ALLRED RECOMMENDS OLD AGE PENSIONS

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

With BILL MAYES

According to Blondy Cross, San Angelo sports writer, the San Angelo Bobcats will present a much larger and stronger team than was defeated by the Bulldogs last year by a score of 19 to 9. He admits that the starting tackles will weigh "better than 170 pounds" while one guard will also be in the same class with the other list at 180.

An entire veteran line will meet the Bulldogs, with the backfield having more or less experienced men.

But let Blondy tell it in his own way:

Community Natural Is Replacing Much Of Worn Pipeline

On a tour of inspection Wednesday morning it was revealed the Community Public Service Company is doing several thousand dollars worth of maintenance work in Ranger, which, though it is not adding to the equipment, is replacing worn pipe lines where line losses have been high.

Local labor, selected from the unemployed in Ranger, is being used to a great extent by the company, thus furnishing almost $100 a day to the payrolls of the city while the work is going on.

On Tiffin road old and worn four-inch pipe is being replaced by a welded two-inch line. Extensions are being renewed to the homes of many consumers on the side streets, requiring laying of additional lines from the main to the property of the consumers.

Another project on South Rusk street is being completed at the same time, making a total of about 25 men who are working on the maintenance project.

New, welded four-inch line is being laid from the corner of Pine and Mesquite, near the Church of Christ, south on Rusk to Blackwell road and then east on Blackwell across the old highway, under the Texas & Pacific railway to the new highway. The line under the new highway to Cooper addition was laid at the time the highway was under construction last year so that it would be in place when the present replacement was started.

A total of 10,800 feet of pipe is thus being replaced, 4,000 feet of which is four-inch, 4,200 feet is two-inch and 2,600 feet is inch and a half pipe. The inch and a half is being used in replacing the service lines from the mains to the consumers.

The pipe being replaced was laid during the early days of gas distribution in Ranger. The new pipe is being treated with a heavy coat of asphalt paint, which is expected to keep the mains in good condition for about 20 years.

Band Committee to Be Selected at a Meeting Tuesday

At a meeting of the band held at the high school Tuesday night, about 10 or 12 parents and members of the band committee and the members of the band were present. John Hussen, chairman of the band committee suggested that the meeting be postponed until next Tuesday night, at which time a more representative crowd could be present.

All parents of the band have been urged to attend the meeting next Tuesday in order that a new finance committee for the band might be selected. The present committee, composed of John Hussen, C. E. May and C. H. Davis, has indicated that it will be unable to serve this year and that a new committee should be selected for the coming year.

Several suggestions for members of this committee have been made, and it is expected that a committee of six, composed of three merchants and three from among the parents of the members, might be selected for the year.

Everyone interested in the band has been urged to be thinking about the committee and deciding who would be the best in town to select for this important phase of the band work so that a competent committee might be selected at the meeting next week.

He said that the band would make the trip and that about 40 or 45 would go with the band.

Those who plan to make the trip have been urged to get their tickets here before leaving for San Angelo.

ENGLAND IS PREPARED FOR A NAVAL WAR

LONDON, Sept. 18.—The basis was being laid in the Mediterranean for the most terrible naval warfare in history.

From the coast of Southern England to the pirate-infested coast of China, British warships from tiny mine layers to unshakable floating fortresses stemmed to the ancient ocean which has been a theatre of naval wars since the Achaeans besieged Troy.

The Italian navy is massed on either side of the long peninsula that lies between the Tyrrhenian and Adriatic seas and stretches down toward Africa. On the African and European coasts, soldiers, airplanes and artillery are taking positions.

Because the Mediterranean is narrow and bounded by three continents, any big scale warfare would involve engines of destruction which never had been combined. Fleets of airplanes, big guns, cruisers that can move at more than 40 miles an hour, anti-aircraft guns whose powers never has been tested, all would be used.

Of the British fleet, last reports placed three battleships, two battle cruisers, three aircraft cruisers, nine cruisers, six submarines and 40 destroyers in position at Alexandria, near the entrance to the Suez Canal or off Port Said, Malta and Gibraltar.

ALOISI WILL GIVE OFFERS TO MUSSOLINI

GENEVA, Sept. 18.—Pompilio Aloisi decided today to leave the peace discussion at Geneva and go to Rome to give Mussolini personally the council's ultimate offer, which constitutes the only faint hope held here of delaying or averting war in Ethiopia.

Aloisi will take with him the text of proposals drafted by the council conciliation committee of five, giving Italy great economic and territorial concessions.

Italian sources here indicated rather plainly they do not expect the proposals to be accepted, though Italy will "consider" them.

Premier Pierre Laval of France was understood to urge Aloisi not only to outline the compromise to Mussolini by telephone but to visit him personally and convey the views of the French, British and others.

The fact that Aloisi agreed to pursue the suggested course was regarded as slightly encouraging. All delegations still doubted Italy's acceptance, however, even as a basis of negotiations, though the possibility was envisaged that Mussolini might consider them pending the end of the rainy season in Ethiopia.

Veterans Nominate A New Commander

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 18.—Robert Cain, Pittsburgh, Pa., senior vice commander, was nominated without opposition today for the office of Commander of the United Spanish War Veterans.

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 18.—Determined to "shoot to kill," 2,000 Will county farmers today oiled their shotguns, placed them in easy reach and awaited the alarm that will call them to battle cattle rustlers.

The Will County Anti-Farm Theft association, adopted the cry "Get your shotgun."

Rustlers have stolen hundreds of head of valuable cattle in the Chicago area in recent months and blamed with killing a farm hand here.

Two Detained In Shooting Affray

Neal Welsh, 25, and Mrs. Neal Welsh, 26, were taken into custody by Patrolmen Swift and Boyd, in Ranger Wednesday afternoon shortly before three o'clock and were taken before Justice of the Peace J. N. McFatter for disposition of their case.

According to Welsh he and his wife and two small children, who were with them at the time they were taken into custody by the officers, had gone to Oklahoma. He had gone to the Rio Grande Valley to pick cotton and when he returned to Oklahoma he found his wife had a pistol, which he tried to get her to throw away.

The two had returned to Ranger, where Welsh was to try to get on relief, he said. On the way to Eastland they again quarreled over the gun and Mrs. Welsh fired one shot. She denied that she had fired at her husband, stating that "I would have killed him if I had."

Because of the two children with them it was decided that the two would be turned over to the county, and were taken to the justice of the peace for disposition of their case. At present time no action had been taken, nor had charges been filed nor the two charged in jail.

Welsh had a blackened left eye, which he said he got during the argument with his wife.

The bond issues will pay 5 per cent and exempt from all taxation and issued at 95.

Roosevelt Not to Speak On Trip to The West Coast

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 18.—President Roosevelt revealed today he would leave toward the end of next week on his swing across the country.

Departure will be from Washington as soon as he can clear away a mass of business both here and at the capital.

San Diego will be his destination.

Despite persistent reports to the contrary, he insisted the trip to the west coast would not be punctuated with any political addresses, since he wanted to reach San Diego in five days.

The schedule he indicated removed the possibility of a speech before the national convention of the American Legion at St. Louis.

Federal Men Not To Probe Death of Sen. Huey Long

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The federal government will hold aloof from the probe of the assassination of Senator Huey Long, unless evidence of a violation of federal law is submitted, justice officials said today.

They explained that murder of a United States senator under such circumstances is not a federal crime any more than the killing of any other citizen. Only if evidence was offered showing ramifications of the assassination transgressed federal statutes, would G-Men take a hand.

Not All Will Have To Have Boxes at Curb to Get Mail

Mrs. Martha Davenport, Ranger postmistress, explained today that not everyone who has been receiving mail through the city delivery system will have to have mail boxes in front of their houses. This ruling applies only to two routes, in Cooper and Young additions, which have been consolidated into one. Roughly those living east of the Texas & Pacific tracks are the only ones who will need curb mail boxes.

Mrs. Davenport's statement today states:

"I wish to correct a statement which, through no fault of The Times, was made in the paper yesterday.

"Not everyone who receives mail at their home will have to erect boxes at the curb. Only those who live on the city mail route, served by a mounted carrier, are asked to erect boxes.

"After an inspection of the routes by the government two routes were consolidated and the city will now be served by two carriers instead of three. It is believed this will be a more economical and satisfactory way to handle the city delivery service."

SAYS TAXES NEEDED FOR SPECIAL FUND

RECOMMENDS SEVERAL KINDS OF TAXES THAT WOULD RAISE THE MONEY.

AUSTIN, Sept. 18.—Gov. Jay Alford today recommended old age pensions to the legislature and pointed to chain stores, sulphur pipe lines and luxuries as the sources of needed tax revenue.

"I particularly urge the immediate passage of a real, graduated chain store tax, a sulphur tax, a tax on pipe lines and a selective luxury tax," he said.

He reiterated the specific recommendations of his tax message to the regular session last February, referring legislators to it for details.

By renewing the old message the governor again declared against general sales tax. Many members believe a general sales tax is the only practical way to raise enough money to raise old age pensions.

The governor said that by suggesting special taxes he did not mean to confine the legislature to those named. He directed attention to the state deficit, the new costs of relief and centennial legislation and asked co-operation in solving the "broad and comprehensive problem of taxation."

Louisiana Sees What Comes of European Dictatorship

It would be interesting to know what a man from Russia, say, or Yugo-Slavia, would have to say about the shooting of Senator Huey Long.

As Americans, we have always made a point of looking down on those European countries in which the plain citizen's only answer to the dictator is a revolver shot. We have prided ourselves on the fact that in our country the free and open channels of democracy make such violence unnecessary. Over here, if we don't like our rulers we vote them out of office; in such European countries as are ruled by dictators, those who feel oppressed have to shoot their oppressors to get rid of them.

Now we in America get a taste of the same thing. Sen. Long stops a revolver bullet, and the same sort of emotion that struck down the late King Alexander of Yugo-Slavia comes to the surface in the senator's own Louisiana.

It goes without saying, of course, that the act will arouse a feeling of shocked horror among Sen. Long's political opponents, as well as among his friends. Political assassination is a peculiarly dreadful and frightening thing; one of the chief fruits of democratic government is that it makes such action unnecessary. You don't need to shoot a politician when you can get at him with a ballot.

But that is just the point, Senator Long set up in Louisiana a dictatorial regime under which he was beyond the reach of ballots. He made a dictator of himself; a dictator without the grace of storm troopers, blood purges or anti-Semitism, to be sure, but a dictator none the less. And by so doing he prepared the ground for assassination.

No man gets to the top in politics without making enemies. Senator Long had about as big a collection of them as any man in America; and it can very properly be added that some of them, at least were very much to his credit.

But the ordinary politician, in America, has no more fear of being shot than has plain John Doe. Once the people who dislike him outnumber the people who like him, he is automatically retired from public life. It is only when dislike and opposition are suppressed and robbed of their normal outlet—the ballot box—that a dangerous pressure is created.

That is what was done in Louisiana. Senator Long set up in his state a small-scale model of a European dictatorship. Shocking as the news from Baton Rouge is, it is worth remembering that it is precisely the sort of thing that comes with dictatorship.

So much for what the law would have done for us in the World War. Now for what it would not have done.

Noting reference to seven league boots, it seems to us that Geneva statesmen have made more than that.

SEXTUPLETS

Here's the Only Photograph Known to Exist Proving Astounding Birth of Six Babies to African Mother; Their Fate Shrouded in Mystery

The sextuplets of Accra, Gold Coast, West Africa, are shown above in what is believed to be the first authentic photograph of sextuplets ever to be published in an American newspaper.

Detroit.—Among the half-naked savages who roam the Accra district of West Africa's Gold Coast, there may be today six who are more remarkable than the Dionne quintuplets of far-off Canada.

The chances are that most or all of the six are dead, but it's possible that they're still circulating. Of their birth there remains no doubt. The fact is attested by the accompanying photograph—believed to be the first authentic photograph of sextuplets ever by other photographs and letters located by NEA Service after persistent search.

The existence of the African rivals of the Dionne quintuplets was long known to scientists. But the fact of their astounding birth was not brought into the limelight until last winter when Dr. Edward A. Schumann, obstetrician of the University of Pennsylvania, showed a lantern slide of the sextuplets at the convention of the American Gynecological Club at New Orleans.

Six months' search for the actual photograph was rewarded when it was found among pictures and letters in the hands of Mrs. John E. Lutzier, who lives in Detroit as the widow of John Eugene Lutzier, a German missionary-trader on the African Gold Coast.

Lutzier was on the Gold Coast in 1903, and attested, as did others, the birth of sextuplets on May 10 to a mother of the Accra tribe. That is the last authenticated instance of sextuplets known to medical history, which records only eight sets.

Accra is only 400 miles north of the equator, and the climate is hot and unhealthy for Europeans. The Accras live in crude mud hovels, and are a fertile

But they dropped from sight. No one knows today whether any or all of them lived, or what became of them.

As they were born during the rainy season, which extends from April until October, it is regarded as likely, however, that they did not survive.

Medical authorities speculate on the number of multiple births that may have taken place under circumstances like these among primitive people, but without the presence of Europeans to make accurate records of the facts, as in this case.

SEVERAL BORN IN U. S. Not Africa alone, however, affords such cases. In the United States, authentic records of sextuplets are not lacking. The first known were born to a Mrs. Marr of Phippsburg, Me., on June 27, 1846, but two were living and four died at birth.

Mrs. George Hirsch, of Navarro county, Tex., gave birth to four boys and two girls on Nov. 17, 1888. Eleven years later Mrs. J. Karl of Mobile, Ala., gave birth to six live boys, on Dec. 8, 1899.

Ever since the birth of the Dionne quintuplets and their unheard-of record of survival, reports keep cropping up of multiple births, but none has been well authenticated, as in recent years at least.

Even the case of Hamelin-on-Weser, Germany, commemorated by a tablet at No. 3 Emmenstrasse, recording the birth of sextuplets, has been gravely questioned.

Other cases from Siena, Italy, San Ildefonso, Spain, and Leeds, Eng., have all been relegated to medical history after investigation.

John Eugene Lutzier, the German missionary-trader who procured in Accra the rare photograph of living sextuplets presented herewith.

SEVEN BORN—FAR APART

A recent dispatch from Georgetown, British Guiana, for instance, recorded that Carola Perez was doing nicely after bearing seven children, and that government aid was being requested for their support.

But when Dr. Henry Pittier of the Museum National at Caracas, Venezuela, investigated the matter he found that there was no particular reason why Mrs. Perez should not be doing all right. She had had seven children, but all were born at different times. An other medical record went up in smoke.

Perfectly authenticated multiple births are recorded regularly (Continued on page 3)

Business Gain For Stores 30 Per Cent

By United Press
CHICAGO.—Retail business is running from 30 to 70 per cent ahead of 1934, and the outlook for fall business is the brightest since 1929, according to J. R. Ozanne, the same month last year jumped to 81 per cent. In New Orleans merchants declare business running from 25 to 60 per cent ahead of last year. In Waterloo, Iowa, the Deere Plow Works is operating 24 hours a day.

The BLUE DOOR

by Rachel Mack

BEGIN HERE TODAY
RUTH WOODSON, pretty, high-school girl of 18, in search of work, seeks refuge from a storm in an old store house with a blue door in the little town of Worth-ville. The queer old caretaker, BERTHA GIBBS, also known as PENNY, mistakes her for ELAINE CHALMERS, whose grandfather built the building where she is staying in love with the young man next door, JOHN McNEILL. Elaine decides to stay on for a time, preserving the house. Elaine, in a society meeting to give the love of John McNeill, her childhood hero, and plans to go to Worthville.
A man known as JOHN SMITH escapes from an asylum, buys a used-car and starts for Worth-ville.
Penny seems happy to have Ruth in the house until one night when she is summoned to the front door by a knock. After that she is taciturn and hostile and mysterious in her actions.
John McNeill has fallen in love with Ruth, whom he calls
"Elaine." Ruth cleans the library of the old house and notices the disappearance of a book which she had been reading. She finds the book, decides it is Penny, and falls asleep.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XVIII
In the week that followed, Ruth and John McNeill were together more than any realized —except Bertha Gibbs. She encouraged the drives they took either before or after the evening meal.
On the day after John's return they went to Cleveland to see the opening of a New York play, starring the Lantz. Ruth wore the shell-pink velvet dress beneath the fox-trimmed evening coat and wandered if she were overly dressed or rushing the season. It appeared that she was not.
John was satisfactorily impressed.
"You're stunning!" he told her, looking across the table in frank appraisal. "Did you send for all these clothes you've been wearing lately? You came without baggage, if I remember rightly. All you had was a bunch of parcels." Ruth said steadily, "I didn't have to send for anything. And for the funniest reason! Last spring my—my family sent a box for Saint Stephens' rummage sale and it got here too late. Penny dragged it up to the store room and it's been there ever since. We opened it after I came and it was stocked with fall and winter clothes from last season."
John said, "A girl who's crazy enough to come off without her clothes doesn't deserve a break like that."
"No," answered Ruth humbly,
"she doesn't. I haven't deserved any of the breaks of this visit, John. Finding you next door, for instance. Liking you—"

Do you Hate to Meet People?

Some of us are so bashful that whenever a new face appears before us we mentally duck away! Maybe it isn't shyness so much as simply not realizing how very interesting new acquaintances can be.

Some people are shy about new foods too. One family we know has had pork and beans every Saturday night for ten years, and they see no reason for changing!

How much more interesting life—and dinner—would be for that family with a new kind of meat, a vegetable prepared some other way, a new style in dessert. New foods—new faces—brighten our days and help make living an exciting game.

Look through the advertisements in this newspaper today for new ideas in foods. They're here, in abundance . . . recipes, tried and tested . . . favorite platters of favorite people . . . exotic dishes from exotic lands.

The advertisements bring you up-to-the-minute news of many things. Read the regularly. Form the habit of getting the most out of life—and the most for your money.

Style Show Rehearsal at Recreation Building Tonight 7:45 o'clock
Tonight at 7:45 o'clock will usher into action a busy scene, when the merchants sponsoring the style show assemble together with their mannikins—master of ceremonies, and orchestra, and immediately go into their promenade, placing finishing touches where they belong, and to the best advantage to present to you one of the most complete showings of fall and winter merchandise to have been selected for Ranger people in several seasons.

Just to make a good show better quoting a popular saying, the merchants have chosen Aubrey Jameson as master of ceremonies, which is a treat within itself. The presentation and introduction will be given in a completely novel and concise manner, leaving enough for the eyes—as well as the ears. Seeing oftentimes is believing—and so it goes with the clothes to be featured at the show tomorrow night, at 8 o'clock.

Each merchant taking part has chosen well and carefully their models, and have devoted even more time on the proper ensemble, suit, and complete attire to make up the well and correctly dressed person. The children come in for their share of admiration—and they are of great importance, after all.
If you are among the few who haven't set aside Thursday evening for this line of 1935-36 fashion—we suggest you at this moment remember the date and place as a red letter day of waning September.

Y. W. A. Honors Counselors
Members of the Y. W. A. First Baptist church were entertained at the home of Mrs. James Cooby last evening in one of the most pleasant socials for several weeks.
Mrs. G. W. Thomas has recently been named counselor to succeed Mrs. Cooby who tendered her resignation after a decidedly successful term of service.
Games rounded out the hour with a feature game of "hobo." Each one present was presented a bar containing favors. When the hostess and Mrs. Thomas received their bags they were happily surprised in that the contents were lovely handkerchiefs, special courtesy paid them by their personnel of active workers. The particular day marked the birthday of the latter honoree.
Orange ice and cookies were served drawing to a close an evening which passed much too quickly. Those present: Mrs. Thomas, and Misses Clara Barker, Eula and Eunice Prosser, Iva Ball, Ruby Milburn, Madeline Livingston, Margaret Fox and Pauline McGee.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Like a Cat
The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Get back up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.
Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Western Union to Inaugurate New Birthday Service

A 25-cent telegram for sending birthday greetings to any point in the United States, proposed by the Western Union Telegraph company in a tariff filed with the federal communications commission to be effective Oct. 1, marks a wholly new departure in the telegraph field.
The texts of the birthday telegram are to be selected by the senders from a standard list of 30 messages which have proven favorites for such occasions. The messages, it is proposed, are to be filed at any time not later than the day preceding the birthday, and are to be transmitted overnight and delivered in the morning on a colorfully decorated special birthday blank.
Officials of the telegraph company pointed out today that Western Union inaugurated the night letter, the day letter, time wire service, serial service, and the various other services which have tended to popularize the use of telegrams for purposes of all kinds and that the 25-cent birthday telegram is another step forward in this program of progress.

cat, rated on the dope chart and by the grandstand quarterbacks, as no little bit stronger than was the 1934 Concho football entry, go on display next Friday night at the cemetery gridiron in annual pigskin show with the rowdy Ranger Bulldogs.
"Not in the annals of the game can one find where a San Angelo football team has defeated a Ranger football team.
"Last year, a husky young man from Ranger, Aaron Anderson, almost single-handed stacked up three touchdowns and rolled over the Bobcats, 19 to 0.
"Anderson is not with the Ranger team this year. It seems highly reasonable that Ranger will feel his loss keenly. However, word comes from down Eastland county that the Bulldogs are just as tough, rough and bulky as ever and have high ideas of repeating for the Oil Belt championship.
"This game is a non-titular affair. It is the opening test for both teams.
"The Bobcats, as said, believed to be somewhat improved over their 1934 strength, heavier and faster than was the last-year edition of the Concho entry, bound back Friday evening still a large question mark.
"The cats are not as heavy as the Ranger entry. They are not as lavishly taut. They are fighting precedent. On the guessers' chart, the Bobcats truly are the underdog team.
"Take 'em As They Come
"But Coach Harry Taylor and Tonto Coleman along with their ambitious proteges are asking no favors. They face, in the parlance of the sport what is known as a "suicide schedule." It does not matter to them that Ranger, ranked one of the strongest teams in the state, attacks them in their first test.
"San Angelo will present almost a veteran line. The starting front will probably will be composed of letter men at every position other than center where young Bobby Brown, who, incidentally, is not very large, likely will catch the call.
"The backfield, speedier and better balanced, has one glaring drawback. It is inexperienced. Only Carl Bowden, a halfback, lettered in the secondary last season. Big Blackie Reese, is a letter lineman with no Class A game experience as a backfielder. He may start at fullback. If he doesn't H. K. Hinde, 1934 squad man, will be tagged. It appears almost certain stock little Sammy Ray, squad man, will open at the quarterback slot and it is likely Harry Hays or J. W. Teague, both squad men, will move into one of the halfback slots.
"Wee But Wicked
"The ends, letter men, are Herb Smith and Jack Gregg. Both are scrappers, neither very big.
