Sheriff Orders Marble Machines Must Go

OCTOBER 31 SET AS LAST REMOVAL DAY

Arrest, Confiscation of the Machines for Failure to Comply States Virge Foster.

Operation of marble machines must cease by Nov. 1, was the order of Sheriff Virge Foster, who Friday with deputies notified operators and proprietors of stores where they were located.

With a definite ruling on status of the marble machines, Sheriff Foster places notices in newspapers calling attention to the "request," stating those refusing to comply would be fined on, arrested and machines confiscated.

Heretofore, the county sheriff's department had taken no steps on removal of the machines. Conflicting orders from state officials was given by a deputy several months ago as responsible for non-interference and no action.

The sheriff's notice was made following a ruling of the Tenth Court of Civil Appeals at Waco that marble machines are gambling devices.

It was reported that the Waco court did not differentiate on the machines being games of skill or chance, but held all tables illegal.

The sheriff's notice: "Those operating marble machines in Eastland county are hereby notified that the higher courts of the State of Texas have ruled that the operation of such machines are in violation of the law.

"This is to notify the operators of such machines that same must cease on or before November 1st, 1935. Those failing or refusing to comply with their request will be fined on and arrested and the machines confiscated."

All Marble Tables Being Removed From Brownwood

BROWNWOOD, Oct. 25.—Marble tables are a memory in Brownwood this morning, according to county officers. A tour was made early today of several places which have been operating a number of machines and all were found to be either locked or removed. Operators have taken machines into storage or transferred them to other places. In some business firms they have not been removed, awaiting arrival of out-of-town owners.

Roy Renfro, Coleman, owner of the Square Deal Novelty company, told County Attorney Connor late Tuesday that he planned to remove all his machines. He also said he was trading his marble tables for vending machines and music machines.

Mr. Scott said Renfro told him he appreciated the attitude taken by county and district officers and after having read the opinions of the higher courts was in accord with the ruling of the county officials. He said he did not plan a case from this county because of the fact that there are a number of these cases now going to the higher courts and one here would be an added expense.

Other owners and operators of Brownwood have followed Mr. Renfro's lead and removed their tables. One operator, Mr. Scott said, had been threatening a test case but so far as he knew no steps had been taken.

"If we find any tables in operation anywhere in the county, we are going to take the necessary legal steps to confiscate the tables and arrest the owners and operators under the gambling statute," Mr. Scott said. He also said he did not anticipate trouble from any operator.

Lions Club Has a Short Program at Meeting Thursday

Though Thursday was scheduled as Old Monarch Day at the Lions Club, two of the members who were to receive recognition were out of town on business and the program was postponed until Thursday of next week.

The majority of the time allotted to the program was taken up with reports of various committees and in discussion of plans for the next few months.

T. C. Dickson of Fort Worth, in the equipment department of the Magnolia Petroleum Company, and H. H. Pugh of Dallas, in the construction department of the same company, were visitors at the meeting and both made short talks before the assembly.

BULLDOGS AND FANS TO HAVE REAL WET DAY

A special train, bearing about 275 fans, members of the band, pep squad and high school football team, got off this morning in a steady downpour of rain, bound for Abilene, where the Ranger Bulldogs and the Abilene Eagles were to begin their annual football clash promptly at 3 o'clock.

Reports from Abilene indicate that the weather there is an exact duplication of that experienced in Ranger for the past few days, so the field was wet and the weather disagreeable, from a spectator's viewpoint.

The Eagles are out for revenge, having lost the last three games to the Bulldogs, a record of wins that has not been equaled in the history of Abilene High School's football career.

Not since 1931, when the Abilene Eagles went to the state championship, have the Eagles been able to defeat the Bulldogs and in 1933 a tradition that Ranger never won in Abilene was blasted. In 1931 the state championship Eagles won by a score of 14 to 0, in 1932 the Bulldogs won by a score of 20 to 0, in 1933 at Abilene the score was 7 to 6, but Ranger had to forfeit to Abilene because of ineligibility, and in 1934 the Bulldogs were victors by a score of 23 to 7, the Eagles scoring first, but the Bulldog defense tightened and the offense getting under way in a big way.

Village to Fill Office Vacant For 30 Years

RAWSON, O.—This village of 42 is going to elect a street commissioner this fall for the first time in 30 years.

Under an ordinance passed in 1887, the village council created the elective office with a salary of $15 annually. Darius Huffman, a leading Democrat, discovered the old ordinance and thought it best to elect such an official.

A. H. Smith, the Democratic candidate, has paid his 8-cent filing fee. Republicans are reported ready to enter a candidate.

Quarter Million Birthday Gift

If you wonder what has ever happened to Jackie Coogan, the baby star who made such a hit as "The Kid" with Charlie Chaplin, stop worrying. He's going to be 21 on Oct. 25 and as a birthday gift he's due to get one-fourth of the $1,000,000 trust fund which his parents wisely had salted away for him. He'll get another $250,000 when he's 25, and the rest when he's 30.

OFFICERS SAY PIERSON IS NOT INSANE

AUSTIN, Oct. 25.—Three county officials who have been associated with Howard Pierson in the six months he has been in jail since killing his parents, testified he is sane and knows right from wrong.

The witnesses at his sanity hearing are Dr. W. P. Smartt, county health officer; Rev. George Green, jail chaplain, and Sam Rogers, deputy sheriff, who has quarters in the jail.

Dr. Smartt said he has seen Howard five times a week and talked to him frequently. He said young Pierson talks like a normal person. He did not qualify as an expert in mental diseases.

Deputy Rogers, who has sat beside Howard every day in the hearing, said the boy acts like all other prisoners and he believes he is capable of making his own defense for murder.

OMNIBUS TAX BILL FAVORED IN THE HOUSE

AUSTIN, Oct. 25.—The omnibus tax bill won a preliminary skirmish today over "single-shot" taxes in the Texas legislature.

An attempt to postpone consideration of the omnibus bill until Friday was tabled by a vote of 102 to 20.

The omnibus bill also survived a parliamentary attack when Speaker Coke Stevenson overruled a point of order by W. H. Fox of Taylor that it was vague, indefinite, incapable of being understood and provided no means of enforcement. It was also alleged it levies occupation taxes on things that are not occupations.

Stevenson said the objections were to the substance of the bill, not to procedure, and in accordance with precedence should be left to the courts to decide.

Hot debate met the attempt to postpone the bill. One member charged the omnibus bill was favored by the lobby.

"Liar" and "damn liar" were shouted, but with qualifying "ifs" that prevented a personal clash.

Roosevelt Reports Five Million Have Been Given Work

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Presenting a cheerful picture of the new deal efforts to lessen the relief load, President Roosevelt reported last night about 5,000,000 persons had been employed since he entered office.

The nation, he said, is emerging from the "years of deep depression and even those industries which were long backward in showing signs of recovery are putting their best feet forward."

More Rain Is Due In Texas Tomorrow

Texas was due for more rain Friday and Saturday, as the thermometer continued to rise over most of the state.

Temperatures were about the same as Thursday with Amarillo still low with 34 and Galveston high with 60. Port Arthur's reading was 54 and Brownsville 56.

Rain fell in most of the state Thursday night with a few scattered showers in the central portion Friday.

Funeral Is Held For Fort Worth Invalid

FORT WORTH, Oct. 25.—Services for Miss Ida Lee Perkins, an invalid since she was 14, were held at 4 p. m. today in Ft. Worth. Burial will be in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Miss Perkins died yesterday. She had been confined to her bed for a bone ailment for 45 years. Included among survivors are a sister, Mrs. E. T. Pearce of Cisco.

Townsend Planners Meeting In Chicago

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Certain their old age pension plan is the "sole and only hope of a confused and distracted nation" more than 6000 delegates to the Townsend convention settled down to debate.

Langer Again To Face Trial

Storm center of North Dakota's stormy politics for the last 10 years, ex-Gov. William Langer will go on trial in Bismarck, Oct. 29, on a charge of conspiring to collect funds for political purposes from U. S. employes. Two of his co-defendants are Frank A. Vogel, former highway chief, and Oscar A. Erickson, publisher of The Leader, Langer's political weekly.

Jimmie Jones Sues Lone Star Company For $20,000 Damage

FORT WORTH, Oct. 25.—James Jones of Ranger today asked $20,000 in damages from the Lone Star Gasoline Company of Dallas in a suit in 96th district court. Jones alleged that as a mechanic for the firm the company issued him "drip" gasoline on Oct. 30, 1933 to clean a motor.

The gasoline, more powerful than the grade he previously had used, inflamed the skin of his hand, causing permanent injury, his complaint alleged.

Central Baptist Young People to Have Halow'e'en

The Young People's Department of Central Baptist Sunday School, Mrs. H. H. Stephens, superintendent, will have a Halow'e'en social at the church Monday night at 7 o'clock. This entertainment will take in all young people of the church teaching or serving as officers in other departments of the Sunday School. A splendid evening's entertainment is being planned and this social will meet the standard of all church socials given by Central Baptist in both entertainment and fellowship. All young people of the Young People's Department will not the hour of the social and be present.

ROOSEVELT IS FAVORING NEW AAA PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—President Roosevelt today announced a two-point program to unify agricultural gains and make permanent the program of the AAA.

In a statement issued at his first press conference since returning from a three weeks cruise, he said: "As I see it, this program has two objectives.

"1. To carry out the declared policy of congress to maintain and increase the gains thus far made, thereby avoiding the danger of a slump back into the conditions brought about by our national neglect of agriculture.

"2. To broaden present adjustment operations so as to give farmers incentive for conservation and use of the nation's soil resources."

MYSTERY IN LOCKED LOCKS

BROCKTON, Mass.—Roy Gardner locked the doors of his automobile, curled up on the back seat and fell asleep. When he awoke, the doors were still locked, but his pocketbook containing $65 was gone.

GREEK TROOPS SAIL TO HALT A REBELLION

ATHENS, Oct. 25.—Two thousand troops and three warships were speeding to Crete, south of the Greek mainland today, to crush a republican revolution against the proposed restoration of King George II.

Four hundred republican leaders were arrested in raids here, including the head of the new republican party.

Nearly 30,000 armed independents and republicans were reported in the revolting force in Crete and it was feared the uprising might spread to the mainland.

Feeling is better on the proposed restoration of George II and republicans and liberals intend to boycott the plebiscite to be held Nov. 3 on the question of asking George to return to the throne from which he was ousted in 1922.

The revolt in Crete took the government by surprise, apparently. The army is to take the oath of allegiance to George tomorrow and the day proclaimed a national holiday in commemoration of the capture of Thessalonica from the Turks in 1912.

Rising Star Man's Funeral Is Held

BUFFALO GAP, Oct. 25.—Funeral for M. G. Skinner, 68, former resident of Buffalo Gap, was held in Rising Star, where he had lived for several years.

Survivors are Mrs. Skinner; four children, W. T. Skinner and Mrs. Ione Mastings of Buffalo Gap, Averill and Malcolm Skinner of Rising Star; a brother, Frank Skinner of Lubbock; five grandchildren; a niece, Mrs. Marvin Morrow of Abilene, and two nephews, Albert and Ray Skinner of Carbon.

Corn-Hog Vote Is Due Saturday

Eastland county's corn-hog producers will vote Saturday on continuance of the program.

County Agent C. Metz Heald Friday stated the polls would open at 8 a. m. and close at 5 p. m. Results of the vote will be relayed to the agent's office that afternoon.

Polling places and committees in charge: Ranger—Chamber of Commerce, Dick Weeks.

Rising Star—Higginbotham's Store, Willie Cooper.

Carbon—Carbon Trading Company, Ned Morris.

Eastland—County agent's office, Ray Norris.

Gorman—Higginbotham's Store, Wayne White.

Cisco—Chamber of Commerce, Roy O'Brien.

Jockey Faces Murder Quiz

Police questioning in the brutal murder of Mrs. Evelyn Sliwinski, pretty wife of a Louisville, Ky., tailor, faced Willie "Smookey" Saunders, 20, above, noted jockey who rode Omaha to victory in the 1935 Kentucky Derby, after he had been tentatively identified as a member of the party involved in the Louisville tragedy. Mrs. Sliwinski was brutally beaten and run over with an auto.

MUSSOLINI IS MAKING BIDS FOR NEW PEACE

If reports from Paris are correct Mussolini has presented France and England a proposal for settling the Ethiopian conflict so another stage for averting war in Europe may be reached in a few days, it is expected, Britain turns him down.

The indications from London were that Britain's stern attitude has not changed and she will reject anything Mussolini is likely to propose.

Secrecy was maintained in Paris as to the nature of the proposals, though various versions, from the inside have been circulated. It seems logical they would entail greater demands for Italian control in Ethiopia than Britain would grant.

There probably will be something definite before Thursday, when the league meets to set the date for penalties against Italy.

After that events will move more rapidly. Much depends on the success of the first Italian drive, expected Monday.

If the Italians rout the Ethiopians and show signs they may subdue the country quickly, strong action is probable.

Widow of Dutch Schultz Denies She Knew of a Plot

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—A 21-year-old girl avowed again and again today that she knew nothing of her husband's death.

Her husband was Arthur (Dutch) Schultz, one of the most ruthless, successful and powerful of the prohibition era criminals.

She was held because she visited Schultz less than an hour before gunmen mowed down the gangster and three lieutenants Thursday night. Bernard Rosenkrantz, one of the men closest to the leader, died early today. Schultz, Leo Frank and Otto Burman succumbed earlier.

Bank's Asset Sale Approved by Court

Approval and confirmation of sale of promissory notes which totaled $399,74 to H. C. Davis from Irvin McCreary, banking commissioner and liquidator of the Texas State Bank, was given this week by 88th District Court.

DISTRICT WORK OFFICIALS MAKE PLANS FRIDAY

Gorman-Desdemona Job To Start Monday, Eastland Street Job Tuesday.

Start of first of work progress administration projects in Eastland county was announced Friday by district officials from Abilene at Eastland Friday.

R. C. Hope, supervisor of projects and plans, conferring with Eastland county and city officials, announced work on rebuilding of the Gorman to Desdemona road would begin Monday morning.

Hope informed J. F. Little, city manager of Eastland, that graveling of Eastland streets—a project estimated to cost $28,000—would start Tuesday morning.

Repair of the Cisco West Ward school will begin Wednesday, Hope stated.

"We've given out a lot of propaganda," Crigger Paschall, director of the National Reemployment Service, which handles employment on the projects, joked, "but now actual work is going to start.

Paschall was interviewing applicants for jobs on the Gorman-Desdemona job Friday. The project, which will start Monday will offer employment for 36 laborers and four truckmen.

A. F. Taylor of the county engineer's office stated the estimated cost of the project was $3,600 and would provide 82 man months of labor.

"It will be glad to interview Monday all eligible workers for the Eastland job," the national reemployment service director stated. The NRES office is in the basement of the courthouse at Eastland.

The Eastland street graveling job to start Tuesday, will provide 633 man months of work. Eighteen will be employed for a period of seven months. Eighty will be used as laborers and nine as truckmen.

The three Eastland county projects mark the first to start other than an emergency project at Sweetwater, Hope stated.

Other district WPA officials arranging for start of the projects in Eastland Friday were Q. Henning, assistant supervisor, and A. L. Burden, auditor.

Black Hand Or Racketeers Blamed In Officer's Death

GARY, Ind. Oct. 25.—Gambling racketeers or black handers were held responsible today for the slaying of Dan Perrotta, "boy alderman" of Gary, whose bullet-riddled body was found in a ditch near here.

The 28-year-old alderman, the youngest in city history, had led a fight against vice resorts, gambling houses and taverns. Several groups of racketeers had been reported fighting for control of policy rackets.

The possible black hand motive was supplied by a policeman who said Perrotta had received threats and was in "a bad spot."

Japan Is Selling Goods to the U.S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Japan is selling the United States a record breaking amount of piece goods despite recent campaigns to curtail Oriental import, commerce department statistics revealed today.

At the same time Japan has reduced its purchases of raw cotton to such an extent the balance of trade practically is on an even keel for the first time in two years.

During the first nine months the United States imported $27,239,000 square yards of piece goods, valued at $1,320,000, as compared with 7,287,000 square yards at $365,000 for the entire year of 1934.

Her schoolmates and friends are interested in a complete recovery. Though her health keeps her closely confined, she is only abed a part of the time.

Displaying Some Tall Roping

New York seems to have given Chick Byers, of Texas, world's trick and fancy roping champion, a chance to get his teeth into some real roping. Apparently, Cowboy Byers is about to rope the Empire State building. But it's only an illusion; Al Smith's towering structure is some 15 blocks away.

larger than the 2 per cent compensating levy, either by the federal government or other states.

The exact scope of the compensating tax has not been established. The Northern Pacific railroad asked the supreme court not to rule on the tax as it affected engines, rails, cars and other equipment used in this state and purchased in this state.

Washington's New Tax On Imported Goods Is Watched

OLYMPIA, Wash. — Approved by the state supreme court as within the bounds of interstate commerce laws, Washington's newest tax—a 2 per cent "compensating tax" on merchandise "imported" into the state to avoid the 2 per cent retail sales tax—is being watched with interest by tax authorities over the nation.

The tax was enacted by the 1935 legislature to protect cities along Washington's border which would suffer from large purchases being made from Oregon merchants instead of in Washington. To get around federal constitutional bars against taxing interstate commerce, the legislature levied the compensating tax on "the privilege of using" these purchases like automobiles and washing machines within the state.

The supreme court held the tax legal on grounds it was not a tax on interstate commerce, but on the article after it had come to rest in Washington.

The idea of such a tax was conceived by the Washington state tax commission, which asserts it is the first of its kind in the United States. Since the supreme court upheld its validity, numerous states especially those also having retail sales taxes, have begun studying the tax closely with a view of adopting it to protect their own merchants.

Welcomes Opening of New Magnolia Station

A. L. STILES

In my new station I am fully equipped with all modern conveniences for giving the motorist the very best service possible. I have been 15 years at this location but never before so well prepared to give service.

I deeply appreciate the nice business I have been favored with throughout the past and invite my friends and patrons to call on me at my new station for washing, greasing, polishing, tire repairs. Also tires and automobile accessories. I will carry a full line of Mobil products.

MR. A. N. BRADFORD

A Service Station Man of Considerable Experience, Will Be My Assistant.

FORMAL OPENING OF MODERN STATION TO BE CELEBRATED HERE SATURDAY, OCT. 26TH

A. L. Stiles, operator of the new A. L. Stiles Service Station, at the corner of Pine and Commerce streets, formal opening of which will be held on Saturday, Oct. 26, is joined by all Ranger in celebrating the completion of this new and strictly modern station.

Extra help will be on hand Saturday, including A. L. Baker, lubrication expert, who will be on hand to advise with and aid motorists in any of their lubrication problems. He will return to Ranger on Nov. 1 and 2 for the opening of the winterizing campaign, which will start on that date.

Stiles will be assisted in operating the station by A. N. Bradford, who will be assistant manager and who, like Stiles, has considerable experience in the filling station business.

Stiles has operated a service station in Ranger for 17 years, 16 years of which have been spent in the same location. At one time the station handled as much as 16,000 gallons of gasoline from one pump, a record that is hardly believable at this time.

The station handles a full line of Mobil products, including all kinds of Mobil lubrication products and gasolines, in addition to a full line of specialties, tires and accessories.

Work on the new station was started on Sept. 5, when the old station, which had become obsolete, was torn down and the work on the new structure begun. Among the features at the new station are modern and well equipped rest rooms, modern equipment for washing and greasing automobiles and many new and modern conveniences for the motoring public.

All the Mobil products used by the station are purchased through J. E. Meroney, local wholesale agent for the Magnolia Petroleum Company, who handles Mobil gasolines, oils, greases, including fuel and oil for automobiles, buses, tractors and industrial machinery, Mobil specialties, such as radiator leaner, top dressing, polish, polishing cloths and a wide variety of the famous Mobil products.

Meroney took over the wholesale agency on April 16, 1934, after serving in Ranger as postmaster for a number of years. Since being elected secretary-manager of the chamber of commerce, the agency has been in the hands of Terrell Williams, salesman and driver, who is a capable man for the position he occupies.

Cole Brown, electrician, has just completed the electrical work on the new A. L. Stiles Magnolia Service Station, which has just been erected at the corner of Pine and Commerce streets, and which is one of the most beautiful stations in Ranger.

Brown does electrical contracting of all kinds and the work on the Stiles station was completed by him in a very short time.

Satisfaction is guaranteed on every job done by Brown and examples of his work all over Ranger point to the thorough manner in which he does any job, no matter how small or how large.

BUILDING CONTRACTOR

FORT WORTH, TEXAS

I have been contracting the construction of all kinds in Texas for the past 25 years. I will be glad to give you an estimate on anything you have to build.

The new A. L. Stiles Magnolia Service Station at the corner of Pine and Commerce Streets is an example of my work.

Growth of Oil Industry Seen As Ship Arrives

BEAUMONT, Texas. — Continued growth of Texas' giant oil industry and confidence in its future were evidenced here when municipal, port and civic officials joined to celebrate the arrival in Port Beaumont of the new tanker, Magnolia, flagship of the Socony-Vacuum fleet, after completing her maiden voyage from New York. With five great tankers tied up at the Magnolia refinery docks at the same time and taking on a combined cargo of gasoline sufficient to fill the gasoline tanks of every automobile in the Southwest, the event emphasized the fact that the Texas Sabine district has become the third largest seaport in the United States.

The Magnolia, gaily dressed in bunting, was greeted by crowds along the banks and wharves as she circled the turning basin in the heart of the city before docking at the wharves of the Magnolia Petroleum Company refinery. Captain S. W. Woods, commander of the tank ship Magnolia, and commodore of the Socony-Vacuum fleet, was welcomed by Mayor F. D. Renfro, member of the city port commission; T. H. Ness, president of the Beaumont Chamber of Commerce, directors of the commercial body and other city and service club officials, who came aboard as guests of E. E. Plumly, Magnolia vice president.

"The arrival in our harbor of this great tanker to carry away its first cargo of nearly five and a half million gallons of refined petroleum products emphasizes once more the magnitude of the industry that has brought Beaumont forward as one of the leading ports in the United States," President Ness of the Chamber of Commerce, said at brief ceremonies held in the ship's cabin. "The name of the big ship, Magnolia, is practically synonymous with the name of Beaumont."

Mr. Plumly congratulated Captain Woods, the officers and crew of the Magnolia on their success-to make room for the new and modern structure.

The station, built of native stone, is one of the prettiest within many miles of Ranger and is one of which any town would be proud.

Flemming has been contracting the construction of all kinds of buildings in Texas for 25 years and has won quite a reputation as a contractor, not only in Fort Worth, but throughout the state.

Not only was the Stiles station completed on schedule, but the structure is an example of Flemming's work in which he can point with justifiable pride.

While in Ranger Flemming used only local labor, as far as possible, only two stone masons who were experienced in handling native stone work being used on the job and they were brought to Ranger after difficulty was had in locating local men for the job. In addition he took five men who worked on the erection of the station for two or three weeks work on another construction job, thereby giving them extra work.

ful voyage. "The coming of the Magnolia marks the culmination of an ambition Beaumont citizens, who 19 years ago, welcomed the tank ship Vesta, the first sea-going tanker to enter the then infant Port of Beaumont," Mr. Plumly said. "The Vesta carried away a cargo of 35,000 barrels of gasoline as contrasted with the 125,000 barrels that the new ship Magnolia will take from this wharf. The difference in the capacity of these tankers shows by comparison what the people of Beaumont and vicinity have accomplished through their efforts to improve and enlarge the port."

How Beaumont's ship channel to the sea has been deepened from 24 to 34 feet since 1916 while other port improvements have been made were discussed by Mayor Renfro, Joe Gill, Chamber of Commerce manager, John W. Fulbright of the Magnolia refinery, and others. Captain Woods responded for the crew.

Following the ceremony President Ness opened the valve on the dock permitting the Magnolia's maiden cargo of gasoline to flow into her great tanks.

Inspection of the ship revealed many new features in design and construction besides her great size. Constructed in the yards of the New York Ship Building Corporation, Camden, N. J., at a cost of $2,000,000, the Magnolia marks the completion of the largest ship building program undertaken in recent years by any American owner, a total of $5,000,000 having been spent by Socony-Vacuum for new shipping.

The Magnolia is 500 feet long and has a cargo capacity of 5,330,000 gallons. Some idea of her immense size may be gained by visualizing her dimensions as comparable to a group of three-story buildings the width of a city street and almost two blocks long. She will transport approximately the same amount of gasoline as 10 trainloads, each train comprising 65 tank cars of 8,000 gallons capacity each.

The new ship is equipped with the latest aids to navigation, including Sperry compass and pilot, radio direction finder, short and long wave radio communication, Fathometer, and numerous improved safety devices in connection with super-heated power plant for propelling machinery. Construction required 1,200,000 man hours of productive labor at the shipyard.

Carl Page Did All Plumbing on Stiles Service Station

Carl Page, local plumbing contractor, did all the plumbing work on the new A. L. Stiles Magnolia Service Station, now completed, at the corner of Pine and Commerce streets.

Included in the plumbing work done by Page was the two restrooms, the water lines for use in the filling station and wash rack, and all plumbing work of all kinds about the new station.

The plumbing, like everything else about the station, is of the best and was designed for permanent use.

All work done by Page is thoroughly guaranteed, and his experience in Ranger as a plumber and plumbing contractor makes him much in demand for this type of work.

Filling Station Materials Bought From Pickering Co.

Materials for the new A. L. Stiles Magnolia Service Station, just completed, were furnished by the Pickering Lumber Sales company of Ranger, of which Calvin Brown is the manager.

The company furnished all the materials used in building the station, with the exception of the native rock used on the exterior of the walls.

The Pickering Lumber Sales company can furnish estimates, on comparatively short notice, for any kind of structure to be built in Ranger or the surrounding territory.

Prompt and courteous service is always available at the Pickering Lumber Sales company and the business of the entire community, when in need of building materials, is earnestly solicited.

States Begin to Unite Against Criminals

One of the little oddities of present-day life is the fact that the individual states and cities are moaning low over the trend toward a centralized government, and simultaneously are turning more and more of the local crime prevention and detection work over to the federal government.

Centralization of police work seems too to be an inescapable trend, and it is coming upon us because criminals are no longer living in the horse and buggy age. When a New York gang can import a killer from Chicago or Detroit to do a job in Brooklyn and can get him back to his own precinct before the police discover the body of the victim, the obsolescence of our old system of police work becomes too obvious to need much comment.

So far, we have left it to the federal government to provide a semblance of unification and co-operation in this situation. This has its drawbacks. The federal men could not jail Capone, for instance, until he forgot to pay his income tax; they could not go after so notorious a murderer as Dillinger until he took a stolen auto across a state line.

However, there are signs that a new deal in law enforcement is at hand. Delegates from 30 states met in Trenton, N. J., not long ago in an interstate crime conference called by Gov. Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey; and they set up an interstate commission which is to try to work out some means of co-ordinating local police work all across the country.

Among the goals of this commission are methods of legalizing the pursuit of thugs across state borders, of returning key witnesses who have fled the jurisdiction of local courts, of supervising paroled prisoners who have likewise gone into other states, and of returning fugitives without the present involved extradition procedure.

A program of this kind ought to be a healthy step in the right direction. It is pure folly for us to go on depending on local police and sheriffs' forces to cope with criminals who can slip from one state to another without hindrance; and the federal government cannot, in the very nature of things, fill the gap completely.

There must be detailed, organized co-operation between all the local units of detection and prosecution. The New Jersey conference seems to have discovered a way in which this can be brought about. It is to be hoped that the conferees make all speed to present the states with a far reaching program.

PIGSKIN POINTERS COACH ROOSE HOW TO PLAY TACKLE

GIVE any coach a good, big pair of tackles and he can build a football team. The tackle is a shock-absorber on defense and an irresistible force on offense. He must be able to cover ground in a hurry, hit a ball carrier with nerve-shocking force, and knife through an opposing wall. The tackle's stance on offense is with the legs coiled under and fairly well apart, the toe of the inside foot being on a line with the other's heel. Head is back and tail low. On defense, he sits down fairly low, with the inside leg slightly advanced. On straight-ahead plays, the tackle charges powerfully; on quick-opening plays he uses the zig-zag steps. Against a normal offense he should play on the outside shoulder of the end. Rush passes and punts at all time. HOW TO PLAY END.

The GOLDEN FEATHER

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JEAN DUNN, secretary to DON and MARY ANN, lawyer, delays her answer when Bobby Wallace, automobile salesman, asks Jean to marry him.

At the Golden Feather club she meets a SHIRLEY BRADY, who is a business proposition to marry. Bobby introduces Bobby to Jean. Bobby promises to sell some bonds for Jean. He tells about a friend of Jean's parents, trying to locate WINGY LEVIN, bank robber. Larry invites some other bonds and questions about WINGY LEVIN, Bobby about them. Bobby confuses her about the bonds. From Donald, Bobby's valet, Jean learns he bought them from Bobby.

Larry talks to Bobby, learns Bobby bought a car recently and suggests it is a good one. Jean goes to Lewis' hotel, but he and his wife have disappeared.

As a joke, Larry takes Jean's intercepts. The general with Bobby says Sandy Jones is out for a vacation visit to her home in a few days before she had told police Sandy was with her at the time of a robbery. Jean suddenly realizes this was not true.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXII

JEAN DUNN returned to her parents' home in the little town of Maplehurst in a dazed confusion of mind.

The sudden realization which had come to her on the train—the discovery that she had made a mistake when she told the police that Sandy had been with her on the afternoon of the robbery—disturbed her deeply. It meant, of course, that what she had supposed to be clear proof of Sandy's absence in someone had fallen completely. It meant, furthermore, that he himself had knowingly persuaded her to testify to something that was not true.

It was Sandy she remembered, who had led her to believe that that canoe trip of theirs had taken place on Friday, not on Thursday. What had he said? Something to the effect that he was sure of the date because Eric Lewis had had a birthday party that night. Jean remembered that she had paved the way for his little trick by asking him what day of the week they had not how easy she had made it for him?

No matter how much she studied the whole business over in her mind, Jean could not come to any definite conclusion about it. At the moment she would be thinking of Sandy, like herself, was simply the victim of an honest mistake; at another she would feel that he had willfully deceived her, which, of course, must mean that he was not at all the sort of chap she had thought him to be.

AND yet, although this mental turmoil stayed with her through the rest of her train trip, she found, after a day or so, that it was losing its power to bother her.

Maplehurst was a long way from Dover. When Jean walked along the quiet, maple-shaded streets of the little town, or sat in the living room with her father and mother, or stopped to chat with this or that old acquaintance of her younger days, it was hard to believe that anything that happened in Dover mattered so very much after all.

Maplehurst was not a large place; the bank of which her father was president was only three blocks from the old-fashioned, white-pillared house that had been the Dunn home for two generations. Jean fell into a habit she had acquired during her college vacation days; she would stroll down to the bank, along toward noon, go into her father's office and wait for him to finish his morning's work so that she could take him home for lunch.

She was sitting on the corner of his desk on the morning of her third day in Maplehurst, waiting for him to complete a telephone call, when she chanced to notice through the open doorway that some workmen were being very busy in the lobby of the bank.

"Dad," she said, when he hung up the receiver, "what are those men doing out there?"

Mr. Dunn peeked out the door and leaned back in his chair complacently.

"Tear gas," he said briefly. "It's a new form of insurance against bank robbers."

"Tear gas?" she repeated. "How do you mean?"

He pushed back his chair and got up.

"Come on in," he said, "and I'll show you."

THEY walked across the lobby, went through an iron grill and into the cashier's cage. Mr. Hobart, the cashier, bowed when Jean entered, struck his lean chin, and said to Mr. Dunn, "Well, they're almost finished."

"See?" said Mr. Dunn. "Under the counter there are three little cylinders—see them? There's tear gas in them, under pressure, with concealed outlets on the lobby side of the counter. Now you see where that man is installing that button effect in the floor?"

He pointed, and Jean nodded. The worker looked up and grinned.

"That," said her father, "is what touches them off. Step on that, and the lobby'd be full of tear gas in 10 seconds. Now then, suppose this Jackson gang pays us a visit. They come up to the wicket, here, and point a gun at Mr. Hobart and tell him to put up his hands. He obeys, of course; but as he does so he reaches out with his foot—which they can't see him do, because he's only visible from the water up to anyone on that side of the counter—he reaches out and touches that button. Whoof! Out comes the tear gas, and there's nothing for the bandits to do but run. Neat, isn't it?"

She looked at the contrivance, wide-eyed.

"But you've never had any robbers down here," she said.

"That doesn't mean we never will have any, though," he said. "People like these Jackson gangsters seem to specialize in robbing small-town banks. And we have to be especially careful because of the pottery plant payroll."

Six miles away there was a large factory, devoted to the manufacture of almost everything in the earthenware line from tiny flower vases up to great sections of sewer pipe in which a man could stand upright. A sprawling, slatternly town surrounded it and housed its workers; but the factory banked in Maplehurst, because one of its directors was a leading stockholder in the Maplehurst bank, and every other Saturday an armored car came over to Maplehurst, just before noon, and got the factory payroll.

"I'll feel better, with this tear gas installation in in there for this coming Saturday," said her father, as they left the cage and started off for home. "I've really been nervous, lately, thinking how unprotected we are down here. But a puff of that tear gas is stronger than any gangster's automatic. We're safe now."

They walked slowly home through the pleasant warmth of early summer, and after lunch Jean walked back to the bank with her father, her hand slipped through his arm, chatting aimlessly and affectionately. When he went into the bank again she started leisurely down the street, planning to stop in at a little confectionary shop just beyond the Palace Hotel and visit with the little old lady who had once been her Sunday School teacher.

As she crossed the street and approached the hotel, she saw a man standing on its old-fashioned, small-towish wooden veranda. She gave a little start, and to her surprise, she saw something familiar about the set of those shoulders and the way he cupped his hands about a match to light a cigarette. As she drew near the man turned and faced her. He looked at her in surprise, and then hurried to meet her. Sandy!

The old throbs of excitement that the mere sight of him seemed to arouse jarred her nerves since more

"Told you I was going to drop in and look you up didn't I?" said Sandy. "I keep my promises and I waste no time. Where are you going now?"

"Why—why, nowhere special," said Jean. "I was just—"

"Fine," said Sandy, taking her arm and swinging into step beside her. "We'll take a little walk, and you can show me the streets. I just got in. Drive through this part of the state and I remembered this was your town, so I checked in at the hotel, and here I am."

They went down the street, past the brief business district and the little red railroad station, and entered the rather unkempt park which Maplehurst maintained on the bank of the sluggish river, which loomed itself about the west side of the town. Sandy maintained a steady fire of small talk and it was not until they had sat down on an iron bench overlooking the river that she suddenly remembered the thing that had been bothering her.

"Sandy," she said, putting a hand on his wrist and looking up at him soberly. "I want you to explain something to me."

"Yeah?" He looked down, saw how serious she was, and became equally serious himself. "What is it?"

"That—that day we went to the police station—remember? I said we'd been out canoeing on the Friday before when that—that robbery happened. Well, I got to thinking about that on the train coming down here, and I remembered something. I remembered that it wasn't Friday when we went canoeing. It was Thursday."

She looked up at him earnestly. His eyes met hers, unwavering.

"You told me it was Friday," she said, trying to be severe, but succeeding only in being rather girlishly pathetic. "You know it wasn't, Sandy—I know you did. But you made me tell it was. Sandy, you've just got to explain it."

U. S. Prohibits Any Camera Shots In Her Mail Rooms

WASHINGTON. — Elaborate preparations of gangsters for a supposed post office robbery have led to a ban on photographs of post office workrooms, the post office department announced.

Five men recently requested officials of a second class post office where large sums of money are handled for permission to photograph the workroom. The men said they were permitted to photograph four out of five offices they visited.

Later the five were arrested by police and identified as members of a well known gang. Post office authorities, in issuing the warning, said that "no doubt they intended to burglarize the post office when conditions were such that they were sure they could obtain a large sum of money."

No photographs of post office workrooms may now be made without permission from the Post Office Department here.

WHAT HAS THIS DINOSAUR TO DO WITH MOTOR OIL ?

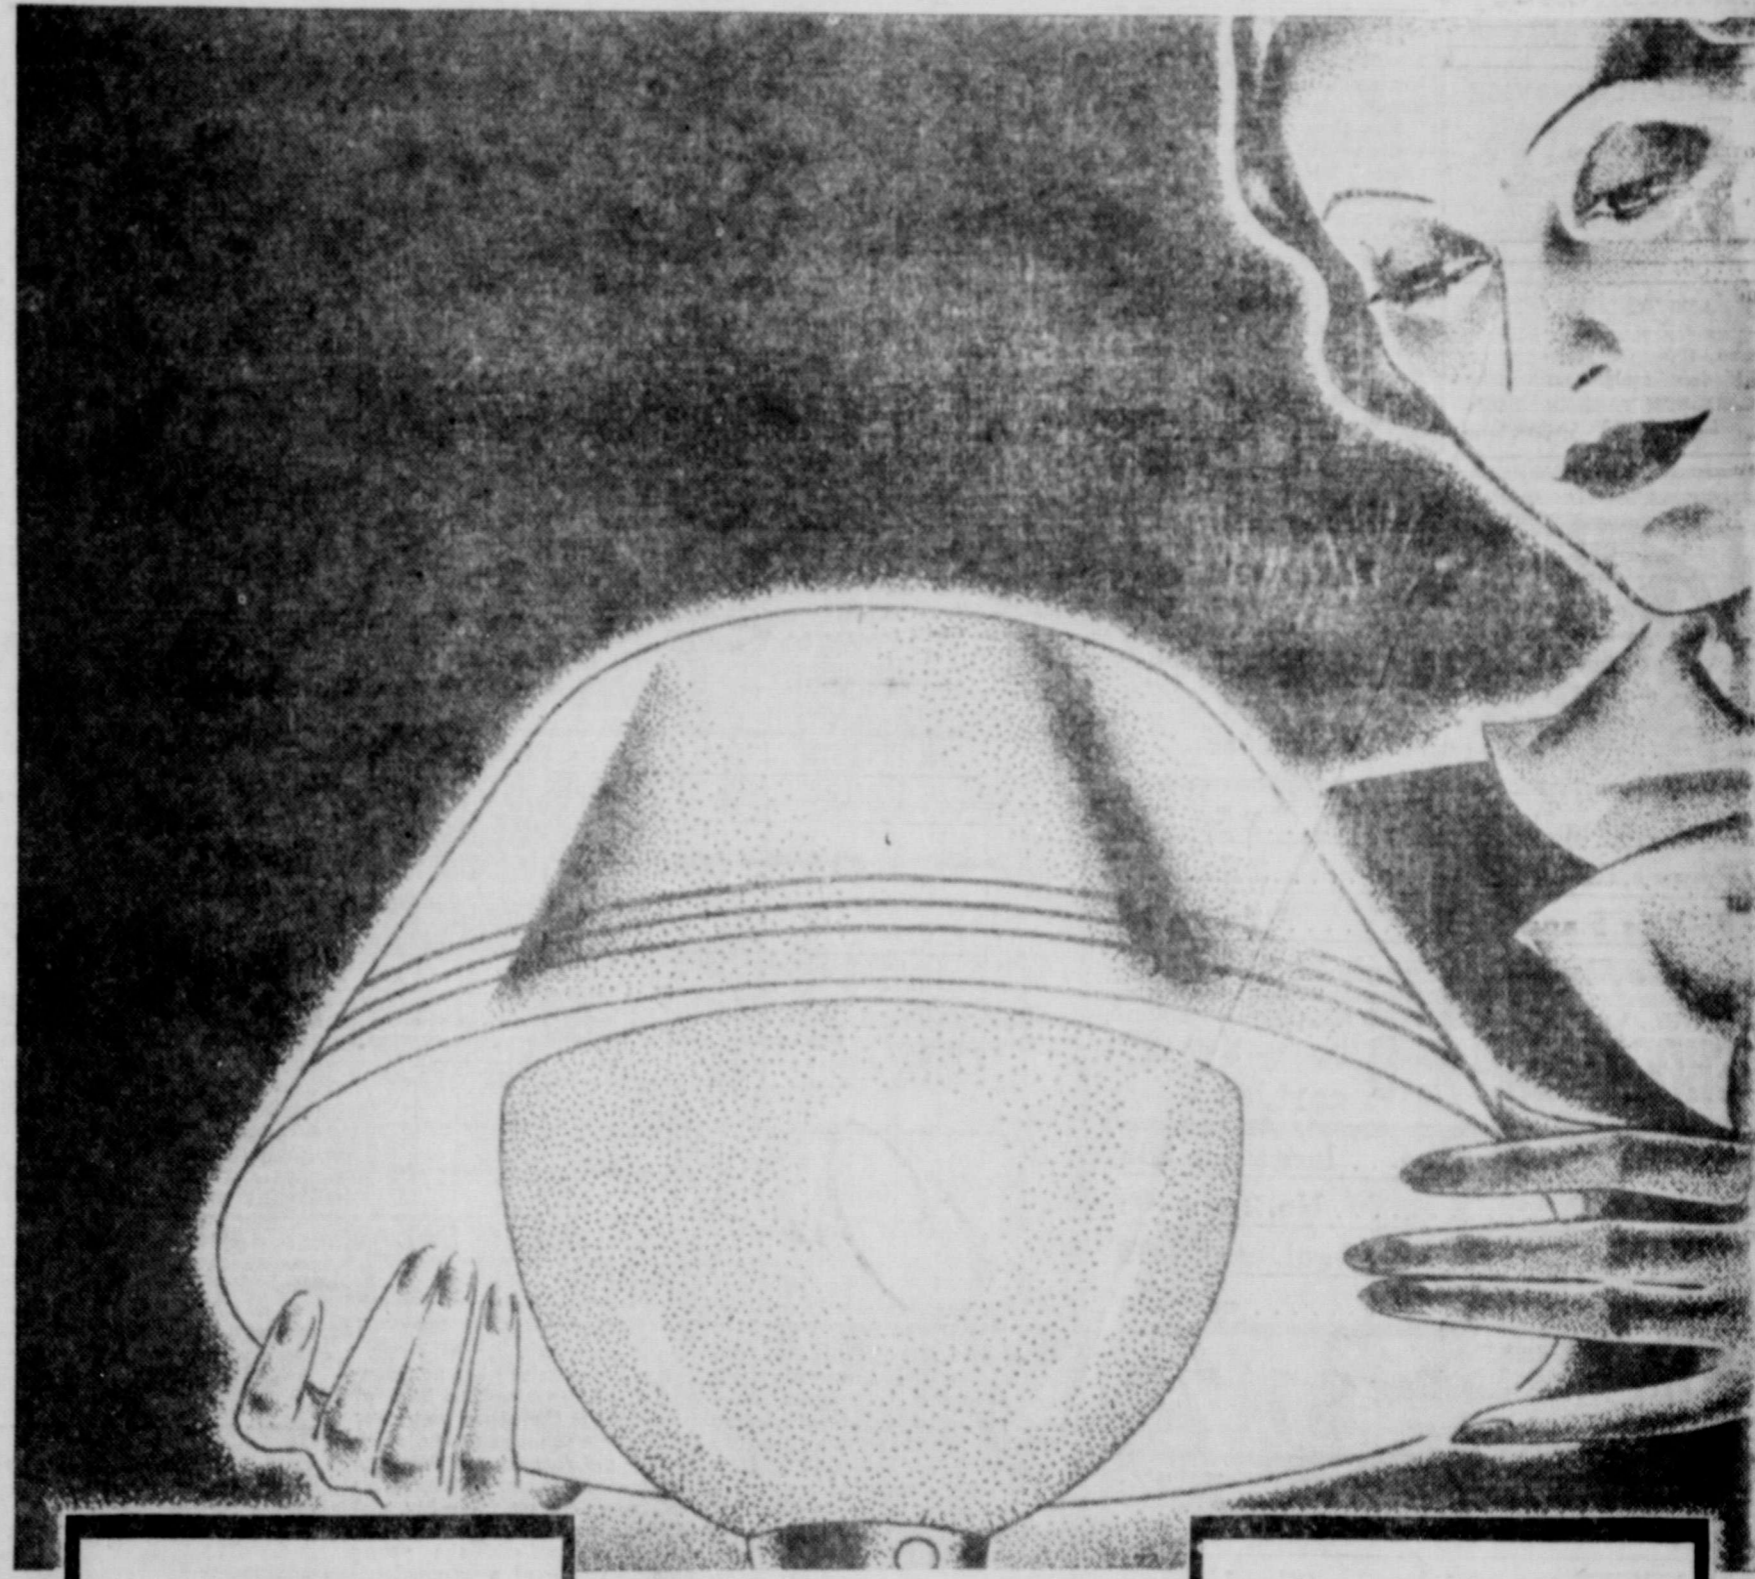

The Sinclair dinosaurs symbolize the vast age of the crude oils refined into Sinclair Opaline and Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oils. Generally speaking, the longer a crude oil has mellowed and filtered in the earth, the tougher the lubricating film it will produce.

Sinclair Opaline and Sinclair Pennsylvania each give a lubricating film capable of withstanding a pressure of more than 3 tons per square inch—extra protection for every moving part of your car engine.

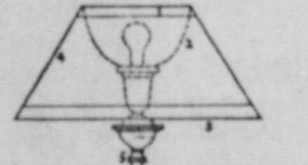

Look for the dinosaur on the Tamper-Proof cans in which Sinclair Opaline and Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oils are sold.

Claudette Colbert Comes to Arcadia Saturday

"SHE MARRIED HER BOSS"
ONE OF BEST PICTURES OF
ACADEMY AWARD WINNER

Everyone has been waiting to see the inimitable Claudette Colbert do another picture of the same type as "It Happened One Night," which not only won her the official tag of "the best actress of 1934" but also brought high honors to the director, the scenarist, the co-star and the producer.

Since making that immortal film, Miss Colbert has not been with Columbia, the company that produced it. But recently she returned to that studio to star in another light comedy, "She Married Her Boss," which finds its way to the Arcadia Theatre on Saturday.

True, Miss Colbert has appeared in dramatic successes in the interim, "Imitation of Life," and "Private Worlds," but she enjoys comedy a great deal and so enables her audiences to enjoy it with her. Gregory LaCava, who directed

Miss Colbert in "Private Worlds" her last big success, worked with her again on "She Married Her Boss."

The theme of her new picture easily lends itself to buoyancy and charm. Miss Colbert is seen as a painfully efficient private secretary to a young man with bad digestion and a memory of a recent marital experience that turned sour. Melvyn Douglas is the bitter boss. But while Miss Colbert sympathizes with his dyspepsia she is rather impatient with his views on marriage, for she finds herself in love with him.

According to the story of the origin of the oracle, its site was discovered by a goatherder, who found his herd crying and prancing wildly about a chasm from which issued a stream of intoxicating air. This cavern has disappeared in modern times, or else never existed.

Many archeologists today hold to the last theory, despite records left by the ancient geographer Strabo and the Greeks themselves. Some, on the other hand, believe it was filled in with debris after the temple connected with it was demolished, toward the end of the fourth century. Another theory has it that the cavern was closed by an earthquake.

Score of travelers visiting Delphi to see the ruins continue to search for the chasm, basing their hopes on ancient writings about the procedures before the oracle gave its prophecies. According to these records, the priestess in charge did not prophesy until she had breathed the air of the chasm and become intoxicated by it. A priest then took down her words, later putting them into verse. Thus the message of the oracle was given out.

Queer Will Filed In Dallas Court

By United Press
DALLAS.—A holographic will, written on the back of an envelope, was filed for probate here recently.

The will disposed of the estate of Mrs. Geneva Kent-Bell, valued at $17,500. Probate Clerk Fred Patrick said the most unusual will ever filed here was written on the margin of a leaf in a song book.

Lumbermen Will Meet at Houston

By United Press
COMMERCE, Tex. — Lumbermen of this city will be hosts to the district meeting of lumbermen Nov. 9. Included in the district are Hunt, Fannin, Lamar, Red River, Delta and Hopkins counties. Elaborate plans for the day's entertainment are being made.

New Faces On Elks Wrestling Program

The Elks matchmaker has succeeded in getting some new faces for the wrestling bouts for Monday night's program.

The main event will see Sam Anderson, the tough Dutchman from San Antonio. Anderson is a newcomer in Ranger and comes recommended as a tough hombre. He has been meeting all comers in San Antonio and South Texas and has a string of victories to his credit. Anderson will be pitted against Owen Davis, the University of Texas star. Davis is the lad who made Pat Swanson extend himself to win the match opening night.

The opening match introduces another newcomer in Mickey Sullivan of New York. Sullivan has been winning matches in Kansas City and Oklahoma and is now trying his luck in Texas. Sullivan also comes recommended as being capable of taking care of himself against any middleweight. Sullivan takes on Tommy Kaiser, the rough and ready mixer of ring tactics, legal and illegal. These two bouts should furnish plenty of action. The show starts at 8:30 p. m., rain or shine.

tan department store, is in a sad state of affairs. A neurotic sister and a spoiled, precocious nine-year-old daughter do everything in their power to make his life miserable. The household itself is thoroughly demoralized.

Then again, he suspects that his secretary, whom he just can't do without, has been receiving generous overtures from other firms. So he decides it would be a good idea to marry her. But the secretary has no intention of being majordomo both at home and at the office, and gives up business for domesticity, much to the boss' chagrin. In time, of course, the secretary divines his real reason for marrying her, and then the fur begins to fly.

Michael Bartlett, the young man who enjoyed a personal triumph in Grace Moore's last picture, "Love Me Forever," is seen as a playboy-business man who tries to make Miss Colbert forget her woes.

Delphi Oracle Is Still Deep Riddle

SOME areas of the earth's surface go for years without getting enough rainfall to measure, while other sections get several hundred inches annually. About 55 per cent of the earth gets less than 20 inches. In Assam, India, 67 feet of rain fell in a single year.

Lowell Thursday afternoon to the funeral of W. M. White. Mrs. Mattie Henry drove over to Gorman on business Saturday morning.

Mrs. W. E. Barron attended the Methodist Missionary society at Gorman Monday. Her subject on the program was "Methodists at Work in Latin America."

Mrs. J. E. Derrick and her daughter, Mrs. Style McEntire and baby, James Edward, drove up to Eastland and Ranger on business Saturday.

Mrs. Mattie Henry, president of "21" Study club, accompanied by Mrs. David Parks, Mrs. C. W. Maltby and Mrs. W. C. Bedford, drove up to Cisco Saturday afternoon to the Eastland County Federation meeting. Cisco clubs furnished a splendid program of music and readings. Mrs. Philip Pettit, first president of the County Federation, made an interesting talk on welfare work.

Mrs. and Mrs. Roy Ashburn went down to Fort Worth and spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Williams. On their return they reported that Mr. Williams was improving nicely and would likely be able to leave St. Joseph's hospital in a week or 10 days. Hosts of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Williams are hoping he may soon be well enough to come home.

Dr. P. M. Kuykendall of Ranger came down Thursday evening on professional business. His many friends here are always delighted to see him again, though he never has time to visit much after his professional calls.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Barron had as dinner guests on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Cherry and son, Hal Jr., of Brownwood. Mr. Cherry is district lay-leader of the Methodist churches of Brownwood district and Mrs. Cherry is district secretary of women's work of the same district. Hal Jr. is a freshman in Howard Payne college. A most delightful mid-day luncheon was served to their guests by the hostess who carried out the idea of Halloween in the table decorations.

Miss Peggy Jean Gallagher of Cisco spent the week-end here with Miss Yvonne Dabney.

The Baptist W. M. U. observed the week of prayer by having services each night last week with interesting programs.

Wiley Powers left Tuesday for a business trip to West Texas. He had sold his service station to Homer Abernathy a few days before that.

The first issue for this year of "Pigs' Trax," the Deedemona High school paper appeared Oct. 18, with the cover page of green paper and the rest white as the school colors are green and white. On the cover was a clever sketch of a "Porker" in action, drawn by Mrs. Preston Sparks. The editorial staff is: Editor-in-chief, Delma Hicks; assistant editor, Nailon Hanson; sports editor, Bergen Wilhite; society editor, Virginia Bruce. The paper is quite interesting and well arranged. From it we copy the honor roll of the grammar school: Jimmie Hughes, Herbert Roberts, J. T. Craig, Lois Clark, Earl Parks, Marjorie Brown, Colleen McKain, Florence Hughes, Imogene Browning, Curtis Robert, Jack Powers, Paul Walker, Phil Brock, Lois Moore, Lois Moore, Doris Spicer, etain Doris Spicer, Uarda Maltby, Marion Thomas Friday.

The Methodist Missionary society met at the church Thursday and studied the 4th chapter of "That Other America," presented by Mrs. J. E. Heeter and Mrs. W. C. Bedford.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pullig of Gorman and Leonard Ervin of Snyder were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Powers Sunday. Mrs. Pullig is a sister of Mrs. Powers and Mr. Ervin is a nephew of the two sisters.

Deedemona football team won the game Friday by a score of 35 to 6 over Gustine. This was the fifth game they had played and also their fifth victory. It was the first time they had allowed their opponents to make a score. The coach, Bill White, and the players are making a fine record.

Mrs. Clara Beamer and her daughter, Miss Irene Whiteshot of Weston of West Virginia, and her sister, Mrs. Osborn of Shreveport, left Saturday for their homes after a delightful visit of 10 days with Mrs. Beamer's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee. The many friends of Mrs. Beamer were delighted to see that she had recovered from her illness of two years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Mason and daughter and Juanita Browning visited Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kimbro Sunday evening.

Dick Weeks went to Abilene Saturday on business.

Mrs. Ella Gentry spent Sunday with Mrs. Lucile Gentry.

Mrs. E. W. Minter was in our community Sunday.

T. L. Dupree Buys Sinclair Station

T. L. Dupree, young Ranger business man, has purchased and is now operating the Sinclair Service Station on Railroad avenue, formerly owned by Brimberry Bros. The station is modernized with all new and up-to-date machinery and handles Sinclair products exclusively.

The station was recently built and is one of the most beautiful service stations in this part of the state. It is so arranged as to take care of the tire and tube repairs of patrons in short time and caters to wash and grease jobs, with hydraulic lift and grease racks.

Mr. Dupree is well known in Ranger and invites all to pay his station a visit.

Charlie Hamilton is assistant manager, has had several years experience in filling station work and joins Mr. Dupree in soliciting the public to call and visit their location.

Goodyear tires and tubes are handled by Dupree.

Canada Marks Farm Recovery

OTTAWA, Ont. — Canadian agriculture which for some years has encountered, to a peculiar degree, the effects of the depression, is decidedly on the upturn, according to successive statistics.

"Dollar wheat," finally accomplished on the Winnipeg market, is an enormous stimulus. Two years ago, the price went down to 40 cents a bushel and the government always has held that the bottom would have fallen out completely but for its stabilizing policy. The recovery has been slow, but dollar wheat means much, whether it is due to Mussolini's war threats or to economic policies.

Wheat Farms Yield-tick

Wheat is the basic product of Canadian agriculture. It is the fundamental of purchasing power. Just a few weeks ago, when the government fixed at 87 1/2 cents a bushel, the minimum price for wheat, the financial return was calculated at $241,000,000, com-

Quadruplets Whose Birth Proved Forecast Right

The birth of quadruplet sons to Mrs. Alfred Harmsworth in London brought assurance that medical science was now in position better to protect mothers when multiple births are imminent, for the event verified X-ray forecasts that she would bear four children. The four mites, the year's nearest rivals to the sensational Dionne quintuplets, are shown under a nurse's watchful eye at a London hospital. The eldest infant died when three days of age.

Who's Prettier?

If you had been judging the international beauty contest in Brussels, Belgium, the other day, to which of these high-ranking beauties would you have given first honors? Your vote, more than likely, would go to winsome Louise Lyman, top photo, 19-year-old daughter of the late Chester Walcutt Lyman, American paper manufacturer. But pretty Louise was given third place, the judges giving the crown to an Egyptian girl, Charlotte Wesner, 18, below.

Tuners Needed In Jew's Harp Factory

LONDON.—There is a serious shortage of skilled tongue-setters for Jew's harps in Britain.

This distressing fact is disclosed by the current number of "Industrial Britain," a journal printed in English, French and German by the Travel and Industrial Development Association of Great Britain, largely for guidance of overseas buyers.

Birmingham, which is the only city in the world where Jew's harps are made, has been enjoying a "boom" in the demand for this basic product.

But prospective players all over the world who have been taken with the urgent desire to manipulate this instrument are being kept waiting owing to the way in which the lack of tongue-setters is holding up production.

These men, who are responsible for the adjustment of the metal strip which vibrates to produce the sound, have to be trained for several years. If the strip is the merest fraction of an inch out of adjustment the tone is ruined.

The demand is coming principally from the United States, where Jew's harp bands are becoming increasingly more popular. One Birmingham firm is producing 100,000 harps a week, and

Citrus Marketing Plan Is Approved

McALLEN, Tex.—Officials of the South Texas Citrus Growers' League here announced that they believe the drive to sign up sales contracts with growers of 80 per cent of the lower Rio Grande Valley's 1935-36 citrus tonnage under the Banks L. Miller marketing plan had been successful.

League leaders pointed out that dozens of individual committees, in addition to chambers of commerce and civic organizations, had been at work for the past month and that reports from each of the many groups probably could not be received and tabulated for several days.

Reports from most of the citrus-producing communities indicated, however, that the campaign had been a success and that efforts will be made as soon as definite results are known to place the plan in immediate operation.

Miller, McAllen financier and proponent of centralized marketing of Valley agricultural products, was asked by the League to submit a proposal for marketing the crop through a single agency.

Woman Forgets Age But Wants Pension

SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—Mrs. Mandy Calvey is going to apply for the old age pension if she can learn her age. Police haven't been much aid to her.

She walked into municipal court, gray-haired and wrinkled, and asked meekly: "How kin a body find out how old he is?"

Judge M. A. Dodd, somewhat astonished, asked an explanation.

Mrs. Calvey replied: "Well, judge, I want to ask for the old age pension, but I got to find out how old I am fore I kin do it. I plumb forgot how old I am."

The Sunday School Is a Force for the Spiritual Training of Our Children

That boy of yours is trying to walk in his father's footsteps. You want him honest, truthful and fair. Where can he learn these virtues better than in the home and in Sunday School?

Our Sunday School is organized for effective work. We deeply realize the importance and responsibility of our work, and in order that your child may get the full benefit of our labors, we want to enlist your support and co-operation. We want to impress upon you the preciousness of your child's soul and the grave responsibility which rests upon you in equipping your child spiritually for this life and the next. Parents are accountable to God for the welfare of the tender souls entrusted to their care. The root and cause of the present unruliness and frivolousness of our youth lies primarily in our homes.

The Sunday School asks the parents to show their willingness to help in the following ways:

- 1—Send your child regularly! Frequent absences ruin the effectiveness of the instruction.
- 2—Insist on promptness! There is nothing more annoying to the Sunday school than to have pupils come straggling in at all hours.
- 3—Help the child with its Sunday School work at home! The time for instruction in the Sunday School period is so short that some work must be done at home.
- 4—Insist that the child attends the church services also! A child old enough to go to Sunday School is old enough to go to church and get something out of the service. The only real way to teach your child reverence for the house of God is to COME TO CHURCH YOURSELF. A good example speaks louder than words.
- 5—The duty of giving! Teach them while young that they should have a part in carrying on the work of God.

Take Him To Church

Lessons learned in youth will never leave him. Give him the best possible moral foundation. He will go to church most willingly if you go also. If you are not tied to any other congregation, come Sunday and worship with us.
