Mrs. Loretta Guggemos Is Mystery Farm Winner

Mrs. Loretta Guggemos of Nazareth is credited with correctly identifying mystery farm number 49 and will receive a free subscription to the News for one year. Mrs. Guggemos recognized the farm as that of Mrs. Frank Huseman, located one and one-half miles southwest of Nazareth. The Husemans have lived on their farm for 48 years. Mr. Huseman inherited 142 acres from his father in 1927 and purchased 490 acres in the same year from his dad. The farm was first put under plow in 1905. Recent improvements on the Huseman place include 4,200 feet of underground concrete pipe, giving Huseman one of the best underground pipe systems in the county. The second irrigation well in the Nazareth area was also drilled on the Huseman farm. Huseman is primarily a dairy farmer and has a large herd of fine Jersey cattle. He feeds his herd mixed farm grown feeds. The Nazareth farmer carries out a diversified farming program. He usually plants 200 acres in maize, 30 in oats, 40 in alfalfa, 20 in cotton and 25 in beans and corn. The balance of his 490 acres are in pasture land. Huseman uses both commercial and barnyard fertilizers. He deep plows, summer falls and also interplants peas with his milo for top results. Huseman believes a farmer gets best results when he mixes dairy farming with his regular farming program. Huseman was married to the former Miss Katie Litch in 1923. They have seven children, all of whom are now grown and away from home. Huseman's first wife died. He had five children by his first marriage. The Husemans are members of Holy Family Catholic Church. He also belongs to the Farm Bureau, American Jersey Cattle Club, Poland China Record Association and Foresters.

Thurman's duties as president of the Future Teachers of America and business manager of the Senior class consume much of his time. When Thurman graduates this spring, he plans to attend medical school.

Perfect Comebacks—Can You Use Them?

Are you at loss for words? Here are some "perfect comebacks." Now set your sails—and let 'em blow you down.
1. (To a bore). For the first time I envy my feet. They are asleep.
2. Don't take your hat off lady. It's funnier that the picture.
3. Look, if you want to argue, I'll throw my brains away and still start over.
4. The stock who brought you ought to be arrested for smuggling dope.
5. I worship the ground that's coming to you.
6. Stop reaching across the table. Haven't you got a tongue? Yes, but my arm is longer.
7. Your head is so pointed your mother didn't tuck you into bed, she threw you into a dashboard.
8. That dress is too revealing. Your face is showing.
9. I like your dress. Do you think that style will come back?
10. I wasn't saying goodbye when you left. I was just trying to clear the air.
11. I understand your parents like children. Too bad they didn't have one.
12. I'll bet if you went to the beach your tongue would get sunburned.
13. The next time you're invited, I hope you have a previous engagement.
14. He said you're not fit to sleep with the pigs, so I stuck up for you. I said you were.
15. The best definition of a block is the distance between your ears.

With The Bobbies And Bobcats

After a long Christmas vacation the Bobcats came back to win their first game by defeating Aberrathy here January 3, 4-37. This was revenge for a previous loss to the opponents on their own court. Scoring was well divided among Shirley DeLozier, David Smithson, Mary Alley and Micky Pelley. Betty McDermitt and Kay Killingsworth spoiled a strong defense to help hold the Aberrathy girls to a seven point loss. The Bobcats outscored the Aberrathy Antelopes the first half but could not keep pace the second period. The Antelopes gained a nine-point lead for the final score. Alton Bates, Jim Cole and Winston Waggoner led the scoring. Wilmer Studer and Don Mobley dropped in four points each.

How good is the new farm program?

When President Eisenhower came forward Monday with the official Republican farm program, it was received with anything but rousing enthusiasm in Congress. Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa said "The message seems to me to be a complete adoption of every farm program ever offered by the Democrats, including the Brannan plan which was soundly condemned by this administration. . . . The President apparently has put all good Democratic proposals in one pot and hopes it will develop into something good." Senator Lyndon Johnson, Senate Democratic Leader from Texas said the principal recommendation would do "little to meet the cost-price squeeze which is pressing so cruelly on family-sized farms."

Other points of the program included production instead of acreage allotments on cotton beginning in 1957 and a proposal that average grade and quality be used as a basis for parity and price support calculations (the present system uses middling 7/8-inch cotton as the standard). This apparently would mean more money to the farmers producing the better grades of cotton. Government buying of surplus livestock, a rural development program, Great Plains drought-aid program, research and a proposal to eliminate federal gasoline taxes on gasoline used in farm production constituted the remainder of the program which would affect Castro County farmers.

The trouble with the program, as we see it, is that the farmer isn't given a chance to do much more than plod along, keeping just out of reach of his creditors from now on. If the nation's crop surpluses really can be decimated, then maybe it can eventually work out. But right now it appears the farmer can produce only so much cotton, very little wheat and with grain sorghums bringing only about $1.50, he's going to be in just as hard a bind as ever. $20 or $30 an acre for idle land isn't going to put him in the filthy rich category.

It's a dark outlook, which might become much brighter, if we had 90 per cent parity across the board, the picture would be lovely indeed, but so far the Republicans haven't said anything about that—or how to achieve it. As best we can tell from reading the daily newspapers, the government has taken steps to remedy squeezes as regards rice, peanuts, sorghum and corn, but didn't do a thing about milo.

County Agent Is Recipient Of Free Trip To Chicago

Castro county came in second in the Texas 4-H Grain Marketing Program among 26 possible county winners. First place went to Deaf Smith county. County Agent Marvin Simms disclosed Monday that he has been accorded an expense-paid trip to Chicago as alternate or advisor to the second place winning group. Ordinarily the county agent in the county placing first would make such a trip as recipient of the first place award. However, this year the Deaf Smith agent was unable to make the trip and Simms, as alternate, was awarded the trip. He will accompany Billy Wayne Duff, Deaf Smith 4-H'er and Billy Bob Brazzil, Moore 4-H'er, to the windy city. They placed first and second in the state event.

Simms said he would leave Amarillo by train on Sunday and his family will follow him Monday. They are also going by train and plan to join him in Chicago Wednesday, Jan. 17. All will return the following Sunday. Simms said he would leave Amarillo by train on Sunday and his family will follow him Monday. They are also going by train and plan to join him in Chicago Wednesday, Jan. 17. All will return the following Sunday.

Other county winners besides Castro, Deaf Smith and Moore counties, were Gray, Hamford, Hartley, Putter, Randall, Lubbock, Baylor, Wichita and Bell.

J. H. Flanagan Hurt In Accident Recently

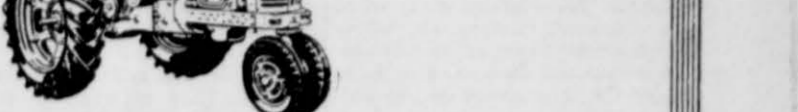

J. H. Flanagan, 78, of Castro Avenue, Fort Worth, Texas, fell and broke his hip Christmas eve, but is at home from the hospital now. His condition is reported as good. Flanagan, now 78 years old, was an early settler in Dimmitt.

The Navy has developed a new "miracle" dry lubricant in the form of easily applied plastic film only a few ten-thousandths of an inch thick, which is serviceable from 75 degrees below zero to 500 degrees above.

The first hospital ship to be definitely assigned as such was the USS Solace in 1908.

Dimmitt Basketeers Split Doubleheader With Hale Center

The Dimmitt Bobbies latched on their fifth win in nine starts on the local court Tuesday night by dumping the Hale Center girls 32-46 while the Bobcats fell before the visiting Owls 66-53 for their fifth defeat compared to three wins. In the preliminary tilt of the evening, the Bobcats edged the baby Owls 33-34. Shirley DeLozier was tops in the scoring department in the girls game as she netted 24 points followed by Mary Alley's 22. Korrh hit for 21 points and paced the Hale Center girls throughout the contest.

IT'S THE LAW

What's our name? would seem to be a simple and easily answered question. Yet, the variety of answers which many people give in response thereto is surprising. For example, take this hypothetical case:

Albert Charles Smith died and his lawyer filed the petition of probate for his estate, entitling it: "In the Matter of the Estate of Albert Charles Smith, also known as Albert Smith, also known as Charles Smith, also known as A. C. Smith and also known as Charley Smith."

With such a simple name, what did Mr. Smith do to make the probating of his estate so complicated?

When Albert Charles Smith was born, the attending physician filed a birth certificate with that name. During his school years, his friends called him "AL."

Mr. Smith went to college and decided that his name would look more distinguished if he wrote it "A. Charles Smith," and he was so regarded. His college diploma carried that name.

Starting out in business Mr. Smith took a job that required him to write his signature many times a day. To simplify the work, he signed his name "A. C. Smith." His bank account and telephone number were recorded that way. Mr. Smith lost a part of his identity, since there were eleven "A. C. Smiths" listed in his telephone book.

Mr. Smith decided to get married and he rushed to the courthouse to get his license. Without giving the matter much thought, he told the clerk his name was "Charles Smith." The name was recorded on his marriage certificate.

Mr. Smith bought a house, and the lawyer who handled the transaction called for his full name. The deed was registered at the courthouse under the name "Albert Charles Smith."

A life insurance agent had previously written a policy for Mr. Smith under the name, "A. C. Smith." During his middle life, Mr. Smith took out other policies from another agent, and all of them carried the name "Albert C. Smith." He took a position with a railroad and appeared on the pension roll as "A. C. Smith."

Mr. Smith owned some securities and several pieces of real estate and also owed various bills. They were all listed under varying combinations of his name.

Then Mr. Smith made his will under the name of "Albert C. Smith." A year later he died; and that is when his attorney started working and trying to find out just who Mr. Smith was and what he owed and owned.

Of course this case is imaginary; but it illustrates how difficult and costly such a practice can be.

Every person should use the name appearing on his birth certificate and should make sure that all documents which have a legal bearing, such as school diplomas, deeds to property, certificates of stock and land ownership, and insurance policies, carry the same name. This will often avoid complications in the probating of an estate.

HERE IS AN AERIAL PHOTO of mystery farm number 51. If you can identify it, call or write the News by Monday noon, the deadline each week for the identification of mystery farm pictures. A subscription to the News for one year will be given the winner. The farm owner will receive a mounted enlargement of the above shot upon making official identification. Official identification is necessary if there is to be a subscription winner. The mystery farm series is sponsored by Blanton Bureau, Inc.

Sunnyside Club Has Recent Meet

The Sunnyside Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday, Jan. 4, in the home of Mrs. R. A. Astell, president. Mrs. Astell conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Sybil Stringer, county HDA, gave a helpful and well-illustrated program on "Three Men a Day," with emphasis as to how they may be planned to include all necessary vitamins for a well rounded diet.
