ROTARY SAYS LIONS SEEK GIRLS' RULES

The Lions and Rotarians meet in the third and last of the series of basketball games tonight, and the winner of tonight's game will also be the winner of the series.

Reports have been received from Rotary headquarters belittling the Lions for their alleged attempt to have the game played by girls' rules, while the Lions are remaining quiet, awaiting the outcome of tonight's game before doing any talking.

The report from the Rotary Club headquarters, which was submitted to the Times today, read, in full, as follows:

"The wild roaring Lions want a softer game. One of their spokesmen has voiced the feeling for the group by saying the miscellaneous athletics played in the last two games was too rough for them."

"They have approached the Rotarians in a round-about way and have asked that tonight's game be played according to girls' basketball rules, and six players be used."

"The Rotarians may agree to this suggested formal change in as much as they had to play against six men for the entire game the last time anyhow. It is difficult to see why the Lions would make such a suggestion unless they have failed in their efforts to import a referee for this game as they did for the second."

"L. R. Pearson, staunch Rotary center, had a tacit verbal agreement with the Lions' referee that he would call one foul each quarter on each team. But the gentlemen from Fort Worth became so interested in the game and admired Mr. P. O. Hatley's technique so much that he forgot his agreement—or was out of breath every time a Lion fouled and could not blow his whistle."

"Tonight's game promises to be the best of the series. The lineup will be about the same for both sides but the fun will be just as thick and plentiful."

Leary Test Drill Is at 1,000 Feet

The Arab Gasoline Corporation's wildest test near Leary north of Eastland on the approximate Eastland and Stephens county line was drilling Thursday at 1,000 feet, officials announced.

The drilling was 700 feet from the sand from which production of gas is entertained.

If gas is not obtained in paying quantities at the scheduled depth, the test will be drilled deeper, officials indicated.

Original 'Bull of the Woods' Dies

The original of the "Bull of the Woods," Charles T. Williams, right, 73, of Alliance, O., has passed away; but the make-believe "Bull," shown at left, lives on, to inspire awe among his workmen and delight among millions of followers of the famous comic, "Our Way." Back in 1914, James H. Williams, creator of the comic, worked for and admired Charley Williams (no relative), then Alliance machine shop foreman. Later, Jim Williams turned cartoonist, and obtained permission from his former boss to portray him as "Bull" in the "Our Way" machine shop.

HIGH JAPANESE OFFICIALS GET REBELS QUIET

TOKYO, Feb. 27.—Army chiefs today reached a compromise with leaders of the extremist army who attempted a coup and precipitated a grave national emergency.

While the guns of a battle fleet dominated the city and troops and bluejackets guarded the imperial palace, the army chiefs and the revolting officers agreed the rebel soldiers had started to return to barracks. Authorities expected they would be back at their stations tomorrow.

As they compromised the city and nation was under a most stern state of martial law and there was censorship that strangled all news except approved material.

Service Officer In Prison Is Aiding Convicts Get Bonus

HUNTSVILLE, Feb. 27.—Geo. Betts, Austin, veteran's service officer, was busy within the walls of the Texas prison today, taking applications for payment of the World War bonus from 500 convicts who served overseas.

Texas prisoners will receive about $250,000 in bonus money, Betts estimated. Their bonds will be sent to relatives for safe keeping until release of prisoners.

Corn-hog producers who did not sign compliance certificates at points announced this week were urged Thursday by E. F. Altom, chairman of the county corn-hog board, to come to the county agent's office.

Of 286 certificates, 65 remained unsigned, Altom stated.

"There is nothing we can do about checks until all are signed. All checks will be held up until everyone's compliance certificate is in," said Altom.

Change In Present Relief Set-Up Is Sought by Judges

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The administration today was considering a resolution by the Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association for a change in the present work relief set-up to permit a more equitable distribution of jobs.

The resolution was presented to Harry Hopkins, administrator of the works program, by a delegation of Texas county judges and commissioners. The delegation was headed by Judge Clyde Garrett, of Eastland, a candidate for the house seat now held by Representative Tom Blanton.

Judge Garrett said that the existing practice of apportioning work relief jobs on the dole basis is working untold hardships on thousands of deserving citizens of this state.

"It is the rankest form of folly to adhere to this practice, when thousands of our citizens are in dire need," Garrett said. He announced that the Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association, of which he is president, is prepared to fight to change the WPA job eligibility policy. That policy at present bars from federal projects all who were not on the relief rolls prior to Jan. 1, 1935.

"Whole families are now faced with the prospect of starvation, if such a practice is allowed to remain," Garrett said. He added that persons who were able to support themselves while their fellow citizens were being forced on the relief rolls, are now being penalized for it.

Garrett proposed to modify the WPA rules, to permit any deserving and needy person to secure work on federal projects. The move by the Texas county judges and commissioners to effect this change was first made, he said, at a called meeting of the Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association. Following passage of the resolution, the association sent Judge Garrett, its president, and several other West Texas members to Washington to point out to the administration the urgent need of a new rule.

The other delegates included: Judge W. H. LaForte, of Plainview, president of the West Texas division of the association.

Judge Alvin R. Allison, of Hockley, secretary-treasurer of the West Texas division.

Commissioner W. W. Merritt, vice president of the state association, and Judge W. R. Nelson, of Carthage, secretary-treasurer of the state association.

Judge Garrett announced that he and his fellow Texans had succeeded in convincing the works administration of the necessity of changing the rules, to permit additional needy persons to obtain work. The Texas judges and commissioners were tendered a luncheon by the Texas delegation in congress. Judge Garrett announced later that both United States senators from Texas, Tom Connolly and Morris Sheppard, as well as most of the representatives, had pledged themselves to fight for the necessary WPA changes.

HOFFMAN IS ATTACKING A STATE WITNESS

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 27.—Gov. Harold Hoffman today attacked the credibility of Joseph Perrone, taxi driver, who swore that Bruno Hauptmann gave him a note to deliver to Dr. John Condon during negotiations on payment of the Lindbergh ransom.

The governor leaped to the fight at Attorney General Willentz conferred with H. Norman Schwartzkopf, superintendent of state police and Prosecutor Anthony H. Hunterdon of Hunterdon county. The United Press learned Willentz had a strong legal weapon with which to combat further reprisals for Hauptmann.

Hoffman contended Perrone's identification of Hauptmann as the man who gave him a dollar to deliver a note to Condon, was vague and uncertain.

Townsend Old-Age Opposers Invited to Meeting On Friday

Opponents and proponents of the Townsend plan of old age assistance were invited Thursday to attend the weekly meeting of the Eastland club at the courthouse Friday night.

Oscar Calloway of Comanche, one of the principal speakers scheduled for the meeting, will divide time with any speaker opposing the plan, announcements stated. All interested were invited to attend.

Elmer Lawrence is president of the club which is reported as having a membership of 200.

ELECTRICIANS GO ON STRIKE AT EL PASO

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins today ordered a conciliation commission to fly to El Paso in an effort to settle a power plant strike there.

Labor department headquarters said Joseph Myers would leave Austin by plane and would arrive today.

EL PASO, Feb. 27.—Power service was partially resumed today in El Paso from an auxiliary plant but only a part of the downtown business district and hospitals were supplied.

El Paso electric company officials said full service will not be resumed until after the Rio Grande power plant can be put in operation.

The standby plant does not have enough capacity to provide power for industrial purposes.

Workers in the two large plants walked out on strike at 3:53 a. m. MST today, halting electric power in a 150-mile area of the Rio Grande Valley, affecting 150,000 persons.

As strikers pulled the switches and walked out of a Santa street power plant here and the big Rio Grande plant just over the line in New Mexico, electricity was cut off from cities from Fort Hancock Texas, to Hatch, N. M.

The strikes liked but one day of being called on the anniversary of a similar walk out on Feb. 28, 1935, which paralyzed activity in the El Paso area for many hours.

The local of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers issued a statement about the call on the claims the company had violated an agreement which resulted from the strike of a year ago.

Poultry Show to Be Planned at An Eastland Meeting

The meeting of all interested in a poultry show, which was scheduled to be held last week, but which was postponed on account of the cold weather, will be held Friday night in the office of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, it was stated today.

The meeting is to be held at 7:30 and all interested in a poultry show have been urged to attend.

Tentative plans for the show call for a two-day event, with the show starting on Friday, March 6. A number of fine exhibits are expected to be entered, and these will be carefully tended, watered, fed and watched during the entire two days of the show, it was stated today.

A building is to be secured, coops arranged and plans for everything in connection with the show made at the meeting tonight, it was stated and help is wanted in working out the details.

A. H. Johnson of Eastland has been secured as one judge, while two others are being sought from other towns in the county.

It was urged that all who are going to have exhibits in the show notify the Eastland Chamber of Commerce not later than Tuesday, March 3, in order that provisions may be made for taking care of the birds placed on exhibit.

Youth Is Held In Robbery of Store

FORT WORTH, Feb. 27.—Burglary of E. Young's grocery at Deer Creek on Highway 2, was charged today against For Fisher, 19, Cleburne, in a complaint in Justice Marvin Beatty's court.

He was arrested at Cleburne when he allegedly tried to sell two slot machines taken from the store Tuesday night. He told officers he received a five year suspended sentence in Johnson county Friday.

Officers are seeking two others.

Farm Aid Measure Passed by Congress

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Congress finished work on the $500,000,000 farm bill today and presented the new deal with a vehicle for carrying on its agricultural program.

House and senate adopted a conference report which now goes to President Roosevelt. Signature by the president will be the signal for the department of agriculture to swing into action on a new farm program to replace AAA.

MAKING MODERN DOLLAR GO AS FAR AS WASHINGTON'S

There's no way to prove that George Washington ever tossed a coin across the Rappahannock River, as legend insists, but Walter Johnson, famous retired speedball pitcher, is pictured as he proved it could have been done by hurling two silver dollars across the stream. Five thousand persons watched the feat performed near Fredericksburg, Va., where Washington is supposed to have done it originally.

Talmadge Blames New Deal for His Financial Troubles

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 27.—Gov. Eugene Talmadge, balked in his attempt to operate the state without an appropriation bill, today blamed the new deal for "deliberately" bringing on the state's chaotic financial situation in an effort to stop him from "campaigning against Mr. Roosevelt in the United States."

Talmadge, bitter new deal foe, who was given indorsement for president at Atlanta, declared:

"The new deal has gone to the length of backing up a suspended treasurer in taking over $20,000,000 worth of bonds out of the vaults of the state."

George Hamilton before being ousted from office as state treasurer by Talmadge, said he transferred the securities held in the state vault and removed them to the federal reserve bank in Atlanta.

Rehabilitation Plans Are Formed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—A $100,000 plan for removal of farm families from a section of America's "dust bowl" and for rehabilitation projects to aid several thousand Pueblo and Navajo Indians, was advanced today by the resettlement administration.

The tentative program would involve purchase of some 1,250,000 acres of land and would provide for rehabilitation of about 650 poverty stricken farm families.

ICE FLOES IN THE MISSOURI CAUSE ALARM

FORT LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Feb. 27.—Huge floes piled up in the ice jammed Missouri river near here today threatening inundation to Kickapoo Island, the army air base, and rich farming land on the Missouri side of the river.

Already the ice jammed river had spread over lowlands and forced families to flee with their possessions to higher ground.

By mid morning the gorge had broken at Atchison and the flood water receded. Five families returned to their homes.

So acute was the new threat in this area that army officers considered sending bombing planes over the stream to blast the ice jams. The wall of ice jammed tightly for several miles upstream, extended from the terminal bridge in Leavenworth to north of the Fort Leavenworth bridge.

$621,867 Held in Conscience Fund Of United States

WASHINGTON.—Persons who wanted to have an easy mind paid $5,885.63 to the United States Treasury last year.
By so doing they took a load off their respective chests and raised their value of the national "Conscience Fund" to $621,867.65.
To this a resident of Sacramento, Cal., recently added $100. These contributors never give their names.

The "Conscience Fund," more prominently known as Document 126,420, was started in 1811 when an unknown individual sent $5 to the Treasury of President Madison because he felt he had "defrauded the government."
Before the year was over enough money had been contributed by guilty minded persons to bolster the fund to $250 and it was launched into perpetuity.

Arcadia Presents Perfect Program
It is again the pleasure of the management of the Arcadia Theatre to endorse a perfect unit program of the screen which opens a two-day engagement today. This program is set up in five of the most suitable units to make a perfect modern program of entertainment.

Unit No. 1, and the feature picture for today's program is "The Man Who Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo," with Ronald Colman as the suave, debonair prince who gambles with cards and love, and Joan Bennett has the role of a girl hired by a gambling syndicate to lure Ronald Colman to Monte Carlo for a session at the tables. The whole story is a romantic adventure tempoed to the fast whirl of the little ball of the roulette table.

Unit No. 2, and the feature picture for today's program is "March of Time," the second unit of the program, and this issue brings you three very interesting subjects headed by showing the dramatic changes made in Russia in the last two years, first showing the diplomats of the years gone by and bringing up to the present day giving the high spots of this revolutionary period. The second subject deals with the "Hartman Solution," a new formula used by dentists for killing all pain while working on teeth, although this formula would have been worth hundreds of thousands of dollars Mr. Hartman gave it to the dentists of the world. The conclusive subject is new life for the colored people in Harlem under the spectacular rule of Father Devine.

Unit No. 3, the first issue of "Voice of Experience" to show locally, shows the story of a youngster and his dog. The dog is a real pal to the little boy, who is a cripple. The story deals with the loss of the dog and how Voice of Experience helps get him back.
"Winter Magic" is Unit No. 4 on this perfect program and it portrays the beauty of Jack Frost and his helpers, bringing out the better side of cold, bitter winter. "Paramount News," although the last unit of the program, is by no means the least, it is an astonishingly up-to-date collection of news shots.

Tipsy Drivers Try To Say 'Susie and Sally Sat in Soup'

PHILADELPHIA.—"Susie and Sally Thompson sat in the soup." This is not the theme of the story, but if you can say that before a police surgeon you can rest assured that you have a good chance of not being classed as an intoxicated driver.

This tongue-twister is not the only test which suspected inebriates must undergo. There are 13 others, which include:
Standing at attention with eyes closed, to see if your body sways.
Walk in a straight line.
Finding your ears and nose without fumbling while blindfolded.

Walking around a given circle.
Then there are many other medical and psychological tests such as tapping the knee for the proper reflex and the taking of the temperature and pulse.

It was found in the more than 1,400 cases in Philadelphia that a person who had three highballs within 40 minutes made decisions 9.7 per cent slower than the test-taker. Also that the drinker made 35.3 per cent more errors in problems of concentration; was 17.4 per cent slower in muscular reaction, and made 59.7 per cent more errors in coordination tests of the hand and eye.
Dr. Hubley R. Owen, who helped compile the 14 tests, believes the person with one drink is worse than the inebriate because "he thinks he has not been affected."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go
The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. One block up your stomach. You feel constipated. You feel weak and the world looks pink.
Laxatives are only makeshifts. A new bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. Take those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, just what you need to make bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills in name. Staunchly refuse anything else.

ROTARY SAYS LIONS SEEK GIRLS' RULES

The Lions and Rotarians meet in the third and last of the series of basketball games tonight, and the winner of tonight's game will also be the winner of the series.

Reports have been received from Rotary headquarters belittling the Lions for their alleged attempt to have the game played by girls' rules, while the Lions are remaining quiet, awaiting the outcome of tonight's game before doing any talking.

The report from the Rotary Club headquarters, which was submitted to the Times today, read, in full, as follows:

"The wild roaring Lions want a softer game. One of their spokesmen has voiced the feeling for the group by saying the miscellaneous athletics played in the last two games was too rough for them.

"They have approached the Rotarians in a round-about way and have asked that tonight's game be played according to girls' basketball rules, and six players be used.

"The Rotarians may agree to this suggested formal change in as much as they had to play against six men for the entire game the last time anyhow. It is difficult to see why the Lions would make such a suggestion unless they have failed in their efforts to import a referee for this game as they did for the second.

"L. R. Pearson, staunch Rotary center, had a tacit verbal agreement with the Lions' referee that he would call one foul each quarter on each team. But the gentlemen from Fort Worth became so interested in the game and admired Mr. P. O. Hatley's technique so much that he forgot his agreement—or was out of breath every time a Lion fouled and could not blow his whistle.

"Tonight's game promises to be the best of the series. The lineup will be about the same for both sides but the fun will be just as thick and plentiful."

Leary Test Drill Is at 1,000 Feet

The Arab Gasoline Corporation's wildest test near Leary north of Eastland on the approximate Eastland and Stephens county line was drilling Thursday at 1,000 feet, officials announced.

The drilling was 700 feet from the sand from which production of gas is entertained.

If gas is not obtained in paying quantities at the scheduled depth, the test will be drilled deeper, officials indicated.

Original 'Bull of the Woods' Dies

The original of the "Bull of the Woods," Charles T. Williams, right, 73, of Alliance, O., has passed away; but the make-believe "Bull," shown at left, lives on, to inspire awe among his workmen and delight among millions of followers of the famous comic, "Out Our Way." Back in 1914, James R. Williams, creator of the comic, worked for and admired Charley Williams (no relation), then Alliance machine shop foreman. Later, Jim Williams turned cartoonist, and obtained permission from his former boss to portray him as "Bull" in the "Out Our Way" machine shop.

HIGH JAPANESE OFFICIALS GET REBELS QUIET

TOKIO, Feb. 27.—Army chiefs today reached a compromise with leaders of the extremist army who attempted a coup and precipitated a grave national emergency.

While the guns of a battle fleet dominated the city and troops and blue-jackets guarded the imperial palace, the army chiefs and the revolting officers agreed the rebel soldiers had started to return to barracks. Authorities expected they would be back at their stations tomorrow.

As they compromised the city and nation was under a most stern state of martial law and there was acensorship that strangled all news except approved material.

HUNTSVILLE, Feb. 27.—Geo. Betts, Austin, veteran's service officer, was busy within the walls of the Texas prison today, taking applications for payment of the World War bonus from 500 convicts who served overseas.

Texas prisoners will receive about $250,000 in bonus money, Betts estimated. Their bonds will be sent to relatives for safe keeping until release of prisoners.

Corn-Hog Men Are Urged to Execute 1935 Last Papers

Corn-hog producers who did not sign compliance certificates at points announced this week were urged Thursday by E. F. Altom, chairman of the county corn-hog board, to come to the county agent's office.

Of 286 certificates, 65 remained unsigned, Altom stated.

"There is nothing we can do about checks until all are signed. All checks will be held up until everyone's compliance certificate is in," said Altom.

Change In Present Relief Set-Up Is Sought by Judges

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The administrative today was considering a resolution by the Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association for a change in the present work relief set-up to permit a more equitable distribution of jobs.

The resolution was presented to Harry Hopkins, administrator of the works program, by a delegation of Texas county judges and commissioners. The delegation was headed by Judge Clyde Garrett, of Eastland, a candidate for the house seat now held by Representative Tom Blanton.

Judge Garrett said that the existing practice of apportioning work relief jobs on the dole basis is working untold hardships on thousands of deserving citizens of this state.

"It is the rankest form of folly to adhere to this practice, when thousands of our citizens are in dire need," Garrett said. He announced that the Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association, of which he is president, is prepared to fight to change the WPA job eligibility policy. That policy at present bars from federal projects all who were not on the relief rolls prior to Jan. 1, 1936.

"Whole families are now faced with the prospect of starvation, if such a practice is allowed to remain," Garrett said. He added that persons who were able to support themselves while their fellow citizens were being forced on the relief rolls, are now being penalized for it.

Garrett proposed to modify the WPA rules, to permit any deserving and needy person to secure work on federal projects. The move by the Texan to effect this change was first made, he said, at a called meeting of the Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association. Following passage of the resolution, the association sent Judge Garrett, its president, and several other West Texas members to Washington to point out to the administration the urgent need of a new rule.

The other delegates included: Judge W. H. LaForte, of Plainview, president of the West Texas division of the association.

Judge Alvin R. Allison, of Hockley, secretary-treasurer of the West Texas division.

Commissioner W. W. Merritt, vice president of the state association, and Judge W. R. Nelson, of Carthage, secretary-treasurer of the state association.

Judge Garrett announced that he and his fellow Texans had succeeded in convincing the works administrator of the necessity of changing the rules, to permit additional needy persons to obtain work. The Texas judges and commissioners were tendered a luncheon by the Texas delegation in congress. Judge Garrett announced later that both United States senators from Texas, Tom Connolly and Morris Sheppard, as well as most of the representatives, had pledged themselves to fight for the necessary WPA changes.

HOFFMAN IS ATTACKING A STATE WITNESS

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 27.—Gov. Harold Hoffman today attacked the credibility of Joseph Perrone, taxi driver, who swore that Bruno Hauptmann gave him a note to deliver to Dr. John Condon during negotiations on payment of the Lindbergh ransom.

The governor leaped to the fight at Attorney General Willentz conferred with H. Norman Schwartzkopf, superintendent of state police, and Prosecutor Anthony Hartzel of Hunterdon county. The United Press learned Willentz had a strong legal weapon with which to combat further reprieves for Hauptmann.

Hoffman contended Perrone's identification of Hauptmann as the man who gave him a dollar to deliver a note to Condon, was vague and uncertain.

Opponents and proponents of the Townsend plan of old age assistance were invited Thursday to attend the weekly meeting of the Eastland club at the courthouse Friday night.

Oscar Calloway of Comanche, one of the principal speakers scheduled for the meeting, will divide time with any speaker opposing the plan, announcements stated. All interested were invited to attend.

Elmer Lawrence is president of the club which is reported as having a membership of 200.

ELECTRICIANS GO ON STRIKE AT EL PASO

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins today ordered a conciliation commission to fly to El Paso in an effort to settle a power plant strike there.

Labor department headquarters said Joseph Myers would leave Austin by plane and would arrive today.

EL PASO, Feb. 27.—Power service was partially resumed today in El Paso from an auxiliary plant but only a part of the downtown business district and hospitals were supplied.

El Paso electric company officials said full service will not be resumed until after the Rio Grande power plant can be put in operation.

The standby plant does not have enough capacity to provide power for industrial purposes.

Workers in the two large plants walked out on strike at 3:53 a. m. MST today, halting electric power in a 150-mile area of the Rio Grande Valley, affecting 150,000 persons.

As strikers pulled the switches and walked out of a Santa street power plant here and the big Rio Grande plant just over the line in New Mexico, electricity was cut off from cities from Fort Hancock Texas, to Hatch, N. M.

The strikers liked but one day of being called on the anniversary of a similar walk out on Feb. 28, 1935, which paralyzed activity in the El Paso area for many hours.

The local of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers issued a statement about the call on the claims the company had violated an agreement which resulted from the strike of a year ago.

Poultry Show to Be Planned at An Eastland Meeting

The meeting of all interested in a poultry show, which was scheduled to be held last week, but which was postponed on account of the cold weather, will be held Friday night in the office of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, it was stated today. The meeting has been called for 7:30 and all interested in a poultry show have been urged to attend.

Tentative plans for the show call for a two-day event, with the show starting on Friday, March 6. A number of fine exhibits are expected to be entered, and these will be carefully tended, watered, fed and watched during the entire two days of the show, it was stated today.

A building is to be secured, coops arranged and plans for everything in connection with the show made at the meeting tonight, it was stated and help is wanted in working out the details.

A. H. Johnson of Eastland has been secured as one judge, while two others are being sought from other towns in the county.

Youth Is Held In Robbery of Store

FORT WORTH, Feb. 27.—Burglary of A. E. Young's grocery at Deer Creek on Highway 2, was charged today against Ford Fisher, 19, Cleburne, in a complaint in Justice Marvin Beaty's court.

He was arrested at Cleburne when he allegedly tried to sell two slot machines taken from the store Tuesday night. He told officers he received a five year suspended sentence in Johnson county Friday.

Farm Aid Measure Passed by Congress

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Congress finished work on the $500,000,000 farm bill today and presented the new deal with a vehicle for carrying on its agricultural program.

House and senate adopted a conference report which now goes to President Roosevelt. Signature by the president will be the signal for the department of agriculture to swing into action on a new farm program to replace AAA.

MAKING MODERN DOLLAR GO AS FAR AS WASHINGTON'S

There's no way to prove that George Washington ever tossed a coin across the Rappahannock River, as legend insists, but Walter Johnson, famous retired speedball pitcher, is pictured as he proved it could have been done by hurling two silver dollars across the stream. Five thousand persons watched the feat performed near Fredricksburg, Va., where Washington is supposed to have done it originally.

Talmadge Blames New Deal for His Financial Troubles

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 27.—Gov. Eugene Talmadge, balked in his attempt to operate the state without an appropriation bill, today blamed the new deal for "deliberately" bringing on the state's chaotic financial situation in an effort to stop him from "campaigning against Mr. Roosevelt in the United States."

Talmadge, bitter new deal foe, who was given indorsement for president at Atlanta, declared:

"The new deal has gone to the length of backing up a suspended treasurer in taking over $20,000,000 worth of bonds out of the vaults of the state."

George Hamilton before being ousted from office as state treasurer by Talmadge, said, he transferred the securities held in the state vault and removed them to the federal reserve bank in Atlanta.

Rehabilitation Plans Are Formed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—A $100,000 plan for removal of farm families from a section of America's "dust bowl" and for rehabilitation projects to aid several thousand Pueblo and Navajo Indians, was advanced today by the resettlement administration.

The tentative program would involve purchase of some 1,250,000 acres of land and would provide for rehabilitation of about 650 poverty stricken farm families.

ICE FLOES IN THE MISSOURI CAUSE ALARM

FORT LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Feb. 27.—Huge flogs piled up in the ice gorged Missouri river near here today threatening inundation to Kickapoo Island, the army air base, and rich farming land on the Missouri side of the river.

Already the ice jammed river had spread over lowlands and forced families to flee with their possessions to higher ground.

By mid morning the gorge had broken at Atchison and the flood water receded. Five families returned to their homes.

So acute was the new threat in this area that army officers considered sending bombing planes over the stream to blast the ice jams. The wall of ice jammed tightly for several miles upstream, extended from the terminal bridge in Leavenworth to north of the Fort Leavenworth bridge.

GROUP ASKS GEN. HAGOOD BE RETURNED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—A congressional delegation called on Secretary of War George Dern today and unsuccessfully urged reconsideration of disciplinary action against Maj. Gen. Johnson Hagood, chief of WFOFA, cmfwyp Hagood, critic of WPA.

Earlier the war department said Hagood was relieved of command of the Eighth corps area, because of his "wisecracking" method of criticism, not only in reference to WPA, but on other occasions.

Chairman John McSwain of the house military affairs committee, one of the group of three that saw Dern today, said:

"We urge that the injustice be righted."

With McSwain were Sen. James Burns, Dem., S. C., and Rep. Thomas L. Blanton, Dem., Texas. McSwain said Dern failed to discuss the action. He indicated a possible appeal to the president.

Foul Play Against Salesman Advanced In Lacasa Finding

BRECKENRIDGE, Feb. 27.—The finding of a salesman's sample case on the bank of a creek near Lacasa led officers to express belief today E. C. Brown had been a victim of foul play.

Brown's name and address in Milwaukee, Wis., were found on letters and documents in the sample case and a traveling bag. Sheriff J. W. Morrow said he had been unable to locate the man.

Anne Steward, a farmer, found six large sample cases, automobile tools and other articles on the creek bank.

Among the articles officers found orders, taken for H. D. Hudson Manufacturing company of Chicago through Huey & Philp of Dallas. The latest order among those found was taken in Ballinger, Feb. 21.

Officers said they found automobile tracks from the spot where the articles were found to the highway.

We Need No Nye Probe
To Get At War Cause

Somewhere between the ghost of Woodrow Wilson and the reincarnation of J. P. Morgan as a pal of the reporters, the Nye munitions committee investigation seems to have gotten itself left on an obscure and lonely sidetrack.

This committee, as you may recall, set out to find out just how and why America got into the World War.

It produced a number of headlines, shed some interesting light on the activities of high finance, and gave Mr.
Morgan a chance to speak his mind about maids, leisure classes, and the chances of civilization.

But after that it seems to have vanished from sight, and the hopeful souls who expected to learn that Uncle Sam had been sold down the river by heartless bankers are getting remarkably little sustenance out of it.

Since the disclosures of the committee produced a good deal of confusion, and since Congress is ready to give up of the job of producing new neutrality legislation, it might be a good idea to review once more the obvious, undisputed facts about the way we got into that last war.

It is foolish to try to hunt for a scapegoat. People who expected the Nye committee to dig up some individual villain who would grin wickedly from the witness chair and say, "Yes, I did it," have been disappointed. The committee's work will be worth all it cost if it at last convinces us that we went to war through force of circumstances, not through the conniving of any man or group of men.

After all, German submarines were sinking our ships, killing our citizens, destroying our commerce and, in general, pursuing a course that a self-respecting nation could not tolerate. That was why we declared war. About all we can do is try to figure out why the Germans did what they did.

In trying to answer that question we begin to acquire wisdom.

We had become banker, granary, and factory for the allies. Allied soldiers were eating American beans and bacon, firing American shells at the enemy, and getting paid because their governments had tapped American tills. The Germans figured, sensibly enough, that they might as well have America as an out-and-out enemy.

So when unrestricted submarine warfare was suggested, the German government went for it—although it knew that this would bring America into the war. The kind of neutrality in which we had been indulging made Germany quite willing to provoke us into declaring war.

That is the nub of the whole neutrality argument. We stacked the cards against ourselves. We picked up a big gob of war prosperity and found out that it cost more than it was worth. That is the big thing for us to remember.

One of the problems Hollywood must face in bringing natural color to the screen, undoubtedly, is receiving the glare of W. C. Fields' nose.

Some Hollywood girls, called "agers," can make a new dress look old in 20 minutes. Many a husband, deluged with bills will sneer at that record.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—In the new farm bill, the administration had to choose between the farmer and the consumer, and its decision was purely political.

Farmers are well organized and consumers are not. Hence, although both the White House and Secretary Wallace really are sympathetic toward the latter group and abhor the principle of scarcity production as well as its eventual political dangers, they just didn't dare urge the Wagner amendment which would have insured city families against food shortages under the new crop control-soil conservation program.

It's a mistake to blame the administration for anything more than failure to insist on the rights of one group as well as those of the other. The strange popular delusion that Secretary Wallace and Undersecretary Tugwell, rather than the farm leaders behind the AAA program shouldn't be allowed to persist, now that there's a new program.

Every insider here knows that the most important fellow in the secret councils on new farm legislation is always President Ed O'Neal of the American Farm Bureau Federation. AAA Administrator Chester Davis is more powerful in the farm administration than Wallace (Tugwell is almost completely out of the picture), and that is because Davis plays closely with O'Neal and has O'Neal's support.

WHEN administration leaders obtained consent of O'Neal and other farm organization leaders to the soil program as a means of farm aid, they decided not to ask for anything else, fearing an agrarian revolt in favor of the export debenture or some other plan. Some of the so-called farm leaders are linked with middlemen and other special interests to which they have brought farmer support. But this is a campaign year and politicians dare not antagonize them.

Attempt will be made in the House to insert a similar amendment. But similar factors will operate and the amount of the national food supply probably will be left to administrative discretion in a new act which will cover all types of food instead of but a few, as under AAA.

THE militant position taken by John L. Lewis at the United Mine Workers' convention has brought a flood of requests for his personal appearance before groups of workers over the country.

Organizers of industrial unions, beset by attempted inroads of crafts unions seeking their members, are especially eager for him. The United Rubber Workers claim to have added 4000 members since Lewis addressed their meeting in Akron.

Attempts are being made by Lewis and the Committee for Industrial Organization to merge the three chief automobile workers' unions into one strong industrial union, but the ambitions of three existing sets of officers appear to be a hindrance to the committee's desire to make its first big drive in the automobile field.

Your Income Tax

DEDUCTION FOR TAXES

Taxes on real estate and personal property paid during the year 1935 are deductible. So-called taxes, which are assessed against local benefits, such as streets, sidewalks, drainage, and other like improvements, are not deductible, for they tend to increase the value of the property and thus constitute cost of a permanent improvement. The federal income tax may not be deducted. Income tax, however, paid to the State by an individual on his income is an allowable deduction on his Federal income-tax return.

Customs duties paid by a person on articles imported for his own use are deductible. Admission taxes, imposed on admissions in excess of 40 cents, are deductible, but the taxpayer must show that account has been kept of the amount paid. Taxes on club dues are deductible by the member paying them. An individual may deduct the tax on his telephone conversations, radio messages, telegrams and cables, and on the rent of his safe deposit box.

License fees exacted by a State or city upon certain businesses are deductible as taxes. Automobile license fees are ordinary taxes and deductible. Postage is not a tax and is not deductible. In general, taxes are deductible only by the person upon whom they are imposed.

Under the Revenue Act of 1934, no Federal estate taxes, State inheritance, estate, legacy, or succession taxes, or gift taxes are deductible on any income-tax return. The Federal taxes on automobiles, gasoline, and liquor are imposed upon the manufacturer, producer, or importer, and are not deductible by the purchaser or consumer. Whether or not the gasoline tax or the sales tax levied by a State may be deducted by the individual purchaser depends upon the terms of the State law imposing the tax, consequently the right to the deduction, as between purchaser and seller, varies in the different States.

Luckies—a light smoke OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO—"IT'S TOASTED"

CENTER LEAVES
The top leaves of all tobacco plants tend to give a definitely harsh, alkaline taste. The bottom leaves tend to acidity in the smoke. It is only the center leaves which approach in nature the most palatable acid-alkaline balance. In LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes the center leaves are used.

LUCKIES ARE LESS ACID!
Recent chemical tests show* that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53% to 100%.

A bat does not fly blindly about, as many people suppose, but is better guided than most birds. $5,000,000,000 Is Collected In Gas Taxes In 17 Years

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Motorists of the United States have paid more than $5,318,615,856 in state and federal gasoline taxes since taxation of motor fuel to finance highways was inaugurated by Oregon on Feb. 25, 1919, it was reported today by Baird H. Markham, director of the American Petroleum Industries committee.

Declaring the tax was producing larger revenue every year, with 1935 income exceeding $800,000,000, Mr. Markham said it now is possible to give the taxpayers relief, without curtailing funds available for highways, by reducing excessive state gasoline tax rates, by eliminating the duplicating federal gasoline tax, and by confining expenditure of the revenue to the original purpose of the levy, highway development.

The rapid increase in gasoline consumption during the past few years, he explained, will enable the average state to obtain from lower taxes revenue sufficient to finance a long-term program of planned highways, if economically built and effectively adopted to actual traffic needs. He said that at the same time highway development would provide employment for workers of 24 different industries.

"Present consumption of roundly 18 billions of gallons of gasoline annually," said Mr. Markham, "will produce more than $500,000,000 yearly revenue from a three-cent gasoline tax. Since every dollar expended upon highways starts a trade movement which results in the ultimate distribution of $3.15 in business activity and in wages, $500,000,000 spent upon roads would distribute $1,575,000,000 in trade and wages among 24 industries. Every four men put to work on highways make jobs for seven additional workers in industries whose products are used in highway construction, improvement, and maintenance. Certainly this method of creating employment and distributing wages is preferable to spending endlessly and indiscriminately from gasoline tax funds for other state expenses, especially since it gives those who pay this special additional tax for roads the roads for which they are paying. No other method will accomplish that."

Mr. Markham estimated that $4,732,278,290 the total of gasoline taxes collected from motorists by the states in the period 1919 through 1935. Revenues from the duplicating federal gasoline tax were reported as totaling $586,337,566 in the period 1932 thru 1935. Unreported revenue running into millions of dollars also has been paid in additional county and municipal levies, he said, explaining that in some sections of the country four different taxes are paid on every gallon of motor fuel, the total tax sometimes running as high as 12 cents per gallon and ex-

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—Who owns all that 19 billion dollars' worth of gold, anyway?

It's in Treasury vaults in San Francisco, Denver, New York, and, soon, at Fort Knox, Ky. But whose is it? The question becomes pretty important in view of new demands that the currency be inflated by new money issued against the gold as backing.

One argument is that seven billions is already obligated to Federal Reserve banks, which hold the government's gold certificates as backing for their currency.

But they can't get the gold. It's in the Treasury vaults. Possession is nine points of the law.

Senator Henrik Shipstead is one of those who want to find out pretty definitely. He is backing a resolution calling on the attorney general to furnish the Senate with a formal opinion "as to the ownership of, and the encumbrances on," the gold stock, "with particular reference to the status of the gold taken from the Federal Reserve banks."

SHIPSTEAD points out that several bills are pending which demand issue of currency against this gold, especially in relation to the bonus; and that up to now there has been no official statement regarding just who owns the gold, and why, and how.

He hasn't gotten any action yet. It's just another one of those mysteries, like the disposition of the $2,000,000,000 "devaluation profit" fund which the Treasury was to deal in foreign exchange to reulate the value of the dollar abroad.

SENATOR VANDENBERG, "dark horse" Republican candidate for the presidency, can toss the king's English about when he chooses, almost on a par with Ham Lewis. "The senator thinks that it is a matter of supererogation to inquire about that?" he asked "Cotton Ed" Smith the other day during debate on a farm bill.

Smith rebuked him: "The senator should not use that sort of word in a farm bill."

NOW comes the proposal to hand the whole American labor movement, lock, stock, and barrel, over to the government, to be administered by a board of five army officers. The sponsor, William J. Blum, connected with the American Engineers' Corporation, is perfectly straight-faced about this effort to "save the unions from their worst enemies, graft and poor leadership."

A pamphlet, over the signature of an organization calling itself "American Union Men," is being distributed to members of Congress.

Some members get all in a froth and denounce "this effort to introduce Fascism." Others insist they think somebody is kidding again.

WASHINGTON is a place where queer things come out from under logs, even in winter. Not so long ago a gentleman appeared, at one of the leading hotels here, offering to peddle titles, such as Duke of Socony, to persons like John D. Rockefeller, at a handsome figure.

consumer of motor fuel, pays more than one-fourth the cost of gasoline taxes. Taxpayers of California, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and New York were reported as having paid more than one-quarter of all gasoline tax revenues collected by the states since 1919, as well as the larger share of federal gasoline taxes collected since 1932.

Contributions from California's taxpayers to that state were reported as totalling $360,178,538

State gasoline tax collections for 1935 were estimated at $636,160,000 a new record, and about $70,000,000 above the 1934 income, $565,027,000. Federal gasoline taxes cost the taxpayers an additional $172,262,481, or more than $2,000,000 above 1934 revenue, $170,109,270.

Mr. Markham pointed out that the farmer, as the largest class-since 1923. Ohio motorists are estimated to have paid $322,977,448 since 1925. Pennsylvania motorists have paid $315,922,847 since 1921. Motorists of New York, the largest gasoline-consuming state have paid $264,520,907 since 1929.

State gasoline tax rates were said to range from 2 to 7 cents per gallon, with the duplicating federal levy increasing the cost 1 cent per gallon in every state. The average of state and federal tax rates now exceeds 5 cents per gallon, he added, and the combined levies constitute an average retail sales tax of around 40 per cent.

Collection of state taxes was said to cost the states about $3,000,000 a year, and to cost the petroleum industry, which is held responsible for their payment, upwards of $22,500,000 a year.

France Honoring First Balloonist

By United Press

PARIS.—To commemorate the 150th anniversary of the death of Pilatre de Rozier, first man in the world, with the Marquis d'Arlandes, to attempt a balloon flight, the French government has ordered the issue of a stamp bearing the portrait of this pioneer.

In November, 1783, a few months after the first Mongolfier balloon had risen from the public place of Annonay, Rozier and the Marquis d'Arlandes left the park of the Chateau de la Muette in a balloon. Twenty minutes later, they landed in the outskirts of Paris, at the Butte-aux-Cailles.

In June, 1784, Pilatre de Rozier renewed his attempt with Proust, the chemist, and in three-quarters of an hour they traveled from Versailles to Chantilly, about 40 miles.

Channel Flight Fatal

Encouraged by the success of his first attempt, Rozier decided to cross the Channel. In June, 1785, he had built an apparatus, composed of two superimposed balloons, one of which contained hydrogen and the other hot air.

On the morning of June 15, Rozier and the physician Romain went up, but pushed by contrary winds, the balloon flew over the shore, and to complete the disaster, the taffeta of the hydrogen balloon ripped open, and caught fire. Rozier and his companion were hurled out of the basket and crushed to death in the fall to earth. Pilatre de Rozier was 29 and Romain a little younger.

They were the first victims in the conquest of the air by men.

Ampere to Be Honored

Another commemorative stamp will be issued to honor the memory of Andre Marie Ampere, creator of the electro-dynamic theory.

Ampere was born in Lyons in 1775. Never having attended school, he spent his childhood and youth in the small libraries of his home town.

The Revolution wept him off his feet, ardent partisan of the young republic. After his father had died on the guillotine, he gave up his revolutionary ideas and became a professor of Experimental Physics at the College of France. Philosopher as well as mathematician, Ampere wrote several philosophical and mathematical books, and a biography, containing love letters he wrote during the three years in which he was engaged to Julie Caron.

The ceremonies of the centenary will take place in his birthplace, Lyons.

1,200 Daily Seek Information About Texas Centennial

By United Press

DALLAS.—Each day more than 1,200 persons throughout the world are seeking definite information about the State of Texas and its Centennial year state-wide celebration.

During the 12-day period, ending Feb. 6, approximately 15,000 requests for definite information and literature on the state and its celebrations were received in the offices of the state department of information for Centennial celebrations here. This total was reached before the national advertising campaign of the state department had been underway a full two weeks.

Incoming mail grows larger each day, indicating that as the campaign is continued, an unprecedented demand will be recorded for information on the Lone Star State. The mail comes from every state in the union, and already has included, in addition, requests for information from Denmark, England, France, Mexico, Canada, and Panama. New York has sent in the more requests than any other state.

The first of a series of advertisements of Centennial celebrations in magazines and newspapers with national and state-wide circulation appeared only two weeks ago, and succeeding advertisements, all including coupons on-which interested persons may ask for information on Texas, resulted in the flood of mail which now is engulfing the state office here. Requests are answered by direct mail with attractively printed matter descriptive of Texas and the Centennial which is being observed this year in scores of celebrations planned in all parts of the state. All celebrations definitely planned are listed on a calendar which is included in the literature.

Drouth In U.S. Is Forecast For Three More Years

By United Press

SAN MARINO, Cal.—The disastrous drouths of the past few years may be expected to continue until about 1939, if the "weather cycle" theory holds true.

After that, for a period of 10 to 20 years, they will become less frequent and less severe.

Finally, with the return of a normal cycle of moisture, American farmers can hope to have complete relief from drouth for a period of 150 years or more.

These are the conclusions of Halbert P. Gillette, who after years of scientific study of the "weather cycle" has presented his findings to the American Meteorological Society.

Studied Tree Rings

The existence of weather cycles were based upon intensive studies of the tree-ring thickness of the giant Sequoias in California and the Arizona pine. Other contribuing elements were found in the study of the annual silt layers, or varves, of ancient glacial lakes, and the time intervals between recession moraines deposited in the last ice age.

In his ten-year study of weather cycles, Gillette has become convinced that all great wars and migrations are caused by climatic conditions. Italy's present war in Ethiopia, for example, he believes is the direct result of the fact that Italy has suffered the past few years from drouths the same as the United States.

In his further research of the question of weather cycles, Gillette believes he has established the crest of the last great ice age which he places at 16,300 years, B. C. This, he says, was followed by a warm dry crest about 3,300 B. C., and there will be another ice age crest about 10,300 A. D., according to his computations.

Gillette, who was born in Waverly, Ia., was graduated from Columbia University, and followed the profession of mining engineers until he retired, 10 years ago.

Keep Your Body In Good Condition Is a Health Tip

AUSTIN.—"Keep your body in good condition," advised Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer. While colds, influenza, and pneumonia are different conditions, all three may be brought on or made worse by lowered bodily resistance, and all three may often be prevented in the same ways.

When these communicable diseases are prevalent, avoid crowds as much as possible and plan your work and recreation so that you will not overtax your strength and yet tired out. Be sure that the room where you are is always well ventilated. Drink plenty of water and don't let your system get clogged up.

Sufficient rest, cleanliness of hands, mouth and teeth, fresh air while at work and at sleep, regulation of meals and bodily functions, wholesome food and freedom from anxiety will increase bodily resistance and avoid contracting the disease.

One attack of cold or influenza does not as a rule confer immunity. Individuals have been known to have several attacks during an epidemic. Segregation of the patient is desirable to avoid giving the disease to others.

If you develop symptoms of cold or influenza, consult your physician early and follow his instructions.

Since Saturday, Feb. 29, is an unusual day, the only time in more than half a century that Feb. 29th falls on Saturday, D. Joseph is offering unusual bargains—bargains that probably will not be duplicated again in nearly another half century.

Leap year day has been celebrated for centuries, but only on rare occasions does it fall on Saturday. And since the day has been dedicated through the ages to the unmarried girls, who in theory are granted the privilege of proposing marriage, the bargains offered at the D. Joseph store are dedicated to the miss who wants to make a splendid appearance, not only on Leap Year Day, but throughout the spring.

Dresses of unusual value have been selected by the management to be offered for one day only at unusual bargain prices, and the dresses are so attractive, and the prices so reasonable, that not only the Leap Year girls, but the young matrons as well, will be delighted with the offerings.

These are not outmoded items that are being offered, but the very latest, as new and unusual as the combination of Saturday and Leap Year Day.

And, too, not only are the latest in dresses being offered on this day, but the store is full of other attractive items that will appeal to the shoppers, both men and women.

Hassen Company Has Bargains For Saturday, Feb. 29

Hassen Company, one of Ranger's most progressive stores is cooperating in an effort to provide the young unmarried ladies and the young matron with the latest in spring costumes, on a very unusual day.

Saturday, Feb. 29, Leap Year Day, was selected as the day on which these unusual offerings would be placed before the public, because not since 1908 has Leap Year Day fallen on Saturday, and it will be nearly 30 years before such an occurrence happens again.

Like Leap Year Day, such attractive bargains in the latest of clothing will possibly have not been seen in many years and may not be seen again for almost 30 years, because these bargains are as rare as Feb. 29th falling on Saturday, the natural shopping day for the entire trade area.

The extra day in the year brings savings for everyone, since bargains are being offered in a wide variety of merchandise for the benefit of the buying public. The extra day in February means extra day of business, and the savings made by getting an additional day with costs practically the same as for the regular month of 28 days, these savings are being passed on to the customers.

A general reduction in many of the newest items of merchandise in the store has been made for this day only and the thrifty shopper can take advantage of the opportunity to buy at unusual prices.

W.P.A. Mural Is Without Symbolism

By United Press
BOSTON.—A 16-panel mural painting whose "meaning will be so apparent that you won't need a text to understand it" is among the WPA art projects planned for Boston.

"The average mural doesn't mean anything to the average person," according to Andrew D. Fuller, Jr., an officer of the New England Society of Contemporary Art and the Academy of Artists, who is directing plans for the project.

"They're too symbolical. This one would be planned out ahead. These murals will be so that the average person can look at them and get educated. Instead of having the Spirit of the Sun or whatever it is will be set forth in plain figures so you can tell what it's supposed to be."

First Texas Play To Be Re-enacted

By United Press
AUSTIN.—"The Hunchback," first play ever presented in Texas, will be re-enacted at ancient Saengerhunde Hall in Austin March 4, by Little Theatre players.

The drama was first given in Houston, June 11, 1838, with President Sam Houston attending. Legend is that one of the principal actors was so overjoyed at the play's success that he took an overdose of narcotic to quiet his nerves after the first performance. His death ended the engagement.

The way most politicians meet an issue, you'd think they owed it some money.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 18TH, 1936

Joe B. Webb's BIG THREE-RING CIRCUS USUAL CIRCUS LOT!

CRUISE TO NOWHERE

Deck Morgan

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JANE WESTON feels her dreams come true when she sets out on a three week cruise.

On board the ship, she meets handsome DIRK WESTON, expert skier, and, as penitent as Jane. The ship was a gift to him from the parents of a child whose life he saved.

Dirk introduces Jane to his friend, SNOWSHOES, a detective. Others on board are: NOHA LANE, famous actress and owner of the Koklor diamond; wealthy, eccentric MANNIE JACKSON; DUTCH LENE and MANNIE JACKSON, blacksmiths; TINO ROSSI, opera singer; KEN MARTIN and LINDA BAYES, poor show entertainers.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

WHEN Dirk reached Suite AA he saw Nora Lane in the sitting room, her features pale. Seated close to the wall, she twisted the handkerchief in her hand, and stared into nothingness before her. She was bewildered.

His eyes swept through the door to the bedroom beyond and he saw the body of Mannie Jackson. The pursuer was bending over it, going through the pockets of the suit. The ship's doctor came out of the bedroom, and seeing the detective, said, "He's been dead only a short while. Not more than an hour, I should say."

"Shot while Miss Lane was with us in the bathroom," Snowshoes said thoughtfully. "Or in the bar. Between 11 o'clock and midnight."

"The actress sat there, wringing her handkerchief. She stood up, and said, 'The person who shot him simply walked out after the thing was done, and closed the door. Swallowed up by the ship. It looks like a perfect job. It's like a crime committed in a hotel where there are a thousand guests. It's a curious thing, but in a public house the murderer is almost never apprehended. People come and go all the time. It's what you might call,' he added, smiling dourly, 'an anonymous crime.'"

Dirk went outside to Nora Lane. She was alone now, for the doctor had gone back to the ship's infirmary. He said, "I'm so sorry this happened, Miss Lane. But I want you to know that you've two friends on board to shield you from any unpleasantness."

The actress tried bravely to smile, and gave him her hand. "No, no, no," she replied. "I won't go to bed before we know more about this monstrous—"

The pursuer came to them shaking his head.

"This is the first murder I've ever seen on shipboard, and I'm stumped. There are no signs of a struggle, and the doctor says it couldn't have been a suicide. There is no identification on him. Nothing in his pockets but a wallet and a film pack, exposed. We might have the film developed. This might show something, a sea gull, or a pretty girl—"

"Or something pertaining to his racket," Snowshoes said darkly.

"He was a yegg—an extortion artist. Blackmail. He introduced himself as Mannie Jackson, but it may not be his real name."

DIRK went in with the pursuer to look over the bedroom for clues. Not a single article in the room was disarranged. The trunk was locked. There was no object lying on the floor beside the corpse.

Snowshoes was already at work outside, looking for fingerprints on the doorknob. He came into the bedroom and went through the routine job of searching with a glass every object that might have been touched by the intruder. There were no clues, no telltale fingerprints.

"Gloves!" Snowshoes explained. "A planned job. And not a single clue!"

They stood over the fallen man while Snowshoes ruminated aloud. "He was shot through the heart from a distance of at least 10 feet. No powder signs. He was facing the man who shot him. If Mannie fell in that position the man was standing just inside the door that leads to the sitting room. That's all the physical evidence we have to work with. The rest will take time. We can get the bullet that killed him, later on, but the gun has probably been thrown overboard."

The pursuer was more mystified than the rest.

"But what was Mannie Jackson doing in this suite? With the door locked on the outside?"

Snowshoes's eyes were still roving tirelessly about the bedroom and the bathroom beyond. But he said, "The person who shot him simply walked out after the thing was done, and closed the door. Swallowed up by the ship. It looks like a perfect job. It's like a crime committed in a hotel where there are a thousand guests. It's a curious thing, but in a public house the murderer is almost never apprehended. People come and go all the time. It's what you might call," he added, smiling dourly, "an anonymous crime."

Dirk went outside to Nora Lane. She was alone now, for the doctor had gone back to the ship's infirmary. He said, "I'm so sorry this happened, Miss Lane. But I want you to know that you've two friends on board to shield you from any unpleasantness."

The actress tried bravely to smile, and gave him her hand. "No, no, no," she replied. "I won't go to bed before we know more about this monstrous—"

"Thank you," she said. "My first apprehension was for you. It was a wild thought which came to me in my first panic. Looking at the man on the floor, I said, 'This is the man Dirk knocked down this afternoon. I hope he won't be implicated.'"

"Perhaps I should be thanking you," Dirk said. "But if there's anything I can do in the next few days, please let me know."

"You have been very kind," she said. "We had gay times together. But, now—"

"I know," he said. "You'll have to stay secluded in your new state room. I'll hardly see you. I'll have to answer a lot of questions."

He knew that this was the end of his one taste of glamour. Nora Lane wouldn't be seen on shipboard with him again. He had realized a boyish ambition only to have it snatched away from him by mishap.

Snowshoes came in with the pursuer, and said, "Not a single clue. Mr. Blake, the actress said, 'I want you to keep our agreement. You are to act as my bodyguard during the rest of this cruise. I'm in your hands,' she added. 'You're my lawyer, too.'"

"In that case," Snowshoes said, "I'll do my professional best to solve the crime."

THE PURSER still looked completely mystified. "I'm glad you're going to help with the case. You can have a free hand. I'm stumped. I wouldn't know which way to turn. I'll have to go report to the captain soon. But I'd like to know something to tell him—"

He threw up his hands with a gesture of despair.

"I can't make head or tail of it. You know something about the man," he went on, "so what do you say it is, Mr. Blake? What was Mannie Jackson's motive in entering this suite? If he was a blackmailer he'd be looking for—"

The pursuer stopped, but Nora Lane looked at him squarely, her chin up.

"Some evidence pertaining to my private life," she said firmly. "Let's—"

"Why not a theft? Has anything been stolen?"

Suddenly Nora Lane's hand flew to her throat. In the first split-second moments when she was unwilling to enter the room where the man lay on the floor, she had been too distraught to remember the thing she and Snowshoes had come seeking in her suite. The necklace with the Koklor diamond!

She entered the bedroom and went to the big trunk in a corner. She fumbled in her evening bag for the key, and opened the trunk. Snowshoes swung the trunk back, and Nora Lane opened the little top drawer. Then she looked up, and her eyes were like china eyes. The Koklor diamond was gone!

"It's gone," she said simply, and invited the pursuer to look in.

"Why didn't we think of that first?" Snowshoes said. "The diamond!"

'Tractor Sub' Seeks Gold in Sea

In the newest device for treasure-hunting, a baby submarine tractor, shown upper photo, Halley Hamlin, young salvage expert, is crawling on the ocean floor off Angel Island, in San Francisco Bay, seeking the bulk of the steamer, H. J. Cochran, which sank in 1913 with more than $100,000 in gold bullion and pig lead aboard. Hamlin's own invention, the tiny "sub," 8 feet long by 20 inches in inside diameter, is shown below aboard the surface tender, Mas, which supplies power for its two motors. Equipped with powerful searchlight and telephoto for contact with the tender above, the tractor will operate at a depth of 600 feet, Hamlin claims.

Friday afternoon at the Methodist church funeral services were conducted over the remains of little Kenneth Boncelle Ashburn, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy K. Ashburn, who passed away early of 10 days having had pneumonia. Not long before that he had been seriously ill from scarletina, so was in a weakened condition, it was said. The church was filled to capacity and the floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The services were conducted by Rev. E. M. Daily who read the scripture lesson and Rev. H. H. Nance who was pastor here last year and who gave the oration. A special request song "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," was sung by Messrs. T. L. Acrea, Whit Richards, Elmer Abernathy and Ed Parks, with Miss Edna Parks at the piano. Oney of Cisco and Mrs. Willie David of Tulsa, two sisters of Mrs. Ashburn, Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Nance of Carbon, W. F. MacDermott of Fort Worth and many others from out of town came to the services.

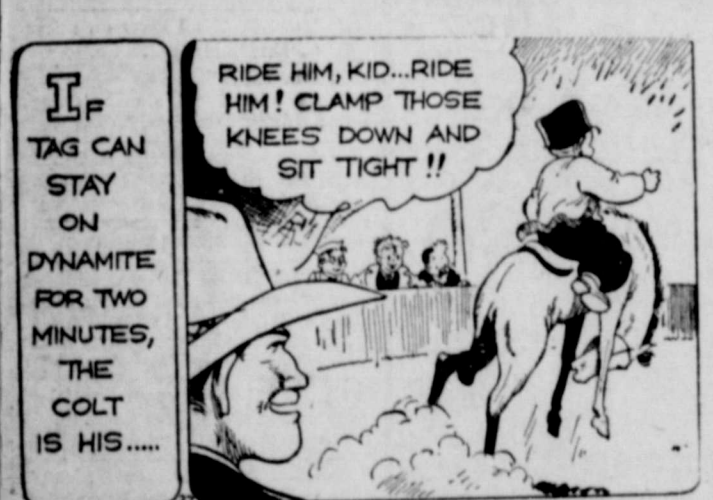

Sympathy of the community is being extended Mrs. C. A. Skipping on account of the death of her brother-in-law who passed away Sunday and was buried at Brownwood Monday. Mrs. Skipping had been at Brownwood several days and Mr. Skipping was there from Friday until after the funeral Monday.

The Methodist Missions society met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. O. Bragg for the monthly social meeting. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Charles Lee, who led the devotional, Mrs. S. E. Snodgrass, secretary, called the roll and read the minutes. Items of missionary news and letters from conference officers as printed in the "Bulletin" were read by Mrs. Mattie Henry, C. O. Bragg.

Ronald Colman in Role of Gambler

A gay and charming romantic comedy, starring the screen's ablest player of suave, debonair roles opened yesterday at the Arcadia Theatre. The picture is 20th Century's "The Man Who Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo," and the star is Ronald Colman.

"The Man Who Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo," Darryl F. Zanuck has produced a picture that is notable not only for a highly capable cast, but also for a plot with a decidedly unusual twist laid in the interesting and gay centers of the continent.

Chock full of humorous situations and containing an exquisite love story, this picture must be marked down as far above the ordinary in the way of an evening's entertainment. In support of Colman are beautiful Joan Bennett, whose excellent playing in "The Man Who Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo" proves her right to stardom; Colin Clive, Nigel Bruce and Montagu Love. Colman enacts the role of an impoverished Russian Prince who runs up his meagre savings as a taxi driver into 10,000,000 francs at the Sporting Club in Monte Carlo. He returns to Paris and divides half of his winnings among his fellow-expatriates who had added their savings to his original stake. Having met and fallen in love with Joan Bennett, hired by the gambling syndicate to lure Colman back to Monte Carlo for another session at the tables, he uses his fortune in pursuit of her. She and her companion in deceit, Colin Clive, lead Colman a merry chase through the gay centers of Europe to Interlaken, Switzerland. Here, in a setting of moonlight and romance, Miss Bennett falls in love with her victim. She tries to save Colman, but Clive manages to get him back to Monte Carlo. Colman loses his winnings but wins Miss Bennett, much to the satisfaction of both principals and the audience. Much of the film's excellence is undoubtedly due to the excellent direction of Stephen Roberts.

Veterans Warned About Completing Bonus Application

The administrator of veterans' affairs has issued a warning in connection with the certification of veterans' applications for their bonus bonds. The notary certification printed on the application states that both the signature of the veteran and his fingerprints were made in the presence of the notary. Notwithstanding this Gen. Frank T. Hines, veterans' administrator, has stated that a number of applications are being received lacking fingerprints and in such cases applications will have to be sent back to the veterans as incomplete. General Hines stated that this is not to the advantage of the veteran, since naturally it would tend to delay settlement in such cases. Further, he said, it adds to the administrative burden of the veterans' administration. The first 10 days, President Roosevelt has been informed, 1,168,152 have filed applications. General Hines has stated that there are 3,900,000 eligible for the adjusted service certificate bonds. Up to date the Carl Barnes Post of the American Legion has put out 234 application blanks to veterans. Any veteran wishing a blank can obtain one at the local American Legion Post or by getting in touch with R. H. Hansford, service officer.

More Students Are Registered For Home Economics

The Home Economics department of Ranger High School has started off with a larger enrollment this semester than last. There are four per cent more freshmen girls, seven per cent more sophomore girls, one per cent more junior girls and four per cent more senior girls taking home economics this spring over the fall enrollment.

A total of 109 girls are enrolled in the department. Of this number 87 are taking beginners clothing. They have been studying personality and family relationships for the past three weeks and are now studying personal appearance and grooming which will lead into the first construction problem which will be a simple undergarment.

Sixteen of the 109 are enrolled in the second year clothing class. The problem of being well groomed has been thoroughly studied and they have started their first construction problem which is the planning and construction of a tailored dress or suit.

There are six girls taking third year clothing. These girls are making special occasion dresses. We have some interesting evening dresses and suits under construction.

The Home Economics club enrolled 14 per cent of the high school girls last fall and has enrolled 28 per cent of the girls in high school for the spring semester. The fall program for the club dealt with the Texas Centennial while the spring program will be on personality and personal grooming.

Veterans Warned About Completing Bonus Application

The administrator of veterans' affairs has issued a warning in connection with the certification of veterans' applications for their bonus bonds. The notary certification printed on the application states that both the signature of the veteran and his fingerprints were made in the presence of the notary.

Notwithstanding this Gen. Frank T. Hines, veterans' administrator, has stated that a number of applications are being received lacking fingerprints and in such cases applications will have to be sent back to the veterans as incomplete. General Hines stated that this is not to the advantage of the veteran, since naturally it would tend to delay settlement in such cases. Further, he said, it adds to the administrative burden of the veterans' administration. The first 10 days, President Roosevelt has been informed, 1,168,152 have filed applications. General Hines has stated that there are 3,900,000 eligible for the adjusted service certificate bonds. Up to date the Carl Barnes Post of the American Legion has put out 234 application blanks to veterans. Any veteran wishing a blank can obtain one at the local American Legion Post or by getting in touch with R. H. Hansford, service officer.

Three New Members Enter Lions Club

Ralph Karnea, P. A. Reed and Grady McKee were elected to membership in the Lions Club today, after which reports were heard from all committee chairmen. J. C. Shaw reported that the Lions had sold $32.25 worth of tickets for the series of basket ball games, in addition to what was taken in at the gate and what the Rotary Club had sold.

Rev. H. H. Stephens had charge of the program and talked on the necessity and desirability of having one or more real projects for the club for the year.

A. N. Larson has charge of the program for next week and will present a Texas Centennial birthday program.

A good attendance was noted at the meeting, with only a few absent on account of sickness. In the contest, which has been in progress for three weeks, the side captained by Rip Galloway is leading the team headed by A. N. Larson by two members.

Clothing Students Planning Projects

The clothing students at Ranger High School are choosing their home projects now. All of the girls can sew in class but they find it a different problem when they have to think for themselves. The purpose of the home project is to teach the student to apply what is learned at school at home.

These projects take 30 hours or more time outside of class time. During the time these projects are underway the home economics teacher makes visits to the home to become acquainted with the mother or guardian of the pupil and give assistance or suggestions on the home project if necessary while visiting in the home.

Most of the first year projects are construction problems and consist of school dresses, lounging and sleeping pajamas, aprons and luncheon cloths. Some students have chosen manners, personality and personal grooming. Each pupil is allowed freedom in her selection of a project and is graded according to suitability and judgment in her selection.

The second and third year problems are more advanced problems in dressmaking and personal grooming.

Fine Jack to Be Displayed On the First Trades Day

John Blackwell has announced that he will have a fine jack on exhibition in Ranger on the first trades day, to be held March 10, and the committee in charge of the trade campaign is making arrangements for a place where it can be shown.

Anyone else who has a fine farm animal of any kind, which he wishes to display for service can make arrangements with the committee to have a place suitable for exhibition if provided, it was announced today.

This is just one of the many little services that will be rendered during the trade campaign and anyone who has an idea that might be used can get in touch with A. J. Ratliff, general chairman, and arrangements may be made.
