Citizens Unanimously Favor Plan To Complete Hi-ways of C. County

The County Commissioners' met in a called session Friday morning, October 25th, for the purpose of discussing ways and means of completing the hard surfacing of all State Highways in Castro County. A large group of interested citizens met with the Court and it was necessary to use the District Court Room to accommodate the gathering. A great deal of interest was evidenced in a plan now under consideration by the Court in which it appears that an opportunity may shortly be available to the County to secure the completion of pavement on all the State Highways in the County without cost to the tax-payers. The meeting went on record unanimously as favoring the plan and requested the Commissioners to proceed at once to carry out the program.

The program, as adopted, requires that the tax-payers of the County vote to issue the necessary amount of bonds to complete the paving, but with the understanding that the proceeds from the sale of the bonds be turned over to the State Highway Department, said proceeds to be administered and expended by that Department for the construction and completion of designated Highways, and that the bonds, together with their interest until paid, be assumed by the State of Texas.

The Commissioners' Court acted to call an election as soon as possible. A condition under which the election will be held is that, if the bonds are voted, it will not be possible for them to be issued and sold until they are assumed by the State for payment from gasoline taxes. It was pointed out that the State has assumed payment of all road bonds now outstanding in all other counties where proceeds from the sale of bonds were actually spent on State Highways. It was also understood that Dallam, Hartley and Cochran Counties have recently issued bonds under the same conditions and that the construction has already begun on roads in those counties. The total road bond indebtedness now being paid by the State from gasoline taxes amount to $145,000,000.00, and represent bonds voted by every county in the State with the exception of six or seven. County Judge Posey Cunningham stated that he has been recently advised by the Highway Department that there is small hope of securing paving for Castro County Highways from construction funds available to that Department. There is an excessive drain upon these funds because of needed improvements on roads having military value. The program adopted would permit construction to begin early in 1941 and complete all State Highways without cost to the County.

County Judge A. J. Schroeter of Deaf Smith County, was present for the meeting and indicated that a similar meeting would be called at Hereford at an early date for consideration of the completion of Highway No. 51 from the Oldham County line to the Castro County line.

Announces Brand New Idea

The Castro County Grain Co. has announced a brand new idea, and an important innovation in feeds for Dimmitt and Castro and surrounding Counties.

According to Proprietor C. O. Byrnes, the new plan makes high quality commercial stock and poultry feeds available at "Home mixed" prices.

"It is a fact," said Mr. Byrnes, "that nearly all dairymen and poultry raisers are convinced of the value of feeding balanced rations. However, it is also true that some commercially mixed feeds are expensive—being so high in price that the feeder often has little profit left, after paying his feed bill."

After locally-available grains have been shipped to a mill, mixed with concentrates and then shipped back here again, Mr. Byrnes pointed out that many unnecessary costs have been added to the original cost of the raw materials. "And," he concluded, "these unnecessary costs have either been eliminated entirely, or materially reduced."

Mr. Morris Holley, who will be in charge of the feed department would like to personally explain this new idea in feeds to every feeder, dairyman and poultry raiser in this territory.

Mr. Holley with his family moved here from Hillsboro, Texas, where he has been engaged in the feed business for some time. Mr. Holley is thoroughly experienced in the feed business and invites every one to come in and let him explain every detail to them.

Future Farmers On Field Day

Boyce Carter, district president of the Hereford district of Future Farmers did a swell job conducting at the district meeting Saturday. He displayed conducting ability worthy of state recognition. Dimmitt wishes he had another year in the Future Farmer work.

There were 14 boys from Dimmitt made the field day Saturday. Judging hogs and dairy cattle was the chief interest of the day. The Tierra Blanca Farms are the ones that make these field days possible. The field day was enjoyed by all the boys present and every boy learned something about raising hogs and dairy cattle.

The F. F. A. Fiddles made $4.00 on their booth at the Halloween carnival Friday night. One of the boys who received one of the gilts given by the F. F. A. Chapter eight months ago has two gilts ready to turn back to the chapter for two other boys to raise for them. These gilts are now weighing about 140 pounds each.

Red Cross Disaster Relief Was Given At Scene of 106 Catastrophes in Past Year

Tornadoes, floods, fires and other major catastrophes during the past year took the American Red Cross to the scene of 106 disasters throughout the United States where more than 100,000 persons were given shelter, food, medical attention and rehabilitation assistance. E. F. Harman, chairman of the Castro County Red Cross chapter, said here today.

"The speed and efficiency with which the Red Cross was able to answer the call for disaster relief assistance last year emphasizes why strong membership support at Roll Call time is essential," he said. "On November 11, the Red Cross will embark on its annual drive for membership. The opportunity is extended to every person in Castro County to support the disaster relief work and other services of the Red Cross."

The past 12 months, Mr. Harman said, represented a typical year of disaster fighting for the Red Cross. Red Cross operations in this field were carried on in all but 14 states where trained workers of the national staff coordinated their efforts with chapter volunteers to bring tangible aid to the disaster stricken.

"Although types of disasters varied considerably, relief needs were the same in most cases," Mr. Harman said, in summarizing the year's activities of disaster relief. "The emergency responsibility falling to the Red Cross in the wake of disaster was that of assisting in the saving of lives, then providing for emergency feeding, housing and medical attention."

"The exacting task of rehabilitation followed the period of the emergency whether the disaster was a flood, fire or tornado. In each case trained disaster relief workers assisted the family in analyzing needs for recovery. Those unable to finance their rehabilitation, in part or all, were given assistance."

"Red Cross rehabilitation assistance includes the rebuilding and repair of damaged dwellings and replacing essential household goods and clothing destroyed by the disaster. Committees of leading citizens in the disaster-stricken communities acted as advisory groups in determining the amount and nature of help given each family."

Throughout the country, in 3,712 Red Cross chapters, committees are constantly preparing for disaster, Mr. Harman stated. Men and women are trained in the time-tested methods of disaster relief that may some day be instrumental in relieving suffering in their communities or some nearby section. They are being guided by the experience of 50 years of American Red Cross disaster fighting.

In addition to the need for preparing for disaster relief in the

METHODIST NOTES Dimmitt Circuit

The attendance at Flagg Sunday was not so very encouraging. We had an average congregation, but as it was our last day in this conference year, and may be our last for ever, we looked for more. Some were sick, some thought their shoes did not look well enough, others might have lacked coats or hats or they might have had too much pride, or they might have been too careless, or may have lacked religion. Well when people are sick, or have to care for the sick, or destitute of decent clothes the Lord knows just how to excuse and bless; but when any of these are as an excuse when the real cause is something else, the Lord offers no other remedy than deep repentance. When he comes to call you to death and judgement, you will go, shoes or no shoes, coat or no coat, hat or no hat, religion or no religion. What will your answer be?

When we come to the closing of a year, we are always sad and fearful; sad because we are reminded afresh of the swift passing of time, and nearness to death; we are also reminded, that there are many around us that are unprepared for death and judgement. We are fearful because we may have failed to do our best.

While this pastor regrets that he has not done more for you this year, may you ask "Have I done my best to help my pastor?" If you have not, then you have cause to be sad and fearful. In the few days left of this year, you can help in wonderful way. Will you?

Next Sunday we go to Jumbo. Don't let anything get in your way, keeping you away. The pastor always has a special word for his people; if you are not there he can't speak it effectively; and it will always make him feel that he is unappreciated. Our closing subject will be a command—one: "A past Harvest and a Shut Door."

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Boothe and boys of Floydada spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Boothe.

Of the 65 patrols from 63 troops that participated in the 15 events only 19 received enough points for a rating. Troop 67's two patrols, the Flying Eagle and the Beaver, were among those receiving a rating. Both of these patrols received a "C" rating, along with ten other patrols. Only two "A" ratings were given. Of the two local patrols the Flying Eagle group, led by Joe Hastings, amassed a total of 1279 points out of a possible 2000 aid the Beavers, led by Glen Exter, made only 1123 points.

At present these 2 patrols are engaged in a "search for pipe" contest. The troop is trying to find enough old pipe with which to arrange a flag pole for the grade school. Any help by the citizens will be appreciated.

JUNIO H.D. CLUB ELECTIONS OFFICERS FOR 1941

Junio Home Demonstration Club elected officers for 1941 at the regular October meeting. Officers are: President, Mrs. M. L. Simpson, re-elected; Vice-president, Mrs. Roy Thurston; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. J. J. Wilder; Reporter, Mrs. Clyde Renfro; Recreational Leader, Mrs. Union Hunter; Council Delegate, Mrs. A. O. Bales; Living Room Demonstrator, Mrs. Uman Hunter; and Food Supply Demonstrator, Mrs. Clovis Renfro.

The group decided to attend the North Edge Home Demonstration Club Achievement Even Thursday November 7, in a body. This Achievement Event is to be in the homes of Mrs. Dave Shepard and Mrs. Frank Shepard, Living Room and Home Food Supply Demonstrators respectively.

Committees were appointed to make arrangements for December H. D. Club Christmas party which is to be staged on the second Tuesday of the Christmas month. In entertainment committee is: Mrs. Roy Thurston, Chairman; Mrs. Hunter and Mrs. Hendrix. Refreshment committee: Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Wilder and Mrs. Simpson.

Miss Couch, C. H. D. A. gave a demonstration on "Preparation of Tender Cuts of Meat" she emphasized the fact that all pork and lamb is considered tender, but only a few are found in the beef market in tender. The tender cuts of beef are the loin and ribs cuts.

In cooking tender cuts of meat Miss Couch advised using dry heat either roasting, broiling in oven, or pan broiling. In roasting use no water, leave the lid off, and maintain a low oven temperature of 325 F. Place the fat side of the meat upmost for self-basting. This method will give a tender, juicy piece of meat that is not over cooked or dry.

NORTH EDGE H. D. CLUB

Cook meat slowly, using moderate temperature most of the time as meat is toughened by prolonged heating at high temperature, said Miss Mary Couch, Home demonstration Agent. At the club which met in the home of Mrs. George Shepard, Tuesday Oct. 29, when, after to roast, broil or braise a piece of meat depends on the tenderness of the cut and the amount of fat it contains, the tender cuts are beef roasts and steaks from the rib and loin, continued Miss Couch.

of our post-graduates seem to be deeply in love (they think). And I do mean Margaret Cox and Eugenia James. Marguerite, we we ask for an explanation of why you have been with Glenn James so many times lately.

You know Ray Sherry and Leppin? Lena are really getting serious. You've all heard of the Discon-Kirkpatrick affair, well, anyway, they must have a lot of business in Hereford every night.

Every afternoon after school Edna Faye and E. V. are found out on the Tulla Highway. Some fun-huh? She has had a lot of business with Phillip Jones lately. R. V. and Edna are accompanied by Skip and Junior Wyrse also, and speaking them, they talk me he popped the question, but he hasn't received an answer yet.

Brace yourself, this is gonna kill you. Bernice appeared at church with, guess who?—Kelton Hickman. Not bad, eh?

Boy, E. B. got a dirty deal last Friday night after the carnival. He asked Patsy to go to the show with him, but she said "no" but anyway she did go. Just want with E. B. I really think it was a dirty deal.

What's the matter Buster? Wouldn't Avis Jean go with you last Friday night? You must be losing your technique, too bad.

Last Sunday afternoon Natalie seemed to be enjoying the company of W. O. Hendricks. Billine Owens visited him, but not since someone else has him, she wants him back, maybe.

About the letter of received last week, we very much to have your cooperation offered to answer a question or two. Why do you wish to keep your identity a secret?

The Bobcat Tales

Bobcats! Claw Those Yans!

National Band Dance Best Yet!

Swing your partner! and other phrases of calling a square dance were some of the noises heard at the Old' Barn Dance at the high school last Friday night staged by the Seniors. Uncle Ezra was there with lots of pep and he had with him as a special guest one of those glamorous girls for the city. Oh, your Henry Burr was there to give a solo of "When You and I Were Young Maggie." All of the other members of the old' boy left gang were there to help with the program. There were three separate shows given with a large group attending each performance. The Senior members of the class want to thank Billy Jean Durant who sang with Maxine those old Irish melodies we all love to hear. Say, Juniors, here is a little secret. It is being rumored that the Seniors are thinking of giving the Junior a party so, Juniors, be careful.

Junior Introduced Have you met Junior Matthews? He has been visiting classes two days this week and has received much attention. He was a cute little fellow with blue eyes and red curly hair, just like papa Red, the fond father. He was brilliant in chemistry and English and very quiet in study hall. He even picked up the paper off the tables. But that Junior was receiving just too much attention, so she took it upon herself to try disciplining the child. Red decided perhaps Junior would be happier in the hands of a little mother so he instructed Mrs. Hainey to give the doll to Sharon - Sue.

House of Horrors Declared Success This is the sophomore reporter reported the reports that were reported in the reports of last week I guess you heard all of those old' and ah's at the carnival Friday night. Well, they came from the "House of Horrors" sponsored by the Sophomores. I told you last week if you missed their booth you would miss lots of fun and if you do not believe me just ask the ones who went in the 'House of Horrors. One Junior girl went in the booth and she became so scared that she knocked down several people (they were not seriously injured). I'm anyone knows the whereabouts of this girl please notify D. H. S. She was last seen wearing a Halloween costume.

That's all Folks.

Most vivid memory brought a way from Laredo on a visit last summer during the American Legion state convention was the sight of a gray-haired veteran, seated at a piano in a hotel lobby, his eyes sightless but a smile on his features as he played "Ramona" and lifted his voice in "Rolling Song" with the words of a parody, "Kimono." That example of cheer and courage, in the face of a night that will not disappear until life ends, should make any man—blessed with eyesight, hearing and sturdy legs and arms—ashamed at having allowed petty troubles to dismay or anger him.

Reference to the recent election of a former schoolmate, Clifford Davis of Tennessee, to Congress brought to mind the fact that another schoolmate of mine has served in that august body. Webber Wilson and I went to school together in Coldwater, Miss., though he was a senior and I was only in the seventh grade; but we became comrades as we waited down at the depot in the late afternoons for "Ole Miss" (the I. C. train) to arrive with the evening News-Scimitar from Memphis and he quotes the poems of Poe and of Tennyson.

All of us knew that Webber was going to be a statesman or a great lawyer, or both. Once, a mock trial was held and he was the prosecutor. He made such a ringing speech that some of the students took the rope from the school bell and threatened to "lynch" the defendant.

After Webber had been elected prosecuting attorney in the county to which he moved after graduating from the University of Mississippi, he came back to his old home town. He had not yet taken the oath of office, so when some of his ex-schoolmates were charged in city court with "shootin' craps," he volunteered to defend them.

The first trial resulted in a hung jury; so did the second and so did the third. Webber made practically an entirely new speech each time and spoke to capacity houses. Then it was found that there was not an eligible juror left in the little town and so the boys were turned loose. And then the three sets of jurors "fessed up"; each one would have brought in a verdict off "Not Guilty" but they wanted to hear Webber make another speech!

He was elected to Congress at 30; once he preceded Calvin Coolidge on a program and the President referred to "my eloquent young friend from Mississippi." Wilson ran for the United States Senate but fell a few thousand votes short; served as chief justice of the Virgin Islands supreme court and now is the Federal Board of Pardons and Paroles.

When the village miser died, somebody asked, "How much did he leave?" My Grandpa said, "He left it all."

School furniture and theatre seats made in Texas are shipped to Mexico, Puerto Rico and almost all parts of the United States. Only recently, the American Desk Manufacturing Company (located in Temple) provided the chairs for a new theatre in Salt Lake City. Of the five big trucks owned by the concern, one is on the Temple-Chicago run continuously, some 20,000 desks a year going to the latter city.

The only plant of the kind west of the Mississippi River or south of Chicago, the Temple concern is locally owned and is actively directed by two native sons of Bell County—A. P. Brashear, manager from the beginning, and C. V. Griggs, assistant manager. These two men and two others comprised the entire personnel when the factory was started just 12 years ago. At the height of the season now 200 workers are employed, besides the office and sales force.

4-H Club boys and girls, Future Farmers of America and others interested in vocational agriculture in Castro County and territory covered by the Castro County News are invited to compete in the Fort Worth livestock market calf contest, officials have announced.

A fine heifer calf will be awarded to boy or girl who writes the best 100 word theme about the market. The contest will follow the course of instruction in livestock marketing being conducted by county agents and vocational agriculture instructors over the state.

The calf will be a fancy heifer calf of outstanding quality, suitable for starting some boy or girl toward a herd of food cattle. The contest will be run from November 7th to December 7th and the winner will be announced shortly thereafter.

All boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 18, inclusive, are eligible to enter the contest. A committee of livestock experts will select the winning theme. Additional information and rules may be secured by writing to Ted Gouldy, livestock market observer, at the Fort Worth livestock exchange building.

'JEWELLED IN COPPER'

COPPER, oldest of the metals of commerce, which was first discovered before the dawn of history on the island of Cyprus by a half-savage tribe has and continues to find many new uses. Recently new jewelry ornaments, made from this age old metal, have been fashioned and are extremely popular with the fair sex. Copper with small Aztec figures applied in silver is a new California art discovered by Anne Shirley. She has had a great many bracelets and necklaces made for herself and says that she is sure college girls are going to "go for copper" in a big way.
