Church of Christ Honors W.M. Myers With Big Banquet

The officers and members of the Church of Christ, honored W. M. Myers, charter member and Senior Elder of the local congregation, with a surprise banquet on Friday evening at 7 o'clock in the sub-floor of the church celebrating his 71st birthday.

The officers, with whom he has worked so faithfully, saw fit to pay him this tribute, as an expression of love and appreciation for his untiring work for the cause of Christ. Mr. Myers was notified to be present at a special meeting of the officers of the church, and as he entered the building, he was greeted by a happy throng singing Happy Birthday, Uncle William, Happy Birthday To You, and until that moment the banquet was a complete surprise to him.

The table 75 feet long was filled with pies, cakes, chicken with dressing, salads of all kinds, hot coffee and most everything the appetite might call for.

Mr. Myers was escorted to the head of the table, where he was presented a large birthday cake. About 100 assembled around the table while thanks were expressed by the Pastor, D. W. Nichol. After the feast vocal numbers were rendered by a quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Head, J. E. Meroney and E. L. Brummitt, followed by short talks by the pastor and officers of the church, expressing their love and appreciation for Mr. Myers.

They described him as a father and a leader.

J. E. Meroney, toastmaster, then presented him with a lovely pink and white gold watch chain, a gift from the officers of the church, which was followed by a response from Mr. Myers, expressing his love and appreciation for the whole congregation, and related some of the trials and hardships he experienced in the early days of the church here.

The shooting occurred on the northwest corner of the courthouse square in Eastland at about 8:30 Saturday night, Nov. 17. Bill Mead, Eastland Chief of Police, and Loss Woods, county officer, were on a nearby corner when the shots were fired.

The two arrived at the corner as Steele Hill, deputy sheriff, who was nearby when the shots were fired, arrived upon the scene.

MAD SLAYER OF YOUNG BOY BEING SOUGHT

YPSLANTI, Mich., March 9.—The mad slayer of 7-year-old Richard Streicher, Jr., son of wealthy and prominent parents, was sought by combined police forces of Southern Michigan today.

While authorities had no clue to his identity, they believed the brutal crime, resembling in some details, the murder of Bobby Franks, by Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, was near solution.

The boy's body was found last night by two schoolboys beneath a foot bridge, leading to a secluded island in the Huron river. He had been stabbed eight times in the chest. Three wounds to the heart were the center of a figure resembling a cross or a "Y" made by lacerations. His head also had been slashed. Whether an ice pick or a knife was the weapon used. Post mortem examination indicated the child had been mercilessly tortured before death.

LOCAL BILLS ARE SCORED BY EXECUTIVE

Urges Repeal of Race Track Bill and Favors Submission.

AUSTIN, Feb. 9.—Gov. James V. Allred today advised the legislature to get busy for the second half of its session.

"I do not want to be critical of the legislature," he said. "It has made progress, but for the remainder of the session I hope we will all dig in harder and stay at the capitol more, so we will not get into the usual jam that marks the end of a session."

Specifically, he said, he wants action on utility regulation, repeal of the race track betting law and on various taxation measures.

To save time, Allred suggested that committees consult with the attorney general about constitutionality of local bills before wasting time passing invalid ones and sending them to his desk.

"Much time of the legislature is now taken up by matters of local interest, which could be avoided by consulting the attorney general. The trend is getting more and more to local and class legislation. Many such bills are ones that members offer merely as an accommodation upon request. They too, would be glad to drop them if they are invalid.

On prohibition repeal the governor again announced in favor of letting the people know what they will have as a substitute when they are asked to vote on repeal.

"I think private profit in liquor traffic should be eliminated," he said.

GREEK FLEET ROUTED BY A REBEL FORCE

Mrs. Wilma Gould Awarded Damages

NEW YORK, March 9.—Mrs. Wilma Gould was awarded $25,000 damages from her brother-in-law, Norman Gould and two others because of "Prince Michael Romanoff" the foreman of the jury said today.

If it had been an outside man with whom the plaintiff was caught undressed within a hotel room it would have been a different situation, he said, but we thought that because the defendant financed Prince Romanoff they framed her in order to permit her husband to get a divorce.

The army forbade assembly of more than two persons in the public streets, effective at noon. Commanders of the country's various military districts were named military governors of the provinces.

Davisson to Fight Raise in Tuition

"I want to make it absolutely clear that there are two members of the House with similar names," Representative George A. Davisson of Eastland stated Friday, "and that it was Howard Davisson of Rotan and not myself who introduced the bill to raise University tuition fees. Many people, knowing me as a University student, have had the idea that I introduced the bill. That is not true. I am opposed to its passage and will work to defeat it."

Davisson is a student in the University School of Law and is known as the author of the unemployment insurance bill.

Means Enrollment Decrease

"I am prepared to help in the fight of friends of the University and of education in general against this proposed increase in tuition," Davisson reiterated. "The passage of this bill will mean a sudden drop of from 1,500 to 2,000 students in the University's enrollment, not to speak of the decreases which it will make at other State-supported schools."

"If this bill was passed, the playboys and playgirls could continue to go to school at the University, but our purpose in furthering higher education is to have some place in the State where the poor boy or the poor girl who is striving for an education and who has to work every step of the way can have an opportunity to put himself on equal footing with his well-to-do neighbors," Davisson declared.

Our Security Depends On Faith of Others

It is a shocking thing that seems to have happened in Pennsylvania, where diphtheria serum on which human lives depended was tampered with by men in charge of its distribution.

According to charges made by state officials, a laboratory expert and a health department expert took a quantity of two-year-old serum, changed the dates to make it appear fresh, and distributed it to drug stores and dispensaries.

Shortly before Christmas a little boy contracted diphtheria. His doctor gave him injections which should have saved him—but the serum failed to work and he died.

The doctor then complained that the serum was valueless, and in the investigation which followed, the misdating was discovered.

An affair of this kind is a tragic reminder of the way in which, living in a complex social order, we are all at the mercy of specialists and technicians whose integrity and skill we have to take on faith.

When you are exposed to or infected by such a disease as diphtheria, for instance, you must immediately place your life in the hands of men you never saw or heard of—the men who prepared the life-saving serum, the men who are responsible for testing it and distributing it.

Whether you live or die may depend on whether they did their jobs properly.

It speaks well for the general reliability of human beings that cases like this in Pennsylvania are so very rare. But the mere fact that a slip-up can occur is evidence that people who live in a modern society are forever at the mercy of one another.

This is not confined simply to the field of medicine. It is true in all phases of daily activity.

When you drive your car at a 50-mile clip, you are betting your life that the men who made the car did not scamp their jobs and present you with, a say a steering knuckle that will suddenly collapse under a strain. When you travel by train, you are putting yourself in the hands of a whole host of utter strangers—dispatchers, switchmen, engine-men, and the like.

When you go up in an office building elevator, you are assuming that the builders and inspectors have seen to it that the elevator is safe. When you eat in a restaurant, you are relying on the integrity of many widely separated men to assure you of wholesome food.

A "tight" community never amounted to anything.

The encouragement that consists of setting an example is better than mere advice.

"OUT OUR WAY" ———— By Williams

"Dusting the Covers of Texas History" Trial of Attorney On Conspiracy Charge Nears End

Immigrant volunteers from New Orleans were indignant over the action of the Texas government. They would see that justice was done, and honor the dead of the Alamo and Goliad, regardless of whether they were native-born Texans. General disapproval turned into violent disregard of orders. Santa Anna, by the secret treaty of Velasco, was to be returned to Vera Cruz June 1, but when the volunteers reached Texas, they demanded that he be punished severely.

Gen. Santa Anna likewise became indignant over the turn of events. He declared that he would appeal to President Jackson. Civil authorities had been forced to turn their prisoner over to the soldiers, in spite of protest on Santa Anna's part that he had been exposed to many hardships. His plea was repeated with sarcasm by those whose fathers and husbands had died at the Alamo or Goliad.

"You have caused us some privation also," President Burnet told Santa Anna, "and we shall not regret too deeply that you must also share some of them."

President Jackson refused to do anything about the quarrel between the two countries. Mexico had disavowed the Treaty of Velasco, and the president made no effort to have it enforced. Santa Anna was placed in close confinement, and remained there during the summer, and it was not until President Houston was inaugurated that he was released. Another appeal was made immediately to Jackson, who again did nothing. A United States naval vessel accompanied Santa Anna back to Vera Cruz in February, 1837. He and his deeds were never forgotten, but in the course of time Texans were in the midst of government organization, and they had no time to waste in hating a man whose powerful leadership had practically destroyed a state. They simply ignored him for the time being, and set about to establish their republic.

It is the Centennial of this Republic which the State of Texas is celebrating in 1936.

The Honorable Oliver W. Stewart, president of the Flying Squadron Foundation, will speak in the First Baptist church, Wednesday, March 13, at 7:30 p. m., on the "Oncoming War With the Liquor Traffic."

Mr. Stewart is no newsgamer to this state, to which he has been a somewhat frequent visitor through more than thirty years, always coming as an advocate of prohibition.

Entering the service of the reform when but a lad his rise to prominence was all but meteoric. Within twelve years after his graduation from college in 1890 he had presided over the stormy Prohibition National Convention of 1896, managed the John G. Woolley special train, and been elected as a dry to the Illinois Legislature from the University district of the City of Chicago. He was early recognized as a man of prominent rank on the platform, which recognition he holds after more than a third of a century.

His sudden rise to fame has been matched only by his unusual length of service.

For more than twenty years his official connection has been with the Flying Squadron Foundation which he aided former Governor J. Frank Hanly in founding and which he has led since the latter's death in 1920.

Mr. Stewart was last heard in this state in the campaign of the Allied Forces in 1932. He rendered signal service in Kansas for five weeks in the campaign which kept that state dry and within the year he has been heard from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

His many friends look forward to his early visit with great expectation.

Insull Borrowed Large Sum Before Big Utility Collapse

CHICAGO, March 9. — Samuel Insull borrowed $500,000 from the General Electric company on a personal note about the time he was accused of embezzling $66,000,000, it was brought out as he testified in his own defense today.

It was the purpose of the defense today to show how unlikely it would be for Insull to borrow this sum as a personal loan, turn it over to the Middle West Utilities, as it is claimed he did, then turn around and embezzle $66,000,000 from the same concern.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Reid, formerly of Eastland and Olden, now of Denworth, Texas, near Pampa, visited with relatives and friends last week.

Why Southwestern Life Registers Every Policy It Issues

INSURANCE laws of the State of Texas provide how a life insurance company of Texas may register its policies. A registering company must deposit approved securities in an amount adequate for the protection of policyholders.

The Registration Law requires the segregation of policyholders' funds, thus preventing substitution of assets without the knowledge and consent of the State Insurance Department. Experience of the last five years has demonstrated the effect and value of registration laws.

The Registration Law makes mandatory the valuation of the required securities at the current market. A company which elects to operate under a market valuation law evidences the intention to invest policyholders' funds with added caution.

Many good companies do not elect to register their policies, and we urge policyholders of such companies to maintain their insurance in force.

...the Stranger

A stranger moves to your neighborhood. You observe him tolerantly, but with no immediate display of interest. You are an established resident, getting along very nicely before he came.

But you do not avoid him. For reasons not entirely unselfish you wait for him to reveal himself. Possibly he may add something to your social and business life. Possibly he will take a highly respected place in the community. He may even become one of your intimates. It is up to him.

So you note his manners, talk with him, and form an opinion. If he comes up to your requirements, you accept him, and often he proves a welcome addition to your group of friends.

It is with exactly the same attitude that the intelligent newspaper reader regards the advertisements of products new to him. These strangers may add something to his civilized enjoyment. They may contribute to his comfort, safety—even his success. In many ways they may prove valuable. Certainly it is wise to give them careful consideration.

Read the advertisements in this newspaper. They may be the means of introducing you to products that will take important places in your life. And every day they will give you information that enables you to buy intelligently and make your money go farther.

A colorful program hour has been delineated and will include a book review by Mrs. Joe C. Stephens, "A Daughter of the Samurai." The program is entitled, "What About the Japanese?" The community clubhouse was dressed in green and white, motif of shamrocks, and flowering white plants in green and white coverage, with a tall callow lily on the piano.

Response by Mrs. F. M. Kenny, president of senior club, was accompanied by the presentation to

UNDER A TROPICAL MOON

To the rhythm of jungle drums and the humming of guitars, the elaborate choruses of Paramount's "Rumba," coming Monday and Tuesday to the Arcadia Theatre, step the paces of their native love dance. The scene is Havana, and George Raft and Carole Lombard are starred in the picture which features a Ralph Ringer dance score and over a hundred Latin-American Rumba dancers brought to Hollywood especially for the production. High School Drama Decided Success The High School Dramatic club and Hi-Y orchestra combined in a successful and delightful dancing party on the Connellee roof, Friday night, that was attended by nearly one hundred, these including many chaperones in parents of students, and the high school students to whom the dance was limited.

The Hi-Y justified its existence in the music of the fifteen or more instruments, with Clara June Kimble at the piano and Karl Tanner as director.

There was a nice financial clearance from the entertainment, and this will be split between the two organizations.

Old Fashioned Candy Party This indeed a delightful treat nowadays to attend a candy party, and such was the recent pleasure of the Sunday school class, one of those of the Methodist church, taught by Miss Maifred Hale, who had as co-hostess Miss Ina Ruth Hale.

Blair, and a short talk by Mrs. S. A. Green, "Home Mission Trails," a devotional and prayer by Eugene Witt.

The third scene, a Chinese home, had the mother taken by Mrs. H. R. Breznalez; Terrell Coleman as the father; Mary Emma Nelms, the daughter; Curtis Terrell the Chinese priest, and a child, Sonny Breznalez.

Our Security Depends On Faith of Others

It is a shocking thing that seems to have happened in Pennsylvania, where diphtheria serum on which human lives depended was tampered with by men in charge of its distribution.

According to charges made by state officials, a laboratory expert and a health department expert took a quantity of two-year-old serum, changed the dates to make it appear fresh, and distributed it to drug stores and dispensaries.

Shortly before Christmas a little boy contracted diphtheria. His doctor gave him injections which should have saved him—but the serum failed to work and he died.

The doctor then complained that the serum was valueless, and in the investigation which followed, the misdating was discovered.

An affair of this kind is a tragic reminder of the way in which, living in a complex social order, we are all at the mercy of specialists and technicians whose integrity and skill we have to take on faith.

When you are exposed to or infected by such a disease as diphtheria, for instance, you must immediately place your life in the hands of men you never saw or heard of—the men who prepared the life-saving serum, the men who are responsible for testing it and distributing it.

Whether you live or die may depend on whether they did their jobs properly.

It speaks well for the general reliability of human beings that cases like this in Pennsylvania are so very rare. But the mere fact that a slip-up can occur is evidence that people who live in a modern society are forever at the mercy of one another.

This is not confined simply to the field of medicine. It is true in all phases of daily activity.

When you drive your car at a 50-mile clip, you are betting your life that the men who made the car did not scamp their jobs and present you with, say a steering knuckle that will suddenly collapse under a strain. When you travel by train, you are putting yourself in the hands of a whole host of utter strangers—dispatchers, switchmen, engine-men, and the like.

When you go up in an office building elevator, you are assuming that the builders and inspectors have seen to it that the elevator is safe. When you eat in a restaurant, you are relying on the integrity of many widely separated men to assure you of wholesome food.

A "tight" community never amounted to anything.

The encouragement that consists of setting an example is better than mere advice.

"Dusting the Covers of Texas History" Trial of Attorney On Conspiracy Charge Nears End

Immigrant volunteers from New Orleans were indignant over the action of the Texas government. They would see that justice was done, and honor the dead of the Alamo and Goliad, regardless of whether they were native-born Texans. General disapproval turned into violent disregard of orders. Santa Anna, by the secret treaty of Velasco, was to be returned to Vera Cruz June 1, but when the volunteers reached Texas, they demanded that he be punished severely.

Gen. Santa Anna likewise became indignant over the turn of events. He declared that he would appeal to President Jackson. Civil authorities had been forced to turn their prisoner over to the soldiers, in spite of protest on Santa Anna's part that he had been exposed to many hardships. His plea was repeated with sarcasm by those whose fathers and husbands had died at the Alamo or Goliad.

"You have caused us some privation also," President Burnet told Santa Anna, "and we shall not regret too deeply that you must also share some of them."

President Jackson refused to do anything about the quarrel between the two countries. Mexico had disavowed the Treaty of Velasco, and the president made no effort to have it enforced. Santa Anna was placed in close confinement, and remained there during the summer, and it was not until President Houston was inaugurated that he was released. Another appeal was made immediately to Jackson, who again did nothing.

A United States naval vessel accompanied Santa Anna back to Vera Cruz in February, 1837. He and his deeds were never forgotten, but in the course of time Texans were in the midst of government organization, and they had no time to waste in hating a man whose powerful leadership had practically destroyed a state. They simply ignored him for the time being, and set about to establish their republic.

It is the Centennial of this Republic which the State of Texas is celebrating in 1936.

Prohibitionist to Speak in Ranger

The Honorable Oliver W. Stewart, president of the Flying Squadron Foundation, will speak in the First Baptist church, Wednesday, March 13, at 7:30 p. m., on the "Oncoming War With the Liquor Traffic."

Mr. Stewart is no newcomer to this state, to which he has been a somewhat frequent visitor through more than thirty years, always coming as an advocate of prohibition.

Entering the service of the reform when but a lad his rise to prominence was all but meteoric. Within twelve years after his graduation from college in 1890 he had presided over the stormy Prohibition National Convention of 1896, managed the John G. Woolley special train, and been elected as a dry to the Illinois Legislature from the University district of the City of Chicago. He was early recognized as a man of prominent rank on the platform, which recognition he holds after more than a third of a century. His sudden rise to fame has been matched only by his unusual length of service.

For more than twenty years his official connection has been with the Flying Squadron Foundation which he aided former Governor J. Frank Hanly in founding and which he has led since the latter's death in 1920.

Mr. Stewart was last heard in this state in the campaign of the Allied Forces in 1932. He rendered signal service in Kansas for five weeks in the campaign which kept that state dry and within the year he has been heard from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

His many friends look forward to his early visit with great expectation.

Why Southwestern Life Registers Every Policy It Issues

INSURANCE laws of the State of Texas provide how a life insurance company of Texas may register its policies. A registering company must deposit approved securities in an amount adequate for the protection of policyholders.

The Registration Law requires the segregation of policyholders' funds, thus preventing substitution of assets without the knowledge and consent of the State Insurance Department. Experience of the last five years has demonstrated the effect and value of registration laws.

The Registration Law makes mandatory the valuation of the required securities at the current market. A company which elects to operate under a market valuation law evidences the intention to invest policyholders' funds with added caution.

Many good companies do not elect to register their policies, and we urge policyholders of such companies to maintain their insurance in force.

Ranger City Commissioners Issue Statements

CALL ATTENTION OF CITIZENS, TAXPAYERS, WATER CONSUMERS TO PROGRESS THEY HAVE MADE

Each Is Seeking Re-election for Second Term in the Offices They have Held for the Past Two Years and Solicit the Support of the People.

Much Good Has Been Done For City

Mayor Harry A. Logsdon and Commissioners W. S. Adamson, Walter Harwell, Col. Brashier and E. H. Mills Again Place Names on Ballot.

The entire city commission, composed of Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, mayor; Walter Harwell, finance commissioner, Col. Brashier, street commissioner; W. S. Adamson, police and fire commissioner, and E. H. Mills, water commissioner, has announced for re-election at the city election called for Tuesday, April 2, which is the first Tuesday in April.

The commission is today calling the attention of the citizens of Ranger to the financial statement, which has been worked up by Roy Jameson, city secretary, covering the 22-month period this set of city commissioners has been in office. After a careful study of the statement it will be seen that the city commission has accomplished more, possibly, in 22 months than previous commissions have over a period of a number of years.

Each commissioner has made a brief statement, along with his announcement, in which he appeals to the voters for their support in the coming election. These statements have appeared in a previous issue of the Times.

Each commissioner has worked hard and has studied the problems with which the city has been faced during the trying period in which they have served and have always acted for the best interests of the city of Ranger, as a whole, regardless of their personal feelings when they have believed that a movement or project was for the betterment of the town or believed that it would effect economies in the administration of city affairs they have worked diligently in behalf of the homeowners, the business men and the citizens as a whole.

Those who have attended meetings of the city commission know that each of the commissioners has given freely of his time and his efforts in behalf of the city. They have kept late hours, studying over the problems of Ranger, problems that were of as much interest to the rest of the citizenship, but problems with which they, alone, were faced as commissioners.

Saturday, when it was decided that the people should know of the financial status of the city, they had a statement prepared which would give each an opportunity of seeing just what has been done and where the money the taxpayers and water consumers pay is going.

Every resident of the city, whether a home owner or not, is vitally interested, or should be, in the city administration, and the commissioners have invited the citizens to sit in on the meetings of the commission in order that they might know what work is being done. Since many have not availed themselves of this opportunity, and since it is impossible for all to attend every meeting, the statement of accomplishments, to be found else where on this page, will give everyone an insight into what has been done, and what they can expect during the next two years if the present commissioners are re-elected.

Police and Fire Commissioner

Judge W. S. Adamson, who has served one term as police and fire commissioner and who seeks re-election. The police and fire departments have been unusually efficient during his term of office.

For Mayor

Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, who has served one term as commissioner, and one term as mayor of the city of Ranger, who is seeking re-election to the position of mayor at the election to be held Tuesday, April 2.

For Finance Commissioner

Walter Harwell, who has been finance commissioner during one of the most trying periods of Ranger's history, and who was active in arranging the new financial plan under which the city has made much progress. He also, seeks re-election.

Col. Brashier Has Done Much Good As Commissioner

Colonel Brashier, city street commissioner for the past two years, is seeking reelection to the position he now holds. In addition to being street commissioner he was unanimously elected by the commission as mayor pro-tempore, to serve as presiding officer in the absence of the mayor.

Colonel Brashier has been a citizen of Ranger for a number of years, has successfully conducted a furniture business that is an equal of any in West Texas. A man who has been successful in business over a long period, the street commissioner has been equally as successful over a much shorter period as street commissioner.

He has regularly attended the meetings of the commission, has worked hard in the interest of Ranger and has done all that was physically possible to keep the Ranger streets on a par with the best in this section.

He has counseled with the other commissioners on all civic and financial problems with which the commission has been faced and his wisdom has aided materially in establishing the fine record the commission has made in the past two years.

During his term of office many of the Ranger streets have been chanted, all have been kept in as good shape as possible and many improvements have been made.

He is seeking re-election solely on his record over the past two years.

Dr. H. A. Logsdon Seeks Mayorship For Second Term

Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, who has been a resident of Ranger since 1919 and who has been one of her most active citizens, physician, civic leader, city commissioner, mayor, president of the Lions club, Exalted Ruler, B. P. O. Elks, and in many civic and social capacities, is seeking re-election as mayor of the city.

Dr. Logsdon, while serving city commissioner, got the work for his position as mayor and since he has been elected has proved to be a capable presiding officer at the meetings semi-monthly.

During his regime a much good work has been done, the commission, all of which acted to the credit of the city and all the commissioners.

In addition to his activities as mayor of the city, Dr. Logsdon has found time to take an active part in practically every movement in the city, and worked as diligently as any man in Ranger to the front.

Dr. Logsdon is seeking re-election, believing that his service as a commissioner, then as mayor, in addition to his many other executive positions, has qualified him for the office with the people of Ranger honorably two years ago.

He promises the same work in the interest of Ranger re-elected, that he has given the city's affairs in the past.

For Water Commissioner

E. H. Mills, water commissioner, who is asking re-election at the coming city election. During his term of office much has been accomplished by the water department.

Walter Harwell Has A Good Record As City Commissioner

Walter Harwell, who has been finance commissioner of Ranger for the past two years, has been one of the most active men in the commission and has done a good job.

It was chiefly due to his efforts and those of the street commissioner, that the location of the water plant was maintained in Ranger instead of being moved to several miles, as had been planned by the State Highway department. He was instrumental in securing much of the right-of-way for the highway and aided the commission and the highway department in every way possible.

At present he is working plans for a city park, to be located on the new Strawn highway and has secured the cooperation of the highway department and relief offices in making the same possible.

Though the past two years have been some of the most trying in the history of Ranger, the commission has been kept on a cash basis, all bills promptly paid. Many improvements have been made in the city's equipment which had become worn out, thereby effecting economies by judicious spending.

Being a successful business man, like the other commissioners, finance commissioner is thoroughly capable of handling the affairs. His judgment has proved sound in all instances and work on the commission, and the citizens of Ranger, have been such as to make him one of the most valuable men on the board.

Mr. Harwell has served as president of the Rotary club and member of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce, as well as serving on practically every civic committee in the city and in every instance he has endeavored to be one of the most useful workers in any group.

Ford Passenger, Truck Sales

DEARBORN, Mich., Mar. 10.—Domestic retail deliveries of V-8 cars and trucks for January totaled 75,675 units, an increase of 110 per cent over deliveries of the same month of 1934. It was announced today at the home offices of the Ford Motor Company that this is the highest total for January in the past five years also exceeds deliveries in the binned months of January and February of last year.

Deliveries in January this year were exceeded in only two months of 1934. They were May and June, which are considered the peak months of the spring selling season.

In considering the efforts of the American, one optimistic forecast is that the total for 1935 will be as large and as appearing as ever.

Ranger FFA Has Banquet Friday At Baptist Church

By Howard Kennedy
The Ranger F. F. A. club, sponsored by P. A. Tanksley, teacher of agriculture in the Ranger High School, was host at a father and son banquet Friday night in the basement of the First Baptist church. Eighty-three were in attendance, which included the members of the F. F. A. club, their fathers, and the following guests: Mayor Harry A. Logsdon, A. J. Ratliff, Rupert Ringold, Dr. H. B. Parks, M. B. Hair, E. A. Ringold, R. L. Maddox, H. S. Von Roeder, and H. L. Baskin.

Dean Walsh, president of the club, acted as toastmaster and introduced F. C. Williamson, Jr., the vice president, who delivered the welcome address, which was responded to by Mayor Harry A. Logsdon. Dr. Hal B. Parks gave a very interesting and instructive talk on apiculture, and told the boys how the raising and caring for bees gave the farmer two crops instead of one.

President Walsh called on several present for short talks, and all stated that they were interested in the work of the F. F. A. boys and congratulated the local club on the work which they are doing.

P. A. Tanksley, sponsor of the club, told of his work with the organization and stated that at the beginning of the school term he wanted several of the boys to undertake feeder projects, but on account of the drought and the shortage of feed last year, he did not think it advisable, but he hoped to be able to start several of the boys on this project next year. The menu consisted of barbecued chicken, which was barbecued by the members of the club under the supervision of Mr. Tanksley, Mexican beans, potato salad, chicken gravy, pickles, beans, coffee, pie and cake. The meal was served by the boys.

F.F.A. CARD OF THANKS

The F. F. A. Boys wish to thank every mother and father for the part they played in preparing cakes, pies and the chickens for the barbecue. More especially do we wish to thank Mrs. Bob Hodges for the giblet gravy and pot of Mexican beans, and Mrs. H. Beason for the wonderful potato salad. Signed: Dean Walsh, president. Howard Kennedy, Rep.

Pickering Company Can Make Loans On Home Repair Work

pany, announced Saturday that his company was prepared to lend money to home owners under the National Housing Act No. 1. This is a re-financing plan under which homeowners can borrow money at a low rate of interest, without any red tape, for the purpose of doing any kind of home improvements in which materials will be needed.

Repair work and remodeling, such as painting, papering, repairing, re-roofing and many other kinds of repair work come under the terms of the contracts between the Pickering Lumber Sales Company and the homeowner.

The homeowner must have his taxes paid, his mortgages in good condition, must be regularly employed and must have no judgments or suits pending against him.

Any property owner can borrow from $100 to $2,000 under the plan, paying back monthly payments to retire the indebtedness over a period of three years. The amount of the loan is governed by the earning power of the property owner, the loans not to exceed an amount that will take one-fifth of his monthly income. The interest rate amounts to five per cent discount on the face amount of the note.

The Ranger office of the Pickering Lumber Sales Company now has on hand supplies of application blanks, notes, mortgages and everything that is required for securing one of these low-interest loans and applications can now be taken at the office of the company. Those who require more information can see Mr. Brown and secure from him literature and information concerning these loans.

Income Tax In A Nutshell

Extension For Filing Returns and Payment of Tax

It is important that the taxpayer render on or before the due date which is March 15 if the return is filed on the calendar year basis, as complete and final return of income as possible. However, when by reason of illness, absence from home, inability to secure the necessary data, or for other good and sufficient reason additional time is required, a reasonable extension of time may be granted. Application should be made in writing to the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer files his returns on or before the due date of the return, a full recital of the causes for the delay being given. Except in the case of taxpayers who are abroad, no extension may be granted for a period of more than six months.

An extension of time for filing the return does not extend the time for payment of the tax, or any installment thereof, unless so specified in the extension. Application for an extension of time for payment of the tax or any installment thereof should be made on form 1127 to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue through the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer's return is filed. The applicant should set forth under oath the specific reason for desiring an extension and should clearly indicate what hardship, if any, would result if the extension were not granted. In addition, a statement of assets and liabilities showing the taxpayer's financial condition as of the last day of the preceding month, or as of the close of the last taxable period, and a separate statement of receipts and disbursements for each of the three months immediately preceding the month in which the application is filed should be submitted. The amount of tax for which the extension of time of payment is desired should be stated. The extension will not consider an extension of time of payment unless request is made on or before the due date of the tax or installment thereof. If the extension is granted, interest at the rate of 6 per cent a year is collectible from the date the payment should have been made if there had been no extension to the expiration of the period of the extension.

ST. FRANCIS XAVIER CHURCH

Mass on Sunday will be at 8 a. m. by Rev. Michael Collins. Sunday will be the first Sunday in Lent. The Epistle read on that day is taken from the second Epistle of St. Paul to the Corinthians VI. 1-10; the Gospel is from St. Matthew IV. 1-2. This gospel tells how Christ allowed himself to be tempted three times by the devil. Then Christ said: Begone, Satan, for it is written: "The Lord thy God should thou adore, and him only shalt thou serve." No temptation can conquer us if we ask God for help; but we should ask God for help not only to overcome temptation but also to avoid temptation.

COOKING SCHOOL MENU

As Prepared by Mrs. Martha McDonald

Often time we tend to neglect or ignore the accustomed thing, the general routine of housekeeping, and fail to grasp something new and different that which lends interest to the duties of every woman supervising her household, but such is not the case in Ranger according to the number of women who attend the four days cooking school which was drawn to a climax Friday afternoon with a total of 750 in attendance.

A truism, always voiced in such schools is good talks and well demonstrated through splendid programs. Mrs. Martha McDonald, has a well established reputation for her unusual ability as an instructor, and is highly favored throughout the Oil Belt for such events.

Active merchants were represented impressively and attractive and useful prizes were given away each afternoon.
