COMMITTEES MAKE REPORTS AT C. C. MEET

By United Press
C. Hickey, past secretary of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, was given a beautiful baton set as a gift from the directors of the organization and past directors with whom he had during the seven years he had in the office. The presentation was made by J. E. Meroney, who had been the past secretary for his secretary and his position as one of Ranger's outstanding members.

Hickey acknowledged the gift in a few, well-chosen words, which he thanked his friends for their gift.

John Brown, chairman of the affairs committee, announced Dr. H. A. Logsdon, P. A. Aley and Mr. Wall had been named to his committee to complete its personnel.

Mr. Hassen was named as chairman of a committee to stage a membership drive for the organization, with F. D. Hicks as a member of the committee. The committee is to meet soon to outline for the biggest membership in the history of the organization.

The chamber of commerce has been particularly active since a new regime took over its reins. It is felt that a more ready response to the drive will be obtained than ever before and in the future for the chamber of commerce was expected by all the members.

Mr. H. Davis, chairman of the report committee, announced C. J. Moore and J. J. Kelly were added to his committee, announced that plans for moving the fences around the airport are planned.

D. Woods, chairman of the report committee, announced Ranger's quota toward release on property at the east line of Highway 80 and Highway 89 at Weatherford had been met and that the lease had been secured. This land is to be used to a large signboard pointing the shorter distance to Ranger, Eastland and Cisco over Highway 89.

D. Hicks, chairman of the report committee, reported the Lone Star and T. P. Coal Company would hold a joint meeting in Ranger on April 1st and that arrangements had been made to secure the Columbia for that date and have a picture show along safety lines for the delegates at the convention.

A. N. Larson and Walter are the other two members of the committee.

The motion of John Hassen that the two men who were working on securing a tract of land on which the federal maintenance might be placed, should be used in that capacity, and the chamber of commerce pay salaries for finishing the work.

V. Galloway, secretary of the organization, made a report on progress of the cleanup campaign stating that there appeared much interest in the project that the various committees meeting and formulating plans. He thanked the Times for the splendid publicity the campaign has been given through its columns.

Present at the meeting were E. May, F. D. Hicks, C. D. Joseph, Clyde H. Davis, Anderson, J. E. Matthews, Brown, A. J. Ratliff, John J. E. Meroney, R. V. Galloway and Wayne C. Hickey.

F.D.R. LEAVES MUCH WORK FOR CONGRESSMEN

By United Press
ABOARD THE ROOSEVELT SPECIAL, EN ROUTE TO JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 26.—President Roosevelt sped southward today for a two weeks vacation in Bahama waters.

Before leaving Washington he outlined to congressional leaders a legislative program which he wishes congress at least to consider before it adjourns. Legislation which he wishes given preferred consideration includes:

Social security as it relates to both old age pensions and unemployment insurance.

Federal ejmination of utility holding company abuses.

Increased capital for the home owners' loan corporation.

Transportation legislation for aviation, shipping, busses, trucks and railroads.

Two-year extension of NRA.

Banking legislation to strengthen authority of the federal reserve over currency and credits.

Tightening up of pure food and drug laws.

Famed Engineer Hit in PWA Case

Accused in the first major public works scandal, an alleged conspiracy to defraud the government of $400,000 in a Texas PWA irrigation project, Charles R. Olberg, world-known engineer, is shown here as he prepared to fight the case in Washington. Six others were indicted after a long secret agent investigation.

KEEL WILL BE LAST TO FACE SAME CHARGES

Boys Enter Plea of Guilty To Five Theft Charges.

Tom Mullins, alias Tom Colburn, and Vernon Smith, Tuesday faced a five-year term in the state penitentiary after conviction Monday afternoon in 91st district court on two automobile theft charges, a clothing theft charge and two conspiracy to rob charges.

Sentences given in each of the cases, to run concurrently, will in reality measure only five years, Judge George L. Davenport explained.

In tattered clothing, knees showing from slits in their trousers, the two Eastland county youths received the sentences for theft of an automobile of J. A. Smith of Olden, one of William Williams of Ranger and several service station robberies.

Leniency was recommended by District Criminal Attorney Grady Owen, because, as he said, they were the younger members of a group which allegedly committed the felonies.

Harlon Massie of Olden, who pleaded guilty in their trousers, the Eastland district court for his part in the alleged felonies, has already been sentenced.

L. C. Keel, formerly of Ranger, who pleaded guilty and received a 20-year sentence in connection with robbery of a Metcalf Gap service station in Palo Pinto county last week, will be tried at Eastland on the same charges as faced by the two.

A confession of one of the three youths implicated Keel, Trial is expected to be set soon on charges in Eastland county.

Keel, Massie, Mullins and Smith allegedly engaged in a running gun battle with Ranger police on Jan. 12.

Katie Jenkins Is Still True to Ray Hamilton, Criminal

By United Press
DALLAS, March 26.—Katie Jenkins, red-haired sweetheart of Raymond Hamilton, was quoted today by the Dallas Dispatch in a copyrighted interview as saying she had not "squealed" on Hamilton and was "with him to the end."

Hamilton was quoted last week in an interview in the Houston Press, written by a reporter he kidnaped, as saying that if Katie had gone back on him he was "ready to die."

Pat Kleinman, Dispatch reporter, asserted in the copyrighted interview that she telephoned him and said "a lot of people have got me all wrong. I would like for them to know the kind of a girl I really am. I never go back on anyone. When I am with someone I'm with him to the end."

P.W.A. PROBE IN HIDALGO BEING MADE

By United Press
WASHINGTON, March 26.—Chief Investigator Louis Glavis disclosed today that the PWA is investigating alleged irregularities in the $1,765,000 Hidalgo county, Texas, irrigation project.

Investigation was revealed soon after a federal grand jury had indicted seven persons, including two PWA officials on charges of attempting to defraud in the $4,853,000 Willacy county, Texas, irrigation canal.

He refused to say what evidence he had uncovered, merely announcing investigation of the project was underway.

The development near the Mexican border in Southern Texas was financed by a PWA loan and grant of $1,769,000. Contracts have not yet been approved.

Pinned Down to His Work

Prettier pin cushions wouldn't be hard to find, but here's a most novel one that's all the rage in Delhi, India. This fakir, on whom the natives look with awe, can pierce his skin without drawing blood or apparently feeling pain, as he demonstrates with his weird decorative scheme.

TWO VOTED AGAINST NEW SCHOOL FUND

By United Press
AUSTIN, March 26.—A $10,000,000 appropriation to insure an eight-month school term for even the smallest schoolhouse in Texas during the next two years, was passed by the House today.

It compares with a $6,000,000 appropriation made by the preceding legislature. Included, however, are items for re-habilitation, home economics and agricultural courses that were omitted before.

The bill had only two opposing votes to 125 yeas. The enormous vote of approval was not given until the original bill had been stripped by amendments. These took away much of the power centered in the state department of education in administering the fund. The final change insures retention of old school teachers with state certificates. The bill, as drawn, would have barred any school from aid if it had any teachers who had not two years of college work.

As the House of Representatives recessed an automobile drivers license bill was near passage. Various votes on proposed amendments indicated a big majority for the bill.

Under its drivers of 1,250,000 registered vehicles will pay 25 cents annually to provide a fund for enforcing the safe driving law. Estimates on what the fund will receive ranged from $325,000 to $1,000,000 a year, depending on how many drivers per car there are.

Tests may be required by the highway motor patrol before licenses are issued. No person under 16 may be licensed. Licenses are to be forfeited for major traffic violations. Suspensions are provided for minor violations.

Gun Club to Have Postponed Parley Wednesday Night

A meeting will be held Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in Ranger to hear the first reports of the organization forces of the Oil Belt Gun Club.

Due to illness of Sam Butler, Eastland, one of the most active figures in the organization of the club, the meeting scheduled for Friday evening was postponed.

This is proving one of the most popular moves started in this section for some time, it was declared Tuesday. It was said that with $200 worth of stock held in Breckenridge and proportionate amounts in the other towns, the club would be on a firm basis. To date 24 men in Breckenridge have subscribed $26 each for the stock. Guy Ewing being chairman of that committee, and J. T. Hughes is of the opinion that 100 memberships will be taken out immediately at $3 each.

Mr. Hughes, who is also on the grounds committee, said he and committee member Jim Horton of Eastland, chairman, have inspected a site about 18 miles from Breckenridge on the Cisco road which they will recommend to the meeting Wednesday for a site. It is on what is known as the Thorpe place near the county line.

A charter application has been drawn by Lyndsay Hawkins, one of the charter members. With this start it is felt that the Oil Belt section will have a gun club in a big way, where national sports and other kindred sports can be enjoyed.

It is to be for both rifle and skeet shooting, a board of directors to be elected from the stockholders, under whose direction the affairs of the club will be conducted.

Eastland Man Is Namesake of the Best Manhunter

An Eastland man, W. H. (Bill) McDonald, is the namesake of Captain Bill McDonald, one of the greatest man-hunters of them all, whose exploits are related in a current story in a national weekly periodical.

Captain Bill McDonald, his namesake states, was his father's second cousin.

The Eastland man carries a commission as a special Ranger, given by former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, that was cancelled with others over the state recently by Governor James Allred.

Centennial Rose Developed at Tyler

TYLER, Tex.—The Texas Centennial rose, developed by A. F. Watkins in honor of the hundredth anniversary of the state, will be used widely to advertise the Centennial celebration.

The first shipments of the new rose were sent to Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Mrs. James V. Allred, wife of the Texas governor, and Mrs. Allred's mother, Mrs. Claude Miller.

The rose has a deep brick red color when in bud and when in full bloom has a slight golden tint. It is similar to the President Hoover rose but is said to be superior to it both in purity of color and vigor.

Blames Gas Firm For Fire and Asks $3,700 Damages

Because of high pressure gas entering stoves in his residence through small pipes and no regulation, fire that destroyed his home and store was caused by the Empire Southern Gas company of Gorman, D. J. Neill, who has filed a suit for $3,700 against the company, states in a petition.

Allegation that the company would increase pressure of gas entering his home without notice is given in the petition.

The petitioner claims the gas company frequently increased pressure in its mains, allegedly causing leaks that on Jan. 20 of this year caused a fire destroying his store and adjoining home.

Though he had notified the company of the alleged condition, the petition recites, no action or remedy was offered.

The case was filed in 88th district court.

FARM WOMAN IS HELD ON A MURDER COUNT

By United Press
HOUSTON, March 26.—Mrs. Ella Hammer, 51, barefoot and overall-clad farm woman, was in jail today charged with the fatal shooting of her son-in-law, Henry Alexander, 40, farmer of Spring, during a quarrel.

Alexander was shot as he stood on the steps of his home yesterday.

"They had been quarreling a long time, according to reports from the neighbors," a deputy sheriff said. "Not so long ago Alexander had his mother-in-law arrested." Deputy Sheriff Gillespie said.

"Monday Mrs. Hammer went to the Alexander home. He told her he wanted her to 'stop telling lies' about one of his daughters."

"She was standing on the back steps and he was standing at the door when she pulled a .38 calibre pistol and shot him once. He fell forward and knocked her down."

Land Being Signed For Maintenance Colony Rapidly

The two men who have been working on securing options on a tract of land to submit as a site for a federal maintenance colony, have reported that options have been obtained on 3222 acres near Colony.

As there are several that have not been seen and two large tracts that have not yet been signed, but on which it is expected that options may be obtained, it was thought that between 5,000 and 6,000 acres might be signed for the tract.

The Chamber of Commerce directors authorized hiring the two to continue the work for a few more days.

Scout Committees Vote to Help Send Boys to Jamboree

At a meeting of the committee-men from both troops of Boy Scouts, held in the offices of the Chamber of Commerce Monday afternoon, it was decided that a campaign would be started to furnish funds for sending two Boy Scouts, one from each troop, to the national jamboree at Washington in August of this year.

The effect of $25 for each boy must be paid by April 15, it was stated by Guy N. Quiri, scout executive of the Comanche Trail council, and the remainder of the $100 needed for all expenses of the boys can be raised anytime prior to July.

The committee voted unanimously to put their efforts behind a movement to send the boys to the jamboree.

DUST STORM CAUSES TRAIN WRECK TODAY

By United Press
DIGHTON, Kan., March 26.—In a swirling dust storm that smothered lights and reduced visibility to a few feet, a freight train early today rumbled a special passenger train loaded with CC recruits as it backed into a siding on the Missouri Pacific lines at Shields, 10 miles north of here.

Thirty recruits were bruised. They received first aid from two government doctors aboard the train and were not sent to hospitals. Two trainmen were injured seriously.

The tourist pullman coaches were derailed and splintered and the freight engine leaped the tracks. Those aboard the two trains said it was remarkable that passengers on the two pullmans were not more seriously injured or killed.

Ranger May Get Feed, Seed Loan Office For Week

R. V. Galloway, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has announced that a letter has been received from R. F. Viehmann, acting manager of the Farm Credit Administration at Dallas, stating that the request that feed and seed loans might be signed up in Ranger had been received and that everything possible would be done to see that farmers could sign applications for the loans in Ranger.

The secretary was authorized by the board of directors to hire Miss Mary Campbell for one week to assist the farmers in getting their loans if the office was authorized in Ranger.

CANTON O.—At 81, R. O. Mesnar, Canton's fire chief, has fought fires for 62 years.

A move to make Mesnar chief emeritus, with full pay retirement, has been started by prominent citizens.

Fire Chief George A. Wallace, of Cleveland, was made chief emeritus at the age of 83 three years ago in the Sixth City. Wallace is still living.

Designation of New Highway Is Urged

In response to a letter from the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, the local chamber of commerce directors instructed the secretary to write a letter to the State Highway Department urging that a new highway intersecting U. S. Highway 80 at Stanton, be designated.

The new highway, if designated, would intersect Highway 80 at Stanton, Martin county, thence west through Andrews and thence to the New Mexico boundary line near Eunice, N. M., and would be almost a direct route to Carlsbad, N. M.

HITLER STAND STRENGTHENED BY EXECUTIONS

By United Press
BERLIN, March 26.—Adolf Hitler's diplomatic hand was strengthened in his arms negotiations with Sir John Simon today by news that four Germans of Memel territory had been sentenced to death and 83 to prison terms.

Only yesterday Hitler had advanced the Memel situation as one of Germany's reasons for hating the World War treaties.

Bitter comment from an official spokesman indicated what the impulsive Hitler must have told Simon today.

Hitler's argument had been that the situation in Memel, taken from Germany after the war and then given to Lithuania, was intolerable, it is largely German. Today's sentences regarded even in Lithuania as severe, even an argument that Germans were oppressed. The news came just before the end of a three-hour conference among Hitler, Simon and their aides.

Hiway Committee Of Cleanup Drive Holds a Meeting

The highway beautification committee of the Ranger cleanup campaign met in the offices of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday morning at 9:30, at which time three sub-committees were appointed to take care of special phases of the work to be done by the main committee.

A committee to contact filling stations on the highways and urge them to beautify their premises was appointed. This committee is to be composed of Mrs. W. D. Conway, Mrs. Saunders Gregg and Mrs. L. H. Floweren.

The park committee, which is to aid the city and the state highway department in the park project on the new Strawn road, was appointed. It is composed of Mrs. R. A. Jameson, Miss Beulah Rowles and Mrs. M. H. Hagaman.

The residence committee, which will be responsible for inspiring those living along the highways to plant flowers and beautify their yards, is composed of Mrs. W. B. Crussley, Mrs. J. T. Killingsworth, Mrs. J. F. Dreilhofer and Mrs. R. B. Stafford. The committee is to furnish seeds for flowers, where necessary, to promote this work.

Flowers, Shrubs Needed For Road Beautification

The highway beautification committee of the Ranger cleanup campaign today urged any one who had any flowers, shrubs, cuttings or anything else of that nature they could donate to those who have no means of buying such things, to leave them in the office of the Chamber of Commerce for distribution.

It was pointed out that there were many in Ranger who had cuttings and flowers they did not need and which could be donated toward the highway beautification work, and which could be distributed and set out to advantage at this time.

Evidence Rarely Else Than Circumstantial

The Bruno Hauptmann defense fund now contains enough money to relieve the state of New Jersey of the job of financing Hauptmann's appeals.

On the same day that this announcement was made, it was also announced that Mrs. Hauptmann and a committee would make a tour of the middle west to solicit more contributions.

This being a free country, the right to solicit funds of this kind is inalienable—as is the right of any citizen to contribute. But it is a little bit hard to figure out just why under the shining sun anyone should feel moved to shell out in this case.

The principal reason, apparently, is a wide-spread feeling that a man sentenced to die on purely circumstantial evidence has not had quite a square deal.

This theory is worth examining. Boiled down, it can mean nothing less than that a conviction is shaky unless it be bolstered by direct eye-witness testimony as to the major facts at issue. And that is equivalent to saying that unless a murderer is thoughtful enough to commit his crime in the presence of witnesses, it is impossible to punish him.

As a matter of fact, the testimony of eye-witnesses is frequently the most shaky and unreliable kind of testimony there is.

Consider for a moment the two criminal cases of the post-war era in which the greatest numbers of people became convinced that men had been wrongfully convicted—the Sacco-Vanzetti case and the Mooney-Billings case.

Whether Sacco and Vanzetti were murderers or innocent men, it is an indisputable fact that the very weakest part of the case against them was the evidence of eye-witnesses. If eye-witness testimony were as much superior to circumstantial evidence as some people believe, there never could have been the slightest question as to these men's guilt.

And Mooney—where was the circumstantial evidence in his case? Practically all the important evidence against him came from eye-witnesses. The agitation about his case would have died years ago if direct evidence were as pool-proof as some innocent souls suppose.

This is not to say that these men were convicted through error. It is simply to point out that it is silly to suppose that circumstantial evidence is in the nature of things open to suspicion. On the contrary, it is apt to be the strongest kind of evidence there is.

A human witness may lie, or be honestly mistaken, or be subject to hallucinations; a fingerprint, a bit of handwriting, a handful of bills, or a piece of wood cannot.

Contribute to the Hauptmann defense fund if you wish. But don't do it on the ground that it is wrong to convict a man on circumstantial evidence.

Buckeye Democrats in the Big Picture

Gov. Martin L. Davey of Ohio is a fighter and goes all the road. Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins threw a bombshell into the Buckeye camp when he ordered an investigation of the handling of relief funds and denounced Davey in language that blistered. The governor struck back with a vengeance. He swore out a warrant for Hopkins charging that he had been criminally libeled by the head of the relief camp. Ohio has a republican attorney general. He is ready to proceed against Davey should a federal grand jury return indictments and republican lawmakers demand the impeachment of the head of the greatest tree culture college and organization in America. Of course, Hopkins cannot be extradited by the Ohio governor, but the latter has extended an invitation to the head of the relief organization to appear in the Buckeye land and face the music.

Martin L. Davey is a member of a very noted Ohio family. His father founded the famous tree college and its graduates are active in tree surgery in all the 48 commonwealths. He is a leader of the young democrats of his commonwealth. He served two terms as a democratic congressman from a strong republican district and never allied, according to his friends, with graft or grafters either in private life or the public service. Well, let the Hopkins investigation tell the story and the voters of Ohio, including the lawmakers, pass upon the evidence.

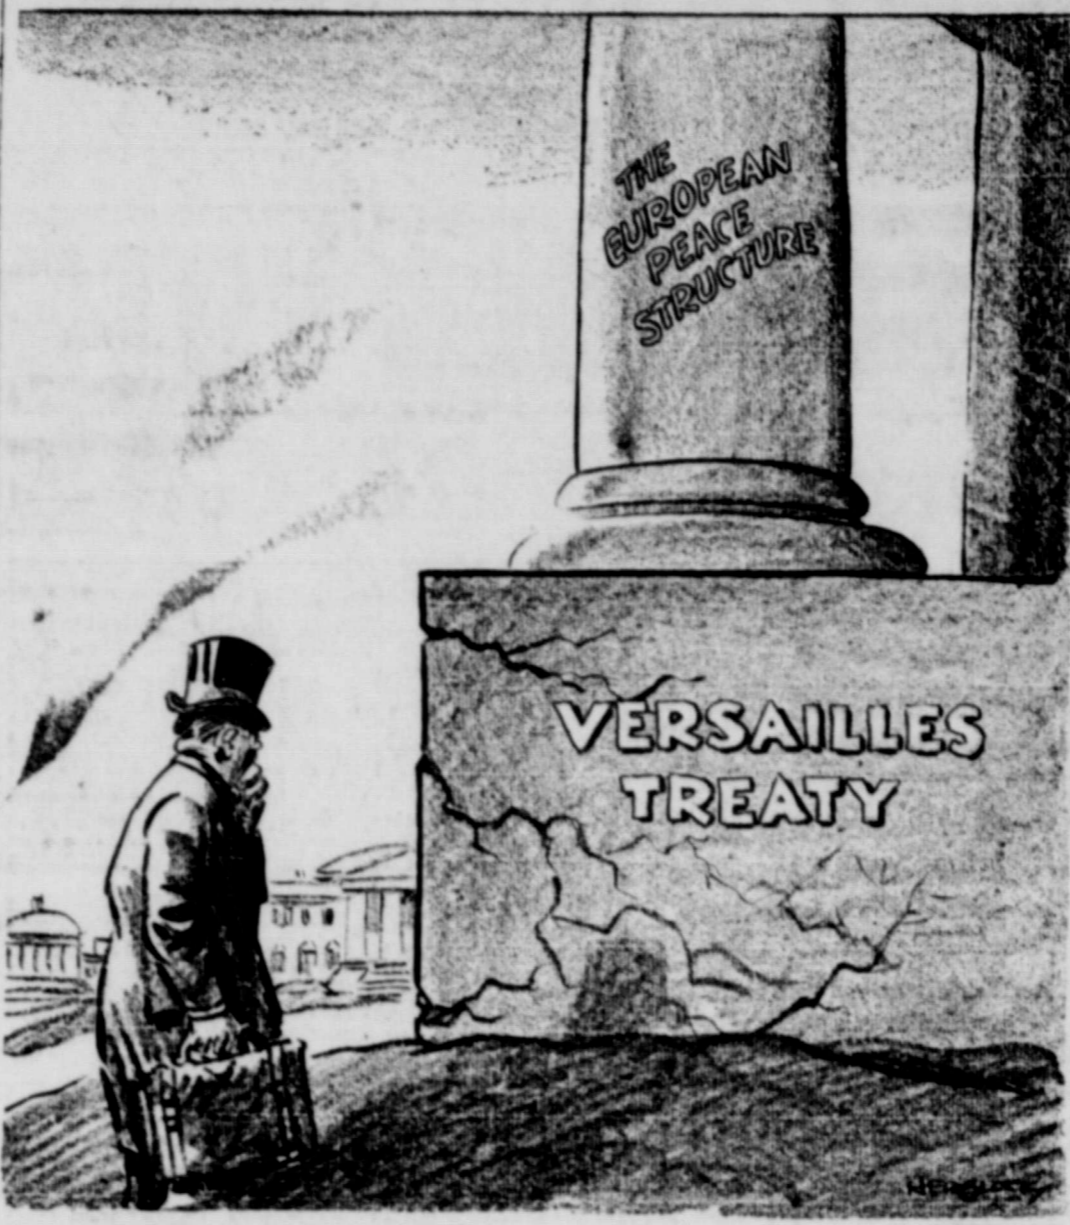

Cold facts might just as well be looked in the face.

The man who hustles gets the business.

WHAT OIL MEANS TO TEXAS

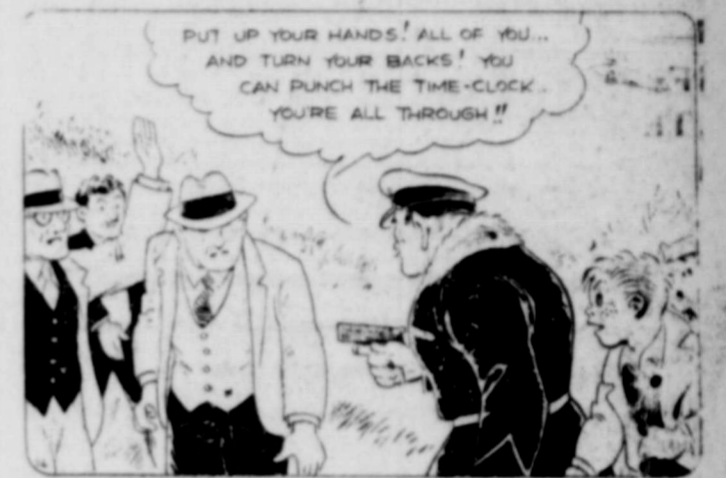

This map, prepared from data supplied by the Texas Railroad Commission, shows how the 520 separate oil fields in Texas are distributed among 122 counties. Counties with the black dots contain one or more fields. Oil is worth more than $1,000,000 daily to Texas and contributes, with its products $45,000,000 a year in State taxes alone, besides many additional millions in county and local taxes. The map gives a graphic illustration of why oil is important to so many Texas communities and citizens and why the Commission's successful fight to retain supervision by the State instead of turning regulation of Texas oil over to Washington bureaucrats has won favorable consideration by the Legislature of the Commission's request for a slight increase in the allocation of taxes paid in by the industry, so that efficient supervision can be maintained.

Millicent Graves, secretary to George Dringold, finds her employer in his office dead. In panic she rushes away and registers at a hotel under an assumed name. Jarvis Happ, distinguished looking stranger, recognizes Millicent and offers to help her. He sends her to a beauty parlor where she is transformed into a brunet. Happ takes her home, introduces her as his secretary. His son, Norman Happ, warns Millicent against his step-brother, Robert Caise, and tells her a mysterious woman in black ermine has some power over his stepmother.

Foxy Brother Battery

If Sammy Fox, right, younger brother of Jimmy, left, remains with the Athletics as a pitcher, Connie Mack, center, will have the second brother battery in the American League. Wesley and Rick Ferrell, of the Boston Red Sox, form the other. Mack and the two Foxes are shown at the Fort Myers, Fla., training camp of the Philadelphia club.

Suddenly there is a knock on the door of Millicent's room. Now Go On With the Story CHAPTER XI Norman Happ jumped back and stared at Millicent Graves apprehensively. Millicent moved toward the door as though to open it.

Norman caught her arm with his right hand, at the same time pressing the forefinger of his left hand against his lips to indicate the necessity for silence. He leaned closer to her and whispered, "Don't open that door while I'm here."

She would have said something, but he darted away from her on swiftly silent feet. He opened the door of her closet, stepped inside and pulled the door shut after him.

Knuckles sounded on the panels of the door. Millicent Graves started once more toward the door to open it, then indignation got the better of her. She raised her voice so that it was perfectly audible to the person outside of the door and said, "I don't think I care to receive any more visitors tonight. Norman Happ is here and is just leaving."

At the sound of her words Happ emerged from the closet. His face was a dull red.

"What did you do that for?" he asked in a mumbling, surly voice. "Because," she told him, "I've done nothing to be ashamed of and I don't intend to be put in an embarrassing position."

With that he turned and stalked gravely down the hall. Norman Happ, his face the color of a boiled sheet, wiped furiously at his mouth with a handkerchief. Millicent Graves, torn between a desire to cry and to laugh, slammed the door shut and very audibly turned the key in the lock. Then she walked to a large overstuffed chair, dropped into it and started to laugh. The whole situation was too utterly absurd. Norman Happ, standing there with lipstick smeared on his mouth, explaining to his father the unwarranted nature of his intrusion and the cool reception which he had received.

Abruptly Millicent remembered the things she had learned from Norman Happ and the laughter died from his lips. There really was some reason back of everything Jarvis Happ had done. Jarvis Happ knew of the woman in the black ermine coat, the mysterious woman whom George Dringold had described on the night of his death... and Jarvis Happ had instructed Harry Felding, the chauffeur, to shadow this mysterious woman in black. That would mean, then, that Jarvis Happ didn't know the identity of the woman. Or, if he knew her identity, didn't know where she lived. It also meant that he was interested in finding out more or less over her. She slowly low-about this woman. Millicent Graves determined that she was going to cultivate Harry Felding. If he discovered anything concerning this woman who wore a black ermine fur coat and who seemed to exert such a powerful influence upon the lives of those with whom she came in contact, Millicent Graves decided that she would be in a position to find out just what information he had uncovered.

Slowly she started disrobing and, as she slipped off her outer garments and stood before her mirror applying creams to her face, she ran over the events of the day in her mind. Suddenly she realized that the interruptions had prevented her from looking over the books which Mr. Gentry had given her in the suitcase. Her eyes turned toward the suitcase. It was brown, with brass mountings. There were two straps which entirely surrounded the suitcase. It had been made to stand hard usage, and she noticed casually that one of the corners had been badly dented so that the edge of the brass reinforcement presented a jagged appearance.

She frowned as she thought how easy it would be to snag a stocking on that bit of brass, and determined she would have it fixed. Why not ask the chauffeur to fix it? That would be a good way to lay the foundation for her campaign.

She left the stool in front of her dressing table, took a few steps toward the suitcase, then realized she was too tired to bother with books. It had been a hard day. But she did want to take a look at those books before she retired, just to see what they looked like and how they had been kept.

She dropped into the overstuffed chair, placed her fingertips at the back of her neck and gently kneaded the taut muscles, holding her neck as completely relaxed as she could, swaying her head from side to side. A delicious sense of languor crept over her. She slowly lowered her hands to her lap. The room was warm and cozy. She yawned, lay her head back and closed her eyes. Millicent awoke abruptly, realizing that she had been asleep. She did not know how long she had slept, but she realized that some noise had awakened her. She sat perfectly still, her senses alert, waiting, wondering if the noise would be repeated. A moment later she heard it again, the sound of rustling motion in the corridor just outside her door. She remembered locking the door, wondering if someone had tried once more to enter her room without knocking. Whoever it was who had paused outside the door had now started down the corridor. She could hear the sound of retreating steps. Then a door banged somewhere at the end of the corridor. Millicent got to her feet, frowning. Who could have walked down the corridor to her door? And who would have paused to listen, or...

Evidently, then, someone had called to leave a note. She got to her feet and realized from the cramped condition of her limbs that she must have been sleeping for some time. Sheer exhaustion had taken its toll. She slid the paper from beneath the door.

It was a paper upon which appeared a typewritten, unsigned message. The message was brief and sinister: "THE WOMAN IN THE BLACK ERMINE COAT IS HERE." (To Be Continued)

Diphtheria Is Routed In State

AUSTIN.—Few conquests of science have been so spectacular and complete as the rout of diphtheria. And this victory has most firmly established the value of serum treatment both in its preventive and curative phases. However, toxin-antitoxin or its successor toxoid for immunization, and antitoxin for timely cure, are brilliant achievements of which the general public even yet are not fully aware," states Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer. "As indicated, toxoid is the immunizing or preventive agent now usually employed. Only one injection of this serum is necessary. However, three to four months are required for the body to develop immunity. At that time the chick test is applied to determine the results of this preventive treatment. This harmless and painless procedure is performed by injecting into the upper layers of the skin a minute drop of the diphtheria toxin. If within 47 to 72 hours there is no redness at the place where the toxin was injected, or perhaps a small blister and some hardness of the skin, immunity has been definitely established. "However, when a case of diphtheria exists antitoxin is the only treatment that will save life. Also, to be effective, it must be given early and in large doses. Delay is usually caused by parents failing to realize that any sore throat may actually be diphtheria. "The means are at hand to fight diphtheria to the death, but it cannot be done without a 100 per cent co-operation of parents. May Day, the Child's Health Day, will soon be here and one of the best ways to observe it would be for parents to have their children immunized against diphtheria." Sidney Franklin, the American Torreador, won his suit against a film company for calling him a "bull thresher," throwing the company for a loss of $7,000.

How not to LIGHT A BRIDGE TABLE

Think of trying to play bridge by the light of two candles. Yet that is the equivalent of the light in many homes—a level of illumination that is tiring to guests and makes any party dull.

For gay, livelier parties, use more lighting. An indirect lamp provides the ideal light—shadowless and glareless—for playing bridge, and is an equally efficient light for a quiet evening of reading. See the newest styles of indirect lamps at our store.

Have you seen the new Reading and Study Lamp, scientifically designed to give proper light for reading and study? These lamps are approved by the Illuminating Engineering Society and enable you to read with a minimum of eye fatigue. The new-type shade and diffusing globe provide both direct and indirect illumination, without glare.

Gable and Bennett Score Big Hit In 'After Office Hours'

Speed, action and romance are the high points of "After Office Hours," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production currently playing at the Arcadia theatre.

A fast-moving story of adventurous romance, it deals with a society murder-mystery against a background of modern-day newspaper life.

Two famous stars, never teamed before, share honors. They are Clark Gable and Constance Bennett, who are slated to go a long way as a team. Indications are that they will follow in the footsteps of the famous Crawford-Gable and Shearer-Gable combination, so popular with fans.

In this film, Gable plays a hard-boiled newspaper editor who is determined to get his story even though it requires the tactics of the Northwest Mounted. Constance Bennett plays his beautiful society reporter—and romantic nemesis.

When the editor, out to "break" a threatening scandal, runs into a cold-blooded murder, excitement begins. Unlike most murder-mysteries, the audience knows who is the murderer, then enjoys watching the mystery unraveled by a trained newspaper investigator.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief to Mrs. Maneely

"Up to five years ago, I knew no end of suffering caused by constipation. I used all kinds of laxatives but only found relief till I got used to them. My physician told me to get some Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, and instructed me how to use it.

"I did just as I was told by my doctor, and today I send my highest praise for what your ALL-BRAN has done for me."—Mrs. Jas. Maneely, Jr., 9 Kilburn St., Valley Falls, R. I.

"Due to insufficient 'bulk' in meals.

ALL-BRAN provides gentle "bulk" to help overcome common constipation. It is also a good source of vitamin B and iron.

The "bulk" of ALL-BRAN is often more effective than the "bulk" in fruits and vegetables, as it does not break down within the body. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not corrected this way, see your doctor.
