, and have stacks of trash in readiness for trucks to collect, the second week in March.

These chairmen and committees start Monday, Feb. 25, on house-to-house campaign with information of cleanup, and will also list vacant lots, learn of owners, and urge that these lots be cleaned.

Broken down cars are to be removed. The big triangle at Main and Commerce, formed by converging of two highways and owned by city, will be beautified.

Guy Quinn will put in an artistic bed of cactus, and the city defray expense of balance of parking, under co-operation of cleanup committee.

A plat for this parking has been made by Mr. Shirriffs. Committees working under each chairman will be announced soon.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Gale Henderson, pretty and 23, works in a silk mill, he and her 19-year-old brother, Phil, support their invalid father.

Steve Meyers, who also works in the mill, asks Gale to marry him. She promises to give him an answer in a few days.

Gale goes skating, breaks through the ice and is rescued by Brian Westmore, whose father, now dead, built the mill. Brian has come home after two years in Paris to enter the mill. Gale disappears before he can learn her name.

Vicky Thatcher, daughter of Robert Thatcher, general manager of the mill, schemes to captivate Brian.

Gal and Steve quarrel, later make up.

Vicky tells Brian she wants to get acquainted with the mill workers, on the pretense of helping them. He is pleased, agrees to take her to see Gale. Next evening they call.

Alone with Gale, Vicky tells her that she, Vicky, and Brian are engaged to be married.

Brian comes back after Vicky has gone, but Gale refuses to talk to him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXXIII

The amazing fact to Gale was that everything went on next day, just as it had. The sun shone brightly. Birds were singing as she walked to work—sharp, shrill notes that were a mockery. Two girls, standing beside Gale in the cloak room, laughed and joked as they hung away their coats and hats.

It was all just as it had been the day before.

And yet, how could it be? How could there be laughter and gaiety in the world? How could anything be the same when on next day, there was only blankness and emptiness everywhere? Standing before the pounding machines, staring at the blur of moving hands and jerking bobbins, Gale saw Vicky Thatcher again, drawing her beautiful fur coat around her. She heard Josie, saying in low-pitched even tones, "It's supposed to be a secret but... Brian and I are going to be married. In June sometime. I think June wedding are the nicest, don't you?"

Yes, it was true—not a nightmare, not a hideous, fantastic creation of imagination that could be brushed aside and forgotten, licky had sat in the Hendersons' shabby living room and said those words. She and Brian were going to be married.

Something thick clutched about Gale's heart, making her cold all over. She thought, "It's going to be like this from now on. It will always be like this—"

Once during that terrible, endless night Gale had pressed her hands together and buried her face in the pillow, sobbing in a muffled smothered voice, "I can't go on! I can't!"

But she knew that she could. People did, somehow. People all over the world who were suffering and broken-hearted, for whom briefly visions of happiness had suddenly shattered, managed to piece together their broken lives once more.

Gale thought, "It's better to know it now. I ought to be glad it happened this way."

She should have been, and yet the thought failed to comfort her. She had rehearsed the same arguments the night before. Lying, wide-eyed, in the darkness, she had pictured the scene with Vicky.

She had gone over all that Brian had said Sunday—fragmentary sentences that had seemed so precious then. Why had he said them? Why had he said, "I love you, Gale. I think I've loved you since the first time I saw you."

Why? Because Steve had been right about Brian, and she had been wrong. Because she was a mill girl and Brian found it amusing to pretend he cared for her. Silly of her to suppose it had been more than that for one moment.

Brian hadn't said, "I love you, Gale, and want to marry you." Not to her. He'd said that to Vicky Thatcher who belonged to his own world, whom everyone expected him to marry.

Well, she had learned. She felt humbled, humiliated. And there was more to it than that. She had really cared for Brian Westmore—or for the man she had thought Brian Westmore to be. He had dreamed—

Her hands, moving up and down mechanically, became a gray blur again. Oh, but she must go—when it he comin' back?"

"When is who coming back?"

"You know! The man who doeth thwicks."

"Oh!" The chilly hand clutched Gale's heart again. It was a moment before she found her voice. Then she said, "I don't know, Tommy. I—I don't know when he's coming back."

"But I want to see him! Look—he thaid it wath like thith—"

The grimy fingers dug into a half-torn pocket, producing a cork from a bottle.

"He thaid—" The youngster began attempting to demonstrate the puzzle, but Gale put a hand on his shoulder.

"I'm sorry, honey," she said, "but I've got to go in the house now. I've got to get supper. Some other time you can show me how the trick goes."

But the youngster was adamant. "No," he said, "it's that man I want to see. You tell him to come back here. I twisted over and over and I can't get it wight. You tell him—"

Gale sought escape. "Maybe Phil knows how to do it," she said. "He'll be coming any minute now."

The child shook his head. "It's that man I want to see," he repeated.

From the rear of the O'Connors' house a shrill voice called, "Tommy! Oh, Tommy!"

"That's your Mother," Gale said. "You mustn't keep her waiting."

The shrill cry was repeated. Tommy looked up at Gale sorrowfully. "All wight," he said. "I'll go, but I'm comin' back! I want to see that man—"

It was Brian whom Tommy wanted to see—Brian with his tricks to amuse youngsters; his gay, flattering speeches that were tricks, too.

She opened the door and called a greeting to her father, then went into the kitchen and methodically began preparing the evening meal.

After they had finished eating, after the dishes had been washed and put away Josie Gridley came. Josie brought the brown dress Gale had promised to help make over. It was wrapped in a newspaper with a strip of plaid silk and a picture from a fashion magazine.

"Look," Josie said, holding the strip of plaid up to her face. "Don't you think it's kind of pretty?"

"Very pretty," Gale nodded. She had forgotten that she had promised to help Josie. She said, looking at the fashion picture, "Oh, yes—this is the one we decided on, isn't it?"

She got out newspapers and cut a collar pattern, fitting it about Josie's shoulders. She pinned the paper collar into place and Josie considered herself in the mirror and seemed pleased.

She said, "Gee, Gale, it must be swell to be able to sew like you can. I tried to make a dress once and you should have seen it! Was I a sight?"

Gale was cutting the silk, careful to keep the edges even. "It just takes practice," she said. "It isn't hard after you've had a little practice."

Maybe that was the way with other things," she thought. Maybe after telling yourself often enough that you didn't care about a person, that you despised them, it would really be true. She hoped it was like that, hoped it with all her heart!

She drew her needle in and out of the silk, taking minute, invisible stitches. She had the binding on one half of the collar when Josie cut in sharply:

"Gale, look—you've got it on the wrong side!"

"Oh, I have, haven't I? I'll have to rip it—"

Josie eyed the other girl shrewdly. She thought for an instant that there were tears in Gale's eyes, but that was ridiculous. Putting the binding of a collar on the wrong way couldn't make anyone cry.

An hour later, Josie rose to leave, the finished dress over her arm. She said, "Gee, Gale, you were swell to do this for me. It's like a new dress."

"I'm glad I could do it," Gale told her. She really meant it. Sewing for Josie had filled the evening. She said, "Good night, Josie. See you tomorrow!"

And thus the day ended. Tomorrow, Gale told herself as she undressed and got into her plain little white gown, would be easier. Gradually the days would grow easier and she would learn to forget that she had been a silly, ridiculous little fool. She would even, some day, be able to think of Brian Westmore without that sharp, stabbing pain. Maybe she would be able to take the incident as lightly as he had—

But she couldn't do that now. She found out the following evening, coming home from the mill, just how far she was from thinking rationally, impassionately about the whole affair. She had left Josie a block behind. Turning a corner, Gale's heart suddenly ceased beating. There, ahead of her, was Brian.

PRaise GIVEN
LEGISLATORS FROM DISTRICT

Praise for Legislators George Davison, Jr., and Cecil Lotief was sounded Saturday by C. W. Hoffman of Eastland, former president of the West Texas Gas & Oil association and director now, who has recently returned from a visit to Austin.

Visitors from Eastland county to Austin have found out Lotief and Davison are opposed to any further increase on the gross production tax, Mr. Hoffman said.

"Eastland county people who have visited at Austin since the legislature has been in session returned home praising the work done by our legislators Cecil Lotief and George Davison, Jr., from Eastland county," Mr. Hoffmann commented.

"Both men are working long hours each day in order to keep up with the affairs of our state which so vitally affects their own constituents, as well as continually keeping in mind the well-being of the entire state."

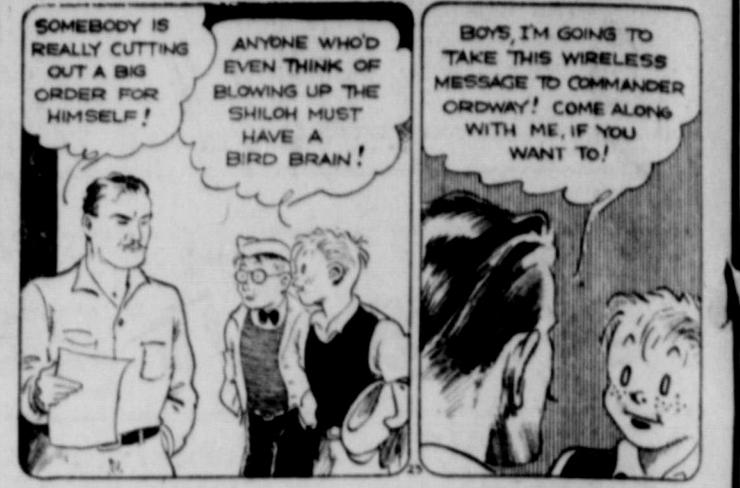

"Mr. Lotief, who so ably filled his first term of office and was re-elected for his second term by a large majority is a member of some of the most important committees that we have in the State of Texas. He is a member of the revenue and taxation committee, a member of the oil and gas committee, which industry pays better than 65 per cent of all the revenue received by the State of Texas, and on numerous other committees."

"Visitors from Eastland county were also very well pleased to know that Mr. Lotief and Mr. Davison are very much opposed to any further increase on the gross production tax which was considered before the entire committee that any increase in the way of gross production tax levied upon the oil industry would only mean an additional tax burden on the small independent producer and royalty owners of his two counties Eastland and Callahan which are struggling under an already overtaxed condition."

"Figures showing the gross production tax and ad valorem taxes at the present time makes each independent producer in his counties pay in these taxes over 6 per cent of their gross sales which is not equaled by any business or industry in the State of Texas. Any further increase would only tend to exterminate the little producer and be hard on the laboring class of people which both Mr. Lotief and Mr. Davison are trying so hard to protect. It would also stagnate business houses who are already operating under unfavorable conditions. Mr. Lotief also has introduced a number of bills in the house in which he is working. One of the bills was recently passed by the House with a three-fourths majority and now goes to the Senate for its approval."

"George Davison, Jr., who is working equally hard is also on a number of important committees and has a number of bills which he has personally introduced. Among them is a bill to reduce the license on automobiles which has been reported favorably to the House by the committee. This bill will effect more people than any other one piece of legislation which is now in effect in the state. He also has a bill on which he is working at the present which will revise our present truck regulations. Besides these he also has numerous other bills to be introduced which will greatly aid the people of this district.

"Visitors cannot help but be impressed with Mr. Davison's work in the legislature considering that he is serving his first term in the House of Representatives. Mr. Davison is working and is getting results which would do credit to a second or third term legislator. "Eastland and Callahan counties can point with pride to the work being done by their representatives and can rest assured that these gentlemen are working for the best interests of their counties as well as for the entire State of Texas. Both of them are always glad to see anyone from their districts and are desirous of getting the people's wishes on any and all legislation which is being considered at this time or which is to be considered in the future."

NORTH TEXAS AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE MIXED CHORUS WILL APPEAR HERE MONDAY, FEB. 25th

North Texas Agricultural College Chorus, Clyde J. Barrett, Director

The North Texas Agricultural College Chorus of 120 members, which will appear at the high school auditorium Monday night, Feb. 25, at 8 o'clock. The proceeds from the presentation will be used to purchase sweaters for the members of the Ranger Junior College football team.

A group of 120 North Texas Agricultural students will present a program of musical novelties at the Ranger High school auditorium at 8 o'clock, Monday night, Feb. 25.

The girls' chorus of 100 voices, the 20 singing cadets, the male quartet, the girls' trio, the string quartet, soloists, dancers and accompanists will make the trip.

The two choruses, with a group of featured soloists, have a varied program to give those schools which they visit. This program of musical novelties is designed to entertain both the musically educated and the lay-listener.

The first part of the program features the singing cadets, Bernhard Richards, tenor; Clyde Garrett, baritone, and J. B. Smith, tenor, will be the soloists in this part. Many old favorites, as well as new, will be rendered.

The interlude between the two parts will be filled with entertainment by the male quartet, which is composed of J. B. Smith, Edgar Hines, B. R. Smith and J. B. Fite.

Hines has a specially equipped rolling gondola, floating on N. T. A. C. flag.

The second part of the program is made up of specially chosen and colorfully costumed numbers, featuring several countries. "The Kerry Dance," a Scotch song, presents Lois Perry as soprano soloist, and Marjory Popejoy, solo dancer. "Valinka's Song," a Russian melody, presents Christine Jones, soprano soloist, and Helen Holliday, solo dancer, in a piquant number. "Wah Tah Ho", a primitive Zuni Indian melody, features Ophelia Phillips, dramatic soprano as soloist. Anna Gilson, to the strains of "Lady of Spain" will present a dashing dance. An ice- skating number, performed by Helen Holliday and Marjory Popejoy in white sports clothes, will be presented to "Walking in My Winter Wonderland," from the Ziegfeld Follies. "Italian Street Song," featuring Maxine Higgs, coloratura soprano, will end the second part of the program.

The finale of each program will include "Aggieland."

Marion Zercher, accordion soloist, will present several popular numbers.

Marion Bullock, Dorothy Garrett, and Louise Johnson will be the accompanists.

Other specialties on the full concert program will include: Bernhard Richards, violinist, playing "Gypsy Melodies"; N. T. A. C. Girls' Trio in "Campus Harmony"; J. B. Smith, radio tenor, in "Songs of the Day."

The group will travel in three Texas Motor coach buses and two private cars.

High School and Junior College News of the Day

High School Chapel High school chapel was held Friday morning instead of Thursday in order to present a program on George Washington.

After a song by the school assembly, Aubrey Jameson gave a very interesting talk on George Washington.

C. L. F. All members of the C. L. F. meet in Room 12 Monday morning from 11:30 to 12 o'clock to discuss plans for a party to be given Wednesday night in the Lone Star clubrooms. Plans for a chapel program to be presented Wednesday morning will be discussed also. Every member is urged to be present.

Notice Anyone who can furnish a room and breakfast for an N. T. A. C. student Monday night, please call Mrs. Hal Hunter at the high school as soon as possible.

N. T. A. C. students will present a musical program Monday evening at the high school at 8 o'clock. Everyone is invited to attend.

Advisories High school advisories will meet Monday morning at the regular period, 11:30 until 12 o'clock.

Sigma Epsilon Sigma Epsilon chapter of Ranger Junior College held a short business meeting Thursday evening at the high school.

Sigma Epsilon Chapter Report The Sigma Epsilon chapter met at Ranger Junior College in Miss Wesley's and Dr. Park's rooms at 6:30 p. m., Thursday, Feb. 21.

The chapter was formally opened by the president, T. C. Weaver, and the calling of the roll by Helen Best.

The ordering of club pins was then discussed and the members who are to buy these pins are to see Alvin Campbell and place their order by Monday.

It was decided that the chapter would sponsor a steak fry to be held at Tiffin canyon Thursday evening, Feb. 29.

The members were given the privilege to bring one person with them. Another part of the program was the giving out of Sigma Epsilon pledge pins to be worn for a period of one month by the new members, Bob Kidwell, Darrell Williams, Mary Ramsey, and Douglas Thorpe.

The chapter then adjourned to the chemistry laboratory and a demonstration and explanation of high tension coils was given by Jasper Woods.

The apparatus was already set up and the ignition of phosphorus, gun powder, and nitrogen filled tubes by electricity was shown. Another demonstration and discussion was given by Paul Hodge on astronomy.

He presented and explained a home-made telescope. The members then returned to the chapter room where the meeting was adjourned by T. C. Weaver.

Those present were Thomas C. Weaver, Helen Best, Lillian Seeliger, Bob Kidwell, Darrell Wil-iams, Mary Ramsey, Douglas Thorpe, Forrest Lyon, Ernest Blackwell, Lorene Harrell, Anita Crawley, Florine Long, Veda Mae Belknap, Bruce Murphy, A. D. Lewis, Alvin Campbell, Dr. Hal B. Parks, Mrs. Parks, Miss Wesley, Georgia Thomas, Raymond Stockmire, Jasper Woods, Jack Waggoner, Paul Hodge.

Attends Kelvinator Meeting In Dallas Floyd Killingsworth of Killingsworth, Cox & Co., returned home late Friday from two days spent in Dallas, where he attended a special meeting of Kelvinator dealers to hear officials of the company, see the new 1935 models and place orders.

The principal speaker at the meeting was a Mr. Woodcock, advertising manager of the Kelvinator corporation who gave his listeners at the morning session a history of the Kelvinator Corporation from its inception to its present standing of third place in sales of all mechanical refrigerators in the United States.

He then told of the hundreds of thousands of dollars spent by the corporation for advertising in the major divisions of that field; national magazines, newspapers and billboards and gave great credit to those mediums for the help they have been in the successful growth of the Kelvinator. His talk was well grounded in fact and all in all was one of the best he had ever heard, said Mr. Killingsworth.

At noon the assembled dealers were guests of the Kelvinator corporation for luncheon at the Baker

Wednesday evening Bible lesson and prayer service, 7:30. Splendid attendance last Wednesday evening, more than three score present. We begin the study of Heb. 11th chapter, beginning with the 12th verse, promptly at 7:30. These lessons are interesting and instructive.

The read is taken from the Second Epistle of St. Paul to the Corinthians 11:19 to Chapter 12:9; the gospel is from St. Luke VIII 4-15. This gospel tells the parable of the sower. Some seed fell by the wayside and the fowls of the air devoured it. Other seed fell upon a rock and though it sprang up yet it soon withered because it had no moisture. Other seed fell among thorns that choked it. Some seed fell upon good ground and yielded fruit an hundred fold. Christ explained this beautiful and telling parable to his hearers. Let us turn our hearts, minds and souls into good ground that the seed of God's word may yield fruit an hundred fold.

HAH! HAH! G'WAN, BUST THEM ROCKS, YOU RUMMY!

WHEN KING TUNK AND HIS LEMIAN'S OCCUPIED THE MOOVIAN CAPITAL, AFTER DEFEATING KING GUZZLE, THEY ANTICIPATED NO FURTHER DIFFICULTY. BUT THEY RECKONED WITHOUT THE BRAIN AND BRAINS OF THE ONLY TWO MOOVIAN'S LEFT AT LARGE, ALLEY OOP AND THE FAIR OOLA. DARING RAIDS BY OOP, ON HIS DINOSAUR, CAUSED TUNK TO SURROUND MOO WITH OUTPOSTS. BUT OOLA'S BRAIN WAS EQUAL TO THE MEASURE. A WELL DIRECTED STRATEGEM INCENSED A NEIGHBORING TRIBE OF "LITTLE SAVAGES" AND THE LEMIAN SENTRIES BEGAN TO GO DOWN UNDER THEIR SUDDEN, LASHING ATTACKS.

GENERAL, IF YA SEE THAT DINOSAUR-RIDIN, MOOVIAN OUTLAW - Y'KNOW WHAT I'DO!

THEY'VE ONLY LITTLE DINOSAUR!

I'LL TEACH 'EM US LEMIAN'S ARE BAD BOZOS TO MONKEY WITH!

PUNG!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

"Mind" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Feb. 24.

The Golden Text is: "Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom, and to depart from evil is understanding." (Job 28: 28).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all. (1 Chronicles 28: 11).

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is Mind, and God is infinite; hence all is Mind. On this statement rests the Science of being, and the Principle of this Science in divine, demonstrating harmony and immortality." (page 492).

AUTO PULLS OUT HORSE

MINERAL WELLS.—H. H. White, high school janitor, who has driven a horse and buggy all his life, was surprised one Sunday after church to find his horse had run away and become stuck in the mud. The horse had fallen in a deep ditch and an automobile wrecker had to be called to pull him out.

Pretty Courtneys Paid Bride of Saturday Night's Ceremony

A prettily arranged kitchen shower given at the home of Mrs. O. E. Hise with Mrs. E. L. Norris sharing honors as hostess honored Miss Louise White, daughter of Mrs. Katie White, Friday afternoon, who Saturday night became the bride of Pete Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Wright of Olden.

Colors of green and tan were given note in the decorations and refreshments served to party guests: Misses Mattie Parrish, Beulah McGill, Opal Parrish, Annie Bankston, Katie White, Walter Bankston, Ora Holter, Jim Searcy, Jim Dodd, Ross Padgett, Raymond Doss, Herbert Suits, R. C. Carwile, Minnie Copeland, Maude Tullos, Estelle Hise and Misses Imogene Stafford, Virginia Norris, Mildred Copeland and Evelyn White.

The early part of the week presented a compliment honoring the bride at the residence of Mrs. Henry Sullivan with her co-hostess, Mrs. Tessie Stokes.

Pretty Prints On Sale Monday

Silks and pretty prints are to be offered at a special sale price at the J. C. Penney store Monday.

of the pretty decorations, furnished as compliments from the Ranger Floral company.

The hostesses were pleasingly assisted in serving by Misses Pauline Barrier, Grace Kee Mitchell and Pauline McGown. A plate of tuna fish sandwiches, hot chocolate and mints composed the plates passed to Misses Lou D. White, Pearl Parrish, J. E. Edrod, John Eaves, Katie White, W. E. Clardy, F. B. Stewart, E. L. Norris, Christi Le Clair, B. E. Rigby, L. R. McGill, W. C. West, Jack Tucker, Charles Parrish, Maude Tullos, H. V. Stokes, Charlie Surbrook, R. A. Jones and Misses Inez Evelyn White, Pauline McGown, Gracie Lee Mitchell, Virginia Norris and Bertha Parrish.

This lovely array of merchandise has been purchased for this purpose and promises to be quite an event for the ladies of Ranger. All colors are non-fading and newest patterns of the season are for your selection. A full announcement is to be found in another section of this paper.

Columbia Study Club Not To Meet Tuesday

The Columbia Study club will not meet Tuesday of this week as was formerly announced and planned. Due to the absence of several members who are out of town, the lesson will be postponed Tuesday week, morning at the home of Mrs. Jimmie Matthews; when the hour brings Mrs. O. L. Phillips, "house book review" to be "The Gorgeous Hussy," by Samuel Hopkins Adams.

The usual meeting hour, 9:30 o'clock, will be observed and members are invited to bear this review which promises to be most interesting due to the fitting and capability of Mrs. Phillips whose resumes are always looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure.

Hour Spent in Work On Fallow Cases

Young Womens Auxiliary of Central Baptist church gathered at the church Thursday evening and devoted the entire hour to work on pillow cases to be sent to Buckner's Orphan home in the near future.

Those present for the industrial hour named: Misses Billie Boier, Ruth Shirley, Rose McEver, Dorothy Nevilles, Aylene Rod, Velma Brown, Louise Moore, Ore Mae McGee, Anice Locke, and Doris Williams.

Welcome

A sincere invitation of welcome is extended to all Young People who are not associated with any other Sunday school to join or visit the Fidelis class, which meets at 9:45 upstairs in the Young Peoples department Central Baptist church, located on the corner of Commerce and Pine streets.

Home After Visit

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Cline of Baird have returned home from a three day visit with Mrs. Cline's mother, Mrs. Smith and daughter, Miss Juanita Smith. Mrs. Cline is making a nice recovery from a recent illness which confined her to T. P. hospital at Marshall.

Social Program To Be Led By Mrs. M. H. Hagaman

Mrs. M. H. Hagaman will lead the program on social service Monday afternoon at the Womens Missionary society of the Methodist church at the opening hour, at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Hagaman will be assisted in presenting the program by active members of the society. All members are asked to be present for the hour.

Mrs. Bray to Hostess Tuesday Luncheon

Mrs. Owen Bray will be hostess at home, Oddie street, Tuesday at 12:30 o'clock to members of the Ruth class, Central Baptist church.

The covered dish luncheon menu will be served at the above hour and the following will be a business session opened and conducted by the president, Mrs. C. D. Coe.

Mrs. Bray invites personnel to attend.

Ranger Pastors Special Program Visitors

Ranger pastors, Rev. H. B. Johnson, pastor of the First Christian church was a special visitor in Gordian Friday evening at which time he was principal speaker at the program in observance of George Washington's birthday. At the same hour, Dr. L. B. Gray, from the Presbyterian church, visited the Caddo Masonic lodge, where he made the outstanding address. Persons in charge of both programs called for the pastors and drove them home at the close of the evening.

Mrs. Reynolds Tells History Of Founders Day at Club Hour

Mrs. J. S. Reynolds, who has made a recent recovery from a severe attack of influenza which confined her to her home, Highland avenue, was present at the meeting held at the home of Mrs. F. E. Jacobs, Young street, Friday afternoon, when members of Child Study Club No. 2 held their meeting in observance of Founders Day.

The entire history was beautifully reviewed by Mrs. Reynolds, preceding the candle-lighting ceremony centered about an attractive and colorfully appointed dining-room scene. The angel food cake, two tinned, held seven candles which shed their soft glow over the board's dress.

A very delicious and dainty plate of salad, hot spiced tea and cake was passed to guests and the honoree, Mrs. Reynolds.

The next session will bring election of officers and the president, Mrs. Onis Littlefield, urges every club member's attendance for this March meeting.

Delightful Party Hour

Members of Julia Alexander Grove of the Woodmen Circle met at the home of Mrs. Claudie Barney Friday afternoon. Bunco was enjoyed from 2:30 until 4 o'clock, at which time plates consisting of open-faced sandwiches, small cakes and coffee were passed to the following members and friends: Anne Grey, Luetta Bray, Frances Strong, Annie Wall, Lula Lyon, Eleanor Horton, Ruth Strong, and hostess, Claudie Barney, and co-hostesses, Verna Ringold and Ruby Greer, also several junior members.

The party rooms were very prettily decorated in the colors, red, white and blue, fitting our national holiday. George Washington's Birthday.

A special meeting is being called for Monday evening, Feb. 25, at 8 o'clock for the purpose of initiatory work. The Mineral Wells drill team and a group of their members will visit here for the evening. All members who have not been initiated are urged to be present. The high score prize in bunco was won by Mrs. Luetta Gray, a beautiful framed silhouette of George and Martha Washington. Low score went to Mrs. Claudie Barney, a lovely wall plaque. Regular business meeting will be Wednesday at 2:30 p. m.
