Signing Up the Meek To Inherit the Earth

If you could get 500,000,000 people to sign an agreement demanding the end of war, you ought to bring the world appreciably closer to an era of continued peace.

This, at any rate, seems to be the idea of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom; and a world wide campaign has been begun by that organization to get half a billion signatures to a resolution against war.

The demand of this group is simple and forthright. It reads:

"Stop immediately all increase of armaments and armed forces. Use existing machinery for peaceful settlement of present conflicts. Secure a world treaty for immediate reduction of arms as a step toward complete world disarmament. Secure international agreements founded on recognition of world interdependence to end the economic anarchy which breeds war."

Papers setting forth this demand will be circulated presently in every country on earth. The women backing it plan to mobilize world opinion on a scale never before seen. They hope to confront the rulers of every nation with such an overwhelming demand for peace that the war-makers will be stunned into silence.

Now it would be easy to grow every cynical about all this. Anti-war sentiment is usually very strong and outspoken—up to the moment that war begins; then it has a way of vanishing like dawn mists before the morning sun.

The plain people of Europe unquestionably wanted peace in 1914, but when the hour struck they marched off to war meekly enough. When the battle flags flutter on the wind, the voice of the Prince of Peace is ignored.

Yet there is just a chance that this might work out differently.

The plain people of the world—the 500,000,000 who will be asked to sign this treaty—do not find their voice very often. For the most part they take the world as it is handed to them, enduring poverty and denial without much complaint, serving those who use them and dying dutifully when instructed to do so.

They are, in short, the meek—the terrible meek, someone has called them—and the thing to remember about them is that ultimately they will inherit the earth.

One of these days they will make up their mind, once and for all, that their inheritance has been torn and befoiled by slaughter long enough. They will conclude that fighting for oil concessions, trade rights and the commendation of the war lords is a losing game, and they will stop playing it. When that day comes, those who live by the sword will have to find other employment.

And there's an outside chance that putting half a billion names on an anti-war petition might bring that day appreciably nearer.

Protecting the Little Man

It is good business to plan production so that the greatest possible quantity of oil may be drawn from the least possible number of wells, and good economics to avoid overproduction but cutting out unnecessary drilling; but if these things can be done only to the exclusion of the little fellow from the field and to the advantage of the big fellow, they are wrong and should not be countenanced by the state government.

This was the position taken Monday by Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the state railroad commission, when he declared:

"We realize our activities are circumscribed, but we are not going to stand for any 'share the wealth' plan which would give the property of the little man to monopolistic interests. This commission does not believe that the legislature, the laws or the courts meant to drive the little man from business."

Colonel Thompson made this statement in reply to conclusions by representatives of major oil interests, that the railroad commission should consider acreage as a basis of allocating production of oil in East Texas.

Proration on the acreage basis would restrict drilling to so many barrels per acre. It would favor the large operators with extensive tracts, permitting them to develop their holdings leisurely by producing more oil from fewer wells. But the effect upon those producing from small tracts is obvious. Those who argued for acreage-basis allocations admitted that marginal wells and those on very small tracts would suffer from such a system; and opponents of the acreage proposal declared that it would put hundreds of wells out of business, halt drilling and throw many men out of work.

Acreage-basis advocates asserted that the supreme court has held that the commission must consider acreage; but one is inclined to give the commission credit for knowing its ground when Chairman Thompson says: "The commission certainly is going to follow the statutes religiously and the mandate of the court."

Chairman Thompson is to be commended for his efforts to protect the rights of the little fellow.—Houston Post.

County's Best—

munities are being invited to present a 20-minute program of any type.

Joe Coffman and Wayne Jones, Eastland, are in charge of the agricultural department. Corn, cotton, forage crops and all varieties of vegetables will be exhibited in this department.

Four-H club boys will contest in an exhibition of their year's products. Only exhibits selected from actual club demonstration are eligible for entry.

The Women's Home Demonstration department will include exhibits of plain sewing, fancy sewing, rugs and toys, knitting, quilts, canning, cooking, livestock products.

Miss Ruth Ramey, county home demonstration agent, is in charge of the Home Demonstration Department. A scholarship to the State Fair Educational Encampment will be awarded for the four best complete exhibits consisting of canning, home improvement articles and complete record book and history of year's work.

Mrs. Louis Pitcock of near Ranger is chairman of the Women's Home Demonstration Club Work exhibits. Exhibits include yard, clothing, 4-H pantry, gift packages, rugs, cheese. Exhibits are to be in place by 10:30 a. m. Thursday, Sept. 21. Award of $1.50 will be paid each club exhibiting. Ribbons will be awarded first, second and third.

For the first year, a livestock show is being held in conjunction with the fair. The exhibition of Jersey cattle is being especially urged.

In the Jersey cattle department prizes will be offered in the following divisions: bull calf under two years; bull two years and over; grand champion bull; heifer under two years; cow two years and over. Ribbons are being offered in other divisions.

Prizes are also being offered in the sheep, goat, horse, mule and team departments.

The Eastland County Rabbit Show is again being held in conjunction with the fair. A. H. Anderson of Waxahachie will judge entries.

Wednesday features of the fair will include a blindfold street drive by J. B. Moreno at 2:30 p. m., a football game between members of the Lions and Rotary clubs of Eastland at 3 o'clock on Maverick field, opening of the midway at 7:30 p. m. and a program by Cisco at 8 o'clock.

MAVS GO DOWN IN SWEETWATER BY 13-0 SCORE

By United Press
 SWEETWATER, Sept. 21.—The Sweetwater Mustangs defeated Eastland Mavericks 13 to 0 here this afternoon.

The Mustangs struck early in the first quarter, taking the oval on their own 45-yard line where a 32-yard kick by Hamilton had rolled out of bounds. Six plays netted the score.

The second Sweetwater touchdown came in the middle of the fourth period after L. Bruner had intercepted a wild heave by D. Simmons on Eastland's 45 and raced back to the 38 where he was downed by Simmons.

Eastland made only three free throws to Sweetwater's 11. The Mavericks tried 19 passes, two were completed for eight yard losses, two for 35-yard gains, six were intercepted and nine incomplete.

The game ended with Eastland trying desperately to complete an aerial.

BULLDOGS ARE SMOTHERED BY BOBCATS 50-0

San Angelo High School's Bobcats scored their first victory over the Ranger Bulldogs in the history of the football rivalry of the two schools, but when they finally did turn in a win they made up for the lean years by whitewashing the Bulldogs to the tune of 50 to 0.

The game set another record, too, because it was not only San Angelo's first victory over the Oil Belt team, but it was the worst defeat the Bulldogs have suffered in their 13 years of football competition in the Oil Belt.

In fact the only defeats that come anywhere near comparing to the overwhelming 50 to 0 defeat are the 40 to 3 defeat at the hands of the Abilene Eagles back in 1922 and the 40 to 7 defeat by Breckenridge in 1929.

The defeat, too, was quite a contrast to the 34 to 7, 23 to 7, 42 to 0, 44 to 0, and 42 to 7 victories scored by the 1934 Bulldogs in their march to the Oil Belt district title.

San Angelo scored almost at will, gaining ground on almost every play with mass interference sweeping around and through the Bulldog forward walls and on down the field. The Bobcats tried only one pass in scoring their eight touchdowns, and accounted for 23 first downs, while the Bulldogs never penetrated the 20 yard line and accounted for only six first downs.

Sammy Ray, fleet Bobcat back, turned in one of the longest runs of the game when he returned a punt 65 yards for a touchdown, and Carl Bowden, a letterman from last year's team, intercepted a pass and raced 73 yards for another tally.

Ray scored three touchdowns, Bowden and Hays two each and M. Jones accounted for the other. The Bobcats lost no time in getting started on their scoring spree, accounting for 19 points in the first quarter, 13 in the second, six in the third and 12 in the final stanza.

The Bulldogs' six first downs were evenly divided, Walsh and Jacoby making three each. Next week the Bulldogs take on the Amarillo Sandies, who won an impressive 26 to 0 victory over Woodrow Wilson of Dallas Friday.

OLDEN HIGH WINNER FRIDAY OVER COLONY

Olden High School opened its 1935 conference schedule Friday afternoon at Olden with an impressive 20 to 0 victory over Colony.

Curry, Olden fullback, was particularly affective on returning punts and scored one of the three touchdowns for his team. Anderson, left half, and Weeks, end, scored the other two touchdowns on passes. Curry's touchdown was on a reverse.

Olden accounted for 11 first downs to five for Colony. A return game is to be played with Colony at Colony in two weeks.

The Olden club will play at Pioneer on Oct. 11, Desdemona at Olden on Oct. 18, Woodson at Olden on Oct. 25; at Moran on Nov. 1, at Desdemona on No. 8, and at May on Nov. 22.

The showing made by Olden Friday gave indications that the team will be strong this year and will likely be one to be considered seriously by every team in the district.

Outstanding on the defense for the Olden club were Jarrett and McGill, as were Young and Weeks. The starting lineup for Olden included Hyatt, center; Rex Howell and Ray Howell, guards; McGill and Norton, tackles; Young and Weeks, ends; Anderson, left half; Butler, right half; Curry, full and Jarrett, quarter.

Special Session of Parliament Looms

By United Press
 LONDON, Sept. 21.—The British cabinet meeting on Tuesday in its first full gathering since last month may discuss summoning a special session of parliament to deal with the crisis.

It was believed unless the situation is considered one of potential war it would not be necessary to convene parliament, since the government has announced its policies.

Insured Buying!

There's a way of insuring your buying against wasted money and unsatisfactory merchandise. And that insurance costs you not a penny. It is always paid up to date and in full force.

That insurance is the advertising here in your newspaper. Advertised products are standardized, perfected and carefully priced before they are ever advertised.

Whether you are buying soap, clothing, shoes, tooth paste, food or electrical household appliances, the result is the same. You get reliable, economical merchandise whenever you buy by the advertisements.

Make up your insured shopping list in the comfort and quiet of your home. Compare the merits of the products advertised. Study the way in which each is adapted to your needs.

You'll find advertising informing and interesting. That's the only sort that pays, you know.

Every dollar you spend on advertised merchandise is insured against waste.

The BLUE DOOR Rachel Mack

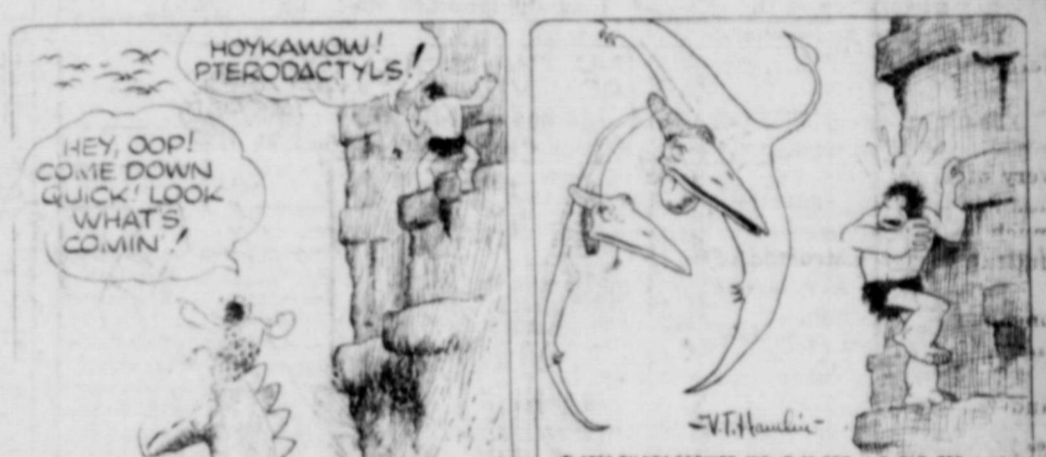

BEGIN HERE TODAY WITH WOODSON, pretty, high-spirited girl of 19 in search of work, seeks refuge from a storm in an old stone house with a blue door in the little town of Worthville. The quiet, old caretaker, BERTHA GIBBS, also known as HUNTER, she alone is left to CHALMERS, whose grandfather built the house. Both, seeing shelter and having fallen in love with JOHN McNEILL, the young man next door, decide to stay on a while, pending the coming of the new owner, HUNTER, who is expected to arrive in a fortnight. John and Bertha, alarmed about "Elaine" being alone in the Hunter house with old Bertha Gibbs, urge her to stay with them. "Um-m," said John, drawing on his pipe. "Go on." "Well, the other incident is louder and funnier. It's about a cake I made for her. The day after her birthday she got her quarterly check from New York. She went down town to bank it and to buy a supply of staple groceries. When I saw all the money she had, I was tempted to offer to bake her a day-late birthday cake. She was as thrilled as a child and asked me if I could manage to make the thing pink! I did, by using beet water as coloring. If I do say so, it was a beautiful cake. "This story intended to praise your cooking?" asked John, grinning, "or just to make me hunky-dum?" "I'm not interested in your reaction," she said. "It's Penny that has me guessing. Well, she began to eat a piece of it with the most heavenly expression on her face. About that time there came a knock on the front door and she went to answer it. She looked around so long that I washed the table and began to wash the dishes. Finally she came back, but she'd lost her appetite and all interest in the cake. She said she'd had a telegram that upset her. "Is that the end of the story?" asked John. "No," answered Ruth, "that's merely the curtain on the second act. The third act's the thriller. "I'd been in the library and on my way upstairs I stopped being that big pier glass in the hall to admire myself. I may as well admit it—that's what I was doing. I was carrying a lighted candle and a book and the light was dim and pathetic and I'd never seen myself look so nice before. "You ought to see yourself now," John said. "Don't interrupt. While I was looking in the glass I noticed something that was going on in the dining room. Penny was cutting away half the cake and wrapping it in a package. She was going to take a burger in the movies. Her caution was positively exaggerated—now what have you to say?" "I've already solved number saiah Portrays the Suffering Servant

Text: Isaiah 53:1-12. The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Oct. 6. BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D. Editor of Advance. THE studies of representative men and women of the Bible during the third quarter have taken characters from the Old Testament and from the New. In the fourth quarter we turn from a succession of New Testament studies back to the Old Testament. The personalities of these men and women are the older prophets and leaders of Judah, from Isaiah to Malachi. The first lesson of the quarter presents the suffering servant in the fifty-third chapter of Isaiah. It is commonly believed by New Testament scholars that the later chapters of Isaiah are by another hand than the early chapters when Isaiah had undergone the tragedy of exile and suffering in Babylonia. In the conception of the prophet the nation was not only expiating its own sins but was bearing the burden of sin in the process of human redemption, with which we have become so familiar in the New Testament story of the mission and death of Jesus. stand something of the source and reality of the noble reflections ideas of this lesson and of the accompanying chapters in the latter part of the book of Isaiah. Here was a people professing to be the chosen people of God to whom there had been great promises and whose literature was full of sublime triumphs and the evidences of divine leadership. The conception of a glorious kingdom in which Israel should lead and share was as cherished in that history. But how could these promises and purposes of God concerning Israel be fulfilled in a nation that had been slighted by war torn up by the roots and taken off in exile to a far and unfriendly country? Was there no justice and no hope as men looked up in the light of the spiritual history of the nation? THE problem the prophet faced with insight and daring. He saw that while the innocent suffer with the guilty there is redemptive power in the sufferings of the innocent. The way of redemption and progress lies through suffering and sacrifice. There is no effort to explain why this is so, but the prophet insists that even in exile a nation called of God may fulfill its destiny and give its message and leadership to the world. How gloriously has that faith and hope been fulfilled in history! The Jews in many lands are still in exile or in execution, yet from this race with its prophets and its saints and its Savior have come the richest and noblest ideals and the truest visions of the redeemed society. If one pictured the problem of the prophet in the crisis that Israel was facing, he can under-

Home Owners Can Improve Homes By Using Association

Sam Strauss, field representative of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, of Washington, D. C., was in Ranger this week, when he met with the board of directors of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Ranger.

Strauss said that there was need for more loans to be made in Ranger, pointing out that money was available from local sources and from the federal fund, which can be drawn upon at the rate of $3 for every $1 invested locally, and that this federal money could not be drawn out of the association for five years. Only then can 10 per cent be drawn out by the government, he explained.

Some of the features of the association as pointed out by the field representative are that loans are made up to a reasonably high proportion of property value, not to exceed 75 per cent of appraised value of the home, or combination of home and business property, nor 50 per cent of appraised value of other improved real estate.

Interest rates and service charges are moderate. Convenient payments are made on a monthly basis, well fitted to repayment from the average home owner's regular wage or salary income.

Since the safety of every individual account in a Federal Savings and Loan Association will be fully insured up to $5000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, the shares of such an association are inviting to private investors of large and small means as a combination of safety and income. A substantial volume of private capital should thus be available at all times as the main source of the association's loanable funds.

Abundant additional resources are available for loans through the association's membership in the Federal Home Loan Bank System and through participation of the United States Treasury in its shares.

Crude Fort Which May Be Cradle of Great War

This crude fort, the round mud huts of the garrison resembling mushrooms as seen from the air, may be the Sarajevo to touch of another great war. It is the Ethiopian fort at Wal-wal, near the Italian-Somaliland boundary, scene of a clash on Dec. 1, 1934, that brought to a head the long-standing differences between the two nations. Rome reported 119 Ethiopian casualties and an Italian loss of 29. Italy demanded heavy indemnity and honor to her colors, and Ethiopia appealed to the League of Nations.

Now that all Scouts are in school, almost every scoutmaster is going to see a decided increase in their troop advancement program—especially so where tests are more of a scholarly nature. Contrary to the opinion of most people that Scouts make the greatest advancement during the summer vacation period, they make more advancement during the school months. The tests that have to do with the out-of-doors are the ones that are passed most during vacation time. This is largely due to their wanting to forget about tests that require "indoor" thinking.

Scout Rallies
The council is planning for a scout rally, for each of the four sections of the council, during the fall months. The date for the Central section is Oct. 12. Dates for the other sections will probably be announced next week. The usual contests will take place in various scoutcrafts.

County Fairs
A number of troops are planning to take part and have exhibits at their home town fairs, which are to be held during the fall.

Court of Honor
Breckenridge district states that they are to have a big Court of Honor for their district, Sept. 20. Odie Minstra, chairman of the Court of Honor, will be in charge, assisted by scouters in the district.

Archery
More and more interest is being shown in archery—more evidently is this true since the summer camp and the handicraft schools, which have been conducted. It is hoped that a number of archery tournaments can be worked out in the near future, and that by next spring the Comanche Trail Council will have a real group of archers.

THE grand old pastime of baseball will lose a lot of its color when this rapidly waning diamond season passes into history. The dramatic careers of many of the sport's greatest stars probably will come to a close as they start down the other side of the hill into the dimness that finally engulfs phenoms of the past.

Already the game has lost its greatest of all stars, Babe Ruth. Memory of that barrel-like torso around the sacks in American League parks has faded in the mists of the fans who hasten to create new idols to worship for a while, and then forget.

But such is fame. There are others who, not having created the stir in baseball circles that the great Ruth did, will find it even more fleeting than did the Sultan of Swat.

Al Simmons, despite his declaration that he has found a way to put the last punch back into his hickory, and vows he'll come back with a vim and vigor next season, is one.

Connie Mack, despite his need of cash in hand in 1932, when he peddled Al and Dykes to the White Sox for $100,000, realized Simmons was on the way out. And the fact that the Milwaukee lad has worn out his breeches riding the bench much of the season is evidence of the fact that Jimmy Dykes thinks Al isn't the player he used to be.

Simmons Pleads Guilty
THIS last that Simmons acknowledges he has lost his punch at the plate is sufficient evidence for conviction. Once a ball player loses his stock in trade, he seldom recovers it, although Wes Ferrell and Lefty Grove are notable exceptions.

Another of those colorful Athletics of 1929-31 is due to do a fadeout by next spring. He is visited his sister, Mrs. Jessie Ainsworth, Sunday.

George Harper was a Ranger visitor Wednesday.

Elmer Daffern visited H. D. Browning Tuesday.

Grandma Daffern's sister of Lingville is visiting her.

Vernon Dunlap of near Eastland has been visiting relatives here this week.

Rabbit Deserves a Job
MARANVILLE has a place in baseball, even though he is actively through. No matter who gains control of the shaky Boston Braves, it should be his moral obligation and duty to find some soft spot for the bunny-like fellow to park his dogs.

These are just four of the fellows you've come to know intimately through their antics on the diamond who are being shunted into the scrap heap by young blood.

Oh, yes, the game will lose a lot of color, but it's a color that has changed to a somber hue of late years, and there'll be new color, a much brighter tint, to take its place.

Rio Grande Flood Control System Faced Big Test

By United Press
McALLEN, Tex.—The Lower Rio Grande Valley's gigantic flood control system was called upon to face its greatest test last week as flood waters from tributaries of the Rio Grande poured a huge volume of water into the main river channel.

The huge control system was built in 1925 by Hidalgo and Cameron counties at a cost of about $3,600,000, of which $1,600,000 was expended in Hidalgo county from proceeds of a bond issue. By a special act of the Texas Legislature, state ad valorem taxes in both counties were remitted for a period of 25 years in order to finance the control work, but that law was recently declared unconstitutional by the Texas Supreme court.

In 1932, negotiations were begun by which the federal government was to take over the Rio Grande flood control project. Those negotiations were terminated in 1933 when the government agreed to assume control of the project and immediately started improvement of the entire system.

Large crews of men, directed by the International Boundary Commission, cleared underbrush out of the floodways, strengthened huge levees, repaired breaks and cracks and otherwise worked over the entire system. To date more than $2,000,000 has been spent on this system.

The work was only begun in the fall of 1932 when the first important flood since 1922 hammered into the Lower Valley from Texas and Mexican tributaries of the Rio Grande.

The flood was the greatest in nearly 20 years, the following peaks being registered at three important Upper Valley points: Rio Grande City, 34.8 feet; Mission, 28.7 feet; Hidalgo, 25.85 feet, and Donna, 20.6 feet.

That flood ripped away levees in several places, flooded many thousands of acres of land in Southern Hidalgo county, flooded Sebastian in Willacy county and finally subsided.

Before the broken levees had been repaired, two new floods roared into the Valley in September, 1933, on the heels of a destructive tropical hurricane. Neither of these floods, however, was as destructive as the one in 1932.

The control system now includes about 175 miles of huge earthen levees. They are built along the banks of the old riverbeds, traversing the Valley through the southern parts of Hidalgo and Cameron counties. These numerous branches help carry off the floodwaters to the Gulf and prevent flooding.

In Southern Cameron county, control gates have been placed at the entrance into Rancho Viejo floodway which empties into the Gulf northwest of Brownsville.

The structure is opened when the river attains a specified height and handles a considerable volume

Adult School at High School Is Now Re-Opened

The teachers completing the training course for adult education, sponsored by the Texas Department of Education and the Texas Relief Commission at Lubbock, have returned and opened school. Classes were begun Friday evening, Sept. 13.

There was a sufficient number of students to indicate that there is enough interest to justify several classes at this time.

This school offers wonderful opportunities for those who are unemployed and for those who are ambitious to improve themselves and prepare for holding a better position.

Courses are offered in business English, commercial arithmetic, elementary and advanced shorthand, music, harmony and voice. Those interested in typewriting, colorblindness or dictation should meet with Mrs. C. E. Rountree in Room 23, at the high school building from 6:30 to 9:30.

J. F. Connell and Mrs. Florence Bundick are teaching their classes at 409 Hunt street. Christine Small will meet her classes at the colored school.

Superintendent Walton of the city schools has made application to the Texas relief office at Austin for reinstatement of the former teachers in the adult school.

Plans are being formed for several classes in vocational education and these will be started just as soon as the Austin office authorizes this work.

First Baptist Church Facing New Season With Confidence

"The congregation is grateful for the unmistakable evidence of Divine favor which has rested upon the labors of the church during the past months, and faces the approaching season confident that it is to bring in one of the best years in the history of the church," Rev. G. W. Thomas, pastor of the First Baptist Church stated Saturday.

Members of the congregation are launching the tithing test campaign, which is now being so successfully carried on by an increasingly large number of Baptist churches in Texas. A splendid spirit of optimism prevails with reference to the outcome. The first Sunday in October will mark the beginning of the three-month period during which it is hoped that many will bring into the Lord's storehouse one-tenth of their incomes. Some are already tithing.

The Baptist Brotherhood of Cicco Association, embracing Shackelford, Stephens and Eastland counties will hold its regular quarterly meeting at the church on next Thursday night. The organization seeks to promote the work of the laymen among the churches of the denomination.

Band Meeting to Be Held Tuesday

John Hassen, chairman of the Ranger band committee, and J. F. Whitefield, director of the band, Saturday were urging that all parents of members of the band, all members of the band committee and everyone interested in promoting the welfare of the band to attend a meeting Tuesday night at the high school.

The meeting has been called for the purpose of reorganizing the band committee and planning the activities of the committee for the coming year.

Last year, after the organization of the committee, the band was in much better financial condition than it had been for a number of years, and it is expected that this year will surpass last, as far as the band is concerned.

Rev. E. B. Hawk to Preach On Sunday

Rev. J. M. Bond announced Saturday that services would be conducted at the First Methodist church Sunday morning by Rev. E. B. Hawk of Southern Methodist University.

Rev. Hawk will conduct the services at the 11 o'clock hour in the absence of the pastor.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE
S.E.A. Service Staff Writer

A FAMILY reunion is certainly the place to get new recipes and ideas. We are just back from one and never was there such food—cakes, salads, meat loaves, fancy breads, and baked beans, for our family has both New England and Southern branches.

Trying out the recipes. It's a pleasure to find that Cousin Martha's whipped cream cake, delicate as a lovely dream, is practically for the home, that Aunt Agatha's spice cake with toasted frosting will turn out well in any careful oven, if not perhaps as superlatively as in hers.

Cousin Martha's Whipped Cream Cake.
One cup whipping cream, 2 eggs, 1 cup granulated sugar, 1 1/2 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1-8 teaspoon salt, few drops vanilla.

Put cream in mixing bowl and whip firm. Add eggs, unbeaten and beat up well with spoon. Beat in sugar. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt and add to first mixture. Add vanilla and stir lightly. Turn into an oiled and floured dripping pan and bake thirty-five minutes in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.). Cover with a boiled frosting.

Spice Cake
Two and one-fourth cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon soda, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1-8 teaspoon cloves, 1-2 cup butter or other shortening, 1 1-3 cups sweetened condensed milk, 2-3 cup water.

Sift flour once, add baking powder, soda, salt, spices and sift several times. Cream shortening. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk which has been diluted with water. Beat until batter is smooth. Turn into an oiled and floured loaf cake pan and bake forty minutes in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Cool and cover with lemon meringue frosting.

Lemon Meringue Frosting
One and one-third cups sweetened condensed milk, 2 table-spoons lemon juice, 1 egg white.
Add lemon juice to milk and stir until mixture thickens. Fold in egg white which has been beaten until stiff. Spread on cake and put into a slow oven (325 degrees F.) for ten minutes or until a delicate brown. Or put in the broiler under a very low flame and as far from the flame as possible. Broil until top is a pale straw color.

ment, topped by a supporting cast of skillful, but none the less hilarious, comedians, headed by the buoyant inanities of Mary Boland and the droll humor of Lynne Overman.

Prepare yourself for gales of rib-ticking laughter in Bing's newest laugh riot which provides the crooner with plenty of opportunity to indulge his flair as an ace singer and master of farce. Presenting Crosby in one mirth-provoking dilemma after another, "Two for Tonight" is a perfect vehicle for Bing's light-hearted insouciant, personable style of acting.

The comedy centers around the humorous experiences of a struggling young singer when he is erroneously taken for a playwright. Bing is one of three brothers, sons of Mary Boland, who are evicted from their home. Secreting themselves in the garden of a renowned music publisher's home, Bing sings while the other plays the piano, unaware that the publisher is deaf as a post. An airplane crashes, putting Bing in the hospital. Boland, in her effort to do $50,000 damages, writes the script. The accident has prevented her son from completing his pilot's license. The pilot appears, in the person of Joan Bennett, secretary to a famous stage impresario, Lynne Overman. Through her, Bing and family have an appointment with Overman who straightway asks Bing to write a play for his Thelma Todd, without giving him a chance to explain.

The fun begins when Bing, finding himself short of ideas, upon the suggestion of Crosby, Overman's astute and ex-theatrical producer, goes out and make things happen. get more material for his play starts an hilarious seltzer-siphon-shooting battle in a club which sends him to jail, this time Miss Bennett has been in love with the romantic but runs away when she sees in an embrace with Miss Todd also sees them, and fires Bing.

Curtains to Rise On Federated Club Study, New Era Presenting Tea Wednesday

With September fastly waning, fall beckons to club persons, sounding a note of starting time for extensive study courses, and social features which tie in so colorfully each season.

Ranger's Federated clubs have devoted the past two weeks to general outline work, and now comes the opening announcement from the New Era club, that Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 25, marks the opening for 1935-36, with a tea to be staged in the Colonial room, Gholson.

The president, Mrs. W. B. Crossley, Spring road, who was re-elected since her leadership was so commendable, states the tea will offer an entertaining program consisting of carefully chosen speakers. Opening address, and art exhibit of which pictures will be shown from the Le Petit club, of Breckenridge.

Members of the other study clubs of Ranger, 1920, Columbia and New Era clubs are invited.

Announcing . . .
Name of the hostesses, and lesson topic for the Monday Afternoon study for Women's Missionary Society, of First Baptist church, will be announced by the pastor, Rev. G. W. Thomas, at the service this morning.

Monthly business meeting of Euzelean class, of Central Baptist church, will be held in the home of Mrs. Roy Moore, Blundell street Monday evening at 8 o'clock. All members are earnestly urged to be present since new officers and teacher is to be named.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Howard announce the arrival of their 8-1-2 pound daughter, Elizabeth Ann, who arrived at the City County Hospital, during the past week. They will likely be removed to their home, Eastland Hill, within the next few days.

To Make Home Here
Mrs. Lou Ella Ellis, daughter of Mrs. Ella Myers of Ranger, was married to J. E. Butcher Jr., of Dallas, Sept. 18, at Breckenridge. Mr. Butcher is an Eastland county native. His father, Dr. J. E. Butcher, was in the drug business in Eastland for some forty years. Mr. and Mrs. Butcher expect to make their home in Ranger, after Oct. 1.

Ruth Class Meeting to Be Held With Mrs. Cash
The Ruth class of Central Baptist church will hold their regular monthly luncheon and business meeting at the home of Mrs. C. C. Cash, 208 Mesquite street, Tuesday at 12:30 o'clock. Mrs. H. E. Barney will serve as co-hostess. The president of the class, Mrs. R. A. Williams, urges the presence of each member.

Cooper Dramatic Club Organized
Thursday afternoon, the fifth and sixth grades of Cooper school met for the purpose of organizing a Dramatic club.
The following officers were elected: Alice Henry, president; Dorothy Henry, first vice-president; Nell Weeks, secretary; Betty Weeks, reporter; program committee, Caroline Robinson, Catherine Blair and Margaret Adkins.

Three in "Two for Tonight"

Mary Boland apparently approves the love light in the eyes of Bing Crosby and Joan Bennett in the crooner's new Paramount comedy "Two for Tonight," with five song hits, no less, Monday and Tuesday at the Arcadia Theatre. Frank Tuttle directed. Lynne Overman and Thelma Todd are in the cast.

Sponsor, Miss Rose McEver.
The club is planning many programs for the school year. Their first appearance will be Thursday morning, at Cooper school.

Proud Parents
Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Smith, Hohartz Camp, have named their new son, James Edward, who arrived at the City-County Hospital Sept. 15th. Mother and son are resting very comfortably and will be released from the hospital some time during the week after which they go to the home of Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. J. N. Snively, 303 outh Austin street.

Mrs. Houghton, Littlefield Feature Speakers at Club Program
Mrs. Carl Henlein served as house hostess to Child Study association No. 2, Thursday afternoon for the program featuring Mrs. J. B. Houghton and Mrs. Onis Littlefield as main speakers.
Mrs. Houghton spoke on "Child Management" while Mrs. Littlefield stressed the high points carrying the subject, "The School's Responsibility for Safety Education."

A business session was called to order and presided over by the president, Mrs. Sautle Perlstein, during which period the following persons were elected to office: Mrs. L. S. Galley, third vice-president; Mrs. Emfinger, treasurer.

The short social was climaxed with the serving of sandwiches, ice box cookies, and chilled punch to the leader of the program, Mrs. T. L. Dupree, and program representatives and Mrs. J. E. Oger, L. S. Galley, M. G. Martin, Dick Williams, Max Ohr, Weldon Webb, Emfinger, Brown, P. O. Hatley, Odelle Cole and Sautle Perlstein.

Illinois Pipeline Safety Club Holds Interesting Meeting
Mrs. R. E. Rieby opened her hospitable new home, Eastland highway, to member of the newly organized Illinois Pipeline Safety club, Thursday afternoon with the hour bringing forth a very worthwhile topic featuring "Safety First."

General plans were made together with the naming of Mrs. W. F. Haney, next hostess, Nov. 14, at her home, Illinois camp, Eastland highway, at which time the subject will be "Thrift."

The club so to speak is now pioneering and all members are enthusiastic over the organization and are eagerly looking forward to the time more work in study is finished and they may branch out into a deeper part of the course of study.

You've Heard Them Over Radio. See Them at the Recreation Building, Oct. 2.
WFAA, Dallas, presents their "Early Birds" special musical revue in Ranger at the Recreation building, Oct. 2, followed with a dance at the American Legion hall, from 10 until 1 o'clock.
This unusual feature is under the auspices of the American Legion Carl Barnes Post No. 69, and promises to be a real entertainment. Singers, tap dancers, and specialty acts make up the program of what gives hint as being one of the outstanding attractions brought to Ranger in several years.

More, much more, about this attraction will be found in this paper and other means of public mention.

Just a Bit Personal
Miss Mildred Bradley of Dallas is in town for the week-end, visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. G. J. Moore and husband,

Garbo, Frederic March In Film Of Rare Beauty

Greta Garbo's twentieth picture for the American public, "Anna Karenina," which opened yesterday at the Arcadia theatre, can safely be acclaimed her greatest picture.

For this, which also serves as her Tenth Anniversary picture, Garbo has been surrounded by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer with her finest supporting cast, her most superb settings and a story, one of the world's greatest, that has been transferred faithfully from Leo Tolstoy's dramatic classic to the screen.

As Count Vronsky, the dashing young Russian officer who wins Garbo's love and tears her away from her husband (Basil Rathbone) and her little son (Freddie Bartholomew), Frederic March turns in one of his finest performances.

As Karenin, the husband, Rathbone repeats his fine performance of Murdstone in "David Copperfield," which brought him to the forefront of featured players.

Others in the cast who win honorable mention are Maureen O'Sullivan, May Robson, Reginald Owen, Phoebe Foster, Gyles Isham, Corn Sue Collins and Reginald Denny.

Petroleum company.
Mrs. W. R. (Bill) Clardy bid good-bye to friends Friday morning before journeying to the Kilgore, where she joins her husband who has established a business and home there. Mrs. Clardy was active in civic work and was a valued member of the Central Baptist church.

Mrs. H. V. Davenport and little son, H. V. Jr., and Mrs. Davenport's sister, Mrs. Ethel Williams, spent Friday in Fort Worth, where the day was pleasantly spent visiting.

Ladies' Auxiliary, Monday, 3 p. m., at Mrs. Bragg's, near Tiffin. Bible study, led by the pastor.

If you seek a competence at the expense of your soul, "What shall it profit a man?" If you seek reputation without character, you are doomed to failure. If you seek pleasure and forego the choicest values of life—it is far too costly. If you seek to exalt yourself unduly, you will be disappointed. If you seek Christ and His life, He will be a constant companion, helper and friend. If you are seeking a congenial church home, you may find it here. Try it today.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH
H. B. Johnson, Pastor
Sunday school, 10 a. m., with Gordon Mackernery, superintendent. Had the largest attendance last Sunday for a good while and we are anxious to make it larger this morning.
Every member of the Golden Rule Bible Class is urged to be present this morning as there are plans for future work to be considered.

Preaching, by the pastor, 11 a. m. Subject, "Prayer or Program—Which?"
Communion at close of sermon and invitation.
Christian Endeavor will meet at 6:45 p. m., with the president in charge.
Preaching, by the pastor, 7:45 p. m. Subject, "Service."
The Adolphian Study Club will meet Monday afternoon with Mrs. Carl Clossner, just off the Eastland highway. All members are urged to be present.
We had a splendid day last Sunday, and those who were not present were missed. Come and take your place in the church.

CHURCH OF CHRIST
Classes meet promptly at 10 o'clock. There is a place for you.
Preaching, 11 a. m. Subject, "A Glimpse of the Church at Work." Acts, fourth chapter. Each member of the church should be present for this lesson.
Communion services, 11:45.
Preaching, 8 p. m. Subject, "The Issues of Life." An interesting lesson for this period. Bring your friends and let us enjoy a study of God's word.
Communion services, 8:45.
Ladies' Bible Class, Monday afternoon, 3 to 4 o'clock. We continue a study of the Book of Ephesians at this time. Visitors are always welcome.
Officers' meeting, Monday evening, 7:30.

Wednesday evening Bible study and song drill at 8 o'clock. Lesson for this time will be first chapter of First Peter. Bible questions answered.
