Purchase of Land Returns to Normal A Survey Shows

Return to normal purchasing of farm lands is shown by a study of applications received by the Federal Land Bank of Houston in the past five months, according to word received from the bank by Claude Strickland, secretary-treasurer of the Eastland National Farm Loan Association. Nearly three million dollars, or about 29 per cent of the land bank and land bank commissioner loans applied for in that period have been for the purchase of farms.

For some months past, Land Bank Commissioner as well as Federal Land Bank loans have been available for financing the purchase of farms. Prior to the broadening of their scope, Land Bank Commissioner loans could be made only to refinance existing indebtedness.

From Oct. 1, 1935, through Feb. 29, 1936, 4,160 new and reinstated applications were received by the Federal Land Bank of Houston, for amounts totaling $15,923,950.

Federal Land Bank loans now are available through N. F. L. A.'s, said Mr. Strickland, at the lowest interest rates in history and may be made for the following purposes: (a) to purchase land for agricultural use; (b) to buy equipment, fertilizers, and livestock necessary for the proper and reasonable operation of the mortgaged farm; (c) to provide buildings and for the improvement of farm land; (d) to liquidate indebtedness of the owner of the mortgaged land incurred for agricultural purposes or incurred prior to Jan. 1, 1933; and (e) to provide the owner of the mortgaged land with funds for general agricultural uses.

Loans to farmers may be made by the land bank commissioner for the same purposes as land bank commissioner loans are broader than for land bank loans in that commissioner loans may be made to refinance any indebtedness of the farmer without regard to its purpose or the time it was made. Indebtedness for which the farmer is not personally liable, but which is secured by a lien on his farm property, may also be refinanced.

The management of the poultry show which has just closed wishes to express their thanks and appreciation to those who helped make it the success it was. The Weekly Record for publishing news items. The Eastland Telegram and Chronicle; Ranger Daily Times for several articles, helping to get before the people. Dr. Estes for his untiring efforts; Pickering Lumber company and Frank Crowell for the use of lumber; Texas Electric Service company and Mr. Woody for lighting the building. James A. Beard for the use of the building. Mr. Perry for feed to feed the birds. The Rabbit association for the coops. The Chamber of Commerce for the use of lumber and materials and the genial cooperation of W. C. Davis.

Especially do we wish to express our appreciation to A. H. Johnson, our fellow townsman, for judging our show, and to say he did a good job would be putting it mildly. I have heretofore worked with some of the noted judges of the north as well as some of the best in Texas, but I have never seen one who was more efficient than he. He certainly knows the finer points of poultry there is nothing that gets by him. Mr. Johnson, we thank you very very much and hope to have the pleasure of working with you again. We thank all those who favored us with an exhibit of birds and hope you are pleased with your winning and all who helped in any way. We believe the show has helped to increase the interest in raising better poultry in Eastland trade territory and other parts of the county as well. The show was attended by large crowds both days all seemed to enjoy seeing such fine birds, some seemed surprised to wind such nice birds in the country. We admit some were outstanding birds and would win in hottest competition anywhere. There were 78 birds cooped and everybody seemed well pleased with the judging and management.

The Barred Rocks, though small in number, was very strong in quality and would win in the large show of the state.

The Rhode Island Reds were good enough to win in the Dallas Fair Centennial or any of the better shows.

ALLIED POWERS READY TO RESIST HOSTILE MOVES BY GERMAN MILITARY FORCES

LONDON, March 9.—Great Britain will go to the military aid of France and Belgium if Germany attacks either while the situation caused by rearming of the Rhineland is under consideration, Capt. Anthony Eden announced in the house of commons today.

Eden stated the British government position to a crowded house, which included Norman Davis of the United States and the ambassadors of the leading powers in the galleries.

Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin addressed the house, urging support of the huge armament program and warning aggressors that if Britain is attacked she will be ready for them.

Eden explained the league of nations must handle the situation until the council meets Friday, no decision on what to do can be made.

However, "there is no reason to suppose the German action implies a threat of hostilities," Eden assured the house.

PARIS, March 9.—Russia, the little entente and the Balkan entente—a formidable military combination—rallied to the support of France today against Germany.

The Little Entente comprises Rumania, Czecho-Slovakia and Jugo-Slavia. Jugo-Slavia, Greece and Turkey are in the Balkan entente.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The State of Kentucky joined the bituminous coal producing states today in petitioning the supreme court to uphold the Guffey coal control act in opposition to Harlan county, Kentucky, producers who contend the law is unconstitutional.

The Kentucky brief was a highlight of the session which marked the beginning of the second phase of the new deal litigation in the court, a phase expected to be marked with dispute over the power of federal and state governments to regulate industry.

As the Kentucky brief was filed Rep. Kent Keller, Dem., Ill., received permission from the state to file a brief for the State of Illinois, citing its support of the law. This brought the total of states intervening in the Guffey act test case to five. Their move is designed to meet any arguments that the states have the power and ability to control bituminous coal production.

Both Parties Silent About Chief Issue

It begins to look as if the American electorate were about to treat itself to the spectacle of a presidential campaign in which the principal issue is ignored by the common consent of everyone involved.

To get a parallel, you would have to imagine the campaign of 1860 fought out without a single mention of the issue of chattel slavery.

Today's principal issue, of course, is that of unemployment.

You hear precious little about it in the preliminary skirmishing. Instead, you get fine words about a more abundant life, a balanced budget, inflation, security, the road to Moscow and a tolerably well-rounded whole. And while these things are interesting they do not go to the root of the nation's most tremendous problem.

No one knows exactly how many unemployed people there are in America today. The best estimates seem to agree that the total is at least 10,000,000. This, it is true, is a drop of some four or five millions from the depression's worst; nevertheless, it represents a continuing, unsolved problem which is nothing less than appalling.

Here is why it is appalling. Not only does our country contain more people than live in Greater New York who are unable to support themselves; there is every reason to believe that even when our industrial machine gets back to normal, the vast majority of these people still will be without work.

We have reduced the depression's peak in unemployment only by about one-third; but we have gone probably three-quarters of the way in overcoming the slump in production. And, unless our progress through the remaining quarter cuts down unemployment at an infinitely greater rate than did the progress through the first three-quarters, it is as certain as anything can be that even when we are producing on the old pre-depression scale again, our unemployed will still number well in excess of 5,000,000.

In the face of this problem, all other problems of the day look small. We simply cannot go on indefinitely with that load of jobless men on our backs. We can't balance our budget until we can cut relief expenditures; and we can't cut relief expenditures until the people who are on relief go back to work. Unemployment is the key log in the whole jam.

But would you realize it, to listen to the campaign talk? You would hardly know that we had any unemployment any more. From neither side has there come any sign that our dominant politicians are disposed to tackle the issue fearlessly. We get fine words about every other conceivable issue, but next to none about unemployment.

That, perhaps, is the most discouraging sign of the day. This problem won't be solved unless we give it our best thought. And how are we to do that, if in the presidential campaign it is ignored entirely?

If there was any "handwriting on the wall" at the $50 Jackson Day dinner, as Representative Fish predicted, it was only someone figuring how he'd last out till payday.

Vicks to Expand Its Production

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 9. Plans by Vicks for further expansion of its production facilities in Greensboro were announced today by R. L. Richardson, president of Vicks Chemical company. These plans call for a separate laboratory for exclusive production of Vicks Medicated Cough Drops—one of Vicks latest products—the new plant to be completed and in operation by mid-summer.

This step is but one in a program of expansion that Vicks carried on throughout the years of depression—more than doubling its employment rolls during that period. Four years ago, in both Greensboro and Philadelphia, Vicks laboratories were considerably enlarged and facilities added to take care of new products production. Two years later, these facilities in Philadelphia had to be increased by half again, to meet increasing production quotas from both domestic and export departments. Last year, the steadily growing demand for Vicks VapoRub and Vicks Va-tro-nal made necessary extensive alterations and added equipment in the Greensboro laboratories.

Increased production facilities are now found necessary for Vicks Cough Drops. Introduced four years ago, Vicks Cough Drop won immediate nationwide popularity and is now the leader in its particular field.

The new Cough Drop laboratory here will be a two-story brick structure with 15,000 square feet of floor space. Layout and assembly were planned by a leading firm of industrial engineers. Bids are already in on construction work, and equipment has been ordered. The latter includes especially built mixing, filling and packaging machinery required for the production of Vicks Cough Drops, as well as the most modern and up-to-date air-conditioning and other miscellaneous equipment necessary.

Addition of this modern cough drop unit here is in line with Vicks policy of a dual laboratory supply system (Greensboro and Philadelphia) by which each center is able to supply all Vicks products to its natural distribution area. Manufacturing quotas for each plant are based chiefly on carload freight rates to its 25 warehouses. These warehouses, located at key distributing points, in turn, supply Vicks products quickly to the country's wholesale and retail druggists. This manufacturing and distributing system not only insures against strikes, fire or shortages, but gives quickest possible deliveries to the trade.

Business Complaint Has Its Humor

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Unusual cases have come to light during the depression years in Pennsylvania, and despite their seriousness, some bring forth a chuckle.

The State Department of Internal Affairs got a letter from a tailor recently complaining about poor business. He had made only 25 suits during the past year. Then he added:

"In fact my vest maker is now receiving old age pension and my pants maker is on welfare."

McAllen Enters the Largest Grapefruit Contest in Valley

McAllen, Texas.—McAllen returned to the search for the season's "biggest grapefruit" with a 26-inch pomelo which promised to hold the title for at least several days.

The huge fruit was found in the orchard of Emil E. Richards, southeast of McAllen. Carefully measured it stretched the tape to 26 inches when its circumference was gauged. The fruit was carefully packed and sent to one of Richard's friends in Pittsburgh, Penn. It weighed more than four pounds, and was of the Marsh seedless variety.

Richards started the current "big grapefruit" search when he displayed a 24-inch fruit several weeks ago. This was followed by a 25-inch grapefruit from the W. L. Cook orchard in Sharyland a week ago. It is reported that several other prize fruit are being watched for possible entry in the unofficial and unorganized contest being staged by Upper Valley editors.

Poultry Winners—

(Continued from page 1) as you will find at Dallas fair or anywhere. These were the strongest classes. There was other good ones too numerous to mention. All the exhibitors and several others who did not have an entry express a desire to have a fall show and Dec. 15 was mentioned as a prospective date. Others suggested making it an annual affair. If we are going to have one at the above date now is the time to begin making preparations. All those who are interested in having one this fall let us hear from you. What will you bring and how many? Again thanking you for your cooperation and wishing success. If you wish to join us we would be glad to have you.

WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—That little family squabble in Tokio is being watched intently here—and presumably in all other world capitals—for its possible bearing in the great standing question: When will the next big war break out—and where?

Two years ago the dopesters of international politics anticipated an early war between Japan and Russia which would spread at least as far west as Germany. More recently they have believed the first outbreak would come in Europe. Now world-wide attention shifts back to the Far East.

If the extremist militarists who killed the ruling Japanese statesmen turn out to have made some headway by their uprising, there will be an increasing disposition to believe that the next international slaughter will begin with a Russo-Japanese clash, which almost inevitably would involve Germany, France, and most of Europe.

COMMENT has been made on the recent cockiness of Russians following skirmishes with Japanese in Mongolia. Diplomats here know, as few others do, that some of those skirmishes were of substantial proportions.

Detachments of Japanese troops made several raids and were wiped out. Russian warplanes are said to have figured in these battles which raged around the spot where Mongolia, Manchukuo, and Siberia meet. Most of the news was suppressed.

Japanese militarists have been rather wild about it and Russians have acted as if they had no fear of war with the island empire. Whether all this was what primarily irked the young Japanese assassins isn't yet apparent from the

If nothing happens in the East, most international political believe, the next world war is likely to be delayed a couple of years—"until Hitler gets ready."

But meanwhile the Nazis likely to take over Memel, probably with nothing more than objection by the French, who refrained from "preventive" fare chiefly because of unwillingness of the French people to wage in an aggressive war.

JIM FARLEY had better be praying that there will be no major steamship disasters before now and election time.

Recent prediction in this column that Commander H. McCoy and Frederick L. Adams, and third ranking officers of Bureau of Navigation and Ship Inspection, wouldn't lose jobs turns out to have been true.

These men, proponents of safety at sea and protection of passengers from horrors such as the ra Castle and Mohawk disasters were charged with giving publicity to the resolution of the Board of Supervising Inspectors which said in effect that members could no longer be responsible for safety and its passengers and crews on American vessels.

Their friends charge their efforts have been both to insure safety reforms, because ship interests don't want to pay costs.

Anyway, they have been Secretary of Commerce Dan Johnson, and Assistant Secretary J. Morro Castle disaster, both of whom will use the disapproval in an attempt to pin responsibility on the administration.

Smoking Camels Helps to Ward Off Indigestion Caused by the Breathless Pace of Modern Living

Faster—faster—faster goes the modern rush. People are "always on the go." No wonder indigestion visits so many from time to time. People can't seem to pause for proper eating. But here's one simple step every one can take! Smoke Camels for the sake of the positive beneficial effect

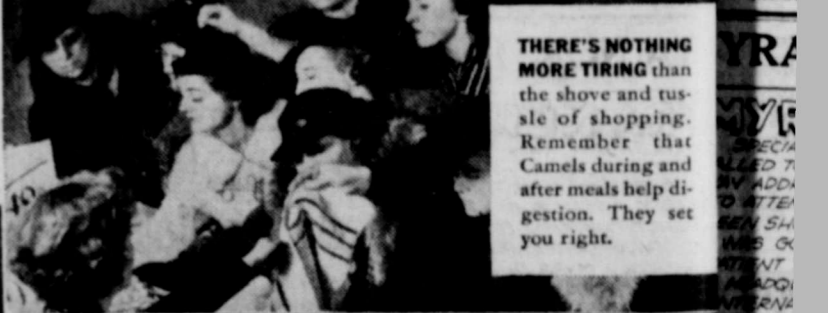

Camels have upon digestion. Camels stimulate and promote natural processes of digestion. They restore a feeling of well-being. And above all, with their matchless blend of costlier tobaccos, Camels bring a supreme enjoyment of mildness and flavor that you can know in no other way!

Modern life in one of its most attractive phases—the beautiful Trianon Room (above) at the Ambassador in New York, as seen during the dinner hour. Louis, maître d'hôtel at this celebrated dining place, says: "Our guests come to the Trianon Room from New York and from all over the country. It is interesting to see how they agree in preferring Camels. Those who enjoy dining here also appreciate the delicate flavor of the finer tobaccos in Camels. Camels are an overwhelming favorite at our tables."

BETTY CHASE, star figure skater: "Camels make food taste better and help digestion along. And certainly smoking a Camel is one of life's most agreeable experiences."

THE MORRISSEY during the Arctic expedition. H. McCracken, leader, says: "Stomach upsets are a constant hazard. I learned that smoking Camels at every meal and after helps digestion. They set you right."

Attention of Committees Turned To Plans For Thursday Night Style Review

Complete attention of committees in charge of the style review to be held at the Recreation building Thursday night at 8 o'clock under the sponsorship of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church, gives promise of entertainment of unusual color and interest.

"ROSE MARIE" SETS A NEW HIGH FOR SCREEN MUSICALS

No matter how much you liked "Naughty Marietta," that musical sensation of 1935, you're sure to like "Rose Marie" even more. Again co-starring Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production is now screening at the Arcadia Theatre.

Like its forerunner, "Rose Marie" was directed by W. S. Van Dyke and produced by Hunt Stromberg, who again combined their talents to give this picture one of the finest productions to come out of Hollywood in a long time.

Replete with haunting music, a tender love story, magnificent photography and backgrounds, it is truly the film sensation of the year.

Miss MacDonald plays the name role, an opera star who travels disguised into the wilds in search of her dissolute brother, a criminal from justice.

Nelson Eddy portrays Sergeant Bruce, as fine a "Mountie" as ever rode a horse. Assigned to bring the criminal to justice, there is the thrust of personal duty when these two meet and fall in love.

With all its outdoor scenes made against natural backgrounds of surpassing beauty in the mountain-like country of the Sierra Nevadas, "Rose Marie" is a pictorial work of art.

Fat Stock Show Good Will Trip To Visit Ranger

FORT WORTH, March 9.—An invitation to attend the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, March 13-22, will be given residents of Ranger at 9:20 a. m. next Wednesday, by approximately 100 men representing the Fort Worth banks and the cattlemen. These men will come to Ranger in a special train as part of the activities of the Southwestern Exposition Roundup Club which has arranged eight invitation tours in the interest of the Stock Show. E. G. Parker will be trip chairman.

With the invitation tours will be Bob Calen, one of the three foremost trick and fancy ropers of the world, who has been a star of the Fort Worth rodeo for a number of years.

Bob and Gene McLaughlin, the youngest of rodeo performers, who have been sensations at the Madison Square Garden Rodeo for the past two years, will also be aboard the train. Bob, 7, and Gene, 5, do a trick and fancy roping act which for technique rivals the rope twirling ability of some of the world's greatest lariat artists.

Attendance to the stock show will be urged by these men who regard this institution as one of the greatest economical educational amusement features of the Southwest.

Cowboy mounted football embodying all the struggle of the conventional gridiron game with the speed of polo will be introduced at the Fort Worth Rodeo for the first time. Larger premiums in classes including both horses and livestock insure better entries and more competition in these classes.

Herman Waldman's nationally famous dance orchestra will play in the Rainbeau Garden, where a floor show assembled from Paris, New York and Chicago will be presented.
