PLANS MADE FOR BIGGEST TRADE EVENT

A real program, with many good features, has been worked out for the first trades day in Ranger, which is to be held on Tuesday, March 10, and other features are to be added from time to time for other trades days.

Arrangements have been made to furnish free stock water on the grounds next to the old Oil Belt Motor Company building on the corner of Austin and Walnut streets.

A big parade, an address of welcome, a band concert, an auction and other features, including the distribution of many valuable prizes, will be on the program Tuesday.

The address of welcome, which will be a feature of the first trades day only, will be delivered by Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, mayor of Ranger.

The band concert will be presented by the Ranger Band, under the direction of J. F. Whitefield, who has been working on a program of special music for some time, and has been conducting regular rehearsals in preparation for the trades day.

At the auction any item that may be offered for sale, from farm produce to farm stock or implements can be put up for sale. Chief G. A. Murphy, who is expected to have been a famous auctioneer in Kansas before coming to Ranger, will be in charge of the auction. Arrangements can be made to have anything placed on sale by notifying the Chamber of Commerce.

A detailed program of the events for the first day, giving the time and place for each event, can be found in another part of this paper.

Golfers to Qualify For Ladder Today

Sam Brimberry, secretary of the Ranger Country Club, Saturday afternoon will qualify all members of the club to lay their qualifying rounds on the club course in order that the golf ladder for the season might be worked out.

Brimberry also urged that all golfers who are not in good standing to see H. P. Earnest or Sam Hample Sunday morning and get their dues paid before the golf season opens, in order that they might take part in the city tournaments and in other golf tournaments in this part of the country this spring and summer.

Dr. G. S. Murphy, Former Eastland Resident, Dies

Death of Dr. George S. Murphy, 7, former Eastland resident, at Alamo, Cal., in February has been announced by friends here.

Dr. Murphy, a former associate of Dr. J. H. Caton and the late Dr. B. B. Tanner of Eastland, left California eight years ago after living with his family in Eastland county since 1919.

Dr. Murphy was a World War aviator, entering the army in 1917 as a medical officer attached to the Eighth United States Cavalry and was promoted to rank of Major before the end of the war.

He had also lived in Culver City, Cal.

Survivors are his widow, a son, J. B. B. Murphy, stationed in Honolulu, and a daughter, the former Mrs. Wyatt Hedley, Glenview, Cal.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Sunday at the funeral home of J. B. B. Murphy.

Dr. Cook to Prove He is Discoverer Of the North Pole

CHICAGO, Mar. 7.—Dr. Frederick Cook will publish after death "irrefutable" proof that he was the first to discover the north pole, he said tonight.

Respected, white haired, the explorer has struck back in court against charges his first to the pole claim is the product of his imagination.

"Before I die I must clear my good name. After I am dead I intend to have published the full scientific data of my explorations. It will be an autobiography, but will contain a mass of data never before collected in publishable form. It will establish my claim to discovery of the pole," Cook said.

L. B. DENNING, PRESIDENT OF LONE STAR GAS CO. SPEAKER AT ANNUAL RANGER BANQUET

L. B. Denning, president of the Lone Star Gas Company, was the principal speaker at the annual Retail Merchants - Chamber of Commerce banquet, held at the Gholson Hotel Friday night, at which 200 guests from all towns in this part of the state were present.

The speaker gave a brief outline of the history of the Lone Star Gas Company from its formation until it came into financial and business prominence in 1923 when it began operation in the Ranger field after a means of utilizing the residue or casinghead gas had been discovered by a junior engineer of the company. Prior to that time the engineers of all the larger gas companies in the country had insisted that utilization of the residue gas was impossible.

Allred Intimates Special Session May Be Called

SAN ANGELO, March 7.—Gov. James Allred intimated tonight that a special legislative session might be called early in the summer to provide revenue for old age assistance.

The number of persons applying for pensions far exceeds the estimates made at the outset by the pension commission, he explained, and the commission has been unable to revise its estimates as to the number that eventually will qualify.

Colony P. T. A. Has Meeting Thursday

The Colony P. T. A. had a very interesting meeting Thursday afternoon, March 6.

The program was on the subject "Texas." Texas songs were sung by members of the Choral club. Brother Johnson, pastor of the First Christian church of Ranger gave a very interesting talk on Texas. After business was attended to the group enjoyed a short social and refreshments.

Those present were: Mrs. Cazez, Mrs. High, Miss Harris, Mrs. Kirk, Mrs. Alderson, Mrs. Getts, Mrs. Ford, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Groce, Mrs. Guy Smith, Miss Nelle Walters, Miss Wilkinson, Miss May Hays, Mr. Johnston, Mr. Cecil Townsend, Mr. Smith, Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Floyd Smith, Mrs. Beck, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Hatley, Mrs. Bowlin.

Italians Preparing New Bombardment

ADDIS ABABA, March 7.—Heavy cloudbursts and impending rain were no defense tonight against the threat of a bombing by Italian planes.

Half of the native populace fled the city after having seen an Italian plane over the housetops late today.

It was believed the Italians were planning a heavy bombing on the capital of Ethiopia.

Funeral Conducted for L. Thompson, 65

Funeral services were held from the Eastland cemetery Saturday afternoon for Leonley Thompson, 65, who died at the county home Friday night.

No relatives were known. Hanner Undertaking Company, Eastland, was in charge.

Mrs. Arnold Kirk of Eastland, who has been seriously ill in an Abilene hospital, was reported improved Saturday.

Eastlandite Will Begin Work Mon. For Old-Age Plan

W. W. Kelly of Eastland will assume duties as Texas Old-Age Assistance Commission investigator at Roby in Fisher county Monday. The appointment was made from Austin.

Kelly made it clear that his duties do not concern the taking of applications for pensions and that his work was not concerned with the direct payment of the pension. Kelly urged applicants not to get impatient, as the first payment will be made July 1. Investigators of the district must have time to investigate all prospective pensioners, Kelly stated.

Fisher, as Eastland county, is part of District 13 which consists of 12 counties with headquarters at Abilene.

PWA Attorneys Preparing Answer To Utility Suits

WASHINGTON, March 7.—PWA power attorneys today were preparing an answer to the suits of seven Texas power companies seeking to restrain PWA from proceeding with hydro-electric projects on the Brazos and Colorado rivers in Texas.

A temporary restraining order issued in District of Columbia Supreme Court yesterday will remain in effect 10 days. Before the end of that period PWA will file its answer to the suit.

The Texas companies contend PWA allotment of $20,000,000 to the projects contemplates establishment of a unified electric power system which would operate in competition with existing private utilities and would ruin their business.

Investigators For Pension Body For County are Named

Investigators for the Old Age Assistance commission for Eastland have been named and the work of checking up on applications for pensions will begin immediately.

R. V. Galloway of Ranger has been named investigator for the Eastern half of Eastland county, including the territory from Eastland south to Carbon, but not including the town of Carbon; southeast to and including Desdemona and all that portion of Eastland county north and east of Desdemona to the county line.

Will St. John of Cisco has been named investigator for the western portion of the county from Eastland west, with J. E. Walker of Gorman named investigator for Carbon, Gorman, Rising Star and part of Callahan county.

The investigators will begin their work early this week.

New York Strike May Be Extended

NEW YORK, March 7.—Striking skyscraper employees won ground steadily in their fight for higher wages and a 40-hour week today, but threatened to extend their walkout across state lines to clinch victory.

Pickets were more belligerent before the big, mid-town hotels and along Park Avenue and swank Central Park, West. The total of arrests in seven days rose to 179.

New Jersey officers of the building service employees' international union took advantage of the Manhattan situation to notify owners of 40 Newark office buildings that they must sign union contracts by 9 a. m. Monday or experience a strike.

Townsend Club To Meet in Ranger

Announcement was made in Ranger Saturday by officers of the Townsend Club of Eastland County that an important meeting of the organization would be held in Ranger Monday, March 9th at 7:30 p. m. There will be several matters of importance to come before the assembly and all members and the public generally is invited to come and bring their friends.

The meeting will be held in the Gospel Center on South Rusk street, Ranger, on Monday evening March 9.

FRANCE ASKS SANCTIONS ON NAZI GERMANY

PARIS, March 7.—France today decided to ask the League of Nations to apply financial and economic penalties against Germany for its denunciation of the Locarno pact and re-occupation of the Rhineland.

The French appeal to the league council came after a long conference of France's leading military and civil officials. Attending the conference were the premier and foreign minister, the navy and war ministers and the chief of staff and his assistants.

Also at the conference, which resulted in the momentous appeal to the league were the heads of the navy and air forces and the minister of communications. Before the conference announced its decision the minister of war cancelled part of the usual week-end leaves for sections of the army.

The Locarno treaty, regarded as the most important single diplomatic document in Europe, is in brief as follows:

1. Treaty of mutual guarantee among German, Belgium, France, Great Britain and Italy.
2. Two arbitration conventions, German-French and German-Belgium; also two arbitration treaties, German-Polish and German-Czechoslovakian.
3. Collective allied note to Germany explaining implications of Article 16—the penal article of the League of Nations covenant.

Home Economics Class of Colony Serves Breakfast

The home economics class of Colony High School served a breakfast Friday morning, March 7, to the following: C. S. Eldridge, county superintendent; Guy T. Smith, Cecil Townsend and May Hays. Doris Hooks and Johnny Harrell were hosts of the affair. The menu consisted of sliced oranges, egg nests on toast, bacon, orange marmalade and coffee.

The home economics department was recently visited by Miss Trickey of Dallas, who is state vocational supervisor for this territory. Miss Trickey recommended that Colony be granted affiliation in home economics. Miss Cozette Wilkinson is teacher of home economics here.

After the breakfast Mr. Eldridge gave a very interesting talk in chapel on the subject, "The Child's Relationship to the School."

ON HONOR ROLL

Lynn Alford, who is a sophomore in Daniel Baker at Brownwood, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Alford of Eastland, made the semester honor roll with an average of 1A and 4B's, according to a notice from that school Saturday.

WEST TEXAS ATTORNEYS PAY HONOR TO HIGH JURISTS AND HEAR CONSTITUTION HAILED

High jurists of Texas were feted by 132 attorneys of the Eleventh Supreme Judicial District at a banquet of the Eastland County Bar Association at Eastland Friday night.

The gathering of distinguished guests which included state senators, district judges and leading attorneys of West Texas was the scene of a temporary step-down from dignity of the high jurists who swapped anecdotes and in more serious moments hailed the constitution as the document which "has resulted in a country not perfect but the best."

High Texas courts were represented by Judge John H. Sharp, Judge Richard Critz, associate justices of the Supreme court, Judge J. D. Harvey, presiding judge of section A of the Commission of Appeals; Judge S. H. German, Judge J. E. Hickman, associate justices of section A of the commission of Appeals; Judge W. M. Taylor and G. B. Smedley, associate justices of section B of the Commission of Appeals, and Chief Justice and Associates Clyde Brinson and O. C. Funderburk of the Eleventh Court of Civil Appeals. The Supreme Court and Eleventh Court of Civil Appeals were also represented by S. A. Philquist and Dan Childress, clerks of the respective tribunals.

"The Supreme Court recognizes the quality of lawyers and distinguished judges in this section," said Judge Sharp. "The Eleventh Court of Civil Appeals and the lawyers of this section lessen our burden by their conscientious consideration of cases."

Paying tribute to the commission of appeals which acts as his court's assisting body Judge Sharp stated, "You have practically a nine judge court. Every opinion is (Continued on page 2)

Toastmaster

Judge L. H. Flewellen, toastmaster at the annual Retail Merchants Chamber of Commerce Banquet, held at the Gholson Hotel Friday night, at which 200 from 11 towns were guests.

A. J. Ratliff

President of the Retail Merchants Association, who aided in making the annual banquet Friday night the success it was. The organization was active in the banquet preparations.

Hal Hunter

President of the Chamber of Commerce, who was largely responsible for the success of the annual banquet and who arranged for L. B. Denning, president of the Lone Star Gas Company, to make the principal address.

HITLER DEFIES THE ALLIES IN A SWIFT MOVE

BERLIN, March 7.—Adolf Hitler sent troops into the demilitarized Rhineland zone today and thereby tore to shreds the last repressive clauses of the Versailles treaty.

Coincidentally he announced that the Locarno treaty which guarantees the frontiers of France, Germany and Belgium had ceased to exist because of France's new military alliance with Russia.

But, in his final defiance of the World War allies, Hitler offered all Germany's neighbors a program he said would bring a real, lasting peace and friendship to nations.

Then he called an election for a new Reichstag to be held March 29 so that he might get a vote of approval from his countrymen.

Hitler made his momentous declarations which must mark the opening of a new chapter in Europe's post-war history, in a memorandum to foreign envoys and a speech at a special Reichstag meeting called to hear him.

Applicants For Pensions Should Get Information

Instructions that will prove of assistance to those making applications for old age pensions are listed below for the convenience of all applicants. If the applicants will assemble this information it will speed the work of approving pensions.

Some of the statements made in the applications must be verified by documentary proof, such as in the case of date of birth where a marriage certificate giving the date of birth, the record of the family Bible or some documentary proof to substantiate the claim made by the applicant.

In all probability each person who has made an application for old age assistance will be personally interviewed by an investigator and asked to produce certain proofs, and if this information is gathered before the investigator calls on applicant, it would speed up the work of the investigator in making his report on your application.

Those who have not yet made application for old age assistance and intend to do so, are asked to get their applications in as soon as possible.

Some of the information that will have to be furnished by the applicant is here outlined for the assistance of the investigator and in the interest of speeding up the action on each application.

The applicant must furnish the investigator with some evidence of date of birth, his or her birthplace, must give birthplace of father and mother. Some verification must be made as to length of time applicant has resided in Texas, in the form of an affidavit from neighbors or proof of some kind in addition to statement made in the application.

Applicant must give the investigator a list of any and all life insurance policies, the company which carries the policy, kind of policy, number, amount, annual premium, by whom paid and who the beneficiary is.

Applicant must also give a complete list of monthly expenses including food, rent, heat, light, clothing, medical care, insurance, property expense, taxes, and incidentals; also full information as to their income, wages, property income, from children, pension if any, compensation, etc.

Trial of Four in Skeleton Case Set for March 30

Trial of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Henry and Jack and Lynn Smith, charged with murder of H. L. Mee at Rising Star, May 1, 1935, was set for March 30 in 88th District Court Saturday, Criminal District Attorney Grady Owen announced.

Jack and Lynn Smith, who have been held on charges of murder in the case, were being brought to Eastland Saturday afternoon by the sheriff's department from Coleman and Baird.

Bail bond of the defendants has not been set.

Has America Reached Middle Age?

If you can't find anything else about which to worry these days—and you probably can, very easily—you might start worrying about your Uncle Sam's decline in population growth.

The Census Bureau officially has figured the country's population today as 127,521,000—a gain of .71 per cent over last year, and a rise of 4 per cent since 1930.

During the last six years, the population has been recording a net annual growth of approximately 900,000. This is only a little more than half the average annual gain for the 1920-30 decade.

If the rate of growth continues to decline in this way, it won't be long before we have a stable population—or even, possibly, a decreasing one.

What all this would mean to our social and economic organization is obvious—and distressing. It would mean an end to the era of expansion which has lasted since our country's birth. Cities no longer would increase in size; or, if they did, would make their gains at the expense of other cities or of rural areas.

Every commercial venture from agriculture to real estate subdividing would feel the effects.

Beyond that, there is the depressing feeling that America's youthful vitality has been played out; that we have passed as a nation from young manhood to middle age, and that the era of slow decline is not far away.

Now we could, if we chose, meet this development in the manner of Mussolini and Hitler. We could start taxing bachelors, awarding government subsidies to the parents of large families, and pushing out propaganda about the beauties of parenthood and the citizen's duty to the state.

But it is hard to imagine such a campaign accomplishing much in the United States. In the first place, it is even harder to imagine an American government trying it. Besides, there is a much simpler way to accomplish the same end.

During our long period of growth there was a hopeful, expectant air to America; a feeling that the country progressively would be a better place for people to live, a conviction that each generation would find life a little bit easier and happier than the one which preceded it.

During the last few years that feeling has vanished. In its place, there has been helplessness and dull despondency. Many people have feared that their children would grow up in less favorable surroundings instead of in better ones.

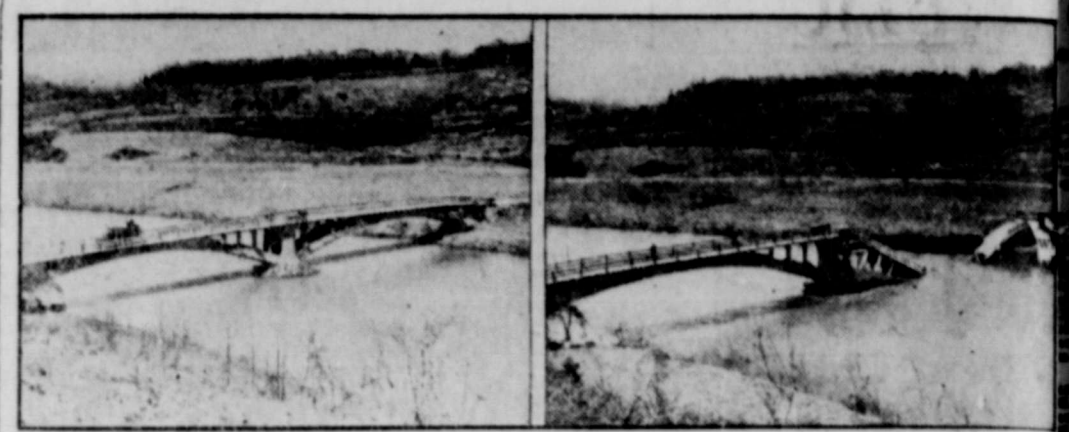

Once we abolish that feeling of discouragement—and abolish it in the only lasting way, by removing the conditions that caused it—the old air of hope and confidence will return. Then, in all probability, we shall see the rate of growth again increase. For those statistics simply reflect the average American's feeling about his country's future.

AAA's demise makes it possible to tell the young hopeful, without blushing at one's deceit, that this little pig reached the market.

Bridge Goes Skyward in TVA Progress

Smoke and dust spouting high in the air, with wreckage hurled in all directions, and the Loyston bridge was another landmark that passed to make way for progress in the Norris Dam reservoir area of the mammoth TVA project. The last family had been evacuated from the section before U. S. army engineers blasted the span, shown below before and after TNT and nitro-starch had been touched off. The explosion was a test of nitro-starch to determine if it is as effective as TNT. Cheaper and more plentiful, it proved its worth.

Your Income Tax

Your Income Tax

Deduction for Losses Other Than From Sale or Exchange of Capital Assets

Deductions for losses are divided into four classes, and to be allowed must follow closely the wording of the income tax law. Losses are deductible if incurred: (1) in the taxpayer's trade, business, or profession; (2) in any transaction entered into for profit; (3) from fire, storms, shipwreck, or other casualties, or from theft; and (4) from wagering transactions.

Business losses result, usually, from the purchase and sale of merchandise. Such losses usually are ascertained by means of inventories, which are required whenever in the opinion of the commissioner of internal revenue their use is necessary to determine the income of any taxpayer.

The term "transaction entered into for profit" means any kind of business proposition. For example, a taxpayer purchases an automobile to be used solely for business purposes, and which is sold at a loss. As this is a business proposition from start to finish, the loss is deductible. But if he had purchased the automobile to be used for pleasure or convenience, the deduction would not be allowed; it was not a transaction entered into for profit.

For Sheriff

Steele Hill, for a number of years chief deputy sheriff, who Saturday made his official statement to the voters of Eastland county in his race for sheriff.

To the Voters

Eastland, Texas, March 7, 1936.
To the People and Voters of Eastland County:
During the early part of January this year I announced my candidacy for the office of Sheriff of Eastland County. I have served in the capacity as deputy sheriff under Virge Foster for several years, during which time, I have endeavored to fulfill the trust to the best of my ability.

I take this method of formally announcing my resignation as deputy sheriff of Eastland County effective March 15, 1936, in order that I may devote my entire time to the campaign, and trust that it will be my privilege to meet each and every voter before the primary.

Should I not be able to see you personally, your vote and influence will be greatly appreciated, and I can assure you that I will, if elected, perform the duties of the office in a manner that will show my appreciation of your consideration.

STEEL HILL.

Resigns Office

Loss Woods, who Saturday announced his resignation as deputy sheriff in order that he might devote his full time to his campaign for sheriff.

Loss Woods Makes His Announcement

The following is the formal announcement of Loss Woods, candidate for Sheriff of Eastland County, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries in July:
To the Voters of Eastland County:

For several years I have served the citizens of this entire county as deputy sheriff under Virge Foster. I have endeavored at all times to devote my time and attention to the proper functions of my office and the duties imposed upon me as a peace officer. I have faithfully performed every trust as to law violations that have been assigned to me by my superior officer. I am now seeking the office of Sheriff of Eastland county, inasmuch as Sheriff Virge Foster will not be a candidate for re-election in order to give my personal time and attention to conducting my campaign for office with the hopes of meeting every voter personally. I realize that I cannot perform the duties of the office I have held with the constancy that it demands and do justice to the people as a peace officer and conduct my personal campaign at the same time, therefore I feel that the citizens of the county will appreciate my action in the matter.

I want every citizen to know that it will be my endeavor if elected sheriff of Eastland county to confine my every effort in the interests of good and peaceful government and that as your official sheriff will administer the office with the utmost ability in my command and shall keep in violation the confidence that you will have placed in me by your majority vote.

Hoping in the near future to be with you personally and discuss the problems of my campaign interests and that you will give me the advantage of your good influence and vote at the polls in the July primaries, I am,
Respectfully and faithfully yours,
LOSS WOODS.

STUDENTS FEAR CHEMISTRY

BERKELEY, Cal. — Examinations in mathematics, physics and chemistry are the ones that constitute the hardest assault on honor. Thirty-one University of California students either dismissed or warned for "cheating" were victims of these studies.

placed before the desk of every judge.

"Judges can't defend the opinions they write. We realize that the court must rely upon the solid judgment of the lawyers and citizenship. Every judge on the court feels the responsibility and feels like he has the duty to maintain the high standard of those who have preceded us.

"We may be wrong but we try to be honest and to render opinions that will ultimately appeal to lawyers and people."

Referring to the constitution, Judge Sharp told the attorney group with their wives, "You hear a great deal of the constitution but I'll say this: when crises and depressions come people lose confidence. It is hard to argue the constitution to a bankrupt man."

Praising the document, Judge Sharp said, "You have an instrument that has brought our country to the most powerful in the world—not perfect, but the best."

Judge Critz declared, "The day has come when we ought to reconsecrate ourselves to a constitutional form of government. I tell you the constitution was made to stabilize a government in times of stress."

Judge Hickman, a former chief justice of the Eastland appeals court, stated that the "public has become more conscious."

"It will grow more intense as the year goes on," Judge Hickman predicted, saying later that the constitution was necessary in times of distress.

"There are some in Washington who seem to hold the constitution as a small part of the government," Judge Hickman declared, "but in the hearts of many are the fundamentals which are embodied in the constitution."

All honor guests except the Eastland appellate jurists addressed the banquet.

Judge Earl Conner, Sr., president of the Eastland County Bar Association, presided as toastmaster. Allen D. Dabney of Eastland gave the invocation.

Mrs. Victor Ginn was presented in a vocal number and was accompanied by Mrs. Donald Kinnaird, both of Eastland. C. E. Coombs of Stamford was a brief speaker.

His voice fell in appeal, re-determination, flashed in anger WHY injustices he alleges have been piled on Germany.

He reviewed Germany's hardships, spoke of its rights and powers and at the end, read to the deputies the memorandum handed to foreign envoys embracing a momentous pronouncement.

These were:
1. Germany at noon today when the Reichstag met, sent up the Rhineland zone a symbol of force of troops. A few battalions only, in token of the decision that Locarno is dead and that Germany has the right to militarize designated specific bans of the Versailles treaty.

2. Now that Germany is on equal terms with all other nations, re-armed and free, he is ready to re-enter the League of Nations from which she resigned Oct. 14, 1933, because she believed she would not be treated by an equal at the disarmament conference.

3. Germany is ready to conclude a 25-year non-aggression pact with France and Belgium, who remain in the Locarno treaty protection.

4. Germany is ready to negotiate a non-aggressive pact or treaty with all her neighbors, east and west.

5. Germany is ready to establish with France and Belgium mutual demilitarized zones as deep as the countries wish.

Before Hitler had finished speaking, hardly before his battalions had grounded arms in the Rhineland, news of his defiance and offer had reached every nation in Europe.

French cabinet officers called in members of the general staff to consider the situation and talk of calling an emergency meeting of the league council for Tuesday.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

INSECTS LEARNED TO MANUFACTURE PAPER, ADMINISTER ANAESTHETICS, FARM, DOMESTICATE OTHER CREATURES, VENTILATE THEIR HOMES, AND MAKE POTTERY, LONG BEFORE MAN EVER DREAMED OF SUCH ACHIEVEMENTS.

THE HORSE CHESTNUT CAME TO AMERICA FROM ASIA MINOR, BY WAY OF ENGLAND.

WASPS have manufactured paper for many thousands of years, and used it in building their nests. Some species of wasps build nests of mortar and cement. Ants have domesticated plant life, and learned to grow mushrooms and grain. Bees ventilate their homes by fanning their wings.

DURING A TOTAL ECLIPSE, TEMPERATURES OFTEN DROP TEN TO TWENTY DEGREES.

CRUISE TO NOWHERE

DECK MORGAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

THE WESTON feels her dream come true when she sits out on the deck. She is the only one who has not been told the truth about the cruise. She is the only one who has not been told that the cruise is a ruse to get her out of the country. She is the only one who has not been told that the cruise is a ruse to get her out of the country.

The blow on his head had stunned him. The ship's doctor was tending one of the desperately ill on board. Somebody cried out for ammonia, brandy—any stimulant. None of these was at hand, and Linda stood up, her face lit with distress. She faced Jane.

"Oh, he can't be—" Linda couldn't bring herself to say the word. "Oh, I love him. I love him. Can't somebody go?"

She tore herself loose from the crowd, and ran across the ballroom. "I've a medicine kit in my stateroom," she called over a shoulder to Jane. Jane had to run to keep up with her. A steward tried to keep them from going below, but they broke loose from him when Linda kicked his shins.

The lights were dim in the passage-ways. In Linda's stateroom they glowed feebly, almost extinct. "My life belt is under the lower berth," Linda said. "Get it for me while I find the kit."

JANE tried to tell the detective about the assault of the mask man below, but she had to wait until the noise abated. Then she told him.

"Why didn't you tell me this right away?" Snowshoes said, indignant. "Why, the killer's loose down there below! He was trying to dispose of Linda, following up his threat. Come on," he motioned to Dirk Strom. "Let's go below and get him. If it's Dutch Lenz, he's likely to have a gun by now."

But Dirk stood his ground. He couldn't correlate events he had observed. "But Dutch was quaking with fear himself," he put in. "Fear of the killer. He couldn't take that exhibition of terror. Why, he screamed like a woman when you told him the corpse had disappeared. He's no actor. He's simply a yellow rat. There must be more than one man loose on board."

The winds increased their ferocity outside. Waves poured over the deck and came against the portholes of the recreation rooms. Then somebody who stood at a porthole yelled, and the horrified passengers who were close by stared out on the deck. Snowshoes and Dirk ran over to a place where they could see.

Coming along the wave-swept deck in the semi-darkness, clinging to every watery point in the lee of the wind, was Dutch Lenz. He was drenched but fighting hard to reach the lounge. He pulled himself along by main strength against the wind, and in a flash of light they saw his face, white but grim. He was putting up a fight to keep from being swept overboard.

But then above the sound of fury outside a shot rang out. It was an angry little bark, and they distinctly saw the white flame in the dark.

Dutch faltered, hanging on to a post with one hand, while another went to his breast. He went to his knees slowly, and then his grip on the post relaxed. Before he had reached the floor a wave, cascading high, poured over him, lifting him high, and flung him overboard, lost.

The horrified passengers simply stared. There was nothing anybody could do in this storm.

WHY? YES, WE MUST FACE THEM

(Editorial)

It is the key word, or the key that opens the door to knowledge. Some say, that to answer the question is to dig too far into the matter. No explanation is sufficient. The question is in the essence of why. The answer is in the essence of why. The question is in the essence of why. The answer is in the essence of why.

Indicted, Löses Postoffice Job

In a case which, in this campaign year, is stirring wide interest, Mrs. Anna C. Parsal, above, has been "relieved" by Postmaster General Farley of her job as acting postmistress of Benton Harbor, Mich., after her indictment on a charge of conspiring to solicit political funds in a federal building. She was accused of helping to collect nearly $500 for the 1934 Democratic campaign.

THE LITTLE BURDENS

We need not ask for strength to bear. The burdens of the years, For in the soul at crises great, An undreamed might appears.

But for the burdens of the day, The hurts and heartaches small, The little failures that are touched With warm faith and with gall.

For these we need a strength serene, For such our lips should pray: For it's the burdens of the day That wear the heart away.

TO PATRONS:

We would like to ask each patron of pupils, who are in the upper grades to co-operate with us in seeing that our child study a

Mexico's Muddled Political Situation May Be Settled

M'ALLEN, Texas—Settlement of another angle of the recently troubled political situation in the State of Tamaulipas, Mexico, across the Rio Grande from Texas, was announced in authentic advices received here through border sources.

A controversy developed some time ago between Praxidilo Balboa, publisher of La Tribuna, Tampico, Tamps., newspaper and ally of the ability to reason, measure, and deliver his very soul experiences into the pupil, who he contacts.

We are positively in for a revision of our present curriculum. A reformation and conversion of our teaching force, because both do not present the reasons why.

What are we doing? We are raising our standards to degrees and great titles and shoving into the background initiative, power and talent. We mold the cast and place Henry in it, if the cast fits all is well, if it's foreign let Henry suffer. Who is to blame Henry or the mold?

This is a serious issue and should be treated as such. Let's restore freedom, broad-mindedness, and initiative, which is the true road to recovery.

Let's remember, that heads were intended for more than mere hats and that fairness and reasonableness to every child irrespective of creed or color is our duty.

KINDNESS

By Billie Hines

To be a little kinder as the passing day;
 To leave but happy memories,
 As I go along the way.

Kindness is something we should put into practice every day. Kindness is a symbol of strength rather than weakness and is unnecessary to any measure of success. Unkindness is never a sign of greatness. The strongest and greatest man who every lived upon earth was both kind and gentle. In his everyday life he practiced both gentleness and kindness.

Kindness, put into practice, can strengthen the weakest heart and brighten dark weary homes. It can stretch out and go far and near into the dark channels of life, and

A Contest Winner Who Went Places

If you've ever wondered what becomes of contest winners, Vivian della Chiesa, brilliant young lyric soprano of the "Musical Footnotes" program on the Columbia network, knows the answer.

For Miss della Chiesa has graduated from the status of contest winner to that of a radio star in her own right-with honors.

When Vivian skyrocketed overnight into radio stardom as winner of an unknown singer contest in which more than 2,000 entrants competed, she was just enough to know that this was just the first step toward success.

It was a golden opportunity, she admitted, "But I realized that I still had to prove that I was equal to it."

How well she has proved her right to radio stardom is now history. Awarded a CBS contract on the Sunday "Musical Footnotes" broadcast, her rich lyric soprano voice became such a favorite with listeners that her radio sponsor soon extended the program from sixteen to forty stations, making it a coast-to-coast network.

Sharing stellar honors with Miss della Chiesa on this triple-star musical series are Franz Imhof, celebrated operatic tenor, and Ralph Ginsburgh's brilliant concert ensemble. These Sunday programs are presented by The Julian & Koenig Company, makers of Foot Saver Shoes. Sold in Ranger by Joseph's.

ing the young boys of the community into substantial citizens of which everyone would be proud.

In answering the question on business conditions in the nation and how conditions in Texas compare with those of the nation as a whole, he stated that he had recently had the pleasure of dining with the president of the New York Stock Exchange, had asked him the same question. The reply was that business generally was much better than it was, and that with slight depressions from season to season, the governors of the exchange looked for renewed prosperity, thought they did not want too rapid an advance.

He described business as the state of being busy, and pointed out that every transaction, no matter how small, even to the purchase of a loaf of bread or a package of cigars, contributed to the business of the growers of the raw materials, the processors, the manufacturers, the wholesalers, the jobbers and finally the retailer, so that everyone benefited. He stated that as long as people kept buying business would continue to improve. He said he had a profound belief in the ability of the American people to meet any obstacle and that they were meeting the depression with the same determination and spirit with which they had overcome other handicaps.

The other questions which were connected with the Lone gopher. He stated that eventually he believed that the oil producers would turn to the Ranger field for deep tests, but that anyone's guess as to the outcome of such tests would be as good as his. He said his company was not interested in the production of oil except that oil production had always meant gas production, and since his company was primarily interested in gas it had an interest in the development of any good oil field.

L. H. Flewellen, toastmaster for the evening, called upon A. N. Larson at the beginning of the banquet to lead the assembly in singing one verse of America, after which Dr. L. B. Gray, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Ranger, pronounced the invocation. The Three Tempos furnished music during the meal.

Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, mayor of Ranger, in behalf of the city, extended a cordial welcome to all the visitors from the surrounding towns, and particularly those connected with the Lone Star Gas Company, who were aiding in making the banquet a success and who were also aiding the community in every way possible.

Will C. Grant, director of advertising and public relations of the Lone Star Gas Company, responded with a short talk in which he pointed out that the Lone Star Gas Company was a very substantial part of Ranger and the Ranger community. He stated that the company had spent more than $5,000,000 in salaries, more than $1,000,000 for supplies and had spent a grand total of more than $20,000,000 in Ranger and the Ranger trade territory since it had begun operation here in 1923. He thanked the people of Ranger for their hospitality and Mayor Logsdon for his hearty welcome.

The toastmaster introduced Hal Hunter, president of the Chamber of Commerce; A. J. Ratliff, president of the Retail Merchants Association; J. E. Meroney, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Eva George, secretary of the Retail Merchants Association. Each made a few remarks and extended a welcome to all the visitors, many of whom were introduced by Hal Hunter.

Judge Flewellen eulogized the heroes who fell in the Alamo on March 6, 1836, just 100 years ago, and gave a brief outline of the Battle of the Alamo and read the historic appeal for help sent out by Col. William B. Travis, commander of the small force of 182 men who defended the Alamo, which was written on Feb. 24, 1836, just a few days before the massacre of March 6.

Out-of-town visitors at the banquet numbered 45, according to a checkup made Saturday morning. They came from Albany, Abilene, Cisco, Breckenridge, Baird, Midland, Eastland, Strawn, Olden and Dallas. Eastland had the largest out-of-town delegation present with 14 guests registered. The out-of-town visitors were:

Desdemona Will Have A Meeting Of Townsend Club

John Ables of Salem, route one, Ranger, was in town Saturday afternoon and stated there would be a meeting of the Townsend club at Desdemona next Friday night and a large gathering of the people was expected. He said there would be a program in keeping with the occasion and that prominent speakers of the county would be present. Ables said that after the meeting adjourned that he hoped, with the assistance of John Fonville and other farmers of the community to be able to discuss the volunteer cotton reduction movement and that all farmers were urged to be present and be ready to perfect a permanent organization.

Ables said the volunteer cotton reduction move was the only thing for the farmers to do and that so far as he was able to learn the people in his neighborhood

Soars to High Illinois Air Post

If anyone tried to tell attractive Jane Ray, above, that she ought to be in pictures, Miss Ray probably would retort, "No, thank you, I'm doing quite well in my own career." And so she is, having just been appointed an inspector for the Illinois Aeronautics Commission. Colony 4-H Club Holds a Meeting

Mr. Cook, Eastland County Agent, Mr. Barnhart, assistant county agent and Bro. Estus, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Eastland, each gave interesting and informational short talks in chapel here last Tuesday morning.

After chapel a meeting of the Boy's 4-H Club was held. Many of the club boys have already started their projects. The club membership was increased to about 30. Some of the boys are making plans to attend the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show.

Agent Asks Cotton Producers to Brng Sales Certificates

Cotton producers have not turned in sales certificates for cotton sold from the 1935 crop should obtain cotton sales certificates from buyers and turn the certificates in immediately, County Agent Elmo V. Cook has urged.

A notice mailed producers stated: "Submitting these certificates to this office does not obligate the producer of the cotton but will place him in line to receive his share of the 12 cent guarantee under the cotton subsidy plan. It is our understanding that all cotton producers are eligible for the payments regardless of whether they are cotton contract signers for 1935."

Hitler's Statement Stupefies the League

GENEVA, March 7.—Adolf Hitler's denunciation of the Rhineland clauses of the Versailles Treaty and his abrogation of the Locarno pact, stupefied the League of Nations today.

The league is the guardian of both the Versailles Treaty and the Locarno pact.

No less surprising to league officials was Hitler's announced readiness to re-enter the league under certain conditions.

LONDON.—What is believed to be the longest snake in captivity has arrived at the London Zoo. It is a reticulated python 28 feet long from Malaya. The python is a little longer than the Zoo's previous biggest, presented by the Prince of Wales.

They were ready to band together in an organization.

The public is cordially invited to attend and speakers have also been urged to be present and if possible be able to help in the organization.

action that the battles of Sibanas and Santiago got under way. It was during this campaign that on one occasion, Private Hansford was quartered for the night at a blockhouse on the side of a hill near Santiago. A very repulsive odor bothered Hansford and several of the men during the night, but thinking nothing particular about it, they did not get up to investigate. And feature them, when early the next morning, they found 50 dead Spaniards who had been locked in, and apparently starved to death.

Sunday Times Is Sent to Veterans

Beginning today the Ranger Times is sending a copy of Sunday issue of the paper to all veterans whose names are on the roster of the American Legion Post. This is being done because of the special stories that are appearing in each Sunday issue of the paper and will continue throughout the year as a Sunday feature.

Most of the members of the post are already readers of the Times and those whose names do not appear on the subscription lists will receive copy of the Sunday paper for the next few Sundays.

The Times carries all the late news in regard to the bonus and is cooperating with the local post in an effort to bring the attention of the veterans to the fact that all should have a part in the historical record and the benefit thereof in the series of articles appearing from Sunday to Sunday.

It was during this campaign that an act of heroism over and beyond the call of duty gained for Private Hansford a citation for bravery in action which is coveted by many in his mementoes of by-gone days. But a transfer to Troop C of the Sixth Cavalry in June, 1900, brought Hansford to Pekin, China. Trouble had begun to brew in this land of the yellow man, and so it was that the American government saw fit to maintain the open door, and with force of arms if necessary. A bloody but short engagement followed, where the combined forces of several of the leading nations of the world under the leadership of General Chaffie stormed the walls and captured their objectives. Thus in the main ended the Boxer Uprising in China. After the rebellion was quelled, Hansford, together with the Sixth Cavalry and other outfits consisting of the Seventh and Ninth Infantry and six batteries of light artillery, were returned to the Philippines for another year's additional tour of duty. So on Dec. 15, 1901, exactly three years after enlistment, Corporal Hansford received an honorable discharge from the American army for the second time.

wagon master and commissioned as first lieutenant of engineers. It was while on this duty that Lieutenant Hansford was detailed as conduit officer to transfer several train loads of horses and mules to various national army units. "While stopping over in New Orleans, one day, for rest and feed for the animals," said Hansford, "we noticed a couple of men loitering around the stock pens. Becoming suspicious, we arrested them and later it was found that they were German spies and had sprinkled poison on the horses' and mules' feed, quite a number of which died from the effects of it. Upon being arrested, and after about an hour's trial, they were given 30 years' confinement for their act." Hansford stated that on another occasion, while passing through Deerfield, Mass., two spies who had wrecked the train on which he was transporting the government mules and horses, were arrested and summarily dealt with. On this occasion, the engineer, fireman, and one guard riding near the front of the train were killed in the wreck. In the latter part of September, 1918, Lieutenant Hansford was transferred to the tank corps at Gettysburg, Pa., and commissioned as captain. His outfit had started for overseas on Nov. 6, but was halted at Camp Dix for final inspection. Soon came the armistice however, Captain Hansford was mustered out of the service of his country, and for the fourth time this soldier received the thanks of an appreciative government in the form of an honorable discharge from the army of the United States. Prior to service in the World War and the Mexican campaign, Capt. Hansford had married Miss Susie Reynolds, of Tyler, Texas, and so with the ending of the great conflict across the water, Capt. and Mrs. Hansford moved to Ranger, where he established the Hansford Salvage Store. His business having been destroyed by the big fire in 1921, Mr. Hansford entered the pipe line contracting business, and in 1925, he went to Columbia, South America for the Andean Pipe Line Corporation. Here he was employed for 18 months as pipe line superintendent; building lines for approximately six hundred miles up the Magdalena River and across the Andes Mountains. But it was not long until he returned to Ranger where he now resides. By a former wife who died in 1906, Mr. Hansford now has three children, Jessie, 31, of New York City; Freddie, 28, a practicing civil engineer of the City of New York, and Billie, 26, an engineer for the Bell Telephone Company of Oklahoma City. Serving now as Post Service Officer of Carl Barnes Post of Ranger, Mr. Hansford is ever ready to assist, according to the duties of his office, any and all veterans who may have occasion to his services. And he it said to his credit, that no day is too cold, or night too dark, but that anyone in need will be turned away from his door. At the present writing, several deserving and disabled veterans are now receiving the benefits of the hospitalization afforded by a grateful government, due to the efforts of none other than Post Service Officer, Captain R. H. Hansford. Rev. G. W. Thomas Begins His Sixth Year in Ranger. For the sixth successive year, the congregation of the First Baptist church met in regular conference on last Wednesday night and re-elected Rev. G. W. Thomas as pastor for a period of another 12 months. The church has followed the custom of making an annual call since 1931. The attendance upon the meeting Wednesday night was the largest for any business meeting of the church for several years. According to leaders in the program of the church the year just closing has been one of the

Dog Heir to Estate Owes Arkansas $20

By United Press

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—Attorneys for the state revenue department are seeking a solution of how the state can collect an inheritance tax on the $500 bequest left to a pet dog.

The dog answers to the name of "Flip" and was bequeathed that sum and a life interest in the family home, by his late master, W. K. Sims, east Arkansas planter.

Under Arkansas inheritance tax laws, strangers in blood, friends, servants, nephews and nieces have no exemptions.

At the inheritance tax rate the dog would owe the state $20.

Style Revue to Introduce Spring and Summer's Wardrobe

Only a few more days will elapse, children of the family, and in fact the entire group have to wait to see what Spring and summer have to offer in clothing. The Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church of Ranger, are sponsoring a Joseph Dry Goods store style revue, slated for Thursday night, at 8 o'clock at the Recreation building.

Details are now under supervision of different committees, which are to be announced early this week. Musical features are to be handled by Mrs. Leslie Hagaman, and Mrs. Fred Warren, while the president of the society, Mrs. C. E. May, remains busy appointing other committees to round out a perfect background for the entertainment which is welcomed into early happenings of colorful doings.

D. Joseph and his store associates have announced the program will introduce evening formal, street and sport clothes, including the popular suit season, one of the greatest in years, men's and boys' clothing, ladies' and children's wash frocks and afternoon and dinner frocks.

Keep an anxious watch over future announcements having to do with this coming week's entertainment.

book, beautiful and deeply moving, and as fresh and alive as a growing vine or tree. It is so unlike any other book, that I kept feeling as though it were written by someone who had never read a novel; it was alive on every page and to me her feeling for nature is so deep and true, always a part of the story, never applied patches of beautiful description."

Caroline Miller has lived all her life in South Georgia, in Waycross, until five years ago, and since then in Baxley, where her husband, William D. Miller, is superintendent of schools. They have three small sons, two of whom are twins. Almost every incident in "Lamb in His Bosom" actually occurred says Mrs. Miller. She can hardly remember where fact left off and fancy began.

To those who are interested in writers and books, are especially invited at this time to attend in mind this occasion.

A small charge of 25c to students and 50c for adults will be asked.

Dr. L. H. Hubbard Speaks in Ranger

Perhaps the most enthusiastically received event offered Ranger persons and out of town visitors in many months was presented Thursday night, when the 1920 club of this city presented Dr. L. H. Hubbard, president of Texas State College for Women, at the First Methodist church at 8:00 o'clock.

Dr. Hubbard's talk centered about the 100 years of Texas history, beginning with the pioneer period and leading up to the present, which is being accented through the Texas Centennial. He especially urged every Texan to back this event to the fullest, and without hesitancy predicted for Texas an even more successful and colorful future.

To make this occasion more delightful, Miss Martha Mitchell, head of the Fine Arts department at the College, at Denton, played piano numbers: "Romance," by Brahms; "Tocatta" by Debussy; and "Waltz of the Flowers," by Tchaikowsky-Grainger.

Dr. Hubbard was a guest in the M. H. Hagaman home while in Ranger, and was honored at the dinner hour Thursday evening, when his hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Hagaman, invited several special guests to make his acquaintance.

PENNEY'S
J. C. PENNEY COMPANY, Incorporated

English Department of Ranger Junior College to Present Caroline Miller, Winner of 1934 Pulitzer Prize

The English department of Ranger Junior college, whose instructor is Mrs. Hal Hunter, have completed plans to present to Ranger people, and a select group of out-of-town visitors, Caroline Miller, whose novel, "Lamb in His Bosom" has been read by a great number. The date of Tuesday afternoon, March 31, at 2:30 o'clock at the Recreation building, should be an outstanding date to many, particularly to members of Ranger clubs.

The writer was awarded the prize in 1934 for the best novel furnished throughout the United States in that year. She has chosen for her lecture subject for this occasion, "Fiction Writing and Writers of the South." This will touch upon Caroline Miller's own opinions on writing as applied to herself and something about other Southern writers. In view of the rapid rise of many Southern writers, such as Stark Young, DeRose Heywood, Julia Peterson, George Milton, and others this lecture should be particularly interesting.

Mrs. Miller's first lecture was at a Theta Sigma Phi banquet, and was so well received that she immediately received requests for Theta Sigma Phi meetings in Columbia, Bollington, Norman, Columbus, and Austin not to speak of many other club and university engagements which were offered. It has now become a privilege to hear her throughout various cities of the country.

Officers to Be Elected and Delegate Named for District Convention at Club Thursday

Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. E. Maddocks, 700 Third street, will bring together members of the Child Study Club No. 2, for a meeting to which each member of the organization is especially urged to attend.

The time is set for 2:30 o'clock and the hostess and president, Mrs. Perlstein, asks that members be on time, since important business matters are to be disposed of in addition to the rendition of a fine program. There will be an election of officers, and a delegate and alternate will be named to represent the association at the district convention which convenes at Mineral Wells, this month.

Mrs. Onis Littlefield, former president of the club, will lead the program and discuss "Music and the Radio." "Child and the Radio" will be given by Mrs. Lee Galley. "The Effect of Good Reading and Good Music on the Character" will be offered by Mrs. T. L. Dupree. A bake sale will be held in conclusion of the meeting and general plans point to this being the most outstanding program of the early spring series.

Kan. Marks Mound Once Volcanic Cone

By United Press

RILEY, Kas.—Its simple to convince people that "tall" stories of Kansas sunflowers, jackrabbits or just storms are the truth, but its another thing when you speak of Kansas volcanoes.

But a sign bearing the following inscription may be seen about five miles west of here:

"Volcanic Cone. Mound to the south is a plug of serpentine and all that is left of a volcanic cone. It is one of two known plugs in Kansas. The greenish rock was originally a molten mass similar to basalt lava."

On a vacation with her young son, Joan Blondell lost four pounds. Only four? A model lad.
