RUMOR OF HIGH RENTALS HERE BEING DENIED

R. V. Galloway, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, announced today that a checkup showed that rumors prevailing in Thurber that rents in Ranger had been increased beyond reason, were unfounded.

On a trip to Thurber Thursday afternoon the secretary found that many of the houses were under the impression that real estate agents were raising rentals on vacant houses in the hopes of getting higher rents from employees of the Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company, who are to move from Thurber soon.

"After hearing the rumors in Thurber," Galloway said, "I checked up with real estate agents here and found that in no instances were rents raised by any agent. The same rentals are being asked on all houses listed, the real estate agents report, and all that have been rented to families moving from Thurber to Ranger have been at the same rentals charged before they were vacated."

It was stated that in two instances rentals had been increased slightly by individuals who had rented houses, but these increases were because those renting the houses had wanted some changes and improvements made, and the increase was thought justified because of the expense of changing the houses to meet the wishes of the new tenants.

A total of 13 families from Thurber have already rented houses in Ranger, it was reported, and some seven or eight more families are awaiting orders from the company before they move. Some may come to Ranger while others may move to other towns nearby.

It was reported from Thurber that the Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company was erecting a warehouse on the Butler lease, west of town, and that one or two families might be located there.

As some of the families are having trouble in finding desirable houses in Ranger, individuals who have houses for rent can list them with real estate agents, who can likely rent them, or they can be listed with the Chamber of Commerce or the Ranger Times and the listing will be turned over to local agents for renting.

LEADERS ARE WARNED THAT STRIKES LOOM

WASHINGTON, May 24.—President Roosevelt and congressional leaders today were understood to have decided to rush a bill for two-year extension of NRA through the house, ahead of all other administration legislation.

Decision to push the bill in the face of threatened senate opposition came as President William Green of the American Federation of Labor warned there would be strikes unless NRA was extended two years.

The extension measure will be rushed to passage in the house early next week.

Green said that to extend NRA for only nine and a half months would virtually kill it. He said labor was not attempting to coerce congress, but would fight for its rights and unless the NRA is continued for two years strikes on a national scale would develop.

He made it plain that the general strike action would hinge solely on the NRA question. Previously he had indicated the move would be invoked only if congress failed to enact labor's three demands—two-year NRA, 30-hour week, and Wagner labor dispute bill.

"In my judgment failure to extend the NRA for two years would result in strikes throughout the nation—first in the industries and then we would consider mobilizing our full strength for a great national demonstration," Green said.

Girl Ocean Flyer Sets as His Goal

This is the belle who plays Elaine to Jan Ignacio Pombo's role of Galahad of the Air—Elena Rivero Corral of Mexico City. She awaited his arrival from Europe by plane, the daring Spanish aviator having hopped off from Madrid for Brazil to keep a vow that he would fly to her across the Atlantic.

MUSSOLINI IS NOT IN FAVOR OF COMPROMISE

GENEVA, May 24.—Premier Mussolini of Italy today rejected the main points of the compromise proposal for settlement of the Italian-Abyssinian dispute, but made a counter-proposal.

The counter-proposal revived hopes a solution might be worked out and war averted.

The compromise had been offered after a meeting of the League of Nations council which has been laboring to solve the crisis between the two nations.

Fears had been expressed that Mussolini's refusal to accept the plan would mean a crisis in southeastern Europe and would force postponement of a scheduled June conference on security treaties.

At the hour before he turned down the plan, Mussolini declared in Rome that Italy would brook no interference from other nations and shouted:

"We march direct. We do not turn back."

It was said on good authority Mussolini refused to agree to the resolution referring to part five of the Italo-Abyssinian treaty of 1928, which provides for settlement of the boundary dispute without recourse to arms.

The information seemed to strengthen fears of some observers that hostilities will break out in Africa in September.

Mad Dog Scare Is Started In Ranger With Three Bitten

A dog, thought by some to be suffering with rabies, was killed in Ranger Thursday evening, after it had bitten three people. The dog's head was cut off by Wado Swift, who killed the dog, and is being kept on ice for shipment this afternoon at 5:05 to Austin for examination to determine whether or not the dog was mad. An answer is expected from Austin by noon Saturday, Swift said today.

The officer was called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Wood, where the dog had bitten a neighbor's girl and had then bit Mrs. Wood when she whipped it.

Swift caught the dog, which was tied to a tree when he arrived, by the back of the neck to take it to town for observation when the dog bit him severely on the left wrist. He shot the dog and prepared its head for shipment to Austin.

The dog was described as an English Collie, belonging to Bobbie Woods and was said to have been inoculated Wednesday.

MACHINE GUN EVIDENCE IN CATO'S TRIAL

LUBBOCK, May 24.—The machine gun allegedly used by Sheriff W. F. Cato of Post, in the killing of Spencer Stafford, federal narcotic agent, was introduced in evidence today in the trial of Cato and three others on federal murder charges.

The others on trial are Dr. V. A. Hartment, Dr. W. L. Kitchen and Tom Morgan, the latter a farmer. Eva Michelle, narcotic addict, and government informer, who was an eye witness of the killing, related she had bought narcotics from Kitchen and Hartman and had witnessed the killing of Stafford.

The agent was killed as he emerged from Dr. Kitchen's veterinarian hospital, where he and another officer had been checking Dr. Kitchen's narcotic records.

Both Kitchen and Hartman have pleaded guilty of violating narcotic laws.

Card Rising Star Cannery Opening For Next Monday

RISING STAR, May 24.—In a telephone call here H. E. Driscoll, county relief administrator, announced the Rising Star cannery would be opened for the season Monday in charge of a supervisor or yet not named.

Mr. Driscoll stated the following would be the operating plan of the cannery this year: With the cannery furnishing cans, labor, etc., the party furnishing the vegetables will receive 60 per cent and the cannery 40. The same ration will also apply to fruits, only the grower will be required to furnish the sugar needed for his part.

Where the grower furnished his own cans he will receive 65 per cent and the cannery 35 per cent. Before bringing any products to the cannery Mr. Driscoll requests those who expect to patronize the cannery to call on the supervisor and fill out a form stating what days the growers expect to furnish products so that a running schedule may be worked out.

Mrs. Lee Burkhead has been selected as county supervisor and will have supervision of the five canneries to be operated in the county.

H. L. Hagar was appointed presiding officer for the election. In the last voting Colony voted for the consolidation while it was Oakley balloted otherwise. Credit Expansion Now Congressional Monetary Problem

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Credit expansion has supplanted currency expansion as the foremost American monetary issue.

Appearance of Father Charles Coughlin before a senate banking subcommittee will spotlight the contest between the government and the banks over control of credits.

President Roosevelt disavowed currency expansion in his bonus veto and persuaded the senate to kill the bill. No other currency expansion is expected to pass this session. But President Roosevelt is definitely pledged to credit expansion.

DALLAS, May 24.—Dewey Gilmore, Missouri penitentiary fugitive, Ozark bank robber, was captured near Lancaster last night.

EX-RANGERITE IS KILLED IN A CAR WRECK

A. T. McKinley, 60, formerly of Ranger, was instantly killed in an automobile accident two miles west of Metcalf Gap Thursday night while enroute to Breckenridge to attend graduating exercises, in which his daughter was taking a part.

Details of how the accident occurred were not known here, but it was reported that passing motorists found his overturned car on a curve and removed the body and took it to Breckenridge.

Funeral services are to be held in Breckenridge at 2:30 Saturday afternoon with Rev. H. B. Markley, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Breckenridge in charge of the services, assisted by Rev. L. B. Gray, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Ranger.

The decedent worked for the Leveille-Maher Motor company in Ranger about seven years ago and was at one time employed by the Phillips Petroleum company. He is survived by his widow and three daughters, Mary, Dorothy and Louise, the latter graduating from school this year.

Hoover Again Speaks On New Deal Legislation

PALO ALTO, Calif., May 24.—Former President Herbert Hoover spoke again today in opposition to the NRA, charging the act is being enforced by "bureaucratic intimidation and boycott."

"American labor will not long stand for price fixing, limitation of output, stifling of competition or any other of the monopolistic and fascist practices inherent to the NRA," his brief statement said.

"Enforcement by bureaucratic intimidation and boycott are not American. If all these things are liberal and progressive, we need some definition of these terms," his statement said.

ONLY BONUS POSSIBLE IS A COMPROMISE

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The only bonus legislation possible at the present session would be a compromise based on the present value of adjusted service certificates, it was said today, in administration quarters.

New deal leaders encouraged by the ease with which the Patman bill was crushed in the senate, said there was no chance of enactment of a measure calling for full and immediate cash payment.

The only possibility, they said, would be some settlement based on the compromise by Sen. Pat Harrison, Dem., Miss., and rejected during senate consideration of the Patman and Vinson bonus bills.

ON TEXAS FARMS

The general rule in the feed lot for chickens to eat what the farmer scatters but on E. C. Echeverria's farm in Waller county 270 hens have reversed the order and bought the feed for their work horses after paying their own board bill.

Rotted hay and cotton boll waste are ugly—but they make pretty flowers and shrubs if spread on top of the soil and worked into the beds as the soil from baking and adding manure, according to reports made by the yard demonstrators in Kleberg county.

You have to be an expert to make braided rugs worth $50, but Mrs. Will Sifton, home industries demonstrator of the Hopewell Home Demonstration club in Smith county, is just such an expert. The rug was 7 1/2 x 10 feet and was made from burlap.

A community raven trap has been set up by M. H. Perkins of Clyde in Callahan county. Forty ravens were caught the first afternoon. Experience has proven that fish bait in the early morning is more effective but the trap is goods can be made at a low cost by using discarded materials," Mrs. J. E. Griffin, 4-H pantry demonstrator in Martin county, told Miss Joelle Vannoy, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Griffin has just completed a cellar 10 feet long, eight feet wide, and six feet deep at a cost of $5.87 for materials. Three old car frames were covered with steel taken from old oil tanks at a cost of $1.50 and were used for the top. The remaining $4.37 was spent for lumber for five shelves extending the full length of the cellar, and for a door.

ALICE—In spite of the wind, La Verne Gerdes, Jim Wells county 4-H club girl, has given her tomatoes a good start by protecting them with old tin cans, according to Miss Erma Wines, home demonstration agent. When the tomatoes were transplanted, each small plant was covered with a tin can from which both ends had been cut. As the plants grew and became hardened the cans were removed.

WHARTON—That poison bran mash is effective in controlling cut worms in young cotton fields has recently been proved by Earl Frels of Wharton county who satisfactorily poisoned worms on 65 acres of young cotton with the mash, according to J. A. Scafield, county agricultural agent. The mash cost about 13 cents per acre for the ingredients, Frels said.

NEW BRAUNFELS—"More cow peas for soil building and also for hay and pasture are being planted in Comal county this year than ever before by more farmers than ever before," says George E. Ehlinger, county agricultural agent. "With the number of acres of peas planted this year a favorable season will mean that Comal county will be well on the way toward a soil improvement program in the near future."

Dr. R. Wright has used Braham peas for the past three years and has planted 40 acres this year with two rows of hogari alternating with two rows of peas. Gus Hilbert, Erwin and Walter Schulte, Alfred Soefje and Gus Krause are others who are planting peas this year. Krause harvested 250 bales of fine hay last year from Braham peas originally planted for soil building.

PANHANDLE—Five calves, valued originally at $70, brought $328.65 profit to Walter Britten, 18, Carson county 4-H club boy, according to M. F. Leaming, county agricultural agent.

All feed for the calves was purchased, since the drought ruined the feed crops on the farm. No nurse cows were used. Walter attributes the success of his demonstration to comfortable quarters, an abundance of good, clean water, and the regular feeding of a balanced ration supplemented only by a little charcoal as a conditioner, and a mineral mixture for good growth. The net return per animal averaged $65.73.

Mrs. B. A. Tunnell, class teacher, enjoyed the full assistance of the class personnel in providing the delicious and bountiful spread, carrying a menu most complete in every detail. A course of coffee was served from a camp fire which brought a cozy spot since twilight proved cool and crisp breezes.

ON TEXAS FARMS

The general rule in the feed lot for chickens to eat what the farmer scatters but on E. C. Echei's farm in Waller county 270 chickens have reversed the order and bought the feed for their work horses after paying their board bill.

Rotted hay and cotton boll waste are used—but they make pretty flowers and shrubs if spread on top of the soil and worked into the soil as they are cultivated. They keep the soil from baking and add manure, according to reports made by the yard demonstrators in Kiley county.

You have to be an expert to make braided rugs worth $50, but Mrs. Will Sifton, home industries demonstrator of the Hopewell Home Demonstration Club in Smith county, is just such an expert. The rug was 7 1/2 x 10 feet and was made of burlap.

A community raven trap has been set up by M. H. Perkins of Clyde in Callahan county. Forty ravens were caught the first afternoon. Experience has proven that such bait in the early morning is more effective but the trap is goods can be made at a low cost by using discarded materials," Mrs. J. E. Griffin, 4-H pantry demonstrator in Martin county, told Miss Joellene Vannoy, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Griffin has just completed a cellar 10 feet long, eight feet wide, and six feet deep at a cost of $5.87 for materials. Three old car frames were covered with steel taken from old oil tanks at a cost of $1.50 and were used for the top. The remaining $4.37 was spent for lumber for five shelves extending the full length of the cellar, and for a door.

ALICE—In spite of the wind, La Verne Gerdes, Jim Wells county 4-H club girl, has given her tomatoes a good start by protecting them with old tin cans, according to Miss Erma Wines, home demonstration agent. When the tomatoes were transplanted, each small plant was covered with a tin can from which both ends had been cut. As the plants grew and became hardened the cans were removed.

WHARTON—That poison bran mash is effective in controlling cut worms in young cotton fields has recently been proved by Earl Frels of Wharton county who satisfactorily poisoned worms on 65 acres of young cotton with the mash, according to J. A. Scofield, county agricultural agent. The mash cost about 13 cents per acre for the ingredients, Frels said.

NEW BRAUNFELS—"More cow peas for soil building and also for hay and pasture are being planted in Comal county this year than ever before," says George E. Ehlinger, county agricultural agent. "With the number of acres of peas planted this year a favorable season will mean that Comal county will be well on the way toward a soil improvement program in the near future."

Dr. H. Wright has used Brabham peas for the past three years and has planted 40 acres of this year with two rows of hegar alternating with two rows of peas. Gus Hilbert, Erwin and Walter Schulze, Alfred Soefje and Gus Krause are others who are planting peas this year. Krause harvested 250 bales of fine hay last year from Brabham peas originally planted for soil building.

PANHANDLE—Five calves, valued originally at $70, brought $28.65 profit to Walter Britten, 18, Carson county 4-H club boy, according to M. P. Leaming, county agricultural agent.

All feed for the calves was purchased, since the drought ruined the feed crops on the farm. No nurse cows were used. Walter attributes the success of his demonstration to comfortable quarters, an abundance of good, clean water, and the regular feeding of a balanced ration supplemented only by a little charcoal as a conditioner, a little molasses, and a mineral mixture for good growth. The net return per animal averaged $65.73.

Navy's Pacific Flight Proves Our Security

The great ocean flight of those four dozen navy fighting planes is a magnificent spectacle and a great demonstration of the long-range striking power of the modern air force; yet it would be easy to go entirely too far in drawing lessons from the performance.

As a proof that naval warfare has been transformed by addition of a new weapon of vast potentialities, the flight is without parallel. But it does not yet prove the truth of all those excited assertions that our secure isolation is ended and that we are within easy reach of the aerial fleets of foreign powers.

A flight of this kind in mid-ocean is a great achievement, to be sure. But a great battle fleet was on duty along the route.

There were no anti-aircraft defenses to leap over, no squadrons of hostile planes to brush aside, no obligation on the four dozen pilots to return to their starting point without a stop.

In other words, this flight does not prove that a European or Asiatic power would find it simple to send an air fleet over to bomb our cities. That may be possible some day, but it certainly is not the case today.

It is rather important to keep that fact in mind. We have a preparedness group in this country which is just about as militaristic as any similar group overseas; and this group can be expected to use this navy flight as the basis for a demand that we increase our aerial armaments until they are the equal of any other such armaments on earth—on the ground that we shall not be "secure" until we do so.

A recent survey (published in the Aircraft Yearbook for 1935) shows that we rank fifth in battle planes. France, Russia, Great Britain, and Italy are ahead of us.

We have 2660 fighting planes, of which about 1600 are wholly up-to-date; and the Yearbook remarks that this is less than half the strength required to put us "on anything like an equal footing with other powers."

But the point to remember in all this is that we don't need to be on an equal footing with these other powers. The Atlantic and Pacific oceans have not yet shrunk to the dimensions of the Great Lakes.

Our air fleet may be outclassed by four others, but it would most certainly be able to overwhelm any hostile air fleet that could actually reach our shores.

That is all an advocate of national security can ask. We don't contemplate aggressive action overseas. We can be satisfied with security at home.

And this Pacific flight falls far short of proving that the airplane has been developed to the point where it destroys that security.

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY.

The Newfangles (Mom 'n' Pop) By Cowen

Summer Sweethearts By Mabel McElrott © 1935, NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY Katharine Strykhurst, daughter of wealthy Victor Strykhurst, is deeply attracted by Michael Heathcote, who runs a riding school. Katharine is discontented and restless under her stepmother's rule. Thrown from a horse, she is taken to the home of Violet Messer, who once was in love with Katharine's father. Violet is drawn to the girl and they become friends. Dr. John Kaye, just back from Europe, visits the Strykhursts. Zoe Parker, Katharine's closest friend, is in love with Gibbs Larkin, and persists in seeing him in spite of her parents' objections. Katharine asks Dr. Kaye to help her keep Zoe from eloping with Gibbs. Now Go On With the Story CHAPTER XIV Katharine said miserably, "I don't know what to do." The enormity of her offense in helping Zoe make a rendezvous now struck her with full force. But she couldn't tattle, even if she had unwittingly overheard Zoe's plot to elope with Gibbs Larkin. "There's just nothing we can do, I suppose," she said to Dr. John Kaye. "But I feel—oh, terrible about it all!" "Bad business," he commented quietly. "You think so too, Johnny?" He shrugged his shoulders. "I've known Larkin quite a while." "He's such a rotter," Katharine burst out angrily. "And Zoe's honestly the sweetest thing." "But she's grown up," the man reminded her. "I really don't see how you can interfere. You didn't save her intentionally." "Oh, of course not," Katharine flamed in some indignation. "What we might do," pursued John Kaye quietly, "is to find them and stick to them like limpets all evening—not let them out of our sight. And perhaps talk it this time anyhow." "John, you're marvelous." "But would it do any good?" demanded the man. "Wouldn't she dash off as the very first chance and marry him?" Katharine shook her head de-

65-Mile Sail Race Set For Houston

By United Press

HOUSTON, Tex.—A 65-mile sail race for cruising sailboats from the Galveston sea buoy around Heald lightship has been set for July 6, sponsored by the Houston yacht club.

Entries of cruising sailboats, with or without auxiliary machinery, will be accepted until June 22, the club announced. Rules of the North American Racing union will apply.

Clubs from Houston, Galveston, Corpus Christi, Freeport, Orange, Beaumont and Fort Arthur were expected to enter. Fort Worth and Dallas boat clubs announced they would participate with chartered vessels.

Refreshingly Relief

For refreshing relief from constipation, take purely vegetable Theford's Black-Draught. The good it has done has made it the most popular laxative of its kind. And it costs less than others—only 1c a dose.

"I like Black-Draught because it is easy to take, not expensive and acts quickly," writes Mrs. Susie Sayles, of Belton, Texas. "I take it for headache, constipation; a tired, dull, aching feeling and to rid myself of excess bile. I have found it splendid."

A WORD TO THE WIVES IS SUFFICIENT The meals you serve help keep the family fit. In many homes, common constipation develops as a result of insufficient "bulk" in the menu. This can be overcome by a delicious cereal. Research shows that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" in convenient form. ALL-BRAN also provides vitamin B and iron. How much better it is to eat this gentle natural food than to risk taking patent medicines. Continued use does not lower its effectiveness. Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved, see your doctor. Serve as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in cooking. Appetizing recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. After 30 Years of Hard Work..

-Politics wants to Smash it...

It hasn't been so long ago, even in the large cities and towns, when electric lights blinked and electric service was limited. Each isolated electric plant had its own rules for restricting the use of electricity. In some towns electric irons could be used only on one day a week.

But that was the time before unified management under holding company development became an important factor in the electric industry.

Now as you drive down the highways, you see long stretches of glistening wires, stretching from pole to pole, from steel tower to steel tower. To the village, the cross-roads and the farm, these transmission lines have brought 24-hour metropolitan electric service. Thousands of small communities and rural districts in the country today would have had to wait for years to obtain electric service were it not for the inter-connected transmission systems made possible by electric holding companies and unified management. It took the holding companies, working with and aiding the local electric companies, thirty years of hard work to do this job!

Now federal politics would smash it all! This is the aim of the Wheeler-Rayburn Bill, now pending in Congress. It would abolish holding companies which have been such a large factor in the widespread use of electricity, in the lowering of electric rates and in making electricity the great service it is today.

The Wheeler-Rayburn Bill completely ignores this fine record!

The effect of this legislation would be even more far-reaching. This legislation would ultimately ruin the privately owned electric and gas companies with their local citizenship, local tax-paying, acceptance of local civic obligations and local control and regulation. In their place this legislation would substitute "remote control" by political commissions in Washington.

If government can invade the field of one business, it can invade all. Whose might be next?

"Bottoms Up!" on the Big Drink

Once the toast of the Imperial German Navy, it was bottoms up for the 35,000-ton battleship Bayern when salvagers brought the huge craft to the surface at Brazos Point, where it had been scuttled after the World War. How the big hull was towed across 200 miles of ocean to the salvage yard at Roswell, England, while a man lived on the gut-rotted hull, is a story of the "bottoms up" on the big drink.

crossed the river. Although it had been laid out in 1835, it was made a municipality in July of the same year, and by the spring of 1836 it contained 50 houses. There was hardly room for the governmental officers, so President David Burnett suggested that the government be moved to Harrisburg.

"The enemy are at San Antonio de Texas. He is afraid they will find Washington is quite near," those who wanted the capital to remain there said.

"Not because of fear must we move," the President said, "but because Harrisburg is more desirable and more conducive to good."

Harrisburg was closer to munition supplies and more direct supervision of the navy was possible there. Briefcases and bags and official documents were packed once more, and the government moved to Harrisburg.

In another month Santa Anna and his forces were about to take possession of the town. It was deserted within two days. The government party went to Galveston Island, as a last hope of defense. They had hardly left old Harrisburg before San Anna came through and burned the town to ashes.

Comfortable, enticing Velasco looked well to the officers marooned on Galveston Isle. Having been spared by the enemy because of the families present in the party, they were able to reach safety once more. Velasco was described as a wonderful summer resort, where people came to enjoy the "sea breezes, sea bathing, and comforts which they are everywhere surrounded." When the sea began to be chilled, and the sea breezes turned into cold winds in September, President Burnett selected Columbia as a suitable place for meeting the first Monday in October, 1836. Columbia had a large hotel, the courts were located there, and the number of residences would make it possible for the officers to be well-established. Best of all, the Telegraph and Texas Register was located there.

A print shop was absolutely necessary, in order that all the people of the republic might learn of the activities of their representative body of statesmen.

The first congress assembled on Oct. 3, 1836, at Columbia. When President Houston was inaugurated Oct. 22, he sent word through his message to congress that the seat of government was entirely undesirable. It was in a place of embarrassment and inconvenience. There was not a sufficient number of rooms! Nineteen rooms had been promised for congress, but there were hardly nine. Congress must settle the issue at once.

Centennial visitors in 1936 will not find Harrisburg and Washington the promising cities pioneers thought they would be. But, they will find them existing, and can visualize how the republic must have been, 100 years ago.

Several Teachers To Secure New Jobs

There will be several changes in the faculty of the Ranger high school for the next term, according to reports of resignations of teachers to accept positions in other schools.

the Trinity high school, and Rupert Ringold. It is also reported that one or two others will teach elsewhere next year, but announcements have not been made as to where they are going.
