RANGER MERCHANTS TO PLAN FALL CAMPAIGN

DEATHS FROM AUTOMOBILES HIGH IN STATE

By United Press
Week-end accidents in Texas caused 20 deaths, a United Press survey today revealed. The total included 18 due to automobile accidents, one drowning and one by fall.
Joseph Rayer, 8, was killed when a car struck him as he stood beside his father's car near Waco.
Mrs. Beatrice Dodsade, 27, and her daughter, Joe Ann, 4, were killed last night in a collision four miles east of San Antonio. Mrs. Dodsade's husband, her sister and mother were bruised.
Miss Vivian Forehand, Beaumont, and Paul McClain, George, Texas, died yesterday at Conroe to make the total of deaths four as the result of a collision near Conroe Saturday night.
Mrs. Fred Lawrence, 37, her son and daughter of San Benito, were killed northwest of Sinton when their car collided with an oil truck.
D. Smith, 21, of Houston, and R. J. Jones, Houston, was injured when their car collided with another car. Two victims of a collision near Amarillo were C. A. Watson of Amarillo and Charles Shumaker, Berger.

THREE INJURED IN COLLISION NEAR RANGER

Three men were injured in an automobile-truck collision in Ranger Sunday night and were released from the West Texas Clinic and Hospital after receiving treatment.
The three were Tom Guin, Ballinger; T. S. Langford, Abilene, and Wilbur Eugene Roberts, Lubbock. An uncle of Guin's took the injured to a hospital in Abilene.
The three were reported to be travelling west on State Highway No. 1 when the accident occurred. They took the west loop through town, which passed under the T. & P. tracks near the city limits and struck the truck, according to their version of the accident, as given to hospital attendants.
Guin and Langford were reported to have been painfully injured while Roberts received minor cuts and bruises.

The bulge in the center of the photo is the gondola, which was being affixed at the time of the accident. Several members of the ground crew were caught under the bag, but they escaped without injury.

CONGRESS IS HOPEFUL OF SESSION END

By United Press
WASHINGTON, July 15.—Smouldering congressional resentment from the postponement of adjournment burst forth today in a three minute cheering demonstration for Rep. Braswell Dean, Dem., Ga., who demanded congress quit and go home.
Dean took the floor to plead for adjournment shortly after Speaker Byrnes made a forecast of adjournment by Aug. 25, if President Roosevelt's tax program didn't tie things up.
Dean urged Congress bring its business to a close and was cheered loudly and lustily by members of both parties.
"There are 20 or more members sick. This session has served long, faithfully and well."
The speech served to bear out predictions made with frequency recently that congress might revolt against passing any more bills if the session was not soon brought to an end.

Two Dynamite Blasts Wreck a Tacoma Tramway

By United Press
TACOMA, Wash., July 15.—Two dynamite blasts that shook the industrial section, wrecked the cable tower of the tramway of the Wheeler-Osgood Lumber Mill today.
The blast was another incident in the 10-week lumber strike that has resulted in violence and bombing of strike breakers' homes. None was injured.
The charge was placed on top of a concrete support for the tower. National guards guarded the mill, one of the largest in the city.

MEETING WILL BE HELD THIS TUESDAY AT 10

All Merchants of the City Are Urged To Attend To Start Drive.
An important meeting of all the merchants of Ranger has been called for Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, in the retail merchants association office, at which time plans for the annual fall business campaign are to be taken up for discussion.
It was pointed out today that this is one of the most important meetings of this kind held in Ranger for some time because the time is more opportune for a campaign of this kind than in several years.
"Never before in the past five years has an opportunity to cash in on a big fall campaign presented itself to the merchants of Ranger," one merchant said today, "and Ranger must take advantage of this opportunity or other towns will be getting the majority of the business from this section. Competition is going to be too keen this fall to sit idly by and let the bulk of the business go elsewhere."
The speaker pointed out that his reasons for making the assertion were that crops were better this year than in many years. Garden produce had been abundant, the fruit crop has been good, grains have been grown in large quantities, as have all kinds of feedstuffs, and the present outlook for the cotton crop is better than it has been for many years. This will all mean money for the farmers, will give them something to spend, and they will go where the most inducements are offered, both in the way of entertainment, because many of them are entertainment-starved, and in the matter of well stocked shelves.
Ranger has always been noted for the class and variety of merchandise it carried, and this fall is expected to be no exception. The town, too, has been noted for its activity in going out after business which has helped materially in making it an important trading center for a large area.
At the meeting Tuesday morning, to which it is hoped that all merchants in the city will be present, plans will be formulated for an early and continuous effort to induce this business to come to Ranger, rather than to go to some neighboring town.
Something different in the form of entertainment that will draw large crowds to Ranger is being sought for the fall business campaign, and the more merchants who attend the meeting the more ideas there will be upon which the committees will be able to pass and select one.
All the merchants and business men in town who can spare a little time for the promotion of their own business were urged today to attend the meeting and if all attend promptly at 10 o'clock it is hoped that the ground work for the campaign can be laid and the meeting completed in a very short time.

ENJOINS BOARD OF ENFORCING SCHOOL ORDER

County school board members were enjoined from enforcing an order of their creation which would detach 1,137 acres from the Cross Roads district to Alameda by 91st district court Monday morning.
The court, in which Judge Geo. L. Pavenport presided, did not enjoin the board from attempting to make the contemplated change by legal methods.
Testimony was presented by plaintiff school board members to show that the county board did not serve notice to trustees of the Cross Roads school of the detaching order.
Law holds, it was shown, that notice is required to be given by a school board of any change as that attempted by the county group and that an election is necessary for its determination.
The county board or its superintendent, C. L. Eldridge, did not appear.
Frank Judkins represented the plaintiff. Cross Roads school district board men Eudy and R. L. Hise appeared at the proceedings.

Paducah Principal Selected As Eastland High School Executive

From a field of 50 applicants, W. G. Womack, Paducah high school principal, has been selected by school board members as the Eastland high head, P. B. Bittle, superintendent of Eastland schools, announced Monday.
The new high school principal was selected after a personal appearance before Eastland school board members and high recommendations from many.
He was principal at Paducah high for eight years, and for three years at Forney in the same position. Womack was unanimously re-elected this year at Paducah.
Graduate of Texas State Teachers college at Commerce, with the bachelor of arts degree, Womack is married and has two children.
Mr. Bittle stated he would likely arrive in Eastland Aug. 15, preparatory to start of school in September.
The high school vacancy was created by the resignation of W. P. Palm, who heads the Stockdale school system.

By United Press
SHANGHAI, China, July 15.—Casualty reports reached Shanghai today as the Yangtze river menaced new territory on its way to the sea.
Dispatches from Hankow reported 30,000 deaths in the Tiennan Lake district, north of the Yangtze. Two thousand deaths were reported in Hunan province to the south.
Corpses were washing ashore today on the Yangtze banks where Hankow, Hanyang and Wuchang are grouped together. Fifty were found in Hanyang as the river approached within a few inches of levee tops.
None of the deaths reported today were from the Yangtze itself.

ITALY MOVES TO INCREASE ARMED FORCES

By United Press
ROME, Sept. 15.—Italy moved to increase its fighting strength today in retaliation for "Ethiopian preparations." Mussolini called 40,000 more men to the colors and started building 10 new submarines.
The ministry of war moved in unison with the air and naval ministries to mobilize for the threatened struggle with Abyssinia.
The two new divisions of 15,000 men each were given mobilization orders bringing Italy's total of combat troops in East Africa or en route to colonies there to about 160,000.
In addition to the two divisions which will sail for East Africa, two reserve divisions were ordered to take their places in the home defense force in Italy.
The navy acted to support the army's long awaited campaign, with the naval ministry issuing orders for construction on 10 submarines to be launched in November.
Ranger has always been noted for the class and variety of merchandise it carried, and this fall is expected to be no exception. The town, too, has been noted for its activity in going out after business which has helped materially in making it an important trading center for a large area.
At the meeting Tuesday morning, to which it is hoped that all merchants in the city will be present, plans will be formulated for an early and continuous effort to induce this business to come to Ranger, rather than to go to some neighboring town.
Something different in the form of entertainment that will draw large crowds to Ranger is being sought for the fall business campaign, and the more merchants who attend the meeting the more ideas there will be upon which the committees will be able to pass and select one.

"I had to leave her. We couldn't get along together but I couldn't leave her in Boston. She had no friends nor money," Wells said.

American Couple Is Found Dead In Italian Spa

By United Press

Scott, 49-year-old manager of the American Express company, was lying face down in one end of the cabin. At the other end was the body of Mrs. Thompson. Both were in bathing suits. The first explanation given was asphyxiation, but authorities said this was unlikely as both ends of the cabin were open.

County Roads Now May Get Federal Aid

By United Press
AUSTIN, July 15.—Thousands of miles of Texas roads were made eligible for participation in the federal emergency relief program today when the highway commission rescinded a former designation making them part of the state highway system.
Those taken off the system are all but the ones which had been made a part of the federal approved system. They now revert to county lateral road status. As such they can apply for work relief aid. The secondary road work has been allotted to Texas in a fund estimated to be $3,000,000.
Result will be the counties will make work applications to district heads of the WPA who will present them to Henry Drought, Texas director. Where state work has been done there will be no cancellation.
One of those is the road across Kennedy county to the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Dedication ceremonies will be held when the tablet was would be thought, and this would be the part Ranger would play in the Centennial celebration.
The announcement was made after letters were written to L. W. Kemmerer, member of the historical committee of the Centennial, and he said that a hearing would be held in Austin in the next few weeks. Meroney stated that when the hearing was held Ranger would have a delegation present to discuss Ranger's plans before the committee.

Birthday Present Becomes Death Instrument For Breckenridge Boy Who Killed Brother With Knife

A birthday present became a death instrument and a day of rejoicing was one of mourning for T. H. Allen Jr., 15, of Breckenridge after he killed his younger brother accidentally Sunday morning—10 minutes after his parents had given him a knife.
Playful, Wayne Allen, 11, having grease on a finger, smeared it on his brother's face, who was rocking in a chair, proudly handling his knife.
In the same mood, T. H. thrust his knife at Wayne, but he misjudged—the knife found a resting place in his younger brother's heart—causing instant death.

Pioneering Never Was a Holiday Affair

Glancing in the direction of Alaska's Matanuska Valley, one is compelled to wonder just what has happened to the old-time pioneering spirit in this country.

The Matanuska Valley harbors several hundred homesteaders who were moved from farms in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota and sent to the northland to carve new homes out of the wilderness.

They were victims of the depression. There was no hope for them if they stayed at home. Unable to support themselves where they were, they had to move or sink into pauperism. The Alaskan venture, subsidized by the government, offered them a chance to make a new start.

When they set out for Alaska we heard a great deal about the new pioneers, about the revival of the old days, and about the rediscovery of the frontier in the twentieth century. Everybody sat back and wished the colonists lots of luck.

But lately the kelkin has been ringing with all manner of complaints. These range all the way from protests over a shortage of farm equipment to moans about the excessive number of mosquitoes in Alaska's fair valleys.

Cabins that were to have been built to house the colonists are far behind schedule. The colonists are still living in tents, and are not enjoying it. Sanitation is imperfect, roads are practically non-existent, tools have not been delivered and political bureaucracy does not seem to be functioning very well.

Now these charges, having been aired on the floor of the Senate, deserve and should get a complete, impartial investigation. And yet, when all allowance is made, one does have to wonder—what has happened to that old-time pioneer spirit?

These colonists were right back of the eight-ball, before the Alaskan venture started. They were broke and had no chance of remedying their condition. They were given a chance to better themselves by indulging in a little pioneering—and pioneers never did have it soft.

All of America was developed by people who lived in imperfect houses, lacked proper tools, suffered plagues of mosquitoes, toiled over boggy roads and in general had to put up with a whole host of annoyances and non-conveniences.

It seems likely that a small minority is doing most of the complaining. Most of the settlers one suspects, are plugging away and saying nothing. The majority, probably, realize full well that the pioneer never did have a picnic.

Problem in Bookkeeping

The great public works program, financed to the tune of $4,800,000,000, is slowly beginning to pick up speed. Within the next week or so administration officials will begin to transfer fully 1,200,000 workers from the existing FERA program to the new works set-up.

In this action there is a discouraging hint that the accomplishments of the new venture may be less spectacular than the country had been led to hope. The announced aim of the new program is to take 3,500,000 men off the relief rolls and put them to work. But if 1,200,000 of these men are to be put through that welcome transfer by the simple bookkeeping process of transferring their work projects from local relief control to the control of the new State Works Progress Administrators, just where is the gain?

The country wants to see something done that will create brand-new jobs for people who have no jobs now. Shifting men and jobs from one federal compartment to another is not enough.

Facing Trouble in China

Foreign intervention to restore order in North China has been suggested. Various Chinese factions have been fighting in and about Peiping, and Japanese military authorities are reported to be preparing to consult other foreign military commands on united international action, as provided in the Boxer protocols.

The United States has the 15th regiment of regular infantry garrisoned at Tientsin—has had it there since the Boxer uprising of 1900—and this would be one of the foreign units to go into action if the Japanese plan were carried out.

Tientsin is a long way from home, and it is hard for the average American to get very excited about what happens there. But it is 100 to one that American sentiment favors keeping the 15th regiment strictly in its own barracks. If the powers want to draw cards in the current Chinese mess, let them do it without Uncle Sam's help.

A lot of citizens in every city "pass the buck" to the home newspaper to do all the home city boosting. They should do a little themselves.

It never pays a politician to go around abusing men they may need to be friendly with later.

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—After voting in the United States for more than 50 years, John H. George, 73, learned that he was not a citizen of this country. The startling information came out when George hobbled into court recently, asking for citizenship papers. He said that when he became 21 he started voting, but it was not until last year that was told that legally he was an American citizen. George was born in Germany. He came here as a child, and court granted his petition for citizenship. Resinol is a former soother for health aides.

Hungary Plans Honor to King

BUDAPEST.—The 900th anniversary of the death of the first Hungarian king, Stefan the Holy, will be celebrated by Hungary with a pomp and ceremony probably never before witnessed even in this land of celebrations almost unparalleled for gorgeous uniforms and impressive ceremonies.

SO LONG AS THERE EXISTS IN THIS WORLD THAT WE CALL CIVILIZED, A SYSTEM WHEREBY MEN AND WOMEN, EVEN AFTER THEY HAVE PAID THE PENALTY OF THE LAW AND EXPIATED THEIR OFFENSES IN FULL, ARE ROUNDED AND PERSECUTED WHEREVER THEY GO—THIS STORY WILL NOT HAVE BEEN TOLD IN VAIN.
—Victor Hugo

CHAPTER 1
Jean Valjean
"Jean Valjean, when you come into this Court, you are guilty until you prove yourself innocent—you have failed to do this, and there is nothing for me to do but to pass sentence on you according to the law—"
The matter-of-fact voice of the warden judge holds the interest of the filled courtroom. The scene is in the Palais National, Paris, the time, 1800. The defendant is a fresh, clean-shaven, good-looking countryman of about twenty-five. He is staring wild-eyed and bewildered at the judge. Jean suddenly realizes that it is his last chance to speak. Words and half-broken sentences bubble to his lips and he beats the bars in front of him in agony.
"I didn't mean to steal—you don't know what it means to be hungry—you don't know what it means to be out of work. I've tried and tried—I've walked twenty miles a day to find work—no work, no bread. I wouldn't do anything wrong if I could help it, everybody knows that I didn't mean to steal—I was only hungry, I tell you—hungry!"

A mixed stroke meant a cruel blow
"With all that I have nothing to do. The law is explicit. Justice must be done. The sentence is five years in the galleys."
"You can't! You can't send me to the galleys for stealing a loaf of bread!"
"Gentlemen, without roughness or brutality, but in a matter-of-fact way, calmly push him away and his voice trails off."
Prisoner No. 2906
"You're 2906, aren't you? Get a move on!"
Jean starts and moves hesitatingly forward. Rough jailers on the prison ship bend his head and thrust it down on a wooden block. A metal collar is gripped around his neck. Not expecting it, he nearly chokes. The two hoops are brought together in the back, a rivet is placed in position and a red-hot scale flies from the rivet as it is sealed permanently. The newly-appointed head-warder, Javert, is standing at the entrance to the galley watching the prisoners showing up decks with beams. He is a stolid, heavy, stout-looking man but has the eye of a fanatic. Recently risen from the ranks, he is a stickler for carrying out the law to the letter. "Overfed building," perhaps, describes him best.
A warning cry rings out. A beam is about to fall and threaten to crush a man. Jean comes up and with his back lifts the beam with a great effort and holds it. Others lift the man out.
"We'll have to remove his collar, M. Javert; his neck's injured."
"Sorry. Regulations. Only the doctor can give that order."
"But the doctor's away ashore, sir."
"That's too bad." Looking at the wounded man, "He'll have to wait. While I'm in charge here, regulations, good or bad or indifferent, will be carried out—to the letter."
Such a man was M. Javert.
Five years in the galleys saw the final degradation of Jean—hideous,

PENGUINS
CARRY ROCKS IN THEIR STOMACHS!
SIR JAMES ROSS, THE EXPLORER, FOUND 10 LBS. OF STONES IN ONE BIRD.
SOME SAY THE BURDEN OF ROCKS SERVES AS A LAST BITE!
IN 1909, THE AIRPLANE ALTITUDE RECORD STOOD AT 645 FEET!

"ANT-EGGS,"
USED AS FOOD FOR CAGE BIRDS, ARE NOT EGGS! THEY ARE THE PUPAE, OR THIRD STAGE IN THE LIFE OF THE ANT.

THE most plausible reason for the numerous stones carried in the penguin's stomach is that, since he eats enormous amounts of fish, he needs assistance in grinding and digesting his meals. Seals, likewise, carry loads of stones in their stomachs. Even our domestic hen eats stones to aid her digestion.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

Monday's Menu
BREAKFAST: Baked apples, cereal, cream, minced ham on toast, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON: Iced bouillon, salted crackers, macaroni baked with cheese, rye bread, blackberry cream puffs, milk, tea.
DINNER: Tomato and fruit juice cocktail, breaded veal steak, diced potatoes in cream, ring mold of beet greens filled with buttered beets, lemon sherbet, milk, coffee.

ARE you, too, having trouble getting the family to eat its usual hearty quantities these scorching days? Then you probably aren't providing a zestful prelude that arouses latent hunger.
I mean, of course, a savory chilled cocktail, soup or appetizer. Or perhaps you are not making due allowance for the fact that cold dishes the flavor of foods and aren't seasoning those first courses sufficiently.
If it's possible, serve a cold connection in a well of ice. Otherwise keep the food on ice until ready to serve and always chill the service container before filling it.
Don't overlook the tasty possibilities of jellied consommés. Highly seasoned, they stimulate the appetite much as hot soup does.
Jellied tomato bouillon is tartly piquant. It should not be stiff enough to hold its shape.
Crisp wafers are a good accompaniment for any jellied soup. And radishes and celery can be served with anything but a mixed vegetable soup.
Canned soups, bouillon cubes or freshly made stock are suitable for jellied soups. Instead of long cooking and fussing over meat bouillon, try to extract the gelatin to make the soup thicker, use gelatin with canned soup or bouillon cubes. Extra salt and pepper are needed for iced bouillon.
In making a fruit cocktail, be sure to eat fruit neatly in small pieces. Crushed or broken fruit is much less inviting. Do not cover melon with crushed ice. This dulls the flavor and is not effective for chilling.

The flavor of tomato and fruit juice cocktail is so elusive that everyone who drinks it for the first time wonders what the mixture is.
Tomato and Fruit Juice Cocktail
One quart tomato juice, juice of 2 lemons, 1-2 cup pineapple juice, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons powdered sugar.
Add to cracked ice in a cocktail shaker and shake well. Serve with a sprig of watercress in each glass.
Of course when you serve a tomato juice cocktail tomatoes shouldn't appear any place else on the menu. If you serve a jellied soup, then a jellied salad or dessert is out. However, at this season of the year fruits and vegetables are so abundant that it's easy to provide a pleasant variety.

Central West Texas Oil Field

TAYLOR COUNTY WELL SPUDDED SATURDAY
A. S. Hickman's No. 1 C. R. Title on a tract of 204 acres in northwest Taylor county, two miles south of the nearest production in the south end of the Noodle Creek pool, was spudded Saturday. The well, being drilled by Tomer T. Whittekin of Albany, was contracted to 3,100 feet, unless production is found at a lesser depth. Noyes R. Livingston, Fort Worth geologist, worked out location for the well.
This operation has attracted considerable interest, as revealed by the fact that a number of companies have invested in offset acreage. Included are:
Magnolia Petroleum company has purchased the east 180-acre offset to well;
Danciger Oil & Refining company has acquired a block of 90.6 acres north;
Hanlon Gasoline company has taken an 80-acre tract in a diagonal northwest offset, and Dulaney Investment company has purchased a 20-acre tract northwest of the well.

Lions and Ladies To Have Feast and Swim at Willows

Members of the Lions club, accompanied by their ladies, will be guests tonight at a swim, watermelon feast and dinner, served at the Willows, it was announced today by Floyd Killingsworth, in charge of the affair.
The entertainment was planned as the outcome of a contest between two teams, one captained by Killingsworth and the other by W. B. Crossley, with attendance as the means of determining the winner.
The losing side was to furnish a watermelon feed for the losers, but the announcement today stated that other refreshments would be served, and that the swim would be coupled with the feast.
All members of the losing and winning sides are expected to be present tonight, with their ladies, to enjoy the entertainment.
